Now out of Application of theſe diſtinctions, we ſhall deduce the Explication of the words, which we will ſet down; Firſt, by way of Refutation of the falſe Expoſitions that are put upon the Text. Secondly, by ſetting down and aſſerting the true ſenſe of it.

For the firſt, we ſay, that by Jacob or Iſrael in this place, is not meant the perſon of Jacob or Iſrael, the ſonne of Iſaac the father of the twelve Patriarchs; but the people or nation deſcending from him.

Secondly, that not ſome few of the better ſort of the people are here meant, who as juſtified by faith, and walking with God in an holy life might be reputed righteous, as Enoch, Gen. 5. 22. Noah, Gen. 6. 9. Job 1. verſ. 1. and Zachary and Elizabeth, Luke 1. but the body of the people, becauſe they were the object both of Balaams ſight, and of Balaks ſpite, whom he deſired ſhould be curſed.

Thirdly, it is not ſaid, nor could be ſaid, that theſe had none iniquitie, nor that they were chargeable with no hainous iniquitie, nor that they were free from idolatry; for they were guiltie of hainous iniquitie, of groſſe and brutiſh and bloody Idolatry. See Act. 7. 42. Exod. 32. 32. Pſal. 106. 37.

Fourthly, nor is the meaning that God did not ſee that evill that was in them, or done by them: for though in a literall and Phyſicall ſenſe, he doth not ſee as we doe, becauſe he hath not a body and organs or inſtruments of ſenſe, as we have; yet he diſcerneth all things better by his intelligence, then we doe any thing that is obvious to all our ſenſes, Eſa. 38. 17.

Fifthly, nor that God did take no notice of their wickedneſſe; for he did ſo, and puniſhed them for it, Deut. 32. 27, 28. & Pſal. 78. 60. 61.

Sixthly, nor is it to be thought that God having taken notice of their ſinnes, and chaſtiſed them for them, he forgat what they or himſelfe had done: for though forgetfulneſſe be ſometimes aſcribed to God, as Jer. 31. 34. and elſewhere, and it be ſaid of him, that he caſteth the ſinnes of his ſervants behind his back, Eſa. 38. 17. and into the depth of the Sea, Micah 7. 19. by ſuch expreſſions we are to underſtand a gracious forgiving; not an oblivion or forgetting; for if God could be ignorant of any thing, or forget what he hath known; he could not be Omniſcient, as he is, knowing all things as he doth, Heb. 4. 13.

Seventhly, there is one interpretation more, which hath a truth in the thing it ſelfe, viz. that God looking on his choſen through Chriſt, ſeeth no more ſinne in them then is inherent in him; for they are made the righteouſneſſe of God in him by imputation, as he was made unrighteous by imputation of their tranſgreſſions, 2 Cor. 5. 21. but this though very true in theſi, as to this Text may be impertinent. This for the erroneous Expoſitions of the words, now for the Orthodox interpretation of them.

Firſt, Both the Hebrew word Aven, which in our Engliſh Tranſlation is rendered iniquitie, and vanitie, and Hhamal, or Ghnamal, which is expreſſed by Tranſgreſſion and perverſeneſſe, ſignifie in their Primitive ſenſe, rather moleſtation, grieſe, wrong, violent ſtrength, injury, miſery, then ſinne; and ſo they are to be taken in this place.

Secondly, they ſignifie paſſively, and ſo the meaning is not actively that they doe no evill, or wrong, or violence, or moleſtation to others; but that others ſhall not doe any thing to them; or that if they doe, God will not ſo ſee it as to approve of it, but will ſhew himſelfe in their defence by way of oppoſition to, and puniſhment of thoſe that doe oppoſe them to oppreſſe them, Pſal. 105. 14, 15.

Thirdly and laſtly, the words may be expounded, either of the time paſt, preſent, or to come; as if he ſaid, God neither hath, nor can, nor will give up his people to the wicked will of their enemies, becauſe he loves them, and becauſe ſhould he deſert them and give them over to their enemies hands, they would exalt themſelves not only above his people, but againſt himſelfe, and would breake out into blaſphemous brags of themſelves, and reproaches of him, Iſa. 36. Exod. 32. 12.

V. 21. the ſhout] That is, a valorous ſhout of a puiſſant King and his people, encouraging each other to the Battell; and a victorious ſhout, as having obtained the victorie in the battell.

V. 22. an Unicorne] Or, Licorne, as Pliny calleth him, lib. 8. cap. 21. is a very ſtrong beaſt, Job 39. 10, 11. and armed with a dangerous weapon againſt any adverſary, Deut. 33. 17. There are two kindes of Unicornes, the one is called Rhinoceros, which hath an horne on his noſe, Plin. Hiſt. l. 8. c. 20. the other on his head, Ibid. c. 21.

V. 23. againſt Jacob] Or, in Iſrael. None againſt Iſrael ſhall be of force, or take effect to doe the poſteritie of Jacob or Iſrael any hurt; or none in Iacob, or among the poſteritie of Jacob ſhall either need, or uſe ſuch unlawfull meanes either of telling, or fore-telling, or of effecting any thing by devilliſh arts or meanes, as the Gentiles doe; ſince they ſhall have God to conſult with, and ready both to counſell them in doubtfull caſes, and to defend them againſt all their enemies.

What hath God wrought] Men ſhall by way of wonder at Gods doing on their behalfe, at this time aske, What hath God wrought?

V. 27. another place] It is an old ſuperſtition to aſcribe the efficacie of religious ſervices to places, and to thinke that Gods preſence or power admits of any locall limitation, ſo that he is not preſent, or favourable, or powerfull as well in one place as another.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Verſ. 1. As at other times] His manner was till now, to ſeek after enchantments; and when he turned from them, to ſeeke the true God; his ſervice it is like, had a ſmack of his old ſuperſtition, in the number of Altars, and ſacrifices, in their ſcite or poſture towards the points of heaven, in his geſtures and ſet formes of words.

toward the wilderneſſe] Where the Iſraelites were encamped.

V. 2. the Spirit of God] That is, an inſpiration of prophecy, which is the operation and gift of Gods Spirit; for in ſuch matters God may and doth many times reveale himſelfe to wicked men, to whom any but ſaving graces may be imparted: See Annot. on Chap. 22. 9. Joh. 11. 51.

V. 4. viſion] Revelations by viſions are properly ſuch as are when their eyes are open, or awake; and revelations by dreames, when their eyes are ſhut or aſleepe; and yet thoſe dreames may be called viſions of the ſoule, when the eyes of the body are cloſed.

eyes open] Heb. who had his eyes ſhut, but now open. This may be meant literally of the eyes of his body, according to the former Note; or figuratively of the eyes of his minde, which, (though before this they were ſhut, ſeeing nothing at all of ſuch future events) might be awake, albeit he was in a trance, as one aſleepe, Gen. 15. 12. Dan. 8. 17, 18, &c.

V. 5. thy Tabernacles] By theſe two words Tents, and Tabernacles, are underſtood moveable houſes; but the latter in the Originall imports a vicinitie or neereneſſe of abode.

V. 6. Lign-aloes] Or the Aloes trees; an odoriferous and ſweet ſmelling wood, or tree, growing in Arabia, and India.

as Cedar trees] Commendable for their ſtrength, and growth by the abundance of ſap, in reſpect whereof they are called the trees of the Lord, and are ſaid to be planted by him: for things eminent in their kinde (becauſe he is moſt worthy of ſuch) are aſcribed to him: See Pſal. 104. 16.

V. 7. powre the water] Plenty of water is here promiſed; and that is a great bleſſing on mans habitation, Pſ. 1. 3. & 33. 2.

many waters] By waters may be underſtood people, as the word is expounded, Revel. 17. 15. and his ſeed may be ſaid to be in many waters, to note the numerous increaſe of it; according to the ſpawne, which is the ſeed of fiſhes in the waters.

his King ſhall be higher] Or, taken away for Agag, and ſo it is underſtood of Saul, from whom the Kingdome was rent for ſparing Agag, whom by the Lords command he ſhould have killed, 1 Sam. 15. 9, 10, 11.

Agag] That was the ordinary name of the Kings of the Amalekites, as Pharaoh of the Egyptians; and their Kingdome then moſt flouriſhed.

V. 9. who ſhall ſtirre] See Annot. on Gen. 49. 9.

V. 17. I ſhall ſee him, but not now] This prophecie is of Chriſt his coming in the fleſh, whom Balaam foreſeeth that he ſhall ſee him, but not now, ſaith he, not in this life, and not till Balaam riſe againe, and Chriſt come downe againe. Or he prophecieth this in the perſon of poſteritie, in reſpect unto the wiſe men (of his profeſſion) of the Eaſt, who came to worſhip Chriſt, Matth. 2. 2.

not nigh] Neither of his comings are nigh, but afarre off.

a ſtarre] Meaning Chriſt; at his firſt appearance he ſeemed little, like the ſtarre, Matth. 2. 2. which brought the tidings of his coming though glorious, Revel. 22. 16. but afterward his glory increaſed to the brightneſſe of the Sunne, Mal. 4. 2.

Scepter] See Annot. on Gen. 49. v. 10.

corners of Moab] That is, from one ſide to another, round about; as the houſe ſupplanted in the foure corners is utterly ruined, Job 1. 19. Some apply this to Davids ſubduing the Moabites and Idumeans, whereof afterward: but it reacheth farre beyond his time, to the prevailing of the Chriſtian Religion over Pagan opinions and people.

of Seth] The word may be rendered thoſe who are behinde; that is, when Balaam turned his face toward Iſrael, verſ. 1. the Eaſterne people were behinde him, as the Ammonites, and Midianites, &c. but if we take Seth for a proper name, as Gen. 4. 25.

cap. 23. 21. He hath not beheld] At the present there was no common Sin lying upon the people, no Idolatry nor any other peccatum flagrans, that might provoke the Lord against them. God saw no Wickedness in the Camp, that might cause Him to pour a Curse upon them. —— In these very persons God saw, and avenged iniquity within a very few days.

Mat. Newcomen Fast Sermon Oct. 30. 1646. p. 21. See mr. Gataker's book entituled, God's Eye upon Israel.

26. 11 – died not] – Breviter attingit clementiam Dei erga filios Core, quibus pepercit. Et certe hoc non vulgare fuit misericordiæ specimen, non modo eos a cladé servare immunes: sed ex radice maledicta surculos postea excitare, in quibus fulgerent spirituales ejus divitiæ in communam Ecclesiæ usum. Scimus enim quàm honorifica sapius fiat mentio ejus familiæ. Et probabile est, quosdam fuisse Psalmorum authores; atque ita spiritu prophetico donatos, quum nemo tunc forte ex sacerdotibus tali dono polleret. Hæc est profunda in variis et inæqualibus Dei judicijs abyssus, quam sobria humilitate reverari convenit.

Calvin. Harmon. p. 638.

4. 25. viz. for the third sonne of Adam, Abel being slaine, the posteritie of Cain drowned; by Seth may be understood all the race of Adam; but then the word destroy, belonging to the wicked, must limit the word all, onely to all the ungodly of the world, or to the world of the ungodly, especially of the Edomites, 1 King. 11. 15.

V. 18. Seir also] Edom and Seir were both names of Esau and his posteritie, and of his Countrey: and he was called Seir, because he was haity, as the word Sehhir, or Seguir signifieth. In that the commination is made in both his names, it imports assurance of the thing: and if we take the words with any other but a verball distinction, it may be this; by Edom may be meant the whole Countrey of Esau; and by Seir, the place of his dwelling, his Court where he kept his residence; and so the Prophecie imports the totall conquest over the Edomites, since not so much as the Court or Palace of Edom, which was most strongly fortified, and carefully kept, should keepe out the power of Israel or Jacob; which was literally fulfilled by David, 1 Chron. 18. 13. but is chiefly to be understood in a spirituall sense, for a compleat victory of the Israel of God over all their enemies.

V. 19. of the cities] The City of Seir, or some other Citie, or Cities of note, which were adverse to the people of God; over whom Christs Kingdome shall universally and gloriously triumph.

V. 20. first of the nations] The Amalekites first made war against Israel, Exod. 17. 8. 1 Sam. 15. 1. Or Amalek was a principall Nation.

V. 21. the Kenites] Were a people mingled with the Amalekites, 1 Sam. 15. 6.

V. 22. the Kenite] Or Kain; which may either be the name of some famous progenitour, of whom the Kenites descended; or some Citie of note where they dwelt; some take it to be meant of the posteritie of Jethro, Judg. 4. 11.

Ashur] That is, the Assyrian shall carry the Kenites and other people captives as well as the Israelites; which came to passe when Salmanaser King of Assyria carried the ten Tribes away into his Countrey, in the dayes of Hoshea, 2 King. 17. 6. among whom the Kenites dwelt.

V. 23. who shall live when] The calamity shall be so great, that a few shall survive it; or, who shall desire to live when such a desolation shall come upon so many?

V. 24. Chittim] Was the grand-child of Japhet; a people descended from him is here meant, viz. the posteritie of Chittim planted in Greece and Italy: for Alexander the Greeke Monarch, who is said to come out of the land of Chittim, 1 Mac. 1. 1. subdued the Assyrians and their successours the Medes and Persians; and the Romanes, who are Italians, often infested them, and finally overthrew them by the warres of Vespasian the Emperour, and Titus his sonne: whereof see Josephus of the warres of the Jewes, especially the seventh Booke.

Heber] The posteritie of Heber, that is, the Hebrews, against whom the Greeks warred, and for a time prevailed: see Joseph. Antiq. l. 11. cap. 8.

V. 24. he shall perish] Some expound it of the Jewes, some of the descendents or off-spring of Chittim, which is most like: for the Grecian Empire is overthrowne by the Romane, and the Romane which came from Chittim as the Grecian did, is much empaired by the Papacie, and that usurping state and power is in a great part ruined, and the ruine of it shall be further accomplished, 2 Thes. 2. 8.

V. 25. to his place] Homeward, but was killed in the way among the Midianites, Chap. 31. 8.

CHAP. XXV.

Vers. 1. Shittim] This was the fourty second, or last Mansion or resting place of the Israelite, in their passage toward Canaan out of Egypt.

daughters of Moab] And of Midian also, vers. 17. & 18.

V. 3. Baal-Peor] Baal the Idol of the Moabites which was on the hill Peor, or Phegnor, Chap. 23. 28. so called from the manner of the Idol worshipped upon that mountaine; and the manner was such, that in it both spirituall and carnall uncleanesse met together, as vice and impudence. Heb. the God of opening, or nakednesse: by which is meant the abominable and shameleese Idolatry of Priapus. Isid. Etymol. l. 8. c. 11.

V. 4. heads] The capitall offenders in that Trespasse; or the chiefe Rulers who gave way to such wickednesse.

against the Sunne] Openly, in the sight of all (as Sauls sonnes, 2 Sam. 21. 8.) for example of caution or warning to the rest; for things that are so done, are said in the Hebrew phrase to be done in the sight of the Sunne: See 2 Sam. 12. 11.

V. 5. Slay you every one] Let him see execution done on them that are under his charge.

V. 6. one of the children] Named Zimri, vers. 14.

Midianitish woman] For fleshly abuse; which sheweth that spirituall and corporall whoredome are sister sinnes.

weeping] For the offence and punishment in the matter of Baal-Peor, vers. 3.

V. 9. twenty and foure thousand] Of these, twenty and three thousand died by the immediate hand of God, and those are reckoned to twenty three thousand who fell in one day, 1 Cor. 10. 8. but besides these, there was execution done upon others, vers. 4, 5. which might make up another thousand; and though it be said, that 24. thousand died of the Plague, the word rendered Plague, by the best Interpreters of the Originall, may be read stroke, there dyed of that stroke of Divine justice (for all was either of Gods bidding or his doing) twenty foure thousand; the lesser number taken away by mans hand cast into the greater number, and so making up the totall of twenty foure thousand, there is rather a subordination then a contradiction, for the lesser number is contained in the greater.

V. 11. that I consumed not] Zeale of justice in the cause of God is a meanes to procure Gods mercy to man.

V. 13. everlasting Priest-hood] The word everlasting, as the words for ever, when applied to the Ceremoniall Law, and Priest-hood, import not either a duration of time without end, or a perpetuitie without interruption; for both that Law and Priest-hood expired when Christ the end of both (prefigured by them) was exhibited, but a long continuance of time; and so it was in the High-priest-hood of Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar; for though for a time, for the failings of part of them who were to succeede him in it; the Priest-hood passed over from the line of Eleazar, to the line of Ithamar his brother, in Eli his sonne, nephew, and great grand-child; yet afterward, they of Elies race being corrupted, and the other reformed; it returned to the posteritie of Phinehas againe; which returne began in Davids time, who equally accepted of Abiathar of the posteritie of Eli, and of Zadok of the stock of Phinehas (2 Sam. 15. 35. & 1 Chron. 15. 11.) and was protected by Solomon when he put downe Abiathar, who was the posteritie of Ithamar, and Eli; and set up Zadok in his stead, who had for his Ancestors in bloud, Eleazar, and Phinehas, 1 King. 2. 11. to whose Family when it was restored, it there continued (as some make the measure) to the coming of Christ; but certainely it held out a great while, whether we consider the person of Phinehas, who was yet alive at the Battell betwixt the Benjamites and the rest of the Israelites; Judg. 20. 28. or his posteritie, who had a succession of the Priest-hood (except for the interposition fore-mentioned) even after the captivitie, Ezra 7. 1, &c. untill or very neere the approach of our Evangelicall High-priest after the order of Melchisedec, (as our Saviour is called, Heb. 5. vers. 6.) See Annot. on Chap. 20. vers. 16.

V. 17. vex the Midianites] Take them for your enemies, and use them as enemies; because they cunningly plotted to insnare you in sinne, and to bring you to ruine; he saith not so of the Moabites, (though they were very faulty in corrupting the Israelites, vers. 2.) which may be either in favour to Lot, (as for his sake the Ammonites are favoured, Deut. 2. 19) or because Christ was to come of Ruth a Moabitesse; or because they were not so full of malignitie as the Midianites were; yet afterwards the Moabites, never the better for any favour shewed them, were severely chastised by David, 2 Sam. 8. 2.

V. 18. beguiled you] Causing you to commit both corporall and spirituall fornication, by Balaams counsell, Chap. 31. 16. Rev. 2. 14.

CHAP. XXVI.

Vers. 1. After the plague] Which came upon them for their double pollution, by fornication, and Idolatrie, noted in the precedent Chapter.

V. 2. Take the summe] This third numbering of the people, (now in the limits of the Land of promise) was for more commodious distribution, and disposall of them in their severall portions. See vers. 53, 54.

V. 3. neere Jericho] Where the River in its course turneth towards Jericho.

V. 10. a signe] Or monument of their wickednesse and Gods justice, for caution and warning to others.

V. 11. died not] By the fall of fire from heaven above, nor by the opening of the earth below; being either not guilty of their fathers transgression, or repenting of that guilt to their preservation.

V. 12. The sonnes of Simeon] Gen. 46. 10. & Exod. 6. 15. there are sixe sonnes of Simeon numbred; but in this place, as also 1 Chron. 4. 24. onely five are named, for Obed the sixth is omitted, whereof the reason was, because he died without issue; and so having no family, there was no need to name him here, having no portion in the Land of Canaan.

V. 19. in the land of Canaan] Where Jacob sojourned before he went into Egypt, Gen. 37. 1.

V. 36. Eran, or Edan] As the name is varied, by reason of the similitude of the two Hebrew letters, Daleth and Resh.

V. 38. The sonnes of Benjamin] They were tenne, Gen. 46.21. of whom onely five are here mentioned; is is like the rest were dead without issue, or their posteritie did not long continue.

V. 51. numbred] In this third time of their numbring, their number is lesse, now after their enlargement, then when they were in bondage and oppressed; a manifest evidence of Gods power to worke above the operation of ordinary meanes, against all impediments, to perfect his owne purpose; as also an instance of the impotency of means, save so farre as the blessing of God doth make them effectuall. See Annot. on Chap. 1. v. 2.

V 54. Thou] That is, not Moses, for he lived not to divide the land on the other side of Jordan; but he to whom the government of the people was committed in his stead, that was Joshua.

V. 56. according to the lot] Verse 54. it is said, To many thou shalt give the more inheritance, and to few thou shalt give the lesse inheritance; which sheweth that the partition of the land was to be made with proportion to the people, how then was it to be divided by lots? Answ. Part of the land on the one side Jordan was already divided, (though without lot) betwixt the children of Reuben and Gad, and the halfe Tribe of Manasseh, beyond Jordan to them that come of Egypt, Numb. 32.4,5. The other part was by Geometricall skill (as Josephus observeth, Antiq. lib. 5. cap. 1.) to be divided into nine parts and an halfe; which parts some conceive to have beene made Geometrically equall, yet so as that according to the fruitfulnesse or unfruitfulnesse of the ground, the proportion was more or lesse; whence Benjamin had more company and lesse land then other Tribes; because his portion fell in a more fertil soyle: but it may be the parts were unequally divided, and made proportionable to the Tribes, that is, for the Tribes of the greatest number the greatest proportion, and so descending by lesse measure to the least, according to the number of the Tribes, and the goodnesse of the ground: after this division, equall or unequall, the lots were cast, and each Tribe having taken his lot, if the division were into unequall parts, (unequall among themselves, but equall according to the proportion of the Tribes) then it was both by proportion and by lot also, the Lord directing the lot to light according to the proportionable division before mentioned; but if the parts were equall, then if the lots being cast and any one had lesse then sufficient, there was an addition made by estimation without lot, as to the children of Joseph, Josh. 17. from v. 14. to the end of the Chapter, and so Judah having partly by the favour of his lot a large proportion, and partly by valour making himselfe more roome, by removing and rooting out the Canaanites, parted with some of his portion to the Tribe of Simeon, which needed an augmentation of measure, in regard of their number. Or taking the first assignation of portions (after the generall and Geometricall division of the land) to be by lot, the subdivision into families might be by particular estimation and proportion, according to verse. 54. and by that the measure being made as equall as might be; if yet any were not pleased to take his part by such a partition, according to anothers discretion and appointment; they might have recourse to lots againe, and so take their share by the disposition of Gods providence, Pro. 16.33. and so be quiet, occasion of strife being by that meanes cut off, Pro. 18. 18. Now though the division at first were made into nine parts and an halfe, (as hath beene said) yet the particular possession and acceptation of these parts, was put off for some years; either because the first division was not thought, for want of fidelitie or skill, to be rightly made; or because the Cannaanites were not presently driven out from among them. There was afterward another surveigh and partition made into seven parts; for there were seven Tribes which yet had not received their inheritance; and it was brought to Joshua in a booke, concerning which he was by lot to make a distribution among the Tribes, which yet were not accommodated to their content, whereof see Josh. 18. verse. 6,8,9,10.

V. 57. of the Levites] The sons of Levi were eleven, Exod. 6. 17,18,19. 1 Chron. 23. but here onely eight of the principall families are mentioned, the rest might be omitted, because the Levites had not severall portions in the land of Canaan as the other Tribes had.

V. 62. from a moneth old] The other Tribes were reckoned from twenty yeares old and upwards, as serviceable for the warres, from which the Levites were exempt; and they were reckoned from a moneth old, because they were taken in stead of the first-borne, who at that age were offered unto the Lord. See Annot. on Chap. 3. verse. 15.

V. 65. not a man] Wherein the veritie of Gods prediction and commination was manifested.

save Caleb] That is, of the Tribes among whom the land of Canaan was to be divided; for of the Levites there remained Moses, Eleazer, Ithamar, and it may be some more of those who were numbred at Mount Sinai.

CHAP. XXVII.

Verse. 1. Daughters of] Their names are not set downe, Chap. 36. verse. 11. in another order then here; here according to their age, there according to their time and order in marriage.

V. 2. at the doore of the Tabernacle] Neere unto the doore of the Tabernacle was Moses his Tent, there the Elders of the Tribes assembled with Moses, to consult and determine of matters of moment; or in faire weather they might meete in the court of the Tabernacle, neere the doore of it.

V. 3. in his owne sinne] His owne sinne is opposed to the sinne of Korah, which was not onely his owne, that is, not confined to himselfe by his owne sufferings; but had a malignant and deadly operation upon others for his sake; such a sinne did not their father commit; he had his part in the common fault of murmuring upon the report of the spies, coming out of Canaan, and in that he died, and with him died the punishment of his sin, which was so his own, that his posteritie should not suffer for that fault, Deut. 1.39.

V. 11. * Statute of judgement] According to which judgement shall be given in all cases of like kinde, in time to come. See Annot. on Chap. 36. verse. 6.

* Chap. 35.29.

V. 12. mount Abarim] Abarim is a word of the plurall number, and it is a continuation of divers hils together, Chap. 33.47. whereof the tops or higher parts had severall names, as Nebo, from whence Moses had his prospect into the land of Canaan; Sinai, from whence the Law was given; Pisgah, where Balak, and Baalam offered sacrifice; Phegnor, where the abominable Idol of the Moabites was worshipped; whereof see Chap. 25. verse. 3.

V. 13. gathered unto thy people] See Annot. on Gen. 25.8. there he must die, not among the Israelites, lest they who honoured him, sometimes too little, being alive, should honour him at any time too much, when he was dead. Why he was not suffered to passe over Jordan into Canaan, see Chap. 20. 12.

V. 14. for ye rebelled] That is, obeyed not; for rebellion is put for the contrary to obedience, whether it be with contumacie, or not; See Esa. 1. verse. 19,20.

waters of Meribah] There were two Meribahs, the one mentioned, Exod. 17.7. where the waters which came out of the rocke at Horeb, are called the waters of Meribah, because of the chiding of the people for want of water; for Meribah signifieth chiding or strife: at that Meribah Moses and Aaron are not charged with any disobedience; but at the other (which here, and Numb. 20. 12. for distinction sake, is called Meribah in Kadesh) they are blamed. What their fault was in particular, see Annot. on Chap. 20. verse. 10.

V. 16. God of the spirits] Who is the father of spirits, Heb. 12.9. and therefore best able to judge whose spirit is most fitly qualified for the office of a Captain, Conductor, or Governour of so great a people; and who can give him a spirit answerable to so great a charge.

V. 18. Joshua] Moses had sonnes, yet of them God chooseth none to succeed their father; haply because they were Midianites by the mothers side, and not by both Parents Hebrews, as Joshua was; and because God foresaw the defection of Moses posteritie, Judg. 18. verse. 30. where we read of Micahs graven Image of the Tribe of Dan, and of the Idolatrous and superstitious service of that Idol by Levites of the posteritie of Moses, for so was Jonathan and Gershom; Jonathan, who is called in the Text forecited the sonne of Manasseh; but as some rather reade, Moses, supposing the Jews inserted the letter Nun to make the word Manasseh in honour to Moses; and in Arias Montanus, the letter Nun is set above the line, and the letters directly in the line without pricks, are the same with the name Moses.

lay thine hand] By which he resigned up his office unto him; and withall, no doubt, he prayed to God to put his Spirit upon him, whence is that saying of the consecrating of Joshua, Deut. 34.9.

V. 20. put some of thine honour] Use him no more as a minister, or servant, nor let the people esteeme of him as such a one; but commend him to the people as meet for the office, and appointed by God, and give up thine authority to him, that he may be honoured as thy successour; though not in the same degree of honour which thou hast had, (for Moses knew the minde of God immediately, but Joshua was to learne of the High Priest, see Deut. 34. 10.) for some of it will be sufficient to qualifie him both for execution of his charge, and acceptation with his people.

V. 21. Urim] The High Priest consulting with God, did put on the brest-plate of Urim and Thummim; 1 Sam. 23.9. See Annot. on Exod. 28.30.

his word] That is, Eleazaer the Priest, having inquired of the Lord with the brest-plate of Urim and Thummim.

both hee] That is, Joshua.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Vers. 2. My offering] Many of the ordinances for Gods solemn service had been intermitted many yeers in the wildernesse, which now are repeated; both because the generation of men to whom they were first given, were now dead, and because now, being ready to enter into the land of Canaan, they were upon neerer apprehension of the possession of Gods promise, to be the more carefull to keep his commandments.

my bread] Hee meaneth his sacrifices and oblations, because they served not onely for his honour, but for the sustenance of his servants, whereof bread is is the chief, and the Shew-bread the chief bread.

V. 3. This is the offering] In the twenty third of Levit. the feasts were prescribed, but not the sacrifices belonging to them; here the sacrifices are particularly appointed.

two lambs] Whereof see Exod. 29. 38. &c. v. 38.

V. 5. meat-offerings] Which was an accessory sacrifice to the burnt-offering; see Numb. 15. 4.

V. 6. in mount Sinai] Untill they came thither (which was 38 yeares after their departure out of Egypt) they offered no such sacrifices; and (as some say) none at all. Of this daily sacrifice, see Levit. 9. 16.

V. 7. strong wine] the word Shechar here used, whence cometh the word Sicera, is usually taken for strong drinke, as distinguishing from wine, but here it is taken for wine, for no strong drink, but wine was used in Oblations.

V. 9. On the sabbath day] In the morning of the Sabbath were offered three Lambs; two for the Sabbath, and one for the daily sacrifice.

V. 10. beside the continuall] Sacrifice was to be offered unto God day by day, both morning and evening, vers. 3. but on the Sabbath more was to be done, and nothing of the weekely devotion to be left undone.

V. 11. beginning of] The new moones are not numbred among the feasts, Lev. 23. for some reason which is not revealed; yet they are sufficiently authorised by this Text, and by Numb. 10. 10. and they were observed for gratefull remembrance of Gods government of the world, as the Sabbath is a remembrance of the worlds creation.

V. 13. A severall tenth deale] a tenth of a tenth, as some render the words, and expound them to be an Omer the tenth part of an Ephah, which Ephah is the tenth part of another measure called in Hebrew Cor.

V. 14. drink-offering] That is, the offering of wine, which yet was not to be drunke, but powred out upon the sacrifice.

V. 15. sinne-offering] That is, for the sinne of the people in generall.

V. 17. in the fifteenth day] Which was the day of eating the Lambe; for it was killed on the fourteenth day betweene two evenings: see Exod. 12. 6. and with the latter evening began the fifteenth day, when it was to be eaten at night, without reservation of any part of it untill the morning.

V. 23. in the morning] The like proportion is to be understood for the evening, though it be not expressed, because it is not to be doubted, but it was to be answerable to the morning; but of the morning there might be doubt; because in the morning divers other sacrifices were to be offered.

V. 24. continuall burnt-offering] That is, besides the daily sacrifice.

V. 26. of the first-fruits] That is, all the feast of Pentecost, when cakes or loaves made of the first ripe fruits were offered.

after your weekes] Counting seven weekes, or fifty dayes from the Passeover to Whitsuntide, as Levit. 23. 15. which was called the feast of weekes, Exod. 34. 22. because it was to be so many weekes after the Passeover.

V. 27. yee shall offer] The same sacrifices are appointed for the feast of Pentecost which were offered at the Passeover. See vers. 19.

V. 31. without blemish] Whatsoever was offered to God must bee of the best; the beasts without blemish; the flour fine, and not course, sweet and not musty; the drink not sowre, nor the oyle with dreggs: all betokening the purity and perfection of him of whom they were types, to wit, Jesus Christ our propitiatory Sacrifice, and Saviour, and beseeming the excellencie of him to whom they were offered; see Mal. 1. 8. 14.

CHAP. XXIX.

Vers. 1. Seventh moneth] The moneth Tizri, which containeth part of September, and part of October.

blowing the trumpets] The first day of the moneth forementioned; for it was the new moon; so the Hebrewes account their moneth, (making the first day of the new moone the first day of the moneth) and in the new moone the trumpet was to be blowne Numb. 10. 10. Psal. 81. 3. especially in this moneth, wherein (besides this feast) was the feast of expiation, and the feast of Tabernacles, at which the people were assembled by the sound of the trumpet; and this feast of trumpets was instituted, and so called in memoriall of the giving of the Law at mount Sinai, with the shrill and dreadfull sound of a trumpet, Exod. 19. 19. See Annot. on Levit. 23. vers. 24.

V. 6. his meat-offering] His in the masculine gender, because the offering was a male without blemish.

V. 7. afflict your souls] This is on the feast of expiation; whereof see Levit. 23. 27.

V. 11. continuall burnt-offering] That is, offered every morning and every evening.

V. 12. fifteenth day] That is, the feast of Tabernacles celebrated the fifteenth day of the moneth Tizri: see vers. 1. and Annot. on Levit. 23. 34.

V. 13. thirteene] The number of the beasts are increased because of the solemnitie of the feast, being a memoriall of their safe protection those 40 yeers in the desert, and because the yeerly increase being come in, they had both the more cause, and the more store for the exercise of religious liberality. Deut. 16. 13, 15.

V. 17. second day] Of the feast of Tabernacles.

V. 18. after the manner] That is, according to the ceremonies appointed thereunto; so also vers. 21, 24, 27.

V. 32. on the seventh day seven bullocks] From thirteen young bullocks, vers. 12. every day one abated untill the seventh; seven must then be offered, and no fewer, besides other oblations offered in a constant and certaine number.

CHAP. XXX.

Vers. 2. Vow a vow] Of the conditions of a lawfull vow, see Annot on Gen. 28. 20.

V. 3. in her fathers house] So in his house, as to be under his government, & not disposed of in marriage; and what is said of a young maid, is to be understood of a boy under age at his fathers dispose; and as fathers, so mothers, when the father is dead; and when both are dead, other governours to whom children in their minority are committed, are by the reason of the Law comprehended in it.

V. 4. hold his peace] Silence in this case implieth a consent: see vers. 14.

V. 5. shall forgive her] So vers. 8. 12. which sheweth that the Lord is indulgent to well-disposed persons, though there be a mixture of inconsideration, or errour, with their good meaning.

V. 10. husbands house] That is, while her husband was alive.

V. 13. Oath] To afflict her soule by abstinence and fasting, which though it be particularly mentioned, oathes concerning other matters are in like manner ratified or disannulled under the generall termes, vers. 5, 8, 10, 12.

V. 14. from day to day] He should allow or disallow the same day he first heareth them, vers. 8. as the latter end of the verse sheweth; but if he held his peace from day to day, he more and more confirmed and established them.

V. 15. beare her iniquitie] That is, the guilt which would have been imputed to her, if she had of her own accord transgressed by her breach of vow (for any good or lawfull thing) shall be imputed unto him, who (without just cause) hindered the performance thereof; especially if he did not disallow it the same day it was made, but some dayes after: See vers. 5. This sheweth that if the parents will not permit the performance of the vow, being in their owne power to hinder it; they who have vowed being under their power, must submit to their pleasure; but if it be of a thing within the power of them who thus vow, and they can performe it privately without offence to their Governours, they must performe it.

V. 16. her fathers house] See Annot. on vers. 3.

CHAP. XXXI.

Vers. 2. Gathered unto thy people] See Annot. on Gen. 25. vers. 8.

V. 3. avenge the Lord] As he had commanded, Chap. 25. 17, 18. declaring also that the injury done against his people, is done against himselfe; and as God shewed himselfe a preserver of his people, in appointing a revenge in their names; so Moses required that they should take up armes, not so much for their owne cause, as for Gods, who was not lesse dishonoured, then the people were indangered by their sinne.

V. 6. and Phinehas] Because of the great zeale he bare to the Lord, Chap. 25. vers. 7. yet though Joshua be not mentioned, it is probable that he was Generall of the Armie, and not Phinehas; who yet in the affaires of God, and the holy things of the Tabernacle, had most to doe.

with the holy instruments] The Arke, with the Tables of the Law,

Law, the Cherubims and Mercy-ſeat; for theſe (as the Heathens brought their Idols to the Battell) the Jewes carried with them when they went to warre, 1 Sam.4.17. as the remembrances of Gods eſpeciall preſence, and incentives of courage to fight for his cauſe; this was when the warre was undertaken with command or allowance from God; otherwiſe the Prieſts were not permitted to carry it out of the Campe to Battell with the enemie, Num.14.44.

and the Trumpets] The two ſilver Trumpets, whereof ſee Chap 10.2.

V. all the males] But ſuch as ſaved themſelves by flight; who running for refuge into another Region, afterwards in the time of Gedeon returned, and vexed the Iſraelites, Judg.6.v.1.

V. 7. and Zur] He was the father of the Midianitiſh woman, whom Phinehas ſlew, Chap.25.18.

V. 8. Balaam alſo] Chap.24.verſ.25. he is ſaid to returne to his place; that is, to his Countrey; but he either ſtaid with the Midianites in his way homeward from the King of Moab, or returned to them againe from his Countrey of Syria, or Meſopotamia; howſoever it was juſt with God, that he ſhould be a partner with them in puniſhment, who was their counſellour in ſinne, ver.16. See Annot on Chap.25.verſ.18.

V. 13. Moſes and Eleazar] To congratulate their returne with victorious revenge.

V. 17. and every woman] Women and children in regard of their impotencie to aſſault, or reſiſt, are to be priviledged from the deſtruction of the ſword; yet Moſes by warrant from God might juſtly command them to be killed, ſince they are by ſinne liable to his juſtice at all times, and are to give up their lives by what kinde of death he pleaſeth.

V. 18. that have not knowne] As farre as they could conjecture by their age; theſe were to be reſerved for marriage, if they would embrace the Religion of the Hebrews; for the ſervice of hand-maids; or if they had more then were needfull to ſuch purpoſes, they might ſet them to ſale and make money of them.

V. 19. whoſoever hath killed] Though the warre were lawfull, and taken up upon Gods owne command; yet that men ſhould not have ſwift feet to ſhed blood, there is a ceremoniall uncleanneſſe contracted by him that killeth, as well as by him that toucheth the party killed, Num.19.14.

V. 20. and purifie all] See Annot.on verſ.23.

V. 23. abide the fire] Metals were to be purged by paſſing through the fire, and by ſprinkling the water of ſeparation upon them; other things were purified by waſhing in ordinary water.

V. 27. All the Congregation] The parts of the prey were made equall, the parties betwixt whom they were divided very unequall; for a few warriers had as much as all that ſtaid from the warre, becauſe they did hazard their lives in the Battell, which the others did not; afterwards David ſet downe an order of diviſion of the ſpoyles of warre, which was, that they that tarried with the ſtuffe to watch and guard it, ſhould have an equall ſhare with thoſe that fought, 1 Sam.30.24. and the reaſon is, (which much varieth the caſe and courſe he reſolved on) for that ſuch as ſtay ſo neere the enemy as the carriages, are expoſed to the perill of their lives, as well as thoſe that goe forth to battell; and when they have an enemy more covetous then valorous, they are in greater danger then they that manage the warre.

V. 28. one ſoule] That is, one perſon, as verſ. 30. See verſ.47.

of the perſons] To wit, which were taken in warre as well as of the other ſpoyles.

V. 29. of their halfe] The prey was firſt divided into two parts, the one part was for the ſouldiers, the other for the reſt of the people: this tribute is of the ſouldiers part or halfe, who (though they were but twelve thouſand) had a greater proportion of the prey, then they that ſtaid at home and made no ſuch adventure of their perſons, as the ſouldiers did; and therefore alſo was their tribute but one of five hundred, whereas of the peoples part, verſ.30. was taken one of fiftie.

V. 40. thirtie and two perſons] Taking one for every five hundred, as verſ.28.

V. 49. not one] It is a ſtrange battell (they ſay) where no man eſcapes, more ſtrange on that ſide where no man periſheth, and many are ſlaine on the adverſe party, eſpecially a whole nation on the one ſide (and that populous) being againſt twelve thouſand on the other.

V. 50. We have therefore] This was a free-offering over and beſides the tribute before impoſed, whereby the Captaines acknowledge the great benefit of God in preſerving his people.

for our ſoules] Fearing (belike) that God might inflict ſome deadly judgement upon them, for ſhewing too much mercy in ſparing from death the Midianitiſh women. See verſ.15.

V. 52. of the captaines] Who brought their owne, and their ſouldiers part to Moſes aud Eleazar.

V. 53. had taken] Spoyles of ſuch things for themſelves as they could conveniently carry away; for that which was communicated with the multitude was but the prey of men and beaſts, verſ.11,12. and for the oblation of gold, that was made by the Princes or principall men; but the common ſouldiers kept what they caught to themſelves; as hath beene ſaid.

V. 54. for a memoriall] A memoriall that God had given them victory in battell, and that he would graciouſly accept of their oblation, and ſhew himſelfe mindfull of it, when they had moſt need of his aſſiſtance.

CHAP. XXXII.

Verſ.6. Shall ye ſit here] By this Moſes ſheweth himſelfe much moved againſt their motion, as if it ſavoured of too much love to themſelves, and too little to their brethren, and of as little beliefe in God, and obedience to his word; who had given order for diviſion of the land by lot, Chap. 26. verſ. 55. & Chap.33. verſ.54.

V. 9. that they ſhould not] That might be their intent, who would not have the people attempt to take poſſeſſion of the land of promiſe; at leaſt it was the event, which followed upon their falſe reports of it.

V. 11. Surely none] Others render the words, (if theſe men) as more exactly agreeing with the Originall, and the beſt Tranſlations; and they take the words by a figure called Apoſiopeſis, which pathetically withholds thoſe words (out of an averſion to name them) which make up the ſentence; as thus, if theſe men live to ſee and poſſeſſe the land of Canaan, let not me be held a God, or to have any truth in me; See the like ſuſpenſive Oath or Proteſtation of God, Pſal. 94. laſt, in the margin.

V. 12. Kenezite] Caleb is mentioned by Moſes many times with this addition, the ſonne of Jephunneh, either for diſtinction ſake, (for there was another Caleb, 1 Chron. 2.18.42.) or for explication of his pedegree, for which cauſe his originall is fetched higher from Kenaz, who might be one of the Anceſtors of Jephunneh, whoſe father (unleſſe there were another Jephunneh, but the Scripture commonly brings him in as a father of Caleb) was Jether, 1 Chron.7.38. and as he is called the ſonne of Jephunneh, ſo he is named the brother of Othniel, and Othniel the ſonne of Kenaz, Joſh.15.17. Judg.3.9. which is not to be underſtood in the ſtricteſt acceptation of the word Brother, as if they had both the ſame father, becauſe in Scripture conſtantly the one is called the ſonne of Kenaz, the other of Jephunneh; and that when in the ſame place both of them are ſpoken of together, as in the afore-cited place of Joſhua; and Othniel married Calebs daughter; See the ſame place of Joſh. and therefore they were not brethren by the ſame father, for albeit before the Law it were not prohibited the uncle to marry his neece, yet by Moſes Law it was: See Annot. on Levit.18. 14. ſo that rather Othniel is called Calebs younger brother, as his nephew, the ſonne of Kenaz his brother; for it is not ſtrange in Scripture, to call nephewes couſen germans, or kinſmen brethren.

V. 13. done evill] Chiefly in murmuring, and not beleeving their report, who told the truth concerning the land of Canaan, though they were but two for ten, that ſpake contrary to it, raiſing falſe reports to caſt diſcouragements upon the people.

V. 17. becauſe of the inhabitants] The Reubenites and Gadites were neere to the Moabites, Idumeans, and Canaanites their enemies.

V. 20. before the Lord] That is, as ſetting your ſelves in his ſight, and ſincerely doing the ſervice to his glory: or, before the Lord, may be in the fore-front of the Lords Army; as is ſaid, Joſh.4.12. or before the Arke, the place of the Lords eſpeciall preſence.

V. 21. all of you armed] Which is not to be underſtood univerſally for all the able warriours of the two Tribes and an halfe; but that all thoſe that went ſhould goe armed, and there went about fourty thouſand, Joſh.4.3. which was not halfe of their Militarie number; for the whole was one hundred and ten thouſand fighting men, Numb. 26. the reſt ſtayed with the women and children to guard them, and keepe their portion from being ſurpriſed; and to repaire ſome Cities, and build others.

V. 22. your poſſeſſion before] That is, the Lord will take notice of it, and will give his approbation to it, as if it had happened to be your part by lot; yet it is probable they were too much ſet upon that portion of earth; for it is not without ſome note of their fault and puniſhment, that as they were the firſt that had their portion of inheritance aſſigned them, ſo they were the firſt that were carried captives out of their land, 1 Chron.5.25,26.

V. 23. your ſinne will] That is, the puniſhment of your ſinne. Prov.13.21. Pſ.140.11. 1 Sam.24.5. Joſh.7.18

V. 26. in the cities of Gilead] In them chiefly, not onely, but 31.16. — through the counsel of Balaam — Rev. 2.14. — thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

2 Pet. 2.14, 15, 16. Jude, V. 11. Num. 31. 8, & Joshuah, 13. 22. Balaam also the son of Beor the soothsayer did the children of Israel slay with the sword among them that were slain by them.
& — Balaam also the son of Beor they slew with the sword.
Num. 31. 14, 15, 16. And Moses was wroth — and said, — Have ye saved all the women alive?
Behold, these caused the children of Israel, through the counsel of Balaam, to commit trespass against the LORD in the matter of Peor — but in other Cities of the Reubenites, Gadites, and halfe Tribe of Manasseh.

V. 29. ye shall give them] It was at the Lords disposall how the land should be divided; yet that this occasion might make no division nor emulation among the Tribes, he maketh the people parties to the grant of their request; as before, vers. 22.

V. 30. they shall have] That is, if they will not performe their promise you shall not give them Gilead; but you shall make them goe over Jordan, and to fight for portions for themselves against their and your enemies.

V. 31. As the Lord hath said] That is attributed to the Lord which his Messenger speaketh; and therefore they were the more like to rest contented with his resolution.

V. 33. halfe the tribe of Manasseh] The Tribe of Manasseh was divided, the one halfe had his portion with the children of Gad, and of Reuben, on the one side of Jordan; the other on the other side; and this halfe which was sharer with the two Tribes fore-mentioned, was to undergoe the same conditions with them, Josh. 4. 12.

Amorites] The Amorites dwelled on both sides Jordan; but here he maketh mention of them that dwelt on this side (that is, neerer to the wilderneſse in which the people wandered) and Josh. 10. 12. he speaketh of them that inhabited beyond Jordan.

V. 34. built] That is, reedified or repaired those places, which were built before, but were now in decay; for they tarried not there long enough to build new Cities, or Towns.

V. 38. their names being changed] That is, of some of them; partly because some of them imported Idolatrous notions, as Nebo, Isa. 46. 1. and Bamoth, Baal, Baal-meon; haply for that prohibition, Exod. 23. 13. and partly for remembrance of some remarkable thing done in them, or happening to them; especially for an honourable remembrance of those who wonne them, or were at cost to repaire them; though the old names were not quite out of use, as Josh. 13. Jer. 48. Ezek. 25. 9. yet they might be changed; as Jacobs name was changed into Israel; yet is the name of Jacob often mentioned afterwards; the like is observed of Kiriath-arba, called afterward Hebron; yet so, that the old name was sometimes renued, Neh. 11. 25. And as there was a change of names of places, so those names (as the name of Gilead) were taken sometimes for a larger, sometimes for a narrower portion of land.

V. 40. Gilead to Machir] If Machir the eldest sonne of Manasseh were dead by this time, (and so he was, or else he was very old) his sonnes mentioned, vers. 39. might be entitled to his name, as taking Machir for the issue of Machir; as Jacobs posteritie is called by the name of Israel, or Jacob; and Ephraims by the name of Ephraim. See Annot. on Deut. 3. 12.

V. 41. Jair the sonne of Manasseh] He was a Manassite by his mothers side, who was a daughter of the Tribe of Manasseh; for sometimes the denomination was taken from the female sexe, 1 Chron. 2. 21, 22. & Ezra 2. 61. Or the sonne of Manasseh may be one descended from him, in a remote degree, as the Israelites are called the children of Israel, many hundred yeares after Israel or Jacob was dead; and Christ is called the sonne of David, who was his progenitor a great way off, see Matth. 1. 1. so that as every Ancestor in a direct line is called a father, so every one of the posteritie in a direct line is called a sonne.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Vers. 1. UNder the hand] That is, by conduct and guidance of Moses and Aaron, by whose word they were to be led, as a child held by the hands of his father.

V. 2. their journeys] Wherein the places of their mansion are mentioned by particular names, given them partly by God, and partly by the people upon particular occasions; for it is not like, that the places of the desert had so many distinct appellations before their travels and encampings there: of divers of them there is no mention in the former story, as of their encamping by the red Sea, vers. 10. of their encamping at Dophkah, vers. 12. at Rissah, vers. 21. and Ebronah, vers. 34. In this various wandring the condition of the Church (which is a pilgrimage) is prefigured; for those who are heires of heaven, are as younger brothers on earth, without any fixed seat, and as pilgrimes and sojourners, are put to shift from place to place. See Gen. 47. 9. 1 Chron. 29. 15. 1 Pet. 1. 17. Hebr. 11. 9, 10, 13, 14.

V. 3. Rameses] A Province or Countrey in the Land of Egypt; Gen. 47. 11. there was a Citie of that name in the utmost parts of Egypt, built by the Israelites, during their servitude; and this was the place here spoken of.

first moneth] Answering to part of March, and part of April.

the morrow after] That is, after the killing of the Paschall Lambe.

V. 4. their gods] That is, their men of authoritie; or their Idols, of which the cattell killed with the murraine, were some part; and but a part, for Egypt abounds with the multitude of Idols, upon which, (of what sort so ever they were) God executed judgement. Exod. 12. 12. What is here from the fifth vers. to the eighteenth, is in Exod. 12. to the 18.

Vers. 6. Etham] Where their guidance by the cloudy pillar is first mentioned. See Annot. on Exod. 13. 22.

V. 8. Sea] That is, the red Sea, through which the Israelites safely passed, and in which the Egyptians were overwhelmed.

Marah] See Annot. on Exod. 15. 23.

V. 11. Sin] See Annot. on Exod. 16. 1.

V. 14. Rephidim] See Exod. 17. vers. 1.

V. 15. wildernesse of Sinai] See Exod. 19. 1.

V. 16. Kibroth-Hattaavah] See Numb. 11. 34.

V. 17. Haseroth] See Chap. 11. 35.

V. 18. Rithmah] See Chap. 13. 1.

V. 38. fifth moneth] The Hebrew word is Ab; this moneth answereth to part of July, and part of August.

V. 39. when he dyed] Moses died in the 120. yeare of his age, being younger then Aaron by three yeares; so Aaron dying (as here is said) in his 123. yeare: it appeareth they dyed both in one yeare, which was the fourtieth yeare from their departure out of Egypt.

V. 45. Dibon Gad] So called because the Gadites built it, Numb. 32. 34. and to distinguish it from another Dibon which the Reubenites possessed, Josh. 13. vers. 15, 17.

V. 47. Nebo] The name of a part of the mountaines of Abarim; on which Nebo, Moses died. See Annot. on Chap. 27. vers. 12. & Deut. 32. vers. 49, 50.

V. 49. Beth-jeshimoth even unto] Staying first a time at Beth-jeshimoth, where they made one mansion; and then going to Abel-Shittim where they made another.

V. 52. pictures] Statues, or idolatrous representations, which were set up in their high places to worship.

high places] That is, Idolatrous Chappels, and Altars built on high hils, where the Heathens celebrated their idolatrous rites and ceremonies to their false gods; Deut. 12. 2.

V. 55. pricks in your eyes] They will not spare your most tender parts, if you spare them; but with sharpest weapons will pricke and gore you without mercy or measure, if you suffer them to remain among you.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

Vers. 2. THat is the land] That is, the description of the limits and borders of the Land, whereby they may know what inhabitants are to be turned out of their possession.

V. 3. salt Sea] Sea water is generally salt; but this lake called the lake of Sodome, was so called for especiall saltnesse, by reason of the salt and sulphureous springs which feed it, and from the showre of sulphure which fell upon it: It is also called the dead Sea, because (as some write) it hath no fish or living creature in it, and that if upon an over-flowing of Jordan fishes be carryed into it, yet they will not live in it. This salt Sea in the Gospel hath divers names, as the Lake of Genneſareth, the Sea of Galilee, the Sea of Tiberias, from the Regions Genneſareth and Galilee, and from the Citie of Tiberias bordering upon it.

V. 4. Akrabbim] Called Maalehakrabbim, Josh. 15. 3.

Hazur-addar] Which is counted as two places, Josh. 15. 3.

V. 5. River of Egypt] By which is usually meant the River Nilus, which cannot be meant of the maine River in this place, because the border of Canaan did not reach so farre, but the River called Rhinocorura, or Rhinocotura taking its name from the Citie by which it runneth; or a brooke or torrent, which rising out of the mountaines of Kedar, and running through the desert passeth into the Mediterranean Sea, and in its way coasteth upon the Tribe of Judah, and Simeon, and separateth it from the wilderneſse, and the way to Egypt. See Annot. on Gen. 15. 18.

V. 6. great Sea] The Mediterranean Sea, called great, not simply, but in comparison of the Sea of Tiberias. See Annot. on vers. 3.

for your border] Not meaning that all the Sea coast shall be theirs, but that part which answereth to its situation to Mount Libanus and Mount Hor.

V. 7. Hor] Which is a Mountaine neere Tyre and Sidon, and not that Hor in the wilderneſse, where Aaron died; for the Mount on which Aaron died was South, or South-east in respect of Canaan; but this here mentioned was North, or North-west, quite opposite to it.

V. 11. Chinnereth] Which in the Gospel is called the Lake of Genesareth, &c. See Annot. on vers. 3.

V. 12. Jordan] This River is distinguished by the measure of the streame, and is called Jordan the lesse untill it mingle with other waters; and after that swelling to a greater height, and spreading ſpreading in breadth untill it runne into the dead Sea, it is called Jordan the great. Joſephus of the Warres of the Jewes: lib. 4. cap. 1.

V. 12. this ſhall be your] The like limits (with a little variation (for Iſraels portion in it was not alwayes of one meaſure) are ſet down by Ezek. Chap. 47. theſe are the chiefe limits on the North and Eaſt part of Judea, but if we take all the Land together which was poſſeſſed by all the children of Iſrael, comprehending in the compaſſe the portion of the Reubenites, Gadites and halfe Tribe of Manaſſeh beyond Jordan towards the Eaſt, and the Tribe of Naphtali beyond the Lake of Genneſareth towards the North, the limits of the Land of Promiſe are theſe; on the North-ſide it is bounded by Phenicia, Syria, Libamra, and Syria of Damaſcus, on the Eaſt ſide by Arabia, on the South ſide by the deſert of Sin, the countrey of Cedar or Kedar, and Egypt; and on the Weſt by the Mediterranean Sea, called the Great Sea.

V. 13. inherit by lot] This and verſ. 18. agree. See the Annot. on Chap. 26. verſ. 56.

V. 18. Prince of] Not the principall man of the whole Tribe, but a chiefe man of ſome Family in his Tribe.

by inheritance] They were to take the Land in the name of the Tribes, and to diſtribute each Tribe his portion to be held by inheritance, though the diſtribution (for the moſt part) were made by Lot, Joſh. 19. 51.

V. 29. divide] And to decide any difference that might ariſe, if any were not pleaſed with their portion.

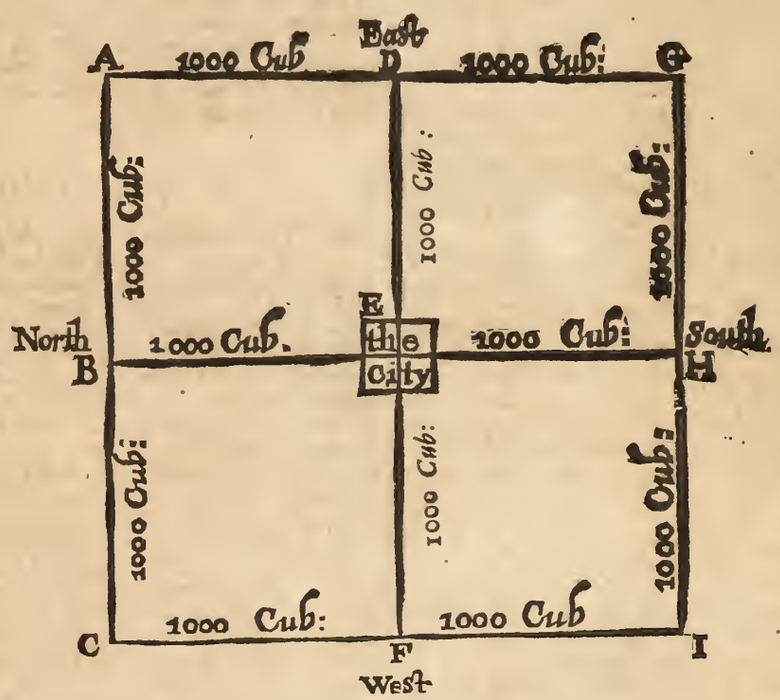
CHAP. XXXV.

Verſ. 2. UNto the Levites] By Levites here muſt be underſtood the whole Tribe of Levi, as comprehending alſo the Prieſts; becauſe they had none inheritance aſſigned them in the Land of Canaan; and they had none inheritance diſtinct and apart from the reſt of the Tribes, becauſe they were to be diſperſed throughout the Land for inſtruction of the people, and exhortation to obedience to the Law of God: and herein that malediction, Gen. 49. 7. is turned into an honourable bleſſing.

V. 3. Cities] Fourtie eight in number, Joſh. 21. verſ. 41. In one of theſe Cities, for the moſt part was the Tabernacle placed, whither the Prieſts and Levites came to miniſter, as their courſe required; and that done, they returned to the Cities of their ſetled habitations and poſſeſſions; ſuch were thoſe which are mentioned, Levit. 25. 32.

to dwell in] For them, their wives, and children, and ſervants, yet not for them onely; (though for them chiefely) for a Citie cannot well be furniſhed without men of ſeverall Arts and Occupations, which might live among the Levites, and be ſo farre partakers with them, as that they might take their houſes by way of Mortgage, and hold them (if the Levites did not redeeme them) untill the yeare of Jubilee. See Annot. on Levit. 25. 33.

V. 5. two thouſand cubits] In the precedent verſe there is numbred but a thouſand cubites, in this two thouſand; which ſome take for the ſame meaſure, making the word Ammah in the fourth verſe, to ſignifie a pace, and the ſame word in this verſe a cubite (as the word Nahal in the ſame verſe, viz. Deut. 2. 36. in the Hebrew is put for a brooke and for a valley) and allowing to every pace two cubites. The diſtinction of the word cubite taken for an ordinary cubite in this verſe, and for a cubite of the Sanctuary (which is thought to be twice as much) in the precedent verſe, is brought by ſome to cleare this ſeeming contradiction; others affirme they had from the walles of the Citie a thouſand cubites allowed for paſture of cattell, and two thouſand more for corne fields and vineyards; but the cleareſt way for avoydance of this ſeeming difference is this; they had a thouſand cubites from the walles of the Citie out-right in length, and two thouſand in compaſſe on each ſide, Eaſt, Weſt, North, and South, which taken together made up the whole compaſſe eight thouſand cubites, which may beſt be diſcerned by this Figure;



In which it plainly appeareth, that the Lines ſtretched out foure ſeverall waies from the Citie, are each of them a thouſand cubits diſtant from the Citie, and each ſide of the ſquare, Eaſt, Weſt, North, and South, being twice ſo much in length as the line coming from the City outward (which is one thouſand cubits, verſ. 4.) muſt make up for each quarter two thouſand cubits, according to the fifth verſe: and if the forme of the Citie and Suburbs be circular, this proportion may be obſerved, with very little difference; for taking the ſemediameter, that is, the line halfe way from Eaſt to Weſt, and from North to South, that is, from D to E, or from B to E, there is a thouſand cubits, ſtretched out to a full diameter, that is, from D on the Eaſt ſide, to F on the Weſt, and from B on the North ſide to H on the South, will make up two thouſand cubits a piece; and if theſe be drawne about with a circular line, that circle will be about three times the length of the whole Diameter; and the Citie being in the midſt of it, and the lines on each ſide drawne not from the Center of it, but from the wall or the outſide, the circle or circumference will be ſo much the greater, that it will ariſe to eight thouſand cubits; and ſo the whole quartered into foure parts, Eaſt, Weſt, North, and South, each part will containe two thouſand cubits, according to this verſe, without any contradiction; yea with exact conformitie to the one thouſand cubits in the fourth verſe: and about this proportion in diſtance from the Citie wals, and in compaſſe or circuit about them, will the Levites portion of Suburbs be, whether the Citie be great or ſmall, round or ſquare, or of any other figure.

V. 6. ſixe cities of refuge] Before that there were Cities of refuge, it is like, the Tabernacle was a place of refuge, and afterward the Temple, eſpecially the Altar, Exod. 21. 14. but they were to yeeld no refuge to a wilfull murderer, who was by force (if he took Sanctuary there) to be plucked thence, as Joab was, 1 King. 2. 31. but for ſecuritie to the unwitting and unwilling man-ſlayer.

man-ſlayer] There was no Citie of refuge for any other offender but a manſlayer; whereof the reaſon may be, becauſe bloud-ſhed is purſued (eſpecially by thoſe who are of the ſame fleſh and bloud with the man ſlaine) with moſt violent and bloudy revenge, without taking leaſure to conſider the fault as well

C. 36. 11. — married unto their fathers brothers Sons] Posteris: nihil enim contra jus et honestatem præcepit Deus, aut Moshe fieri passus est. Et hanc vocem late accipi, est notissimum; ut sequens versus innuit.

Tremel. . Junius.

¶ The Marriage of Cousin-Germans, is not in it self unlawfull, nor within ye degrees prohibited; for then God would not have countenanced those marriages.

[2] Ordinarily, it is not advisable: for if there had not been a particular reason for it (which cannot hold in any case now, Inheritances being not disposed of, as then, by the special designation of Heaven) they would not have married such near Relations. The world is wide, and he that walks uprightly, will endeavour to walk surely.

Matthew Henry.

well as the fact, and the degree of it, whether it deserve to be punished with death or no: The man-slayer here allowed a place of protection, is such an one as slew another ignorantly and against his will, vers. 11.15. of this Chapter, and Josh. 20.3. to keepe him from the rage of the pursuer, untill his cause may judicially be heard; and the pursuer was he who was next of kinne to the slaine man; who, if the slayer were condemned to death, was to doe or to see execution done upon him, vers. 19. But in what Citie should he be tried? some thinke in the City whither he hath betaken himselfe for refuge; but it is more probable to be in the City where the man was killed, or in that which was next to the place of slaughter, whither he was to be brought with a sufficient guard, and his cause heard before all the people, vers. 12. and if he were found guilty of witting and wilfull murder, he was to be given up into the hands of the next kindred of the slaine man, to be put to death; if he were cleared of so grosse a guilt, he was to be returned to the Citie of refuge, from whence he was brought, and there to continue untill the High-priests death; before which time if he were taken out of his Citie by the avenger of bloud, (the slain mans living kinsman) he might be slaine.

V. 12. untill he stand] He shall not be put to death by anothers wrath, but upon a deliberate tryall before a competent Judge.

V. 14. on this side Iordan] Among the Reubenites, Gadites, and halfe Tribe of Manasseh, Deut.4.41.

V. 15. sojourners] Who dwelt with them for a time, and were not of the same Religion with them; yet some conceive this priviledge was onely for such strangers as were Proselytes, or Converts to the Religion of the Hebrewes.

V. 16. smite him] Wittingly and willingly.

V. 17. and he die] That is, presently upon the blow; but if he rose againe, and died not; he that smote him was not to be put to death, but to beare the charge of his cure untill he were recovered; as Exod.21.19.

V. 19. meeteth him] That is, when after a true tryall of his guilt he is presented to his view, and put into his hands by the Magistrates of the City, as vers.30. then some hold he might, some that he must doe execution upon him, not taking any satisfaction to take him off from a just revenge, vers.31.

V. 22. without enmitie] Which may be reasonably conjectured, if there were no quarrell or falling out betwixt them before, this was a ground of presumption (against a malicious or murderous intention) sufficient to cleare him.

V. 24. the Congregation shall judge] The Elders shall judge openly and in the presence of the Congregation, in such sort, as that they shall approve of the sentence given in the cause.

V. 25. death of the high Priest] The High-priest was a type of Christ in making atonement for the people in his life-time, but in this case (by his death restoring the exiled person to his liberty, so that he might leave the Citie of refuge (if he had committed man-slaughter unawares) and be safe) he did prefigure the freedome of the redeemed of the Lord, whose death reduced them to the fruition of a free condition: See vers. 28.

V. 26. at any time] Except at the death of the High-priest.

V. 27. the avenger of bloud] That is, the next of kinne to him that was killed, who was to doe execution, or to see it certainely done by another.

V. 29. * statute of judgement] A Law to judge man-killers, whether done of purpose, or unadvisedly.

* Chap.27.11.

V. 33. pollute the land] The guilt of blood hath a diffusive malignitie, spreading it selfe all about, if it be not sought out and pursued to punishment.

of him that shed it] Mercy to a murderer, is crueltie to a Kingdome.

V. 34. wherein I dwell] God by his infinite immensitie is every where, Psal. 139. 7,8,9. yet he preferreth some persons and places before others; and to whom, and where he gives evidence of his presence in more favourable and familiar manner, there he may be said to dwell especially: See Isa. 57. 15. Psal.135.21. 1 King 9.3. Matth.18.20.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Vers.1. OF the children of Gilead] Not those who had already received their possession in the land of Gilead, but those who were yet unprovided of a portion, and were to receive it beyond Jordan, for these Gileadites had the same Gilead for their Progenitor.

V. 4. Jubile] That is, the yeare of remission of debts, of release of mortgages, restoring of libertie to the exiled, &c. See Levit. 25. from vers. 11. forward; this Jubile was celebrated every fiftieth yeare.

V. 6. to whom they thinke best] Though they were restrained to their Tribe, and in their Tribe (as some resolve) to their neere kindred, yet they were free for the choice of the particular person; as Gen.24. 57,58. not marrying within the degrees forbidden; and their obligation to marry within their Tribes, made them the more capable of inheritance, though they were of the weaker sex.

Tribe of their father] This rule is made (as some take it) rather for women then for men; and of women, chiefly for such as had no brethren to inherit their fathers portion, in which case as they must marry within their Tribe, so he that was of the same Tribe, and neere of kinne, must marry such a one, rather then one of another Tribe; otherwise there want not examples (and those examples are no where condemned) of men marrying with women of another Tribe; sometimes of another Nation: as David of the Tribe of Judah, married Michol the daughter of Saul of the Tribe of Levi; and Jehojadah the Priest of the same Tribe, married Jehoshabeath the daughter of King Jehoram of the Tribe of Judah, 2 Chron.22.11. and Elizabeth as cousin to the Virgin Mary, being of the Tribe of Judah, was married to Zacharias the Priest, of the Tribe of Levi: and the Levites might the rather have that libertie, because they had not such divided portions as the other Tribes had; but were mingled among them, and so might the rather marry in other Tribes; and generally it was allowed to men of the Hebrewes to marry aliens from the Common-weale of Israel, yea enemies taken in the warres, Deut.21.13. (so that they were not of the race of the accursed Canaanites, Deut.7.3.) By vertue of that warrant Booz married Ruth a Moabitesse, Ruth 1.10. ✱

V. 10 as the Lord] In cases of doubt Moses used to consult with God, and to make the resolution from him, as Levit. 24.12. Num.15.34,35.

✱ Boaz married Ruth as she was the wife of his Kinsman.

M ANNOTA-

ANNOTATIONS
ON THE FIFTH AND LAST BOOKE OF MOSES, called after the manner of the Hebrewes, from the first words, Elleh haddebarim, that is, these are the words; but that which is most in use with us is derived from the Greeke, viz. DEUTERONOMIE.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Word Deuteronomie signifieth the second Law, it being an iteration of the Law, or a second Edition of it, with addition of some new Lawes, and a more cleare and copious explication of the old; and the Law was declared againe, because the generation to whom it was published at Mount Sinai, was now dead, and among them Aaron the High-priest, for he died in Mount Hor, Numb. 20. 25. the fifth moneth, and the first day of the moneth, in the fourtieth yeare after the children of Israel were come out of the Land of Egypt, Numb. 33. 38. and in the 122. yeare of his age. The same yeare did Moses write this Booke of Deuteronomie, (except the last Chapter, which some ascribe to Ezra, others more probably, to Ioshua his servant first, and after his successour) and the same yeare died he also, which was in the 120. yeare of his age, and in the yeare of the world, 2493. and before the yeare of Christ, 1456. yeares. This Booke (not onely for the excellency of the Lawes, and memorable Stories comprehended in it, but because also it contained the last Words of Moses, uttered a little before his departure out of the world) was so much to be esteemed, that first the King himselfe was to write a Copy of it, and to read in it all the dayes of his life, Chap. 17. vers. 18. Secondly, it was for more perpetuall memory written upon great stones upon the peoples passing over Iordan, Chap. 27. vers. 3. Thirdly, it was to be solemnly read every seventh yeare in the audience of all the people, Chap. 31. vers. 9, 10, 11.

CHAP. I.

Vers. 1. THese be the words] Which are partly a repetition of precedent passages, and so might be the conclusion of the Booke of Numbers; but withall they are such as make a good part of Deuteronomie, and so may have reference to what followeth; where he repeateth much of that which hath beene spoken of before, not binding himselfe to any exact order in observation of places.

on this side] In the Countrey of Moab, not yet having passed over Jordan into Canaan; and the Israelites or people in Canaan were, in this respect, said to be beyond Jordan; yet ordinarily, when they passed over and were possessed of Canaan, this part where Reuben, Gad, and the halfe Tribe of Manasseh had their portion, was said to be beyond Jordan.

Iordan] The most famous river of Palestine, or Canaan; arising out of two fountaines, Jor and Dan, (which give the name unto it) at Mount Lebanon, in the North-end of Canaan, whence it runneth all along the Countrey: Or, it may be so called from Jarad, to descend, because it descendeth from the mountaine.

in the wilderneſſe] Some take this for the Champian Countrey of Moab, some for the wilderneſſe of Arabia, where the Israelites had remained fourtie yeares.

V. 2. eleven dayes] That was their journey from Horeb, or Sinai, to the plains of Moab, which was in measure fiftie one leagues, which was after foure leagues a day, eleven dayes journey, going by Mount-Seir and Kadesh-Barnea. See Annot. on vers. 46.

Horeb] Or, Sinai, (for the Mountaine where the Law was first published with terrible solemnitie, about fourtie yeares before this, was called by both those names).

V. 3. eleventh moneth] Called in Hebrew, Shebat, answering to part of January, and part of Februarie.

V. 4. at Astaroth in Edrei] Astaroth, and Edrei, were two Cities of the land of Og, Josh. 13. 31. within sixe miles distance one of another, where he might dwell by turnes; at this time keeping his Court at Astaroth, he went thence to Edrei, and drew his Militarie forces thither to battell, Numb. 21. 33. Deut. 3. 1. at which battell he was slaine; so that though he had his dwelling at Astaroth, he had his death at Edrei; wherefore the words [which dwelt at Astaroth] for the clearing of the sense, must be made a parenthesis.

V. 5. began] To make this repetition of the Law following.

V. 7. Turne you] Take your thoughts from all other things, and set them seriously towards your progresse unto Canaan, and bend your course that way.

mount of the Amorites] To Kadesh-Barnea, at the border of the land of Canaan, which Citie is hard by those hils where the Amorites dwell.

the river Euphrates] In this verse are set downe the bounds of the land of Canaan, according to the foure quarters of the world, East, West, North, and South: but in the 34. of Num. the limits of the promised land are narrower; the reason may be, because there is a distinction betwixt that which was hereditary to the Israelites, as their constant possession; and that which by conquest was added to it, and made tributary; and if they had lesse then either, the fault was not in Gods failing of his promise; but in the peoples breach of covenant with him, whereby he was discharged from his engagement to them: See Chap. 19. 8, 9.

V. 9. spake unto you] By the counsell of Jethro my father in law, Exod. 18. 19.

to beare you] That is, to beare the burden of government of you, and provision for you. See vers. 12.

V. 15. knowne] Not onely wise and worthy men, but so knowne and reputed by the people.

V. 19. * terrible wilderneſſe] By reason of the extreme barrennesse, having (for the most part) neither house, nor men, nor beasts, nor birds, nor trees, nor grasse, nor wels, nor rivers, nor any thing necessary for the sustenance of man, but by miraculous supply; and terrible by fiery serpents within it, and a multitude of mighty enemies bordering upon it.

* Chap. 8. 15.

V. 22. We will send] The motion of sending searchers or surveighers of the land of Canaan proceeded from the people, yet was it approved by Moses, and by their joynt consent and approbation from God, it was put in execution, Numb. 14.

V. 25. said, It is a good land] So said Caleb and Joshua, whom (though but two) he preferreth before the other tenne; the better part being rather to be beleeved, then the greater part, who raised a bad report of the land, and as false as it was bad.

V. 27. hated us] How grosly are Gods owne people sometimes mistaken? how ungratefully is he required, when his fatherly discipline of love is received as a demonstration of hatred towards them?

V. 28. up to heaven] So said the false-hearted, and in this, false-worded spies, to discourage the people; otherwise such excesses of speech, intending to raise the minde to an extraordinary apprehension of extraordinary things, are figurative hyperboles, not unusuall in the Scriptures, and very frequent in humane Writers, especially poeticall.

V. Anakims] That is, men of huge stature, of the posteritie of Anak the Giant: See Chap. 2. vers. 10.

V. 36. save Caleb] For he was one of the two, who made a surveigh of the land before; Joshua was the other; but he is not mentioned mentioned with Caleb now; because he was advanced to an higher condition then any of the rest, who is therefore afterward mentioned by himselfe, vers.38.

V. 36. wholly followed] God must not be obeyed or served by halves, but wholly and intirely; and that, as it is most acceptable to him, so is it most profitable for man.

V. 37. for your sakes] Your murmurings made me sometimes too rash in speaking, Psal.106.3. and sometimes too slow in beleeving in the Lord; which moved him to offence against me, Numb.20.12. See Deut. Chap.3.26. & Chap.4.21.

V. 40. turne ye] He doth not now turne them back toward the Red Sea; but repeateth what he had formerly said unto them, Num.14.25.

V. 42. I am not among you] Signifying that man, though he have a courage to fight, hath no power to prevaile, but when God is at hand to helpe him; and therefore when there is just cause to goe forth to warre, he is to be sought unto to goe forth with the host, Psal.60.vers.10,11.

V. 44. as Bees doe] When they set upon drones, or Waspes, or swarme about the eares of those that provoke them, Psal. 118.12. so the Amorites inraged, in great troupes pursued you, and with their warlike weapons (as the Bees with their stings) made at you, to wound and kill you.

V. 45. would not hearken] Such was your stubbornnesse, when it was well with you; and such your hypocrisie, when the rod of correction was upon you, that he shewed as little respect to your teares or prayers, as you did to his precepts, Zach. 7.11.13.

V. 46. Kadesh] A wildernesse, Psal.29.8.

according to the dayes] Repeating the words againe, he admonisheth them to double their thoughts upon their abode in that place where they were many dayes, yea many yeares; for though by a right progresse, it was but eleven dayes journey, vers.2. yet by their sinnes, they were made to wander there almost thirtie eight yeares, Chap.2. vers.14. therefore there was just ground to come over the words againe, that they might recount the rubs they had in the way, and the reasons of so long delay: See Annot.on vers.2.

CHAP. II.

Vers.1. AS the Lord spake] Numb.14.25.

mount Seir] That is, the Countrey of Idumea, which was mountainous; called Idumea, as it were Edomea, from Esau, who was called Edom; and it was called Seir also, (for so was he called) The word signifies hairie, as he was: See Annot. on Numb.24.18.

V. 3. North-ward] That is, toward the land of Promise, which is North-ward to those that travell out of Egypt.

V. 4. brethren] Numb.20.14.

shall be afraid] God is able to give, and take away courage as he pleaseth: by making them afraid, no doubt he made them give consent to let them passe by the borders of their Countrey, though they denied their passage through it, Numb.20.21.

take ye good heed] In the precedent words it is said, they of mount Seir shall be afraid of the Israelites; and here it is said, the Israelites must take heed; a caveat which might seeme more pertinent to their adversaries, yet indeed, since God had cast a feare upon them, the Israelites of whom they were afraid, ought in feare of God, to take heed to the charge he giveth of them; and that was, that as their feare of the Israelites was securitie to the Israelites, that they should receive no hurt from the Inhabitants of mount Seir; so the Israelites upon this prohibition, forbearing all violent acts against them, they were more afraid then hurt: For Gods favour to us, binds us to shew the more obedience to him, in whatsoever he commands or forbids, Deut. 4.9.& 12.19. Mal.2.15,16.

V. 5. because I have given] Not onely by my generall providence alotting every one his portion, which by the same providence I transferre from one to another at my pleasure; but I give an especiall grant for securing his possession against your invasion; though afterwards, when his posteritie have made up the measure of their iniquitie (as Gen.15.vers.16.) they may be expelled out of their possession.

V. 6. buy meat] They had Manna to eate, yet they might eate other meates, when they could get them; but of that, they had a certaine and constant provision, Exod.16.16.

V. 7. * he knoweth] A figure called Meiosis, whereby more is meant then is expresst; as not onely Gods knowing, but his ordering, and governing their walking through the wildernesse. * Psal. 1. 6.

V. 9. I will not give thee of their land] This is to be understood of the land whereof they were peaceably possessed at that time; but there was a part of the land of Moab, of which a great while ago they were dispossed by the Amorites; and this land (though in the hands of other Lords) was called many times by the old name, the land of Moab: in this was mount Nebo where Moses died, Chap.34.1.5.

children of Lot] The Moabites descended from his incestuous issue, Moab; yet God is so gracious, that for Lots sake, who sinned of ignorance, and served God with uprightnesse; rather then for their owne, he giveth this order for their peaceable possession. The godly are not forgotten by God, though many yeares after they bee out of memory with men. See vers. 19. where there is the like charge given concerning the children of Ammon, where Lot is againe mentioned as the roote of that stock, on which God set so much favour, as extends to the branches stretched out afarre off. 2 Pet. 2.7. Just Lot—

Ar] The chiefe Citie of the Moabites, Num.21.15.28.

V. 10. * Emims] That is, terrible ones: for their tall stature, and tyrannicall oppression. Some derive the word from Ema, which in Hebrew signifieth terrour. Others from Amma, in the same language signifying a cubit, as men of a large cubit: or by their tall stature consisting of many cubits. By the expulsion of these Emims out of their possession, Moses encourageth the people to the conquest of Canaan.

* Gen.14.5.

V. 12. as Israel did] That is, Esau drave out the Horims, as the Israelites did those people, whose land they possessed; to wit the land of Og, and Sihon: whereof see Numb.21.24. & vers. 35. Or the words may be read, as Israel shall doe: which may be the meaning of the words, as a prophetick speech, spoken (by way of assurance) in the preter tense.

V. 14. as the Lord sware] He sheweth hereby, that as God is true in his promises; so his threatnings are not in vaine; but are sure to take effect to the confusion of the wicked, as his promises to be performed to the comfort of the godly.

V. 19. children of Lot] See Annot. on vers.9.

V. 20. Zamzummims] That is, boysterous, or presumptuous, or abominable wicked ones; though they called themselves Rephaims, that is, Physicians, or preservers: they are called Zuizims, Gen.14.5.

V. 23. * Arims] * Josh. 13.3.

V. 24. * Arnon] * Numb.21.13.

V. 25. put the dread] This declares that the hearts of men are in Gods hands, either to be made faint, or bold: See Annot. on vers.4. & Numb.22.vers.3.

V. 26. * sent messengers] * Numb.21.21.

V. 27. * let me passe] * Judg.11.19.

V. 29. children of Esau] Called (after his other name) Edomites; who, albeit they had denied them passage through their land, yet allowed them to coast along their borders, and furnished them with necessaries for their money. So vers.28. compared with this 29, Numb.20.20,21.

V. 30. hardened] See Annot. on Exod.4.21. & on Chap. 10. 1.

* V. 33.] Chap 29.7.

V. 34. * utterly destroyed] God had curled Canaan, and therefore he would not that any of his wicked race should be preserved.

* Deut.20.16. Levit.27.28. Job 18.16,17.

V. 35. * onely the cattell] * Chap.3.7.

V. 36. God delivered] Though they were so many thousand able men for the warres, yet the victory is ascribed to the Lord of Hosts, and not assumed to themselves, Psal.44.3.

V. 37. river Jabbok] Neere which Jacob wrastled with the Angel, Gen.32.22. it appertaineth to the possession of the Ammonites, Judg.11.15.

CHAP. III.

Vers.1. CAme out] Therefore besides the commandement of the Lord, they had just occasion given on his part to fight against him: and so they did, and the battell with him is set downe, Num.21.vers.33. where are most of the same things that here are mentioned.

Edrei] See Annot. on Chap.1.4.

V. 2. I will deliver] See Annot.on Chap.2.vers.4.

V. 4. Argob] This is another name of the Kingdome of Basan, or a province in that Kingdome, 1 King.4.13.

V. 5. all those cities] Which were no fewer then threescore, vers.4. & Josh,13.30. which sheweth that neither number nor power of men can hold out against God.

V. 6. * utterly destroyed them] Chap.2.34,35. & 20.18. Levit.27.28.

V. 8. on this side Jordan] To those who journied from Egypt towards Canaan; but those that were in Canaan were said to be beyond Jordan, vers.25.

mount Hermon] Is conceived to be the utmost part of mount Gilead boyond Jordan, joyning (as some affirme) mount Lebanon and Gilead together: Gilead hath severall names for severall parts of it; and one part of it, to wit, Hermon, hath many names, vers.9. and it is called Sirion, and Shenir, and Chap. 4. 48. Sion and Hor, Numb.34.7.

V. 11. onely Og remained] Viz. in that Region. In the Hebrew it is, of the ſtock of Rephaim, which in the time of Abraham poſſeſſed the whole Countrey, Gen. 14. for all the race of the Giants was not every where rooted out, as appeareth by Goliah the Giant of Gath, 1 Sam. 17.4. See alſo Numb. 13.33. & Joſh. 15.14. but for that Countrey, the off-ſpring of Rephaim was with Og utterly rooted out.

bed-ſtead of iron] Belike wood was not ſtrong enough to beare his weight and ſtrength, in ſtretching and turning himſelfe upon his bed. Some take this repoſitory not for a bed for ordinary ſleepe; but for a ſepulchre, the bed of the ſleepe of death.

after the cubite of a man] There were divers ſorts of cubites; ſome were meaſured from the bending of the arme to the palme where the fingers meete, and theſe are called our ſhort cubits: ſome from the bending of the arme to the end of the longeſt finger; and theſe were longer and ſhorter according to the difference of humane ſtature: and when it is ſaid of the ſtature of a man, the largeſt uſuall meaſure among Artificers is meant, a cubite of a foot and nine inches long; ſo that this bed was fifteene foot, that is, five yards and eight inches long, and ſeven foot broad.

* Rabbath] * 2 Sam. 12.26. Jer. 49.2.

V. 14. unto this day] Becauſe theſe words are thought to import a longer continuance of time, then the age of Moſes; ſome thinke they are the words of Ezra, or of ſome other Sacred Scribe, who wrote part of the 34. Chapter of this Book, from the ſixth verſe, to the end of it: but becauſe the words, verſ. 13. next before theſe, and verſ. 15. next after, doe plainly appeare to be the words of Moſes, there is no reaſon to thinke that theſe words [unto this day] have any other authour but him: and though from the conqueſt of theſe places, and the name given to them, to the time of Moſes his writing of this ſtory (which was at the latter end of his life) there paſſed not paſt three or foure moneths; yet might it be ſaid (unto this day): for the words are not ſimply an affirmative, that the Townes were called ſo, as by common and ancient cuſtome; but that Fair that tooke them, called them ſo to this day: and ſo the continuance is not to be extended beyond his time, which might be no longer then the time of Moſes; and yet it might be a matter to be noted that he could take ſuch a portion of the Land from Gyants, and ſtill continue them in his power, and under his name: for it is the manner of Conquerors to change the names of the places conquered; and by adding [unto this day] Moſes both gives a note of aſſurance of his ſtory, and a motive of courage to the Iſraelites, by the example of Jair, to doe valiantly, and to ſet their names on conquered Townes and Countries, as he had done.

V. 15. Gilead unto Machir] Part of Gilead: for the Reubenites and Gadites therein were partners with him. See verſ. 12. & Annot. on Num 32.40. See alſo, 1 Chron. 2.22.

V. 17. Chinnereth] See Numb. 34.11.

ſalt ſea] See Annot. on Numb. 34.3.

V. 24. what God] He meaneth not that there are indeed many Gods, or any other but the true God; but he ſpeaketh with reſpect to the common and corrupt ſpeech of them, who attribute that power unto Idols, that onely appertaineth to the true God; and by way of conteſtation and contempt againſt falſe and fained Gods, Pſal. 86.8. & 89.8.

V. 25. I pray thee let me goe over, and ſee] God had told Moſes he ſhould not goe over, Numb. 20.12. we muſt thinke then that either Moſes tooke the ſaying of God for no abſolute commination; but ſuch a one as was made of Hezekiahs death, 2 King. 20.1. and of Nineveh's deſtruction, Jonah 3.4. Or that he ſuffered his affections to goe too farre, in deſiring to goe further, then God would have him; yet this was not out of any ſuperſtition to the place, in regard of any holineſſe in it, from its reference to the ancient Patriarchs buried there, (as ſome Popiſh gloſſes would have it) but that he longed to ſee that Land ſo long agoe promiſed to Gods people, as the glory of all lands, Ezek. 20.6. and to ſee Gods promiſe fully performed (whereof the Iſraelites ſo much doubted) by their actuall poſſeſſion of it.

goodly mountaine] Some thinke it was mount Moriah, on which the Temple was after built, but that was too farre off for Moſes to ſee, being 210. furlongs diſtant from Jordan. Joſephus of the warres of the Jewes, l. 5. c. 4. Or one of the mountaines of Bethel, which were higher then it, and nigher to Jordan: but certainly it was ſome mountaine of eminent note, though not here named, unleſſe Lebanon be it, which ſome affirme, taking the word [and] to be redundant: or (as ſometimes it is taken) by way of expoſition, as, and Lebanon: that is to ſay, Lebanon. See Annot. on verſ. 8.

Lebanon] A mountaine ſituate in the North-part of the land of Canaan, and famous for tall and ſtrong Cedars, and other trees, and for odoriferous plants, Pſal. 29.5. & 104.16. Iſa. 2.13. & 14.8. Cant. 4.11.

V. 26. for your ſakes] See Annot. on Chap. 1. verſ. 37. Num. 33. & 27.13, 14. Deut. 32.51.

V. 27. thine eyes] As before he ſaw by the Spirit of propheſie, the good mountaine which was Sion; ſo here his eyes were lifted up above the order of nature, to behold all the plentifull Land of Canaan; whereof God was much more able to give him a true, full and cleare proſpect at once, then the Devill could preſent an apparition from an high mountaine of all the Kingdomes of the world, Matth. 4.8.

CHAP. IIII.

Verſ. 1. To doe] For this Doctrine ſtandeth not in bare knowledge, but (withall) in practice of life, verſ. 5. & Chap. 5.1. Pſal. 78.6, 7.

V. 2. ſhall not adde] Not as a Comment or Expoſition to a Text, but man muſt not adde any thing to Gods word, either for words or meaning, contrary to it; nor as Gods word, with an intent to make that of Divine authoritie, which is but humane, as the Papiſts doe by Apocryphall writings, and unwritten Traditions. See Chap. 12.32. & 18. verſ. 20.

diminiſh] By denying any part of it to be of Divine authoritie, or concealing any part of it; either for words, or meaning; or by partiall beliefe of it, or obedience to it; God is not to be beleeved, obeyed, or ſerved, in part and by halves; but as he is to be loved; wholly. Chap. 6. verſ. 5.

V. 3. your eyes] Gods judgements executed on ſome idolaters, ſerve for inſtruction and caution to others. See Numb. 25. verſ. 3, 4.

Baal-Peor] Baal is a common name of all Idols, ſignifying a Lord: becauſe idolaters carry themſelves towards them, as ſervants; and Peor is the proper Idol of the Moabites, and Midianites. See Numb. 25.3. Joſh. 22.17.

V. 4. * cleave to the Lord] * Chap. 10.20. & 13.4.

V. 6. wiſedome] Becauſe all men naturally deſire wiſedome, he propoſeth that as a motive to obedience; and becauſe they generally miſtake it, he ſheweth wherein it conſiſteth, and how much it excelleth all humane wiſedome, of what kinde or degree ſoever, 2 Tim. 3.15. Exod. 5. 15. —— Egypt ——

In rehearsing the Ten Commandments, he proposeth a reason of the Sabbath's Ordaining, differing from that in Exodus. There, it was because God Rested on the Seventh Day: Here, it is because of yr Delivery out of Egypt. And so, Here, it respecteth the Jewish Sabbath more properly: There, the Sabbath in its pure Morality, and Perpetuity. And here is a figure of what is now come to pass in our Sabbath celebrated in memorial of Redemption, as well as of Creation.

them that must enjoy it. And indeed he that is sure of heaven, as Moses was, need not envy any one for any earthly felicitie.

V. 23. which the LORD thy God hath forbidden thee] Or, as the Lord thy God hath charged thee. Exod.20.4,5.

V. 24. * consuming fire]He is a Sun and a shield,Psal.84.11. to warme and defend those that love and feare him; but a fire to burne and consume such as irreverently rush upon him, or rebelliously rise up against him. * Chap.9.3. Heb.12.29.

V. 25. remained long] Hebr. waxed old.

corrupt your selves] Corruption is both the mother and the daughter of Idolatry: for when the heart is corrupted,it breedeth idolatrous affections and fancies; and when Idols are made and used, they corrupt the heart and conscience more then before.

V. 26. heaven and earth to witnesse] By heaven and earth may be meant the intelligent creatures in the one, and on the other; or, if the insensible creatures be meant, the meaning is, that God will bring evidence and witnesse from them, to convince and condemn them of ingratitude. See Isa.1.2.

soone utterly perish] Chap.7.10. Josh.22.18. 2 Pet.2.3.

V. 27. few in number] Hebr. men of number. For the Hebrews when they use the word number absolutely, meane a small number or a few; because the greatest multitudes are of those things which cannot be numbred; as the starres of heaven, and dust of the earth; therefore is Abrahams progeny promised as a numberlesse increase. Gen.13.16. & 15.5.

V. 28. Gods] Not in deed, but in name and opinion of brutish idolaters, though so farre short of Divinitie, that they have neither reason nor sense, Chap.28.36. 64. Jer.16.13.

V. 29. all thy heart] Not without word, shew or ceremony; but with a true confession of thy faults, and a sincere desire of his favour.

V. 46. * Beth-Peor] That is, the house or temple of the idoll Peor, the God of the Moabites and Midianites.See Numb. 25.3. * Chap.3.29.

V. 48. Mount Sion] This is not that Mount Sion of Jerusalem, and the Temple, but differing from it both in the writing, and in the situation: for Sion, where was the Temple, was written with Tsadi, the other Sion with Shin: and Sion with Tsadi was in Jerusalem on the one side Jordan, the other Sion was on the other.

doe them] Chap.4.1.

V. 3. made not this Covenant] The word [not] is not alwayes purely negative: Sometimes it is to be taken for not onely, or, not principally, Gen.32.28. Matth.9.13. So it may be here expounded; the Lord made not the Covenant at Horeb onely with those who are now dead, (at least the most of them) but with them and their posteritie after them, as the Promise, Act.2. 39. Or, by Fathers may be understood the Patriarches who were before the giving of the Law at Horeb, upward unto Adam, with whom there was not such a formall, legall and particular Covenant made, as with them at Horeb; though in substance, it were the same; for they were obliged to beleeve in Christ, and to keepe the Law to the utmost of their abilitie, so farre as it was revealed unto them; and in many particulars both of the ten Commandments,(as against idolatry & for keeping of the Sabbath,) and of the ceremoniall ordinances, as sacrifices, the distinction of clean and unclean beasts, with others: they practised that which afterward came under legall Precepts, Chap.29.15. Rom.4.23,24.

V. 4. * face to face] Not in a visible or sensible forme or figure, Chap. 4. 12. but so plainly, that you need no more to doubt who it was that spake to you, then of him that talketh with you face to face.

V. 9. jealous God] That is, of his honour, not permitting it to any others, no more then a generous husband would permit the prostitution of his wife to another man. See Hos. 2. verse 19, 20.

iniquitie] In the children eternally, if they live and die in the sinnes of their fathers; and temporally (if they doe not) for their fathers sakes; who, as they might in their posteritie have perished; so are they in them punished.

V. 10. love me] Love of God, and obedience to God, are linked together; so that the argument is good from the one to the other: as Joh.14.15.

V. 11. not hold him guiltlesse] But so guilty, as that he will punish him: for the words are a figurative Liptote, or Litotes, whereby more is meant then is expressed, 1 Sam.12.21.

V. 13. five dayes] Meaning, since God permitteth six dayes to our labouring; we ought willingly, to dedicate the seventh, wholly to serve him.

V. 14. stranger] An uncircumcised person shall not be suffered to violate the rest of the Sabbath, by any publique profanation. See Neh.13.

V. 15. therefore the Lord] This reason is peculiar to the Jewes; the rest, Exod. 20. are generall, obliging universally all persons in all ages.

V. 16. Honour] With love, reverence, obedience, assistance and succour; if they shall have need.

V. 17. not kill] All manner of killing is not here forbidden; but that which is done without warrantable cause and lawfull authoritie.

V. 18. not commit adultery] See Annot. on Exod.20.13.

V. 19. not steale] See Exod.20. vers.15.

V. 20. false witnesse] See Exod.20. vers.16.

V. 21. neither shalt thou desire]. See Annot. on Exod. 20. vers. 17.

V. 22. added no more] That is, no more precepts of the Decalogue, or Morall Law; nor any more lawes to the people immediately; for the other ordinances were delivered to them by the mediation of Moses. See vers.30.31.

V. 23. for the mountaine did burne with fire] This is not rendred as a reason of the darknesse; but as a reason of the peoples feare; which was the more, because exceeding thick darknesse, vers. 22. and bright flaming fire appeared on the mount at the same time; which, as it was more strange; so was it more terrible; as the fire and haile coming together, Exod. 9.24. V. 13. * ſerve the Lord] * Matth.4.10. & Luk.4.8.

ſweare by] We muſt fear God, and ſerve him onely, and confeſſe his Name, which is done by ſwearing lawfully, Jer. 4.2. And when ſwearing is lawfull, then to ſweare by any other name then Gods, is unlawful.

V. 16. tempt the Lord] By making doubt, or tryall of his preſence, wiſdome, power, and providence, without warrant from his revealed will; or, by provoking him to wrath by your unbeliefe and murmurings, as formerly you have done.

V. 17. * diligently] * Chap.11.22. Pſal.119.4.

Teſtimonies] His Lawes by which he hath teſtified his will concerning thine obedience to him.

Statutes] The ſame Lawes ratified by his authoritie for rules of obedience, with commination of penaltie to thoſe that diſobey them.

commanded thee] This verſe beginneth in the plurall number, but endeth in the ſingular, that every one ſhould make application of generall precepts to himſelfe.

V. 18. right of the Lord] We muſt doe not what ſeemeth good in our owne eyes, but what is good in Gods ſight, Chap. 12. verſ.8,21,25.

V. 20. * when thy ſonne] * Exod.12.26. & 13.14.

V. 21. * mightie hand] * Exod.3.19. & 13.3.

V. 23. and brought us] The more we receive of Gods benefits, the more are we bound to his obedience, Luk.12.48.

V. 24. for our good] Our conformitie to the Law of God doth him no good, Job 35.7. Though the law be his, the benefit of obedience is ours; and the more conſtant it is, the more beneficiall, Prov.9.12.

V. 25. our righteouſneſſe] So it ſhould be if we could exactly keepe the Law, Rom.10.5. but becauſe we cannot, we muſt betake our ſelves for refuge to the righteouſneſſe of faith, ver.6. and ſo be ſaved, not by our owne juſtice, but by Gods mercy for Chriſts merits, as divers Tranſlations render it, He will be mercifull unto us, Chap.24.13.

CHAP. VII.

Verſ. 1. Seven nations] In the 33. of Exodus, verſ. 2. and Deut.20.17. ſixe onely are named, the Gergaſhite being omitted; and in the 15. of Gen. verſ.19,&c. are named ten: the Hivites omitted, and the Kenites, Kenezites, Kadmonites, and Rephaims added: the reaſon of which difference may be, that one part of the people might have ſeverall names, and ſeverall parts of them might be comprehended under one name; or, ſometimes generall names, ſometimes particular might be mentioned.

V. 2. make no covenant] Heb. Cut no Covenant. See Gen. 15.17,18. Jer.34.18. No covenant of cohabitation in the ſame countrey; much leſſe of marriage, unleſſe they be converts to the true Religion, See Exod.34.15,16. 1 King. 11.2. Ezra 9.verſ.2. 12. Nehem.13.23. Judg.3.6,7. & 14.2,3.

V. 4. * turne away, &c.] * 1 King.11.2. Neh.13.26.

V. 5. deſtroy] God would have his ſervice pure without any pollution of ſuperſtition and Idolatry, verſ.25. & Chap. 12. 2,3. Exod.23.24. & 34.13.

V. 7. feweſt] Before God had made a miraculous multiplication of you from thoſe few which were of your poſteritie of Jacob, See Chap.10. verſ.22.

V. 8. loved] You freely, finding no cauſe in you more then in others ſo to doe, Chap.10.15. 1 Sam.12.22. 2 Sam.22.20. Pſal.44.3. Zeph.3.17.

V. 9. * to a thouſand generations] * Chap. 5.9, 10. Exod. 20.5,6.

V. 10. to his face] The words are doubled for aſſurance that God will ſo apparently take vengeance of his enemies, that they ſhall plainly perceive (as they doe a thing ſet before their face) he doth it, and that he doth it for their wickedneſſe, as in that example of the idolaters, and of the luſters after fleſh, Numb. 11. and of Corah and his company, Chap.16.Exod.32.

V. 12. mercy] This Covenant is grounded upon his free grace: therefore in recompencing their obedience, he hath reſpect to his own mercy, not to their merits, Chap. 28. 1. Levit. 26.3.

V. 13. the fruit of] By multiplying thy poſteritie, and withholding the miſhaps of abortion, and feeble and deformed births, Deut. 28. verſ.4.

V. 15. * all ſickneſſe, &c.] * Exod.23.25. Pſal.105.37.

V. 16. no pity] We ought not to be mercifull where God commandeth ſeveritie: for ſuch a mercy to others, would prove a crueltie to their own ſouls that uſe it.

V. 18. remember, &c.] Pſal. 77.11.

V. 19. temptations] The tryals of their faith and obedience were very great, and ſuch as required miracles to uphold them from falling from God; and to ſcourge, and recover them when they were fallen, Chap.4.34. & 29.3.

ſo ſhall] This is to be referred to the precedent verſe, concerning the deſtruction of Pharaoh and his people, meaning they ſhall be overcome as well as they were, though not with ſo many works of wonder.

V. 20. hornet] The ſmaller creatures ſhall be armed againſt the enemies of God, and of his people; and ſhall ſubdue them as well as the greater.

V. 21. * among you] * Exod.19.7.

V. 22. leſt the beaſts] So that it is for your commoditie that God accompliſheth not his promiſe ſo ſoone as you wiſh.

V. 23. untill they be deſtroyed] That is, deſtroyed utterly.

V. 24. deſtroy their name] So, as their name ſhall be buried in oblivion, or, if it be mentioned, it ſhall be but as the ſtirring of a ſepulchre, which will raiſe an offenſive fume.

V. 25. an abomination] A thing that the Lord doth loath and abhorre, as he doth all ſinnes; though one ſinne more then another, idolatry eſpecially.

CHAP. VIII.

Verſ. 1. Obſerve to do] See Annot. on Chap.4.1.

V. 2. to prove thee] See Annot. on Exod. 16. 4. verſ. 16. of this Chapter.

V. 3. * but by every word] Not by the ordinary way of proviſion, wherein mans providence is exerciſed onely; as in preparing of bread, (the principall ſubſtance of his Table) but in roome thereof, either Gods word or command will make a miraculous ſupply of food, as by Quailes and Manna, and that without any meanes at all; his word, that is, his will, made as readily and evidently known, by his powerfull worke, as a mans minde by his word; will ſupport a mans life: and when a man hath meat, it is the vertue of that word and power of his, that nouriſheth; elſe it would be more likely to choake, then to feed; but his word of command would ſoften ſtones into dough, and make poyſon to be both meat and medicine, * See Matth. 4.4, Luke 4.4. Mark.16.18.

V. 4. thy raiment] Beſides the proviſion of apparell which they had of their own, they were furniſhed with many ſuits of ſeverall ſizes for themſelves and their children, by borrowing of the Egyptians, Exod. 3.22. & Chap. 12.35. Theſe being by a Divine power preſerved from decay, ſome conceive the garments of thriving children or young men, miraculouſly grew up with their perſons: But it is more like that many of different ages and ſtatures, dying, their garments were kept for, and uſed by ſuch as ſucceeded in the ſame meaſure; for we muſt not multiply miracles without neceſſitie; where one is mentioned (as the preſerving of clothes without decay) there is no need nor ground for God to make, or man to imagine any more.

V. 5. chaſteneth his ſonne] God ſheweth his love as well by afflictions, as by apparent favours; as a man ſheweth love to his ſonne, as well by providing Phyſick for him in his ſickneſſe, as food in his health, Heb.12.6. and his chaſtening of his children is for their correction and amendment; not as the puniſhments of the wicked, for their ruine and deſtruction. 2 Sam.7.14.Pſal. 89.32. Prov.3.11,12. Revel.3.19.

V. 6. * feare] Chap.6,2.13. & 10.12.

V. 7. * bringeth thee, &c.] * Chap.6.10,11. & 11.10,12.

V. 9. ſtones] That is, ſtore of Mines of iron and braſſe, Chap.33.25. Job 28.2.

V. 10. ſhalt bleſſe] For to receive Gods bleſſings, and not to be thankfull, is to contemn God in them; and we muſt not onely conclude our refreſhings with thankſgiving; but pray for a bleſſing before the uſe of them. See 1 Tim.4.5. Rom.14.6.

V. 12.

8. 3. Every Word] by all that proceedeth
I humbly conceive the Translation might the Hebrew doth not express; to wch the two last Lines of yr Exposition well agree.

V. 11. and art full, &c.] Chap. 28. 47. & 31.20. & 32. 15. Prov.30.9. Isa 64.5. Ps.9.17.

V. 14. lifted up] By ascribing Gods benefits to thine own power, or care, or skill, boasting as if thou hadst them of thy selfe, without receiving them from God, 1 Cor. 4. 7. or, as if for some worthinesse in thee God had been so bountifull unto thee, Hos.13.6.

V. 15. terrible wildernesse] See Annot. on Chap. 1. vers. 19. Chap.32. 10. Psal.136.16. Hos. 13. 5.

V. 16. to doe thee good] Jer. 24. 5. Heb. 12. 10, 11.

V. 19. if thou doe] The word [thou] taken distributively in the beginning of this verse amounts to a collective sense, and it as much as [yee] in the end of it.

CHAP. IX.

Vers.1. This day] Is not precisely to be taken for one of the three hundred sixtie five dayes in the yeare, but for a short time neere at hand, within this two moneths: for Moses said this the first day of the eleventh moneth, Chap. 1.3. and the people passed over Jordan the tenth day of the first moneth, Josh. 4.19.

possesse nations] So, as not onely to have their land for thine habitation, but their persons at thy dispolall; either for slaughter, or service; Levit.25.45,46.

up to heaven] He speaketh according to the report of the Spies, Chap. 1. vers.28. See Annot. on Gen. 11.4.

V. 2. heard say] By the report of the Spies, Numb. 13. 28. 33.

V. 3. consuming fire] His burning indignation will not be quenched untill thine enemies be consumed: the heat thereof made their hearts to melt afarre off, Josh. 5.1. & Chap.7.5.

so shalt thou drive] That is, Gods justice having doomed them to destruction, he will give you the power to doe execution upon them; yet divers of them were destroyed by hornets, Chap.7. vers.20. without their pursuit, or slaughter.

V. 4. * in thine heart] * Psal.14.1.

* my righteousnesse] * Vers.5. & 6. Ezek.36.22.

V. 5. for the wickednesse of these nations] Gen.15.16.1 Tim. 1.9. Levit.18.25.

performe the word, &c.] Gen.12.7. & 13.15.& 15.7.& 17.8. & 26.4. & 28.13.

V. 6. stiffe-necked] Exod. 32. 9. & see Annot.on Exod.33. 3. & on 34.9.

V. 8. in Horeb] By Idolatry to the golden Calfe, Exod. 32.4. Psal.106.19.

V. 9. neither eat bread] Moses the chiefe Minister of the Law fasted fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, at the publication of it; Exod.24. 10. so did Christ before his publication of the Gospel, Matt.4.2. and Elijah that famous Prophet betwixt them both, 1 King.19.8.

V. 10. * finger of God] That is, miraculously, and not by the hand of man. * Exod.8.19. Luk.11.20.

V. 12. quickly] * Vers.16. & Judg.2.17.

V. 13. stiffe-necked] * Vers. 6. & Chap. 10. 16. & 31. 27. 2 King.17.14.

V. 14. let me alone] Signifying that the prayers of the faithfull are a barre to stay Gods anger, that he consume not all. See Annot. on Exod.32.10.

V. 16. * I looked] * Exod.32.9.

V. 17. and brake them] See Annot.on Exod.32.19.

V. 18. fourtie dayes and fourtie] Some hence collect that Moses fasted fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, now the second time, by occasion of the sinne about the golden Calfe; and some hold a third time, vers. 25. but for twice it is probable, though not certaine; and for the third time, it is neither certaine nor probable. See Annot. on Exod. 34. 28. & on vers. 25. of this Chap. Psal.106.23.

V. 20. to have destroyed him] Whereby he sheweth what danger they are in, that have Authoritie, and resist not wickednesse. See 1 Sam.3.13.

V. 21. your sinne] That is, the object of your sinne, on which you set your idolatrous conceits, and to which you directed your idolatry, Exod.32.20.

into the brook] See Exod.32.20.

out of the mount] That is, Horeb, or Sinai.

V. 23. then you rebelled] At the returne of the spies, Num. 13.31. & 14.1.

V. 25. As I fell down at the first] These words import onely a repetition of a thing that was formerly done, as if it were, as I said before; for he was three severall times on the Mount in the space of fourty daies; once at the receiving of the Law, Exod. 24. 18. after that when he interceded for the people upon their sinne committed in worshipping the golden Calfe, Exod.32. 30. 31. And thirdly, when he received the new Tables, Exod. 34.28. of which some conceive that Moses so many times fasted fourtie dayes and fourtie nights; which is not likely: for they that make that allowance of time for fasting and absence from the people, allow too little time [not full three dayes] for many businesses with the people. Besides, if from the severall mentions, they will inferre so many fourtie daies fast, they may say it was foure times as well as three; for the like mention is made againe, Chap. 10. vers. 10. Thirdly, two of these times belong to the same action, which is for reconciliation, after the sinne touching the golden Calfe: which obtained by once fasting fourtie daies; what need was there to doe the like againe?

V. 26. * destroy not, &c.] Exod.32.11.

V. 27. Remember thy servants] By the authoritie of Gods promise, and sinceritie of those to whom he promised, he strengtheneth his hope of obtainement of mercy, notwithstanding their transgressions.

V. 28. * was not able, &c.] * Exod.32.12. Num.14.16.

V. 29. Yet they are thy people] Notwithstanding their grosse Idolatry, their manifold murmurings, and other rebellion, he hath not yet given them a bill of divorce; they are yet the people of his Covenant, and his visible Church upon earth, Chap. 28.9. Psal.95.7. & 100.3. Jer.14.9.

CHAP. X.

Vers.1. Hew thee two] Here precedent passages are repeated without any strict observation of order.

V. 2. an Arke of wood] Of this Arke, of what wood it was, and in what manner made: see vers.3. & Exod.25. 10. The order for making the Arke was given before the second writing of the Law, as in the fore-cited place of Exodus; but it was not made indeed untill afterward; as appeareth by comparison of Exod.25. 10. with Exod.37.1.

V. 3. Shittim wood] Which yeelds firme and durable timber, Exod.25.5.10.

V. 4. * he wrote] * Exod.34.28.

V. 6. to Mosera; there Aaron died] He died on mount Hor, which is the place adjacent, or circumjacent, where the Israelites encamped; it is called Moseroth, Num. 33. 31. whither the people came now the second time; for wandering in the wildernesse fourtie yeares together, it was not strange for them to come againe and againe to the same place, and so the place from whence they came was varied, which without this consideration, may be thought a contradiction: besides, the places of their incampings had sometimes divers names; as the place here called Beeroth of the children of Jaakan, Num. 33.31. is called Benejaakan. It is likewise to be observed, that for [come] must for avoiding of contradiction be read [had come] for the Hebrewes having but one preter Tense, it is used sometimes for the preterperfect, sometimes for the preterimperfect, sometimes for the preterpluperfect Tense, as in the next verse.

V. 7. Gudgodah] Numb. 33. 32. It is called Horhagidgad, comparing this place with that, their journeying to and fro may be conceived to be, from Hashmonah to Moseroth, Numb. 33. 30. from Moseroth to Benejaakan, vers. 31. or (as here it is called) Beeroth of the children of Jaakan; and in their returne they came from Benejaakan to Moseroth, and from Moseroth to Gudgodah, as it is here. Some endevour to dissolve the difficultie by laying blame upon the Scribe that copied out the place, as if he should have left out somewhat which he found in the Text: some answer by assigning severall names to one place; some by a nice distinguishing of the same name Moseroth and Mosera, applying the former to be the mansion of the Israelites here mentioned, and the latter to be mount Hor, where Aaron died; and some say Moses being lesse observant of matter of circumstance (as the particular removals from place to place are) then of matter of substance for the maine truth of the story, omitteth divers particular mansions, and so bringeth in such places together as in their situation were asunder; but the best answer is, that so mutable and uncertaine were the windings of the Israelites in the wildernesse, as may appeare by the Mappe of Adrichom. Delph of the desert of Pharan, inter p. 116. & 117. Theat. ter. sanct. (and yet there might be more wanderings then he hath drawne out in his spotted lines) that the same place might be terminus a quo, & ad quem, the place whence and whither againe and againe, according as their turnings and windings, their stay or diversion varied them.

V. 8. at that time] Which is not to be taken strictly for the time of the precedent incamping, but with more latitude, for the time while Aaron was Priest, Numb.3.6. or, at the time mentioned, vers. 5. when Moses brought the new Tables from the Mount.

* separated] * Rom. 1.1.

* to stand before, &c.] Chap. 1.38.

and to blesse] Ministring in the Tabernacle, and offering of sacrifices ſacrifices belonged to the Prieſts, ſo did the ſolemne bleſſing of the people: yet the other Levites were employed in ſinging praiſe to God, while the ſacrifices were offered.

V. 9. the Lord is his inheritance] That is, having God for his God in eſpeciall manner; as he is Gods portion rather then any of the other Tribes, ſo is God his; and thereupon he hath his maintenance out of that which God hath ſet apart for himſelfe, his owne allowance out of every Tribe where the Levites are diſperſed; and ſo the God of Jacob turned their fathers curſe, Gen.49.7. into a bleſſing. See Annot. on Num.18. 20,21,&c. Deut. Chap.18.1. Ezek.44.28.

CHAP. XI.

Verſ.2. Which have not ſeen] He addreſſeth his ſpeech not to the younger ſort, who were borne ſince their fathers departed out of Egypt; but unto thoſe, who then being under twenty yeares old at that time, and of apprehenſion then to obſerve: (for thoſe above twentie were cut off for their murmuring) to theſe now of the ancienter ſort, who had ſeene Gods miraculous deliverance, he ſpeaketh; who ought rather to be acquainted therewith, then thoſe that had onely heard of them and not ſeene them.

V. 4. red Sea, &c.] Exod.14.27.

V. 5. and what he did] As well concerning his benefits as his correction.

V. 6. Dathan and Abiram] Korah is not left out, as more innocent then they; but the ſtory being fully ſet downe, Numb. 16. where the three principall conſpirators are particularly named; in other places, which referre to that ſtory, it is ſufficient to name any of the three, as Jude 11. Korah onely is named, and yet Dathan and Abiram are neither excluded, nor excuſed: and here, and Pſal.106.17. Dathan and Abiram are named, and yet Korah is not left out as leſſe guilty; (for it may be as he was firſt named in the firſt mention of their conſpiracie he was ring-leader to the reſt) but becauſe the mention of any one will bring to memory the reſt, theſe two are the rather named together, becauſe they were not onely brethren in evil, but brethren alſo in bloud, whereas Korah was of another family.

the ſonne of Reuben] The deſcendents in a direct line, though remote, as grand-children, great grand-children, in the Hebrew phraſe are all called ſonnes, as well as the immediate children.

V. 7. but your eyes] An undoubted evidence of the truth of this holy ſtory, wherein Moſes appeals to ſo many eye-witneſſes of Gods miraculous acts yet alive.

V. 8. may be ſtrong] Not to be head-ſtrong, nor ſtiffe-necked againſt God, but humble-hearted and obedient towards him, is the way to be arme-ſtrong againſt enemies. See Joſh. 1. 5,6,7.

V. 9. * prolong your dayes] Grace is a good friend to humane nature: (though corrupt nature be an enemie to grace) for it upholds it in health, and prolongeth life; whereas wickedneſſe cuts off the life by the halves, Pſal.55.23. and if the godly be taken away while they be young, it is but from the evill to come, Iſa.57.1. And if the life of the wicked be prolonged, (as Eccleſ.7.15. it is ſaid) it is not in favour, but in anger, as the Amorites were forborne to make up the meaſure of their iniquitie, Gen.15.16. that their judgement might be the heavier when it came.

* Deut. Chap.5.16. & 6.2. & Prov.9.11. & Chap.10.27.

V. 10. with thy foot] That is, with bodily labour, which, (though it be uſually) called the labour of the hands; as Pſal. 128. 2. is ſometime attributed to the feet, as Gen. 30.30. (See the Annot. on the place) The meaning is, that it is not like the land of Egypt, which (having but little raine, Zach.14.18. but was watered by the overflowing of Nilus,) puts the people to put their feet to the ſpade, to digge gutters and channels to keep water for the watering of their gardens; whereas in Canaan the land was watered and made fruitfull by rain from heaven.

V. 26. * a bleſſing, &c.] Chap.30.15.

V. 29. put the bleſſing upon, &c.] The manner of bleſſing and curſing upon Mount Gerizim, and Mount Ebal [two hilles neere together in the Tribe of Ephraim] is conceived to be thus: ſixe of the Tribes were placed on the one mount, and ſixe on the other: in a little valley betwixt both (for there is but a little valley betwixt them) ſtood the Prieſts onely, one while pronouncing bleſſings upon the obſervers of the Law, another while denouncing curſes againſt the tranſgreſſours of the Law. When a bleſſing was pronounced, the Tribes on Mount Gerizim ſounded out Amen; and when a curſe was denounced, Amen was ſounded from the Tribes on Mount Ebal. See Annot. on Chap.27.verſ.12.

* high mountains, &c.] * Numb.22.41. 2 King.23.13.15.

V. 3. names] Either forbearing to name them, as Exod.23. 13. and putting other names in their ſtead, as Numb. 32. 38. or by naming them onely by way of reproofe or contempt, 1 King.18.26,27.

V. 4. not doe ſo] You ſhall not ſerve the Lord in ſuch ſort as they ſerved Idols in their ſuperſtitious and idolatrous obſervances; eſpecially you ſhall not ſerve him in conſecrated groves; or, you ſhall not doe ſo by thoſe things which belong unto the Lord, as unto ſuch things as are dedicated unto Idols. And if any of the faithfull ſervants of God did at any time ſacrifice in groves, they either had an eſpeciall warrant, or their fact was their fault; againſt this negative rule, there can be no diſpenſation but by divine Authoritie.

V. 6. * thither, &c.] * Levit. 17.3,4. Ezek.20.40.

V. 7. there] See Annot. on Num.18.10.

ye ſhall eate] The Prieſts ſuch things as belonged unto them; and the people ſuch things as were allowed unto them: and they might eate of the peace-offering; but they might not eate of the ſinne-offering, nor of votive-offerings, nor of the whole burnt-offerings, as appeareth, Numb.18.9.15. Or, by their eating before the Lord, may be meant their feaſting and rejoycing, when they were thrice in a yeare to appeare before the Lord in the place where the Tabernacle was, or the Temple ſhould be, Chap.27.7.

before the Lord] This is to be underſtood chiefly of the Prieſts, who might eate in places which had neere reference to God, with whom the people were not to be partakers: Or, if it be referred to the people, they may be ſaid to eate before the Lord, when eating they give thanks unto the Lord, Rom.14.6. Or, becauſe they were to eate a ſecond tithe (after they had paid the firſt to the Levites) onely in that Citie or place, where Gods Sanctuary was ſet up. See verſ. 17,18. of this Chapter.

V. 8. after

ye D wounds Have his People Exercise faith, Patience & Prayer his watchfull Providence taketh Care for ye Supply of ye Country where ye ch. dwells more ye all Countreys in ye world, ye Lord takes Care of it as a matter of worth Sincere hearted cleaving to God, & obedience to his Comand it is ye ready way to all good. iff we grow not ale Crafts it is ye strengthtions.

V. 8. after all that we doe] For God will be served after a more exact and perfect manner when ye come into the Land of Canaan, then hitherto he hath beene, or conveniently could be in the wildernesse.

right in his owne eyes] Not that they sacrificed altogether after their phantasies; but in many things they tooke too much libertie to do what they liked: or, in respect of the ceremoniall laws they were not to be so free from obligation and practise of them in the promised land, as now they were in the wildernesse, where neither Circumcision, nor the Passeover, nor other Ordinances (which were neither morall nor judiciall) were, or could conveniently be observed as in the Land of Canaan they might, and must be too: and withall it was to admonish them that the more Gods favour was manifested to them, (and it is more manifest in the fruition, then in the promise of his blessings) the more should their obedience be manifested to him, 1 Chron.13.4. Judg.17.6. Prov.14.12.

V. 10. in safetie] This is spoken with reference to their Anniversary recourse to the place of the Tabernacle or Temple thrice a yeare, that they might not faile of their appearance there so oft as was required, for feare lest in their absence their enemies should invade their dwellings, and take away or spoyle what they left at home.

V. 11. shall choose] That was for a time the Citie Shilob, where the Tabernacle was placed, Jer.7.12. Ps.78.60. & where it continued unto the dayes of Samuel, which was two hundred fourty and three yeares; or, (as some thinke) three hundred, 1 Sam. 4.12, 13. though called the Temple, 1 Sam.1.9. and afterwards Jerusalem, where the Temple was built in Solomons time. See Annot. on 1 King.8.29. Psal.78.68.

choice vowes] That is, such things as you vowed freely being at your owne choice: or, such things as you offered, not taking what come first to hand; but with choyce and election of the fairest and best, as meetest for Gods service and acceptance.

V. 12. before the Lord] At the Tabernacle or Temple, or in the Citie where either of them shall be erected for the solemn service of God, to be presented to him, as conversant with those that sincerely serve him.

hath no part] His rejoycing is not because he hath no part of inheritance, but because, though he have no such portion as the rest, he shall rejoyce in the participation of the offerings, &c. Or these words may have reference to what was said before, which is, that the Priests should invite the Levite to their feasts, as may be collected from Chap. 16. v.11.14. and that because he hath no portion of lands with the other Tribes, Num.18.20.

V. 13. Take heed, &c.] Chap.11.16. Levit.17.4.

the burnt-offerings] Under this word are other holy oblations comprehended, though they be not expresly mentioned, as burnt-offerings are.

V. 15. the uncleane] Every one, whether ceremonially uncleane, or not, might eate of the same kinde of beasts which were appointed for sacrifice, as well as of them that were not; as the Roe-buck, and the Hart, which were not to be sacrificed to the Lord: for in civill meats (whereof he speaketh here) there was not that distinction observed betwixt persons or meats as in sacrifices there was, vers.20,21,22. of which this distinction is to be observed; some creatures were ceremonially uncleane, so that they might neither be sacrificed nor eaten, whereof see Levit. 11. & Chap.14. of this booke; some were wholly clean, which might be both eaten, and offered in sacrifice; as of birds the Turtle and Pigeon; and of beasts, the Sheepe, Kine, and Goats; and some were partly cleane and partly uncleane, so cleane, that they might be eaten; and so ceremonially uncleane, that they might not be sacrificed; whereof see Chap.14.v.5.

V. 16. as water] That the ground may drinke it up, and it be not used for meat to man or beast, because the blood of sacrifices is peculiarly consecrated to God, as a type of the bloud of Christ. There be other reasons used against the eating of bloud, whereof see vers.23,24. & Annot. on Gen.9.4.

V. 19. * Take heed] This Caveat sheweth mens proneness to forsake the Levite, and importeth a threat to them that doe it, Chap.14.27. Neh.10.39.

* Vers. 30. & 4.15.

V. 21. be too farre] They that dwelt too farre off from the place of the Tabernacle or Temple, might for all that keepe their feasts here mentioned, though they had not Priests and sacrifices as at the place where the Tabernacle or Temple stood; for though the Priests were there, it was not their duty to kill the cattel which were eaten in their particular or private houses; therefore they that dwelt at such distance that they could not appeare, need neither forbeare their feasts, nor be scrupled because they had no Priests among them to celebrate such services as were done at the Tabernacle or Temple.

V. 22. * Roe] * Vers.15. Chap.14.5. & 15.22.

uncleane, &c.] There was a two-fold ceremoniall uncleanesse: a lesser, which onely rested on the party who was ceremonially uncleane, and did not communicate an uncleanesse unto another; and there was an uncleanesse by which another became ceremonially uncleane, by touch or company; the former lesser uncleanesse was no let to a sociable eating with others who were not ceremonially unclean at all; the latter was; yet they that were thus uncleane, might in their meat communicate among themselves, as when a whole family was uncleane by reason of a dead body among them.

V. 23. for the bloud] See Annot. on Gen.9.4.

V. 26. thy holy things] Such as are mentioned, vers.17.

V. 27. the flesh thereof] That is, the flesh of Peace-offerings, for part thereof was to be eaten by the owners who offered them. So are we to understand Levit.7.15.

V. 28. after thee for ever] A man cannot better blesse his children, then by his owne obedience to his heavenly Father, Isa.48.18,19.

V. 30. after they be destroyed] That is, in time to come, when their judgement is out of minde, or little thought of; being past a great while before, else their destruction might be a warning against their evill imitation of them.

V. 30. enquire not] With any purpose to make any patterne of their practice.

V. 31. burnt them] They thought nothing too deare to offer to their Idols: whereby it appeareth how subtill and powerfull Satan is in drawing Idolaters to doe so contrary both to grace and nature, Levit. 18. 21. & 20. 2. 2 King. 16. 3. Jer. 32. 35.

CHAP. XIII.

Vers.1. Dreamer] Which saith he hath things revealed to him in Dreames.

V. 2. come to passe] As the Prophecies of such Prophets are false, so are their wonders fallacious and counterfeit, 2 Thes. 2.9. else, if they were true wonders, they were Gods seales, which are never set to confirme an untruth: and therefore the Devils argument was good, (though his meaning was naught) when from a miraculous mutation of stones into bread, Matth. 4.3. he inferred the Divinitie of the Sonne of God. For if God had wrought a miracle to confirme the position; it must needs have beene assured, as undoubtedly true. But many things foretold may come to passe, and yet not by any Divine revelation: for the Devill may to a false and idolatrous suggestion (as in this verse) affixe a prediction by his skill in naturall causes: as if a Jesuite to perswade the Indians to the Popish party, should give them for a signe of assurance, a prediction of the Eclipse of the Sunne: In such a case, we must bring the proposall to the triall of the Scripture, and alwaies preferre the Divine word before a naturall, or diabolicall worke.

V. 3. proveth you] Tempteth, or trieth. See Annot. on Gen. 22.1.

to know] Or, (as some render the Hebrew word) that it may be manifest, or knowne, and discerned to themselves or others, or so convicted in the sight of God; that he may without suspition of injustice punish them for their Apostasie.

V. 5. put to death] When their evill hearts are made known by their evill workes, and of those evill works they are sufficiently convicted, and for them judicially condemned, Chap. 18.20. Jer 14.15. Zach.13.3.

V. 6. if thy brother] All naturall affection must give place to Gods honour: and in such a case, we must shew our selves rather children of God, then brethren, or kinsmen, or kinswomen, in what degree of relation soever, Chap.17.2.

V. 9. thou shalt surely kill him] When his cruell heart is discovered sufficiently by his cruel worke; and when of that worke he is convicted for it, and judicially condemned by the Magistrate, Chap.17.7.

thine hand] Thou who art a witnesse to accuse him, shalt cast the first stone at him: for the witnesses were to begin, and all the people to follow in throwing stones at the offender, Chap. 17. 7. Act.7.58.

V. 13. children of Belial] Belial signifieth without yoke, and it is usually applied to such as are most unruly, submitting to no yoke, living by no rule, and so most wicked and licentious; and therefore the word is often taken for the Devill, 2 Cor. 6. 15. and for conformitie to him, wicked men may be so named, who are Devils incarnate. See 1 Sam. 1. 16. & 2. 12. & 25.25. Judg.19.22.

V. 14. inquire] This is spoken chiefly to the Magistrate, who hath power to punish such faults.

abomination] Though Idols be set out gloriously in Images of gold and silver, and curious mixtures of colours, and their tempers gorgeously garnished; yet is idolatry, a loathsome and abominable thing in the sight of God; and so it should be in the sight of men, Exod.8.26.

V. 15. destroying it utterly] Which sheweth that no Idolatry is more execrable, nor more grievously to be punished, then theirs, who have formerly professed God, and have fallen off from that profession.

V. 16. an heape] Of rubbish, a monument of ruine, never to be repaired or built up againe.

V. 17. to thine hand] Though it come to thine hand, it shall not cleave or stick to it, so as to tarry with thee, but thou shalt cast it away as an execrable thing, Chap.7.25,26.

of the curſed thing] That is, of the spoile of that Citie, which God hath accursed to such confusion and ruine.

CHAP. XIIII.

Vers. 1. CUt your ſelves] See Annot. on Levit.19.27,28.

betweene your eyes] That is, in that part of the forehead which is above the partition betweene the eyes.

for the dead] That is, by occasion of the dead, as by way of lamentation for their death, Levit. 19. 28. & 21. 5. Jer. 16.6. & 41.5.

V. 2. an holy people] That is, in respect they were consecrate, separate, or set apart from other nations as the peculiar people of God, not in respect of inherent holinesse, or of Saint-like life: for they are justly charged with many great rebellions, Chap 9. throughout. Yet that relation to God did binde them to more holinesse then other people to take his example for a patterne of holinesse, and was to keepe them at a further distance from conformitie with the corruptions of uncircumcised nations.

V. 3. abominable thing] That is, not onely what mans nature abhorreth, but what Gods law forbiddeth: for when it is forbidden by God, it should be abominable to man.

V. 4. theſe are the beaſts] This ceremoniall law instructeth the Jews to seeke a spirituall pureneſſe even in meats and drinkes.

ſheepe, and] The Hebrew word [Seh] signifieth the lesser cattell; not lesser for age, as the lambe in respect of the sheepe, but in their kinde, and is commonly taken for a sheepe, or a goat.

V. 5. wild goat] In other languages this creature is called by a name signifying a Goat, and a Deere or Hart, in short a Goat-hart, resembling a Goat in his hornes and haire, especially his beard, and a Hart, or Deere in the rest of his body: of which see Plin. l.8. c.3.

Pygard] So called after the Greeks Translation: the Hebrew word [Dishon] used onely in this place is variously understood: some take it for a wild beast, whose horne turnes inward toward his head: some for a kind of Eagle: some for an Unicorne: some for a wild beast like to a Fallow-deere, or Roe-buck: but though to us it be not perfectly understood (as the names of many living creatures, herbes and stones are not) yet those to whom the precept or prohibition of such things was given, had the right understanding of them, (with the rule, whether it were a command or a caveat) if not in particular, yet by the generall notes.

wild oxe] Such as doe not sort with tame cattell, but haunt desert places, and are hurtfull to man, and no way serviceable, but when they are hunted to death. And as there are wild oxen, and wild goats, so of all sorts of domesticall creatures that are tame, there are of like kind which are wilde. Plin. hist. lib. 8. cap. 53.

Chamois] Wild one: the Hebrew word Zemer, is rendered in the best English Translations by a French word, Chamois, which signifieth a wild goat, a goat that haunts the rocks, and other places out of ordinary accesse: many Authours give it the name of Camelo-pard, which is a creature resembling a Camell in his head, and a Libard or Panther in spots, for the body of it hath white spots upon a red ground, Plin.l.8.c.18.

V. 6. parteth the hoofe] See Annot. on Levit. 11.3.5.

V. 10. nor fins] See Annot. on Levit. 11.9.

V. 19. that flyeth] See Annot. on Levit.11.20.

V. 21. dieth of it ſelfe] This also is to be understood of such a creature as dieth by any mishap, as falling, drowning, or any other way, so that the bloud was not let out of it, but remained in it: and it is to be understood of a cleane beast: for the uncleane were not to be eaten at all. See Levit.11.39.

unto the ſtranger] Which is not of thy Religion: for the Converts of other Nations were bound to the same rule with the Hebrews, Levit.17.15.

that he may eat it] Though for the most part such creatures as die of themselves, be not wholesome food: yet sometimes the disease affecting but one principall part, as the Vertigo, or turne in the head, the rest of the body may be of use for diet.

his mothers milke] See Annot. on Exod.23.19.

for thou art] Thy profession of holinesse, as the holy Lord God his peculiar people, engageth thee to discreet and decent observances in thy diet, that it be not disgraced by the uncleanesse or loosenesse thereof.

V. 22. truly tythe] Chap.12.6.17.

V. 23. before the Lord] See Annot. on Chap.12.vers.7.

tythe of] See Annot on Chap.26.12.

that thou maiſt learne] In the place where these tythes were eaten, the feare of the Lord was especially taught, and to be learned the better by the solemne service there performed, and by dieting themselves with especiall reference to the Lords portion of tythe, and his ordinance in the use of a tenth to themselves, called the second tenth: whereof see Annot. on Chap.12.v.7.

V. 26. beſtow that money] Matth.21.12.

V. 27. within thy gates] Living in the same Citie with thee, Chap.10.9. & 12. 12. 19. & 18. 1, 2. & 26. 12. Numb. 18. 20. 24.

V. 28. at the end of three yeares] When the tenths are gathered in the last of the three yeares, besides the yeerely tythes that were given to the Levites, and a second tythe which the owners set apart for their journey-sacrifice and feasting, (when they appeared, where the Tabernacle or Temple stood) thrice a yeare. There was a third tythe, viz. that here mentioned, which every third yeare (not reckoning the Sabbaticall yeare when all was common, Exod.23. 10,11.) was laid up in store for the use specified in the next verse, where the giver himselfe is not mentioned; nor was he to have his part in these tythes as in those oblations which were brought for publique feasts.

V. 29. may bleſſe thee] By blessing and beneficence to others, men may derive blessings upon themselves. Bounty is the way to plenty, and a godly liberality a prevention of poverty. See Prov.11.24,25.

CHAP. XV.

Vers.1. END of every ſeven yeares] Vers. 12. Exod.21. 2. & 23.11. Levit.25.4. Jer.34.14.

V. 2. ſhall releaſe it] To such poore debtors as are not able to pay what is due to be paid that yeare, so it appeareth by vers. 4. This release is taken by some to be but a forbearance of payment for that yeare, which might be exacted the yeare following, but if the partie were as unable that yeare as the former, it was not then to be called for, and the lender was to expect a recompence from the blessing of God, vers.6.

neighbour or brother] By this is understood a neighbour or brother not by communitie of humane nature, (as sometimes it is) but by nation: so that one of another nation, though a proselyte or convert, if he were not a naturall Jew, was not (as some restraine the rule) to have this priviledge, who, if they had not to pay, were to make recompence by service. But it is more probable that his Religion gave him as much priviledge as his carnall kindred could doe, and therefore that the proselyte shall be taken for a neighbour and brother, and so have as much favour for Gods sake (if not more) as for mans.

V. 4. ſave when] Or, that there be no poore among you; That is, made poore by exacting that of them which they are not able to pay: for God will have poore alwayes for the exercise of the charitie of the rich, Vers.11. Matth. 26.11. though private poore, rather then publique beggers; for such are forbidden by Law, and order taken in wel-govern'd Common-wealths that there be none such.

V. 6. * lend to many nations] * Chap.28.12.44.

V. 8. open thy hand, &c.] Matth.5.42. Luke 6. 34. 2 Cor. 9. 5,6.

V. 9. ſinne unto thee] Bring the punishment of sinne upon thee, if he stand in need of thy charitie by giving or lending, and thou withhold the reliefe, because the yeare of release is at hand.

V. 10. not grieved] Charitable beneficence must be performed with cheerefull benevolence; for God not onely loveth a cheerefull giver, but bountifully rewardeth him, Vers. 18. & 14.29. & Prov.11.24. & 28.27.

V. 11. the poore ſhall never ceaſe] That is not contrary to what is said, vers. 4. See the reconcilement there.

V. 12. in the ſeventh yeare] That is, at the beginning of the seventh yeare: but the release of debts was at the end of the seventh yeare, vers. 1.

V. 14. liberally] As acknowledging the blessing of God upon his labour, and conscionably recompencing his painfull and faithfull service, Vers. 18.

V. 17. unto thy maid-ſervant] That is, for giving unto her, as unto the man-servant, Vers. 13, 14, 15. not for boring thorow the eare, which was peculiar to a man-servant.

V. 18. double hired] For three yeares service was the stinted time of an hireling, Isa. 16. 14. But the Hebrew servant here spoken of, served sixe yeares, which is twice so many.

V. 19. nor ſheare] Being appropriated to God, they must not be used for the service or advantage of man: therefore the sheepe and wooll must be given unto the Priest. Some understand this of the firstlings of the females, whereof the wooll might be a part, being offered as Peace-offerings, which seemeth to be meant, vers.20.

V. 20. be-

V. 20. before the Lord] Chap. 12. 7. 17.

V. 22. the unclean and clean] Which is not lawfull, if it were offered as a peace-offering: for of ſuch onely the cleane were partakers, Levit. 7. 20.

V. 23. not eat the blood] This prohibition is often repeated for better caution againſt all kinde of crueltie, and becauſe blood was ſprinkled for atonement, and ſo as a thing conſecrated to God to be kept out of common uſe. See Levit. 17. 11.

CHAP. XVI.

Verſ. 1. Moneth of * Abib] Containing part of March and part of April, when the Barley-harveſt began to be ripe, and the firſt ripe eares were offered at the Paſſeover the ſecond day of unleavened bread, Levit. 2. 14. & Chap. 23. 10. * Exod. 13. 4. & 12. 2.

V. 2. and herd] The Paſſeover was to be a lambe or young kid; but this of the herd is thought by ſome an additionall ſacrifice of a ſheepe or bullock offered at that time, Numb. 28. verſ. 19.

his name there] Where he is known and acknowledged by his worſhip, as a man is known by his name.

V. 3. bread of affliction] So the unleavened bread was called, becauſe it was to minde them of their afflicted condition, from which they fled in ſuch haſte that they could not ſtay till the bread was leavened, Exod. 12. 39. Eſa. 30. 20.

V. 4. untill the morning] See Annot. on Exod. 12. 10.

V. 6. at the ſeaſon] This is not meant punctually for the preciſe houre of the killing of the Paſchall Lambe: for they departed not till the next day, but with ſome latitude of time: or their departing, or coming forth is taken for their preparation for their departure. See Annot. on Exod. 12. 8.

V. 7. unto thy tents] Or, to thy dwelling place, whether tents, or houſes: and indeed this hath eſpeciall reference to the ſettled eſtate of the Hebrewes in the Land of Canaan.

V. 8. ſixe dayes] The dayes of unleavened bread were ſeven, but the ſeventh is ſpoken of by it ſelfe, as having ſomewhat proper and peculiar to it, and is to be underſtood for unleavened bread to be like unto the reſt, for the ordinance is expreſſely for ſeven, Exod. 12. 19. Levit. 23. 8.

V. 7. ſeven weeks] Beginning the next morning after the Paſſeover.

the ſickle to the corn] For the reaping of the ſheafe to be waved before the Lord.

V. 10. the feaſt of weeks] See Annot. on Levit. 23. 15.

V. 11. rejoyce] In cheerfull feaſting: whereof, ſee Chap. 12. 18.

V. 13. of Tabernacles] See Annot. on Exod. 23. 16. & Lev. 23. 34. & Numb. 29. 12.

V. 20. altogether juſt] Not ſeeming juſt, but ſo indeed; not juſt in part, but entirely juſt, in meaſure and degree; not juſt to ſome, but juſt to all, and to all alike; and not ſometimes juſt, but alwayes juſt, this is altogether juſt.

V. 21. grove] Chap. 12. 3. See Annot. on Exod. 34. 13. & on Gen. 31. 13.

CHAP. XVII.

Verſ. 1. VVherein is blemiſh] Chap. 15. 21. Levit. 22. 20. Mal. 1. 8. & 14.

V. 2. or woman] Shewing that the crime cannot be excuſed by the frailtie of the perſon: for both ſexes are obliged to Gods holy prohibitions and precepts, and his juſtice and mercy are upon the ſame grounds indifferently diſtributed to both, Gal. 3. 28.

V. 3. hoſt of heaven] See Annot. on Gen. 2. verſ. 1.

* not commanded] Whereby he condemneth all Religion and Service of God, which God hath not commanded: and withall in this expreſſion there is a Figure called Liptote or Litotes, whereby more is meant then ſpoken: as by not commanded is to be underſtood forbidden: and not ſimply forbidden, but with ſevere comminations, as in the ſecond Commandement, and in the fourth verſe of this Chapter. Chap. 4. 19. * Levit. 10. 1. Jer. 7. 31, 32. & 19. 5.

V. 5. * unto thy gates] For there was the place of publique judicature; and the offender condemned there was the readier for his execution, which was done without the gates of the Citie, whether the death were by ſtoning, (as here, and Act. 7.) or by crucifying, as that of our bleſſed Saviour, or any other. * Chap. 22. 24.

ſhalt ſtone him] See Annot. on Chap. 13. verſ. 9.

V. 7. firſt upon him] Laid on his head as avowing the guilt of that man, or throwing ſtones at him to put him to death. See Annot. on Chap. 13. 9. Levit. 24. 14.

all the people] To ſignifie their common conſent to maintain Gods honour and true religion, and their deteſtation of ſuch impietie againſt him.

* ſo ſhalt thou put] To ſacrifice ſinners to publique juſtice, is the means to obtaine mercy for the preſervation of them that ſurvive. * Verſ. 12. & Chap. 13. 5. & 19. 19. & 21. 21. & 22. 24. & 24. 7.

V. 8. between blood and blood] That is, betwixt the guilt of wilfull murder, and caſuall man-ſlaughter; or, betwixt blood-ſhed by violence, and blood to be ſhed by juſtice: or, betwixt blood and blood, may be betwixt kindred and kindred, wherein juſtice muſt put a difference betwixt guilt and innocence, if the partie be never ſo neere in alliance or kindred.

plea and plea] Pleading for and againſt in the ſame cauſe; ſome accuſing, and ſome denying.

ſtroke and ſtroke] Whether it be of malignitie or caſualty.

God ſhall chooſe] For the pitching of his Tabernacle, or building his Temple.

V. 9. Judge] Who ſhall give Sentence as the Prieſts counſell him by the Law of God, in matters of Religion, or the Ceremoniall Law; but in civill controverſies there were civill Magiſtrates, who were to heare and determine betwixt partie and partie; yet ſo, that if there were a ſcruple, or caſe of conſcience which made the Judge doubtfull what to determine, he was to conſult with the Prieſt, Pſal. 122. 4, 5. Mal. 2. 7. 2 Chron. 19. 8, &c. Numb. 27. 21.

V. 11. ſentence of the law] The Judge was not to give what Sentence pleaſed himſelfe, but according to the Law: and if the Caſe were ſuch as was not already ruled by the Law, God was to be conſulted with, and reſolution to be made by his direction. See Levit. 24. 12. Numb. 15. 34. Deut. 24. 8. Ezek. 44. 24. Deut. 21. 5.

V. 12. unto the Prieſt] While the Prieſt bringeth warrant from God for the Sentence which he paſſeth in the Cauſe of man, Ezek. 44. 23, 24. he that contumaciouſly diſobeyeth him, diſobeyeth God, Luk. 10. 16. Matth. 10. 14. The caſe is alike, if the juſt Sentence of a competent Judge be contemned in ſecular affaires.

V. 15. not ſet a ſtranger] Not one of another Nation or Religion, leſt he change true Religion into Idolatry, and bring thee both into ſlavery and ſinne, Chap. 1. 13. Jer. 30. 21.

V. 16. not multiply horſes] Not affect to be Maſter of too many horſes, leſt that ſhould occaſion him or his people to have too much to doe with the idolatrous Egyptians, to goe or ſend his Courtiers to Egypt, where there was great ſtore of ſuch cattell, 1 King. 10. 26. 28. the abundance whereof might occaſion too much confidence in their number and ſtrength. See Eſa. 31. 1. Ezek. 17. 15.

hath ſaid] Not in expreſſe words, but implicitely, and by conſequence, when he ſhewed himſelfe much offended at thoſe, who would have made them a Captain to lead them backe into Egypt, Numb. 14. 4. 11.

that way] He ſpeaketh not of any particular way, but of that way (which ſoever it is) which leadeth unto Egypt: for in this caſe the matter of moment lyeth not in the journey, but in the end of it.

V. 17. multiply wives] If Kings may not, much leſſe may their Subjects; ſince it is of more moment that they have children then inferiour perſons, and though the Patriarchs had more wives then one at once, it was not according to the firſt inſtitution of marriage. See Annot. on Gen. 4. 19. It was never allowed by God, though for a time tolerated, upon reaſons which concerne not our times. And this might the rather be forbidden to a King, becauſe of the power of his example upon the manners of his people.

greatly multiply] That is, immoderately addict himſelfe to multiply gold or ſilver: for covetouſneſſe is a miſchievous ſinne in a man of great power, in a King eſpecially, ſince it will for reward attempt, admit, and uphold any wickedneſſe; and oppoſe and ſuppreſſe any good man or good cauſe. Eſa. 2. 7.

V. 18. he ſhall write] Or, cauſe to be written, as 2 Sam. 7. 13.

a copy of this Law] Of this fift Booke of Moſes out of that Originall record, which was kept in the Sanctuary, Chap. 31. 26. 2 King. 22. 8. or, of the whole Law. Philo writeth that the King ought to write it with his own hand: but by whomſoever it was written he muſt diligently read in it; notwithſtanding the multiplicitie and greatneſſe of the affaires of his kingly office, 1 Sam. 10. 25.

V. 19. read it] Joſh. 1. 8. Pſal. 119. 98. Chap. 31. 11.

V. 20. not lifted up] Not ſo lifted up above his Subjects, as to forget they are Brethren, but to make his Government rather loved by lenitie, then feared or hated by rigour, 1 King. 12. 7. Dan. 5. 20.

CHAP. XVIII.

Verſ. 1. Made by fire] Which were partly burned for Gods glory, and partly reſerved for maintenance of the Levites, Levit. 7. 32. 34. as in the right of the Lords inheritance, who hath reſerved that portion for the ſervice of himſelfe selfe and the sustenance of his servants, Numb. 18. 20. Deut. 10.9. Josh.13.14.33. Ezek.44.28. 1 Cor.9.13.

V. 2. the Lord is their inheritance] They must looke to the Lord for their portion, and shall finde it in him by his right in all, and his favour to them, whose riches and beneficence will supply them with maintenance.

V. 3. that offer] That bring a sacrifice, which is to be understood of peace-offerings.

the maw] Or, the breast. As Exod.29.27. Levit.7.31. Or, the maw with the breast.

V. 7. as his brethren] Though they attend the service of the Sanctuary by course, yet if any would willingly offer his service who was not bound unto it by his turne, he was to be admitted.

V. 8. like portions] For their diet out of the revenues of the Tabernacle, while they attend at it, who at other times were maintained by the tythes: wherein some conceive they that did not performe such a service in the Sanctuary, had neither any sustenance thence, nor so much in tythes as their brethren who underwent the service in their turnes.

sale of his patrimonie] Which he was to keepe; for if he did not spend the money, he might redeeme it at any time, Levit. 25.32.

V. 10. passe through the fire] Either as a superstitious purging, by passing betweene two fires, or by an idolatrous sacrificing them to the Idol Molech. See Annot. on Levit. 18. vers. 21.

divination] Taking upon them to foretell things to come, Micah 3.11. without any ground of reason, or Divine revelation.

observer of times] Superstitiously making difference of dayes or times, good or bad, as lucky or unlucky.

an inchanter] Is such an one as useth songs and verses, or other words or ceremonies to produce supernaturall effects.

V. 11. Or a Charmer] A Charmer is the same in effect with the Inchanter.

a wizard] Is the same with the Diviner.

a Necromancer] One that seeketh to the dead: as 1 Sam.28.

V. 14. hath not suffered] Heb. It is the Lord thy God hath given thee: that is, Prophets and Instructors to teach thee, that thou maist not need to seeke to Diviners for instruction or direction.

V. 18. a Prophet like] This is meant principally of Christ, Act. 3. 22. betwixt whom and Moses though there are many remarkable conformities, as Numb.12.3. Exod.32.32. compared with Matth. 11.29. Joh.2.17. & Deut.5.5. Gal. 3.19. with 1 Tim.2.5. & Exod.1. with Matth. 2. yet withall God promiseth here a succession of Prophets before his coming, by whom his people were to be instructed from time to time, so that they should not be affrighted with Gods speaking to them as formerly they had been.

V. 19. I will require it of him] That is, I will call him to an account, and bring him to punishment for it.

V. 22. if the thing follow not] For if the Prophecie were of God, it must needs come to passe, for he cannot lie, nor be deceived; though it follow not to say, the thing is come to passe, therefore it is the Lord that speaketh: for they that use to foretell, may among many untruths light upon some truth: as if a blind man shoot many arrows at a marke, he may sometimes hit it, though it be rather by chance then any good cunning: and sometimes God may for triall, (Chap.13.3.) in judgement punishing the people by mis-guidance, suffer it to come to passe. See Annot.on Chap.13.2.

not be afraid of him] Though he foretell fearefull things, thou shalt not be afraid of him, since he is a false Prophet, and his predictions shall not take effect.

CHAP. XIX.

Vers.1. Their cities] On the other side Jordan: for on the one side there were three appointed before, Chap. 4.v.41. See Numb.35.14.

V. 2. in the midst] That is, within the land, (though not precisely in the midst) so that from all parts there may be convenient recourse to some of them. The three Cities were to be of equall distance one from another, and as it is probably conceived, the distance was triangular thus, like the Capital Greek letter delta Δ.

V. 3. prepare thee a way] For commodious passage unto them; which some thinke was paved, and had markes of direction, that they which fled towards them might not misse their way, nor be hindered, if there were need to make an hastie flight from the pursuit.

every slayer] Which kild against his will, and bare no hatred in his heart before.

V. 4. ignorantly] At unawares, or unwillingly. See Numbers 35.

V. 5. and live] That murder be not committed upon murder, by slaying of him in wrathfull revenge who slew another against his will.

V. 7. for thee] He speaketh to the people as to one man, or to Moses, as in their names, and for their use.

V. 8. enlarge thy coast] When thou goest over Jordan, and art possessed of the whole Land of Canaan.

to give unto thy fathers] Which he promised to thy fathers to give thee, as to Abraham, Gen. 15. 7. to Isaac, Gen.26.3. and to Jacob, Gen.28.13.

V. 9. If thou keepe] The promise of the Land of Canaan was but conditionall, and therefore if the people did not their part, their failing of possession, was not Gods, but their owne fault.

shalt thou adde] In thy enlarged portion, vers.8. which if it be without the Land of Canaan, the Cities of refuge shall be there: but we read not of those three Cities more added to the former sixe, for the enlargement of the dominion of the Israelites in the time of David and Solomon, was not so much in actuall possession, as a tributary dominion: in which case, (if it were none otherwise) the Cities of refuge were of no use to the people of the Jews: nor was this therefore an idle ordinance; for if the people had kept covenant with God, he had enlarged their borders, not onely by conditionall subjection by tribute; but by actuall possession.

V. 11. if any man hate &c.] Numb. 35. 20,21,&c.

V. 12. of his citie] Not where the man-slayer hath taken Sanctuary for safetie, but where the slaine man dwelt.

V. 13. put away guilt] See Annot. on Chap.17.7.

V. 14. land-marke] See Annot. on Chap.27.17. Prov. 22. 28. Hos. 5.10. Job, 24.2.

V. 15. at the mouth] An Enallage of number: that is, of mouth for mouthes: Or, though severall witnesses, they must agree as if they had but one mouth.

V. 17. before the Lord] Gods presence is where his Ministers are assembled to doe according to his commandements.

CHAP. XX.

Vers.1. When thou goest] Which is to be understood of a warrantable warre, which requireth a just cause, and lawfull authoritie, and great necessitie, when peace will not be entertained, vers.12.

V. 2. the Priest] The Priest, though he warred not with his hands, did animate to the battell with his tongue.

V. 4. goeth with you] That is, is present to defend you with his grace and power.

V. 5. not dedicated it] For when they entered first to dwell in an house, they gave thankes to God, acknowledging that they had that benefit by his grace; and it may be also feasted with singing of Psalmes, at their first possession of it, which was a kind of dedication of it to the use intended. See the title of the thirtieth Psalme.

V. 6. planted a vineyard] Or garden, or any such like thing, which makes men unwilling to goe to warres: for as in all the services done to God, we are to bring a good will to the work; so especially in warre, God requireth a most cheerefull and cordiall resolution to fight his battels.

not eaten of it] Heb. not made it common. For the law concerning a vineyard was, that for the first three yeares the fruit of it should not be eaten: the fourth yeare it was offered to God: and the fifth it was common to the owners and to others. See Levit.19.23.

V. 8. faint as well as] Cowardise is catching, especially in such as should be leaders unto others; in so much that some hold that an army of Harts led by a Lion, would be more valourous and victorious, then an army of Lions led by an Hart.

V. 10. proclaime peace] For though nothing seeme more contrary to peace, then warre; yet warre is not to be undertaken if peace may be obtained without it: and the end of war should be peace; and therefore David enquiring of Uriah concerning Joab his army, and the warre; asked him of the peace of the warre; so it is in the Originall, 2 Sam.11.7. But this is not to be understood of the Cities of the Land of Canaan, for they were to be more severely dealt withall, vers.16,17. and for shewing them more favour Israel is blamed, Judg. 1.28. but of Cities without the Land of promise, vers.15.

V. 14. women, and the little ones] The weakenesse of the sex in the one, and of age in the other; made them objects of compassion; when men, who were more able for doing, were more obnoxious to the suffering of violence; yet sometimes the slaughter was to be generall, when God did particularly prescribe it, women and children not excepted, Josh. 6.21.

V. 15. Thus shalt thou doe] In sparing women and children, and taking the spoile, as vers.14.

of these nations] Which are after mentioned, vers.16,17.

Cap. 19. 14. Land-mark.

Hedges are Land-marks: Caryl, Job, 24.2. p. 488. — Removing the Land-marks goes further, even to the taking away of the Land. 491.

Observ. ex v. 14. Nemo debet locupletari cum alieno damno. Piscator.

By the light of Nature and the Law of God, it was a wicked thing to remove Bounds: you may see it forbidden by the Law of God. Deut. 27. 17. &c. &c. Boroughs, Hos. 5. 10.

Hic damnatur furti genus quod severè Romanis Legibus vindicatum est. Nam ut certa sit cuique sua Possessio, terminos finiendis agris positos, manere intactos oportet, ac si jure esset. Qui terminum fraudulenter avellit, hoc uno, sceleris satis convictus est, quod dominium legitimum ex quieta agri possessione deturbat. Qui vero metas agri sui cum alterius dispendio longius producit, crimen duplicat, falsitate furtum tegendo. Unde etiam colligitur fures esse, non modo — qui pecuniam tollunt ex arca: sed etiam qui fundos alienos injuste occupant —

Calvin. ad Octavum praeceptum Deut. 19. 14. p. 352.

V. 16. ſave alive nothing] If they refuſe conditions of peace, when they are tendered unto them; this ſlaughter is to be underſtood, not of beaſts, but of mankinde, Joſh.11.14:

V. 17. the Hittites] See Annot. on Chap.7.verſ.1.

V. 19. is mans life] This is ſpoken of the fruitfull tree, which miniſtred food for mans ſuſtenance; and ſo is called mans life by a figure called a Metonymie, whereby the cauſe is put for theeffect.

CHAP. XXI.

Verſ.1. Slaine] This Law declareth how charie the Lord is of ſpilling mans bloud, how diſpleaſing the ſhedding of it is to him, and how dangerous to others that have their hearts and hands defiled with it; when a whole Citie or Countrey may be charged with one mans murder, and brought to puniſhment for it; if they doe not ſolemnly teſtifie their cleareneſſe from it.

and it be not knowne] Upon diligent enquiry after the bloud-guilty perſon.

V. 2. they ſhall meaſure] If there be any doubt concerning the diſtance, or neerneſſe of it, to the place of the ſlaine.

V. 3. which is next] Since the guiltie perſon may be moſt like to lurke there, or thence to have come to doe the murder, or there to have conceived or plotted the execution of it; or becauſe they that were next, it is like might have the firſt notice of that wicked act, and had therefore the advantage of other places, for a ſeaſonable purſuit and apprehenſion of the murderer.

yoke] The like is ſaid of the ſacrifice of the red Cow, Numb. 19. 2. which as it was a type of Chriſt, had a ſutable ſignification unto it. See the Annot. on that place: but here being killed for, or in ſtead of the murderer, which ſhould have ſuffered, if he had beene taken; it may ſignifie an unruly wrathfull man, not ſubject to the yoke of reaſon or conſcience, and ſo a ſonne of Belial, that is, one without yoke: See Annot. on Chap.13. v. 13.

V. 4. rough valley] A place which of it ſelfe was to be abhorred, to make the thought of murder more horrible. The Hebrew word Nahhal, is put ſometimes for a brook, or for a valley. It ſignifieth properly a declive place, or a place of deſcent, where waters uſually fall, and come together; although there be no water in it: and the word Ethan, rendered here by rough, ſignifieth ſtrong; as either fortified by hils round about it, or having hard and ſtrong things in it, as rocks or ſtones.

ſtrike off] Signifying that the murderer deſerved to be ſo uſed, and that they, if they had him, would doe capitall execution upon him.

V. 5. by their word] See Annot. on Chap. 17. 11.

V. 6. waſh their hands] Murder defileth the hands with bloud, Iſa. 1. 15. and waſhing the hands was a ceremonie of clearing a mans ſelfe from the guilt of it, as we ſee in Pilate, Matth.27.24.

V. 7. this bloud] By this it ſeemes either the ſlaine man was brought where the Heifer was kild; or the Heifer, to the place where the ſlaine man lay.

neither have our] We neither ſaw the deed when it was done, nor knew the living man that ſlew the ſlaine.

V. 8. Be mercifull] This was the prayer which the Prieſt made in the audience of the people.

lay not innocent bloud] That is, the bloud of the ſlaine. But if they were not guilty of it, what need they pray for mercy; or that the guilt might not be imputed unto them? Becauſe it was not enough not to have their hands or hearts polluted with ſo hainous a crime; but they muſt ſo farre cleare themſelves from it, as in this manner, to ſhew their deteſtation of it; elſe they were to be reputed, and deſerved to be puniſhed as guilty, though not in ſo high a degree as the murderer.

V. 9. So ſhalt thou put away] So ſpeaketh Moſes to the Prieſt, ſhewing that thus they might acquit themſelves of the guilt of that fact, which otherwiſe in ſome degree, would be charged upon them: See Annot. on Chap.17.v.7.

V. 12. ſhave her head] Which may be taken as a token of mourning for her finall parting from her parents, verſ. 13. whom, by that ceremonie, ſhe lamented, as to her, utterly loſt and dead, eſpecially if they or either of them were killed in the warre; where is permitted unto her, to mourne after the manner of her Countrey; or her head might be ſhaven for the reaſon alledged in the next Annot.

pare her nailes] The Originall hath no more but [ſhe ſhall make her nailes] which ſome render that ſhe ſhall make or ſuffer them to grow, or, let her nouriſh her nailes; and then the meaning may be, that the deformitie of her ſhaven head, and long nailes, ſhould allay the affections of him that tooke her, that he might not take her to wife, unleſſe ſhe would ſhew her ſelfe a true Convert to the right Religion. But moſt read the words pare her nailes, and the Originall word being rendered (as it is by ſome) make, or dreſſe; by dreſſing of her nailes may be meant paring of her nailes; and ſo it might be to admoniſh her to put off her former manners, and to betake her ſelfe to a contrarie courſe; which is further implied by putting off the attire of her captivitie, (according to the cuſtome of changing the garment in mourning, 2 Sam.14.2. See Joſephus Antiq. l. 4. c. 8.) for ſhe muſt revolt from her former Religion, and profeſſe the Religion of the Hebrewes; elſe ſhe was not to be taken to wife, Exod.34.16.

V. 13. bewaile her father] See Annot. on verſ. 12.

a full moneth] That time was obſerved in mourning for Aaron, Numb.20.29. and for Moſes, Deut.34.8. but withall there might be ſomewhat more in this matter, as that the man that tooke her, might learne to be moderate in his deſires, and to curbe his concupiſcence in this monethly forbearance; and in that time he might be better acquainted with her diſpoſition, and ſo he might the better judge whether ſhe were fit or worthy to be his wife or no.

thy wife] This was permitted onely in the warres, otherwiſe they could not marry ſtrangers; nor ſo neither, but by ſuch an eſpeciall allowance as this is.

V. 14. no delight in her] If he were actually married, he had not liberty to leave her, though he hated her, Chap. 22. verſ.13.19. but if upon ſome purpoſe of marriage, or intemperate deſires he had lien with her, (which is meant by humbling her; which, though mentioned without reproofe, is not allowed) and had not yet married her, ſhe was of a captive to be made a free woman againe.

let her goe whither ſhe will] Heb. thou ſhalt ſet her free to her ſoule. That is, give her power to doe according as her ſoule deſireth; as in ſervitude the ſoule may be ſaid to be ſubject to the higher power, Rom.13.1.

V. 15. have two wives] In this ſuppoſition pluralitie or more wives then one, is not allowed, being contrary to the firſt inſtitution of marriage, Gen.2.24. to which our Saviour reduceth the Phariſees for reſolution of a matrimoniall queſtion, Matth. 19.4,5. See Annot. on Gen.4.19. but preſuppoſing the practice, he reſolveth the caſe concerning the firſt-borne ſonne of the hated wife, which was held alſo in ſecond marriages.

V. 17. double portion] As if a man have two ſonnes, his eſtate being divided into three parts, the firſt-borne was to have two; the other, one; and if he have many ſonnes, he is to have double to them, as he muſt have a third part for their ſixth, a fourth for their eighth, a fifth for their tenth throughout.

the right of the firſt-borne is his] Except he deſerve to be deprived of it, as Reuben did, Gen.49.3,4. 1 Chron.5.1.

V. 18. voyce of his mother] For it is the mothers duty alſo to inſtruct her children, Prov.1.8. & 31.1.

when they have chaſtened him] This goeth beyond words: and if this chaſtening will either not be received; or if thereby he be not bettered, then when all other meanes were fruitleſſe, and hopeleſſe; the Magiſtrate was to be appealed unto.

V. 19. lay hold on him] Or, cauſe him to be apprehended.

V. 20. ſtubborne] Contumacie, or ſtubborneſſe in a diſſolute perſon ſhewes he is incorrigible, therfore he deſerveth to die by the Law.

a glutton] Heb. an eater, or devourer of fleſh, and a drinker, or carouſer of wine: Becauſe uſually men are moſt exceſſive in ſuch kind of meat and drinke; though there may be and is gluttony and drunkenneſſe committed in other meates and drinkes.

V. 21. ſtone him] Which death was alſo appointed to blaſphemers and Idolaters; ſo that to diſobey the parents, and to be ſtubborne againſt their authoritie, is an horrible ſinne.

V. 23. all night] For Gods Law by his death being ſatisfied, he required not that there ſhould be ſtill a viſible monument, or remembrance of his wrath: See Joſh. 10. 26. but it was otherwiſe in the caſe of Saul and his ſonnes, 2 Sam. 21. 9, 10.

accurſed] A temporall curſe it is to all that undergoe it, Gal. 3. 13. which is ſeconded with an eternall malediction on ſuch as die in their ſinnes, without repentance.

that thy land be not defiled] That there might not be a viſible monument of an accurſed thing to remain: there was a defilement, which was onely a ſcandalous looking on the dead malefactors, whereby ſome might take occaſion to murmur at the juſtice done upon them; and ſtrangers might thinke the worſe of Gods people for having ſuch malefactors among them. Or, by theſe words, [that thy land be not defiled] may be meant that great offenders are to be put out of all manner of communion of men, being indeed vile as dung, Pſal. 83.10. which was to be covered in the earth, Deut.23.13.

CHAP. XXII.

Verſ. 1. Hide thy ſelfe] Or, make as if thou ſaweſt it not.

V. 2. not nigh] Shewing that brotherly benevolence muſt be ſhewed, not onely to them that dwell neere unto us, but alſo to them that are farre off: yea in this caſe juſtice and charitie muſt be offered to an enemy, Exod.23.4.

V. 3. with his aſſe] And ſo likewiſe with his Horſe: for under theſe creatures particularly named, the cattell or creatures of other kindes are comprehended, ſo farre as they have reference to the good or hurt of their owners.

V. 5. The woman ſhall not] For this prohibition there may be many reaſons: as, becauſe it was againſt the ordinance of God, for diſtinction of ſexes, which would make men effeminate; and women, immodeſt; and might be occaſion, or give opportunitie to ſome to commit ſinnes againſt nature: and it is obſerved that the worſt, and wickedeſt ſort of men have been moſt noted for wearing the apparell of women; as Caligula, Sardanapalus, Clodius, and others.

abomination] Except in caſe of neceſſitie, as for neceſſary covering.

V. 6. dam with the young] If God deteſt crueltie done to birds, how much more to man, made according to his Image? See Annot. on Levit.22.28.

V. 8. battlements] Their houſes were ſo built, that they might walke upon them, 2 Sam. 11.2. Matth. 10.27. and the battlements which were borders of each ſide, were to be ſo ſtrong, that one might ſafely leane on them; and ſo high, that he might not be like to fall over them.

V. 9. not ſowe] The tenour of this Law is to teach the people to walke in ſimplicity, and not to be curious of new inventions; as alſo to warne them againſt mixtures in Religion, and manners, with other nations.

defiled] Or, corrupted. Which may be underſtood of a ceremoniall defilement; for the neglect of a ceremoniall law cauſed at leaſt a ceremoniall uncleanneſſe, both perſonall, and reall: and by theſe mixtures, the fruit might be phyſically corrupted, either by an ill temperament, or weake nouriſhment of them; eſpecially if they were ſowne too thick, or that the ſtronger ſeed ſucked the juice from the weaker.

V. 10. oxe and an aſſe] Which might be partly becauſe of their unequall ſtrength, and ſtature betwixt them, which might prove a preſſure to the lower and weaker: but withall (if not principally) to admoniſh the people againſt unmeete mixtures, and matches of the cleane, and uncleane; the oxe was a cleane creature, the aſſe uncleane.

V. 11. of woollen and linen] See Annot. on verſ.9. & Levit. 19. 19.

V. 12. fringes] See Annot. on Numb.15.39.

V. 17. the cloth] Meaning the ſheet wherein were the ſigns of her virginity, which are of the color of a maidens bluſh: yet for the clearing of her innocency the Elders (not the yonger ſort) might have the view of them: for thereby (as Phyſicians affirme) the truth or falſhood of the ſuſpition of her former chaſtitie, might be diſcerned. Valeſ.de ſacra philoſ. c.25.

V. 18. chaſtiſe him] Either by ſtrokes, or very ſharpe words at the leaſt, beſides the amercement, verſ.19.

V. 19. to the father] For the fault of the child redoundeth to the ſhame of the parents; therefore he was recompenſed, ſince he was ſlandered.

not put her away] If ſhe be content to continue with him as his wife.

V. 22. both of them die] In adultery there is divers times the concurrence of ſeverall ſinnes of hainous guilt: as of vowbreaking, of theft, whereby one mans ſeed may come to inherit another mans eſtate; beſides the foulneſſe of defiling the marriage bed with lawleſſe luſt; and therefore it was puniſhed with death in both ſexes, without partialitie to either.

V. 24. his neighbours wife] Becauſe ſhe was betrothed, ſhe was a wife in right, though not in fact; for the mutuall ſtipulation or promiſe makes the marriage; not the lying together, which is but a conſequence upon it, and a confirmation of it.

becauſe ſhe cried not] For her ſilence in ſuch a caſe, was a ſigne of conſent.

V. 26. ſo is this matter] By violence on the one ſide, and innocence on the other.

V. 28. lay hold on her] This argueth violence, and enforcement, which goeth beyond inticement; and ſo it is a different caſe from that of Exod.22.16.

V. 29. fiftie ſhekels] See Annot. on Exod.22.17.

ſhall be his wife] That is, if her father give his conſent to the marriage, as in the place fore-cited.

V. 30. his fathers wife] He ſhall not lie with his ſtepmother, meaning thereby all other degrees are forbidden, Lev. 18.8. and 20.11.

diſcover his fathers skirt] That is, uncover or remove that covering, which his father onely had power to make bare or naked.

CHAP. XXIII.

Verſ.1. VVounded] In one or both of them: for the word is of the ſingular number. Or, is an Eunuch.

ſhall not enter] Shall not be accepted, or admitted as one belonging to the Common-weale of Iſrael; or beare any office in the Church or State of Iſrael, Levit.22.21,22. Nehem.13.1, 2,3. Iſa.56.3.

V. 2. baſtard] Some reſtraine this to a baſtard that is an aliene from the Nation of the Iſraelites; who, though he would embrace the Religion of the Iſraelites, was not to be admitted to their holy aſſemblies: howſoever, whether the law be made of aliens or home-borne, it was an admonition of chaſtitie in regard of the infamy and contempt of ſuch a polluted poſterity.

V.3. tenth generation] Incluſively, ſo that untill the grand-child of the eleventh deſcent there was no admiſſion of the off-ſpring of a baſtard into the holy Congregation.

for ever] Some read, and for ever, as an aggravation of their rejection, as though that of the baſtard, verſ.2. were too little; and therefore to ſhew the condition of the Ammonite and Moabite more abominable to the Iſraelites, for ever is added to the excluſion fore-mentioned. Or the meaning may be, that this ordinance againſt the Moabites, to be caſt off to the tenth generation, was to laſt for ever; which is thought to be made rather againſt the men, then againſt the women: for Moabitiſh wives (if their husbands were Iſraelites, as it was in the caſe of Booz and Ruth, Ruth 4.10.) had more acceptance among Iſraelitiſh women, then a Moabitiſh husband had among the men of Iſrael, if he had married an Iſraelitiſh wife.

V. 4. met you not] Hereby he condemneth all that further not the children of God in their vocation: not onely they that doe hurt, but they that doe not good to Gods people, are diſpleaſing to him; and he will, for their omiſſion of obſervance, repay them with vengeance.

V. 7. thy brother] An Edomite is brother to an Iſraelite, as Edom, or Eſau (for he was called both) was brother to Iſrael or Jacob.

not abhorre an Egyptian] The reaſon rendered is, becauſe the Iſraelites were ſtrangers in their land; though they endured hard bondage there, yet at their firſt coming, they were very kindly entertained, Gen.47.6. and at their going out of Egypt, Exod. 11. 3. & 12. 35, 36. and it was more agreeable to the goodneſſe of their Religion, to forget the offences, then the favours of their Land-lords.

V. 8. third generation] After their firſt profeſſion of the Iſraelitiſh Religion, if their fathers having renounced Idolatry and received Circumciſion, their children perſiſt in the profeſſion of the ſame.

V. 9. then keepe thee] A Souldier ſhould be a Saint, and preciſely abſtaine from all ſorts of ſinne, as a dying ſick man, ſince (carrying his ſoule in his hand, Judg.12.3. 1 Sam.19.5.) he is in danger of death every ſtep, and conſequently of damnation, if he die in ſinne unrepented of.

V. 10. out of the campe] That was for the people, but if a Prieſt were ceremonially uncleane, it was enough for him (as ſome affirme) to goe out of the Temple or Tabernacle, and Court of either: and if any were unclean before, he was to keep out of the Campe, or Temple, &c. and not to enter untill he were cleanſed by waſhing, verſ.11. See Numb.19.

V. 12. whither thou ſhalt goe] For the neceſſities of nature.

V. 13. a paddle upon thy weapon] Or, beſides thy weapons, or, among thy weapons. Which, what it was, may be known by the uſe to which it is put in this verſe; which ſheweth that Gods people ſhould be pure both in ſoule, and body: and by this curioſitie concerning bodily defilements, he meant to admoniſh them to be ſo much more curious of the cleanneſſe of the ſoule, as it is more excellent then the body.

V. 14. walketh in the midſt] Becauſe the Arke, which was the ſign of Gods eſpeciall preſence, was placed in the midſt of the Camps of Iſrael.

V. 15. not deliver] This is meant of the Heathen, who fled from their Maſters crueltie eſpecially, and embraced true Religion: who were not to be given up to their Maſters, untill they had given over their wrath, and were reconciled unto them.

V. 18. hire of a whore] Hereby is forbidden that any gain of evill things ſhould be applyed to the ſervice of God, Mic. 1.7. but the Pope takes tribute of whores; and Papiſts hold the price of whoredome to be baſe, but not unjuſt.

or of a dog] Haply becauſe the impudence of luſt is compared to that of dogs, wherefore ſuch as were moſt ſhameleſſe were called Cynickes from dogs: ſome take it to be the price of ſome dog of moſt uſe, let out for hire to breed others of the ſame race; or of the price of the firſt of the litter, which was neither to be offered nor redeemed, as the firſtling of an Aſſe was, Exod.13.13.

V. 19. upon uſury] See Annot. on Exod.22.25.

V. 20. unto a ſtranger] This was permitted for a time, partly for the hardneſſe of their hearts, as bils of divorce; but by a ſtranger was to be underſtood one rather of another religion, then of another nation; for if he were a convert to the Iſraelitiſh Religion, he was to be accompted as a brother, Levit. 25. 35,36.

V. 21. sinne in thee] If thou shouldest not pay, or performe what thou hast vowed.

V. 23. keepe and performe] If the vow be lawfull, and godly.

V. 24. neighbours vineyard] Orchard, or Olive-yard, being hired to labour in it, or such as occasionally passe by them, or through them, if necessitie urge them, they may take some refreshing; as the Disciples did passing through corn-fields which they sowed not, Matth. 12. 1.

put any into thy vessell] To bring home to thy house.

CHAP. XXIIII.

bill of divorcement] Hereby God approveth not the fickleness of mens affections, in a light, or causelesse leaving of their wives, Mal. 2. 16. but permitteth a parting, for prevention of danger through dislike, Matth. 19. 6,7,8,9. In this bill, (which was a schedule, or writing) he gave her a release of the bands of marriage, and libertie to goe whither she would, and to marry whom she would: this seemeth to be rather at the husbands choice to give the wife a bill of divorce, then at the wives, to give one to the husband; which was not allowed among the Jewes; as Josephus affirmeth. Antiq. l. 15. cap. 11.

V. 4. may not take her again to be his wife, after that she is defiled] That is, put away for some uncleanesse, or if she were not taken by the second man as a wife, her lying with him was an uncleanesse; and such a putting away for a time only, might occasion an unlawfull love of one mans wife to be another mans bed-fellow: by this debarring of the husband of libertie to resume her that was divorced, he might be the lesse forward to put away his wife. See Malach. 2. 14,15,16. Yet before she was taken to the bed of another, he might take her again; but not after, though she were again divorced.

cause the land to sinne] If such lightnesse and lewdnesse should be practised, or permitted; it would draw a guilt of sinne upon the people, and a curse upon the land, Psal. 107. 34.

V. 5. with any businesse] Which may cause him to breake off cohabitation with his new married wife.

V. 6. milstone] (Whether upper, or nether, because without both he cannot grind,) nor any thing whereby a man getteth his living, which therefore is called his life in this verse.

V. 7. stealing] See Annot. on Exod. 21. 16.

V. 8. of the plague of leprosie] Which thou mayest incurre by contempt of their authoritie, or contumacy against it, who are set over thee, whether in the Church, or in the Commonweale. See 2 Chron. 26. 19. Numb. 12. 10.

V. 10. not goe into his house] Although thou mayst appoint what to have, yet thou shalt receive for a pledge, what he may spare, and will willingly part withall.

V. 12. sleepe with his pledge] What pledge is here meant, is plaine by the following verse: and by this God admonished the lender to take such a pledge, (if any at all) as he should not need often to return, and resume.

V. 13. Sun goeth down] See Annot. on Exod. 22. 26.

before the Lord] As done with respect to Gods presence, and knowledge: though he may be unthankfull, yet God will not forget it; but accept it as an act of conformitie to his own law, and so farre righteous; and withall as mercifull to man, as righteous before God.

V. 16. The children] Which is a law for man to follow, but God, to whom all both parents and children are guiltie of sinne, and who is supreme Lord of life and death, is not bound unto it. See Annot. on Exod. 20. vers. 5. & Josh. 7. 24. & 2 Sam. 25. vers. 22. P. Martyr in 2 Sam. 21. fol. 304. a.

V. 17. The stranger] Who being unknown, and without friends, was most like to be wronged by false accusations, and other hard measure; therefore God hath so much the more care of their comfortable condition, as men have the lesse.

V. 18. Therefore I command thee] To doe justice, and to shew mercy to strangers, to the fatherlesse, and widow, of oppressing whom thou shouldest be the more apprehensive, because thou thy selfe wast oppressed in Egypt, and thou must shew thy selfe thankfull for thy deliverance by charitable offices toward those that need: for he will not judge them mindfull of his benefits, who are not beneficiall unto others.

V. 19. not goe again to fetch it] A mercifull oblivion is to be preferred before a just remembrance. This care of the poore is observable, Levit. 19. 9. wherein men were to be so free, that they should rather remember to leave a portion for the poore, Joseph. Antiq. lib. 4. cap. 81. then fetch that home, which by forgetfulnesse was left behind.

CHAP. XXV.

Vers. 2. Beaten] When the crime deserveth not death.

V. 3. fourtie stripes] Every fault, that deserved not death, was not to be punished with fourtie stripes; for correction must be done according to the proportion of the fault, vers. 2. but the punishment of any fault (which was not capitall) must not exceed the number of fourtie stripes, of which the Jews used to abate one, lest they should by miscounting go one beyond: yet sometimes it is like some of them did not out of mercy make that stint; but out of crueltie, that they might begin their accompt again the sooner; it might be so with Saint Paul, when as we read, 2 Cor. 11. 24. he five times received fourtie stripes save one, (as it is probable for preaching five times against their minds) the keeping backe of that one might bring thirtie nine more upon his back the sooner; and so for that one, he might have one hundred fifty and six: so cruell are the mercies of some wicked men. Some think these stripes were given with a whip of three leather thongs, wherewith having given thirteene blowes, they made accompt they had given thirtie nine stripes, which was one lesse then the just number, for three times thirteen is thirtie nine.

V. 3. vile] As if he were rather a slave, then a brother; or rather a beast, then a man; and by use of extreme tyranny in this kind, mens hearts might be hardened in cruell contempt of those, whom they should love and esteeme; hating the sinne, and not hurting the sinner; but so as may tend to his greater good. Or, he might become vile by extremitie of paine falling downe to the ground, as halfe dead, or by loosing the ligaments of the retentive facultie.

V. 4. treadeth out] There were many waies to bring the graine out of the eare of Corn, as threshing Instruments, 2 Sam. 24. ver. 22. beating with a staffe, bringing the wheele over the eare, Isa. 28. vers. 27,28. and here by treading of the oxe, (which was in use not onely with the Jewes, Hose. 10. 11. but with Romanes, Greeks, and other Nations, Varro de re Rustica, l. 1. c. 12. Columella de re Rustica l. 2. c. 21.) who while he was laboured, was not to have his mouth muzzled; but might feed himselfe, while he prepared food for man; and had as much liberty to his meat, as his Master had authoritie over his worke. Saint Paul applies this to the maintenance of the labourers in the Gospel: See 1 Cor. 9. verf. 9.

V. 5. her husbands brother] Or next kinsman, for the Hebrew word Jabham, signifieth not onely a naturall brother, but also a kinsman; so it may be that it is not meant that the naturall brother should marry his brothers wife, but some other of the kindred, who was in that degree which might marry: yet it may be a naturall brother, as Onan was to Er: See Annot. on Gen. 38. vers. 8. and if there were many brothers, this rule was, when as one died, successively to be observed by the surviving brother; but this was to have place onely where the brother died altogether childlesse; for if he had no sonne, but a daughter, there was another rule to be observed for continuation of the name and family of the deceased, Num. 36. vers. 2,3. so that besides the case of extreme necessitie, when the brother died altogether childlesse, the Negative precept, Levit. 18. 16. & 20. 21. stood in force.

V. 6. in the name] That is, in the stead, for it was not necessary that the name of the first husband should be put upon the sonne of the second; for the sonne of Boaz by Ruth, was not called Mahlon, the name of her first husband, but Obed. See Ruth 4. vers. 10. &c.

V. 9. loose his shooe] Loosing of the shooe, and giving it, Ruth 4. 7,8. was a ceremonie of alienation of land, whereby the seller resigning up his land to the buyer, made tender of his shooe: signifying that not he, but the buyer had the right to tread on that ground from that time forward. In this case the like ceremony was used but with another intimation, which was to keepe a memoriall of contempt to the unkind brother who was held as worthy to goe barefoot, in that he would not uphold the name of, and raise up seed unto his brother.

spit on his face] Or, on the ground before him, as in contempt and defiance of him.

that will not build up] By raising him issue to uphold his family. See Annot. on Exod. 1. vers. 21.

V. 12. cut off her hand] Because by such an act, she may maime the man, and utterly disable him from being a father; and because she sheweth her selfe to be a very impudent woman; and it is an horrible thing to see a woman past shame.

V. 13. a great and a small] For deceitfull bargainings to buy by the great weight, and to sell by the small; see Pro. 20. 10.

V. 18. and

V. 18. and smote the hindmost] This belongeth to the story of the warre of the Amalekites against the Israelites, Exod.17. yet there this particular is not mentioned, the wisdome of the Holy Ghost holding it fittest to be mentioned in this place; the like is observed of other passages before.

V. 19. blot out the remembrance] This was partly accomplished by Saul about foure hundred and fiftie yeares afterward, 1 Sam.15.verſ.2,3. and further pursued by the Simeonites in Hezekiahs dayes, 1 Chron.4.42. and yet further, when Queen Esther prevailed against Haman and his ten sonnes, Esth. 7. 10. & 9. 12, 13. who were slips of that corrupt and accursed stock of Amalek.

CHAP. XXVI.

Verſ.2. The first of all] By this Ceremony they acknowledged that they received the Land of Canaan as a free gift of God: this oblation was yearely, and the time of the yeare when it was made, was the feast of Tabernacles, Num.18. verſ.12. See Levit.23.19.

to place his Name] To be called upon, served and worshipped: See Annot. on Chap.16.2.

V. 5. A Syrian] Meaning Jacob, who lived twenty yeares in Syria with Laban, who was the sonne of Bethuel the Syrian, Gen. 28. verſ.5.

ready to perish] By the deadly hate of his brother Esau purposing to kill him, Gen. 27. verſ.41. and his approaching towards him with foure hundred men in an hostile manner, Gen. 33. verſ. 1. and his hard service unto Laban, wherein he was consumed by drought in the day, and frost in the night, Gen. 31. verſ.40. and lastly, ready to perish by the famine in Canaan, whence he removed into Egypt for necessary sustenance to preserve his life, Gen.42.1,2,&c.

V. 7. when we cried] Alledging the promises made to our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

V. 9. floweth with] See Annot. on Exod.3.v.8.

V. 10. thou shalt set] Thou shalt bring it neere the place where it shall be set, but the Priest shall take it out of thy hand and place it, verſ.4.

before the Lord] That is, before the Altar of the Lord, v.4.

V. 11. rejoyce] See Chap.12.verſ.7.

the third yeare] See Deut.14. verſ.28.

V. 13. before the Lord] That is, sincerely, as in his presence, without all guile or hypocrisie.

V. 14. my mourning] That is, being ceremonially uncleane by mourning for, and buriall of the dead; for none such might eate thereof, Levit.7.verſ.20. See Hos. 9. 4. It was to be eaten with rejoycing, as in manner of feasting, Deut. 16. verſ. 11. 15. See Annot. on verſe the twelfth of this Chapter, and Chap.28. verſ. 47.

for any uncleane] Common or profane use, or for any uncleane person to eate thereof.

for the dead] To furnish the funerall of the dead, or the sacrifice offered to dumbe and dead Idols, Psal.106.verſ.28.

according to all] As farre as sinfull nature would suffer; for else, as David and Paul say, there is not one just, Psal.14. verſ.3. Rom.3. verſ.10.

V. 17. Thou hast avouched] The Covenant betwixt God and his people consists of mutuall conditions; on the peoples part the conditions are faith, whereby they embrace him, and relye upon him as their God; and obedience to his commandements as their Law-maker and Governor.

V. 18. the Lord hath avouched] On Gods part the conditions are to take them for his peculiar people; which implyeth both his protection of them, and provision for them; both for this life and the next.

CHAP. XXVII.

Verſ.1. I Command you] That is, Moses Gods Minister: Or, God by his Minister Moses.

V. 2. great stones, and plaister] These were not stones for building of an Altar; but beeing smoothed over with plaister, they served for another use noted in the next verse.

V. 3. write upon them] What was written, see Annot. v. 8. and for the reason why, we may conceive it to be, for that God would have his Law set up in the borders of the Land of Canaan, that all that looked thereon might know that the Land was dedicated to his service; and that the twelve Tribes (according to whose number it is probable the stones were twelve) were especially obliged to obedience to the Law of God, upon their actuall possession of the promised Land.

V. 4. mount Ebal] See the Annot. on verſ.12.

V. 5. iron toole] The Altar should not be curiously wrought, because it was to continue but for a time: for God would have but one Altar in Judah; and as yet the Arke not having a certaine place, the Altar was to be but such a one as might serve for the present occasion, and afterwards be easily demolished.

V. 8. upon the stones] That is, not upon the stones of the Altar, verſ. 5, 6. but upon the stones which were plaistered, verſ. 4.

this law] Not the whole Booke of Deuteronomie, or Exodus; but the principall part of the Law, which is the ten Commandements, with some other selected parcels of most use for edification of the people, which were (as some conceive) the blessings and cursings upon Mount Gerezzim and Mount Ebal, verſ. 12,13.

very plainly] So that it may be easily and readily read by those who are least skilfull in reading.

V. 9. this day thou art become] See Annot. on Chap. 26. verſ. 17, 18.

V. 12. These shall stand] See Annot. on Chap.11.29.

upon] Josh.8.33. It is said, over against; yet no contradiction: for they that stood upon the one stood over against the other.

mount Gerezzim] Is a Mountaine neere the Citie Shechem, Judg.9.7. Neere unto it, (onely a little valley betwixt them) is Mount Ebal, which verſ.4. was named before Mount Gerezzim, because the curses after-mentioned pronounced from the top of Ebal, take up a very great part of the Chapter.

Simeon, and] Onely the Tribes who were borne of the wives of Jacob, Leah, and Rachel, (though not all of them (for Reuben and Zebulun were the sonnes of Leah, and stood upon Mount Ebal) are named first, and have the more honourable part applied to them, which is to assist at the pronouncing of blessings upon Mount Gerezzim.

Joseph] Meaning Ephraim and Manasseh his sonnes, in whom he had a double portion; for they were each of them reputed, and provided for as severall Tribes.

V. 13. curse] Signifying, that if they would not obey God for love, they shall be made to obey for feare.

V. 14. the Levites] That is, the Priests of the Tribe of Levi, Josh.8.33. standing with the Arke in the valley betwixt two hils, whose office from God, was to pronounce not onely blessings, Numb. 6. 23. at which they looked towards Mount Gerezzim; but curses, at which they turned their faces toward Mount Ebal, to which the Tribes fore-named were (by their presence and saying, Amen) to signifie their assent.

loud voyce] So loud that all might heare; or those who were neere, beginning their Amen with a loud voyce, the rest might take it from them; and from them againe others, till it went through all the company.

V. 15. image] Under this he containeth all the corruption of Gods service against the first Table.

in a secret place] God will not indure Idolatry in secret: much lesse when it is committed with publique scandall.

say, Amen] That is, some of them shall say, Amen, at the pronunciation of the blessings; some at the denunciation of the curses, as they are before distributed among the Tribes.

Amen] Signifieth truth: or, be it true: and that either importeth a protestation, that it shall be so; or a prayer, that it may be so.

V. 17. land-marke] To enlarge his owne portion, and to take from another mans: or diminish the inheritance of his father, to gratifie a friend. See 1 King.21.3. Deut. 19. 14.

V. 18. blind to wander] When their eyes should father guide him, and their hands lead him in the right way. See Job 29.15.

V. 20. fathers skirt] See Annot. on Chap.22.30.

V. 26. to doe them] Conformitie in worke, is the best confirming of the words of the Law; yet the Law is so perfect, and all men since the fall so imperfect; that it is not onely a rule for our life, but a rod, upon discovery of our failings, to make us runne to Christ the Lord of life, for safetie against the second death, Gal. 3. 24.

CHAP. XXVIII.

THis Chapter is, for the materiall contents of it, much like the 26. of Leviticus, the clearing whereof, may be a sparing of some labour in the expounding of this.

V. 7. ſeven wayes] That is, many wayes; a certaine number for an uncertaine; as verſ.25.

V. 8. command the bleſſing] We obtaine bleſſings by intreaty, but God beſtoweth them by command; ſince the creatures can no more reſiſt his power in their uſe, then in their eſſence, when at firſt he commanded their being.

V. 10. the Name of the Lord] That is, the Lords children, as Chap.14.1. Or, his peculiar people, Chap. 26.18.

afraid of thee] The holy league betwixt God and his people, is matter of terrour to thoſe, who otherwiſe would be a terrour to them. See Exod. 23.22.

V. 12. treaſure, the heaven] Heaven is the treaſure of every bleſſing; even thoſe which are moſt earthly, have their Originall from thence.

V. 13. and not the taile] A proverbiall ſpeech importing high preheminence, or a ſecurity from contempt.

V. 15. not hearken] To hearken is more then to heare, for that compehendeth hearing with attention, and with a ready diſpoſition to actuall obedience.

V. 20. periſh quickly] Plagues ſhall come on apace, treading on the feet of one another, like Jobs meſſengers, making haſte to make thee quickly miſerable many wayes. See Job Chap.1.

V. 23. braſſe] See Annot. on Levit.26.19.

V. 24. powder and duſt] That is, in ſtead of raine; by exceeding great drought, graines of duſt ſhall aſcend into the aire with the winde, and come downe as the drops of raine in a ſhower, when it is kindly weather.

V. 26. carkaſſe] Thou ſhalt be curſed both in thy life, and in thy death, and after it; for thy buriall is a teſtimony of the reſurrection, which ſigne, for thy wickedneſſe, thou ſhalt want, being left a prey to be devoured by the fowles of the aire, and the beaſts of the earth.

V. 27. botch of Egypt] See Exod.9.9.

Emerods] A diſeaſe proceeding principally of the exceſſe, and malignitie of melancholy bloud in the heads of the veines of the fundament, which ſometimes bleed; and ſometimes gather into knots with a painfull ſwelling, called by ſome the Piles.

V. 29. grope at noone day] In things evident and cleare, thou ſhalt lack diſcretion and judgement to doe what is beſt, or to prevent, and avoid the worſt.

V. 32. to another people] Carried captive to another Nation, verſ.41.

V. 32. thine eyes ſhall looke] When they ſhall returne from their captivitie.

V. 36. and thy King] As he did Manaſſeh, Joachim, Zedekiah, and others; for they have no more priviledge to offend, nor protection from puniſhment, then their meaneſt ſubjects.

ſerve other Gods] There is no God but one, Iſa.44.8. the maker of all things; but there are many gods made by the fond fancies of men; theſe they ſhall be made to ſerve, either blinded in their underſtandings, or forced againſt their conſciences. See Dan.3.19,&c.

V. 40. caſt his fruit] It ſhall periſh before it come to maturitie.

V. 42. locuſt conſume] Under one kinde is contained all the vermine which deſtroy the fruit of the land, which ſometimes ſucceed and prey upon the leavings of each other; as Joel 1.4.

V. 43. very high] Heb. high, high.

very low] Heb. low, low.

V. 44. and thou the taile] See Annot. on verſ.13.

V. 46. for a ſigne] Of Gods great indignation, which ſhall be evident upon thee.

for a wonder] That a people once ſo happy in Gods favour, ſhould be ſo unwiſe and wicked, as to deſerve ſo great a change.

V. 49. as the Eagle flyeth] With ſwiftneſſe of her wings, greedineſſe of prey, without any reſpect or pity: ſuch were their enemies mentioned, Jer.4.13. Lam.4.19. & Ezek.17.3. See Dan. 7.4.

V. 53. the fruit of thine owne body] See Levit.26.29.

V. 55. not give to any of them] That is, neither to his brother, nor to his wife, nor to a remnant of his children, whom yet he hath not eaten.

V. 57. betweene her feet] See Annot. on Gen.49.10.

V. 58. to doe all] For he that willingly offendeth in one point, is guilty of all; becauſe in a willing breach of one, he contemns the Authour of the Law; and he that contemns him in one point, obeyes him not in any, James 2. 10. For though he obſerve the matter of the Law, he doth it for ſome other reaſon, then the Word, or Law of God; and ſo to him it is no obedience.

feareſull Name] The name of God is ſometimes put for God himſelfe; as Pſal.20.1. ſo here.

V. 61. not written] Though God hath threatened many ſorts of puniſhments in expreſſe termes, yet he hath many more plagues in ſtore, then are committed to record, or writing.

V. 63. rejoyce over you to deſtroy] Not as a worke of miſery to the creature, Ezek.33.11. but as an execution of juſtice upon the ſinner.

V. 64. ſerve other gods] See Annot.on verſ.36.

V. 68. with ſhips] In mentioning Ships, he gives them occaſion to remember their paſſage through the Sea without Ships, by Gods miraculous making of the water to give way unto them, Exod.14.21,22.29. and to ſtand as a wall on each ſide their paſſage, and afterward to turne, and overwhelme their enemies. This mention of Ships by Moſes, confutes the fiction of them who faine there were no Ships until about fourty yeares before the laſt Trojan warres, which is later then this record of Moſes by above two hundred yeares: and although this be a prophecie for after-times, he ſpeaketh of Ships as things then known to thoſe, to whom he ſpake.

by the way whereof I ſpake] That is, that miraculous way foretold by God, and fore-mentioned by Moſes, Exod.14.16. thou ſhat not goe that way nor ſhalt ſee that way any more; for that is covered with the Sea, which no more ſhall be divided to ſhew the bare ground for thy paſſage, as once it did. Or, no more that long and winding way by many turnings and changes to and fro, backward or forward in the wilderneſſe; and when many hundreds of yeares after, the Jewes (upon the taking of Jeruſalem by the Romanes) were ſold captives many wayes, and ſome were carried into Egypt partly by Ships, partly by the way of the wilderneſſe; yet was not their paſſage in the ſame road or way whereby they paſſed out of Egypt towards Canaan.

ſold] That is, ſet to ſale, and they ſhall be ſo vile, and contemptible, that none ſhall bid any money for them: or, they ſhall be ſold, and none ſhall buy them againe by way of redemption; and hereof read Joſephus of the warres of the Jews, lib. 17. cap. 16.

CHAP. XXIX.

Verſ.1. Beſide the covenant] The ſame in ſubſtance, but not altogether the ſame, but much varied with ſundry additions of explanation, admonition, with ſome new commands, comminations, and benedictions, which were not mentioned in the former Edition of the Covenant; in which reſpect it may be ſaid to be diverſe from the former: ſo diverſe as if it were another beſides it.

V. 2. Moſes called] It is not like that all this was delivered at once, but that the people diſmiſſed, having heard ſome part before, were called together againe to heare the reſt.

ye have ſeene] See Annot. on Exod.19. verſ.4.

V. 3. temptations] Trials or proofes of Gods power. See Annot. on Chap. 7. v. 19.

V. 4. not given you] They had both ſenſuall eyes and eares, but a ſpirituall apprehenſion and uſe of thoſe great workes they had not; and they had it not, becauſe God had not given it unto them; ſo that wonders without the worke of grace, will not availe for mans converſion; but grace without them, will be ſufficient for faith and ſalvation.

V. 5. clothes not waxed old] See Annot. on Chap.8.v.4.

V. 6. not eaten bread] Made by mans art, but Manna, which is the bread of Angels, Pſal.78.verſ.24,25.

nor drinke wine] For your drinke hath beene as miraculous as your bread; water fetched out of the rock, Numb.20. v.11. Pſal.78. v.15,16.

that ye might know] By a miraculous ſupply of your wants of both; how great a God I am in power, how able to provide for my people without ordinary meanes.

V. 10. all of you] All of what difference ſoever, by ſexe, by age, ſtature, or ſtate, muſt be made to know what they are bound to keepe.

before the Lord] Who ſeeth you, though you ſee not him; and in you ſeeth what man cannot ſee; (your hearts) and therefore you may not thinke to diſſemble with him in making of the Covenant, nor in a guilefull obſervation of it.

V. 11. thy ſtranger] Such as came with thee out of Egypt, and left their Idolatrous Religion behind them.

from the hewer] A proverbiall ſpeech, as from a thread to a ſhoe-latchet. Gen.14. v.23.

V. 12. enter] Heb. paſſe. Alluding to them who when they made a ſure covenant divided a beaſt, and paſt betweene the parts divided. See Annot. on Gen.15.10.

V. 13. a people unto himſelfe] Chap.28. v.9.

V. 15. that is not here] Meaning your poſterity.

V. 16. paſſed by] To come through (as is ſaid before) and to paſſe by (as here) ſeeme repugnant; but the meaning is, that they came through ſome parts of the Nations, where they ſaw their Idols, verſ.17. and paſſed by others; or that though they came through them they made no ſtay among the people, but as wayfaring men paſſed away.

V. 18. Leſt there ſhould be] He propoſeth the Covenant in generall termes both for thoſe that are and thoſe that ſhall be, Verſ. 14, 15. leſt any one ſhould expect a priviledge from the curſe, if he doe tranſgreſſe: or this word (leſt) may be anſwered by verſ. 20. leſt any one ſhould doe ſo, the Lord profeſſeth he will not ſpare him.

root that beareth] That is, a corrupt heart, whence proceed evill words and deeds, which are bitter leaves and fruit; bitter by repentance, if they be pardoned; and bitter by paine, if they be puniſhed; and unto God as diſtaſtefull, as the bittereſt gall can be unto man. And though it be in the root, and that hidden in the ground, yet it is as well known to God, as that which is in the branches or fruit obvious to the view or taſte of man.

V. 23. brimſtone and ſalt] The heat of brimſtone and ſalt dry up the fruitfull juyce of the earth, and make it barren; wherefore Abimelech when he had overthrown the Citie of Sichem, ſowed the ground with ſalt, Judg. 9. 45. See Pſal. 107. 34. text and margine. Jer. 17. 6.

V. 28. as it is this day] Theſe words are not to be taken as ſpoken by Moſes himſelfe, or as if the condition of the people were in his time ſuch as is ſaid, verſ. 22. but they are ſpoken as of the time when the Propheey ſhould come to paſſe, as in the name and by thoſe who ſhould ſee it accompliſhed.

V. 29. the ſecret things] Theſe words are not, as the former, the words of God, but of Moſes; and they are an Epiphonema, or a Sententious concluſion of that which went before, wherein mention is made concerning curſes and judgements, in which there are many ſecrets, which men cannot ſearch into; as the wicked thoughts of men, and their privy practiſes, Chap. 27. verſ. 15. what manner of curſe ſhall come upon men for their ſinnes, as they are particularly named, Chap. 27. verſ. 15, &c. and when they ſhall come, and who are impenitently guiltie of ſuch ſinnes, as deſerve theſe curſes; theſe and ſuch like ſecrets we muſt leave as locked up in Gods private Cloſet, of which the Key is in his own keeping, not in ours.

V. 29. revealed things] Are of many ſorts, but thoſe here chiefly meant, are the Rules of dutie to God and man, revealed not for contemplation, but for practiſe; and the Judgements in the generall before threatned to the tranſgreſſours of them; in which ſentence he giveth a Caveat againſt curious preſumption in prying into hidden matters; and careleſſe neglect of known Lawes.

CHAP. XXX.

Verſ. 1. BLeſſing and the curſe] Firſt the bleſſing, the ungratefull neglect, and the ungracious abuſe whereof deſerveth the curſe: or, the bleſſing to thoſe that keepe the Law, the curſe to ſuch as breake it.

hath driven thee] Upon preſuppoſall of their great ſinne, he foretelleth their puniſhment, whereof he ſpeaketh by way of aſſurance as if it were already come upon them.

V. 3. turn thy captivitie] That is, return thee out of thy captivitie.

V. 4. utmoſt parts of heaven] As farre upon earth, as there is heaven beyond or above it.

fetch thee] And bring thee into thy countrey.

V. 6. circumciſe thy heart] See Annot. on Chap. 10. verſ. 16.

V. 11. not hidden from thee] The Law is ſo evident that none can pretend he is ignorant of it.

V. 13. beyond the ſea] By heaven, verſ. 12. and ſea here, he meaneth places moſt diſtant.

V. 14. very nigh] So neere, that it is within thy nature, and thou canſt not pretend any ignorance of it, for it is by word of mouth revealed to thee; and that thou mayſt not forget it, it ſhall be written for thee, Chap. 31. verſ. 9.

that thou mayſt doe it] By faith in Chriſt, for ſo his obedience is made ours, and without it, mans obedience is very imperfect, not onely becauſe he cannot doe all he ſhould; but becauſe he doth not all he might in outward exerciſes and duties of devotion.

V. 16. love] So that to love and obey God, is the meanes to eſcape death, and to obtaine life eternall.

to keepe his Commandements] Though God command to keepe his Commandements, it doth not follow, that it is in mans power to performe them, (no more then it was in the power of Lazarus to deliver himſelfe from whence Chriſt bade him come forth, Joh. 11. 43. and ſuch as was his corporall, is mans ſpirituall deadneſſe, Eph. 2. 1.) for the Law implyeth a right of command, and a dutie to obey; and not any abilitie thereto, or if an abilitie, an abilitie once had, though ſince loſt, when entruſted to the cuſtody of our firſt parents free-will, it was treacherouſly made away by their conſent to the evill motions of Satan.

V. 19. I call heaven] See Annot. on Chap. 4. verſ. 26.

V. 20. thy life and] That is, effectively the Cauſe, or Chriſt the Author of life and length of dayes, for in him we live, move, and have our being, that is, by power and vertue from him, Act. 17. 28.

CHAP. XXXI.

Verſ. 1. VVEnt and ſpake] That is, (as ſome take it) Moſes went to the people aſſembled together, and to them aſſembled, ſpake as followeth: but it may be went and ſpake, is he went on in ſpeaking; or began againe to ſpeake: for the Hebrewes uſe to phraſe beginning by going or riſing.

V. 2. an hundred and twentie yeares old] His yeares might have made him too aged to beare ſo great a burden, yet his ſight was not dimme, nor his naturall force decayed when he dyed, Deut. 34. 7. but the chiefe reaſon was, he knew though he were neither ſicke nor weake, he muſt quickly die, verſ. 14. and muſt not lead the people over Jordan, as he ſaith in the next words, and that Joſhua was deſigned to take the Charge which he laid down: and he complaineth of his age to make them the more to accept of a younger man for their Governour in his ſtead.

no more goe out and come in] That is, doe the office of a Captain to lead the people forth to warre, and to bring them home backe againe in peace.

V. 3. and Joſhua] He joyneth the Lord and Joſhua together, that the people may have the better hope of his happy guidance, who, though he were before but a Miniſter or ſervant to Moſes; was now to be Commander in Chiefe under God, as himſelfe had been; and whatſoever difference they conceived betwixt them as men, they were to expect, that he as guided and aſſiſted by God, would be a ſufficient Conductor of them to the poſſeſſion of the promiſe; and therefore they might follow him with confidence, and muſt follow him with obedience, rather as ſecond onely to God, then as Succeſſour to himſelfe.

V. 4. as he did to Sihon] God is the ſame in future, that he was in former favours to his people, and judgements to their enemies; if they be not rebels againſt him, or revolters from him.

unto the land] That is, the inhabitants of the Land.

V. 5. Before your face] They ſhall ſo flie or fall before you, that you ſhall perceive that you prevaile by the power of the Lord.

V. 6. Be ſtrong and of] For he that muſt govern his people (ſpecially ſo numerous and apt to murmure) hath need to be valiant to repreſſe vice, and conſtant to maintaine vertue.

V. 8. The Lord is he that doth] Gods aſſiſtance is the ſureſt ground of couragious confidence.

V. 9. this Law] That is, the booke of Deuteronomie.

to the prieſts] Who were to be moſt converſant in it, that they might the better inſtruct the people out of it, eſpecially in the yeare of releaſe, which was every ſeventh yeare, Exod. 23. 11. when it was ſolemnly and entirely to be read unto them, verſ. 11. of this Chapter.

which bare the Arke] The Arke is mentioned here by occaſion of the booke, which was laid up in the ſide of it: and for the bearing of the Arke, there is ſome doubt whether it belonged to the Prieſts onely, or to the Levites with them, or whether to either, as Prieſts, or as Levites. Some conceive that the Prieſts muſt beare the Arke, and not the Levites; and therefore that Uzzah being but a Levite when he touched it, was ſmitten, becauſe he preſumed upon the charge of the Prieſts; but it appeares that the Levites, (which were the ſonnes of Cohath, who had the charge of the Arke, Numb. 3. 31.) did carry it, as verſ. 25. of this Chapter, though not onely, nor alwayes; for at ſome extraordinary times the Prieſts did beare it, Joſh. 3. 13. & 1 King. 8. 3. yet with this difference, that the Prieſts might, and ſomtimes did it upon eſpeciall occaſion, to teſtifie their pietie, or for greater ſolemnitie: but the Levites muſt doe it, as a part of their ſervice in ordinary. See 1 Chron. 15. 2. And yet might they not touch any of the holy things they carried, untill they were covered by Aaron and his ſonnes the Prieſts, Numb. 4. 15. and therefore the ſinne of Uzzah, whether Prieſt or Levite, was not onely, for that he and the reſt ſuffered the Arke to be carried on a Cart, (which they ſhould have born on their ſhoulders) but for that he either fained a perill of falling, and ſo ſeemed hypocritically to ſuppott it; or that he tooke the boldneſſe irreverently to touch ſome part of it, for which he ought to be ſmitten as he was, Numb. 4. 15.

V. 10. yeare of releaſe] Every ſeventh yeare was a yeare of releaſe. See Annot. on Chap. 15. 1, 2.

V. 11. before the Lord] Before the Arke of the Covenant, which was the ſigne of Gods preſence, and the figure of Chriſt.

Thou ſhalt read] It is not ſaid who in particular, but it is like the ſervice was performed by ſome eminent perſon in the Prieſt-hood, as by Ezra, who is called both a Scribe, and a Prieſt, Nehem. 8. 1, 2. A Scribe as he was a Writer of the Law, and

Cap. 29. v. 28. Cast them, or sent them: In the Hebrew, the word Cast hath an extraordinary great Letter, to signify the greatness of this punishment. Baal Haturim noteth upon it, There is a great Lame and want of God, to teach that there is no casting away like that of the Ten Tribes. Whereof see 2 Kings 17. 18, 23. Ainsworth.

29. Secret — If any one moved with unwarrantable curiosity shall enquire, What is this other remote, Western Land into which they shall be cast? Secret things &c. Rom. 11. 33.

32.8. When the most High divided.
As when there was a Division made of the habitable parts of the Earth to the Sons of Adam, there was an Assignation of that good Land of Canaan, in the eye of God, to the Children of Israel (which seems to be the sense & importance of that difficult place Deut 32.8) So was there an Allotment in the Counsel of God, of these Ends of the earth unto this part of our Nation for the Bounds of their Habitation.
This Wilderness was the place which God decreed to make a Canaan to you. And what He thought in his Heart, He hath fulfilled with his Hand, in bringing you to this good Land, and providing Wonderfully for your Well-being here.
Mr. Urian Oakes, his Elect. Sermon, p. 17.

and a Priest as a Reader, and Expounder of it to the people, and a Sacrificer to God.

V. 12. children] Children must be timely instructed in the Law of God, that they may be inured unto it, and habituated in it before they come to be men; for young Saints are most like to be old Saints, (though one of the devils Proverbs cals them the old devils.)

V. 14. in the Tabernacle] The Tabernacle is sometime taken for the whole space, or place, which was marked, and bounded out for holy uses, and not for the curious Tent of curtains, Exod. 26.10,11,&c. Here it is taken for that part of the Court which was neere the doore of the Tabernacle; for into the Tabernacle it selfe none but the Priest might enter.

V. 15. pillar of a cloud] That is, a cloud in forme, and fashion of a pillar, as the flaming sword, was fire in forme of a sword, Gen.3.vers.last.

V. 17. hide my face] That is, I will take my favour from them; as to turne his face towards them, is to shew them his favour.

V. 19. this song] See Annot. on Vers. 30.

a witnesse] For me against their disobedience and ingratitude, and against their obstinacy, or stupiditie, who, though they were warned of the wretched end of wicked works, would not beware.

V. 20. then will they turn] Outward prosperitie, though good for the body, may be bad for the soule; for many will no longer obey God, then they are under his rod, who turne their prosperitie, which should be a cause of their obedience to God, to an occasion of contempt against God.

V. 21. testifie against them] That their owne wickednesse wrought their woe, and that their sufferings were but the just reward of their disobedience.

which they goe about] There were some so ill-minded among them, as to meditate on mischiefe before hand, whereby they deserved their expulsion out of the land, when as yet they had not gotten possession of the Land: but God foresaw how bad they would be, and therefore fore-ordained a just reward for their wickednesse.

V. 23. and said] Hitherto God spake of, and to Joshua, but by Moses; now he speaketh to him by himselfe, and here both giveth him his charge, and encourageth him to it.

V. 26. in the side of] Or, by the side: and (as some Hebrew Rabbins note) in a chest by it selfe placed on the right side of the Arke; for there was no writing kept in it, but the two Tables of the Ten Commandements, 1 King.8.9. 2 Chron. 5. 10. And though in the Epistle to the Hebrews we read of more things in the Arke, as the golden pot of Manna, and Aarons Rod that budded, Chap.9.3. yet neither there, nor in the first of Kings, or in the second of Chronicles, is there mention of any other writing; and whereas in those two Historicall Texts it is said, there was nothing else in the Arke save the two Tables which Moses put there at Horeb; and in the Epistle to the Hebrewes the pot of Manna and Aarons Rod are said to have beene placed there: The answer is, first, that in the Arke side, is here understood by the Arke side; and as Christ is said to have suffered in Jerusalem, though precisely not in it, but neere unto it; so the pot of Manna and Aarons rod may be said to be in the Arke, though placed but by the side of it: but because they are said by the Apostle to be in the Arke, in the same phrase that is used of the Tables; the better answer is, that there is so much distance of time betwixt the story of the first of Kings and second of Chronicles, and that which is mentioned in the Epistle to the Hebrewes; that there was time enough, and changes of time great enough, that by severall turnes both might be true; and doubtlesse were so, though it be no where noted in the Scripture, when and upon what reason they were kept in, or laid up out of the Arke.

V. 28. heaven and earth to record] See Annot. on Chap.32. vers. 1.

V. 29. you will utterly corrupt] By the Spirit of propheste he foretels their defection, as a forerunner, and cause of their future affliction.

V. 30. of this song] Which followeth in the next Chapter.

CHAP. XXXII.

Vers.1. Give eare, O heavens] Here beginneth the Song spoken of vers.19. of the precedent Chapter, where he turneth his speech to the heavens, either meaning by the heavens, Angels, the Inhabitants of the heavens, and by the earth, men, the Inhabitants of the earth; as by the land, the Inhabitants of the land, Chap.31. vers.4. Or else by the heavens and the earth we may understand the heavens, and earth themselves. The meaning is, by such a passionate expression, to stirre up their apprehensions; or by appealing to the heavens, and earth, which have neither sense nor reason, nor religion, and yet obey Gods Ordinance, to shame them, who professe to have all, and against all are disobedient to him: or that upon their rebellion against God, the heavens, and the earth should both joyne in judgement against them, as is threatened, Chap. 28. vers.23.

V. 2. My doctrine shall drop] I would have my doctrine to drop from my lips upon your hearts to mollifie them; or that it may be unto them as a fruitfull dew or raine which maketh grasse, and flowers to spring, and sprout, Heb,6.2. See Isa. 55. 10.

V. 4. He is a rock] In strength, and fixednesse, a strong, and durable foundation, that cannot be removed, Isa. 26. 4. & 28. 16.

V. 5. their spot] That is, their sinne, which spotteth, and blemisheth their soules, 2 Cor.7.1. Jude vers.23.

not the spot of his children] That is, not such sinne as is of infirmitie, which his children may, and many times doe commit, but of malignitie, perversenesse, and contempt.

V. 6. O foolish people] Great ingratitude is grosse folly, and the ingratitude is great which returnes evill for good to a mans best father, and onely Maker, as God is.

V. 8. divided to the nations] This some conceive to be meant of the division by confusion of Tongues upon the building of Babel: others of assigning portions to the nations, as of Seir to the posteritie of Esau, Chap.2.5. and through the whole earth the Lord distributeth the portion to every people as pleaseth himselfe.

set bounds] Or limits, meaning the division of the Land of Canaan among the children of Israel, according to the Lords allotment; for it was done (for the most part) by lots, Num. 34. 13. and the disposition of the lot is of the Lord, Prov. 16. 33.

V. 9. the Lords portion] The Lord hath chosen the people of Israel for his peculiar portion, out of all the Nations of the world, Amos 3.2.

lot] He alludeth to the division of the Land of Canaan, as if the sonnes of Jacob had fallen to him by lot.

V. 10. He found] Not by chance, but with resolved choice he manifested himselfe to him in the wildernesse.

howling wildernesse] Because of wilde beasts, whose noise is howling, when they want provision.

V. 11. fluttereth over her young] Either to teach them to flye, or to save them from violence.

on her wings] It is noted as the peculiar propertie of the Eagle, to carry her young in her clawes, as she catcheth, or carrieth the prey; but with such tendernesse, as that she may not hurt them; and at such an height, as others may not reach them.

V. 12. the Lord alone] By the pillar of the cloud by day, and of fire by night.

V. 13. ride upon the high places] That is, triumphantly prevaile over the fenced Cities, whose wals, and towers are raised highest, Chap.33.29. Psal.45.8. Isa.58.14.

made him] The preterperfect tense as in other verses of this Chapter, used for the future tense.

hony out of the rock] Barren places, like rough, and craggy rocks, were made to yeeld fruit; or (according to the letter) swarmes of Bees made hony in the clefts of the rocks, and Olive trees prospered in stony places.

V. 14. breed of Bashan] A place of speciall note for a good breed of cattell, or for good pasture for them.

kidneys of wheat] The fatnesse of the creature appeares in the kidneys, and the best are such as are most fat; to such is the fruitfullest, fullest, and whitest flower of wheat compared. See Psal.81.61.

pure blood of the grape] That is, the liquor of it, which in some sort of grapes is red; and being pure without mixture, it is more red, and like to blood. See Annot. on Gen.49.11.

V. 15. Jesurun] The word is derived of Jesher, signifying righteousnesse, or uprightnesse; by which is meant Israel, Gods peculiar people, Isa.44.2. who should have beene upright, righteous, just in obedience to the will and law of God; but was lawlesse and unruly, and like a fatted bullock, kicked against his feeder. The Originall word Jeshurum is very rarely used, and it seemes to be made by Moses by way of allusion to an oxe, as in the manner of the figure called Paranomasia, as if he had said, Israel should be Jeshurun, but is, Scher, that is, an oxe; or a bullock.

V. 17. new gods] For all false gods are new, and young to God the Ancient of dayes, who was from everlasting, Dan.7.9.

V. 18. the Rocke that begat] He was called a Rock before, vers.4. and here the same termes continue, but with a great difference from an extraordinary Rock: for the same God who is so called, is (as a Rock is not) of a quickening and a generative power to beget sonnes and daughters, as they are called, vers.19.

V. 20. hide my face] See Annot. on Chap.31. vers.17.

see what their end] Gods hiding is a withdrawing of his favourable influence and assistance, and though he be not seene, he can see and observe, and will so see as to make others observe (and this phrase is used after an humane manner, as many others in the Scripture) as if he watched (as Moses sister did, to see what would become of him, Exod.2.4.) whereas indeed God knoweth all things concerning all creatures, at one act of understanding.

V. 21. not a people] That is, such as I have not taken for a people, as I have done Israel; nor given Lawes as a Lord unto them, nor entered any Covenant with them; to wit, the Gentiles, whom I will uphold against them, and make them victorious over them; and when their sinnes are ripe for a further rejection, and they refuse the greatest favour I can doe them, (in sending my Sonne to save them,) then I will accept of the Gentiles for my people, who embrace the Messias I send, by beliefe in him, and adherence to him: the words in this sense are applied by the Apostle, Rom. 10.19.

foolish nation] So are all blinded Gentiles, who not discerning the difference betweene the Almighty God, and impotent Idols; turn their backs upon him, and set their faces with bended knees towards them.

V. 22. to the lowest hell] Or, to the deepest part of it; A vigorous Metaphor importing a most deepe destruction, rooting out all hope of growing up, or recovering prosperitie againe. Or, by the lowest hell may be meant the extremest plagues of the other world, as well as manifold and wofull calamities in this; such terrour of the Lord might perswade men to beware of sinne, 2 Cor.5.11.

V. 24. burnt with hunger] Famine consumes the flesh and moisture, and shrivels up a young girle; so that it makes her looke like an old woman; and (as fire) makes the visage black like a coale, Lam.4.8.

V. 25. sword without, and terrour within] They shall be slaine both in the field, and at home, within their houses, and chambers.

V. 27. Were it not] Here againe, as vers. 20. God speakes after the manner of men, who doe not what otherwise they would, for feare of scandall and encouragement of the wicked. See Psal.140.8.

V. 28. a nation void of counsell] This is spoken of the Israelites, who inconsiderately went on in wickednesse, without fore-casting what would come of it, Isa.27.11. Jer.4.22.

V. 30. how should one chase] That is, one of the enemies of Israel chase a thousand Israelites, except God, who was, and would have beene their Rock of defence and refuge, had given them up to ruine.

V. 31. not as our Rock] That which was said before, is spoken in the person of God: this in the person of Moses, or the people, where comparing the true God of Israel, with the false, under the name of rocks, the enemies upon former experience of Gods power and terrour in punishing their transgression and wickednesse, (which ignorant and impotent Idols could not do) have judged the preeminence on Gods side, against them.

V. 32. their vine] (Meaning of the wicked Jewes,) is compared to the Vine of Sodome, whose fruit is abhorred, as was all that belonged to that accursed Citie, and to her wicked sister Gomorrah.

V. 33. the poyson] Their fruits are as poyson, detestable to God, and dangerous to man.

V. 34. treasures] God hath his just treasures of wrath, Rom. 2.5. answerable to the evill treasure of sinne, Matth. 12.35. which is heaped up by the wicked.

V. 35. slide in due time] Due is added by way of explication: for the wicked, though they be thought to stand too long, shall fall in due time, that is, in the time which God chuseth, as most meet for the honour of his owne justice, and for the good of the godly.

V. 36. judge his people] That is, give sentence for them by taking vengeance on them that wrong them, Psal.26.1.

repent himselfe] In favour and compassion to his servants. Of his repenting, see Annot. on Gen.6.6.

their power is gone] When there is least hope in the creature, there is most help from the Creator. See Exod.14.13.

none shut up] That is, none lying hid, as those in the Prophet Elias time, who would not bow to Baal, 1 King.14.10. & Chap.19.14.18. & 2 King.14.25,26.

V. 37. he shall say] That is, God, spoken against by the wicked, to whom he maketh answer, vers.39. & 43.

V. 38. let them rise up] This may be applied to the heathens (who oppressed Gods people) as a taunt for their Idolatry, when God takes vengeance of them for it. But withall God speakes the like words by way of bitter reproach against Idolatrous Israel, Judg. 10.14. Jer.2.28.

V. 40. lift up my hand] See Annot. on Gen.14.22. See also, Heb.6.16,17.

and say, I live for ever] That is, God protesteth by himselfe that he will doe as he saith, afterward, vers.41,42.

V. 42. from the beginning] Or, the head of revenges. That is, the chiefe of the enemies of my people. Or, from the beginning of revenges: that is, from the beginning of the enemies oppression of my people with revengefull mindes towards them; I will begin my revenges at the beginning of theirs.

V. 46. to observe to doe all] Observing to doe, or observe to doe (even) all: else the sense is not so cleare.

V. 47. For it is not a vaine] Not vaine that I command, nor shall it be in vaine that I have promised unto you. See Isa. 55.10,11.

V. 49. mount Abarim] See Annot. on Numb.27.12.

V. 50. and die in the mount] This is not a command to Moses to die, but a decree that he should die there; for he was not to kill himselfe, but to expect there untill God took away his soule to heaven.

gathered unto] See Annot. on Gen.25.8.

unto his people] Moses and Aaron were brethren, and their people on earth were the same, and being in heaven (both of them) their societie there is the same: therefore the word [his] here repeated, doth not imply they went severall wayes, or had different kindred or company in heaven: but it noteth the particular right of each to the comfort and rest with the same people; as when our Saviour saith, I ascend to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God; he meaneth not two Fathers, or two Gods; but onely one Father, and one God, Joh.20.17.

V. 51. because ye trespassed] See Annot. on Numb. 20.10, 11,12.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Vers.1. The blessing] This blessing containeth not onely a simple prayer, but an assurance of the effect thereof.

V. 2. The Lord came from] Or, unto Mount Sinai: (for the word will admit of three readings, though more usually it be rendered from, or out of it) Throughout the whole verse there is a continued metaphor, wherein God is brought in as the Sunne shewing himselfe to the people in divers places, in severall kinds and degrees of glory and goodnesse; as at Mount Sinai, God called for his people to make a Covenant with them: out of it, or from it, he went to guide them towards Canaan.

rose up from Seir] A mountaine of Idumea. The former favour was as the light before the Sunne-rising; here at Mount Seir he rose up, and shewed himselfe in speciall favour and glorious power, when in their way by Seir or Edom, the brasen Serpent (a Type of Christ the Sunne of righteousnesse arising with healing in his wings, Mal. 4.2. and a remedy against the biting of fiery Serpents) was erected. Some take it literally, as that the glory of God began to shine from Mount Seir, (the top whereof might be seene neere Sinai) and that it passed thence to Mount Sinai, becoming more and more glorious, and there settled for a time.

shined forth from mount Paran] A Mountaine in the wildernesse, neere unto which Moses made a repetition and explication of that Booke of Deuteronomie, Chap.1.vers.1. and where it is conceived by some, that God endowed the Elders of Israel with a large measure of his Spirit: and there also did he manifest his miraculous power in provision for his people by sending Quailes from heaven.

ten thousands of his Saints] That is, holy ones: meaning an infinite company of Angels: for the good Angels are all of them Saints, though Saints be not Angels; and they attended him in the solemnitie of his appearance at Sinai, from whence also was his Law delivered. See Act.7.53. Gal.3.19. Heb. 2.2.

a fiery Law] Given with the fire of terrible lightnings, Exod. 19.16,18. Or, because the Law is the rule of our ardent devotion to God, and fervent affection to our neighbours.

for them] That is, for his people.

V. 3. in thy hand] That is, in the Lords hand: by which is signified his power and protection; the person is often changed, the Spirit sometimes moving the inspired pen-men to speake of God, sometimes (upon speaking of him) ravishing their affections in devotion towards him, and moving them to speake to God.

at thy feet] Thy holy people attended upon thee at the foot of Mount Sinai. (where thy Majesty appeared) as disciples at the foot of their Teacher, Act.22.3.

V. 4. Moses commanded] The fourth and fifth verses are the words of the pious part of the people, expressing their good affection to the Law, and to Moses, by whose mediation they received it.

the inheritance] Or an hereditary law to be kept by themselves, and transmitted to their posteritie.

V. 5. King] That is, Prince, or chiefe Governour, Judg. 19.1. meaning Moses: for the kingly government, as it is described,

C. 32. V. 36. Shut up] When He shall see that none are out of the power of the Enemy, none shut up in the City, none guarded and kept safe from danger; but all doors and places lying open to the destroyer: then God repents — hastens to the rescue of his people thus exposed to trouble on every side. Caryl, Job, II. 10. p. 70.

Cap. 33. 7. bring him unto his people) Expositors are miserably tortured in scribed, 1 Sam.8.9. was not yet set up in Israel. Or, if it be meant of such an one, it is a propheſie of the Common-wealth of Israel in the reigne of Saul.

in Jeshurun] That is, in Israel. See Annot. on Chap. 32. vers.15.

V. 6. live, and not die] See Annot. on Gen. 42. 2.

let not his men be few] Or, let his men be few: For the word (not) is not in the Originall; yet it may be repeated as in Job 30.20.25. & Psal.9.18. The needy shall not alwaies be forgotten, the expectation of the poore shall perish for ever; but the word not must be repeated thus: the expectation of the poore shall not perish for ever: or, nor the expectation of the poore perish for ever. So, let Reuben live and not die; and let not his men be a number: that is, let them be few: and if the words be read without the word not, let his men be a number, (as in the Doway Bible) that number may be either few or many. The Genevah renders the words, though he be few; and thereupon the Annotation is, Reuben shall be one of the Tribes of Gods people, though for his sinne his honour be diminished, and his family but small: for he had the fewest of all his brethren the sonnes of Leah, as the account is brought in, Numb. 1. (where Levi was not numbred with them) and fewer then Naphtali one of the sonnes of Bilhah Rachels hand-maid.

V. 7. Heare the voyce of Judah, and bring him unto his people] The prayer of Moses, or voyce of Judah is not to be understood of the person of Judah; for he was dead long before this time, but of the Tribe of Judah, and of the bringing of him unto his people, some conceive to be a bringing of him with his people into the Land of Canaan, according to the desire of Caleb and Joshua, Numb. 14.8. Secondly, others take it to be a coming to his people, as a warrier returning to his people with victory over his enemies, and safetie and protection to his people; and this as well by prayers as by force of armes of the Tribe of Judah; as in the example of David who prayed devoutly, as well as fought valiantly and victoriously against his enemies; as Asa, and Jehosaphat, and Hezekiah Kings of Judah. Thirdly, the bringing of Judah to his people, is taken for the returne of the Tribe of Judah from captivitie: for though the children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together, and all that tooke them captives, held them fast, and refused to let them goe, Jer.50.33. yet the Lords promise was to bring againe the captivitie of Israel and Judah, Jer.30.3. which promise implied a condition of repentance, and that condition performed by the Tribe of Judah, and Benjamin, and some few of the other Tribes; they were restored to their people, to wit, to the poore which were left to husband the land, Jer.39.10. & 40.7. & 52.16. but the other ten Tribes generally persisting in their impenitencie continued in their captivitie.

sufficient] Give thou sufficient strength to his hands, that he may not be made a prey to his enemies.

V. 8. And of Levi] Simeon his elder brother, who was joyned with him in the curse of Jacob, was not here made his partner in the blessing of Moses: for he is not mentioned at all: the reason is thought to be, because that Tribe was exceedingly defiled with fornication spirituall and corporall; and though Levi had his part in the slaughter of the Shechemites, and curse of Jacob for it; yet is his Tribe here blessed by Moses, because of his zeale against Idolatrie, Exod. 32. 26, 27, &c.

Thummim and Urim] Or, Urim and Thummim. See Annot. on Exod.28.30.

thy holy One] Thy High Priest dedicated unto thee by a peculiar consecration.

Massah] Signifieth temptation, probation or triall; and so the words may be read, whom thou doest prove with a probation, that is, with some great speciall triall.

Meribah] Of Meribah, see Numb. 20. 13. Of Massah, and Meribah both, see Exod.17.7.

V. 9. Who said unto] Or, of his father and mother, I have not, and doe not see him, (Concluding both under the more worthy gender) that is, who was so impartiall in Gods cause, as not to acknowledge, either father, or mother, brother, or children against his command. This is applyed to the state of the High-priest, who was not to defile himselfe by mourning for the dead, whether father, mother, &c. Levit.21.11,12. nor being Judge, to favour his neerest kindred in a naughtie cause, Deut. 17. 9. nor in execution of just punishment, to spare his own flesh, and blood how neere so ever, from slaughter in the Lords cause, and quarrell, as Exod.32.vers.26,27,28,29.

V. 11. Blesse, LORD] He declareth that the Ministers of God have many enemies, and therefore have need to be prayed for.

V. 12. The beloved of the Lord] That is, Benjamin, who, as he was his father Jacobs darling, when Joseph was supposed to be dead; so was he much beloved of the Lord; of whose Tribe the first King was chosen, and in whose portion the Temple was built.

by him] That is, by Gods assistance; or Benjamin shall dwell in safetie by Levi: for the Temple wherein the Tribe of Levi ministred, was in the Tribe of Benjamin, whose lot of inheritance was betwixt the Tribe of Judah, and the Tribe of Joseph.

his shoulders] God shall choose him an habitation in the chiefe Citie of the Tribe of Benjamin: for though the South part of Jerusalem (which is called the Citie of God in especiall manner) where was Mount Sion, were in the Tribe of Judah, yet the Northern part with Mount Moriah, where the Temple stood, was in the Tribe of Benjamin; and being set upon that hill it was conspicuously eminent, as the head placed above and between the shoulders. And though God be said to dwell in Mount Sion, and thence some conceive his Temple was situate upon it, yet where it is so said, the word Sion must be taken not strictly for the hill of Sion, but by a Synecdoche of a part for the whole, for the whole Citie of Jerusalem, and therewith for the Temple founded upon Mount Moriah.

V. 13. the precious things of heaven] He plentifully sets forth the fruitfulnesse of the portion of Joseph, by all the means that produce increase, whether from above, as raines, and dewes, which fall from heaven upon the earth; or from beneath, Ezek. 34.26.

the deepe that coucheth] That is, the springs, and rich minerals which are below.

V. 14. by the Moon] The influences of the Sunne by heat, and of the Moon by moisture, and the influences of the Starres make the fruits of the earth to prosper. Or, according to the Hebrew, Mooues, meaning the various operation by the change and course of the Moon for that blessing of the earth.

V. 15. ancient mountains] There are some mountains of sand and rubbish casually made, some purposely cast up by the labour of man: in respect of these, the mountains made at the Creation are very ancient mountains; and upon some of them grow Olives, Cedars, Pine-trees, Cypresse-trees, and other things usefull for necessitie and delight.

lasting hils] As in the precedent words they are called ancient mountains; so are they here by way of comparison, called lasting hils.

V. 16. in the bush] God appeared unto Moses in a burning bush, Exod.3. Chap.2.

and upon the top of] Which is not another, but the same Joseph, but spoken of under another title, that the blessing might be doubled upon him.

separated from his brethren] Or, was a Nazarite. Which some take in respect of beautie, for the Nazarites are commended for that. Lam. 4. 7. and so was Joseph, Gen.39. 6. But why he was called so, see Annot. on Gen.49.26.

V. 17. His glory] That is, the glory of Ephraim shall be like unto a faire young and lusty bullocke.

hornes of Unicornes] See Annot. on Numb.23.22.

to the ends of the earth] He shall overcome countreyes farre remote..

the ten thousands of Ephraim, and the thousands of Manasseh] The fruitfulnesse of Ephraim by this comparative proportion seems to be much more then that of Manasseh, and so we find it, at the muster and number of the people, Numb. 1. 33. 35. but when Moses blessed them, the Tribe of Manasseh was more numerous, Numb. 26. 34. 37. yet Moses overlooks the present overplus of the Tribe of Manasseh, foreseeing and foretelling that Ephraim should overtake it, and overgoe it in the multitude of his troopes in future times.

V. 18. in thy going out] In thy prosperous voyages by Sea, according to that, Gen. 49. 13. and thy going out to warre against thine enemy.

in thy tents] In thy peaceable habitation in pasturing of cattell, and other exercises of husbandry, whereto he so addicted himselfe, that he had rather submit, like a strong Asse to a double burden of Tribute, then fight for his freedome from it. Gen.49.14.

V. 19. unto the mountaine] To the Mount where Moses by the spirit of Propheſie foresaw the Temple should be seated. See Annot. on Chap.33.vers.12.

they shall sucke] The former part of the verse of inviting to the holy Mountaine, may be meant of both the Tribes forementioned; but this of sucking of the abundance of the Seas, is to be appropriated to Zebulun, who being commodiously situate for Merchandise, reaped great benefit by the Seas, and by the Cities seated upon the Sea shoare, which is sandy ground, whereof Issacher had some, though Zebulun more, or more commodious for traffique.

V. 20. That enlargeth Gad] Either by giving him more scope and compasse for his company, as Josh. 17. 15. or by delivering him out of straights when he is distressed, Psal. 4. 1,2. 1 Chron. 5.18,20,21.

teareth the arme with] That is, catching the prey like a Lion, who greedily seiseth on the arme and head together; so that he shall prevaile over the strong, and pull down the dignified; for the arme is the strongest part, the crown of the head the highest.

V. 21. provided the first part for himselfe] That is, he with the Reubenites and halfe Tribe of Manasseh got the first portion of Land, which was on this side Jordan, to those which journeyed towards Canaan out of Egypt: See Numb. 32. vers. 23.29.33.

Lawgiver] That is, Moses; for he had not his portion by lot as others had, but by his own request, and Moses his grant.

he came with the heads] A propheſie for asseveration and assurance set down in the phrase of an history as if already the deed were done: it imports the forwardnesse of that Tribe, who would be as ready as the best to execute the Justice of the Lord upon the Canaanites.

and his judgements] Which God had denounced against them.

with Israel] For though the Gadites with the Reubenites and halfe Tribe of Manasseh had their part on this side Jordan, they undertooke the conquest on the other side with the rest of their brethren, Numb.32.23.29.33.

V. 22. Dan is a Lions whelpe] As a fierce young Lion leaping from the hils of Bashan (where he was bred) to catch the prey. So is the similitude; yet Bashan was a part of the portion of Manasseh, not of Dan, Deut. 3. 13. but the similitude is in regard of qualitie, not of place, and in this he is resembled (as Judah was) to a Lion, Gen.40.9. and the Danites were valorous, of which Tribe were more warriers numbered, Num. 1. then of any other Tribe but Judah, vers. 22. & 39. Or it may note the disposition of the Danites to hunting and living upon prey, as Lions doe.

V. 23. Naphtali satisfied with favour] His portion was most pleasant and fruitfull by land; and for foraine dainties his situation neere the Sea furnished him with abundance by his traffique with the Sidonians, Tyrians, and Phenicians; so that he might very well be satisfied who neither wanted contentment for the quantitie or qualitie of desireable provision.

V. 24. dip his foot in oyle] In his portion shall be great store of oyle, not onely to anoint the face, but to supple the feet: This is agreeable to Jacobs prediction, Gen.49.20.

V. 25. yron and brasse] At thy feet where thou treadest shall be Mines of those metals which thou shalt dig in great abundance; or it may be meant of strengthening their shooes with nailes or plates of iron or brasse; sometimes used by Romanes, and Syrians: See Josephus of the Warres of the Jewes, lib. 7. cap. 3. Plin. Nat. Hist. l.33. c.3. Val. Max. l. 9. c. 1.

V. 25. as thy dayes so shall thy strength be] While thy dayes hold out, thy strength shall hold out and not faile, as it was with Moses, Chap. 34. vers.7. Or, the honour and power of the Tribe of Asher shall not decay with age, as usually a mans personall strength doth; but it shall continue in vigour and vertue, which shall not faile or languish with continuation of time.

V. 26. of Jesurun] See the Annot. on Chap.32. 15.

in thy helpe] For thy helpe.

V. 27. underneath are the everlasting armes] Gods protection over his people is above, and beneath, and both everlasting.

V. 28. in safetie alone] Without any enemy to challenge, or usurpe any part of his promised possession. See Numb. 23.9.

the fountaine] That is, the posteritie of Jacob, spread abroad like the overflowings of a fountaine, Psal.68.26. & Isa.48.1. & Rev.17.15. Or, the fountaine of Jacob may be his plentifull blessing, which floweth from God as a fountaine that cannot (not as a cisterne that may) be drawne dry. Some for the fountaine of Jacob read the eye of Jacob, and the meaning then is, that he shall feed and delight his eye in the fruitfulnesse of his land abounding with good corne and wine.

his heavens] The heavens spread over the land of his habitation.

V. 29. sword of thy excellency] God is not onely a buckler of defence to his people, but a sword of assault against their enemies whom by his assistance they shall excell and gloriously conquer in combate with them. See Psal.44. vers.5,6,7.

found liers] Either in their propheſies of triumph over thee; or in faining and lying like the Gibeonites to curry favour with thee, Josh.9.4. Psal.18.44. & 66. 3.

high places] See Annot. on Chap.32. vers.13.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

vers.1. PLaines of Moab] A part of the wilderneſse where Moses had given his instructions to the people, and pronounced his last blessing upon them.

Nebo] A part of Mount Abarim. See Annot. on Num.27.12.

Pisgah] Nebo was one of the Mountaines of Abarim, and among them the highest, and Pisgah was the highest top of Nebo, thither he ascended, from thence he had the faireſt and trueſt prospect of the Land of Canaan.

the land of Gilead] The land of Gilead is here taken largely for that part of the land which was bestowed upon the Reubenites, Gadites, and halfe Tribe of Manasseh, before the Israelites passed over Jordan to take possession of the Land of Canaan for the other Tribes; and Moses being on the top of Pisgah which afforded him a prespect every way, he first cast his eyes upon Gilead where the two Tribes and an halfe were already possessed of their portion; and having taken a view of that, he directed his sight to the surveigh of the other part of Canaan beyond Jordan.

unto Dan] A Citie anciently called Leshem, Josh.19.47. or Laish, Judg.18.27,29. but afterward, possessed by the Danites, it was called Dan; it was the furthest part of the Land of Canaan towards the North, as Beer-sheba was toward the South; and by these two were the utmost limitations of it set out: See Judg.20.1.

V. 2. all Naphtali, and the land] Their portions were not severally assigned them in Moses time, therefore he either uttered this by the Spirit of propheſie, as that this was afterward by lot to be the portion of the Tribe of Naphtali; or it was written not by Moses, but by some other sacred pen-man of the Holy Ghost who wrote the rest of this Chapter from vers.5. to the end of it.

and all the land of Judah] The like may be understood of the Land alotted to the other Tribes, for his prospect was not limited to those particularly named.

utmost Sea] The Mediterranean Sea; the Hebrews use to call any great confluence of waters Sea; and they called this the utmost Sea, because it was the utmost bound of the Land of Canaan.

V. 3. valley of Jericho] This was in the Tribe of Benjamin.

citie of palme-trees] Jericho is so called, because it abounded with Palme-trees. Joseph. Antiq.lib.4.cap.5.

Zoar] Lots place of refuge, situate neere the Lake Asphaltites; whereof see Annot. on Gen.19.20.

V. 5. died] And he died (as some, who seeme exact in the computation of time, affirme) the third or fourth day of the moneth Adar, which answereth to our February: from hence the rest of the Chapter (and it may be the whole) was not written by Moses, but by some other by the Lords appointment, who is thought by some to be Ezra, but by others more probably Joshua. The like observation is to be made of the Booke of Joshua made by Joshua untill the 28. vers. of the last Chap. but from the 29. where his death is mentioned, is thought to be supplied by Samuel, Ezra, or King Hezekiah.

V. 6. he buried him] The Lord himselfe, without any humane act or aide, prepared a grave for Moses, and laid his body in it, having taken his soule unto himselfe.

over against Beth-Peor] The place of that abominable Idol fore-mentioned, Chap.3.29. & 4.46.

but no man knoweth] For though it be said, he was buried in a valley in the land of Moab over against Beth-Peor, that was so great in space of ground that the particular grave might be altogether unknowne; especially Gods purpose being to conceale it, he would leave no outward appearance of it, lest the Israelites should have made it an occasion of Idolatry. But why had Moses possession of the land of Moab by his buriall, when God said, he would give the Israelites none of the land of Moab? for answer to this doubt, see Annot. on Chap.2.vers.9.

V. 7. his eye was not] See Annot. on Chap. 31.2.

V. 8. thirty dayes] It was the manner to make thirty daies the measure of mourning for principall Rulers, whether of the Church, or State, so long was Aaron lamented for, Num.20.29.

V.9. and Joshuah ---was full of] Hereby appeareth the favour of God, that leaveth not the Church destitute of a Governour.

hands upon him] See Annot. on Numb.8.10.

V. 10. since] By this it seemes that this part of Deuteronomie was written not presently, but a good while after the death of Moses: or, for since him, we may reade besides him, according to some Translations, (which accord well enough with the Originall) and so the writer having the Spirit of propheſie, might speake not for his owne time, but for a good while after.

face to face] Unto whom the Lord did reveale himselfe so plainely. See Annot. on Exod.33.11. & on Numb.12.8.

V. 11. In all the signes] That is, there is none like him in might and miraculous operations; whereby the Lord magnified his owne Majestie, and dignified his servant Moses his Ministerie. This is no prejudice to the praise of John Baptist, whose excellency did not consist in signes and wonders, nor in such familiaritie with God; but in other graces wherein he was exceeded by none that went before him.

ANNOTATIONS
On the Book of JOSHUA.

The ARGUMENT.

THE main scope of the holy Ghost in this Book of Joshua, is to glorifie God, by the manifestation of his Truth in his Promises, and his Power and All-sufficiency in performance: For whereas he had promised unto Abraham four hundred yeers before, That he would give unto his Posterity the Land of Canaan for a Possession; he remaineth firm and constant in his Word: And though they provoked him to wrath by their haynous sins, and wilfull rebellions, both in Ægypt and in the Wilderneſſe, and thereby justly moved him to nullifie his Promises, and either wholly to destroy them, or at least to cast them off from being his People; yet he rather dispenseth with their sins, and exerciseth his patience and long-suffering, in bearing with their evil manners in the Wilderneſſe; rather then that their unbelief should make the Faith of GOD of none effect, or cause any of his gracious Promises fall to the ground unaccomplished. So also is Gods Almighty Power in this Book magnified and glorified; and He mightily declared to be the Lord of Hosts, by giving unto such a poor contemptible People, whose parents were lately Bond-slaves in the Land of Ægypt, so great and glorious Victories over such Warlike Nations, and such a numerous multitude of puissant enemies: Unto which we may adde the manifestation and glorifying of his Justice, in rooting out those cursed Nations, when their sins were encreased to a full measure; but yet withall some mixture of Mercy with this just severity, in saving some of the Hivites from this common destruction, and from being (as it were) drowned in this generall deluge: Mercy, I say, towards them, in sparing their lives; and towards his own People, in providing for them servants and slaves to do their baseſt works, that they, in the mean time, as a Royall Nation, might be priviledged, and exempted from such servile drudgery. Another end aymed at in this History, and subordinate to the other, is to describe, and set out to the life, a worthy Prince, and a truely-valiant and victorious Generall, both in his person, parts and properties, in the example of Joshua, as a Precedent and Patern to all such as are of like Calling and Condition: and that whether we respect his piety towards God, his justice and charity towards men, or his temperance and sobriety towards himself. In respect of God, he is described to be pious and religious; both in his personall holineſſe, and in his publike Calling, as he was a Generall and chief Commander: For he was a man truely fearing God, a strict observer of his Commandments, neither declining to the right hand nor to the left, a Worshipper of God in sincerity and truth; and so zealous and resolved in the true Religion and ways of godlineſſe, that though he had no other among all the people to joyn With him, yet he professeth, That he and his houshold would serve the Lord. So in his particular Calling he is propounded as a fit patern and precedent to all of his Rank; for he wholly dependeth on his chief Soveraign, the King of kings, and Lord of Hosts, for his direction and protection: he attempteth nothing of any moment, till he have first consulted with God, and then he goeth on With undaunted courage, when he commandeth him, against many and mighty enemies: He trusteth not in the arm of Fleſh, in his own or the peoples policy and power, but onely relyeth on Gods Promises and Providence; and having his assistance, he is most couragious; but When he, seeming displeased, Withdraweth his helping hand, how is he humbled and dejected for the losse onely of six and thirty men? Finally, in all his famous Victories, he arrogateth no part of the praise unto himself, but ascribeth the Whole glory unto God, as being the principall cause of all his Conquests. In respect also of his carriage towards men, he is propounded as a singular patern of Justice and Charity: for being to divide the conquered Land among the people by Lot, as God commanded; he obeyeth his Will with all uprightneſſe, shewing therein no favour, partiality, or respect of persons; as appeareth in his dealing with his own Tribe; for When (presuming, it may be, on his neerneſſe unto them in blood and kinred) they made suit unto him for the enlarging of their Inheritance, under a fair pretence, That their portion Was too strait for their numerous Tribe; he refused to gratifie them by scanting others; but retorteth their argument upon themselves, namely, That if they Were so numerous, they were the better able to enlarge their Borders, by their own endeavours; and so putteth them upon labour, to fit the Mountain for their habitation, by felling down the Woods; and upon danger also, by fighting with, and driving out the inhabitants of the Valley, though they Were a strong People, and had iron Charets. His Charity and Love also appeareth, in seeking the peoples welfare and prosperity with all his endeavours: for whereas the love and favour of God Was the chief ground of their present and future happineſſe; and there Was no other means to preserve it unto them, then by their cleaving close unto him in his pure Worship, and shunning Idolatry; he is not onely carefull to maintain it in purity and sincerity all his days; but When he was stricken in age, and ready to die, it was his chief care to have it continued after his departure; and calling together all the Heads and Elders of the people, he useth all his art and policy, to make a firm Covenant between God and them, That they Would cleave onely unto him, and utterly abolish all Idolatry and false Worship. Lastly, he is propounded to all Princes and great Commanders, as a Mirrour of Temperance, Sobriety, and Contentation, in that having in his hand, by reason of his famous Conquests, so great Power and Authority, that he might have commanded what he list; yet he aspireth not to any Regall Soveraignty, nor to enrich himself With a vast estate, or large inheritance; but resteth contented with such a proportion as by Gods providence was allotted unto him amongst the rest of his Brethren. The last End at which this Scripture aimeth, is mystically and typically expressed; for Joshua is here propounded as a Type of our Lord Jesus Christ, the onely true Saviour of his Elect People: And to this purpose, that he might more fitly represent this great Saviour of the Church, the Prophet foretold and promised by Moses, his name is changed by him; and whereas he was before called Oshea, he Was afterwards named Joshua, or Jehoshua, being the same name Which Was given to Christ our onely Saviour; because as he in a sort was to save his People out of the hands of their earthly enemies, by a temporary deliverance, and to bring them into the Land of Canaan as their Possession and Inheritance: so our Jesus, prefigured by him, Was to save all his Elect People out of the hands of all their Spirituall enemies, and to give them as their possession, the heavenly Canaan, of Which the other was but Type: And as this could not be effected by Moses the Law-giver; but Was left unto Joshua as his proper Work, unto Which God called and assigned him; so this Was to signifie unto us, That the Ministery of the Law, with all its legall Ordinances and Performances, can never bring us into the heavenly Canaan; but is Wholly left to be accomplished by our true Joshua and Saviour, as his peculiar Work, unto which he is called and sealed by his Father, who hath vanquished all our Spirituall enemies, and Will give unto us, at his second appearing, both in our souls and bodies, the full possession and fruition of our holy and happy Inheritance in his heavenly Kingdom, unto all Eternity.

The book of Joshua] i. (according to Hebrew name or title.) A narration or history of the acts of Joshua, in bringing and setling the people of Israel in the land of promise; and continueth the story of almost 18 yeers, from Moses death, Deut. 34. 5. unto his own, Josh. 24. 29.

CHAP. I.

Vers. 1. NOw] Hebr. And it happened, or came to passe. With which copulative the story is continued and knit, to the end of Deuteronomy, as the Hebrews often use. So Ruth 1. 1. Judg. 1. 1. 1 Sam. 1. 1. 2 Sam. 1. 1.

after the death] i.e. after the funerall mourning for him, which lasted 30 dayes, Deut. 34. 8.

V. 2. Jordan] The greatest River in Canaan, running along the land, and falling into the lake Asphaltites, or dead sea.

give] i.e. in reall possession, as before I gave it onely by promise and right, Deut. 11. 24.

V. 3. Every place] i.e. before promised, Deut. 11. 24. and here expressed and confirmed, vers. 4.

V. 4. wilderness] i.e. of Sin, with which the land of promise was bounded on the south.

Lebanon] the highest and greatest mountain in all Syria, extending it self from Zidon to Damascus, and bounding the land of promise on the north.

Euphrates] the confines on the east, Gen. 15. 18.

great sea] i.e. the Mediterranean sea (opposed to the petty seas or lakes of Palestine) which bounded the land on the west, Num. 34. 6. and is therefore called the uttermost sea, Deut. 11. 24.

V. 7. right hand] by adding to it, or detracting from it.

V. 8. mouth] i. thy tongue shall be alwayes ready to utter the holy meditations of thy minde and heart, abounding as a good treasure with the knowledge of God and his Law. So Psal. 108. 1 Matth. 12. 34, 35. Psal. 1. 2.

way] i.e. Thy counsels, enterprises, and actions.

V. 9. Have not] First he confirmeth him, by a divine vocation; and then by a promise of Gods efficacious presence. The former is propounded by way of interrogation, which is used with the Hebrews for a strong affirmation; Have not I? &c. i.e. I have certainly commanded thee. So Gen. 13. 9. 2 King. 6. 32.

V. 11. victuals] that is, All provisions fit for such an expedition, saving bread, for manna was not as yet ceased.

V. 13. rest] i.e. a place of rest for your wives, children, and cattell; namely, that part of the land in which they now were, on this side Jordan, Num. 32. 33.

V. 14. armed] Marshalled in a military order.

V. 16. they answered] i.e. The two tribes and an half, to whom his speech was formerly directed: Or, as some think, the heads of all the tribes, in the name of all the rest; hereby submitting themselves unto Joshua's government.

V. 17. Onely the Lord] This is a wish of the people congratulating Joshua in his entrance into his government; wherein they pray for Gods presence and assistance, as unto Moses.

CHAP. II.

Vers. 1. SHittim] In the plains of Moab, neer Jordan, where the Israelites now encamped, Num. 33. 49.

spie secretly] Hebr. silently; i.e. to spie out the land with as much silence and secrecy as they could; and that both in respect of the Israelites, that they might not again be discouraged, as before, with rumours, Num. 13. 28. 32. and in respect of the people of the land, that they might not discover and apprehend them.

even Jericho] i.e. And chiefly Jericho, as being in the confines of the countrey; situated an hundred and fifty stadia from Hierusalem, and sixty from Jordan: a place very fruitfull, and abounding with palm-trees; and therefore called, The city of palms, Deut. 34. 3. Judg. 1. 16. 2 Chron. 28. 15.

an harlots house] The Hebrew word may signifie an inne-keeper; but she might be both; for she is plainly called an harlot, Heb. 11. 31. Jam. 2. 25. to whom Gods providence directed them, for the preservation of her and her kinred, and for the confirmation of the spies and Israelites in assurance of conquest; as Gideon was by telling of the dream, Jud. 7. 13. 15.

V. 4. hid them] Hebr. hid him; i.e. each of them apart; to wit, as soon as she knew that they were discovered to the king.

but I wist not] This (as some think) was not a lye, but the concealing of a truth not necessarily to be discovered: for being an inne-keeper, it may be others lodged in her house that night, and were gone, of whom she speaketh in truth, and concealeth these spies in faith and charity; as it is Heb. 11. 31. But if it were a lye, or æquivocation, her example is no precedent, being a new convert, whose faith God accepted, and pardoned her sin. So Exod. 1. 19.

V. 5. of the gate] to wit, of the city.

V. 6. roof] Which in those countreys used to be flat, like a terrace or leads.

V. 7 foords] i.e. The ferries, or places of ordinary passage.

shut the gate] i.e. The gate of the city, that if the spies were within, they might not get out and escape.

V. 9. I know] I am perswaded in the assurance of faith, grounded on Gods promises to his people, and his miraculous favours towards them, and because I see that the hearts of my people sink and faint, &c.

terrour] An Hebraisme: i.e. in that we are terrified because of you, in regard of your neer approach and power: and this God had promised, Deut. 28. 7. and 5. 1.

V. 11. did melt] An Hebraisme; i.e. were dissolved with fear, so that we quite lost all our valour and courage. The like phrases are used, Josh. 5. 1. and 7. 5. Deut. 1. 28. and 20. 8. Isa. 13. 7.

V. 12. fathers house] i.e. My kinred and allies. See Chap. 6. 23. 25. so vers. 13.

a true token] to wit, That you will inviolably keep covenant with me.

V. 14. Our life for yours] i.e. We warrant thee, on the penalty of our own lives; or, We will preserve thy life, and the life of thy kinred, though it be with the hazard or losse of ours.

ye] that is, you, or any of yours.

V. 17. thine oath] i.e. Of the oath which thou hast made us take, namely, on these two conditions; first, That none of thine be out of thy house: secondly, That none reveal our businesse.

V. 19. his blood] he shal be guilty of his own death, because he stayed not in the place of safety appointed unto him, as Num. 35. 26, 27. Matth. 27. 25.

on our head] i.e. We will answer it before God and men, as being guilty of his death.

V. 22. the way] i.e. between Jericho and Jordan.

V. 23. passed over] to wit, Jordan.

V. 24. hath delivered] They speak of that which was to do, as done already, to expresse the certainty of their hope.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. MOrning] Namely, of the ninth day of the first moneth; for they passed Jordan the tenth day, as appeareth, Chap. 4. 19.

V. 2. three dayes] to wit, three dayes after the command of providing victualls, Chap. 1. 11.

V. 3. priests the Levites] that is, which were all of the tribe of Levi.

V. 4. by measure] Which distance between the ark and them, was appointed to preserve in them due reverence unto God, of whose person the ark was a type. So Exod. 19. 12.

know the way] i.e. That following the guidance of the ark, and pillar of cloud going before it; you may not erre out of the right way.

V. 5. Sanctifie] to wit, both ceremonially, and spiritually; that you may be prepared to see a miraculous signe and effect of Gods presence. See Exod. 19. 10. Levit. 20. 7, 8. Num. 11. 18. 1 Sam. 16. 5.

wonders] in dividing the waters, as verse 13.

V. 6. Take up] See Num. 4. 15.

V. 7. magnifie thee] To exalt thee in the esteem of all the people, by a great miracle which I am about to do, whereby they shall be brought to acknowledge that I have made thee head over them, and by thee will possesse them of the land of promise.

Moses] i.e. As I divided the red Sea before Moses, so will I divide Jordan before thee, and thereby declare my presence and power with thee, as they were with him.

V. 10. Hereby] i.e. By the miracle described, verse 13.

V. 11. the Lord] So Mich. 4. 13. Zach. 4. 14. 6. 5.

V. 12. twelve men] For that use and service which is expressed Chap. 4. 2, 3.

V. 13. waters shall be cut off] The waters coming from above, shall stand still on an heap; and the waters below, shall passe away, and leave the chanell drie, for the people to passe over.

V. 15. for Jordan] that is, Jordan in its naturall course, thus over-floweth yeerly in time of harvest, as now it did. See Chap. 4. 18. 1 Chron. 12. 15. and their harvest began in April.

V. 16. city Adam] Some Cosmographers place this city on the east side of Jordan, over against Gilgal.

Zaretan] lying Southward from Adam.

salt sea] That is the lake of Sodom, or Asphaltites, Gen. 14. 3. Num. 34. 2.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 1. THe Lord spake] That is, further declared the command which he had given, Chap. 3. 12.

V. 3. lodging place] that is, Gilgal, where they encamped that night, as appeareth, v. 19, 20.

V. 6.

V. 6. signe] To recall unto your remembrance in time to come, so great a benefit; for the stirring up of your selves and your posterity to thankfulnesse; for the strengthening of your faith and affiance in God, and working in your hearts true obedience. So Exod. 13. 14 Deut. 6. 20. Josh 22. 27. and 24. 27.

V. 9. twelve stones] Besides the twelve stones which were set up in Gilgal, that it might be a monument to them that inhabited about Jordan, or passed that way, of that great miracle.

to this day] That is, by an immutable and perpetuall statute: or it may be meant of that day when this history was written.

V. 10. Moses] See Num. 27. 21, 22, 23. where the sum of that commanded is expressed.

V. 12. before the children] That is, before all the other tribes of Israel, according to covenant with Moses, Num. 32. 20, 27. and Joshua's command, Josh. 1. 14.

V. 13. before the Lord] Before the ark of the LORD, which was a visible signe of Gods presence, and now stood in the middest of Jordan, untill all the people were passed over in their ranks.

V. 14. magnified] See Chap. 3. 7.

V. 17. out of Jordan] To wit, that they might land on the further bank of Jordan, towards Jericho.

V. 19. first moneth] called Abib or Nisan; containing part of March, and part of April.

Gilgal] So called here, by anticipation; as though he should say, They encamped in that place which was afterwards by Joshua called Gilgal, Chap. 5. 9.

V. 23. before you] who survive your rebellious fathers by Gods appointment, Num 14. 31.

before us] That is, my self and Caleb, with the rest of our fathers, who for their sin and unbelief fell in the wildernesse.

V. 24. fear] And thereby be restrained, that you do not start back from obedience unto God, as did your fathers, Jer. 32. 40.

for ever] That is, all the dayes of your lives.

CHAP. V.

Vers. 1. Amorites] The Amorites were on both sides Jordan, whereof two kings were slain already on the side towards Moab.

westward] Inhabiting in the western parts of the land of Canaan.

melted] That is, fainted. See Chap. 2. Vers. 9. 11, 24.

V. 2. At that time] To wit, after they were passed Jordan, and were now entred into the land of promise.

sharp knives] The Chaldee paraphrase hath it, sharp rasours.

circumcise] Hebr. turn again, circumcise; that is, circumcise again: an Hebrew manner of speaking. The like used, Num. 11. 4. Psal. 85. 7. Ezek. 8. 6. It was first commanded unto Abraham and his seed, and by him observed; but omitted in the wildernesse, at least from the Spies returning from searching the land; which was the second yeer after their coming out of Egypt; either out of their neglect of Gods holy Sacrament, or because they were to remove from place to place, at Gods appointment; which they could not do without great danger and hurt to those who were newly circumcised. See v. 8. for though sometime they encamped long in a place, yet all that while they had no assurance of their abode there, but were still at an hours warning to remove: And now the LORD requireth that circumcision should be restored to its primitive use.

V. 3. and circumcised] They took order that they should be circumcised; to wit, all that were yet uncircumcised.

hill of fore-skins] So called, because the people circumcised left there their fore-skins.

V. 4. did] Namely, for their sin and rebellion against God, Num. 14. 23. 1 Cor. 10. 5. Heb. 3. 17.

V. 5. they] To wit, their parents.

V. 6. give us] That is, to me, Caleb, and their posterity.

V. 9. reproach of Egypt] That is, contracted in Egypt, because the Israelites following the example of the uncircumcised Egyptians, rather then Gods commandment, had left this reproach upon their children, That they had not the sacrament of Gods covenant, but had their fore-skin still on them to their shame, Gen. 34. 14. Some hereby understand that reproach which the Egyptians would have cast upon God and his people, if they could not have entred into the land of promise. See Deut. 9. 28. Num. 14. 16.

from off you] That is, which would have layen upon you.

Gilgal] Because the reproach which was rolled or turned away, when as by circumcision they renewed their covenant with God.

V. 10. the passover] Which was likewise neglected in the wildernesse, saving onely the second yeer after their coming out of Egypt. See Num. 9. 1, 2.

moneth] That is, the first moneth. Exod. 12. 2, 6. So Josh. 4. 19.

V. 13. a man] The Lord Christ, who assumed and appeared in the shape of man; as now, so at sundry other times, as a preparative to his incarnation: for, that it was no created angel, appeareth by Joshua's adoration, and his acceptance of it, seeing a created angel would have refused it, Revel. 19. 10. 22. 9. Judg. 13. 16.

his sword drawn] As the LORD of hosts, ready prepared to execute judgement on the cursed nations; that hereby he might encourage Joshua in assurance that he should be victorious, seeing he was on his side, ready to fight against his enemies.

V. 14. Nay] i.e. I am not for your adversaries.

but as captain] That is, prince and chief generall both of the angels which fight for the church, being Michael the arch-angel, the chief prince, Dan 10. 13, 21. Revel. 12. 7. 19. 11, 14. and also of the church militant; and am now come to ayd Israel, which is the people and host of God.

worship] Because he knew him to be the Lord Christ, the eternall Son of God.

What saith my Lord] A question rising from reverence and admiration; q. d. What will it please my Lord to command his servant, that I may do it?

V. 15. Loose thy shoe] So to Moses, Exod. 3. 5. which God required, that he might affect him with an awfull and religious reverence of his divine presence, Lev. 16. 2. Exod. 30. 10.

is holy] Not in it self inherently, but as it is now sanctified by my divine and holy presence.

CHAP. VI.

Vers. 1. Because] For fear of the children of Israel, who encamped neer it.

V. 2. the Lord] Who, Chap. 5. 13. is called a man; and v. 14. prince of the LORDS host.

the mighty] i.e. The valiant souldiers that defend it.

V. 3. once] To wit, every day once.

V. 4. rams horns] That the conquest might not be assigned to mans power, but to the power of God, which with most weak means can overcome that which seemeth most strong.

V. 5. wall of the city] i.e. Not the whole wall, But such a large part of it as was sufficient to give the Israelites an easie entrance: for if all had fallen, then had Rahabs house, which was built upon the wall, fallen with it. See Chap. 2. 15.

V. 7. is armed] Which is chiefly meant of the two Tribes and an half.

V. 8. before the Lord] See Annot. in Chap. 4. 13.

ark of the covenant] i.e. In which were kept the two tables, on which the covenant was written.

V. 9. rere-ward] In which was the standard of the tribe of Dan. See Num. 10. 25.

V. 17. shall be accursed] That is, devoted to destruction, and so consecrated unto God, as the first-fruits of the land of Canaan, in obedience to whose command it was to be destroyed. See Lev. 27. 28, 29. Num. 24. 20. Deut. 2. 34.

hid the messengers] Some reade, Hid them carefully and faithfully.

that we sent] i.e. My self, and some of the chief commanders, unknown to the people.

V. 18. your selves accursed] i.e. Become guilty of your own destruction, for robbing God sacrilegiously, of that which is consecrated unto him. See Deut. 7. 26.

camp a curse] That you be not a cause or occasion of the destruction of the whole camp.

V. 19. shall come] i.e. Shall be laid up in the tabernacle, to be employed in Gods service. See Num. 31. 54. and therefore cannot be put to any private use.

V. 21. utterly destroyed] According to Gods expresse commandment, Deut. 20. 16, 17.

V. 23. left them without the camp] As things unclean, till they were legally purified, Num. 31. 19. and afterwards to be incorporated into congregation, by instruction, profession, circumcision, &c. Deut. 21. 12.

V. 25. this day] Yea, and was afterwards married to Salmon the son of Naasson, of the tribe of Juda, one of Christs progenitors, Matth. 1. 5. Luke 3. 32.

unto this day] See Chap. 4. 9.

V. 26. Joshua adjured] That is, by a propheticall spirit cursed with an adjuration those that should rebuild this city, devoted to utter destruction.

before the Lord] i.e. By Gods decree, made known unto me by the inspiration of the holy Ghost.

riseth up] Which shall presume and set himself to build this city.

first-born] In the death of his first-born, &c. that is, For his presumption, he shall be punished with the death of his two sons; which was fulfilled in Hiel the Bethelite and his sonnes, 1 Kin. 16. 34.

CHAP. VII.

Vers 1. Children of Israel] That is, one member of that body; who being in communion with them, his particular ticular sin was occasion that a judgement fell upon them all, till by diligent examination, and inflicting just punishment, the sin was purged, v. 12.

accursed thing] In taking that which was devoted to God, and not to be turned to any private use, contrary to his expresse command. See Chap. 6. 18, 19.

Achan] Who, 1 Chr. 2. 7. is called Achar, i.e. destroyer.

V. 2. Ai] This city lay on a hill three leagues from Jericho, westward, which fell afterwards to the share of the tribe of Benjamin. There were two cities of this name; this of the Amorites, which was the greater; the other in the tribe of Gad, which the Amonites had taken, and is prophesied against, Jer. 49. 3.

Goup] To wit, from the plains of Jericho, to the mountainous places of the countrey.

V. 5. Shebarim] Heb. a place of breakings: so called, it seemeth, because the army of Israel was there broken and discomfited.

V. 6. rent his clothes] To signifie the rending of his heart with grief and anguish. See Gen. 37. 29, 34. not for that small defeat; but because it was a signe of Gods wrath, seeing he prospered not their expedition according to former promises, which might discourage the people, and make them faint-hearted, as v. 5.

before the ark] In these difficulties fleeing unto God, as his onely refuge, for counsell and direction. See Chap. 9. 14.

put dust] A ceremony used in great mournings. So 1 Sam. 4. 12. 2 Sam. 13. 19. Neh. 9. 1. Job 2. 12.

V. 7. would to God] In this wish Joshua's faith, through humane frailty, fainteth, in apprehending Gods promises; yet his intention is good, namely, That he had rather have rested content with a strait habitation for so great a people, on the other side Jordan, then that by this accident Gods Name should be exposed to obloquie, and the blasphemies of the nations.

V. 8. what shall I say] What shall I answer to those who on this occasion will detract from thy power and glory?

V. what wilt thou do] i.e. How wilt thou preserve the glory of thy Name, when these nations shall say that thou wantest power to protect thy people, and hast failed in thy promises? So Ex. 32. 12. Num. 14. 13.

V. 11. Israel hath sinned] See v. 1.

V. 12. my covenant] My command concerning the accursed thing, Chap. 6. 19. or my covenant, in not obeying my commands as they promised, Ex. 19. 8. 24. 7.

accursed thing] Which I have devoted; to wit, the Babylonish garment, which should have been burned.

also stollen] To wit, the gold and silver, which ought to have been brought into the Lords treasury, Chap. 6. 19.

dissembled also] By concealing it, or converting to their own use that, which was devoted to Gods service.

and have put it] To wit, both the things to be burned and destroyed, and those which were to be consecrated unto God; they have mixed with their own goods, still persisting in their sinne, and so still remaining accursed.

V 12. were accursed] Have a judgement lying upon them, occasioned by such a sin, as before, v. 1.

the accursed] i.e. The man who committed the fact about the accursed thing, and so himself is become accursed, and all his, with the contagion of his sin: i.e. not onely Achan himself, but also all his family and goods, as being in the same sin. So v. 24.

V. 13. sanctifie the people] See Chap. 3. 5. that is, Prepare them to appear before God, that the offender may be discovered and punished, and so the people may be freed from punishment of his sin.

V. 14. Lord taketh] That is, apprehendeth by lot, which is at his disposing, Prov. 16. 33. See 1 Sam. 14. 41. Jon. 1. 7.

V. 15. shall be burnt] As the accursed thing ought to have been, according to the Law, Deut. 13. 15, 16. namely, after he is first stoned, which was the punishment appointed for blasphemers and presumptuous offenders by the law, Lev. 24. 13. Num. 15. 30, 35.

folly in Israel] A base, foolish and sinfull deed. So Gen. 34. 7. Judg. 20. 6. 2 Sam. 13. 13.

he and all that he hath] Not onely the accursed things, but his sons, daughters, oxen, asses, &c. This was a most severe punishment, but yet just, because God appointed it, whose judgements are always righteous, Gen. 18. 25. Jer. 12. 1. though often unsearchable, and above our reason: which may appear, whether we respect God, who appointed this punishment; for first, he is supreme L O R D of all, and may do with his what he will; and his will is the rule of justice, yea justice it self. Secondly, we owe our lives to God, and deserve death by the first sin, and all that followed it; and God may justly require his debt, when and in what manner he pleaseth. Thirdly, he had infected all he had with the contagion of his sin, and so made them liable to his punishment. Secondly, just in respect of Joshua and the people, who executed it: First, because God commanded it. Secondly, because he had endangered the whole camp to destruction, who were not directly guilty of his fact. Thirdly, because he had exposed six and thirty men to the slaughter, who were innocent of his sin, though by their own sins, known to God, they might deserve their death; and therefore all his were executed with him justly by the same reason, though they were not knowingly guilty of his fact, that they might be examples unto others, to deter them from the like transgressions and sinnes.

V. 17. family of Judah] That is, every family of the tribe of Judah.

man by man] Hebr. by the men i.e. according to the housholds of their fathers, and not every one by the poll, as appeareth, v. 18.

V. 19. give glory] i e Seeing God is both thy accuser and judge, whose knowledge thou canst not avoid, nor decline his judgement, confesse the truth in an humble and penitent manner, that hereby God may be glorified.

V. 21. under it] i.e. Under the Babylonish garment.

V. 23. before the Lord] Before the tabernacle, in which the ark was the sacred signe of Gods presence.

V. 24. the son] i e. The nephew of Zerah. See v. 1.

Achor] i.e. Of trouble, so called, by reason of this accident, ver. 26.

V. 25. stoned him] together with all his family.

V. 26. a heap of stones] As they used to do over them that died ignominiously, Josh. 8. 29. 2 Sam. 18. 17.

Achor] Of trouble, because all Israel was troubled here with Achans sacriledge, and himself and all his, by this dreadfull punishment inflicted on them, Hos. 2. 15. Isai. 65. 10.

CHAP. VIII.

Vers. 2. AN ambush] For in a just war it is as lawfull to get victory by policies and stratagems, as by open fight; the which God, the author of justice, hath confirmed by many examples.

behinde it] i.e On the west side, as v. 9.

V. 4. lie in wait] God would not destroy Ai by miracle, as Jericho; to the end that the nations might fear the power and policy of his people.

V. 7. Then] That is, when the signe is given: of which ver. 8.

V. 8. I have commanded] That is, fear not to execute the designe, seeing you have my command for your warrant. So 2 Sam. 13. 28.

V. 9. among the people] i.e. With the rest of the army.

V. 10. numbred] i.e. Mustered and set in order the people.

V. 12. five thousand] To wit, besides the other thirty thousand, v. 3. to lie in ambush in another place, to make the execution surer and easier.

V. 13. set the people] That is, marshalled them in order.

went that night] i.e. Drew neerer unto the city with the body of his army.

into the midst of the valley] Which was between the city and his army, v. 11.

V. 14. when the king of Ai saw it] Namely, that the Israelites had placed their army in a place of disadvantage, to wit, in a low valley, he made haste to lay hold on this opportunity.

all his people] That is, the greatest part, fit for this service, for that some remained in the city appeareth v. 16.

plain] Which was on the east part of the city.

V. 15. wilderness] To wit, between Ai and Jericho, as fleeing to Jericho, from whence they came, to secure them from imminent danger.

V. 17. not a man] i. fit for war. See v. 24.

V. 18. out the spear] Which was the signall to be given to those that lay in ambush, that they should enter and surprise the city; and to those that fled, that they should turn face against the enemy

V. 19. set the city on fire] Not the whole city, for then they could not have had the spoil which was given them, v. 1. but so much of it as might be a signall to the army, by the smoke ascending, when they should return from their counterfeit flight, and set upon the enemy.

V. 20. this way] Being enclosed between them that had lyen in ambush, and the main battell.

V. 24. smote it] All that remained in the city, as old and impotent men, women and children.

V. 26. drew not his hand back] Which was the signe when they should make their retreat, and cease wasting the city.

V. 28. for ever] i.e. for a long time, as this phrase sometimes signifieth; for Ai was afterwards rebuilt, and inhabited by the Benjamites, Nehem. 11. 31.

V. 29. his carcase down] According to the Law, Deut. 21. 22, 23. So Josh. 10. 26.

a great heap] See Chap. 7. 26.

V. 30. mount Ebal] Which lay by Sichem; as it is Judg. 9. 6.

V. 31. over which no man] Namely, to smooth and polish it with tools of the artificer, Ex. 27. 25. Deut. 27. 5.

V. 32. the stones] i.e. Other stones then those mentioned, v. 31.

a copy of the law] i. The sum of the law, or the decalogue;

Josh. 10. 12. Quod ergo non dubitanter in hanc vocem erumpit, ut Sol et Luna desistant a perpetua naturæ lege — Hic autem effulget singularis Dei favor erga ecclesiam, quod sicuti in gratiam humani generis quotidiano Solis cursu diem a nocte dividit, ita nunc illam ingentem infatigabili pernicitate assidue versat — ita ad breve tempus consistere voluit —

In summa, retrahitur Sol ab occasu, ad quam jam inflexus erat. Nec de numero horarum anxie laboro: quia mihi satis est, diem fuisse tota nocte prorogatum. Calvin.

Josh. 10. 12. It is a vanity of ye greatest magnitude in some of ye Jewes, and others who deny any fixation of ye Sun & Moon. Lest Joshuah should be thought to have wrought a greater miracle than moses. But as ye Prophet Habakkuk is express to ye contrary C. 3. 11. and yr own Sirachides C. 45. 56. So it is no small prevarication in some Christians to give countenance unto such a putid fiction. See Grot. in locum. Owen H. S. P. 115.

or, as some conceive, the blessings and the curses.

V. 33. Gerizim] Both these hils, Gerizim and Ebal, lay in the tribe of Ephraim, neer Sichem. See Deut. 11. 29,30. and 27.12,13. Judg.9.7.

blesse the people] i.e. pronounce the blessings and cursings opposite unto them, Deut.27.12,13.

V. 35. which Joshua read not] i.e. Caused to be read by one of the Levites, as Moses had commanded, Dent.27.14.

strangers] i.e. The profelytes which had received and professed the Israelites religion. See v.33.

CHAP. IX.

Vers. 1. ON this side] i.e. in respect of Moab, to wit, the land of Canaan, where the Israelites now were.

great sea] That is, the Mediterranean, or in all the coasts adjoyning to that sea.

Lebanon] Which lieth in the north part of Canaan.

Gibeon] A city of the Hivites, Josh.11.19. which fell to the tribe of Benjamin, and was given to the priests, Josh.21.17. with them no peace was to be made, as being a part of the seven cursed nations, without speciall warrant from God, Exod.23. 32. Deut.7.2.

V.4. wilily] As the other Canaanites sought to save themselves by force of arms, so these by subtilty and policy.

bound up] To wit, where they had leaked.

V. 6. to the men of Israel] To wit, the princes and chiefest men. See v.7.14.

V. 7. Hivites] i. Gibeonites.

and how shall] Seeing God hath given us your land, and hath expresly forbidden us to make any covenant with you,Ex.23.32. Deut.7.2.

V. 8. thy servants] Not thy enemies, as the Canaanites are, and are ready to submit to thy commands, and to accept of such conditions of peace as thou shalt please to offer, though it were to become your servants.

V.9. because of the name] Of the glory and power of the LORD (which we have heard much of) shewed in his great works and miracles.

V. 14. And the men] That is, the chief rulers and princes, took their victuals into their hands, that they might handle them, and see if they were such as they reported, and so believed and approved their words, being deceived with the sight of their provisions.

asked not counsell] Namely, by the high priest, enquiring of the LORD by Urim and Thummim, as he commanded,Num. 27.21. Exod.28.30. 1 Sam.30.7,8.

of the Lord] Who had promised to answer those that thus enquired of him,Exod.25.22.

V.15. made peace with them] Not expressing any condition of persons, lands, liberty or goods (as it was lawfull to have done with other nations which were not Canaanites) but onely the saving of their lives. And this peace seemeth lawfull, namely, if they would sue for this peace, abjure their idolatry, embrace the true religion of the Jews, and submit themselves, their lands, goods, and all they had to their Dominion: So Rahab, Judg.2.12.14. See Deut.2.26. Josh.11.20. 2 Sam.21.v.1. 2,9,14. Deut.20.10. By all which places it appeareth, that they onely of the Canaanites were devoted to utter destruction, who would not seek for peace on the former conditions.

V. 19. we may not touch them] To wit, because we are bound to save their lives, by a lawfull oath; for if it had been unlawfull,it might have been lawfully broken: but they sued for peace before we besieged their city, and upon our own conditions.

V. 20. This will we do] Namely, what is said v.21.

lest wrath be upon us] As it would be, if we should violate a lawfull oath.

V.21. unto them] i.e. To the murmuring people.

hewers of wood] In the meanest condition among the people, Deut 29.11.

V. 23. cursed] i.e. In respect of your temporall condition, seeing you and your children shall like bond-men subject your selves to the basest offices. Some think that afterwards these were those Nethinims mentioned 1 Chr.9.2. Ezra 8.20.

house of my God] i.e. The tabernacle now, and temple afterwards; yea, for the publike service of all the congregation, in things appertaining to God, v.27.

V.25. in thy hand] i.e. In thy power, to do with us and lay upon us such service as thou pleasest.

V. 27. choose] i.e. Either tabernacle or temple.

CHAP. X.

Vers. 1. A*Doni-zedek*] Which name signifieth, king of righteousnesse.

among them] For so it seemeth, by Chap.9. ver.17.

V. 2. That they feared] To wit, Adoni-zedek, and the other kings of the conntrey.

V. 3. Adoni-zedek] Who it seemeth was chief of those kings, and had in such cases (as some think) some superiority over the rest.

Hebron, &c.] Which cities were afterwards in the tribe of Judah.

V. 6. Slack not] Withdraw not thine aid from us, that now by covenant are become thy servants, and therefore under thy protection.

mountains] For all those five cities were situate in the mountains, and not like Jericho in a valley.

V.10. discomfited them] Both by the Israelites sword, and also with the hail-stones, as it is v. 11.

at Gibeon] That is, in the confines about it. So Chap.5.13.

V. 12. spake Joshua] To wit, by a faithfull and effectuall prayer in the presence of the people, that God would be pleased to do this great miracle; and then believing that he was heard, he commanded the sun, and it obeyed.

Ajalon] Afterwards in the tribe of Zebulon, Judg.12.12. towards the north of Canaan. There is another of that name in the tribe of Dan, Josh.19.42.

V. 13. book of Jasher] A book of civill annalls, which is lost, as many other of like nature, Num.21.14.

V.14. no day like that] i.e. Of so great length; for in Hezekiah's dayes the sun did not stand still, but went back onely ten degrees.

V. 15. Joshua returned] To wit, when he had performed all related from this verse to the end of the Chapter, as appeareth in the last verse; for the writer of this book sets forth the whole warre succinctly to this verse, and then more largely and particularly to the end of the Chapter.

fled] Namely, whilest Joshua pursued the victory.

V. 21. all the people] To wit, which by Joshua's command had pursued the enemy, v.19.

to the camp] i.e. The military camp of the army; for the standing camp of the whole people remained still in Gilgal, whither they returned after the victory, v.43.

in peace] Hebr. that is, sound and safe.

moved his tongue] None opposed them, not so much as by muttering against them. See Ex. 11.7.

V. 24. put your feet] To disgrace them for their wickednesse, and to encourage his captains in the assurance of like victories for the time to come. So v.25.

V.26. hanged them] i.e. Caused them to be slain and hanged by his command.

V.27. took them down] See Josh.8.29.

laid great stones] i.e. In perpetuall memory of the thing done. See Josh.7.26.

V. 28. Makkedah] A city which afterwards was in the utmost confines of the tribe of Judah towards the west, Josh. 15.41.

all the souls] i.e. All humane persons; for the beasts were to be their prey. So v.40. and Chap.11. v.11.

V. 29. all Israel] To wit, which had been in this expedition at Gibeon.

Libnah] A city situate in the tribe of Judah. Josh. 15.42. and given to the priests, Josh.21.13.

V.31. Lachish] A strong city in the confines of the tribe of Judah westward. Josh.15.39.

V. 32. second day] To wit, after they laid siege to it.

V. 33. Gezer] A city situate in the tribe of Ephraim, Josh. 16.3.10.

V. 34. Eglon.] In the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15.39. situate five leagues from Jerusalem southward, and three from Emaus.

V.35. On that day] To wit, the same day that they encamped against it.

V. 36. Hebron] An ancient city in Canaan, built seven yeers before Zoan in Egypt, Num.13.22. situate in the tribe of Judah, Josh.15.13. called before Kirjath-arba. This history is enlarged Chap.14.15.

V. 37. the king thereof] to wit, the new king, who succeeded him that was slain, v.3.26.

V. 38. Joshua returned] i.e. Leaving the Southern parts,bended his course toward Gilgal.

Debir] A city in the confines of Judah, butting on the tribe of Simeon, before called Kirjath-sepher, Judg. 1.12. Another of this name was in the tribe of Gad, beyond Jordan, Josh. 13.26.

V. 40. smote all] i.e. Conquered and subdued.

all that breathed] See v.28.

commanded] And therefore this great and generall slaughter of these nations proceeded not from any cruelty in Joshua, but was done in obedience to Gods commandment.

V. 41. Kadesh-barnea] In the tribe of Judah, in the utmost confines southward.

Goshen] Not that of Egypt, but another: of which see Josh. 11.16. 15.51.

V.42. at one time] i.e. In one expedition, and so he endeth the history of the first seven yeers after their entrance into Canaan, as appeareth by the taking Hebron and Debir. Of which see Chap.14 and 15, and Judg. 1.

CHAP.

CHAP. XI.

Vers. 1. Hazor] A city lying in or upon Galilee, called Galilee of the Gentiles, not far from Kades.

Shimron] Which is called Shimron-meron, Josh. 12.20.

Cinneroth] Afterwards called Tiberias by the lake of Genezareth, Luk. 5.1. Also the sea Chinnereth, Num. 34.11. The sea of Tiberias, and the Galilean sea.

V. 2. Dor] A city and countrey afterwards in the tribe of Manasseh, Josh. 17.11.

V. 3. Hermon] A hill in the north of Palestine.

Mispeh] A city adjoyning to Gilead. See Gen. 31.49. Judg. 10.17.

V. 5. waters of Merom] Where the king of Shimron-meron reigned.

V. 6. hough their horses] To wit, that you may not use them in war, nor put your trust in these warlike preparations. See Deut. 17.16. Judg. 7.2. 2 Sam. 8.4. Psal. 20.7.

V. 8. Zidon] Which had its name from Zidon the first-born of Canaan, Gen. 10.15.

Misrephath-maim] i.e. Salt-pits, with which that tract aboundeth: or, as some take it, glasse-ovens, or hot waters, or baths.

V. 10. smote the king] i.e. Jabin, if he had escaped out of the battell; or if he were slain, their new king succeeding him in this government.

was the head] i.e. The metropolis of all the kingdoms in that part of Canaan where Joshua now was.

V. 11. the souls] i.e. All the people, having the cattell for their prey.

V. 13. stood still in their strength] To wit, with their walls and bulwarks not yet rased and dismounted; these they preserved entire for their own use, that they might dwell in them safely and securely.

V. 16. Goshen] See Chap. 10.41.

the mountain of Israel] Which fell to the share of Israel, Judah excepted, which had his own mountains peculiar unto himself, as appeareth vers. 21.

V. 17. mount Halak] i.e. The smooth or bare mount, so called, because neither grasse, herb nor tree grew upon it.

V. 18. a long time] That is, somewhat more then six yeers, as appeareth by the age of Caleb, when he desired Hebron of Joshua, Josh. 14.7,8, &c. 13.

V. 19. all other they took] i.e. All the above-named cities, or all that Joshua came before; for we read in the book of Joshua and Samuel, That there were many cities which were not yet taken. See also Josh. 13.1.

Anakims] Anakim was the proper name of a famous giant, which afterwards was given commonly to all giants. See Num. 13.28. 33. Deut. 1.28.

mountains of Judah] Wherein the giants chiefly inhabited. See Chap. 14.12. and v. 16.

of Israel] i.e. Other tribes besides Judah.

V. 22. Gath] Where dwelt the giant Goliath, 1 Sam. 17.4.

Ashdod] These three were cities of the Philistims, which were not then conquered.

V. 23. the whole land] i.e. The greatest part of it, or all sorts of land, champion and mountainous, &c. or all that land before spoken of.

according to their divisions] i.e. Related in the following Chapters.

CHAP. XII.

Vers. 1. River Arnon] A river dividing the Moabites from the Amorites, on this side Jordan, Num. 21.13.

V. 3. Cinneroth] See Josh. 11.2. Deut. 3.17.

sea of the plain] It is called also the dead sea, in respect of the thick waters, and slow motion; and the lake of Sodom, and of Asphaltites.

Beth-jeshimoth] Situate in the confines of the Moabites, Ezek. 21.9.

V. 5. Geshurites] Geshur was a royall city in the land of Bashan, not farre from Damascus. The daughter of Talmai the king of Geshur, Maacah, was Davids wife, and Absaloms mother, 2 Sam. 3.3. whither he fled after he had murthered Amnon, 2 Sam. 13.37,38.

V. 7. Seir] The name of a mountain, and city seated on it. It is a very high mountain, situate on the east side of the land of Hus, which had its name from Edan, who was also called Seir, i.e. hairy.

their divisions] i.e. To every one his share.

V. 14. Arad] Of whom, see Num. 21.1.

V. 15. Adullam] A city in the land of Judah, 1 Chron. 11. 15. neer unto which was a cave in which David hid himself. 1 Sam. 22.1.

CHAP. XIII.

Vers. 1. To be possessed] To wit, after the enemies are overcome.

V. 2. remaineth] To wit, unconquered, or not yet subdued.

all Geshuri] See 2 Sam. 3.3. 15.8. and Chap. 12.5.

V. 3. Sihor] A river so called because of its blackness; which, (as some think) divideth Palestine from Egypt, See Num. 34.5.

counted] For the Philistims were not just owners of it, but by force had driven the Avims out of it. See Deut. 2.22,23. yet some of them remained unexpelled, which are here spoken of in the end of the verse.

V. 5. Giblits] So called of Gebal, a promontory above Zidon: see Psal. 83.7. Ezek. 27.9.

V. 7. Now therefore] i.e. Seeing thou art stricken in yeers, and canst no longer pursue thy conquest.

V. 8. even as Moses] To wit, in like manner, and on the same conditions.

V. 12. of the giants] Of the Rephaims, mentioned Gen. 14.5.

V. 13. expelled not] Either wanting power, or rather will, as thinking that they had cities and ground sufficient for their use, though they lived with them: But herein disobeying Gods command, they that remained became snares and pricks to hurt them, Num. 33.55. Josh. 23.13. Judg. 2.3.

V. 14. he gave none] To wit, Moses: so v. 33.

the sacrifices] That is, all that which remained of the sacrifices: see Num. 18.8. to 23. Deut. 10.9. 18.2.

V. 15. according to their families] Assigning to every family its portion.

V. 17. Heshbon] This city belonged both to the Reubenites and Gadites: and hence it is said, Chap. 21.39. that the Gadites gave it to the Levites.

Bamoth-baal] i.e. The place from whence Balaam blessed Israel, Num. 22.41.

V. 21. princes of Midian] Whom Moses likewise defeated, Num. 31.8.

duk's of Sihon] i.e. The governours and commanders; which also are called kings, Num. 31.8.

V. 25. half the land] To wit, which Sihon had taken from them, as appeareth Num. 21.26. for otherwise God had expresly forbidden the Israelites to take any thing from the Ammonites which was in their present possession, Deut. 2.19. Hence it is, that Jephthah denieth that they had taken any thing from them, but from Sihon, Judg. 11.15.

V. 27. valley] That is, the champion or plain.

Jordan Eastward] i.e. In the land of Moab.

V. 30. Mahanaim] There the angels of God met with Jacob, whence the name was imposed, Gen. 32.1,2.

V. 31. one half] For his six sons had received their inheritance on the other side of Jordan with the nine tribes. Josh. 17.2,5.

V. 32. plains of Moab] So called, because the Moabites possessed them, till they were expelled by the Amorites.

CHAP. XIIII.

Vers. 1. And these] Which are expressed in this and the five following Chapters.

which] Which by hereditary right were given to them to be possessed.

and the heads] i.e. The chief fathers of the tribes, as God appointed before, Num. 34.17,18.

V. 2. by lot] In which they thus proceeded; the whole countrey was divided into so many parts as there were tribes, and when the lot was drawn by a tribe in such or such a countrey, according as the number of such a tribe was, great or small, so the portion of it was enlarged or lessened. See Num. 26.54, 55, &c. 33.54.

hand of Moses] By his ministery.

half tribe] To wit, of Manasseh.

V. 4. were two tribes] To wit, by Jacobs appointment, Gen. 48.5. 1 Chron. 5.1. So though Levie lacked, yet were there still twelve tribes by this means.

V. 5. they divided the land] i.e. Not in present act, but in their intention, according to which they agreed upon an order how the whole land should be divided, both that part which they now possessed, and that also which was not yet subdued. The like phrase we have Gen. 37.21. Ex. 12.48.

V. 6. of Judah came] As being of the same tribe with Caleb, they came to assist him in his suit, which in the generall God had formerly promised, Num. 14.24. Deut. 1.36. And that all this was done before the subduing of Hebron, appeareth v. 12. being compared with Chap. 10.36,37.

in Gilgal] It seemeth this distribution was made, the camp being yet in Gilgal; the other distribution was made at Shiloh, whither the camp removed from Gilgal, Josh. 18. 1, 10.

V. 7. Fourty yeers old was I] He was, with others, sent to spie the land two yeers after their coming out of Egypt, and after that they wandered in the wilderness eight and thirty yeers, Deut. 2. 14. Whence it appeareth, that this was the seventh yeer after their coming into Canaan; and that they were

were above six yeers in conquering of it, seeing he was fourty yeers old when he was sent to spie the land, Josh. 14.7.

in my heart] As I was perswaded in my heart to be true, that God would give unto us the land of Canaan.

V.8. melt] Made them faint-hearted.

followed the Lord] So v. 9.14. and Num.14.24.

V.9. sware] To wit, by Gods motion and direction. See Num.14.21.24.

V.10. wandered] By Gods speciall command, for their rebellion and unbelief, Num.14.25. Heb.3.19.

V. 11. both to go out] A proverbiall speech, often used, as Deut.31.2. Num.27.17. whereby he signifieth, That he was yet an able commander, and fit to conquer the countrey which he desired, and to subdue the Anakims.

V. 12. this mountain] i.e. This mountainous countrey of Judah, in which Hebron was seated.

V. 13. And Joshua blessed him] Having granted his request, prayed God to blesse him with good successe, and joyfull fruition of his inheritance.

Hebron] That is, the countrey and territory of Hebron, with the towns and villages belonging to it: For Hebron it self was a free city, and belonged to the Levites, Josh. 21. 11, 12. 1 Chron.6.56.

V.14. Inheritance] But not on the condition which he propounded; to wit, That he would conquer it by his own proper forces; for Joshua himself, with the whole army, subdued it, and afterwards gave it to Caleb, Josh.10.37.

V. 15. Arba] From whom this city had its name, was a great man, both in his authority, strength and stature, yea even among the giant-like Anakims so reputed.

had rest] Not at the time when Caleb made this request, v. 12. for then both Hebron, and a great part of the land, was not conquered; but after that Joshua with his army had subdued it, and given it to Caleb in possession.

CHAP. XV.

Vers. 1. OF Zin] Not that (as it seemeth) into which the Israelites first entred, when they came out of Egypt, but another, on the south of the lake Asphaltites; because in the Hebrew they are written with divers letters, the one with Tsade, the other with Samech.

V. 2. salt sea] The lake of Sodom, sulphurous and bituminous.

V. 3. Maaleh-acrabbim] So called, from the scorpions and snakes which there abounded, Judg.1.36.

V.4. the sea] i.e. The Mediterranean sea.

V. 5. end of Jordan] Where it falleth into the salt sea.

V.6. son of Reuben] The tribe of Reuben had no land on that side of Jordan; therefore it seemeth that place had its name from Bohan a Reubenite, for some memorable act done by him there.

V.7. Gilgal] Called also Geliloth, Josh.18.17.

V.8. valley of the son of Hinnom] In which they sacrificed their children with inhumane torments to Molech, 2 Kin.23. 10. Jer.19.2,6. 2 Chron.28.3. And in the new testament, by a little change of the letters, it is called Gehenna, and taken for the torments of hell, Matth.18.9. 23.33.

Jebusite] Hierusalem was called Jebus, Judg.19.11. because it was the metropolis of the Jebusites, which they long possessed, 2 Sam.5.6.

V.10. mount Seir] Not that in Edom, but another of that name in the land of Judah.

Beth-shemesh] Not that situate in the tribe of Issachar, Josh. 19.22. but a city in the tribe of Judah, 2 Kin.14. 11. yet given to the Levites, Josh.21.16. 1 Sam.6.12.

V.11. the sea] i.e. the Mediterranean sea.

V.14. Caleb drove thence] This, as some think, was done after the death of Joshua, Judg.1.10.20.

V. 15. he went up thence] This expedition is attributed to Caleb, because, though Joshua and the army performed it, Josh.10.37,38. together with him, yet it was done chiefly for his sake, to whom Hebron was given, and atchieved chiefly by him, Othniel, and the rest of his allies and friends. Some think, that after it was conquered by Joshua, it was again repossessed by the Canaanites, and then afterwards recovered by Caleb: And others conceive, that Caleb himself properly conquered these cities; but by anticipation it is attributed to Joshua, because Caleb took them by his concession and authority.

V.18. she came unto him] i.e. To Othniel her husband.

and Caleb said] See this story more fully related, Judg.1.11.

moved him to ask] Obtained leave of him that she might ask of her father.

she lighted] That she might with more reverence speak unto her father. See Gen.24.64. 1 Sam.25.23.

V.19. a blessing] i.e. A gift or boon, with thy fathers blessing on it, Gen.33.11.

a south land] A dry land, because high, and exposed to the scorching heat of the sun.

springs of water] i. e. Other lands, with springs of water in them, that with watering them we may make them fruitfull.

V.32. all the cities are twenty and nine] Thirty and six were named; but because some of them did belong to the tribe of Simeon, as appeareth Josh.19.2. and some lay in common to both tribes, therefore he speaks here but of twenty and nine.

V. 36. Gederah, and Gederothaim] Both which names signifie one and the same city, as some conceive, and so here are but fourteen cities reckoned.

V.55. Maon] From this city the wilderness adjoyning had its name, in which David hid himself from Saul, 1 Sam 23. 25.

V.66. could not drive out] To wit, because God, for their idolatry and other sins, would not drive them out before them. See Judg.20.20,21.

unto this day] i.e. In which this history was written; for a part of that city was taken by Juda, Judg. 1.8. and by David wholly conquered, 2 Sam.5.6.

CHAP. XVI.

Vers. 1. LUZ] Not that Luz spoken of Gen. 28. 19. but that mentioned Judg.1.26.

V.2. Archi] The place from whence Hushai came, Davids counseller, 2 Sam.16.16.

V.4. Manasseh] To wit, half that tribe which had not its portion beyond Jordan.

V.7. to Jericho] i.e. Some territories thereof; for the city of Jericho it self fell to Benjamins lot, Josh.18.21.

V. 10. they drave not out] They brought them into subjection, but did not quite expell them, herein sinning against Gods expresse command, Deut.7.2. Judg.1.29.

this day] i.e. When the author wrote this history; yea, to the dayes of Solomon, when the king of Egypt subdued it, and gave it to his daughter, Solomons wife, 1 Kin.9.16.

CHAP. XVII.

Vers.1. A man of war] He had a double portion, both winning it by his valour, and having a right unto it, as being the first-born, Deut.21.17. 3.14.

Gilead] i.e. Our half of mount Gilead, as appeareth, Deut. 3. 12, 13.

V. 2. rest of the children] i.e. Those who had no portion on the other side of Jordan.

by their families] i. e. The heads of their families descending from them, and bearing their name.

V. 5. ten portions] Of which six fell to those named, v. 2. of which the fifth belonging to Hepher, was divided amongst Zelophehads five daughters, the grand-children of Hepher.

V. 6. daughters of Manasseh] i. e. Which descended from Manasseh, but begotten by Zelophehad.

V. 9. among the cities] i.e. The cities and lands belonging to Ephraim and Manasseh were mingled one with another. See Josh.16.9.

V.10. the sea] i. e. The Syrian sea.

V.12. would dwell] i. e. Resolving to dwell still in their own cities, stood upon their own strength and defence.

V. 14. children of Joseph] i. e. Both Ephraim and Manasseh, as it appeareth v.15, 16,17.

one lot] They had two lots or portions; but their meaning is, That they were so small, by reason the Canaanites held still a great part from them, that all yet alotted to them was scarce sufficient for one tribe to inherite, in regard of their great multitude.

a great people] For in the last number these two tribes were eighty five thousand and two hundred strong, Num. 26. 34, 37.

V.15. cut] i.e. Cut down the wood, and make the land champion and arable for thy use, and fit for habitation.

V. 16. the hill] i. e. The hillie part of the countrey which we have hitherto subdued.

have charets of iron] And, having this advantage, can hardly be vanquished and expelled, Judg.1.19. and 4.3.

V.17. one lot onely] i.e. As there is great reason that thou, being a great and numerous people, shouldest have a portion large enough for thee to inhabit; so, upon the same ground, there is as great reason that thou shouldst employ double strength to get a double portion.

V.18. for thou shalt drive out] i. e. Doubt not of good successe, if you will be couragious, and relie by faith upon Gods promises, alluring you of victory, Josh.13.6.

CHAP. XVIII.

Vers.1. SHILOH] Which is a city in the tribe of Ephraim, unto which place they removed the tabernacle from Gilgal, that the people might frequent it with more conveniency,

niency, because this was toward the heart of the countrey, whereas Gilgal was in the confines.

V. 3. are you slack] It seemeth that the distribution of the land was for some time interrupted after it was begun, either because the people misliked the division, as suspecting it to be partiall; or because they feared to enter, because many of the Canaanites were not yet subdued: which negligence Joshua here reproveth.

V. 4. and describe it] i. e. In respect of the quantity of it, and of the number of the cities and villages, that so we may the better know how we may justly divide it, and give equall shares to every tribe and family, as they are in number, few or many.

V. 5. coasts on the north] Not in relation to the whole land, but to the tribe of Judah onely.

V. 6. the land] i. e. The remainder of the land, which is not yet divided.

cast lots] That by casting lots I may distribute unto every one their inheritance.

before the Lord] i. e. The tabernacle of the congregation.

V. 7. But the Levites] This reason he giveth why no lot was to be cast for the Levites.

priesthood of the Lord] i. e. The things consecrated to God, and due unto the priests and Levites for their service, that is, the offerings, tythes, and first-fruits, &c.

V. 10. their divisions] i. e. To each tribe and family their portion.

V. 11. came up] i. e. Out of the urne or vessell into which it had been put: that is, a double lot] to wit, out of one urne the name of Benjamin, and out of the other that share of land that was allotted unto him.

V. 13. Luz] See Chap. 16. 2.

Beth-el] Which was in the tribe of Ephraim, and called Beth-aven, Josh. 7. 2. Another Beth-el was in the tribe of Benjamin.

V. 14. sea] i. e. The Mediterranean sea, which was towards the west in the land of Canaan.

V. 17. Geliloth] i. e. Gilead, as appeareth, Josh. 15. 7. and 22. 13.

V. 28. Jerusalem] Which was in two tribes; the north in the tribe of Benjamin, which was the greatest part; and the south, which was in the tribe of Judah.

CHAP. XIX.

Vers. 1. Lot came forth] See Josh. 18. 11.

within the inheritance] To wit, according to Jacobs prophecie, That he should be scattered among the other tribes, Gen. 49. 7.

V. 2. and Sheba] Some read it, or Sheba, and do think that these two names signifie but one city divided into two parts by a wall or river; or otherwise there should be here fourteen cities instead of thirteen, reckoned vers. 6. Besides, in 1 Chron. 4. 28. where this story is repeated, Sheba is left out.

V. 3. Balah] Which city is called Bilha, 1 Chron. 4. 29. and such alterations in names are frequent in the scriptures, and other authors, caused by length of time, and other accidents.

V. 9. children of Simeon] See the note on Josh. 15. 32.

V. 13. Gittah-hepher] Which was the birth-place of Jonah, 2 Kin. 14. 25.

V. 15. Beth-lehem] Not in the tribe of Judah, where Christ was born, but another of that name in the tribe of Zebulun, vers. 10.

villages] Some of the chiefest whereof are reckoned here with the cities.

V. 21. En-gannim] There was another city of this name in the tribe of Judah; for in divers tribes were cities of the same name, and were onely differenced by the severall tribes in which they were, one from another.

V. 17. Cabul] Some think this not to be a city, but a countrey, containing in it twenty cities, which Solomon gave to Hiram, 1 King. 9. 11. and the rather, because he reckoneth here but two and twenty cities; whereas, if this were one, there should be three and twenty. But yet it seemeth that that Cabul was so first called by Hiram, on that occasion, because it was displeasing, or dirty; or therefore displeasing, because dirty. Besides, that Cabul was not a part of the land of promise, but some place adjoyning to it; for otherwise it had been unlawfull for Solomon to alienate it, by giving it to a stranger.

V. 28. Hebron] Not that in Judah, but in this tribe of Asher, which in the originall are differenced by divers letters, ע and ח.

great Zidon] Not called so because there was a lesse, but in respect of her fame and excellency.

V. 29. Tyre] Hebr. Tzor; i. e. a rock, as being built on a rock, and environed with rocks and the sea. This belonged to Asher, but the heathens held it in possession, 2 Sam. 5. 11. 1 King. 5. 1, 2.

V. 47. went out too little] i. e. Was so little and strait, that it was not large enough to contain so great a multitude as they were.

Leshem] Or Laish, as Judg. 18. 7. where the same story is related more fully: and by collation of that with this, it plainly appeareth, that the things here recorded were done after Joshua's death, and that therefore he could not be the author of this whole book, seeing he could not write of things which happened after his death.

V. 47. Leshem, Dan] After the name of their patriarch Dan. This city was situate at the bottom of mount Lebanon, in the northern confine of the countrey opposite to Beer-sheba, which is the southern border; and afterwards called Cæsarea Philippi.

V. 50. Timnath-serah] Called Timnath-heres, Judg. 2. 9. where Joshua afterwards was buried, Josh. 24. 30.

V. 51. This verse is the conclusion of what hath been said concerning the distribution of the land, from the fourteenth Chapter hitherto.

CHAP. XX.

Vers. 1. Spake] i. e. Either visibly appearing unto him, as Josh. 5. 15. or by propheticall revelation.

V. 2. cities if refuge] i. e. In which those that had slain any at unawares might be in safety.

V. 3. unwittingly] For no place might secure a wilfull murtherer, no not the temple nor altar, Exod. 21. 14. 1 Kin. 2. 31, 34.

avenger of blood] i. e. From the kinred of the party slain, to whom the right of executing just revenge belonged.

V. 4. gate of the city] i. e. The place of Judicature, which in those dayes used to be at the city gates.

shall declare his cause] i. e. The manner of his fact, and what moved him to flee thither.

of the elders] That is, the magistrates and judges in that place.

shall take him] To wit, after he hath cleared himself of wilfull murther. See Num. 35. 22, 23. Deut. 19. 4, 5.

V. 6. he shall dwell in that city] To wit, if upon the hearing of his cause he be justified by the judges.

unto the death of the high priest] i. e. Who was so when he committed the slaughter. By which figure was signified, That true and full liberty was onely to be obtained by the death of our high priest, Jesus Christ, Joh. 8. 36.

V. 7. they appointed] Hebr. they sanctified; i. e. They consecrated for sanctuaries or places of refuge and safety, the cities which Moses formerly had appointed, Deut. 4. 41, 45.

mountain of Judah] i. e. In the mountainous countrey in Judah, Luk. 1. 39, 65.

V. 2. stranger] i. e. The proselyte converted to the Jews religion.

he stood] i. e. Till his cause were heard in a judicious manner before the judges, in the great assembly of the people, and he found and pronounced guiltlesse.

CHAP. XXI.

Vers. 1. The heads] i. e. The chief among the families of the Levites, to wit, the Kohathites, the Gershonites, and the Merarites. See 1 Chron. 6. 54, 62, 63.

Shiloh] Where the tabernacle and ark were now seated.

V. 2. spake unto them] They could not speak before for their inheritance, till all the rest were divided among the other eleven tribes, because theirs was to be appointed out of them all.

hand] i. e. The ministery.

V. 3. gave unto the Levites] To wit, by lots, as it is, v. 4, 6, 8. namely, for their use and habitation, and not in respect of title and dominion, which still remained to the tribe to which it was by lot first given, as appeareth, v. 11, 12.

V. 4. came out] Was first drawn out of the urne.

thirteen cities] Every tribe gave more or fewer cities, according as their inheritance was great or little, Num. 35. 8.

V. 8. suburbs] i. e. Arable land and pasturage adjoyning unto the cities, which were a thousand cubits from the wall of the city round about, Num. 35. 4.

V. 10. of Aaron] For Aaron came of Kohath, and therefore the priests office remained in that family, though none of them were priests, but they onely which descended from Aaron.

V. 11. Anak] See Josh. 14. 15. and 15. 13.

V. 12. But the fields] i. e. Besides or beyond the two thousand cubits allotted to the Levites, Num. 35. 5.

V. 13. Thus they gave] The catalogue of these cities is rehearsed, 1 Chron. 6. 55. with some difference in respect of names, which is caused by the altering of names in processe of time, and also because some cities had divers names.

children of Aaron] i. e. The priests of the family of the Kohathites, of whom Aaron was the chief.

V. 16. tribes] Namely, Judah and Simeon, v. 9.

22.10. — built there — that is, beyond Jordan. See v. 19.

Geneva Notes

V. 18. Anathoth] The City in which Jeremy was born.
Almon] Alias Alemeth, both names signifying youth; and 2 Sam. 3. 16. It is called Bahurim, which hath the same signification.

V. 20. Children of Kohath] Which were not Priests, as not being discended from Aaron.

V. 21. Shechem] This and Hebron were the two Cities of refuge, under the Kohathites.
Gezer] See Judg. 1. 29.

V. 25. half-tribe] i. e. Which dwelt in Canaan.

V. 27. other half-tribe] Besides that half whose lot fell beyond Jordan.
Golan] This and Kedesh were the Cities of refuge under the Gershonites.

V. 34. the rest of the Levites] They are called the rest, because they are last numbred, and Merari was the yongest brother, Gen. 46. 11.

V. 36. Bezer] Bezer and Ramoth were the Cities of refuge under the Merarites, and beyond Jordan, Josh. 20. 8.

V. 41. within the possession] Thus according to Jacobs prophecie, they were scattered throughout the whole land, which God did to this end, That his people might be instructed by them in the true religion.
fourty eight Cities] Unto Levie the half tribe are allotted more Cities then to the greater tribes: And this is, because divers Cities of other tribes are not named as the Levites are; and also, because they needed more then other tribes, in regard that they might live onely in Cities, whereas the other might live in villages and countrey houses.

V. 43. the Lord gave] That is, he assigned it unto them, and gave them right unto it, though divers of the tribes through their negligence, did not drive out the Canaanites. For that much of the land at this time remained unsubdued, appeareth, Chap. 13. and 23. and Judg. Chap. 1. But the meaning is, That all Gods promises were performed in that manner and time, as God made them. i. e. That they should enjoy all the countrey in fit time, when as they were sufficient to inhabit it, Exod. 23. 29. Deut. 7. 22.
possessed it] i. e. So much of it as they subdued, or thought needfull for their present use.

V. 44. gave them rest] to wit, From warre. i. e. Peace and tranquillity.
not a man] To resist or hurt them, namely, of all those who assailed them, or were assaulted by them, whilest Joshua did lead the army.

V. 45. any good thing] And among the rest that is to be reputed one, That the LORD would not presently, and at once, expell their enemies out of the land of promise, Exod. 23. 29.

CHAP. XXII.

Vers. 1. THen] i. e. When God had fulfilled all his promises; and having subdued their enemies, had given unto his people, peace and rest.

V. 2. commanded you] Which was to go armed before their brethren.

V. 3. these many dayes] i. e. Above thirteen yeers, as some compute it. Seven yeers almost in their conquest, and neer so much in dividing the land, others reckon neer thirteen yeers, and more yeers to the conquest, then to the division of the land.

V. 7. to their tents] That is, to their own dwellings beyond Jordan.
blessed them] i. e. Prayed unto God for his blessing upon them.

V. 8. with your brethren] to wit, Which remained at home with their wives, children, and stuff, and went not to the war. See Num. 31. 27. and 1 Sam. 30. 24.

V. 9. Gilead,] i. e. All that countrey in which Schon and Og raigned.

V. 10. borders] Heb. Gelilоth. See Josh. 18. 17. Which countrey was also called Canaan, because the Amorites dwelling there, were called Canaanites.

V. 12. to warre] Such now was their zeal, that they would rather hazard their lives, then suffer Gods true religion to be corrupted. For God had ordained, That there should be but one place for publike service, and sacrifices, and but one altar. Levit. 17. 8, 9. Deut. 12. 5, 7. 13. 27. Exod. 20. 24. Deut. 27. 5.

V. 14. ten princes,] i. e. Nine for the nine tribes, and one for the half tribe of Manasseth.

V. 17. not cleansed] But all lie still under the infamy of so foul a sin; and some then guilty, but not presently punished, do still suffer for it, though many yeers after, Numb. 14. 20, 21.

V. 18. to morrow] i. e. In time to come, and that very speedily. So v. 24. and 4. 6.

V. 19. be unclean] i. e. If in your opinion it be unsanctified, as wanting the visible signes of Gods presence, and the means of his publike service, to wit, the tabernacle, altar, and arke.
against the Lord] To use any other service then God hath appointed; is to rebell against him, 1 Sam. 15. 23.
nor rebell against us] In drawing Gods judgements upon us by your sin, as Achan did, or inspiring your selves from us.

V. 20. some of Zerah] i. e. Of the posteritie of Zerah, Josh. 7. 17, 18.
not alone] But thirty and six of the people, and his wife, and children for his sin.

V. 21. the thousands] For the children of Israel were divided into thousands, Exod. 18. 21, Judg. 6. 15.

V. 23. require it] Call us to account, and punish us for it.

V. 24. this thing] That is, concerning Gods pure worship.
What have you to do] To wit, with our God, or his service, tabernacle, or altar; seeing you are not his people, being separated by Jordan from the holy land.

V. 25. no part in the Lord] i. e. Ye are none of Gods people, nor have any thing to do in his service, in his sanctuary, or any interest in his blessings. See the like phrases, 2 Sam. 20. 1. 1 King. 12. 16. Ezra 4. 2. Neh. 2. 20.
make our children] i. e. Make them lesse zealous in the service of God, or cause them to turn quite from him.

V. 27. a witnesse] A significative monument.
before him] In his tabernacle or temple, the place of his presence.

V. 31. the Lord is among us] To wit, by his grace and blessing, in keeping you from sinning against him, by setting up a new divised worship.
out of the hand of God] Whose wrath would have been kindled both against you and us all, if you had committed that sin which we suspected.

V. 32. brought them word] i. e. Related unto them their just apology and excuse.

V. 34. a witnesse between us] To wit, That we worship the same God, and imbrace the same true religion, with all the rest of Gods people.

CHAP. XXIII.

Vers. 2. ALL Israel] That is to say, for all their elders, and heads, &c. as it is expounded in the words following.

V. 4. that remain] That is, as yet unconquered, which the people of Israel by Gods command were bound to root out by warre.

V. 7. come not among] i. e. Have no familiarity with them, nor make marriages with them, as v. 12.
nor cause to swear] i. e. Let not the Judges admit an oath, which any shall swear by their idols. Deut. 12. 3.

V. 8. unto this day] i. e. Since under my conduct, you came into the land of Canaan.

V. 12. go back] That is, back-slide from God and his true worship.

V. 13. scourges] Alluding to the manner of old times, when the sides of offenders were scourged. Eccles. 30. 12. 42. 5.
in your eyes] i. e. A continuall grief and vexation unto you.

V. 14. I am going] i. e. I am ready to die according to the course of nature, or my death neer approacheth. So 1 King. 2. 2. Heb. 9. 27.
in all your hearts] i. e. You know most certainly.

V. 15. all evill things] To wit, which he hath threatned if you transgresse his law.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Vers. 1. TO Shechem] That is to Shilo, which was in the territories of Shechem, where the tabernacle now was: nor is it unusuall to put the name of the countrey, for some chief city therein scituated. So vers. 32. compared with Gen. 33. 18. So Hebron is said to be given to Caleb, Chap. 14. 14. That is not the city it self, but the territory adjoyning to it, Chap. 21. 13.
before God] i. e. The tabernacle, the place of Gods presence.

V. 2. all the people] To wit, those specified, v. 1.
of the flood] To wit, Euphrates, i. e. In Mesopotamia. So v. 3. 14, 15.

V. 3. multiplyed] To wit, by Hagar and Keturah. gave him Isaac] To wit, as heir by speciall covenant, grace and power.

V. 7. darknesse] That is, by a dark cloud he separated the Egyptians from the Israelites.
and your eyes have seen] i. e. So many of you as were under twenty yeers when you came out of Egypt, for all the rest died in the wildernesse, saving Caleb and Joshua.

V. 9. arose, or to war, and warred] i. e. Purposed to make war, though he did not do it in act, Judg. 11. 25. So the intention is sometime taken for the very act, as John 10. 32, 33.

V. 11. fought against you] i. e. Prepared to fight, and fortified themselves and cities, in a hostile manner, and the rest of the nations here mentioned, by force of arms fought against you.

V. 12. the hornet] Either literally very hornets, as it is understood, Wisd. 12. 8. or metaphorically taken for the terrour of their approach, which like hornets, stung, and deaded their hearts.

I sent the hornet before you] Exod. 23. 28. Deut. 7. 20.

even the two kings] To wit, Sehon and Og.

not with thy sword] i. e. Not by any policy or power of thine onely, or chiefly, which would have been vain in themselves, had not God, as principall cause, given victory. Psal. 44. 3.

V. 13. and cities] For they destroyed onely Hazor, and left the rest for themselves to dwell in, Josh. 11. 13.

of the vineyards] i. e. Of the fruit of the vineyard. So Gen. 3. 1. 12. Revel. 2. 7.

V. 14. your fathers] i. e. Terah and Nachor, v. 2. yea, Abraham himself before he was called by God, as is thought.

V. 15. And if it seem evill] He doth not in thus speaking, leave them to their choice, to serve God or no; but comparing that which is best, with that which is worst, the service of God with the service of devils, as it were life and death, hell and heaven; he then leaveth them to choose, that they might choose more freely, and delight in their choice, and be more firm and constant in their covenant: For it is the strongest bond when a man binds himself freely and willingly. So Ruth 1. 8, 15. 1 King. 18. 21.

V. 19. Ye cannot serve the Lord] To wit, if ye retain your idols among you, or mingle false worship with the true, as vers. 23. And this he speaketh, not to deterre them; but to make them suspect themselves, as being very prone to idolatry; and to draw them up to make a more firm covenant of serving God with so much the stronger resolution.

an holy God] And therefore abhorres impiety and idolatry.

a jealous God] And therefore cannot endure any corrivals in his worship.

V. 20. then he will turn and do you hurt] Chap. 23. 15.

he will not forgive] To wit, if you adde to your idolatry breach of covenant.

V. 21. Nay] i. e. All this shall not hinder us from entring into covenant with God; for we are fully resolved to serve the LORD onely.

V. 22. And Joshua said] That is, concluded and ratified the covenant between God and the people.

V. 23. put away the strange gods] i. e. The idols which some of you still do (though secretly) retain and worship, and that they so did, appeareth, Amos 5. 25, 26. and Act. 7. 43.

God of Israel] To wit, to serve him alone, and no other.

V. 25. So Joshua made] That is, as Gods servant and substitute, renewed and ratified a covenant between God and his people.

V. 26. in the book of the law] That is, he wrote or caused the priests to write the words of this covenant in some copy of the law, written by Moses, Deut. 31. 26.

by the sanctuary] i. e. In Shechem neer the tabernacle, or in the outward court as it was now pitched.

V. 27. it hath heard] By a figurative speech, sence is emphatically ascribed to a senseless stone. So Deut. 32. 11. Psal. 19. 1. and Isai. 1. 2. Jerem. 22. 29. As though he should say, this stone, when you see it, shall represent to your mindes and consciences, this covenant which you have made, as if it could both hear and speak.

the words of the Lord] That is, the words of the covenant, which we have contracted with the land.

ANNOTATIONS
On the Book of JUDGES.

The ARGUMENT.

THe Judges mentioned in this Book, Were not ordinary Magistrates, but extraordinarily called by God, in times of great extremitie, When all things seemed deplorable and desperate, and endowed with heroick gifts of the Spirit, fitting them for those services, in which he was pleased to imploy them; Which was usually to fight his Battles, and by vanquishing their enemies, to give his people deliverance from their grievous oppressions: As also to restore and rectifie the Government, when through the peoples insolencies and unrulinesse, all things were brought to disorder and confusion. Neither had these Judges supreme and regall power committed unto them; for in all their time, God was their King, and kept the jura regalia, or Royall Rights, in his own hand, unto whom, as supreme, they were to appeal in cases of greatest difficultie, till in Samuels time they rejected him and his Government, and would have a King of their own to raign over them, like other Nations: But they were onely Gods Lievtenants, who were to go out and in before the people, at his command, to execute his designes, and at his appointment (when their work was done) to lay down their Authoritie and Rule, as we see in Gideons example. Now these were called Judges, because they were Gods Ministers, appointed by him to execute his righteous judgements, both in subduing, punishing, and destroying the wicked enemies of his Church; also when his people were delivered from their tyranny and oppressions, to administer justice unto them according to his Laws, and preserve unto them Gods true Religion, in puritie and sinceritie, without any tainture of Idolatry and Superstition. And this Scripture is called the Book of Judges, because it containeth the History of the memorable things done under their severall Governments, and the state of the people of Israel, both in Church and Common-Wealth, in their times, Which being computed from Joshua to Eli, amounteth to three hundred yeers saving one, they being twelve in number that bore this office. The main scope of this History is to set forth, and leave to the use of all posteritie, the state and condition of the Church and Common-Wealth of Israel, from their first setling in the Land of Canaan, to the time of Eli; That all succeeding Ages might learn by their example, to imitate such things in them as are worthy imitation, and shun the contrary: For it discovereth their prosperous successe in all their enterprises, whilest they professed and maintained Gods true Religion, and valiantly executed his commands in fighting his Battles, and driving out their enemies; but when out of sloth, and love of ease, or cowardly fear, they neglected Gods charge, and suffered them to live amongst them: The Lord, as he had threatned, caused them to become snares and traps unto them, scourges to their sides, and thorns in their eyes, to vex and grieve them, as plainly appeareth by this History: For by conversing with these cursed Nations, they learned their works, as the Psalmist speaketh: They took their Daughters to be their Wives, and gave their Daughters to their Sons, and worshipped their gods Baalim and Ashteroth, and served their Idols, which were a snare unto them; yea, they sacrificed their Sons and Daughters unto devils. By which, their fearfull Apostasie, they shewed their horrible ingratitude unto God, who by such mighty Wonders had delivered them out of the Egyptian bondage, subdued their many and mighty enemies, and performed all his gracious Promises in bringing them into, and giving them possession in that good Land of Canaan, which flowed with Milk and Honey: And also their shamefull full perfidiousneſſe in breaking their ſolemn Covenant with God, into which, Joſhua a little before his death, had cauſed them to enter. By all which their provocations, they fearfully kindled Gods juſt wrath againſt them, as the ſtory ſheweth; ſo that he made them unſucceſſefull in all their enterpriſes; delivered them into the hands of ſpoilers, that ſpoiled them, and ſold them into the hands of their enemies round about, ſo that they could no longer ſtand before them; but being ſubdued, were grievouſly oppreſſed by them. Yet in all this juſt ſeverity, the Lord is mindfull of his Covenant, and doth not utterly reject them as their ſins deſerved; but in his great mercy and goodneſſe, doth thus ſharply correct them to bring them to repentance; which was no ſooner done, but preſently he raiſeth up Judges to deliver them out of the hands of their oppreſſing enemies. And though they often relapſed into their Idolatrous and ſinfull courſes, and were as often ſeverely puniſhed; yet returning unto God, who ſmote them, by ſerious repentance; they ſtill found him alike, gracious, and mercifull in pardoning their ſins, and ſending them deliverance. Laſtly, By that horrible corruption of Religion and manners, which was at this time in the Common-Wealth of Iſrael, ſpecially inſtanced in that bloody maſſacre of Gideons ſons, and the Sodimitical filthyneſſe of the men of Gibeah, countenanced and maintained by the whole Tribe of Benjamin; is declared unto all poſteritie; the miſerable condition of ſuch a ſtate and people, who live in an Anarchy, or (that which is almoſt as bad) under the Government of wicked Magiſtrates, who either out of fear, dare not execute Juſtice upon offenders, being over awed with the inſolencies of a ſtiff-necked and rebellious people; or out of favour will not, becauſe they like their courſes, as being ſuitable to their own diſpoſitions; Or through negligence or love of their own eaſe, will not trouble themſelves to examine and take notice of any wickedneſſe, that it may be puniſhed; but as if there were no King in Iſrael, ſuffer every one to do that which ſeemeth good in his own eyes. Judg. ii. 14, 15.

ſnares] To intangle you to your perdition in their idolatry, by keeping them company. See Exod. 23. 33. and 34. 12. Joſh. 23. 13.

V. 5. ſacrificed there] To wit, in Shiloh, which was neer Bochim.

V. 6. And when Joſhua] In this verſe, to the ſeventh of the third Chapter, he ſummarily ſetteth down the cauſes why God inflicted his judgements upon the Iſraelites, and would not drive out the Canaanites from before them, namely, their neglect of Gods commands, idolatry, and back-ſliding. Theſe words to the tenth verſe, are repeated out of the 24th, v. 28. of Joſhua, and here inſerted, to clear the way to the enſuing ſtory.

V. 9. Timnath-heres] So called from the idolatry in that place, committed to the ſun. It is called Timnath-Serah by a tranſpoſition of letters, Joſh. 24. 30.

V. 10. knew not the Lord] To wit, by his miraculous works, of which, they were not eye-witneſſes, as their fathers were, nor had any holy impreſſion of them in their hearts, by their relation.

V. 11. did evill] By committing idolatry, the greateſt evill in Gods ſight.

Baalim] Baal ſignifieth lord, and was a name generally uſed with idolaters, for all their gods and goddeſſes; which being many, they uſed to diſtinguiſh them one from another, by ſome addition; as Baal-berith. Judg. 8. 33. Baal-peor, Num. 25. 3. Baal-zebub, 2 King. 1. 6. The Iſraelites thought their worſhip lawfull, becauſe they worſhipped the true God in theſe idols, Hoſ. 2. 16. So Exod. 32. 4, 5.

V. 13. Aſhtaroth] The Heathens called this idoll Aſtartz, which they worſhipped in the female ſex, and the Philiſtims, and Sidonians, under the form of a ſheep. See 1 Sam. 31. 10. 1 King. 11. 5, 33. And under this, ſome think they worſhipped Venus, or Diana, or the Moon.

V. 14. he ſold them] i. e. Gave them over, as the ſeller the things ſold into the hands of the buyer. So Chapter 4. 2, 9.

Psal.44.12, 13. Isa.50. 1. Or as they use to sell captives taken in war for slaves.

V. 15. for evill] i.e. To crosse them in all their enterprises, and to bring upon them all mischiefs and miseries threatned, Lev. 26. and Deut. 28.

V. 16. raised up] Not in an ordinary way, but by the singular motion of his spirit; not for a setled course of government, but for speciall uses upon extraordinary occasion, whom God fitted for this service, by endning them with Heroicall and extraordinary gifts and vertues. See Chap.3. 9, 10. and 8. 23.

V. 17. a whoring] i.e. Defiled themselves with spirituall whoredom, to wit, idolatry with false gods.

V. 18. it repented] i.e. He altered his course, from executing judgement, to shewing mercy, upon their turning from their sins. See Gen.6.6.

V. 19. then their fathers] To wit, either in Egypt, or in the wilderneſse.

ceased not] They desisted not from their wicked practices.

stubborn way] i. e. In which they stubbornly walked and persisted.

V. 21. Joshua left] i.e. Unconquered and unexpelled, Josh. 23. 13. besides those which after his death were subdued, as Chap.1.

V. 22. prove Israel] And now punish them, being disallowed in the tryall, as was threatned. Josh. 23. 13. See Gen.22. 1. 2 Chro.32. 31.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. The wars] To wit, in the time of Joshua; and that to this end, That he might still keep the people in the exercise of faith and obedience, seeing they still needed God assistant against these enemies.

V. 2. might know to teach] That is, by this continuall exercise of warre, might be able to teach their posterity the use of arms, and so not to grow weak-hearted, and effeminate by their long peace and rest.

V. 3. five lords] Three of these are said to be conquered by Judah, Judg. 1. 18. But it seemeth, that for the apostacy and idolatry of the people, these enemies revolted, and got head again, and so long after continued in their strength. Judg. 15. 11. and 1 Sam. 4 and 6. 4. 17.

mount Lebanon] Lying in the north border of Canaan.

Baal-hermon] So called from the idoll there worshipped: it lay on the east end of mount Lebanon, and northward from Basan. 1 Chro.5.23. And the mount Hermon at the west end of Lebanon. Deut.3. 9. and 4. 48.

V. 4. to know] i. e. To make known. See Deut. 8. 2.

V. 8. Mesopotamia] Or Syria, of the two rivers, because it lyeth between two rivers, Euphrates and Tigris.

V. 10. spirit of the Lord] i. e. The spirit of wisedom, and fortitude, fitting him for warre and government, and inciting him unto it. So Chap.6.34. and 11. 29.

his hand prevailed] To wit, for the subduing of him, and keeping him in subjection.

V. 11. land had rest] To wit, from warre and servitude, true religion being restored, and the land flourishing in peace and plenty.

fourty yeers] Or, to the fourtieth yeer, reckoning this time from the death of Joshua to Othniels death, as may be gathered from 1 King.6. 1.

V. 13. palm-trees] See Chap.1.16.

V. 14. eighteen yeers] They served the king of Mesopotamia eight yeers, and now Eglon eighteen yeers; because their sins increasing, their servitude also was prolonged.

V. 18. he sent away the people] Both to avoid suspition, because of their number, and to secure them from danger, if any should happen.

V. 19. Keep silence] To wit, till the company about me be departed.

V. 20. And he arose] i. e. In sign of reverence to Gods message and messenger, though he were an idolater.

V. 24. covereth his feet] i. e. He doth his easement, which the Hebrews modestly expresse by this phrase. 1 Sam. 24.3. because sitting down, the feet were covered by the upper garment.

V. 26. Seirath] A place neer mount Ephraim.

V. 30. the land had rest] See v. 11.

fourscore yeers] Which (as some think) are to be reckoned from the death of Othniel.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 2. Sold them] See Chap.2. v. 14.

Jabin] There was another Jabin slain by Joshua. Josh. 11. 1, 10. whom this succeeded.

of Canaan] Not the whole land of promise, but the north borders of that countrey.

Hazor] See Josh.11. 10, 11. and 19.36. Which Hazor was burnt by Joshua, but now reedified by the Canaanites.

Harosheth of the Gentiles] That is, a woody strong place, whither the reliques of the conquered nations resorted to inhabit there, as being most safe and defensible against the Israelites.

V. 4. judged Israel] Not governing onely as a judge, but also as a propheteſse, counselling, and directing them by revealing unto them the will of God, by the spirit of prophecy. So veri. 6.

V. 5. palm-tree of Deborah] So called, because she dwelt there.

for judgement] i. e. To learn of her, as a propheteſse, the will of God, concerning things which themselves knew not, and also for judgement otherwise.

V. 6. Kedesh-naphtali] A City in Naphtali, between the waters of Merom, and the lake Genesareth. Josh. 19. 32, 37. and 20. 7. and 21. 32.

Hath not the Lord] An Hebraism, that is, the LORD hath assuredly commanded. For such questioning doth strongly affirm. So v. 14. and 6. 14. Gen.13.9.

mount Tabor] Neer the west border of the tribe of Zebulon by the river Kishon. See Chap. 5. 21. Psal. 83. 9.

V. 8. go with me] To give me assurance that God hath spoken by thee, and as a propheteſse, to direct me by acquainting me with Gods will, as there shall be any occasion.

V. 9. for thine honour] i. e. Thou shalt not have the chief honour of the day, nor the praise of the victory, which is due to a Generall, because of thy fear and diffidence; but it shall be principally ascribed to women, to wit, Deborah and Jael.

sell Sisera] i. e. Shall deliver him into the power of a woman to be slain by her, seeing thou darest not execute the LORDS commands, without having the presence of a woman.

V. 10. at his feet] i. e. Who marched after him (as it were) treading in their leaders steps: The like Hebraism we have, Exod. 11. 8. 1 King. 20. 10.

V. 11. Heber] The husband of Jael. Vers. 17.

from the Kenites] That is, his countrey-men and allies, which dwelled in the tribe of Juda. Chap. 1. 16.

V. 12. Tabor] See vers. 6.

V. 13. Kishon] Which first riseth out of the hills of Tabor, Hermon, and Giiboa, and afterwards dividing it self into two parts, one of them runneth into the Mediterranean, the other into the lake Genesareth.

V. 14. is not the Lord] i. e. Most certainly the LORD is gone out before thee, as Generall of the army, to fight for thee, and give thee victory. See vers.6. Chap.5.20. 2 Sam.5.24.

V. 15. discomfited] i. e. Took away his heart and courage, and so overthrew him, and all his power in an extraordinary manner. So Josh.10. 10. Judg.5. 20. 1 Sam.7.10.

V. 16. not a man left] i. e. In the field, to make any resistance. See Psal.14. 3. 53. 3. Rom.3. 12.

V. 17. there was peace] No open hostility, Heber standing in a neutrality, between Jabin and the Israelites, and so enjoyed peace with both, but not by oath and covenant, for then Jaels act had been faulty.

V. 19. a bottle of milk] i. e. To make him the more sleepy, that she might have the better opportunity to effect her intended act, and the lesse suspicious upon the experience of her kinde entertainment. See Chap.5. 25.

V. 20. Sha't say, No] This he requireth, but she prudently giveth him no promise to do it.

V. 21. a nail of the tent] i. e. Used to fasten coards of the tent to the ground, to keep it firm against the windes, and therefore long and strong enough for her intended use.

and smote the nail] This act proceeded from a singular zeal to Gods glory, and his peoples weal, inspired in an extraordinary manner and measure, by his spirit; seeing she is so highly commended for it by the holy Ghost. Chap.5. 24.

CHAP. V.

Vers. 1. Then sang] Deborah as a propheteſse composed the song, and Barak joyned with her in singing it.

V. 2. the people] To wit, chiefly of the two tribes, Zebulon and Naphtali, as it is Chap.4.10. and 5.18. with some others, v. 14, 15.

V.8. They chose new gods] i.e. They worshipped the heathen idols, which was the cause why God plagued them with all these miseries of war, Judg.2.10. and 4.1.

was there a shield] i.e. Surely there were none, because the enemies had disarmed them. See 1 Sam. 13. 19, 22. or else they were grown so cowardly, that they durst not use their weapons in their defence, nor so much as let them come in sight.

V.9. my heart] i.e. From my heart I honour and love the governours and heads of the tribes who offered themselves to be captains and leaders in this war, by their example encouraging the common people.

V.10. white asses] i.e. Princes and chief governours, who used in those dayes to ride on such asses, as an ensigne of their state and power. See Chap.10.4. and 12.14. do ye blesse the LORD, and speak of his great acts.

walk by the way] That have occasion to travell in the high-wayes, which were lately dangerous, but now secure, by the valour of these worthies.

V.11. they that are] i.e. They that were formerly put in danger of their lives by the archers and souldiers, whiles they were drawing water, and are now out of this fear; let them blesse the LORD for this, and sing his praises.

righteous acts] To wit, in avenging his people upon their enemies.

villages] Which were in most danger, because least defensible; but now by this victory safe for habitation.

go down to the gates] i.e. All sorts, citizens and countrey-men, may now have free ingresse and egresse, both to the courts of justice, and to the market.

V.12. thy captivity captive] i.e. Lead them captive, that kept thy people in captivity, Psal.68.18.

V.13. Then he] i.e. The LORD made the remainder of the Israelites, rescued by this victory out of the tyranny of the Canaanites, to have now dominion over their nobles.

made me] i.e. Me Deborah, by my counsell and encouragement, to subdue great princes and captains.

V.14. Out of Ephraim] Here Deborah beginneth to relate how the severall tribes acquitted themselves in this expedition, praising or blaming them according to their merit or demerit.

a root] Some take this root to be Deborah, dwelling upon mount Ephraim, Chap.4.5. the root or first mover of this expedition against the Canaanites, here called Amalek, in respect of their hatred and tyranny. Others take it to be Joshua an Ephraimite, who subdued Amalek, Exod.17.13. Others read it thus, whose root is by Amalek, and understand Judah and Simeon, whose coast did extend unto Amalek; as appeareth by comparing Judg.1.16. with 1 Sam.15.6.

after thee] That is, after thee, O LORD, Benjamin followed also with the rest of thy people. Some refer it as spoken to Ephraim, followed by Benjamin.

Machir] i.e. The Manassites descending from Machir the first-born of Manasseh, Josh.17.1.

governours] Captains and leaders, or judges and law-givers.

handle the pen] q.d. Not onely captains and rulers, but even scribes, addicted to their studies, took arms to help their brethren.

V.15. were with Deborah] i.e. Agreed with her to give their assistance when they were required.

even Issachar] i.e. Not onely the princes, but the whole tribe.

also Barak] Being called with his tribe of Naphtali, came, and did what was commanded; Judg.4.6,10.

on foot] So Judg.4.10,14.

into the valley] To wit, of mount Tabor, Judg.4.14.

for the divisions of Reuben] Reuben, dwelling on the other side Jordan, kept himself separate from his brethren, giving them no assistance in this war; but stood as neutrall to both sides, regarding more their own private, then the publike interest.

great thoughts of heart] i.e. Wrought in mens mindes many strange impressions, and distracted them with severall opinions, and divers constructions, causing men to wonder much at this cold neutrality. Some think that these strange thoughts which made them so slack and remisse, were in the Reubenites themselves, who were distracted with severall opinions; some thinking it best to ayd their brethren: and others, the greater and more prevailing party, that they were better to abstain, that they might enjoy their ease, and avoid danger: others, because out of pride of heart they would not follow the conduct of a woman.

V.16. abodest thou] i.e. Thou, O Reuben.

among the sheepfolds] For this tribe was rich in cattell, Num. 32.1.

to hear the bleatings] i.e. Taking more care to tend thy cattell, then to assist thy brethren.

great searchings] See v.15.

V.17. Gilead] i.e. Half the tribe of Manasseh beyond Jordan, or else the two tribes and an half that dwelled together in Gilead. See Num. 32.5. 29, 33.

in ships] The inheritance of Dan and Asher lay for the most part on the sea side, Josh.19. 24,26, 40, 46.

breaches] Made into the land by sea-floods.

V.18. high places] i.e. Mount Tabor, from whence they went down with Barak into the battell. See Chap.4.10,14.

V.19. the kings] i.e. Jabin and his confederates.

in Taanach] Which belonged to the one half of the tribe of Manasseh, and was neer Tabor. See Chap.1.27.

money] Though they hoped for much spoil, yet they got nothing, yea, lost all and themselves too.

V.20. they fought from heaven] i.e. The treasures from above, as the rain, windes, hail; and the stars with their influences conspired to work their ruine. See Chap.4.15.

V.21. swept them away] To wit, being swelled with rain and storms from above, did drown many of them in their flight.

strength] i.e. All the power of the enemies, or the strong and mighty enemy.

V.22. hoofs broken] And so made unserviceable.

V.23. Curse ye] i.e. Acknowledge and pronounce them accursed, by the authority and command of the angel speaking by me.

Meroz] Which was (as some think) a city neer the river Kishon, where the battell was fought, on the south border of Issachar. Others say that it is the name of a place now unknown, as being not elsewhere mentioned.

said the angel] That is, the angel of covenant, the LORD Christ. See Chap.6.11. and 2.1.

help of the Lord] i.e. To the help of the LORDS people, unto whose salvation Gods glory is annexed.

the mighty] i.e. Sisera and his mighty army. Some read it thus, among, or, with the mighty: i.e. Barak, and his valiant worthies.

V.25. a lordly dish] i.e. A dish befitting a lord; or so large as he might drink his fill out of it.

V.26. she smote Sisera] i.e. She smote the nail of the tent thorow his temples with the hammer.

V.28. The mother of Sisera] A lively and ironicall representation of pride and carnall confidence, presuming of successe in enterprises upon sensuall grounds, without respect to Gods power and providence.

V.30. Have they not sped?] i.e. They have surely sped, and got the victory, and therefore cannot come so soon, because they must have some time allowed them to divide the spoil.

on both sides] i.e. Both sides alike, and of equall beauty.

V.31. as the sun] i.e. From morning to high noon, still encreasing in glory and brightnesse, Prov.4.18. Psal.37.6.

Fourty yeers] To wit, being reckoned from that eighty yeers mentioned, Chap.3.30.

CHAP. VI.

Vers. 1. OF Midian] i.e. The Midianites, who came of Midian the son of Abraham, by Keturah, Gen.25.2.

V.2. made them the dens] Namely, to hide themselves in from the Midianites. See 1 Sam.13.6.

V.3. And so it was] i.e. It was their usuall practice thus to do every yeer, as they did now.

Amalekites] Who were of Esau's posterity, Gen.36.12.

of the east] i.e. The Arabians chiefly. See Chap.8.10,11. Job 1.3.

V.4. unto Gaza] Lying west at the Mediterranean, so that they wasted the whole land, from east to west.

V.5. as Grashoppers] An hyperbolicall expression of their multitude, multitude, their army consisting of a hundred and thirty five thousand able fighting men, besides the rascallity which followed the camp, as appeareth, Chap. 8. 10.

without number] Heb. i. e. So many, that they were hardly to be numbred. So Chap. 7. 12. whereas a small company is expressed by the contrary phrase, That they are men of number. See Gen. 34. 30.

V. 11. an angel] That is, Christ the eternall Son of God; for he is called JEHOVAH, v. 14. and the LORD, v. 16. See Chap. 2. 1. Gen. 18. 17. 48. 16.

Ophrah] There were two Ophrah's, one in the tribe of Benjamin, Josh. 18. 23. and this in the tribe of Manasseh.

Abi-ezrite] Of the tribe of Manasseh, Josh. 17. 2. So below, v. 34. 35.

wine-presse] In an unusuall and secret place, that he might not be discovered.

V. 14, in this they might] i. e. Which I now give thee, with my promise to assist thee.

have not I] i. e. Surely I have sent thee. See Chap. 4. 6.

V. 15. wherewith shall I save Israel?] These are not words proceeding from diffidence, but of one seeking direction what means he was to use for the effecting of the thing promised, and the strengthning of his faith, Heb. 11. 32. Luk. 1. 34.

V. 16. as one man] i. e. As easily as if thou hadst to do but with one man, and not with a great army.

V. 17. shew me a signe] To wit, that thou art sent of God thus to speak unto me, that I may undertake this dangerous expedition with good conscience and courage.

V. 18. my present] Thinking him to be onely a man or prophet, he desireth to give him entertainment, by setting meat before him, as Abraham did, Gen. 18. 5. and Manoah, Judg. 13. 15.

V. 19. the broth] To wit, upon the flesh and cakes, 1 King. 18. 34.

V. 21. fire out of the rock] With which, after the manner of a whole burnt offering, all upon it were consumed. So 1 Kin. 18. 38. and 2 Chron. 7. 1.

V. 22. Alas, O Lord] Being affrighted because he had seen the LORD, he thus cryeth out through the weaknesse of the flesh, as though he should presently die. So Gen. 32. 30. Deut. 5. 24, 26.

V. 24. Jehovah-shalom] This altar was by Gideon built, and dedicated to Christ himself that appeared to him, which he calleth Jehovah-shalom, because he is our peace, and the Prince of peace, Isai. 9. 6. and the author and giver of all our peace, Isai. 53. 1. Luk. 2. 14. Heb. 7. 2. Joh. 14. 27. and 16. 33. Act. 10. 36. And secondly, because he had promised to Gideon deliverance and peace to him and his people, by their victory over the Midianites.

V. 24. in Ophrah] See v. 11.

V. 25. second bullock] i. e. Which useth to stand second in the stall.

seven yeers old] Bred the same yeer when the Midianites began their tyranny.

cut down the grove] Dedicated to idolatry, beginning thy calling with the rooting out of idolatry, and restoring of Gods true worship, Judg. 3. 7.

V. 26. top of this rock] Out of which came the fire that had consumed the cakes, meat and broth.

ordered place] i. e. Fitted for the sacrifice in an orderly manner, by laying wood upon it.

offer a burnt sacrifice] This office was proper to the priests, yet in a case extraordinary, Gideon, who was no priest, did lawfully offer it, having Gods speciall command for it.

of the grove] To wit, which grew about Baals altar, and was now cut down.

V. 31. he that will plead] i. e. He that will still dare to speak in this idolls behalf.

yet morning] That is, presently, without further delay.

V. 32. he called him] i. e. Joash called his son Gideon by the name of Jerubbaal, in remembrance of this act of their contending for Baal.

V. 33. went over] i. e. Jordan. See Chap. 7. 24.

valley of Jezreel] There were two of this name; one in Judah, Josh. 15. 56. this in Issachar, on the other side of mount Gilboa, between Manasseh and Issachar, Josh. 19. 18. ending at the city of Jezreel westward.

V. 34. the spirit] To wit, of wisedom, zeal and courage. So 1 Chron. 12. 18. and 2 Chron. 24. 20.

Abiezer] i. e. The family of Abiezer, of which he was.

V. 35. all Manasseh] The one half dwelling on this side Jordan, the other beyond it.

unto Asher, Zebulun, Naphtali] Which three tribes lay neer together.

to meet them] i. e. Gideon, with the Manassites, and Abiezrites.

V. 36. If thou wilt] He desireth this signe, not out of infidelity to tempt God; but in all humility, that his faith might be further confirmed in his vocation.

CHAP. VII.

Vers. 1. The well of Harod] That is, the well of terrour or trembling; so called, either from the fear which seised on the two and twenty thousand Israelites, vers. 3. or on the Midianites routed and slain by Gideon, which encamped there on the other side, Chap. 6. 33. This well lay upon the borders of Manasseh.

Moreh] i. e. One of the hills of Gilboa, so called from the seasonable rains which used to fall there, 2 Sam. 1. 23.

the valley] To wit, of Jezreel. See Chap. 6. 33.

against me] By robbing me of the glory of the victory, and ascribing it to themselves.

own hand] i. e. My own power. See Ex. 8. 9.

V. 3. depart early] i. e. Betimes, and withall speed, as the word signifieth.

from mount Gilead] Or towards mount Gilead, beyond Jordan (as the word may signifie) whence the half tribe of Manasseh came, Chap. 6. 35. and which did lie over against Gideons camp.

V. 4. I will try them] i. e. I will give thee a signe whereby thou mayest trie them, separating those who must depart, from those that must go with thee, as it were drosse from gold.

V. 5. that lappeth] To wit, the water taken up out of the hollow of his hand, as it is v. 6.

V. 7. other people] To wit, which kneeled, and bowed themselves down to drink.

V. 8. So the people] i. e. The three hundred chosen men.

and their trumpets] i. e. Three hundred trumpets of their own, and theirs who departed from the camp.

he sent] i. e. Gideon.

in the valley] To wit, of Jezreel, on the other side of the hill.

V. 9. unto the host] To wit, of the Midianites.

V. 10. fear to go] To wit, alone, or to go yet down with thine army to fight with so great a number.

V. 11. thy hands be strengthened] i. e. Thou shalt be further encouraged to fight against them.

outside] i. e. To the first sentinells of the host.

V. 12. like grasshoppers] See Chap. 6. 5.

as the sand] An hyperbolicall expression of a great multitude, usuall with the Hebrews. So Isai. 48. 19. Gen. 22. 17.

V. 13. a cake of barley-bread] To signifie the weaknesse and contemptibleness of the means, which God intended to use, for the saving of his people, and confusion of their enemies.

V. 15. he worshipped] i. e. Praised God for confirming him thus in his calling, and prayed unto him for good successe, according to this omen, or good signe.

V. 18. The sword of the Lord] i. e. This battle is fought by the sword of the LORD, as principall agent, and by Gideon, as his instrument.

V. 19. middle watch] i. e. About midnight, when the watches use to be changed.

V. 21. stood] To shew, that the LORD onely fought the battell, and got the victory. See Exod. 14. 13. 2 Chro. 20. 17.

V. 22. every mans sword] i. e. The LORD struck them with such sudden terrour and amazement, that they knew not their friends from their enemies; but mistaking one for the other, they slew their friends instead of their foes. So 1 Sam. 14. 15, 20. 2 Chro. 20. 23.

Beth-shittah] Out of the plain towards Jordan, where all these places here named lay.

V. 23. And the men] i. e. Hearing of this defeat, and routing of the Midianitish army.

V. 24. and take before them] To wit, that being incloſed and hemmed in on both sides, they might have no way to escape.

the waters] That is, the foords, and passages by which they should passe and escape.

Beth-barah] Lying neer Jordan, which some think to be that Beth-barah, spoken of Joh. 1. 28.

V. 25. the rock Oreb] So called in after times upon this occasion, and lying at the east end of mount Ephraim, neer Jordan: So Zeeb likewise.

the other side Jordan] Where he now was pursuing Zeba and Zalmunna, with their fifteen thousand men that had in the time of the fight escaped over Jordan.

CHAP. VIII.

Vers. 2. Is not the gleaning?] q. d. Is not your rich gleaning better to be esteemed then our poor vintage? In which allegory he compareth the fight to a vintage; Ephraim's pursuit of the victory, and taking of the two princes, to the gleaning, which he preferreth before all that had been done by the Abi-ezrites.

V. 5. Succoth] Which lay at the river Jabbok beyond Jordan. See Gen. 33. 17. Psal. 60. 6. Another Succoth there was, Ex. 12. 37. and Num. 33. 5.

V. 6.

6. 14. Looked upon him] we may conceive chidingly, and reprovingly, tho' efficaciously. Camp. 206, 29. 5. p. 458.

V. 6. Are the hands] q. d. Are they already in thy power as thy prisoners, before thou hast got the victory? that we should respect thee as victour, and not rather fear their revenge for relieving their feeble enemies? And thus they incense Gideon, by rejecting his request with a contemptuous scorn.

V. 7. I will tear your flesh] I will thus punish you with extreme severity, because you well deserve it, seeing you refuse to relieve my faint and wearied followers; fighting in a common cause against Gods enemies; herein grievously sinning against God, the common-wealth, my self, and all my followers your brethren, and that in favour of their tyrannous enemies.

tear] Heb. thresh.

of the wilderness] i. e. Lying between Succoth and Penuel, at the brook Jabbok, Gen. 32. 2. 22. 30. called also the wilderness of Mahanaim, as lying neer unto it, 2 Sam. 17. 27, 29.

V. 8. Penuel] A city in the tribe of Gad, in the border by the Amorites, neer the brook Jabbok; so called by Jacob, because there he saw God, and wrestled with him, Gen. 32. 30. 1 Kin. 12. 25.

V. 9. in peace] i. e. Safe and victorious, having subdued my enemies.

this tower] In the strength whereof you being confident, have given my suit such a scornfull repulse.

V. 10. in Karkor] A city beyond Jordan towards the east.

an hundred and twenty thousand men] To wit, those which were slain before.

that drew the sword] i. e. Able men for service in war. So Chap. 20. 15, 17, 25, 46. 2 Sam. 24. 9. 2 Kin. 3. 26.

V. 11. that dwelt in tents] i. e. The Arabians, who were called by the Grecians Scenitæ from hence, that is, tent-dwellers.

Nobah] A city in the tribe of Manasseh, Num. 32. 42.

Jogbehah] A city in the tribe of Gad, Num. 32. 35. both these cities beyond Jordan eastward.

V. 12. discomfited] Heb. terrified.

V. 14. he described] i. e. He gave to Gideon their names in writing, who were guilty of the offence committed.

V. 16. he taught] i. e. By making the Princes in this severe punishment an example to all the rest, he taught them more wit for the time to come, then to commit again the like sinnes.

V. 17. men of the city] i. e. The Princes and elders, who were chiefly guilty of the fault, as he did in Succoth.

V. 18. whom you slew] When this was done, is not expressed; but it seemeth it was very lately, in this expedition, seeing though Gideon knew that his brethren were slain, yet he understood not the manner and circumstances of their death.

at Tabor] See Chap. 4. 6.

as thou art] q. d. They were like thee, and both like children of a king, i. e. goodly and majesticall: and this they speak to humour him, and get favour.

V. 19. I would not slay you] i. e. I would save your lives, if when they fell into your hands, you had saved them.

V. 20. and slay them] This he did to hearten him against Gods enemies. So Josh. 10. 24. and to make him to share with himself in the glory of the victory.

V. 21. rise thou] This they desire, that they might die nobly, by the hand of one like themselves, and not by a boy, in an ignominious manner: and also for more quick dispatch, which could not be done by the weak hand of a boy, who would have hackled them with many blows, and so put them to more torment; whereas a man of strength striking them, would quickly rid them out of their pain.

ornaments] Or, ornaments like the moon.

V. 23. I will not rule] I will not take unto me the place and power of a king over Gods people, and intail it to my posterity, but the regall rights shall remain still in the hand of God: Whereby it appeareth, That the judges in this book were not lords and kings over the people; but raised extraordinarily for the defence and deliverance of Israel; their laws and liberties remaining still entire. See Chap. 2. 16. and 1 Sam. 8. 7. and 12. 12.

V. 24. ear-rings] i. e. The golden ornaments of his prey, whether worn in the ear or fore-head; for the Hebrew word is used for both. See Gen. 24. 22, 47. 35. 4. neither doth he desire all, but that every man should give one of those which he had gotten for his prey, as the Hebrew text hath it.

they were Ishmaelites] See Gen. 37. 25. 25. 13.

V. 26. shekels of gold] See Gen. 24. 22. and Num. 7. 14.

V. 27. an Ephod] Which was an habit onely to be used in divine worship, being a vestment that covered the shoulders, and compassed the brest, like a short strait coat without sleeves, put upmost upon the garments, to keep them close. See Ex. 28. 4. 1 Sam. 2. 18. and 2 Sam. 6. 14. Judg. 17. 6.

and put it in his city] i. e. Set it up in some eminent place, as a monument of the late victory, to stirre up himself and the people to thankfulnesse: wherein, though his intent were seemingly good; yet because it was not as God had commanded, but an humane invention, it became a snare to Gideon and his house.

a whoring after it] After the death of Gideon abused it to idolatry, and the worship of Baal, v. 33. See Lev. 17. 7 and 20. 5.

became a snare] This sin of Gideon, in giving unto the people this occasion of idolatry, already too too prone unto it, brought ruine to his posterity, as appeareth in the following Chapter.

V. 28. lifted up their heads] i. e. Got no more any prevailing strength against Israel.

fourty yeers] i. e. Being computed from the end of those fourty yeers mentioned, Chap. 5. 31.

V. 29. in his own house] i. e. He reigned not as a king, v. 23. but led a private life; though as a judge he maintained Gods true worship, defended the laws and liberties of the people, and did all good service to the common-wealth, v. 28. and 33. See v. 23. and Chap. 2. 16.

V. 30. of his body begotten] Heb. going out of his thigh. See Gen. 46. 26.

V. 31. Shechem] Situate upon a hill in Ephraim neer Samaria. See Gen. 12. 6. and 33. 18. Josh. 20. 7.

Abimelech] Whom the Sichemites made their king.

V. 33. Baal-berith] i. e. The lord of the covenant, which was the idoll of the Sichemites.

CHAP. IX.

Vers. 1. Shechem] See Chap. 8. 31.

unto his mothers brethren] i. e. Her kinred and allies, namely, to practise with them for the attaining of the kingdom. So v. 3. 18.

V. 2. of all the men] i. e. All the lords and chief citizens, as the word Baal or Behalim here used signifieth.

your bone] i. e. Of your blood and kinred by my mothers side. See Gen. 2. 23. and 29. 14. and if you will rather have one ruler then many, then chuse me before another; because I am your kinsman.

V. 3. hearts inclined to follow] i. e. To chuse him, before any other, to be their king and captain; because he was their kinsman.

V. 4. pieces of silver] See Gen. 20. 16.

out of the house] i. e. The idolatrous temple of this idoll, which stood upon an high hill neer Shechem.

vain and light] i. e. A desperate and rascally crew, sons of Belial, that had no fear of God. So 2 Chron. 13. 7.

V. 5. seventy persons] He nameth the whole number designed to the slaughter, though one of them, to wit, Jotham, escaped. And this is usuall in the scripture. So Gen. 42. 13. Num. 14. 32, 33. 1 Cor. 15. 5.

V. 6. house of Millo] Some understand hereby a city neer Shechem: others, the strong hold spoken of, v. 20. 46, 49. used for the town-house, where the full councell met together, guarded with a garrison.

by the plain] i. e. In that field neer Shechem, where Joshua erected the great stone under an oak, Josh. 24. 26, 27.

V. 7. Gerizim] Which was neer Shechem, and over against it mount Ebal, Deut. 11. 29, 30. Josh. 8. 33.

said] i. e. By divine inspiration, or spirit of prophecie, as the event shewed, v. 24, 57.

Hearken unto me] i. e. Hear me in my distresse, as you would have God hear you in yours.

V. 8. the trees] In this parable he setteth forth the modesty of his father, himself and brethren, and the ambition of Abimelech, with the evil fruits of it. See the like, 2 King. 14. 9.

V. 9. my fatnesse] i. e. My usefull oil.

God and man] For the oil thereof was used in sacrifices, and the lamps of the sanctuary, in the anointing of kings, priests and prophets, 1 King. 19. 16. for food and feature, Psal. 104. 15.

V. 13. cheareth God and man] Because wine also was used in sacrifices and oblations, and also cheareth the heart of man, Psal. 104. 14.

V. 15. my shadow] Which seeming to promise shelter and safety, doth indeed prick, scratch and tear all that come under it, as tyrants use to do, Dan. 4. 12.

the cedars] i. e. The princes, elders and chief men amongst them.

of Lebanon] This mount was famous for tall and goodly cedars growing there in aboundance.

V. 16. Now therefore] In these words he unfoldeth and applyeth the parable.

dealt well] If you have gratefully requited him for all the benefits received from him.

V. 17. adventured] Hebr. cast away: i. e. neglected and despised his life for the common good. So Chap. 12. 3. and 5. 18.

Vers. 21. ran away, fled and went] This variety of words, expressing the same thing, implyeth his great haste in fleeing.

to Beer] Some think it to be that Baalath-beer, in the tribe of Simeon, mentioned Josh. 19. 8.

V. 23.

V. 23. an evill spirit] i.e. Either Satan himself the author of discord, as 1 Sam. 10. 9. 19. 9. or the evill affection of division and dissention.

V. 24. cruelty] i.e. The just revenge of that cruelty.

their blood] i.e. The guilt and punishment of their blood unjustly shed. So 2 Sam. 1. 16. 1 King. 2. 32, &c.

V. 25. for him] i.e. For Abimelech to surprize him, if he passed by weakly attended.

robbed all] But those chiefly of Abimelech his party.

V. 26. confidence in him] Having chosen him for their captain.

V. 27. into the fields] Namely, to shew how much out of their confidence in Gaal, they sleighted Abimelech, whom before they feared, and durst not for him, go out of the citie.

made merry] Or, sung, as they used to do in the time of vintage. Isa. 16. 9, 10. Jere. 25. 30.

their god] Namely, to praise him for delivering them from the yoak of Abimelech.

V. 28. Who is Abimelech] i.e. How base is he, and unworthy his place of government?

and who is Shechem] i.e. How unfit to be governed by him, being a city so ancient and famous?

the son of Jerub-baal] i.e. Who was but a mean private man, that got his name by that act of destroying the altar of our god Baal.

of Hamor] That is, some of his progeny, pointing as some think, at himself, who was descended of him. Others thus: If ye will needs serve, then such as do not rule tyrannically, like Abimelech, but in a fatherly manner; as Hamor did of old.

V. 29. under my hand] i.e. Under my goverment.

remove Abimelech] To wit, from being any longer king.

said to Abimelech] To wit, being absent, in a Thrasonicall bragging manner.

Increase thine army] Make thy self as strong as thou canst, whereby my victory will be more glorious, and then if thou darest, come out to battle.

V. 33. when he] i.e. Gaal.

V. 38. thy mouth] That is, thy glorying and boasting.

V. 41. Arumah] A city neer Shechem southerly.

V. 45. sowed it with salt] In token that it should for ever remain unfruitfull, desolate, and uninhabited. So Deut. 29. 23. yet afterwards it was reedified, 1 King. 12. 1, 25.

V. 46. god Berith] Called before Baal-berith, vers. 4. whither they went, trusting both in the strength and religion of the place.

V. 48. mount Zalmon] Which lay west-ward from Shechem, towards Jordan; on it were thick trees, and snow that seldom melted. Psal. 68. 14.

V. 49. died also] i.e. Were all destroyed, as well they in the tower, as the other.

V. 50. Thebez] A city lying on the north of Shechem, between the mounts of Samaria and Gilboa.

V. 51. shut it] i.e. Shut the gates of it.

V. 52. fought against it] i.e. Assaulted it.

V. 54. that men say not] He thought by this means to smother it, but this made it the more to be spoken of. 2 Sam. 11. 21.

V. 55. men of Israel] To wit, which had followed Abimelech.

V. 56. God rendered] i.e. Inflicted upon him justly, deserved punishment for his cruell murthers.

V. 57. men of Shechem] Who had assisted him in his tyrannies.

CHAP. X.

Vers. 1. There arose] i.e. Being called by God extraordinarily, as the rest of the Judges. So v. 3.

to defend] i.e. To preserve them in their peace, liberties, and the purity of Gods worship, against all that did oppose them.

in Shamir] i.e. A town of Issachar bordering on Ephraim. There was another of that name in Judah. Josh. 15. 48.

V. 3. a Gileadite] Dwelling in Gilead of the tribe of Manasseh beyond Jordan, Josh. 17. 1, 5. Numb. 32. 39. Gen. 31. 48.

V. 4. asse-colts] In token of dignity and authority. See Chap. 5. 10.

Havoth-jair] So called either from this Jair, or from that Jair, Numb. 32. 41. Deut. 3. 14. It may be this mans progenitor.

V. 5. in Camon] A city belonging to Manasseh, in the land of Bashan, lying north from mount Gilead.

V. 6. Baalim and Ashtaroth] See Chap. 2. 13.

of Zidon] i.e. Astarte. See Chap. 2. 13.

of Moab] i.e. Chemosh. 1 King. 11. 33.

of Ammon] i.e. Milcom. 1 King. 11. 5. 33. and Chemosh. Chap. 11. 24.

of the Philistims] i.e. Dagon. 1 Sam. 5. 2. and Ashtaroth. See Chap. 2. 13.

V. 7. sold them] See Chap. 2. 14.

V. 8. And that yeer] That is, (as some think) wherein they fell from the true worship of God, to this grosse idolatry, they vexed them, and so from that time, to the end of eighteen yeers. Others reckon these eighteen yeers from the death of Jair. Others read it thus, They vexed them that yeer, that is, the eighteenth, or the last yeer of the eighteen.

in Gilead] See vers. 3.

V. 9. over Jordan] They did not onely afflict those beyond Jordan, but they also entred into Canaan on this side Jordan, and vexed Judah, Benjamin, and Ephraim.

V. 11. the Lord said] That is, either the Lord Christ appearing in humain shape, as before Chap. 2. 1. and 6. 23. or by his oracle related unto them by the high priest; or some prophet sent with this message.

V. 12. Maonites] i.e. (as some read it) the inhabitants of the land; to wit, Canaan. Others understand hereby the inhabitants of a city called Maon, upon the south of Judah, Josh. 15. 55. To which the wilderness of Maon adjoyned, 1 Sam. 23. 25.

V. 13. deliver you no more] This threatning was not absolute, as the sequell sheweth; but conditionall, namely, if they did not repent, that is, Forsake their idolatry, and imbrace Gods pure worship, unto which, he provoketh and quickneth them, by this threatning. Jere. 18. 7, 8.

V. 14. Go and cry] This is no reall command, but an ironicall upbraiding of them for their sin of idolatry, which now they found so fruitlesse in their greatest need. So 1 King. 18. 27.

V. 15. do thou unto us] i.e. Punish us hereafter as thou pleasest, if we persist not in thy true and pure worship.

V. 16. his soul was grieved] Heb. shortned, or straitned, which is spoken of God after the manner of men, that we the better may conceive of it.

V. 17. Mizpeh] There were many other places of this name. But this did lie upon mount Gilead. See Chap. 11. 29. Gen. 31. 49.

V. 18. will begin to fight] i.e. Who will undertake to be our leader in this expedition against Ammon; he shall ever after be our captain and governour. Chap. 11. 8, 9.

CHAP. XI.

Vers. 1. Gileadite] See Chap. 10. 3.

Gilead] i.e. One of the posterity of Gilead, the son of Machir, mentioned. Josh. 17. 1, 3. and of his name.

V. 2. thrust out] Not by private violence, but by publike authority, as he implyeth, vers. 7.

V. 3. land of Tob] A part of a countrey, lying along mount Gilead, not far from the Ammonites in the entrance of Arabia the desart. 2 Sam. 10. 6, 8.

vain men] Idle fellows, that had no calling, nor means of maintenance.

went out with him] i.e. In military expeditions to fetch in booty to live upon, wanting other means; and as it is likely from the Ammonites, and with such good successe, that hereby the Gileadites were moved to think him the fittest man to be their generall.

V. 5. the elders of Gilead went] To wit, either by Gods speciall command, or some extraordinary instinct; for otherwise a bastard might not bear any publike office. Deuter. 23. 2.

V. 7. and expell me] i.e. Gave sentence against me at the suit of my brethren, that I should be expelled.

V. 8. Therefore we turn] As if they had said, Let these old things be forgotten; for now we are therefore come to make thee large amends, by chusing thee for our generall.

and be our head] i.e. Not onely in this expedition, but ever after.

V. 9. shall I be your head] i.e. Shall I indeed still continue to be your head, as you now promise?

V. 10. The Lord be witnesse] i.e. We call God as a witnesse and judge, to punish us if we do not keep this our covenant with thee.

if we do not] If we do not make thee our head in time to come, as well as now.

V. 11. all his words] i.e. Which had passed between him and the elders of Gilead.

before the Lord] i.e. In a solemn and religious manner, as in Gods presence, before the whole assembly of the people, encamped in Mizpeh. Chap. 10. 17.

V. 12. What hast thou to do] i.e. What just cause of warre hast thou against me? speaking this in the name of all the people, as being their generall. See the like expressions. 2 Sam. 16. 10. Joh. 2. 4.

V. 13. took away my land] This was a false challenge, for he had

Jud. 11. 39. Jephtha's rash Vow, and (as is supposed) more rash accomplishment of it, enrolls him among Sinners. Owen Heb. 11. 32. p. 146.

I am inforced to hold with them that hold he sacrificed his daughter indeed; tho' I have been once of another mind. And it seems that this was a part of the corruption of those times; and was, mutato nomine a Sacrifice to Moloch the god of ye Ammonites, against whom he was now to go to fight, when he makes this Vow. Light foot. p. 105.

See Jepthah commended for what he did Heb. 11. 3 had no right to that land he claimeth, seeing it belonged first to the Moabites, then won from them by the Amorites, and from them by the Israelites. Numb. 21. 24, 25, 29, &c. Deut. 2. 19, 37.

unto Jordan] Eastward from mount Gilead unto Jordan westward.

V. 14. And Jephthah sent] That is, further to clear his cause for the quieting of his own conscience, the incouraging of his armies, and convincing of his enemies.

V. 15. Israel took not] Being forbidden expresly by God. Deut. 2. 9. 19.

V. 17. Then Israel sent messengers unto the king of Edom] Num. 20. 14.

Kadesh] Which was also called Zim, to difference it from Kadesh-barnea. Numb. 13. 26. and 20. 14. and 33. 36.

V. 18. but came not within the border of Moab] Numb. 21. 13. and 22. 36.

V. 19. Israel sent messengers unto Sihon] Deut. 2. 26.

unto my place] That is, the land of Canaan which God hath given me.

V. 21. Israel possessed] To wit, by right of conquest in a lawfull war.

all the land] That is, all that region which the Ammonites do now unjustly challenge as theirs, v. 13.

V. 22. all the coasts of the Amorites] Deut. 2. 36. All the countrey within these coasts, as Arnon in the south, Jabbok north, the wilderness, that is, the desert of Arabia east, and Jordan west.

V. 24. which Chemosh thy God] That is, according to thy opinion, though not in truth, giveth thee: This was an idoll both of the Ammonites, and of the Moabites, Num. 21. 29. 1 King. 11. 7. Jere. 48. 7. 13.

So whomsoever] That is, if thou thinkest thou mayest justly possesse, all that thy idoll Chemosh giveth thee; how much more may we lawfully possesse all which Jehovah the onely true God giveth us.

V. 25. better then Balak the son of Zippor] Num. 22. 2. Deut. 23. 4. Josh. 24. 9. That is, hast thou better right, or more power and policy to maintain it, then Balak, who yet never made any such claim, or challenge?

ever strive] Namely, to recover this countrey of the Amorites, after the Israelites had conquered it; notwithstanding, that in former times it did belong to the Moabites. Numb. 21. 24, 26.

V. 26. did yee not recover] That is, if you had then such right unto these towns and countrey, as ye now pretend, why did you so long time suffer them to injoy them, making no claim to them?

V. 27. be judge] To preserve the innocent, and punish the offenders.

V. 29. the spirit of the Lord] That is, the spirit of wisedom and fortitude.

he passed] To wit, with all his army.

and Manasseh] That is, Bashan, in which, half the tribe of Manasseh inhabited.

V. 31. whatsoever cometh forth] Heb. that which cometh forth, which shall come forth.

in peace] That is, victorious.

be the Lords] Or, to the Lord, that is, shall be consecrated to him.

and I will offer] Others read it, or I will offer, for so the conjunction is sometime dis-junctive, Gen. 26. 11. Exod. 1. 10. and 21. 15. That is, if it be such a thing as may lawfully be offered, then I will offer it for a burnt offering; but if not, it shall howsoever be consecrated unto God. But by the law, not onely humane sacrifices, but of things unclean, were forbidden, Levit. 27. 11, 12, 13. Isai. 66. 3. Deut. 12. 31.

V. 33. Aroer] Lying by the brook Arnon. Deut. 3. 12.

to Minnith] Beyond Arnon eastward, and is a town in the borders of Ammon neer Rabba.

the plain of the vineyards] Or, Abel.

V. 34. with timbrels] As the custome was for women and maides, after great victories, to sing songs of triumph, Exod. 15. 20. Judg. 5. 1. 1 Sam. 18. 6.

beside her, he had neither son nor daughter] Or, he had not of his own either son or daughter; Heb. of himself.

V. 35. brought me very low] That is, I am not so much exalted by my great victory, as humbled and depressed with this sad and unexpected accident, whereby I am utterly hopelesse of having posterity.

I have opened my mouth] Hebr. that is, I have made a vow, as this phrase signifieth in the scriptures.

I cannot go back] That is, I dare not break my vow, not knowing in those dayes of ignorance and superstition, that the law of God gave him libertie in this case, to have redeemed her with thirty shekels of silver, Levit. 27. 4.

V. 36. do to me] Namely, according to thy vow: and seeing thou hast consecrated me, as holy to the LORD, to live a virgin, and as a Nazarite all my dayes; I willingly agree unto it, and ratifie thy vow, devoting my self wholly unto God. So Anna, Luk. 2. 36. See 1 Cor. 7. 34, 36, 37. Neither can we probably think, that Jephthah commended for his faith, Heb. 11. 32. should offer his daughter for a burnt-offering, seeing it is odious to God, Isai. 66. 3. and forbidden as abominable, Deut. 12. 31. And God requireth in the law, That the first-born, which were his, Exod. 13. 22. 22, 29. should not be offered, but redeemed, Numb. 18. 15. Exod. 13. 13.

V. 37. go up and down] Heb. go and go down.

bewail my virginity] Whereby I shall be deprived of posterity, which in those dayes was accounted some dishonour, even as fruitfulnesse was much esteemed. See Gen. 30. 23. 1 Sam. 1. 6. Luk. 1. 25. And here note, that she speaketh not of bewailing her approaching death, or being sacrificed; but her virginity onely, upon the former reason.

V. 39. who did with her] That is, did not redeem her according to the law, but did consecrate her to the LORD, as a virgin, to lead a single life, 1 Cor. 7. 32.

and she knew no man] That is, she lived a virgin, as her father had vowed, and she assented.

custome] Or, ordinance.

V. 40. yearly] Heb. from yeer to yeer.

to lament] Or as the word may signifie, to talk with her, that is, They did yearly go to visite her, that they might commune and discourse with her, comfort, and chear her in this her solitary condition. See Chap. 5. 11. where the same Hebrew word is used to signifie, speaking or relating.

CHAP. XII.

Vers. 1. GAthered themselves] Hebr. were called, Being moved with vain-glory, and envying Jephthahs, and the Gileadites victory, and good successe, as they did formerly Gideons, Chap. 8. 1.

North-ward] That is, over Jordan into Gilead, which was on the north of Ephraim, where Jephthah lived.

not call us] They backed their insolencie and ungratitude with a lye; for Jephthah, vers. 2. telleth them, That he had called them to the war, but they would not come.

V. 2. I and my people] That is, the quarrell was between the Ammonite and us, and not between them and you; and yet I called you to our ayd, as being brethren and allies; but you helped us not.

V. 3. I put my life] Hebr. That is, I exposed my life to the danger of death, like a precious jewell carried in the open hand, which is easily snatched away, or a glasse which is apt to fall and be broken. So 1 Sam. 19. 5. 28. 21. Job 19. 14. Psal. 119. 109.

Lord delivered] That is, confirmed my calling by crowning my attempts with victory; and why then do you quarrell against my proceedings, seeing God approveth them?

V. 4. Then Jephthah] That is, when he saw them so obstinate that no words or reasons would satisfie them.

Ye Gileadites are fugitives] That is, the refuse of two tribes, Ephraim and Manasseh, and so a mungrell generation out of the mixture of both, as dwelling upon the passages of Jordan, just between those two tribes; and therefore ye ought not to have undertaken a matter of such importance, as this war, without our knowledge, and allowance, you being so base, and we so noble: And by this scornfull reproach and contempt, they incensed the Gileadites, to their own ruine.

V. 5. took the passages] To wit, to this end, That none might escape by flight, as the Ephramites had formerly done in the war against the Midianites, Chap. 7. 24.

V. 6. said they unto him] That is, to every man that came to seek for passage over Jordan, that they might discern the Ephramites from those that dwelled beyond Jordan, and might happen at the same time to come and seek for passage.

Sibboleth] That is, a stream, foord, or water-course, a word fit for the present occasion, when they were to passe over, Psal. 69. 2. Isa. 27. 12.

and he said Shibboleth] Speaking upon the sudden, according to the dialect of their own countrey, unto which they were accustomed, not suspecting what they intended.

V. 8. Bethlehem] There were two cities of this name, one in Judah called Bethlehem Judah, the other in Zebulun upon its north borders, Josh. 19. 15. which it seemeth is meant here.

V. 9. sent abroad] That is, married away unto husbands.

V. 12. in the countrey of Zebulun] Added to distinguish it from other cities called by this name, Ch. 1. 35. 1 Chr. 6. 69. 8. 13.

V. 13. a Pirathonite] Pirathon was a citie westward from Samaria, and Shechem, where Benajah Davids worthy was born, 2 Sam. 23. 30.

V. 14. nephews] Heb. sons sons.

asse-colts] See Chap. 5. 10.

V. 15. of the Amalekites] Their own land lay without the limits of Canaan south-east, by the desert Havilah, Exod. 17. 8. 1 Sam. 15. 7. But some of them it seemeth, dwelled in some part of the tribe of Ephraim, till they were destroyed by Saul, 1 Sam. 15. or at least had dwelled there before the conquest of Canaan, and so the mount still retained their name.

CHAP. XIII.

Vers. 1. Did evill again in the sight of the Lord] Heb. added to commit, &c. Chap. 2. 11. and 3. 7. and 4. 1. and 6. 1. and 10. 6.

V. 2. Zorah] A citie lying on the west-side of that hill, which parteth Judah and Dan, Josh. 15. 33. and 14. 41. In whose fields or countrey adjoyning, it seemeth, Manoah dwelled, and not in the citie it self, v. 25. and Chap. 16. 31.

V. 3. the angel of the Lord] That is, Christ the eternall word of his father; who is therefore called Jehovah, ver. 16. and 22. See Chap. 6. 11.

V. 4. unclean thing] That is, not onely unclean meats, forbidden to all by the law, Levit. 11. But even wine and strong drink, forbidden to Nazarites, Numb. 6. 3.

V. 5. no rasour] So Numb. 6. 5. 1 Sam. 1. 11.

a Nazarite] That is, separated to God as a figure of Christ, perfectly sanctified from the womb, See Num. 16. 2. Luk. 1. 35.

begin to deliver] For he did onely begin this deliverance, which was afterwards perfected by David, or as others, begin to save, that is save.

V. 6. A man of God] Thus the Scriptures usually honour Gods prophets and messengers with this title, Josh. 14. 6. 1 Sam. 2. 27. 1 King. 13. 1, &c. 1 Tim. 6. 11.

very terrible] That is, glorious, majesticall and fearfull unto frail mankinde.

V. 12. Now let thy words] This is a prayer of faith, laying hold on the former promise.

How shall we order] Heb. What shall be the manner of the, &c. That is, what must we observe in his education.

how shall we do unto him] Or, what shall he do? Heb. what shall be his work?

V. 13. Of all that I said] These directions given to the mother, did chiefly respect her son, who was to be a Nazarite. See Numb. 6. 3, 4.

V. 15. for thee] Heb. before thee.

V. 16. not eat of thy bread] That is, of thy meat or provisions; but if thou wilt offer it for a burnt offering, thou must offer it unto me as being Jehovah, and not a created angel, v. 22.

V. 17. do thee honour] That is, in giving unto thee some present to testifie our thankfulnesse. So 1 Sam. 9. 7, 8. 1 Kin. 14. 3.

V. 18. secret] Or, wonderfull, Admirable and incomprehensible, Isa. 9. 5. Neither will I reveal my self unto thee by my name, but by my wonderfull actions, which I will do presently.

V. 19. offered it] See Chap. 6. 26.

unto the Lord] To wit, as the LORD had directed him, v. 16.

V. 21. an angel] That is, the eternall word, and angel of the covenant, which he calls Elohim, or God; and his wife, Jehovah, vers. 22, 23.

V. 22. We shall surely die] See Exod. 33. 20. Chap. 6. 22. Deut. 5. 26.

V. 23. such things] For all these are signes of Gods favour, and gracious acceptance; and not of his displeasure.

V. 24. blessed him] That is, indued him with an heroick spirit, and wonderfull strength.

V. 25. began to move him] That is, to inspire into him magnanimous thoughts, and to indue him with miraculous strength; inciting him to attempt, and do wonderfull, and more then humane acts, fit for him that was called to be a deliverer of his people.

camp of Dan] Neer unto Hebron; which place had its name from that expedition of the Danites, Chap. 18. 11, 12. the meaning is, That the spirit moved him whilest he lived in his fathers house, which was in the fields of Dan, Chap. 16. 31.

Zorah] See v. 2.

Eshtaol] Which lay westward, towards the sea. See Ch. 16. 4.

CHAP. XIIII.

Vers. 1. Timnath] A town upon the confines of Judah, Dan, and Ephraim, lying west-ward from Zorah, towards the Mediterranean sea. See Gen. 28. 12. Joh. 15. 10, 57. 2 Chro. 28. 18.

V. 2. get her for me] That is, because I ought not to take a wife without your consent and liking, being my parents. See Gen. 21. 21. and 24. 3. 26. 34, 35.

V. 3. of thy brethren] That is, of thy kinred, tribe or nation.

uncircumcised] For by Gods expresse commandment, they were forbidden to marry with such, unlesse they became proselytes to their religion, and entred into the same covenant, Exod. 23. 22. 34. 12, 16. Deut. 7. 2, 3.

for she pleaseth me] Hebr. she is right in mine eyes, This he speaketh, not carried with lust of youth; but by a secret motion of the spirit, which he concealeth, chusing rather to manifest it by his ensuing actions, then by his words.

V. 4. that it was of the Lord] Who hath power to dispence with his own laws, Gen. 22. 1, 2. and Exo. 3. 22. And in his wise providence would have him take this occasion against the Philistines, to fall at enmity with them upon a just cause; that out of these private quarrels, he might proceed to publike and hostile actions, suitable to his calling.

V. 5. father and mother] Having changed their mindes, and yeelded to his desire.

lion roared against him] Heb. in meeting him, His parents being absent, and he having (it seemeth) gone from them out of the common way, upon some occasion, as is implyed, v. 8.

V. 6. came mightily] That is, inspired him with courage and strength, that by this essay he might confirm him in his calling (as it befell David in like case, 1 Sam. 17. 34.) and to incourage him to take up enmity against the Philistines; trusting upon Gods power, assisting him; and that he might have matter supplyed for his riddle, which proved the occasion and cause of their quarrell.

V. 7. he went down] That is, being accompanied by his parents.

V. 8. to take her] To wit, in marriage.

turned aside] Namely, out of the common way, into the place where he had slain the lion.

V. 9. he told them not] Neither, where he had the honey, nor of his killing the lion; that keeping it secret, it might be the subject of his riddle, v. 16.

V. 10. his father] To wit, as chief of his company, but with him his mother, and rest of his friends.

a feast] That is, a wedding feast, lasting seven dayes, as young men used to do when they married wives.

V. 11. saw him] That is, some thing remarkable in him for strength, stature and demeanure.

they brought thirty companions] Which they did to honour him in shew, but indeed to have an eye over him, and to provide for their own safety, whatsoever should happen.

V. 12. a riddle unto you] That is, a dark speech, in which, something lyeth hidden, under the litterall sense, that is to be found out by the wit of the hearers, which is a pleasant and innocent exercise of the wit, fit for feasts, to keep the guests from worse imployments. See Ezek. 17. 2.

seven dayes] The usuall time appointed for marriage-feasts, Gen. 29. 27.

then I will give you] To wit, as a prize, or reward of your wit and industry.

thirty sheets] Or, shirts; that is, Fine linen cloaths, which in those east countries they used for sundry purposes, by day or night. Of this we read, Matth. 27. 59. Mark. 14. 51. So here the same is used in the Greek.

V. 13. Put forth thy riddle] q. d. We accept of the wager, therefore propound thy riddle.

V. 14. Out of the eater] That is, which lives by prey, devoures all, and is food for none.

the strong] That is, the strongest of beasts that live by prey, came forth that which is most sweet.

three dayes] That is, they tyred their wits in vain, to finde out the meaning; and from thence forward they begun to work with Samsons wife, to the seventh day, by inticements; but not prevailing with her, or rather she with her husband; they provoke the utmost of her endeavours by terrours and threats.

V. 15. declare unto us] That is, that making it known to thee, thou maist declare the meaning of it to us.

to take that we have] Heb. to possesse us, or, to impoverish us.

V. 16. children of my people] That is, the thirty Philistines, which are thy companions.

V. 17. seven dayes] Or, the rest of the seven dayes from the third.

the riddle] That is, the meaning of the riddle.

V. 18. If ye had not plowed] That is, if my wife had not unfaithfully discovered my secret, perswaded hereunto by your subtilty; you had never by your own wit found out the meaning. An allegory taken from husbandmen, who in plowing, by the labour of their beasts, finde things hidden under the earth, when the plow turns it up; wherein he taxeth both his wives perfidiousnesse, and their fraud, and want of wit.

V. 19. the spirit] See v. 6.

Ashkelon] A citie lying on the borders of Dan, belonging to Judah and Simeon, Chap. 1. 18. But now possessed by the Philistines, whose inhabitants Samson slew.

spoil] Or, apparell.

anger was kindled] To wit, against his thirty companions, and his wife; and therefore he went from her, to his fathers house.

V. 20. was given] That is, in marriage.

his companion] To wit, one of the thirty Philistines, whom in the marriage feast he had chosen for his friend, according to the custome in those countries, Joh. 3. 29.

CHAP. XV.

Vers. 1. Visited] That is, went to visit her, carrying a kid with him as a testimony of his love.

V. 2. hated her] Because thou wentest away from her in displeasure, Chap. 14. 19.

See 1 Sam. 14. 28.

Jud. 16. 30, 31. Let me dye] As Paul said, he was ready to be bound, and to dye for the Lord Jesus; so Samson said, Let me lose my life with the Philistins. He runneth not rashly to death, but followeth his vocation, and if death come there with unto him, he yeelds to it willingly —

Rogers on Judges, p. 785, 786.

— It is so far off from Equity, to condemn that last act of Samson, in losing his life with the Philistins; that it was far to be preferred before his other annoyings of them; and even his greatest avengings of them. For he slew many more of them now at his death, than he did in his life. And was therein a lively figure of our Saviour Christ — ibid.

Both the Samsons complaind of Thirst: Hall's Contemplat. Lib. 10. p. 935. — So didst thou, O blessed Saviour, our better Samson, conquer in dying —

I gave her] To wit, in marriage. is not] That is, certainly she is.
take her] Heb. let her be thine.
V. 3. concerning them] That is, the Philistines.
Now] That is, seeing by this wrong they have given me just cause to take revenge. So vers. 11. See Chap. 14. 4.
Now shall I be more blameless then the Philistines, though I do them a displeasure] Or, Now shall I be blameless from the Philistines, though, &c.
V. 4. three hundred foxes] With which the land of Canaan abounded, Psal. 63. 11. Cant. 2. 15. Lam. 5. 18. The Lord also causing them to fall into his snares. fire-brands] Or, torches.
V. 7. yet will I] q. d. I will not for all this desist, till I be fully revenged on you.
V. 8. hip and thigh] A proverbiall expression, signifying the totall ruine of all their strength and abilities. Such phrases souldiers now have; pel mel, and cap a pee. See Deut. 28. 35. Isai. 9. 14.
he went down] To wit, from his fathers house.
Etam] A city on the south-end of mount Judah, situate on an high and strong rock, neer the brook Etam, which belonged to the tribe of Simeon, whose inheritance was intermingled with Judahs, Josh. 19. 1.
V. 9. in Lehi] That is, a jaw-bone, a place so named by Sampson, vers. 17. upon this accident here recorded.
V. 11. went to] Heb. went down, To wit, that they might cleer themselves to the Philistines, whom they feared; by laying the whole blame upon Samson.
V. 12. not fall upon me] That is, not kill me, as they expound it in the next verse., q. d. I am content that you should binde me, so that you swear that you will not kill me.
V. 13. up from the rock] That is, to Lehi where the Philistines encamped, vers. 9.
V. 14. shouted] To wit, for joy, because their chief enemy was fallen into their hands.
and the spirit] See Chap. 14. 6. became as flax] That is, were as easily broken by him, as burnt flax.
loosed] Heb. were melted.
V. 15. new] Heb. moist.
V. 16. heaps upon heaps] Heb. an heap, two heaps.
V. 17. Ramath-lehi] That is, the lifting up of the jaw-bone, or, casting away of the jaw-bone.
V. 18. now shall I die] q. d. Surely I shall not: for this was not a speech of diffidence, but of faith, relying upon Gods covenant, Heb. 11. 32. 1 Sam. 17. 26, 36. and 2 Sam. 1. 20.
V. 19. an hollow place] i. e. In figure like a morter. See the same words used, Prov. 27 22.
in the jaw] Or Lehi, That is, not in the jaw-bone it self, but in the place called Lehi, or jaw-bone on this occasion, wherein this spring did arise.
revived] That is, became strong and lively.
the name thereof] i. e. Of that well, in memoriall of his victory, reviving his thankfulnesse to God for both.
En-hakkore] That is, the well of him that called, or cryed.
V. 20. judged Israel] That is, He revenged their wrongs upon the Philistines, but did not quite free them from their tyranny.

CHAP. XVI.

Vers. 1. Gaza] One of the most famous and greatest cities of the Philistines, lying in that part of the countrey allotted to Simeon and Judah, Judg. 1. 18. towards the Mediterranean sea.
an harlot] Heb. a woman an harlot.
and went in unto her] Some think, onely to lodge in her house, being an inne-keeper, because here is no speech of his loving her: but the phrase is otherwise used in the Scripture. See Gen. 6. 4. 16. 2. 2 Sam. 3. 7.
quiet] Heb. silent.
V. 3. barre] Heb. with the barre.
top of an hill] Which lay eastward from Gaza, from whence one might see Hebron, seated upon an other high hill.
V. 4. in the valley] Or, by the brook.
Sorek] Which is called, The grape-valley, from the abundance of the best grapes growing there. Some read it, by the brook Sorek, which runneth along by the valley of Eshcol, where these grapes grew, Deut. 1. 24. And some think that these are both one. See Num. 13. 23. 24.
V. 5. afflict] Or, humble.
eleven hundred pieces of silver] See Gen. 20. 16.
V. 7. green withs] Or, new cords, Heb. moist.
another] Heb. one.
V. 9. be upon thee] i. e. Are here, ready to surprise thee.
toucheth] Heb. singleth.
his strength was not known] That is, To the Philistines, neither whence it came, nor how it was retained and preserved.
that never were occupied] Heb. wherewith work hath not been done.
V. 13. If thou weave the seven locks] i. e. If thou divide all the hair of my head into seven parts or locks. So v. 19. 22.
with the web] Namely, woond about a weavers beam.
V. 14. And she] That is, she did as he had said with his locks, and withall did fasten the beam with a pin, that Samson might not pluck it out of its place.
went away] That is, he carried away with him both pin, beam, and web, into which his hair was woven.
V. 16. vexed] Heb. shortned.
V. 17. That he told her] Though he had thrice experience that she intended to betray him unto death, yet his doting affection so blinded him, that he could not beware.
my strength] Not because his strength lay in his hair, but because being a Nazarite, he was by Gods expresse command injoyned, not to cut his hair, Chap. 13. 5. Num. 6. 5. the which he transgressing, and breaking his vow; God withdrew from him his spirit of strength and courage, and left him to his own humane frailty.
V. 19. to afflict him] To wit, by rouzing him out of his sleep, and calling upon him as before.
V. 20. and shake my self] Namely, to put off drousinesse, that he might go about his imployments.
that the Lord was departed] That is, had withdrawn from him his spirit of strength, which he had continued unto him, so long as he continued in obedience, and kept his vow.
V. 21. put out his eyes] Heb. bored out, To wit, that hereby he might be disabled from doing them any more hurt; and yet suffered him still to live, to insult over him, and for the greater glory of their idoll Dagon, v. 23, 24.
V. 22. began to grow] And with it, his strength, of which it was a signe; Samson in the mean time, reconciling himself unto God, by serious repentance, and recovering his former state of a Nazarite, from which he had faln.
was shaven] Or, as when he was shaven, That is, to that length it was of before he was shaven.
V. 23. Dagon their god] That is, Triton, the idoll of the heathens, which lived on the sea coasts, as did the Philistines. He had his name from the Hebrew word Dag, signifying a Fish, because he was portrayed like a fish from his middle downward, 1 Sam. 5. 4.
V. 24. which slew many of us] Heb. and who multiplyed our slain.
V. 25. make us sport] That jeering him, he may become a fit subject of scorn and laughter.
and he made them sport] Hebrew, before them, That is, he became the subject of their sport, as before; or gave them occasion of laughter, either by unwillingly committing some errours and mistakes, being blinde, or else willingly to blinde them by these shews, that they might not discover his main intention.
V. 26. the house] That is, the temple of Dagon where these idolaters kept their feasts, as the manner was. See Chapter 9. 27.
may lean] Pretending wearinesse, either by his labour in grinding, or his speedy and sudden coming to that place.
V. 27. upon the roof] As being flat, after the manner of those countreys.
V. 28. called unto the Lord] This being a prayer of faith, Heb. 11. 32. God heareth him, and giveth him strength.
at once avenged] To wit, according to my vocation, which is, to execute vengeance upon Gods, and the Churches enemies.
for my two eyes] Not onely, because they have done me wrong in putting them out; but have also thereby disabled me to fight in Gods quarrell, for the deliverance of his people.
V. 29. on which it was borne up] Or, he leaned on them.
V. 30. Let me dye] Heb. my soul, This was not a despairing speech, of one impatient to live any longer; but of a faithfull man, humbling himself to the very death, that he might do God and his people service; and that not in an ordinary way, but by an extraordinary motion of Gods spirit inspiring him, and suggesting unto him this prayer: Neither doth he primarily and simply desire death, but respectively, as it was a means to destroy the enemies of God, and his people, wherein he executed the office of a judge and deliverer, as appeareth, vers. 31.
slew at his death] Wherein he was a type of our Lord Christ, who by his death and sufferings principally conquered all his and the Churches enemies.
V. 31. Zorah and Eshtaol] See Chap. 13. 2. and 25.
he judged Israel] See Chap. 15. 20.

CHAP. XVII.

Vers. 1. And there was] It is not certainly known and agreed upon, when the things related in this, and the following Chapters were done: But learned expositors upon evident grounds, do agree, That they hapned not after the death of Samson, but long before; and soon after the death of Joshua, and the elders that lived with him, when religion was most corrupted, and idolatry set up, Chap. 2. 11. And that these stories were annexed to the end of this book, that the history of the Judges might be continued without interruption: For Jonathan the Danites priest, was the son of Manasseh, Moses his grand-childe, who dyed long before Samsons times, Chap. 18. 30. And the following story of the Levites wife, and the warre with the Benjamites (which hapned after this here related, as appeareth, Chap. 19. 1.) sheweth, that these things were all done, when Phinehas the grand-son of Aaron was high priest, Chap. 20. 28. Which place he executed in the first times of the Judges.

V. 2. The eleven hundred shekels] See Gen. 20. 16.

thou cursedst] To wit, the theif that stole it from thee.

in mine ears] That is, in my hearing, wherewith being affrighted, I now come to acknowledge my fault, that I may be freed from the curse.

Blessed be thou] q. d. I do not onely free thee from the curse, but turn it now into a blessing.

V. 3. unto the Lord] So they cloaked their grosse idolatry under shew of Gods service, though he had so often forbidden, and condemned it in his law.

from my hand] That is, to be bestowed by me upon my son, and his son for religious uses, vers. 5.

I will restore it] That is, seeing it was devoted for thy use, there is no need that thou shouldest bring it to me, but keep it still thy self.

V. 4. Yet he restored] That is, though his mother pressed him to keep it, yet he would needs restore it, to be the more free from the curse.

made] To wit, of the silver that remained of the eleven hundred shekels, which were wholly consecrated, v. 3.

V. 5. an ephod] That is, vestments for a priest. See Chap. 8. 27. and Exod. 28. 4.

teraphim] That is, images or houshold Gods. See Gen. 31. 19. Hos. 3. 4.

consecrated] Heb. filled the hand.

priest] Though not of Aarons linage, which he did, and all the rest as a grosse idolater expressly contrary to Gods law.

V. 6. In those dayes there was no king in Israel] Chap. 18. 1. and 21. 25.

no king] That is, no Judge or supreme magistrate to keep the people in aw and order. So (King) is taken, Gen. 36. 31. Deut. 33. 5.

own eyes] Not that which was right in Gods eyes, but what himself fancied to be right.

V. 7. family of Judah] That is, who was of the tribe of Levi, but born and brought up at Beth-lehem Judah.

V. 8. to sojourn] For in those times, religion being wholly corrupted, the Levites were neglected, and wanted maintenance.

as he journeyed] Heb. in making his way.

V. 10. a father] Though he were yonger then Micah, yet for honours sake, he saith he should be a father unto him in respect of his calling.

a suit of apparell] Or, a double suit, &c. Heb. an order of garments.

went in] That is, agreeing to his conditions, he went into Micha's house to dwell with him.

V. 11. as one of his sons] That is, he loved and cherished him, as if he had been one of his own sons.

V. 12. Micah consecrated] He had no right to consecrate him, nor the Levite to be a priest, as not being descended from Aaron; but from Moses, Chap. 18. 30.

V. 13. Now know I] Thus he blesseth himself in his blinde devotion and superstition, though it wholly tended to grosse idolatry, and exposed him to Gods wrath and vengeance.

CHAP. XVIII.

Vers. 1. IN those dayes] That is, soon after the death of Joshua, before God raised up Judges extraordinarily to deliver and govern the people.

no king] See Chap. 17. 6. and 21. 25. And this is prefixed as a reason, why the Danites were put to provide an inheritance for themselves, whereas whilest the whole people were under any government, the tribes assisted one another. Chap. 2. 3. Josh. 22. 2, 3. Numb. 32. 21.

had not fain] That is, they had not an inheritance large enough for their numerous tribe, as appeareth, Josh. 19. 47. And the Amorites also did drive them out of part of that which fell to their lot, Judg. 1. 34.

V. 2. men] Heb. sons.

Zorah] See Chap. 13. 2.

Eshtaol] See Chap. 13. 25.

lodged there.] In that place where Micah had a house.

V. 3. knew the voice] By his pronunciation they perceived that he was not an Ephramite, but of Judah.

V. 6. priest said] To wit, after that he had enquired of his idoll, by whom it is like the devill gave this answer, or else himself feigned it, to humour them in their course before the Lord] That is, the eyes of the LORD watch over you, to favour, direct, and prosper you in your journeyes; and thus he abuseth the LORDS holy Name, to countenance his idolatrous courses.

V. 7. Laish called also Leshem] See Josh. 19. 47.

carelesse] That is, quiet and secure (in their opinion) from all danger of surprise. See v. 28.

manner of the Zidonians] That is, using their customes and laws, who were alike secure, trusting to their strength, and the situation of their countrey.

no magistrate] Heb. possessour, or, heir of restraint, That is, either none at all; or none hereditary and perpetuall; but during their pleasure, from yeer to yeer, who did let them live as they list, for fear of displeasing them; and so all things became lawfull, and nothing that pleased them, accounted dishoneſt.

put them to shame] That is, were so far from punishing them according to their demerits, that they would not so much as disgrace or discountenance their vices and faults.

from the Zidonians] Who did lie farre west from them, and therefore could not on a sudden send them any ayds.

no businesse.] No league or commerce, but lived of themselves pleasantly and securely.

V. 8. to their brethren] That is, to the Danites, who were of their tribe.

V. 9. and are ye still?] That is, not replying to our relation any thing, and losing time and opportunity in not presently setting upon the conquest. So Exod. 14. 14.

V. 11. appointed] Heb. girded.

V. 12. Kirjath-jearim] Or, Kirjath-Baal, Josh. 15. 60. situate upon a hill on the borders of Juda and Dan, northward.

Mahaneh-dan] That is, the camp or leaguer of Dan. See Chap. 13. 25.

it is behinde] That is, on the west-side; for as the east part is called the fore part, so the west, the hind part. So Josh. 1. 4. and 13. 5.

V. 14. Then answered] That is, they began to speak; so this phrase is usually taken in the Scriptures, as 1 Sam. 14. 28. Ezra 10. 2. Matth. 11. 25. Act. 5. 8.

Do ye know] That is, we would have you to know.

in these houses] That is, in one of these houses.

consider] That is, Whether it be not expedient, that we take all these along with us, or no; to make the like use of them, that we have done before.

V. 15. And they turned] To wit, after they had resolved to do as they advised.

saluted him] Heb. asked him of peace.

V. 19. lay thine hand] That is, refrain from speaking any thing against our proceedings. So Josh. 21. 5. and 40. 4. Exod. 30. 32.

V. 20. went in the midst] To wit, that they who pursued them, might not recover the things stoln.

V. 23. that thou comest with such a company] Heb. that thou art gathered together.

V. 24. what have I more?] That is, What have I worth the having, in comparison of my idolls and priest, which you have taken away?

V. 25. angry fellows] Heb. bitter of soul, That is, imbittered and incensed with thy clamours. So 2 Sam. 17. 8.

V. 28. far from Zidon] i. e. Laish lay far from Zidon eastward, hard by mount Lebanon, and therefore they could have no help from thence in this sudden surprise; though there (as it seemeth) was their chiefest hope.

it was] To wit, the city Laish.

Beth-rehob] A part of Syria Trachonitis: of which, see 2 Sam. 10. 6, 8.

V. 29. Dan] Josh. 19. 47.

their father] Their great grandfather, or the father of their tribe, Gen. 30. 6.

unto Israel] i. e. Unto Jacob. See Gen. 32. 28.

V. 30. and Jonathan] See Chap. 17. v. 7.

of the captivity] Which followed (as most of the learned think) upon that great defeat of the Israelites, when the ark of God was taken, as the next verse seemeth to imply. See 1 Sam. 4. 10, 11. and Psal. 78. 60, 61.

V. 31. all the time] For afterwards, when Samuel came to govern, and the ark was carryed to Kirjath-jearim, 1 Sam. 7. 1. he destroyed all the idolls of the land, and this, no doubt, among the rest, 1 Sam. 7. 3.

CHAP. XIX.

Vers. 1. WHen there was no king] i. e. No supreme magistrate to punish sin: which is rendred as a reason of this concubines continuing in whoredom, because she was not punished for it, neither in Judah nor Ephraim; and of of that outragious wickednesse of the men of Gibeah, which followed upon it. See Chap.17.6. and 18.1. and 21.25.

a concubine] Hebr. a woman a concubine, or, a wife a concubine; so called, to distinguish her from a common harlot; and also from the lawfull wife, who was mother of the family, and the onely true wife, by Gods first institution, Gen.2.18,24. Mal.2.15. Matth.19.4,5. and by his law, Lev.18.18. 1 Cor.7.2.

Beth-lehem-judah] See Chap.12.7.

V. 2. against him] i.e. Against her faith and promise made unto him, she committed whoredom with others; for though concubines were no wayes equall to the lawfull wife, yet were they contracted, though not so solemnly; and therefore bound to keep their faith to them to whom they were contracted. See Gen.22.24. 1 Kin.11.1.

went away] i.e. Out of dislike or fear.

four whole moneths] Or, a yeer and four moneths. Hebr. dayes four moneths.

V. 3. to speak friendly] Hebr. to her heart: i.e. By loving perswasions to reclaim and bring her back with him, Gen.34.3.

V.4. eat and drink] i.e. They feasted and made merry one with another, as the phrase is usually taken, Exod.32.6.

V. 5. they arose] i.e. They of the family.

he rose] i.e. The Levite also.

comfort thine heart] i.e. Refresh and strengthen thy self for thy journey. So Gen.18.5. 1 Kin.13.7,8.

Comfort] Hebr. strengthen.

morsell of bread] i.e. With a little food.

V.8. untill after noon] Hebr. till the day declined.

V.9. draweth] Hebr. is weak.

the day groweth to an end] Hebr. it is the pitching time of the day.

V.9. groweth to an end] i.e. And therefore it is a time more fit to take up ones lodging, then to begin a journey.

home] Hebr. to thy tent.

V. 10. over against] Hebr. to over against.

V. 10. Jerusalem] i.e. So called afterwards, but now a city of the Jebusites, Josh.15.63. So that this story was of things done before the taking of Jerusalem, and expelling of the Jebusites, spoken of, Chap. 1.8. if at least the people of Judah were not for their sins again beaten out by the Jebusites, after they first took it.

V. 11. Jebusites] Who were of the posterity of Canaan. See Gen.10.16.

V. 12. city of a stranger] i.e. A cursed nation, estranged from God and his people.

V. 13. in Gibeah, or in Ramah] These two cities were neer Jebus northward, situate on hils in the way to mount Ephraim, whither the Levite travelled, v.18. Some think that there were two cities of this name in the tribe of Benjamin; one situate on a mountain, the other in a plain; unto which this Levite came. See Chap.20.31.

V. 18. house of the Lord] Which then was in Shiloh, not far from mount Ephraim, Josh.18.1. 1 Sam.1.3.

receiveth] Hebr. gathereth.

V. 19. there is] To wit, with us, for our own provision in our journey.

of any thing] To wit, saving a place to lodge in.

V.20. peace be with thee] i.e. Be of good chear, quiet and comfort thy self.

let all thy wants] Heb. i.e. I will undertake to supply all thy wants, and therefore take care for nothing.

V.21. they washed their feet] Which was one of the rites of hospitality towards travellers, in those hot countreys. See Gen.18.4. 19.2.

V. 22. sons of Belial] i.e. Most wicked men, or desperately wicked, who had quite shaken off all law, and the yoke of government, Deut.13.13.

beset the house round about] Gen.19.4. Hos.9.9. and 10.9.

V.23. into my house] To wit, that ye may be safe under my protection from suffering any wrong. See Gen.19.8.

folly] See Gen.34.7. 2 Sam.13.12,13. Prov.7.7.

V.24. humble ye them] See Gen.19.8. It was commendable in him that he highly prizeth the laws of hospitality; but the means to be condemned, as sinfull: and we may not do evil that good may come of it.

what seemeth good] i.e. use them at your pleasure.

so vile a thing] i.e. Such a notorious villany.

V. 25. so the man] To wit, the Levite.

took his concubine] i.e. So reverencing the laws of hospitality, that he thought it unreasonable to expose his hosts daughter to be abused for his sake.

knew her] See v.22.

V. 26. fell down] i.e. Dead, or ready to die.

her lord] i.e. Her husband; so called for honours sake, which the Apostle commendeth in Sarah, 1 Pet.3.6.

V. 27. go his way] i.e. To go on his journey.

and her hands] As if she had lien asleep.

V. 28. none answered] She being stark dead.

V.29. sent her] To wit, piece-meal, that by such a horrid spectacle he might incense their wrath, to take the more sharp revenge: the which his fact was inhumane, Deut.21.22.

into all the coasts] Because there was at that time no supreme to punish this foul fact, he addresseth himself and his complaint to the whole body of the people.

V. 30. take advice] To wit, what course is to be taken in such a wofull case.

CHAP. XX.

Vers.1. ALL the children] That is, the tribe of Benjamin onely excepted.

as one man] That is, with unanimous consent. So v. 8,11. 1 Sam.11.7. Ezr.3.1.

from Dan] Called before Laish, Chap.18.7. and Leshem, Josh.19.47. which was the utmost border of Canaan upon the north, 1 Kin.4.25.

Beer-sheba] Which was the utmost border upon the south, in the tribe of Judah, towards the Philistines, Gen.21.33,34.

of Gilead] In the east beyond Jordan, the countrey where the two tribes and an half lived.

unto the Lord] That is, to worship, pray and ask counsell of the LORD at Shiloh, which was neer Mizpeh on the east.

in Mizpeh] A place in the borders of Benjamin, Josh.18.28. and therefore fit for their present occasion; which was also often used for such generall assemblies, as lying in the heart of the land, and so commodious for such meetings, 1 Sam.7.5. and 10.17. Some think that there was here some synagogue, or place of publike worship.

V. 2. And the chief] That is, gathered out of all corners of the land, as the Hebrew hath it, which calleth the chief princes, corners (as some think) because they are like corner-stones or pillars, the main strength of the fabrick of the common-wealth.

that drew sword] See Chap.8.10.

V. 3. Then said] That is, unto the Levite.

V.4. the Levite] Hebr. the man the Levite.

the husband] See Chap.19.2.

V. 5. slain me] That is, either by abusing me, as they did my concubine; or if I would not yeeld to prostitute my body to their abominable lusts; before which, I should have much preferred death it self.

forced] Hebr. Humbled.

V. 6. lewdnesse] That is, horrible wickednesse, which ought not to go unpunished.

folly] See Chap.19.23.

V.7. ye are all children] Whom this horrible fact concerns as well as me, being the people of God, who are bound by Gods command to punish such outragious wickednesse, and so to put away evil from Israel, v.13.

V. 8. We will not] That is, before we have seen this abominable fact severely punished.

V.9. by lot] Which shall determine who shall perform this service; that is, who shall make provision for the camp, and who shall go to fight.

V. 10. and a thousand] That is, in the whole, fourty thousand out of four hundred thousand.

for the people] That is, to victuall the camp.

V. 11. knit together] Hebr. fellows; To wit, both heart and hand.

V. 12. sent men] To wit, as ambassadours of peace, if they would punish the offenders; or heraulds to proclaim war, if they refused.

V. 13. the children of Belial] See Chap.19.22.

would not hearken] And so made themselves accessaries, abetters, and guilty of that horrible fact.

V. 16. left-handed] Chap.3.15.

at an hair breadth] An hyperbolicall expression, whereby is signified, That they were so skilfull in slinging stones, that they would commonly hit a small mark.

V. 18. house of God] At Shiloh, neer Mizpeh, and not farre from Gibeah, Chap.21.12. and 19.18.

and asked counsell] See Chap.1.1.

go up first] Being full of confidence, in respect of the justnesse of their cause, and also their great number and strength, they strive for precedency, and who should have the honour of the day, and so seek to God onely for the determining of this difference between them.

V. 21. twenty and two thousand men] To punish their self-confidence, and their idolatry, and other sins for which they were not duely humbled in their seeking unto God.

V. 22. encouraged themselves] Still trusting more in their own strength, then in Gods assistance.

V.23. went up and wept] As bewailing their great defeat and losse; but not thorowly humbling themselves in the sight and sense of their sins, by fasting and prayer, as vers. 26.

Benjamin my brother?] Doubting (as it seemeth) of their successe, because they raised war against their brother, that is, a tribe of their own people.

go up] But doth not promise victory, as v. 28.

V. 25. drew sword] That is, were valiant men, and able to manage their weapons.

V. 26. sate there] That is, according to the posture of mourners, Lam. 1. 1. Psal. 137. 1. or, as others, abode there, 2 Sam. 7. 18. Psal. 23. 6.

and fasted] That is, they did perform the duty of humiliation and repentance, not overly, slightly and formally, as they had done before, but in a serious manner.

burnt-offerings] To wit, for the expiation of their sins.

and peace-offerings] To wit, to testifie their faith and assurance of victory, having sought God in a right manner.

V. 27. enquired] To wit, by the high priest, after the judgement of Urim, Num 27. 21.

V. 28. Phinehas] See Chap. 17. 1.

stood before it] To wit, to perform the office of an high priest in the tabernacle. So Deut. 10. 8. and 18. 5.

V. 29. liers in wait] Josh. 8. 4.

V. 31. the people] To wit, of Israel.

high-ways] Or crosse ways leading to divers places.

Gibeah in the field] So called (as it seemeth) to distinguish it from the other Gibeah on the hill. See Chap. 10. 13. and Josh. 18. 24, 28. both which cities lay neer together in the tribe of Benjamin.

V. 33. Baal-tamar] lying on the west of Gibeah.

V. 34. against Gibeah] To wit, to put themselves between the city and the army, that there might be no place of retreat.

ten thousand chosen men] To wit, who had lien in ambush.

V. 35. twenty five thousand and an hundred] This was the whole number of all that were slain, which afterwards are more particularly specified.

V. 36. for the men] In these and words following he describeth the manner of the Benjamites defeat, and the Israelites victory.

gave place] That is, feignedly fled.

V. 37. drew themselves along] Or, made a long sound with the trumpets; to wit, out of the places where they had lien in ambush.

all the city] That is, all that they found in the city.

signe] Or, time; to wit, when the Israelites which did seemingly flee, should stay, and return upon the Benjamites.

and] Hebr. with.

flame] Hebr. elevation.

V. 39. to smite and kill] Hebr. to smite the wounded.

V. 40. the flame] Hebr. the whole consumption.

V. 41. that evil was come] That is, that they were utterly lost, without any hope of escaping.

upon them] Hebr. touched them.

V. 42. in the midst of them] That is, having enclosed them on all sides, they slew them.

V. 43. with ease] Or, from Menuchah, &c.

over against] Hebr. unto over against.

V. 44. And there fell] To wit, in the battell.

V. 45 the rock of Rimmon] A city lying upon a rock, between Bethel and Gibeah, on the south-west of Benjamin.

they gleaned] That is, they slew here and there as they could meet with them, cutting them clean off, as the ears of corn are gleaned after the harvest, or the grapes after the vintage.

V. 46. were twenty and five thousand] He expresseth here onely the round or grand number, leaving out the hundred mentioned v. 25. as it is usuall in the scripture; and also the remainder of the twenty six thousand and seven hundred mentioned v. 15. which it seemeth were all slain in the two other battels, these six hundred excepted.

V. 47. rock Rimmon] Chap. 21. 13.

V. 48. children of Benjamin] To wit, those that remained in the cities, both men and women.

that came to hand] Hebr. was found; Namely, in the heat and fury of the war.

they came to] Hebr. were found.

CHAP. XXI.

Vers. 1. IN Mizpeh] See Chap. 20. 1.

there shall not any] Out of their great detestation of that horrible wickednesse committed amongst them, which they all defended, they binde themselves by this rash oath; of which, upon more serious deliberation, they now repent, v. 6.

V. 2. house of God] That is, at Shiloh, where the tabernacle was, and in it the ark, the visible signe of Gods presence.

V. 3. why is this] With this expostulation (it is like) they joyned a prayer, That God would be pleased to direct them unto some means whereby they might both preserve the tribe in Israel, and also keep their oath.

V. 4. built there an altar] God appointed, that in ordinary use there should be but one altar for sacrifice, as there was to be but one tabernacle, and one temple, as types of our onely Saviour Christ, Heb. 13. 10, 11. and therefore the two tribes and half were thought to have sinned, when they built another for this ordinary use, Josh. 22. 11. But upon extraordinary and necessary occasions, God allowed his people to build more then this one in number, though they were all one in kinde, both in respect of matter and form, especially when it was done by holy men, and without danger of idolatry: yet with this difference, That the one was to be fixed and permanent; the other to stand onely so long as the necessary occasion continued. And thus we read of divers altars erected; as by Samuel, 1 Sam. 7. 9, 17. 11. 15. and 16. 2, 5. by David, 2 Sam. 24. 25. by Elijah, 1 Kin. 18. 32. by Solomon, 1 King. 8. 64.

V. 5. unto the Lord] See Chap. 20. 1.

V. 6. for Benjamin their brother] All the Israelites were brethren, because they were in covenant with God their father, and because they were all descended from Israel, who was their common father, and were all called after his name.

there is] That is, it is in danger to be cut off, if some course be not taken to preserve it. Others read it thus, Should we this day cut off a tribe of Israel?

V. 7. that remain] To wit, that so the tribe may be preserved from perishing.

V. 8. Jabesh-gilead] Lying beyond Jordan towards the east, neer the lake of Genesareth, in the tribe of Manasseh.

V. 11. ye shall utterly destroy every male] Num. 31. 17.

lien by man] Hebr. knoweth the lying with man, reserving onely virgins for the Benjamites.

V. 12. young virgins] Hebr. young women virgins; which were marriagable.

brought them] That is, having killed all the other women that had lien by man.

land of Canaan] Beyond Jordan, westward from Gilead.

V. 13. to speak] Hebr. and spake and called.

rock Rimmon] Chap. 20. 47.

call peaceably] Or, proclaim peace.

V. 14. sufficed them not] Hebr. found they nothing for them. That is, they were not enow to fit the number of the Benjamites to have every man his wife, and so to satisfie their desire. The like phrase is used, Num. 11. 23. Josh 17. 16.

V. 15. repented them] That is, both because they had in the heat and fury of war slain their brethren with so great a slaughter; and also more especially, because they had killed so many of their virgins, as there were not enow left for the men that remained, and they knew not now how to help it.

the Lord] To wit, by their hands, as executioners of his justice.

V. 16. that remain] That is, the two hundred Benjamites which have no wives provided for them.

V. 17. an inheritance] That is, Benjamin must be reserved to have the twelfth portion in the inheritance of Jacob, in the time of Joshua allotted unto them, seeing it is unlawfull to alienate any part of it to another tribe: And therefore it being so large, and they so few in number to inhabite it, there is the more need that all of them should have wives to multiply their tribe, that they may enjoy their inheritance.

V. 18. have sworn] It was a rash oath, which did not binde unto that which was evil, oncly it was a bond to a superstitious conscience; for they must either give them wives, or they must marry strangers, which was expresly contrary to Gods law, unlesse they became proselytes.

that giveth] To wit, at this time, or to these Benjamites that are guilty of this wicked fact; neither did this oath binde them for ever after.

V. 19. of the Lord] And therefore one of those three solemn and religious feasts which he had commanded, some think the feast of tabernacles.

yeerly] Hebr. from yeer to yeer.

on the east side] Or, towards the sun-rising.

of the high-way] Or, on.

V. 21. to dance in dances] Their dances were not light and wanton; but suitable to their feast, which was religious, and instituted to Gods praise; like Miriam's, Exod. 15. 20. and Jephthah's daughters, Chap. 11. 34. and theirs, 1 Sam. 18. 6. and Davids, 2 Sam. 6. 14.

and catch you] This advice was given either by speciall dispensation from God, in respect of the present necessity; or if otherwise, their counsell was no lesse unlawfull to take wives by such fraud and force, then to have given their daughters, notwithstanding their rash oath.

V. 21. Be favourable unto them] Or, gratifie us in them.

for our sakes] Who have brought this necessity upon them, and so are no lesse faulty then they.

not give] To wit, your daughters unto them voluntarily, but they by force have taken them away; and therefore you are free from the breach of your oath.

V. 24. to his tribe] That is, they went in troops to the tribe of which they were; and coming thither, they parted company, and went severally to their families from which they were descended, and then particularly every man to his own house.

no king] See Chap. 17. 6.

V. 25. In those dayes there was no king in Israel] Chap. 17. 6. and 18. 1. and 19. 1.

ANNO-

ANNOTATIONS
On the Book of RUTH.

The ARGUMENT.

THis Scripture is intituled, The Book of Ruth, becauſe ſhe is the chief ſubject of this Story, and her Perſon and Part principally acted in it. The main ſcope at which it aimeth, is to continue and declare the Genealogie of our Saviour Chriſt; and that he deſcended of Boaz a Jew, and of Ruth a Moabitiſh Gentile, to ſhew that he ſhould bring Salvation to all of every Nation, and that there ſhould be no difference or reſpect of perſons between one and another; but in every Nation, he that feareth God and worketh righteouſneſſe, ſhould be accepted in him. Act.10. 34,35. For the bringing of this to paſſe, there are many paſſages of Gods providence worthy obſervation, which are the ſum and ſubſtance of this Whole Hiſtory: Firſt, a Famine is ſent by God upon the whole Land of Iſrael, as it is likely, in the time of that grievous oppreſſion under the Tyranny of the Midianites; who ſpoiling and waſting all the Countrey for many yeers together, brought this Famine, Which enforced Naomi and her two ſons, Mahlon and Chilion, to flee for ſuſtenance into the Land of Moab; where ſojourning a long time, they took unto them Wives of the daughters of Moab, becauſe (as it is probable) they could get none of their own Countrey and Tribe: There both of the men die, and Naomi deprived of the comfort of her ſons, hearing that God had viſited his people with plenty, reſolveth to return: and when Ruth could not be perſwaded to leave her, as dearly loving her Perſon and Religion, ſhe accompanieth her into her countrey. There they live in a poor condition; and, to relieve their Wants, Ruth is fain to glean after the Reapers: and not knowing what field to make choice of, ſhe is by Gods providence directed to follow Boaz his ſervants; upon which occaſion he taking notice of her, her ſingular vertue, and pious love towards her mother-in-law, groweth by degrees into further acquaintance; till at laſt, concluding the match, they were married together, and bleſſed with a ſon called Obed, Who was one of the Progenitors of JESUS CHRIST. Judg.6. And thus, through Gods wiſe providence, Ruth's poverty is made a ſtep and paſſage to her higheſt preferment, not onely to her marriage with rich Boaz; but alſo to be a great Grand-mother to the Saviour of the World; even as formerly Joſeph, by his impriſonment, became Governour of Ægypt, and a preſerver of his Father and all his family. Mat.1.5.

CHAP. I.

Verſ. 1. When the Judges ruled] Hebr. judged. Some of the learned, by comparing the end of this book with Matth. 1. 5. do probably gheſſe, That the things related in this ſtory, were done in the dayes of Deborah: others refer them to the times of other of the Judges; ſo that there is no certainty hereof, in reſpect of the great variety of opinions, and no ſure ground for any of them.

famine in the land] That is, of Canaan, See Judg.6.4,6.

Beth-lehem-judah] See Judg.12.8.

of Moab] Lying eaſtward from Canaan beyond Jordan, being much champian, and full of plains, Deut.34.1,8.

V. 2. Ephrathites] In former times Beth-lehem-judah was called Ephrath, Gen. 35. 19. and alſo the countrey adjoyning to it, Mic.5.2. Mat.2.6.

V.4. was Orpah] Chilions wife.

Ruth] The wife of Mahlon. See Chap.4. 10. Some think theſe Iſraelites ſinned in marrying wives of an idolatrous nation, Ezr. 6.1. Neh. 13. 23. But it was lawfull to marry ſuch, if they were converted to the true religion, as it is probable theſe were, at leaſt Ruth, v.26. and Chap.2. 12. and it came to paſſe by Gods ſpeciall providence, who would have Ruth, as alſo Rahab, types of the calling of the Gentiles, ſeeing he would have Chriſt to deſcend of them, who was to be the Saviour both of Jews and Gentiles.

V.6. had viſited] That is, by ſending them plenty again. This phraſe is uſed to ſignifie Gods fulfilling his word, either in his promiſes of good, or threatnings of evil. See Gen.21.1. Luk.1. 68. Job 35.15. Jer.14.10.

bread] That is, all neceſſary food, and had ceaſed the famine.

V.7. to return] To wit, Naomi, accompanied with her daughters in law. See v.10. and Chap.2.6.

V. 8. with the dead] That is, my two ſonnes your husbands.

V. 9. finde reſt] A ſetled abode with all comfort and content, in the houſes of thoſe who are to be your husbands, Chap.3.1.

V. 10. we will return] That is, in thy returning to thy people we will accompany thee.

V. 11. your husbands] According to the law, Deut.25.5. So Gen.38.11,14.

V. 12. If I ſhould have an husband] Or; if I were with an husband.

V. 13. tarry] Hebr. hope.

it grieveth me much] Hebr. I have much bitterneſſe.

for your ſakes] That is, that I have this heavie, yet neceſſary cauſe of parting with you, whom I ſo love, and who ſo love me.

hand of the Lord] That is, that God hath inflicted on me this ſharp correction, to whoſe good pleaſure, nevertheleſſe, I muſt ſubmit, as you alſo ought to do.

V. 14. kiſſed her mother] And ſo departed and returned.

clave unto her] That is, would by no means leave her.

V.15. her gods] That is, the Moabitiſh idolls whom ſhe ſerved. See Judg.11.24.

return thou] This ſhe ſpeaks not to perſwade her, but to trie her faith and love both to the true religion, and alſo to her ſelf. So Joſh.24.19.

V. 16. Intreat me not to leave thee] Or, be not againſt me.

thy God my God] Here ſhe ſheweth her true converſion from idolatry, to the worſhip of the true God, and from her ſociety with idolaters, to the communion of Gods people.

V.17. the Lord do ſo to me] A form of imprecation uſed among the ancients, wherein the evil wiſhed is ſuppreſſed, as though ſhe ſhould have ſaid, The LORD thus and thus puniſh me, yea, multiply his plagues and judgements according to my demerits, and as himſelf pleaſeth, if I do intend otherwiſe then I ſay and profeſſe. See 1 King. 19. 2. 1 Sam. 25. 22. 1 King.2.23.

V. 18. was ſtedfaſtly minded] Hebr. ſtrengthned her ſelf.

V. 19. and they ſaid] That is, the people of Bethelem, who had formerly known her in a better eſtate.

20. Naomi] That is, pleaſant.

Mara] That is, bitter.

bitterly with me] To wit, in depriving me of my husband, and my two ſons.

V. 21. out full] To wit, having a husband, two ſons, and ſufficient means of maintenance.

empty] That is, deprived of all theſe comforts.

teſtified againſt me] That is, declared his juſt diſpleaſure, and convinced me of my ſins, by inflicting theſe ſharp afflictions. So Job 10. 17. 13. 26. 16. 8. Mal. 3. 5.

V. 22. which returned] See v. 7.30. 1 Sam 25.26.

barley harveſt] Which in Canaan uſed to be in the moneth Niſan, and with us anſwereth to part of March and part of April, Levit.23. 10.

CHAP. II.

Verſ. 1. Kinſman] Some think his nephew, being the ſon of Salmon Elimelech his brother.

V. 2. glean ears] Which by the law were to be left by the reapers, for the relief of the poor and ſtranger. Levit. 19. 9. 23. 22. Deut. 24. 19, &c.

V.3. Her

V. 3. an hap hap] Heb. hap hapned: It was hap in respect of Ruth, who knew not Boaz his part of the field from another mans, but so ordered by Gods providence to make way for her marriage to him, Luk. 10. 31.

Boaz] Called, Matth. 1. 5. Booz.

V. 4. The Lord be with you] That is, blesse and prosper you, and your labours.

The Lord blesse thee] That is, we answer thee again with the like holy salutation.

V. 5. his servant] See Gen. 24. 5.

V. 6. came back] That is, accompanied Naomi in her coming back. See Chap. 1. 7, 10.

V. 7. a little in the house] That is, she hath been here all the day, saving a little while that she staid in the tent, either for shade, rest or repose.

V. 8. Hearest thou not?] A forme of affirming usuall with the Hebrews. See Gen. 13. 9.

V. 9. have I not charged] That is, I have certainly and earnestly charged them. See Judg. 4. 6.

not touch thee] That is, that they do thee no wrong, in deed, or word, Psal. 105. 15.

go unto the vessels] This was a great kindnesse in those countries, where the weather was hot, water scant, and they very thirsty with heat and labour, Gen. 26. 18, 19, &c.

V. 10. fell on her face] Such adorations from inferiours to superiours, are often mentioned in the scripture, Gen. 18. 2. 33. 3. 42. 6. 1 Sam. 25. 23.

take knowledge] That is, respect and favour me, as if I were one of thy friends, or kinred.

V. 12. a full reward] Let God bountifully like himself, reward thy faith, by which thou hast been moved to leave all thy friends, and to trust in him, of which all my kindnesse is but a small taste.

whose wings] That is, in whose protection thou putteſt thy confidence, as the little chicken under the wings of her dame. See Psal. 17. 8. 36. 6. 57. 1. Matth. 23. 37.

V. 13. Let me finde favour] Or, I finde favour.

friendly] Heb. to the heart.

though I be not like] That is, more mean, and lesse to be respected. So 1 Sam. 25. 41.

V. 14. the bread] Her vertues observed increase his love, and his love, her allowance; before v. 9. he giveth her leave to drink out of his vessels, and now also to eat of his food.

in the vineger] Or the sauce made with vineger, wherewith, those that are afflicted with heat, are much refreshed. Plinius l. 23. ch. 1.

parched corn] A kinde of food usuall in those countries. See 2 Sam. 17. 28.

and left] Which she reserved for the relief of her mother, vers. 18.

V. 15. reproach her not] Heb. shame her not; that is, do not forbid, or rebuke her, which would make her ashamed, being a modest woman.

V. 17. an ephah] See Exod. 16. 36.

V. 18. brought forth] To wit, out of her scrip or bag.

V. 19. take knowledge] See v. 14.

V. 20. the living] That is, me and thee.

the dead] That is, my husband and sons deceased, who were of his neer kinred.

one of our next kinsmen] Or, one that hath right to redeem, To wit, who hath according to the law, right to redeem lands alienated; and also ought to marry the widdow of him that is dead, having no issue, as it is thy case, Levit. 25. 25. Deut. 25. 5, 6, 7. Mark. 12. 19.

V. 22. that they meet thee not] Or, fall upon thee; That is, that other reapers, ill-minded to thee, being a stranger, do offer thee no abuse, or least Boaz his maids should meet her in some other field, he having willed her to keep to his.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1 Shall I not] That is, I will assuredly seek. See Judg. 4. 6.

rest for thee] That is, a setled estate, free from the turmoyl of thy present condition, to wit, poverty, labours, grief, widow-hood, want of children, which disquiet thy minde; by procuring for thee a good husband. See Chap. 1. 9.

V. 2. is not Boaz] That is, know assuredly, that he is our neer kinsman, to whom the right of redemption belongeth. See Chap. 2. 20.

V. 3. anoint thee] To wit, with fragant oyl, as was the manner of those countries, 2 Sam. 14. 2. Psal. 104. 15. Matth. 6. 17.

thy raiment] That is, thy best clothes.

to the man] That is, to Boaz.

V. 4. and thou shalt go in] Her intention was good, though the means seemingly, and under severe censure immodest. But Naomi, being confident of the honesty and innocency, both of Boaz and Ruth, having respect also to Boaz his age, adviseth to this course, as thinking it most effectuall to draw on the match, avoiding withall, as much as might be, giving scandall to others, by the secrecy, which the time of night and place afforded.

uncover his feet] Or, lift up the clothes that are on his feet.

V. 5. And she said] That is, Ruth answered her mother.

V. 7. had eaten and drunk] That is, liberally, according to their manner in time of harvest and vintage, Psal. 4. 7.

was merry] That is, frolick and cheerfull.

V. 8. turned himself] Or, took hold on.

V. 9. spread therefore thy skirt] A proverbiall speech; that is, retain me into thy protection, by taking me to be thy wife. See Chap. 2. 12. and Gen. 20. 16. Ezek. 16. 8. Deuter. 22. 30.

a neer kinsman] Or, one that hath right to redeem. See Chap. 2. 20.

V. 10. in the latter end] That is, in this thy present act of chaste love, preferring me an old man, before young men, more vigorous and personable.

then at the beginning] That is, to thy former husband, and to thy mother in law, Chap. 1. 8. and 2. 11.

young men] That is, men of like age to thy self, neither here nor in thy own countrey; but hast left them, and come into Canaan, and hast not chosen a man of thine own age, but such an one as may be fit to preserve thy husbands name in his own family.

V. 11. all that thou requirest] That is, procure for thee an husband and redeemer, according to the law. See Chap. 2. v. 20.

citie] Heb. gate.

V. 13. part of a kinsman] In taking thee to wife, and raising seed to him that is deceased, to preserve his name and race. See Chap. 2. 20.

V. 14. not be known] To avoid scandall, that he might keep hereby a good conscience before God, and a good name before men, Act. 24. 16. Rom. 12. 17. 2 Cor. 8. 21.

V. 15. vail] Or, sheet, or, apron.

V. 16. Who art thou] Though she might discern her by her feature and burthen, to be a young woman, and so calls her daughter; yet being dark, she could not cleerly and certainly see, and know that she was Ruth.

V. 18. Sit still] That is, abide with me in the house, that thou mayest be ready to attend upon all occasions.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 1. To the gate] The place used among the ancients for their assemblies, judicature and contracts.

and sate him down] To wit, expecting when the neerer kinsman to Ruth should come thither, or passe by.

Ho, such a one] The Hebrews here use two words, which have no proper signification, but seem to note a certain person whose name they knew not, or had forgotten, as we use to say, ho, such an one, or, do you hear, sir. So 2 King. 6. 8. 1 Sam. 21. 2.

V. 2. took ten elders] To wit, that they might be judges or witnesses of their proceedings.

V. 3. selleth a parcell of land] To wit, which was Mahlons, and is divolved upon Ruth his widow, and is now upon sale, for her own, and her mothers maintenance, being in poverty; by which ambiguous speech he soundeth his minde, before he would speak of his marrying with Ruth, Levit. 25. 25.

our brother] That is, our neer kinsman in blood.

V. 4. I thought to advertise thee] Heb. I said I will reveal in thine ear.

before the inhabitants] That is, in a legall manner.

may know] That is, what I have to do, and how to proceed.

V. 5. of Ruth] Who had right unto it for her maintenance, till her husbands kinsman marrying her, had restored and preferred his name by raising seed unto him, who was to injoy it afterwards, Deut. 25. 5.

V. 6. lest I marre mine own inheritance] For if he were a single man, then if he should marry Ruth, and have issue, onely one childe, then this bearing his kinsmans name deceased, and inheriting his land, he should want an heir (to bear his own name) begotten by himself, which was Onans case, Gen. 38. 8. and now Mahlons; or if he were a widower (as it is more probable) and had already divers children, and should have likewise divers more by Ruth, then he should impair his inheritance for his former children, by having it divided among so many. Parcus.

my right] That is, the right which I have as next kinsman, I renounce and resigne it unto thee.

V. 7. the manner] Deut. 25. 7, 9. That is, the ceremony that was used legally to ratifie it.

concerning changing] That is, publikely performed in a legall way.

a man] That is, he who did alienate any thing from himself.

plucked off his shoe] In token that he was willing to depart from, and alienate his right and title.

and gave it to his neighbour] To wit, the redeemer, to whom it was alienated and yeelded over.

a testimony] That is, was entred upon record, that the redeemer should ever hold his right to the thing redeemed; and he that had yeelded it over, should never again challenge it.

V. 8. drew off his shoe] The ceremony of reproach, to wit, spitting, appointed by the law, Deut. 25. 9. was here omitted or remitted, either now being out of use, or because Ruth was not present, having referred the managing of the whole businesse to Boaz.

V. 10. the gate of his place] From the citizens of his city, who meet in the gate.

V. 11. like Rachel and Leah] That is, who leaving their own countrey, and following Jacob, as now Ruth hath done, have by bearing of children, multiplyed Jacobs posterity.

do thou worthily] Or, get thee riches, or, power; or, make thee grow mighty and full of riches, which in this marriage with Ruth, thou hast wholly neglected.

in Ephratah] Which is all one with Bethelem. See Chap. 1. 2.

be famous] Heb. proclaim thy name: By having a numerous posterity to continue thy name, and make thee famous and renowned.

V. 12. whom Tamar bare unto Judah] Gen. 38. 29. 1 Chron. 2. 4. Matth. 1. 3. And who was the progenitour of Boaz, and he of Christ by lineall descent; which is here purposely inserted by the holy Ghost, to shew Christs genealogy according to the flesh, and that according to the promise, he came out of the tribe of Judah, Gen. 49. 10.

V. 13. went in unto her] A modest phrase, signifying his companying with her as his wife. See Gen. 6. 4.

V. 14. left thee] Heb. caused to cease unto thee.

kinsman] Or, redeemer.

that his name] That is, the name of this pious redeemer, who hath raised up seed to his kinsman deceased; or the name of thy son, though he died childlesse, in this son now born unto him.

V. 15. a restorer of thy life] That is, he shall comfort and revive thee, restoring to thee (as it were) a new life. See Psal. 19. 8. 23. 3. Lam. 1. 11.

a nourisher] Heb. to nourish.

thine old age] Heb. thy gray hairs.

then seven sons] That is, then many sons. See Gen. 4. 15. 1 Sam. 2. 5.

V. 16. laid it in her bosome] That is, did tenderly love and cherish it, as its dry nurse.

V. 17. neighbours gave it] That is, perswaded Naomi, or the childes parents, to give it this name.

Obed] That is, serving, in respect of that service, which he should afterwards perform to old Naomi, of which they spoke, vers. 15.

V. 18. the generations] That is, the posterity which descended of Pharez.

Pharez begat Hezron] 1 Chron. 2. 4. Matth. 1. 3.

V. 20. Salmon] Or, Salmah.

ANNOTATIONS
On the first Book of SAMUEL,
Otherwise called,
The first Book of the KINGS.

The ARGUMENT.

THis Book was intituled with the name of Samuel, not that he was the Author of it, but because the first eight Chapters chiefly respect him, and the things done under his government; and was (as the Hebrews think) written by one of his Disciples, a son of the Prophets; Who in honour of his Master, calleth it by his name: and it is intituled also The first Book of Kings, because it containeth a relation of such things as hapned under the first Kings Government. In the Book it self, we have the History of the two last Judges, Eli and Samuel, and Saul the first King of Israel, With the State of the Church, and Common-Wealth under their Government. Eli was the son of Ithamar, the second son of Aaron, and high Priest; but how he came to this Office, rather then Eleazars posterity, who was the first born, the Scripture mentioneth not: Onely we may probably ghesse, That being one of the Judges, he was in an extraordinary manner called immediately by God to this place and Government. Concerning him we finde, That though himself were a godly man, yet (grace not going by inheritance) his two sons Hophni and Phinehas were Wicked, even in their Office, and about the holy things; in which God chiefly will be honoured; with which being highly displeased, he punisheth them with untimely death, and their Father with them, as accessary to their sin; because, being both a Father and a Judge, he rested onely in a milde reproof, and did not severely punish them according to their demerits. After his death, Samuel judged Israel, Who before he was born, was designed of God to this Office, and devoted by his Mother to this service, being the son of her desires, prayers and praises. He being an holy Prophet, purgeth the Church from Idolatry, restoreth Religion to its puritie, prospereth in all his undertakings, and by some victories, doth in part deliver Gods people out of the hands of their enemies. But his sons not walking in his wayes, cause discontent, and occasion the people to reject his Government, and to desire a King; wherewith the Lord being displeased, because in Samuel his deputy, they rejected himself their supreme Soveraign, and would not Deut. 17. stay the time; when, according to his promise, he would set a King over them, he gave them (as the Prophet speaketh) Hos. 13. a King in Wrath, even Saul, Who at first, and at the best, was a notable Hypocrite; yet for the first times of his 11. raign, used by God, for the good of his Church, as an instrument of deliverance unto it, by obtaining some famous victories over its enemies: But when, for his disobedience, he was by God rejected and deposed, and David designed to his place, then he sheweth himself a Wicked rebell, and bloody tyrant; Who obstinately resisteth Gods revealed will, holdeth still the Scepter by violence, and strong hand, rageth against David with all subtilty and fury, and oftentimes attempteth his death; notwithstanding, That he was in his own conscience convinced of his innocency. And seeing his malice could not reach to God himself, he extendeth it as far as he could, laying his bloody hands upon his Priests; and because the high Priest alone in his innocency and simplicity had relieved David, he causeth him and all the rest of the Priests, even eighty and five persons, to be cruelly murthered, yea, with them their wives, children, sucklings, and even their Oxen, Asses and Sheep, with more then barbarous and beastly cruelty.

Finally; In this Book are related Davids grievous persecutions, not onely by Saul, but also by his courtly Sycophants, Flatterers, Slanderers, false Friends, and professed Enemies. God first humbling him hereby, before he would advance him to the supremest dignity, and laying (as it were) a deep foundation, where he intended to raise the statelieft building. In all which his sufferings, David assisted with Gods grace and spirit, sheweth such faith, patience, piety, affiance in God, humility, constancy, and many other graces; that he is made exemplary herein to all succeeding ages and persons.

Lastly, In this story is recorded, the execution of Gods righteous Judgements, upon Saul and his wicked courtiers and servants, With many other of this sinfull Nation, by the sword of the Philistines, Whereby he maketh way for the accomplishing of his promise to David, in causing him to reign over his people Israel.

V. 22. assembled at the door of the tabernacle] Heb. assembled by troops, as they used to do, Exod. 38 8. Especially, when after their childe-bearing, they came to be purified, according to the law, Levit.12.6.

V. 23. I hear of your evill dealings] Or, I hear evill words of you.

V. 24. Nay, my sons] That is, do not such wickednesse.

to transgresse] Or, to cry out; That is, either by drawing them to the like filthinesse by your ill example; or by causing them to abhorre and neglect Gods service, seeing your prophaneneſſe.

V. 25. shall judge him] Before whom, by some means or mediation, the matter may be taken up and compounded.

a man sin] That is, presumptuously, and with an high hand, who dare presume to mediate for him before this supreme Majesty, seeing the sin is committed against the judge himself? But especially, what means of reconciliation can be expected, when as you the Lords priests, who mediate for the sins of others, are your selves the offenders? See Chap.3.14.

because the Lord] That is, because the LORD was resolved to slay them for their abominable wickednesse; therefore he did not blesse unto them this means, of bringing them to repentance. 2 Chro.25.16.

V. 26. grew on] Luke 2.52.

V. 27. a man of God] That is, a prophet, 2 Pet.1.21. 1 Tim. 6.11. 2 Tim.3.17.

of thy father] That is, Aaron, from whose son Ithamar, Eli was descended.

V. 28. all the offerings] That is, all the parts of the oblations which were not to be consumed by fire upon the altar, Levit. 7. 24. and 10.14. Numb.18.18.

V. 29. Wherefore kick ye] Deut.32.15. Both thou and thy sons contemning my sacrifices, and as it were, treading them under your feet, and making them also contemptible to the people.

my habitation] That is, my tabernacle.

honourest thy sons] By chusing to displease me, rather then them, not punishing them for their sins, nor turning them out of their priests office, which they have so shamefully abused, thou having power so to do.

V. 30. I said indeed] To wit, when I setled thy father and his sons, in the priests office, Exod.28.43. and 29.9. Yet not absolutely, but upon condition of your obedience.

walk before] To wit, in the execution of the priests office, according to my statutes.

Be it far from me] That is, because you have so basely abused it, and your selves; be it far from me, to establish the priesthood in your house.

V. 31. cut off thine arm] That is, thy chiefest strength, both by slaying thy two eldest sons, and depriving thy house of the priests office; by which they have all their power and authority.

V. 32. And thou shalt see] That is, thy posterity to their great grief shall behold.

an enemy in my habitation] Or, the affliction of the tabernacle for all the wealth which God would have given Israel; That is, an other high priest and priesthood, substituted in my temple, in thine and their room; which thy posterity shall envy, and hate as enemies, because as rivalls they shall enjoy your honour and power; the which was done by Solomon, who thrust out Abiathar, and put Zadoc in his room, 1 King.1.26,27.

in all the wealth] That is, in all the riches and prosperity which God shall give Israel in the dayes of Solomon. Others by this enemy, understand the Philistines, the defeat of the Israelites, and the captivity of the ark; of which, the tabernacle was deprived seven moneths.

V. 33. And the man] That is, of thy posterity which shall remain in the office of the priesthood, and not be cut off in the battell against the Philistines, Chap.4.

shall be] Or, should be; Namely, if thou shouldest live so long to see it, such a miserable object and cause of grief, as would make thee weep out thine eyes, to behold it; which was fulfilled in the horrible murther of the priests by Saul, 1 Sam. 22.18. and the deposing of Abiathar by Solomon, 1 King. 2.26.

in the flower of their age] Heb men

V. 34. a signe unto thee] That is, that I am a true prophet sent of God, and that all these threatnings shall in their due time come to passe, that all these calamities shall shortly begin with the death of thy two sons, Chap.4.11.

V. 35. a faithfull priest] To wit, Zadoc who was descended from Eleazar, 1 Chro. 29.22. and was faithfull both to God, and also to his Kings, David, and Solomon.

a sure house] That is, by multiplying his issue, and continuing both him and his posterity in the office of the high priest, according to the promise made to Phinehas Zadoc's progenitor, Numb. 25.13. See 1 King,2.24. Isai.22.23.

and he shall] That is, he and his posterity shall walk; to wit, in the execution of the high priests office.

before mine anointed] That is, David and Solomon as types, and the Lord Christ typified by them.

for ever] That is, all the dayes of his life.

V. 36. shall come and crouch] That is, to Zadoc and his posterity, as it was fulfilled, 1 King. 2.26. Ezek. 44.14, &c. Neither could Abiathars small means maintain himself and family, after he was deposed, without having some help and relief from the provisions of the tabernacle and temple.

Put me] Heb. Joyn.

one of the priests offices] Or, somewhat about the priesthood.

CHAP. III.

Vers.1. Before Eli] See Chap. 2.11. the word; that is, of extraordinary prophecy was precious; that is, there were but few prophets to reveal it, and by reason hereof, it was very rare, Psal.74.9.

in the temple] That is, the tabernacle.

V. 7. Now Samuel did not yet know the Lord] Or, Thus did Samuel before he knew the Lord, and before the word of the Lord was revealed unto him; To wit, as a prophet, by way of vision and extraordinary revelation by voice and speech; and as it is probable, in a visible apparition, implyed in those words, The Lord came, and stood, and called, used, v. 10.

V. 9. in his place] Which was in a remote part of the court where the Levites chambers were.

V. 10. thy servant heareth] That is, attendeth, and is ready to obey.

V. 11. I will do a thing] That is, cause a great slaughter to be made in Israel, as Chap. 4. 10. and the ark to be taken, v. 11.

shall tingle] A phrase used in Scripture, to signifie such great horrour and astonishment upon the hearing of some terrible accident, as shall weaken and debilitate the very sense, like the report of a cannon going off neer the ear. So King. 21. 12. Jere. 19. 3.

V. 12. which I have spoken] To wit, by the man of God. See Chap. 2. 27.

when I begin] Heb. beginning and ending: Namely, to execute the judgements threatned, I will not desist till they be fully accomplished.

V. 13. For I have told him] Or, and I will tell him, &c. Chap. 2. 29, 30, 31, &c.

will judge] That is, execute my just judgements upon him, and his family and posterity.

made themselves vile] Or, accursed; That is, base and contemptible by their wicked practices.

restrained them] Heb. frowned not upon them; No, not so much as by frowning upon them, though he ought to have severely punished them, as being not onely their father, but also the high priest and judge.

V. 14. the iniquity] That is, the temporall punishment of their sin is so immutably determined, that by no means it can be avoided, nor my sentence revoked. See Chap. 2. v. 25.

V. 15. vision] Or the things revealed unto him by this vision or apparition.

V. 17. God do so] See Ruth. 1. 17.

more] Heb. so adde.

thing] Or, word.

V. 18. every whit] Heb. all the things, or, words.

let him do what seemeth him good] Psal. 39. 9. Isai. 39. 8.

V. 19. was with him] That is, favouring and multiplying his graces in him.

let none of his words fall] That is, fail and come to nothing, but effectually fulfilled all that he had spoken to Samuel. See 1 King. 8. 56. and Matth. 10. 29. Some referre it to the words of Samuel which God accomplished, Isai. 55. 10, 11.

V. 20. from Dan] That is, from one end of the land to the other. See Judg. 20. 2.

established] Or, faithfull.

V. 21. by the word of the Lord] To wit, revealed to Samuel by dreams, visions and apparitions, which before his time were so rare and precious. Some understand hereby the eternall word of the LORD, JESUS CHRIST. So 2 Sam. 7. 21. Joh. 1. 1.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 1. THe word of Samuel] That is, the prophecy revealed unto him by the LORD, concerning the slaughter of the Israelites came to passe, as he foretold, Chap. 3. 11.

came] Or, came to passe. Heb. was.

Eben-ezer] That is, the stone of help, so called here by anticipation; for it was so named afterwards by Samuel upon the occasion of his victory, Chap. 7. 12.

in Aphek] A city in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15. 53.

V. 2. they joyned battell] Heb. the battell was spread.

the army] Heb. the aray.

V. 3. Wherefore hath the Lord] Some think that this expedition was by Samuels advice, which maketh them upon their ill successe, to aske this question, not being duly conscious to themselves of their demerits and sin.

fetch the ark] Heb. take unto us. Not asking before counsell of God, and trusting more in the visible signe of Gods presence, then in his promises apprehended by faith.

V. 4. between the cherubims] From whence God gave his answers to Moses, Aaron, and others that succeeded them, Exod. 25. 22. Numb. 7. 89. See 2 King. 19. 15.

were there] That is, in the camp, or in Shiloh, where the ark was before it was brought thence.

V. 7. Woe unto us] For before we fought against men, and now God is come to fight against us, Exod. 14. 25.

heretofore] Heb. yesterday, or the third day.

V. 8. these mighty Gods] Speaking impiously of the one onely true God, after their own idolatrous manner, who worshipped many gods or idols.

in the wilderneſſe] That is, not onely in the land of Egypt, but also in the red sea, which lyeth by the wilderneſſe of Etham, Exod. 13. 20. and 14. 27.

V. 9. as they have been to you] Judg. 13. 1.

quit your selves like men] Heb. be men.

V. 10. into his tent] That is, to his own dwelling. So Cha. 13. 2. 1 King. 12. 16.

V. 11. was taken] Psal. 78. 61.

Hophni and Phinehas] Chap. 2. 34.

were slain] Heb. died.

V. 12. clothes rent] That is, in token of grief and mourning. See Josh. 7. 6.

V. 13. watching] That is, expecting news from the camp.

all the citie cryed out] That is, lamented for that great defeat, and the taking of the ark.

V. 15. his eyes were dim] Chap. 3. 2. Heb. stood.

V. 16. is there done] Heb. is the thing.

V. 17. are dead] That is, are slain in the battle.

V. 18. of the gate] To wit, of the city where he sate, expecting news, or of the tabernacle where he usually attended, Chap. 1. 9.

V. 19. to be delivered] Or, to cry out.

she bowed her self] To wit, by reason of her pain and anguish that came upon her, upon the sudden, hearing of this lamentable news.

came upon her] Heb. were turned.

V. 20. neither did she regard it] Heb. set not her heart.

V. 21. I-chabod] That is, where is the glory? or, there is glory.

The glory is departed] For the ark of God was the glory of Israel, because it was a signe of Gods gracious presence among his people, Psal. 26. 8. and 78. 61.

V. 22. And she said] That is, by repeating her words, she more fully expressed the greatnesse of her grief.

CHAP. V.

Vers. 1. EBen-ezer] See Chap. 4. 1.

Ashdod] One of the five chiefest cities of the Philistines, which is also called Azotus, Act. 8. 40.

V. 2. of Dagon] That is, triumphing in their victory which they ascribed to their idoll. See Judg. 16. 23.

V. 4. the stump of Dagon] Or, the fishy part.

V. 5. on the threshold] Superstitiously ascribing unto it holinesse, because their idoll had touched it with his head and hands, that fell upon it.

of Dagon] That is, of Dagons temple.

V. 6. destroyed them] To wit, their persons with emerods, a grievous plague, in their hinder parts, as it is Psal. 78. 66. and their country with mice, Chap. 6. 4, 5.

V. 8. unto Gath] Which was another of their five principall cities, not far from the sea. This city was also called Methegammah, because it was situate on a little hill called Ammah, which David afterwards took. See 2 Samuel 8. verse 1. compared with 1 Chron. 18. 1. and Hazael after him. 2 Kings 12. 17.

V. 9. in the secret parts] Which were so extream, that they could have no ease nor cure.

V. 10. to Ekron] Which was also one of the five principall cities of the Philistines; which in the division of the land, fell to Judahs lot, Josh. 15. 35. See Judg. 1. 18. and 3. 3.

cryed out] As fearing by the coming of the ark, to have the like plagues inflicted on them, wherewith their neighbour cities were destroyed.

slay us] That is, both the lords, who it seemeth thus complained, and the people.

V. 12. that died not] It seemeth that they were punished with some other mortall disease, besides the emerods, of which many died, and caused that deadly destruction spoken of, v. 11.

CHAP. VI.

Vers. 1. SEven moneths] They thought in continuance of time their plagues would have ceased, and so would have kept the ark still.

V. 2. to his place] That is, to the land of Israel.

V. 3. not empty] That is, not without some gift or present to appease his wrath incensed against us, Exod. 23. 15.

trespasse-offering] That is, an offering for your sin, either in taking it away, or not using it aright, according to his laws.

and it shall be] That is, upon the sending of his offering, it shall be known if you be healed, that it was his hand upon you for your sin, or if you be not, then that it came not from the God of Israel, but by chance, or some hidden naturall cause. So v. 9.

V. 4. on you all] Heb. them; That is, both lords and common people.

V. 5. images of your emerods] That is, in the figure of figs, like the knops or swellings of that disease.

marre

C.4.6. Fetch thee Ark] Arbitrantes Deum non posse auxilio sibi esse nisi arca in aciem deducta. Hoc siquidem erat Sacramentis plus tribuere quam oportuit. Quæ pestis tam in ecclesia Judæorum, quam Christianorum sine modo est grassata.
Petrus Martyr.

C.4.7. GOD is come into the host] Sed quamvis arca Deus appellatur, non tamen ligna quibus constabat, in Deum transubstantiabantur, quod Papistæ de pane ac vino in Eucharistia fingunt, et credendum obtrudunt. Petrus Martyr.

Cap. 7. 6. Judged] Hebraica vox Judicare, non est jus dicere; sed vindicare in Libertatem. Petur Martyr, f. 43. a.

Cap. 7. 11. Men of Israel went] Et, ut Josephus scribit, una etiam Samuel, ut persequeretur fugientes; non enim Propheta tantum fuit, aut judex; sed etiam Dux militaris. P. Martyr, p. 43. b.

V. 14. Et restitutæ sunt urbes] Josephus ait, Samuelem multis Expeditionibus moviſse in Palæstinos. Unde aparet, eum verè fuiſse et Judicem populi, et imperatorem militarem. Martyr, p. 44. a.

V. 17. — Altar] Samueli multa permittebantur, quæ fortaſse aliis facere non licuiſſet. Nam quæ inſtinctu Dei fiunt, mirari magis debemus, quàm imitari. P. Martyr.

marre the land] That is, have eaten up and spoiled your corn.

and ye shall give glory] By this offering acknowledging that he hath justly punished you for your presumptuous sin, in medling with his holy ark, Josh.7.19. Joh.9.24.

of your gods] That is, Dagon and others, who is now vilified with this dishonour and disgrace which he hath lately put upon him, Chap.5.3,4.

V.6. harden your] That is, wilfully retaining the ark, after the suffering of such great punishments.

wonderfully] Or, reproachfully.

did not let the people go] Exod.12.31.

the people] Hebr. them. That is, of Israel.

V.7. a new cart] To wit, which hath never been yet profaned by being put to any common use. So 2 Sam. 6.3.

bring their calves home] To see if their naturall instinct of love towards their young ones will be overcome by a supernaturall and divine power and providence, causing the kine to leave their calves, and to go on in their way, carrying the ark into its own place.

V.8. jewels of gold] That is, the golden emerods and mice.

in a coffer] Not presuming to put them into the ark it self.

V.9. he hath done] Or, it. That is, the God of Israel hath inflicted these plagues upon us.

V.12. Beth-shemesh] See Josh.15.10. 21.16.

lowing as they went] That is, by a naturall instinct hanging after their calves left behinde them; but yet moved to go on with the cart, by a superiour and divine providence.

turned not aside] That is, not into crosse or by-wayes that lay by their passage.

went after them] To wit, for triall of the matter.

V.13. their wheat-harvest] Which in that countrey was in the moneth of May, about the time of Pentecost, Lev.23.16. whereby it appeareth, That the ark was taken in the beginning of November, or somewhat before, seeing it was seven moneths in the land of the Philistines, v.1.

V.14. and they clave the wood] To wit, the Leviticall priests, who were ready at hand to execute their office, because they dwelt at Beth-shemesh, a city of the tribe of Judah, Josh.15.10. which was given to the priests, Josh.21.16.

V.15. And the Levites] That is, the priests, who were of the tribe of Levi: for the Levites might carry, but not touch the holy things, Num.4.15. 2 Sam.6.6,7.

offered burnt-offerings] That is, brought their oblations to the priests, to be sacrificed by them.

V.18. even unto] That is, to that stone which is in the utmost border of their territory.

great stone of Abel] Or, great stone; signifying complaint and mourning: so called, from the great lamentation that was taken up for the grievous slaughter, mentioned v.19.

V.19. because they had looked] Contrary to Gods expresse commandment, Numb.4.15,20. either out of curiosity, to see what the Philistines had put in, or taken out, or else profaneness, and violation of Gods command.

smote of the people] To wit, those that came from all parts of the land to meet the ark coming home, or those that lay in garison upon the borders to defend the land from the in-roads of the Philistines. Dutch Annotations.

V.20. to whom shall he] That is, the ark, which is the visible signe of his presence and glory.

CHAP. VII.

Vers.1. Kirjath-jearim] See Judg.18.12.

Abinadab] 2 Sam.6.4.

and sanctified] That is, consecrated and set him apart for this holy office, to attend upon the ark of God.

V.2. lamented after the Lord] That is, they sorrowing and mourning under the grievous oppressions of the Philistines, cryed unto God, and sought unto him, turning unto the LORD, and bewailing their sins, vers. 3.

V.3. put away strange gods] Josh.24.14,23. That is, the idols of the strange nations.

Ashtaroth] See Judg. 2. 13. and under this idoll he understandeth Baal and all the rest, v.4.

serve him onely] Deut.6.13. and 10.20. Matth.4.10. Luk.4.8.

V.4. put away Baalim] See Judg. 2. 11. And Baalim being of the masculine, and Ashtaroth of the feminine gender, by both these he meaneth all the gods and goddesses of the heathens.

Mizpeh] A city situate upon the borders of Benjamin and Judah; of which, see Judg.20.1. unto which place Samuel causeth the people to assemble, that they might joyn together in prayer, and seek God by a generall humiliation and serious repentance.

V.6. and drew water] To wit, aboundance of tears out of the fountain of contrite hearts, as the Chaldee paraphrase hath it: By which hyperbolicall expression, is signified the great plenty of tears which they shed for their sins, and testified thereby their unfeigned repentance. The like expression David hath, Psal.6.6. and 119.136.

And Samuel judged] That is, by his wise government, good example, holy admonitions and exhortations, he brought them to repentance, convincing them of their sins, Ezek.20.4. 22.2, 23.36.

V.7. were gathered] Taking this to be a signe of their commotion and rebellion, they raise their forces, and come to subdue them.

V.8. Cease not to cry] Hebr. Be not silent from us from crying. As trusting more in Gods ayd, obtained by his prayers, then in their own strength.

V.9. offered it for a burnt-offering] That is, he either caused it to be offered by the priest, himself not being of that order, or did it as a prophet immediately inspired by God, and warranted to do it, as Elijah, 1 King.18.30,31.

heard him] Or, answered.

V.10. but the Lord thundred] According to Hannah's prophecie, Chap.2.10. See Josh.10.10. Judg.4.15. 5.20.

V.11. Beth-car] The name of a rock, of which, v.11.

V.12. and set it] As a monument of their victory, and thankfulnesse unto God for his help and assistance.

and Shen] Which was a great rock or promontory over against Mizpeh.

Eben-ezer] That is, the stone of help.

V.13. they came no more] To wit, with an army to give battell, and to enlarge their territorie; but yet kept garisons upon their frontiers, to defend what they had gotten, 1 Sam. 10. 5. and 13.3. Or else [no more] may be taken for a long time, or whilst Samuel judged Israel.

V.14. were restored] That is, either taken by force, or yeelded by composition.

there was peace] That is, a cessation of open war between Israel and the Amorites, that is, the Philistines and others of the Canaanites. See Judg.4.17.

V.15. judged Israel] That is, exercised the jurisdiction of a judge. See Judg.2.16. for though Saul reigned as king, yet Samuel continued his government as a judge still; and therefore they are said to have ruled together fourty yeers, Act. 13. 21.

V.16. in circuit] Hebr. and he circuited.

to Beth-el] That is, either the city of Beth-el, or the house of God, which was now at Kirjath-jearim, where the ark was.

V.17. Ramah] Or, Ramathaim, Chap.1.1. where his dwelling house was.

there he judged] That is, there was his most ordinary place of judicature, whither he used to return, after he had done his circuits in other cities.

an altar] See Judg.21.4.

CHAP. VIII.

Vers.1. When as old] That is, so old, that by reason of age and weakness, he was not able to go his circuit as he was accustomed, unto the uttermost parts of the land to administer justice to all the people.

his sons judges] That is, substitutes and assistants to him, himself still retaining the chief power of judicature in his own hand.

V.2. Joel] Called also Vashni, 1 Chron.6.28. and father of Heman often mentioned in the Scripture as a chief master of the singers, and also a penner of the 88 Psalm, 1 Kin.4.31. 1 Chron,25.1.

Beer-sheba] See Judg.20.1.

V.3. walked not in his ways] That is, did not imitate their fathers justice and equity in their government.

took bribes] Deut.16.19.

V.5. make us a king] Hos.13.10. Act.13.21.

to judge us] That is, to rule over us with regall authority.

V.6. displeased Samuel] Hebr. was evil in the eyes of Samuel. To wit, because herein they rejected Gods government, who was their king, having in his own hand the regall rights, and did substitute under him judges, whom he extraordinarily called, fitted them with gifts, and inspired them with his Spirit, v.7. Chap.12.17,19.

and Samuel prayed] To wit, for direction from God what to do, and how to demean himself in this case.

V.7. Hearken unto the voyce] That is, seeing they will needs have a king, let them have him at their own perill: for the LORD condescended to their suit in his just anger, as it is Hos.13.11.

not rejected thee] That is, not so much thee, who art but my minister, as my self; who, being chief king, rule by thee.

that I should not reign] That is, keeping still in my own hand the regall rights, and appointing what governours and government I please.

V.9. hearken] Or, obey.

Howbeit, yet protest solemnly unto them, and shew, &c.] Or, notwithstanding when thou hast solemnly protested against them, then thou shalt shew, &c.

V.9. the manner of the king] That is, not what they ought to do in right, but what they use to do in fact, and how they commonly demean themselves in their government, contrary to Gods law, Deut.17.15. and the laws of the kingdom. See Chap.10.26.

V.11. take your sons] That is, according to his own pleasure, whether you like it or no.

V.12. instruments of war] That is, he will make them his smiths, carpenters and chariot-makers.

V.15. officers] Heb. eunuchs.

V.17. be his servants] That is, ye shall be brought into the greatest servitude.

V.18. because of your king] That is, because of that tyranny and oppression which he will exercise over you.

V.19. Nay, but we will] That is, notwithstanding all thy dissuasions, we stand firm in our resolution to have a king.

V.20. may judge us] That is, govern and rule us according to his laws.

go out before us] That is, be our Generall in the wars.

V.21. and he rehearsed them] That is, asking counsell of him what he should further do.

V.22. Go ye every man] That is, depart for the present to your own homes, and in the mean while I will better consider of the matter, and ask counsell of God, what is to be done for the satisfying your desires, and how it may be best effected.

of a sheke!] That is, a piece of the value of 7d.ob. the whole shekel amounting to half an ounce of silver, or, 2s. 6d. of our money: a poor present, onely to testifie thankfulnesse.

V.9. to the seer] So called, because he foresaw things to come, which God by visions revealed unto him, Num.12.6. and 24.4.

Well said] Hebr. Thy word is good.

V.10. to the city] That is, to Ramah, where Samuel dwelt.

V.11. the hill to the city] Heb. in the ascent of the city.

V.12. he is before you] Not meaning that he was so going before them, as that he was in their sight at that time; but that he was in the city neer hand, so as they might soon and easily see him. See v.13.

is a sacrifice] Or, feast. It was lawfull for holy prophets, immediately inspired, to offer sacrifices, especially peace-offerings and sacrifices of thanksgiving, upon extraordinary occasions, upon altars erected in other places besides the tabernacle, 1 Sam.7.9. 16.5. See Judg.21.4. especially at this time, when the ark, which was (as it were) the soul of the tabernacle, was not resident in it. But it seemeth that this here spoken of was rather a feast after the offering, then a sacrifice, at which the people met to rejoyce before the LORD, and to praise him for his blessing, Gen.31.54. 1 Kin.19.21.

in the high place] For in those times they made choice of high and eminent places for their publike feasts, and also for religious service; which continued till the building of the temple, 1 King.3.2. and afterwards were condemned as unlawfull, and therefore to be taken away.

V.13. to eat] That is, to feast, and not to sacrifice.

he doth blesse] That is, by prayer and thanksgiving, Deut.8.10. 1 Tim.4.4. and after the blessing distribute the meat, as their manner was. See Luk.27.30.

the sacrifice] That is, the meat reserved after the offering, for the priests and people to furnish their feast. See Chap. 1.4. or the meat provided for the feast, without a sacrifice.

this time] Heb. to day.

V.14. Samuel came out] Being directed by God so to do, v.15.

V.15. Now the Lord] Chap.15.1. Act.13.21. Here he rendreth the reason of Samuel's coming forth, and his providing this feast, namely, To entertain Saul, that he might anoynt him king.

told Samuel in his ear] Hebr. revealed the ear of Samuel. That is, had made him clearly to know. So Chap.20.12,13. 2 Sam.7.27. Job 33.16. Isa.22.14. 48.8.

V.16. I will send] To wit, by a secret instinct and motion of my providence, though himself knoweth not of it.

V.9. back] Hebr. shoulder.

gave him another heart] Hebr. turned. That is, wrought in him a sensible change, by infusing into him heroick gifts, and kingly abilities.

V. 10. a company of prophets] That is, both the prophets themselves, and their disciples and scholars, who gave themselves to divine studies; and he propheseied. See Chap.19.23, 24.

V.11. one to another] Hebr. a man to his neighbour.

Is Saul] Chap.19.24. As who should say, It is so strange, that it may well be wondered at.

V.12. And one] To wit, amongst those prophets.

of the same place] Hebr. from thence.

But who is their father?] That is, the father of those other prophets; as who should say, They have not these gifts by patrimony, but from God: and the same father of Spirits that hath inspired them with the gift of propheeie, is alike able to infuse the same gifts into Saul.

a proverb] To wit, used when a man had spoken or done any rare thing, above all expectation.

V.13. to the high place] That is, where was the schoole of the prophets.

no where] That is, not in any place whither we went to seek them.

V.16 he told him not] Either out of modesty and humility, or to avoid his unkles envie, or, as it is most likely, because Samuel had forbidden him to reveal it: for, to the end that it might be kept secret, he would not suffer his servant to hear of it, Chap.9.27.

V.17. unto the Lord] Both to declare unto them their fault in asking a king, and also to shew Gods sentence therein. See Judg.11.11. and 20.1.

to Mizpeh] Whither he had appointed the ark to be brought, and the high priest to come with Urim and Thummim, to ask counsell of God, and by casting lots to finde out who should be their king, v.22. See Judg.20.1.

V.19. rejected your God] See Chap.8.6,7.

said unto him] That is, to wit, in thus saying to me who am his prophet and vice-gerent, Chap.8.19. 12.12.

by your thousands] The tribes of Israel were divided into thousands, as appeareth, Mic.5.2. and elsewhere.

V.20. to come neer] To wit, before the ark, that they might first joyn in prayer for Gods direction, Prov.16.33. and then cast lots: for those were joyned, v.22. Act.1.24. See the like example, Josh.7.14.

was taken] That is, by lot.

V.22. they enquired] To wit, by Urim and Thummim, and by prayer, desiring Gods answer and direction.

hid himself] Which he did out of modestie and prudence, to make it appear, that he did not ambitiously affect the kingdom, nor use indirect means to aspire unto it, but was called unto it by Gods immediate and free choice.

V.24. all the people] That is, the generality, or greatest part; for some amongst them did despise him, v.27.

God save the king] Hebr. Let the king live.

V.25. the manner of the kingdom] That is, not as it is commonly practised, Chap.8.9,10,11. but as it ought to be: and hereby understand the fundamentall laws of a lawfull and right monarchie appointed by God himself, teaching both how to rule, and subjects how to obey. See Deut.17.18. Ezek.45.9,10.46.16. Rom.13.1. 1 Tim.2.2.

wrote in a book] Which is not now extant.

V.27. children of Belial] See Judg 19.22.

they despised him] See Chap.11.12.

no presents] To wit, as subjects were wont to do, to testifie their homage and obedience to their king, 1 King. 10. 25. 2 Chron.17.5. Matth.2.11.

he held his peace] Or, he was as though he had been deaf. Out of his modestie and prudence, both to avoid sedition, and also to win them by patience and gentlenesse.

CHAP. XI.

Vers.1. Abesh-gilead] See Judg.21.10. and here he expresseth the occasion why the people desired a king, Chap.8. namely, To defend them against Nahash the king of Ammon, as he sheweth more plainly, Chap.12.14.

V.2. your right eyes] This he required not onely as ignominious, but also to disable them for taking arms; for carrying their shields on their left arm, the use of their left eye was hindered: and so their right eyes being put out, they became little better then blinde.

V.3. the elders] That is, the rulers and governours.

Give us] Hebr. forbear us.

we will come out] That is, yeeld our selves to dispose of us at thy pleasure.

Gibeah of Saul] Called before, Gibeah of Benjamin, as lying in that tribe; and now, Gibeah of Saul, either because Saul was born there, or was now their king and deliverer.

V.5. came after the herd] For though he were chosen king, yet he did not presently administer his office; but lived privately till an occasion were offered for shewing his heroicall valour, and kingly abilities.

V.6. the Spirit of God] Infusing into him wisedom, magnanimity and valour, fit for a king and captain.

anger was kindled] To wit, against Nahash, for propounding such insolent and dishonourable conditions.

V.7. hewed them in pieces] In imitation of the Levite, who thus divided, and sent the pieces of his wife to all the tribes, to encrease their indignation, and whet their courage.

and after Samuel] Who accompanied this new unsetled king as a judge to assist him, and as a prophet to direct him, v.12.

of the Lord] That is, which the LORD wrought in them by this threatning.

with one consent] Hebr. as one man.

V.8. in Bezek] See Judg.1.5.

V.9. they said] That is, Saul and Samuel.

help] Or, deliverance.

V.10. Jabesh said] To wit, to Nahash and the Ammonites that beleaguered them.

To morrow we will] To wit, if we have no help, dissembling their hope of aid, that Saul might finde them secure, and so obtain a more easie victory.

V.11. on the morrow] That is, the eighth day after their truce taken, on which they had promised to surrender themselves, if in no day of the seven they were relieved.

of the host] That is, of the Ammonites.

morning watch] That is, when they begin to withdraw the watches.

V.12. reign over us] Chap.40.27.

V.13. There shall not a man] So David, 2 Sam.19.22.

wrought salvation] To wit, by giving us victory over our enemies, thereby confirming my calling, which these men doubted of.

V.14. and renew the kingdom] That is, confirm Saul in his kingdom (to prevent all future rebellion) by universall consent, seeing now, having experience of his wisedom and valour, none will question his calling, of which formerly some doubted. Chap. 10.27.

V. 15. before the Lord] That is, in a solemn manner, as in Gods presence, represented by the ark, before which it was done.

peace-offerings] To wit, in signe of thanksgiving for the victory.

CHAP. XII.

Vers. 1. Made a king] To wit, at Gilgal, Chap.11.15.

V.2. walketh before you] That is, is setled in his kingly office, to govern you, and to go before you to the war.

I am

I am old] And therefore unfit any longer to undertake the the publike affairs of the kingdom.

my sons are with you] Not as rulers, but as private men, to do you service, and to give an account to you and your king of what they have done.

V.3. Behold, here I am] Eccles. 46. 19. To wit, ready to give an account to you and your king of all my actions in the government of the common-wealth, since I first undertook it.

before his anointed] That is, Saul, whom, by Gods appointment, I have anointed to be king over you. So v. 5. and Chap. 24.7.

whose ox] God would that Samuels example should be a patern for all them that have any charge or office.

bribe] Hebr. ransome.

blinde mine eyes therewith] Or, that I should hide mine eyes at him. That is, that I might not take notice of their faults, to punish them according to their demerits, being corrupted with their bribes.

V.5. ought in my hand] To wit, which I have taken to pervert justice.

V.6. advanced] Hebr. made. Making Moses the governour of his people, and Aaron high priest.

V.7. righteous acts] Heb. righteousnesses, or, benefits. To wit, as well benefits as punishments, in both which he justifieth God against them.

to] Heb. with.

V. 8. When Jacob was come into Egypt] Gen.46.5,6. That is, when he and his posterity had long continued in Egypt, and were exceedingly multiplied. See Exod.1.13,14. 2.23,24.

sent Moses and Aaron] Exod.4.16.

in this place] Moses setling them in the land of the Amorites beyond Jordan, and Joshua, by his direction, according to Gods will, in the land of Canaan.

V.11. and Bedan] That is, as some understand, Samson of the tribe of Dan: or, as others, Jair the Gileadite, Judg. 10.3. of the tribe of Manasseh; of whom, see 1 Chron.7.17.

Jephthah] Judg.11.1.

V.12. Nay, but a king] See Chap.8.5,19.

was your king] With whose government you should have been contented.

V.14. commandment] Heb. mouth.

continue following] Heb. be after. To wit, as your king and leader, and be still safe under his protection.

V.16. this great thing] That is, this strange miracle of thunder and sudden rain.

V.17. wheat-harvest] To wit, a season in which it seldome rains in the land of Canaan, Prov.26.1.

is great] To wit, in refusing the immortall and Almighty God to be your king, and desiring to be ruled by a mortall man.

V.18. sent thunder] To wit, in an unusuall and terrible manner, to convince them of their sin, Ezr.10.9.

feared the Lord] Unto whom thunder, rain and tempests obey, and Samuel, who had obtained them by his prayers.

V.20. yet turn not aside] q. d. Though you have grievously sinned, yet there is no sin so great, but shall be forgiven, if the sinner turn unto God by repentance.

V.21. vain things] That is, idolls; which being vain, and of no worth, 1 Cor. 8. 4. do lead men to vanity, Jer.10.8,14. Hab.2.18.

V.22. make you his people] To wit, of his free grace, and not your merits, and therefore he will not forsake you.

V.23. sin against the Lord] Who commandeth his prophets and ministers to pray and preach, 1 Cor 9.16. and therefore I will not cease to perform my duty, though you have ungratefully rejected me.

in ceasing] Heb. from ceasing.

V.24. how great things] Or, what a great thing, &c.

CHAP. XIII.

Vers.1. REigned one yeer] Heb. the son of one yeer in his reigning. To wit, whilest the things were done that are contained in the former Chapter.

reigned two yeers] To wit, then he began to take upon him the state of a king, and chose his guard and legionarie souldiers to attend his service upon all occasions, as he pleased to employ them. Some gather hence, that Saul reigned onely two yeers, to wit, before he was rejected of God, and forsaken of his Spirit, Chap.15.26. 16.14. and David anointed in his stead, Chap. 16. 12, 13. And though he be said to have reigned fourty yeers, Act. 13. 21. computing the time of Samuels government with his, yet he reigned onely two yeers lawfully, and the rest of his time as a tyrant: which they gather from Chap. 14.47. where it is said, That Saul took the kingdom; that is, like a tyrant usurped it. Lightfoot. p. 6.

V. 2. in Michmash] That is, a place so called in the border of Benjamin, neer the mountain of Bethel. So v.5.

V.3. Jonathan smote] To wit, by Sauls command, as it appeareth verl. 4.

the garison] See Chap.7.13.

in Geba] Or upon the hill. See Chap.10.5.

heard of it] That is, hearing of it, prepared themselves to fight against Israel.

Hebrews hear] That is, take notice of these preparations against them, that they may prepare themselves for the war.

V. 4. Saul had smitten] That is, Jonathan, by Saul's command.

was had in abomination] Hebr. did stink. So Gen.34.30.

V.5. Beth-aven] That is, a house of vanity and wickednesse; so called, because of the idolls there erected and worshipped. Here it signifieth the city and wilderneſse of Beth-aven: of which, see Josh.8.12.

V.6. in caves] Which were frequent in those places.

and in rocks] That is, in the holes of the rocks.

V.7. all the people] That is, his two thousand legionary souldiers, mentioned vers. 2. many of which in this fear left him.

followed him trembling] Hebr. trembled after him. Insomuch as for sudden fear they left their arms behinde them in the camp, and followed him naked and disarmed.

V.8. And he tarried seven dayes] Chap.10.8.

had appointed] The end of this meeting is expressed, Chap. 10. 8.

and the people] That is, his guard and presidiary souldiers.

V. 9. And Saul said] Being weary of waiting on Samuel's coming; and fearing the issue, by reason of the souldiers defection.

And he offered] That is, he caused the priest to offer. So Chap.14.18. For if he had himself offered sacrifice, he had greatly sinned, in usurping the priests office; and Samuel would have much more have reproved him for it, then for not staying the time appointed; which he doth not.

V.10. salute him] Hebr. blesse him.

V.11. What hast thou done] This is not a question of one desiring to be informed, but a serious reproof. So Gen. 3. 11, 12.

thou camest not] This excuse was untrue, for Samuel came on the seventh day, though not at that hour of the day in which Saul expected him.

V.12. made supplication] Hebr. intreated the face. To wit, by prayers and oblations.

forced my self] That is, I have in these great difficulties done (though unwillingly) contrary to thy direction from God.

V.13. done foolishly] To wit, in not waiting the time appointed by God.

for ever] That is, all the dayes of thy life. So Deut.15. 17. and 1 Sam.1.22. For the promise of an everlasting kingdom was made to David and his seed onely, which came of the tribe of Judah. So Gen.49.10.

V.14. sought him a man] That is, wisely appointed him to this office; to wit, David, though Samuel at that time did not know it, 1 Sam.16.6,12.

hath commanded] He speaketh of the future, as of a thing already done, to shew the certainty of it; as it is usuall in the Scriptures.

V.15. present] Hebr. found.

six hundred men] The rest were of his two thousand, being fled for fear, v.6,8.

V.17. Ophrah] A city of the Benjamites, Josh.18.23.

Shual] See Chap.9.4.

V.18. Beth-horon] Situate in the tribe of Ephraim, on the borders of Benjamin, Josh.16.3. 18.13.

V.18. valley of Zeboim] In the tribe of Benjamin, towards the desert of Jordan, which is mentioned Neh.11.34.

N.19. said] That is, thus reasoned with themselves, and one with another, Let us take care lest the Hebrews procure arms, to free themselves from being under our subjection. So Gen. 3. 22.

V.21. a file] Heb. a file with mouthes. That is, to point and sharpen their instruments and necessary utensils, when they could not go to the Philistines forges.

to sharpen] Heb. to set.

V.22. So it came to passe] That is, partly through the Philistines tyranny, disarming them; and partly through the Israelites fear, that had either cast away their arms, or left them in the camp when they followed Saul. See v. 7.

sword nor spear] Though they might have other weapons, and rustick instruments, as clubs, goads, staves and slings, which they might use for weapons.

garison] Or, standing camp.

went out] That is, to surprise Saul and his disheartned followers in Gibeah.

passage] Which being taken, they had an ease entrance into the fields of Benjamin.

CHAP.

CHAP. XIIII.

Vers.1. IT came to passe upon a day] Or, there was a day.

V.2. Migron] A place situate on the other side of the narrow passage towards Gibeah, where Saul lay with his six hundred men, expecting what the Philistines would do, vers. 11.

V.3. Ahiah] Who is also called Ahimelech, 1 Sam.22.9.

I-chabods brother] Chap.4.21.

wearing an ephod] That is, with the rest of the pontificiall ornaments, as the brest-plate with the Urim and Thummim, being high priest, and now resident with Saul in the camp with the ark, v.18.

V.5. fore-front] Hebr. tooth.

V.6. these uncircumcised] And therefore being aliens, and out of covenant with God, they are not under his protection.

it may be] q. d. Though we have no assurance of victory, seeing we have no promise; yet there is hope, in respect of Gods All-sufficiency. So Judg.7.7. Josh.14.12. 2 Chron.14.11.

to save by many or by few] 2 Chron.14.11.

V.7. in thine heart] That is, whatsoever seemeth good unto thee.

to thy heart] That is, I will follow thee whithersoever it pleaseth thee to go.

V.9. If they say unto us] This signe, by the instinct of Gods Spirit, he desireth, to confirm his faith. So Gen.24. 14. Judg. 6.37. and 7.9,13.

Tarry] Hebr. Be still.

V.10. for the Lord hath delivered, &c.] 1 Mac.4.30.

V.12. answered] That is, spoke unto them.

we will shew you a thing] Words of scorn and contempt; q. d. we will teach you more wit, then thus to thrust your selves into such desperate danger.

V.13. upon his hands] To wit, because the ascent upon the rock was steep and craggie.

slew after him] Having gotten weapons from them who were slain.

V. 14. an half acre of land] Or, half a furrow of an acre of land.

V.15. a trembling in the host] To wit, caused miraculously by a sudden terrour and astonishment, wherewith God had smitten them, which took away their sense and reason, so as they could not discern their friends from their foes.

a very great trembling] Or, a trembling of God; that is, immediately sent of God. See 2 Sam.5.24.

V.16. the multitude] To wit, of the Philistines host.

V. 18. ark of God] Namely, to enquire what was to be done, either to pursue the Philistines, or to keep their standing.

V.19. noise] Or, tumult.

Withdraw thine hand] q. d. In these streits of time, we have no leisure to attend Gods answer, but will lay hold on the present opportunity which already appeareth.

V.20. assembled themselves] Heb. were cried together.

against his fellow] Not being able, through fear and amazement, to discern them from their enemies. So Judg. 7. 22. and 2 Chron.20.23.

V.21. the Hebrews that were] To wit, either as fugitives, out of present fear, or as captives and servants.

went up] To wit, being forced like slaves, to fight against their brethren.

V.22. hid themselves] To wit, those spoken of, Chap.13.6.

V.23. the battell passed] That is, the army of Israel pursued the Philistines to Beth-aven, which was not far from Michmash, Chap.13.5.

V.24. were distressed] To wit, with hunger and faintnesse, not daring to eat.

had adjured] To wit, under the penalty of a curse and threatning of death to all that transgressed his command. See vers. 39.

Cursed] That is, let him be rooted out as an accursed thing.

any food] Heb. any bread; whereby all food is signified; else Jonathan had not transgressed in eating honey. So vers.28. and Gen.43.31.

may be avenged] His end was, That (by staying to eat) they might not be hindered from pursuing the victory.

V.25. all they of the land] That is, the souldiers which pursued the Philistines. So v.29.

to a wood] To wit, between Michmash and Aijalon, v.31.

V.26. to his mouth] Namely, to take and eat any of the honey.

the oath] That is, the curse and penalty of death.

V. 27. heard not] Because he was not in the camp, vers. 3. and 17.

honey-comb] Or, wood-honey; that is, wilde honey, Matth. 3.4.

his eyes] He got new strength and vigour, and his eyes grew clear, that were dim with fasting and faintnesse.

V. 28. Then answered] That is, spake.

this day] That is, till the evening, as vers. 24. for with the Hebrews the present day ended at evening, and the next day began. Judic.14.18.

were faint] Or, weary; So as they could not any longer pursue their enemies, v.30.

V. 29. the land] That is, the whole army of Israel; namely, by hindering them from obtaining a more full victory.

V.30. How much more] To wit, had all the army been refreshed and strengthned.

V. 31. Aijalon] Which was not that in the tribe of Dan, Josh.19 42. and given to the priests, Josh.21.24. but in the tribe of Judah, 2 Chron.11.10.

V. 32. did eat] Through extremity of hunger, though it were contrary to the Law, Levit.3.17. and 17.10.

with the blood] Leviticus 7.26. and 19.26. Deuteronomie 12.16.

V. 33. transgressed] Or, dealt treacherously.

roll a great stone] To wit, that the beasts might be killed upon it, and the blood of the slain beasts pressed out. Some think that it was to build an altar, v. 35. that the beasts might be slain before God.

V.34. with him] Hebr. in his hand.

V. 35. built an altar] To wit, that all, who would, might offer upon it peace-offerings, in thankfulnesse for their great victory; and that it might be a monument of it for the times to come. See Chap.9.12.

the same was the first altar that he built unto the Lord] Heb. that altar he began to build unto the Lord.

V. 36. Let us draw neer] That is, to enquire by Urim before the ark, Num.27.21.

V.37. asked counsell] To wit, by the high priest.

answered him not] Which was a signe that God was angry, not with Jonathan for eating the honey, but with Saul, for his rash curse and oath. See Chap.28.6.

V. 38. chief of the people] Hebr. corners. The pillars and corner-stones of the building of the common-wealth, by which it is upholden: or, all the people from all parts. See Judg. 20. 2.

wherein this sin] Saul suspecteth that Gods silence was caused by some mans hidden sinne, as in the case of Achan, Josh. 7.

V.40. be ye on one side] To wit, that being thus divided, we may see on which party the lot will light, and so he that hath sinned may be known.

V. 41. Give a perfect lot] Or, shew the innocent. That is, an upright and impartiall lot, or a lot which will shew and clear the innocent, as the words signifie; though Saul meant the contrary.

escaped] Hebr. went forth; That is, were cleared and freed by lot.

V. 42. Jonathan was taken] Who really and truely was innocent and faultlesse, but not in Sauls sense. But why is Jonathan taken by lot, who was innocent? Some think that hereby God might shew how tender he is in allowing any shew of disobedience to princes. Secondly, To make children fear and avoid even the rash and causeless curses of parents, which out of Gods secret judgement are sometime inflicted. Thirdly, To punish Sauls rash oath, by bringing thereby his dearest son into extreme danger. Fourthly, To discover Sauls grosse hypocrisie, who was scrupulous in keeping a rash and wicked oath, and made no conscience of killing his innocent sonne.

V. 43. lo, I must die] q. d. Though the fault be little or nothing, seeing I was ignorant of the oath.

V. 44. God do so] See Ruth 1 17. Saul here, and in many other places, is said to swear; whereby it appeareth, That he was much given to swearing and cursing.

V. 45. Lord liveth] That is, as surely as God liveth, who punisheth falshood, and rewardeth truth.

not one hair] A proverbiall speech with the Hebrews, signifying immunity from all hurt and evil. So Matth. 10. 30. Luk.21.18.

V. 46. went up] That is, ceased to pursue them, because God seemed angry in not answering him; and also it was now too late.

V.47. took the kingdom] That is, thus when Saul had taken, &c. he fought. See Chap.13.1.

Moab and Ammon] Bordering on the east of Canaan.

Edom] Bordering on the south.

Zobah] Which lay on the north of Canaan, between Batanea and Euphrates. See 2 Sam. 10. 5.

V.48. gathered an host] Or, wrought mightily.

V.49. the sons] He nameth those sons onely who accompanied him in his wars both in life and death.

Ishui] Who is called Abinadab, Chap. 31. 2. 1 Chron. 8. 33.

V.51. Abiel] See Chap.9.1 &c.

V.52. Saul saw] As Samuel had forewarned, Chap.8.11.

CHAP. XV.

Vers.1. THe Lord sent me to anoint thee to be king over his people] Chap.9.16.

therefore hearken] That is, in thankfulnesse to God for so high an advancement.

V.2. how he laid wait] Exod.17.8. Num.24.20. So Deut. 25.17.

V.3. slay both man] That this might be an example of Gods vengeance against them that deal cruelly with his people; and that Gods word and oath concerning Amalek might be fulfilled, Exod.17. 24,26.

V.4. in Telaim] That is, in the fields adjoyning to the city Telaim, situate in the tribe of Judah, called also Telem, Josh. 15.24.

V.5. a city] That is, either the first city in his march, or the chief city where their kings dwelled.

laid wait] Or, fought.

V.6. to the Kenites] See Judg.1.16. who dwelled in the borders of Judah and Amalek.

Go, depart, &c.] This multiplying of phrases signifying the same thing, intimateth that they were to depart with all speed.

to Shur] The utmost border of Arabia towards Ægypt, Gen. 25.18. Exod.15.22.

V.8. took Agag] This name, as some think, was the common name to all the Amalekitish kings, as Pharaoh to the kings of Ægypt, and Abimelech to the kings of Gerar, Num.24.7.

V.9. spared Agag] That is, contrary to Gods commandment, v.3. either to reserve him for triumph, or out of covetousnesse, hoping that he would redeem his life with some great ransome; or out of impious pity, as Ahab spared Benhadad, 1 King.20.31.

of the fatlings] Or, of the second sort.

V.11. It repenteth] He speaketh after the manner of men, namely, That he would do as men use to do when they repent of their actions; and not change his counsell and purpose, but his manner of working, as if he repented of what he had done; not changing his minde, but the things; his pre-science and counsell remaining immutable. So v.29.

following me] In obeying my word.

and he cried] That is, earnestly prayed unto God for Saul, That he would not cast him off from being king: but God would not grant his suit, v.23,26,28. and Chap.16.1.

V.12 to Carmell] A town belonging to the tribe of Judah, lying in the way from Amalek to Judah.

up a place] Heb. an hand, that is, as some think, a monument of triumph like an hand, to signifie that by his hand and sword he had gotten the victory. Others, That he had appointed this place to refresh his army, and divide the spoil.

V.13 I have performed] This was untrue, as appeareth v.11.

V.14. What meaneth] q. d. This convinceth thee of untruth and disobedience; seeing they still live, bleat and low.

V.15. the people spared] That is, They, and not I; which is also false. See v.9.

they be consumed] Hebr. they consume them.

V.19. flie upon] To wit, greedily; like a bird of prey.

V.21. But the people] q. d. It was the people, not I, to whom I gave way, for fear of mutenie, v.24.

V.22. to obey is better then sacrifice] Eccles 5.1. Hos. 6.6. Mat. 9.13. and 12.7.

V.23. is as the sin of witchcraft] Hebr. divination. That is, both are sins of an high nature; for as witches and diviners leave Gods word, and go to the devill for counsell and direction; so rebells resist Gods will, and obey the devill in their works.

idolatry] Hebr. Teraphim. See Gen.31.19.

V.24. I have sinned] This was not the confession of one truely penitent, like Davids, 2 Sam.12.13. but dissembled, for fear of losing his kingdom.

V.28. hath rent] He taketh occasion by this accident, as a signe sent of God, to ratifie his sentence of deposition from the kingdom.

V.29. the strength] Or, eternity, or, victory. That is, the LORD, in whom alone is all Israels strength. See vers. 11. and Gen.6.6.

V.30. yet honour me] q. d. Though I be rejected of God, yet, for the present, uphold my credit with the people.

V.32. delicately] That is, both in respect of his garb and gate.

said] That is, thought within himself, or spake to others about him.

the bitternesse of death] That is, the fear and danger: for being spared in the heat of war; it is not likely that they will kill me in cold blood, being their prisoner.

V.33. As thy sword hath made women childlesse] Exod.17.11. Num.14.45.

departed] That is, ceased for the present to vex and trouble him.

CHAP. XVII.

Vers. 1. NOw] Some think that this whole Chapter is a digression or transposition of the story, relating things done before David's coming to the court, added for the confirming of those words whereby the servants of Saul commended him to their master, Chap. 16 18.

Shochoh and Azekah] Cities belonging to the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15. 35, 45.

Ephes-dammim] Or, the coast of Dammim.

V. 2. of Elah] The oak, or, grove of oaks.

set the battell in aray] Hebr. ranged the battell.

V. 4. a champion] Hebr. a man between two; either because he put himself between the two camps, or offered a duell between two, that is, himself and another.

a span] That is, three hands-breadth, or twelve inches.

V. 5. armed] Hebr. clothed.

shekels of brasse] The common shekel was half an ounce; according to which estimate, the coat weighed two thousand and five hundred shekels, that is, one hundred fifty and six pound, and four ounces: others compute it to two hundred and eight pound, and four ounces, assigning to every pound twelve ounces.

V. 6. target] Or, gorget.

V. 7. six hundred shekels] That is, five and twenty pound, computing twelve ounces to the pound.

V. 8. chuse you a man] To wit, to fight with me in a duell or single combat, and let that side be esteemed victors, whose champion overcometh the other.

V. 10. Philistine said] That is, began to insult, when he saw that none durst come to answer his challenge.

V. 12. the son of that Ephrathite of Bethlehem-judah] Chap. 16. 1.

eight sons] He had onely seven sons properly, which are named, 1 Chron. 2. 13, 14, 15. the eighth was the son of one of the seven, and so Jesse his nephew, which usually in the Scriptures are called sons, Dan. 5. 11, 12. or, as others think, one of his eight sons wanting issue, is therefore left out in the genealogie, 1 Chron. 2. 15.

went] That is, was accounted in the estimate of men.

V. 13. three eldest] Of which, see Chap. 16. 6, 7, 8.

V. 14. the youngest] To wit, of Jesse his own sons.

V. 15. went, and returned] That is, he was often sent by his father to visite his brethren, and supply their wants; which being done, he returned to keep the sheep. Some understand it, of his often coming and going from the court, to his fathers house.

V. 17. an ephah] See Exod. 16. 36.

V. 18. cheeses] Hebr. cheeses of milk.

V. 24. from him] Hebr. from his face.

V. 25. to defie] That is, to reproach them as dastards, that durst not fight with him, being so often provoked.

will give him his daughter] Josh. 15. 16.

free] That is, from all taxes and impositions, and so ennoble his family.

V. 29. What have I] q. d. Is it not lawfull for me to speak of that which is in every ones mouth? or, What cause have I given to be taxed of pride?

a cause] Have I not good reason to make this enquiry?

V. 30. the same manner] Hebr. word. Both that he might know the certainty of the matter, and also shew his willingnesse to fight, that the king might hear of it when he spake it to many.

V. 31. sent for him] Heb. took him.

V. 33. fight with him] To wit, with any hope of victory.

but a youth] And therefore inexpert in warlike affairs.

V. 34. lamb] Or, kid.

V. 36. shall be as one of them] By the experience which he had in time past of Gods help, he doubteth not of victory over Goliath.

V. 38. armed David with his armour] Hebr. clothed David with his clothes. That is, with armour which he gave David, and fit for his bodie: for Saul being so very tall, his own armour was unfit for David, Chap. 10. 23.

V. 39. proved it] That is, the armour and weapons.

not proved them] That is, not been used to wear them.

V. 40. his staf] That is, his shepherds crook.

brook] Or, valley.

bag] Hebr. vessell.

V. 42. but a youth] Here three causes are expressed of the giants contempt; his youth, which argued his weaknesse and want of experience; his ruddie colour, which shewed his rusticitie, and undiscreet choler; his beauty, which made him seem effeminate, and too tender to endure fight.

V. 43. with staves] Speaking indefinitely, he putteth the plurall number for the singular. So Gen. 21. 7.

his gods] That is, Dagon, Baalim and Ashteroth.

V. 45. comest to me] That is, thou trustest in thy arms and weapons.

in the Name] That is, as his champion, to fight in his cause and quarrell, and trusting wholly in his promise, power and gracious assistance.

V. 46. this day will] David being assured both of his cause and calling, propheseieth of the destruction of Goliath and the Philistines army.

deliver] Hebr. shut thee up.

V. 46. a God] That is, Almighty, and willing to give his people victory over all their enemies.

V. 47. saveth not] That is, is not tied to save by these means, Psal. 44. 6.

is the Lords] To guide it by his providence, and to give victory to whom he pleaseth. Others, This battell is the LORDS, we fighting for him, and you against him; and therefore it concerneth his honour to give us victory, 2 Chron. 20. 15.

V. 48. arose] That is, prepared himself for the combate, Gen. 31. 17.

V. 49. sunk] That is, pierced deep into his forehead, as a stone speedily sinketh into the waters.

V. 50. David prevailed over the Philistine] Eccles 47. 4; 1 Mac. 4. 30.

V. 52. Shaaraim] A town in the confinies of Judah, Josh. 15. 36.

V. 55. whose son] Hence some probably gather, That this battell was fought before David lived in Sauls court, Chap. 16. 21. otherwise Saul must needs have known him. See vers. 1. Others say, That David, after his coming to court, had been some good time absent before this battell, and so was forgotten of Saul, a little time making a great change in growing youth; and that Sauls memory was spoiled with the incursions of the ill spirit, and furious fits and passions. Others, That he might know him in his person, and yet more curiously enquire after his condition and parentage, having promised to give him his daughtr. And as for Abner, being captain of the host, he might be abroad in some warlike expeditions, when David was in court, and therefore now knew him not.

CHAP. XVIII.

Vers. 1. WAs knit] To wit, in a very neer and firm bond of love and friendship.

V. 2. took him] That is, retained him in his court.

that day] That is, wherein (as some think) Saul required Jesse to let David abide with him, Chap. 16. 22. making these words a regression to that history which is there intermitted.

go no more] That is, not (as some take it) to go to and fro between the court and his fathers house, as he is said to do, Chap. 17. 15.

V. 3. made a covenant] That is, of perpetuall friendship with David, after Saul had taken him to abide in the court, which was begun at Davids first coming to play before him.

V. 4. his garments] That is, his arms or military garments. Others understand it of his courtly ornaments.

V. 5. went out] To wit, to do warlike exploits.

behaved] Heb. prospered.

V. 6. they came] That is, Saul, with his servants and souldiers; to wit, from some other fight, against the Philistines.

Philistine] Or, Philistines. Indefinitely, the singular number being put for the plurall: or, Goliath the Philistine at first, and afterwards the army in generall.

V.11. the javelin] To wit, at David.

he said] That is, he thought or intended with himself. So v. 17, 21.

V. 12. was afraid] To wit, as his corrivall, lest he should get the kingdom from him, because the souldiers and people loved him, and he prospered in all his undertakings.

V.13. his captain] Not out of love, but hoping that he would one time or other be slain by his enemies, seeing that he was valiant and venturous. So v.17, 25.

went out] That is, led them out into the field to fight, and brought them back, like a valiant commander.

V.14. behaved] Or, prospered.

V.15. afraid] See v.12.

V.17. said to David] Under pretence of love, seeking his ruine, because he durst not kill him himself, being so much beloved of all the people, he engageth him in desperate exploits, that he might be slain by his enemies.

valiant] Hebr. a son of valour.

Lords battells] That is, undertaken to maintain Gods glory against idolls and idolaters, and for Gods people.

Let not] That is, let me not kill him my self, but let the Philistines do it.

V.18. Who am I] q. d. I am too mean and unworthy to be a kings son in law.

what is my life] That is, my state and condition of life.

V.19. Adriel] The son of Barzillai the Ephraimite, who was born at Mehola, called Abel-mehola, Judg. 7. 22. and is therefore called a Meholathite, 2 Sam.21.8.

in the one] That is, of my two daughters, by marrying her.

V.22. secretly] As of your selves, and not by my motion.

V.23. a poor man] And therefore unable to give a dowry befitting a kings daughter: for in those dayes they gave dowries to their wives, and not, as now, received portions, Gen.34.12. Exod.22.16. Deut.22.29.

V.24. On this manner] Hebr. according to these words.

V. 26. an hundred foreskins] To wit, in lieu of a dowry, hoping that he would be slain in procuring them.

V.26. the dayes] That is, appointed by Saul, for the bringing in of the foreskins.

expired] Hebr. fulfilled.

V.29. more afraid] Because God prospered him in all things, both in his victories, and also the love of his wife. See vers.12.

V. 30. went forth] That is, to warre against the Israelites.

set by] Hebr. precious.

CHAP. XIX.

Vers.1. Kill David] Before Saul sought Davids life secretly; but now his hypocrisie bursteth forth to open cruelty.

V.3. what I see] That is, discover and observe.

V.4. sin against] To wit, in seeking to kill him unjustly, v.5.

V.5. his life in his hand] Judg. 9.17. and 12.3. Chap. 28.21. Psal.119.109. That is, exposed himself to much danger. See Judg. 12.3.

V.15. see David] That is, whether he were indeed sick, or onely feigned himself to be so; but with commission to bring him, in what state soever he was.

V.17. Saul said] That is, when he found by his messengers how she had deluded him.

why should I] That is, I will assuredly kill thee, if thou wilt not further me in my flight. So 2 Sam. 2.22. or, why shouldest thou do that, that will provoke me to kill thee?

V.18. came to Samuel] Both to ask his advice in these extreme dangers; and for security, thinking that the prophets presence would protect him, and deter Saul from his bloody practices; and that the place which was a school of the prophets would be a sanctuary unto him, seeing they lived safely there, though the Philistines garison was neer unto it, Chap. 10. 5. Finally, to be comforted by him in this distresse, and to have his faith confirmed in the promise of the kingdom, which Samuel from God had made unto him; which, through these great trialls, was ready to waver, Psal 116.11. 1 Sam.27.1.

to Ramah] Where was Samuels dwelling, and a school of the prophets, whereof he was over-seer, father or president, and at Naioth neer unto it.

V.20. prophesying] That is, praising God with psalms and songs, and praying unto him, and speaking of divine matters. See Chap.10.5.

prophesied] Were transported like the prophets with a divine rapture, and spirit of prophesie, and so forgot their businesse for which they came, which was, To take David.

V.21. they prophesied] To convince Saul of his sin in pursuing David, when he saw him preserved by such a miracle; and that in vain he persecuted him whom God thus protected.

Sechu] See Chap. 17.1.

V.24. also] As his messengers had done before his coming.

V. 20. I will shoot] That is, this shall be the token between thee and me, whereby I will shew thee what thou shalt do, as thou diddest desire, vers. 10. if I cannot with conveniency, and unseen, come to speak with thee.

V. 21. no hurt] Heb. not any thing.

V. 22. go thy way] That is, come not at court, but shift for thy self by going further off.

V. 23. be between] As a just judge and witnesse of our covenant, vers.42.

V. 25. Jonathan arose] To wit, that he might honour Abner in giving him place; or he left his place to his father being present, which in his absence he used to sit in, as his vicegerent.

Abner sate] Being the kings unkle and captain generall.

V. 26. not clean] And therefore cometh not to the feast, because the law forbiddeth it, Levit.7. 19, 20. 11. 24. 15. 16.

V. 27. of Jesse] That is, David, whom he thus calleth in contempt. So Nabal, Chap.25. 10.

V. 29. a sacrifice] See Chap.9. 12.

my brother] To wit, being appointed by my father.

V. 30. Thou son] Or, Thou perverse rebell. Heb. Son of perverse rebellion. Not my son, but a rebell, resisting my known will, not lawfully begotten by me, but some stranger, and born of a mother rebellious like thy self.

own confusion] Seeing he will deprive thee of the Kingdom.

of thy mothers] Either because thou causest her by thy carriage to be suspected of dishonesty; or because thou doest deprive her of her due honour in having a king for her son.

V. 31. shall surely die] Heb. is the son of death.

V. 34. was grieved] To wit, because that his fathers wrath against him was implacable, though he were innocent.

shame] By his reproaches; and casting his javelin at him, thereby shewing that he was resolved to kill David.

V. 36. beyond him] Heb. to passe over him.

V. 40. artillery] Heb. instruments.

his lad] Heb. that was his.

Go] He sends him away, that he might the more freely and secretly talk with David.

V. 41. David] Now seeing the coast clear, and none in sight that might discover them.

the south] That is, the south-side of the field, or of the stone where David had hidden himself.

V. 42. forasmuch as we have sworn both of us in the Name of the Lord] Or, the LORD be witnesse of that which, &c.

between me] To blesse and protect us, and to preserve this love and friendship for ever amongst us, which we have ratified by covenant before him.

the city] That is, Gibeah-Saul where Jonathan had his court and residence, Chap.23. 18,19.

CHAP. XXI.

Vers. 1. TO Nob] A citie neer Anathoth in the tribe of Benjamin, 1 King.2.26. Neh.11.32. unto which (as it seemeth) Saul had caused the tabernacle to be removed from Shiloh, because it was in his own tribe; as before Joshua an Ephramite had placed it in Shiloh a city of Ephraim; and after, David in Jerusalem, being of the tribe of Judah; that he might have Gods oracles neer him. And this was the cause, why at this time, there were so many priests in Nob, Chap. 22. 18.

was afraid] Suspecting that some sinister accident had befaln him, knowing that he was in Sauls displeasure, Chap. 16.4.

alone] Or with so small a retinue as did not befit his place. For it appeareth that David had some company with him, vers. 4. Matth.12. 3,4. unlesse we will say (as it is very probable,) That David had appointed his company to stay in some place for him, till he returned, as he saith, vers.2. and himself went alone to the high priest.

V. 2. The king] Through humane frailty, David speaketh this untruth, to dissemble the true cause of his flight.

to such] Hebr. peloni, almoni. See Ruth 4.1.

V. 3. under thy hand] In thy present custody, and at thy disposing, ready to be eaten.

present] Heb. found.

V. 4. but hallowed] That is, shew-bread which was set before the LORD, and so hallowed unto him; of which none but the priests might eat, unlesse in the case of necessity and charitie; which dispence with ceremonies, Exod. 25.30. Levit.24. 5,9. Matth.12. 4,7.

from women] That is, their wives. See Exod.19.15. 1 Cor. 7. 5. And if so, then I will give it them.

V. 5. three dayes]. All which time we have been in our journey, and therefore absent from our wives.

the vessels] That is, the bodies. So Act. 9. 15. 1 Thessal. 4. 4.

in a manner common] That is, the sabbath neer approaching, Levit.24. 8. seeing it is no longer as shew-bread, to stand before the LORD, but to be changed, and new put in the place; and though the old be the portion of the priests, yet others in case of necessity may eat of it, Luk.6. 3.

yea, though it were sanctified this day in the vessell] Or, especially when this day there is other sanctified in the vessell.

V. 7. detained] Either to keep the sabbath approaching, or to pay his vows, or to perform some other service, or some other occasion.

an Edomite] That is, by nation, but a proselyte by profession of the Jewish religion.

V. 9. the valley of Elah] Chap.17.2.

behinde the ephod] Laid up by the ephod in the tabernacle. Others read it thus, After that Abimelech had put on the ephod to ask counsell of God. See Chap. 22. 10, 13, 15. The like phrase is used, Gen.24 67. Deut.24.20,21.

V. 10. to Achish] This was his proper name; but he is called Abimelech, Psal.34. 1. which was a common name to all the Philistine kings. See Gen.20.21,26.

Gath] One of the five chief cities of the Philistines. See 1 Sam. 5.8.

V. 11. the king] That is, the famous and chief wartiour, and (as it were) another king in the esteem of the people.

Saul hath slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands?] Chap. 18.7. and 29. 5. Eccles.47.6.

V. 12. laid up] That is, seriously weighed, and thought on them, Luk.2. 19,51.

V. 13. his behaviour] Hebr. his taste; That is, his gesture, words, and all his carriage, whereby may be discerned whither a man be wise or foolish, mad, or in his right wits; as the taste discerneth of meats, whither they be savoury or unsavoury, Job 12. 11. and 34. 3.

in their hands] That is, whilest he was in their power, who were ready to carry him before their king, Psal. 34. 1. and 56. 1.

scrabbled] Or, made marks; That is, used the postures, gestures and absurd actions of a mad man.

V. 14. is mad] Or, playeth the mad-man.

V. 15. come into] That is, is he fit to come into a kings house, q. d. He is most unfit, and therefore send him away.

CHAP. XXII.

Vers.1. A Dullam] A citie in the tribe of Judah, not far from Bethlehem; of which, there is mention, Josh.12. 15.

V. 2. was in debt] Heb. had a creditour.

discontented] Heb. bitter of soul.

V. 3. Mizpeh] A strong hold in the land of Moab.

king of Moab] For he expected from him the more favour, because he was Sauls enemy, Chap.14.47. Or, because Ruth the mother of Obed, Davids grand-father, was a Moabitish woman.

V. 4. the hold] That is, in Mizpeh, v.3. in which the king of Moab had placed him.

V. 5. depart] Either because the king and his people were treacherous, or idolatrous, or because God would further try Davids faith, with many perills and tentations in his own countrey.

forest] Because in it were many hiding places.

V. 6. tree in Ramah] Or, grove in a high place; That is, within the territories of Ramah, neer to Gibeah, or in some high place within Gibeah. See Judg.19. 13. Or thus, Saul was sitting in Gibeah under a grove in an high place.

V. 8. have conspired] This he speaketh out of jealousie and suspition, and not of certain knowledge. See Chap.20.23.

sheweth me] Heb. uncovereth mine ear.

V. 9. Doeg] A court-sycophant, who applyeth his speech to the humour of his master, maliciously and slanderously traducing an innocent, Psal.52. 1,2.

set over] Or stood among the servants, as vers. 6.

V. 11. of

V. 11. of Ahitub] See Chap. 14. 3.

the priests] Which were some of the remnant of Elies house that God threatned to cut off, Chap. 2. 31.

V. 12. son of Ahitub] He so calleth him, without any other title, by way of contumely and disgrace. So David the son of Jesse, v. 7. 13. in contempt.

Here I am] Heb. Behold me.

V. 14. goeth at thy bidding] As David told him, Chap. 21. 2. and he beleeved.

V. 15. begin to enquire] Have I not at other times also, when he had great affairs, consulted with the LORD for him?

be it far from me] To wit, that I should conspire with David against thee, as thou chargest me, v. 13.

of all this] That is, of any conspiracy or rebellion against thee.

lesse or more] Heb. little or great.

V. 17. footmen] Or, guard. Heb. the runners.

of the Lord] These words have an emphasis in them, shewing that Sauls malice extended to the LORD himself, because he favoured David, and had rejected him; and therefore slew his priests, seeing his rage could not reach to him.

their hand] That is, they favour and help him all they can in his conspiracy and rebellion.

V. 18. that did wear] That is, that did service in the tabernacle, which they performed in linen clothes, Exod. 28. 40, 42. See Chap. 2. 18.

V. 20. escaped] To wit, by Gods providence, who according to his promise preserved some of Elies house, Chapter 2. 33.

after David] And came to him when he was going to Keilah, Chap. 23. 6.

V. 22. I knew it] I thought, or my minde did misgive me, knowing Doegs malice, that it would fall out so.

occasioned] Seeing they all suffered for my sake, though sore against my will, and to my great grief.

V. 23. Abide thou with me] That is, I will take thee into my protection.

my life] That is, I will venture my own life to preserve thine, and will be as carefull of thy safety, as of my own; so that he that will take away thy life, shall have mine also.

CHAP. XXIII.

Vers. 1. THen] Whilest David abode in the forest of Hareth, Chap. 22. 5.

Keilah] A city in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15. 44.

threshing-floors] To wit, of the corn that was brought into, and beaten out in them.

V. 2. enquired] That is, either by the Prophet Gad, who was with him, Chap. 22. 5. Or by Abiathar coming to him, when he was going to Keilah.

V. 3. afraid here] To wit, of Saul, though we lie hid in the forest, and how much more cause of fear shall we have when the Philistines our enemies are before us, and Saul pursuing after us.

V. 4. yet again] Not as doubting himself of the truth of Gods first answer, but to satisfie his followers who were in fear.

V. 6. fled to David to Keilah] Chap. 22. 20.

an ephod] With the breast-plate, in which were the Urim and Thummim, that he might ask counsell of the LORD as occasion required, Exod. 28. 30.

V. 12. deliver] Heb. shut up.

They will] To wit, if thou stayest still among them.

V. 13. he forbare] That is, he desisted to prosecute his purpose.

V. 14. in a mountain] Which was neer to Idumea, Josh. 15. 21, 24. In which were many steep mountains, and clifts of rocks, Obad. 3.

Ziph] There were two cities of this name, one spoken of Josh. 15. 24. the other neer the wilderness of Maon, mentioned Josh. 15. 55. which is here meant. Of these Ziphites, David complaineth, Psal. 54.

every day] That is, as long as he stayed in the land, 1 Sam. 27. 4.

V. 15. David saw] Had intelligence by his spies and friends.

V. 16. and strengthened] That is, comforted him and strengthned his faith, by putting him in minde of Gods promises, v. 17.

V. 17. the hand] That is, the power of my father shall not reach unto thee to do thee any hurt.

and thou] Or, but thou shalt be king.

my father knoweth] Remembring Samuels words, Chapter 15. 28. and seeing Gods favour towards thee, in thy good successe, and continuall preservation, Chapter 20. 30, 31. and 24. 20.

V. 18. made] That is, renewed and confirmed their covenant before made, Chap. 18. 3. and 20. 16.

V. 19. Doth not David] That is, know surely that he hath hid himself.

on the south] Heb. on the right hand.

Jeshimon] Or, the wilderness.

V. 21. Blessed] In his hypocrisie he maketh shew of religion, to incourage therein them treason and treachery.

V. 22. haunt is] Heb. foot shall be.

very subtilly] And therefore will deceive you, and escape out of your hands, if you be not very circumspect.

V. 23. of all the lurking] Or of the certain place.

V. 24. before Saul] As his guides to bring him to David.

V. 25. came down] To wit, from the hill Hachilah where he had hid himself.

of Maon] Which was also in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15. 55.

V. 27. invaded the land] Heb. spread themselves upon, &c.

V. 28. Sela-hammahlekoth] That is, the rock of divisions; So called, because Saul there was forced to leave David, and to make head against the Philistines.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Vers. 1. FOllowing] Heb. after.

En-gedi] A city in the tribe of Judah, called of old, Hazezon-tamar; that is, The city of palm trees, which abounded there, Gen. 14. 7. 2 Chro. 20. 3. situated between high mountains and rocks, having a desert adjoyning unto it of the same name.

V. 2. the rocks] Upon which store of goates lived, and climbed, as there manner is.

V. 3. cover his feet] That is, do his easement. See Judges 3. 24.

remained] That is, lay hid in the in-most parts of the cave.

V. 4. Behold the day] That is, a fit opportunity is now given thee by God, of killing thine enemy, who seeketh to kill thee, as if he should speak unto thee from heaven, and bid thee do it.

Sauls robe] Heb. the robe which was Sauls; That is, his uppermost garment, which perhaps Saul had put off, and laid aside, till he had done his businesse.

V. 5. heart smote him] That is, his conscience checked him, because he had done it.

V. 6. the Lords anointed] Because the LORD who made him king, hath onely power and right to depose him.

to stretch] That is, to kill him, or to lay violent hands upon him, to do him any hurt. So Gen. 37. 22.

V. 7. stayed them] Heb. cut off; That is, he pacified, and took them off from their purpose.

V. 9. heareth thou] That is, giveth heed and credit to slanderers and sycophants.

V. 10. some bad me] That is, some of them that were with me, did advise me.

V. 11. my father] Both because he had married his daughter to him, and being king, was the father of his people.

huntest my soul] That is, seekest eargerly my life, as an huntsman pursueth the wilde beast, thorow woods and hils, bushes and hard passages, v. 2.

V. 12. the Lord avenge] That is, the supreme judge of king and subject, hear my innocent cause, and do me right.

upon thee] To revenge my self by seeking thy ruine.

V. 13. Wickednesse] That is, wicked men will act wickednesse to their own just destruction.

but mine hand] That is, but I will not seek to revenge my self in my own private quarrell.

V. 14. the king] As if he should say, It is not for the honour of so great a king, nor worth his pains to pursue a man so weak, and contemptible as I am. So 2 Sam. 9. 8.

V. 15. deliver] Heb. judge.

V. 16. and wept] Being for the present convinced by Davids carriage, of his innocency, and his own sin; he was (as we say) overcome with kindnesse, and burst forth into tears.

V. 18. delivered] Heb. shut up.

V. 19. for that] In preserving my life, when it was in thy hands to take it from me.

V. 22. hold] That is, of Engedi, having yet no confidence in Sauls sincerity, seeing after reconciliation he had so often returned to his old malicious courses.

CHAP. XXV.

Vers. 1. SAmuel died] Chap. 28. 3. Ecclus 46. 13, 20.

of Paran] On the south border of the tribe of Judah towards Idumea, Habac. 3. 3.

V. 2. Maon] Maon and Carmel were cities of Judah, Josh. 15. 55. neer the southerly frontier. Another Carmel was in the tribe of Issachar, 1 King. 18. 19. and 1 Sam. 15. 12.

possessions] Or, businesse.

very great] That is, wealthy. So 2 Sam. 19. 32.

V. 3. evill in] That is, evill conditioned.

Caleb] See Chap. 30. 14.

V. 5. greet him in my name] Heb. ask him in my name of peace.

V. 7. hurt] Heb. shamed.

ought missing] Which favour seldom befalleth them that live by souldiers, who often want necessaries.

V. 8. a good day] That is, a day of mirth and feasting, in which you enjoy all plenty, and abound with Gods blessings; and therfore are bound by Gods law to communicate with those that are in want, Deut. 14. 23, 29. and 15. 7. Esther 9. 19.

to thine hand] That is, hast ready, and art willing to bestow.

thy son] Who beareth a son-like affection towards thee.

V. 9. and ceased] Heb. rested; To wit, to speak any more, expecting Nabals answer.

V. 10. the son of Jesse] So he calleth him in contempt.

from his master] As David himself hath done from Saul, and animated many others of his followers to follow his example, Chap. 22. 2.

V. 11. my water] Which was scarce, in that hot and dry countrey, Gen. 21. 25. 26. 15. and put generally for drink.

flesh that I have killed] Heb. slaughter.

V. 12. went again] Or, went their way and returned.

V. 14. young men] Of Nabals servants.

V. 15. unto us] To wit, when we lived by them in the wilderness of Paran, and there kept our sheep.

hurt] Heb. shamed.

V. 16. a wall] That is, to protect and defend us from any hurt by wilde beasts or men.

V. 17. Belial] See Judg. 19. 22. Deut. 13. 13.

to him] Who is so harsh and churlish, that he hath no patience to hear a man speak; and therefore I addresse my self unto thee.

V. 18. clusters] Or, lumps.

V. 19. she told not] Because she knew him to be of such a crooked nature, that he would rather have perished, then consent to her enterprise.

V. 21. had said] To wit, in Abigals hearing.

V. 22. So and more] That is, God grant that all the enemies of David may fare so, and no better nor worse, then as I intend to do to this ungratefull fellow, See Ruth. 1. 17.

that pisseth] A proverbiall speech used with the Hebrews, signifying a totall extermination of an house, so as not so much as a dog should escape unkilled. So 1 King. 14. 10. and 21. 21. 2 King. 9. 8. This was a rash and sinfull oath, seeing thereby he bindeth himself to take private revenge, and to slaughter the innocent as well as the guilty.

V. 24. Upon me] That is, let me be punished in stead of my husband, and his family; if I do not clear my innocency, so that thou wilt vouchsafe to hear me: or, let me be reputed an offender, rather then thou shouldest be guilty of sinning, in seeking private revenge.

audience] Heb. ears.

V. 25. regard] Heb. lay it to his heart.

Nabal is] That is, a fool, and churl, and therefore nothing but foolish and churlish words can be expected from him.

V. 26. hath withholden] By my humble mediation, and poor present that I have brought unto thee, vers. 33.

avenging thy self] Heb. saving thy self; To wit, upon my wicked husband.

now let] Or, now shall thine enemies, or else here were no oath.

as Nabal] That is, as weak and contemptible, and as unworthy to become the objects of your anger and revenge: Or in as desperate a condition as he would be, if you should proceed in this your design.

V. 27. blessing] Or, present.

the young men] That is, though it be so mean, that it is not worthy thy acceptance; yet let thy servants have it to supply their present necessity.

follow my lord] Heb. walk at the feet of, &c.

V. 28. forgive the] Seeing I took all the blame upon my self, that I might appease thy wrath against my husband.

a sure house] That is, not flitting, as now, from place to place, but fixed and permanent: not for a short time, like Sauls; but durable and perpetuall: q. d. Thou shalt have an everlasting kingdom; and nothing better becometh a king then clemency.

and evill] That is, self-revenge, and cruelty especially; and therefore do not now lose the honour of thy former innocency and mercy, by staining them with blood.

V. 29. Yet a man] That is, Saul (though all in vain) seeketh thy life.

in the bundle] That is, shall be safely preserved, as men binde up things which they esteem, in bundles; that they may not be scattered and lost, Psal. 116. 15.

with the Lord] And therefore must needs be safe, being in his custody.

as out of the middle of a sling] Heb. in the midst of the bought of a sling] That is, as men use to fling out stones, that is, suddenly, swiftly, and farre off, Jere. 10. 18.

V. 30. And it shall] The conclusion of her suit grounded upon the condition of Gods promises, and Davids injoying them.

V. 31. That this] To wit, from which I have dissuaded thee, that is, seeking private revenge, and shedding blood.

no grief] Heb. no staggering, or, stumbling.

offence of heart] That is, heavinesse of minde, and remorse of conscience.

remember] That is, think on me with kingly favour, who by my counsell have kept thee from sinning against God, and disturbing the peace of a good conscience.

V. 34. hurting thee] And thy whole family, as in my rage I did rashly swear, vers. 22.

V. 35. accepted thy person] That is, received thee into grace, and granted all which thou desirest. See Genesis 19. 21. and 32. 20.

V. 36. a feast] As they used to do at their sheep-shearing, 2 Sam. 13. 23.

V. 37. when the wine] That is, when he had out-slept his drunkennesse.

came] That is, came again the second time to betray David. See Chap. 23. 19.

doth not David] That is, we know certainly that he doth.

V. 2. chosen men] That is, such as were the most skilfull and valiant.

V. 4. David therefore sent] Or thus, for David had sent.

V. 5. Abner the son of Ner] Chap. 14. 50. and 17. 55.

trench] Or, midst of his carriages, enclosed with his carriages, fearing lest David might in the night make some sudden attempt to surprise his person.

the people] That is, his souldiers that came out with him.

V. 6. answered] Hebr. That is, said upon this occasion.

the Hittite] To wit, by nation; but now an Israelitish proselyte professing their religion.

Zeruiah] To wit, Davids sister, who had three sons, Joab, Abishai and Asahel, 1 Chro. 2. 16. still mentioned under her name, and not their father, as chiefly taking their honour from her, being Davids sister; and not her husband, who is unknown.

V. 8. delivered] Heb. shut up.

second time] That is, I will strike so sure, that I will kill him with one blow, so as there shall not need a second.

V. 10. Lord liveth] q. d. I will not smite, nor suffer him to be smitten, but leave vengeance to God.

the Lord] That is, I will leave him to God, to do with him what he pleaseth, or when he pleaseth: but as for my self, I will have no hand in his death.

his day] That is, his appointed time to die a naturall death, Job 7. 1. 14. 5.

V. 14. to the king] That is, who cryest so loud, that the king shall hear, and be disturbed of his rest.

V. 15. not kept] Or, not looked unto thy lord the king, when there came one, &c.

one

one of the people] That is, Abishai, or indefinitely, any one might have come and slain the king.

V. 16. worthy to die] Heb. the sons of death.

and now see] That is, that I may not seem to accuse thee wrongfully, here are evidences of what I say.

V. 17. my son] Hereby it appeareth, that the hypocrite persecuted David against his own conscience, and contrary to his promise, Chap. 24. 20.

V. 19. accept an offering] Heb. smell; That is, that his anger may be appeased, and he made propitious by sacrifices for sin, offered unto him. Others thus, I am ready to dy, if I have deserved it, and to become a sacrifice to appease Gods displeasure.

from abiding] Heb. cleaving; That is, that I cannot be present at Gods service in his tabernacle; but am forced to wander from place to place.

in the inheritance] That is, among Gods peculiar people, who are his inheritance.

Go serve] That is, as much as lieth in them they have compelled me to idolatry, by forcing me to flee unto idolaters, and so to run my self into a totall apostasie, Psal. 120. 5.

V. 20. let not my blood] q. d. The LORD who is present, and seeth my innocency, will not permit thee to shed my blood, and therefore do not attempt it.

a flea] Heb. one flea. See Chap. 24. 14, 15.

V. 21. was precious] That is, because thou hast spared me when I was in thy power, and perserved my life as a thing precious in thy sight.

V. 22. fetch it] He durst not trust him by going to him himself, seeing he had so often after shew of reconciliation, returned presently to his old practices.

V. 23. render] Or, and the Lord render; That is, recompense and reward, according to his gracious promise.

V. 24. eyes of the Lord] Who is able to preserve it, though thou again shouldest seek to take it away.

V. 25. great things] To wit, against thine and Gods enemies, or all things shall prosper in thy hand, according to thine own heart, and thou shalt be crowned with regall dignity.

to his place] That is, to Gibeah-Benjamin or Saul.

CHAP. XXVII.

Vers. 1. David said] Through weakness of faith, and too much relying on carnall wisdom, and his own providence; notwithstanding, that he had Gods promises, and manifold experience of Gods protection; now fainting and failing through humane frailty, as before, Chap. 22. 3, 5. For which God reproveth him.

perish] Heb. be consumed.

V. 2. passed over] Having (as it is like) first obtained safe conduct for him and his.

V. 5. let them] That is, thy officers whom thou shalt appoint.

for why] David wisely hideth his purpose and counsell under the pretext of modesty and humility, his main aym being to preserve his followers from idolatry; and that they being alone, might act their businesse undiscovered.

V. 6. Ziklag] Which formerly belonged to the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15. 31. But was taken from them, and possessed till now, by the Philistines.

V. 7. the time] Heb. the number of dayes.

a full yeer] Heb. a yeer of dayes.

V. 8. Geshwites and the Gezrites] Or, Gerzites, who were some reliques of the Canaanites, that at the coming of the Israelites, left their places in Gilead, and the tribe of Ephraim, and went to the Amalekites, Josh. 12. 5. and 16. 3.

Amalekites] Descended from Esau, which Saul was commanded to root out, but left some alive, which David now goeth against.

those nations] That is, the Geshurites and Gezrites.

land] To wit, of Canaan on both sides Jordan.

Shur] The entrance to the wilderness of Shur, towards Egypt.

V. 9. the land] That is, the Amalekites, the inhabitants of the land, which were to be destroyed by Gods command, Exod. 17. 14. 1 Sam. 15. 3.

V. 10. Whither have ye made a rode] Or, Did you not make a rode, &c.

south of Judah] Not in the land of Judah, as he would have Achish understand him; but that countrey which bordered upon it, that is, of the Amalekites, wherein David through humane frailty deludes Achish with an equivocation.

Jerahmeelites] The inhabitants of a region in Judah, which the posterity of Jerahmeel the first born of Hezron inhabited, 1 Chro. 2. 9, 25.

Kenites] The posterity of Jethro. See Judg. 1. 16.

V. 11. alive] To wit, that none might carry the news to Achish at Gath, which was in a good distance from Ziklag, and those spoiled countreyes, scattered and solitary.

saying] That is, thinking with himself.

V. 12. utterly] Heb. to stink.

to abhorre him] Because he hath invaded their countrey and spoiled them, Gen. 34. 30.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Vers. 2. What thy servant] Here David again through humane frailty, equivocates, for he meant nothing lesse by this doubtfull speech, then to fight for Gods enemies against his people, as he would have Achish to understand him.

keeper of mine head] That is, captain of my life-guard, as long as we live.

V. 3. Samuel was dead] Chap. 25. 1. Here he prepareth a way for the following history, shewing the cause why Saul sought to a witch, namely, because he could not ask counsell of Samuel seeing he was dead.

V. 4. Shunem] A city situate on the borders of Issachar, Josh. 19. 18. where Elisha harboured, 2 King. 4. 8, 10. and Abishag was born, 2 King. 1. 3.

Gilboa] A mountainous place neer Jezreel, where Saul and his sons were slain, Chap. 31. 1. and 2 Sam. 1. 21.

V. 5. trembled] Out of inward guilt, thinking the time now come of his cutting off.

V. 6. enquired] That is, by such means as were at hand.

nor by Urim] For Abiathar the high priest was with David, with the ephod and brest-plate, Chap. 23. 6. and 30. 7.

nor by prophets] That is, by no means, ordinary or extraordinary. See Numb. 12. 5. 27. 21.

V. 7. Seek me] Contrary to Gods command, Deut. 18. 11. and his own conscience and practice, who had before justly destroyed them.

En-dor] A town in the tribe of Manasseh on this side Jordan. See Josh. 17. 11. where many of Sisera's fleeing souldiers perished, Psal. 83. 10.

V. 8. disguised] To wit, lest the woman knowing him, might hide her act, and deny his request for fear of death.

up] That is, out of the ground or grave.

V. 9. to die] To wit, by the command of Saul.

V. 10. sware to her] Impiously, abusing Gods holy name, that he might encourage her to do a wicked act.

V. 12. saw Samuel] That is, a wicked spirit in the shape of Samuel, personating, and acting his part, as if it had been Samuel himself, contrary to that opinion, Ecclesiasticus 46. 20. 23. P. Martyr, f. 162. b.

thou art Saul] For so the spirit which she had raised had told her.

V. 13. not afraid] That is, fear nothing, for I will not hurt thee.

I saw gods] Like an heathen she speaketh in the plurall number, though she saw but one. So Exod. 32. 4. meaning a glorious and divine person like a god, for the devill can thus transform himself, 2 Cor. 11. 14.

V. 14. What form is he of] Heb. What is his form?

a mantle] A garment used by Samuel, and other of the prophets, 2 King. 2. 8, 13. and Chap. 15. 27.

perceived] That is, by her description, though himself saw him not.

stouped] Being deluded by the devill, he doth him this honour in stead of Samuel.

V. 15. bring me up] It was neither in the witches, nor in the devils power, to raise up Samuel: But God permitteth the devill to delude those, who beleeve lies, to their perdition.

by prophets] Heb. by the hand of prophets.

V. 16. ask me] As the devill counterfeited Samuels person and habit; so also his words and speeches in all his conference with Saul. Why dost thou seek to me for counsell, seeing I can do thee no favour, being Gods enemy.

V. 17. done to him] That is, to David as he promised. Others thus, for himself, that is, hath disposed his counsels to his own ends, as he spoke by Samuel, Chap. 15. 27, 28.

me] Heb. mine hand.

V. 19. with me] In the state of the dead, or dead as I am, So 2 Sam. 12. 23.

V. 20. fell straight-way all along on the earth] Heb. made haste and fell with the fulnesse of his stature.

V. 21. put my life] That is, have adventured my life to death, to satisfie thy desire. See Judg. 12. 3.

CHAP. XXIX.

Vers. 1. To Aphek] There were divers cities of this name in Canaan, one in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15. 53. Another in the tribe of Asher, Josh. 19. 30. Judg. 1. 31. And this in the tribe of Issachar, neer Gilboa, by the great field Megiddo, Josh. 19. 18.

V. 2. passed

–1 Sam. 28. 12. — putent animas hominum post mortem non extare. Sed ista, impia et insana sunt delira. P. Martyr, f. 161. a.

31.4. — Saul took a Sword, and fell upon it. See Willet against Self-murther; 4. Question, p. 173, 174. The Athenians had a Law, that they which killed themselves, should confiscat all their goods, and not be buried in the fields of Athens. Willet ex Martyr.

V. 2. passed on] To wit, to take a view of their armies as they were divided into hundreds and thousands.

V. 3. fell to me] That is, from Saul his master.

V. 4. Make this fellow return] 1 Chron. 12. 19.

appointed him] Or, over which thou hast set him.

to us] Turning from our side, to help our enemies, as they have formerly done, Chap. 14. 21.

with the heads] That is, by fighting against our people, and taking away their lives.

V. 5. Saul slew his thousands, and David his ten thousands?] Chap. 18. 7. and 21. 11.

V. 6. as the Lord liveth] He sweareth by the true God Jehovah, though he were an idolater; either because he had learned so to do of David, or, because swearing by his God, he should the rather beleeve him.

upright] That is, approved thy self to be a faithfull servant, and all thy dealings, since thou camest into the army, I approve as good, Numb. 27. 17.

the lords favour thee not] Heb. thou art not good in the eyes of the lords.

V. 7. displease not the lords] Heb. do not evil in the eyes of the lords.

V. 8. But what have I done?] This dissimulation in David cannot be excused; for it could not but grieve him to go against the people of God.

with thee] Heb. before thee.

V. 9. as an angel] This phrase he had learned of David, or had it from the Hebrews, who were a neighbour nation.

V. 10. depart] That is, before the battell begineth.

CHAP. XXX.

Vers. 1. Third day] To wit, after they had left the Philistines camp.

the Amalekites] That is, either the remainders of them that had escaped Saul, 1 Sam. 15. 7. or else some others of that nation which inhabited in some other corner of the land, who took this occasion of Davids absence in the Philistines country, to revenge themselves upon his city and company, for his invading and spoiling of them, Chap. 27. 8.

V. 6. of stoning him] As ascribing all these their miseries unto him, both because he had provoked the Amalekites to take this revenge, by his invading and spoiling them; and also had given them opportunity of doing this mischief, by withdrawing all his forces to the Philistines camp, and so leaving their own city naked.

grieved] Heb. bitter.

encouraged himself] That is, relying on Gods former promises, and comforting himself with his future hopes, that he should by Gods assistance recover all these losses, and be avenged on his enemies, Hab. 3. 17.

V. 7. bring me hither] That is, go fetch the ephod and brestplate, and put it on; that thou mayest for me enquire by Urim, what is to be done in this distresse. So Cha. 23. 9. Num. 27. 21.

V. 8. David enquired] To wit, by Abiathar the priest.

V. 9. brook Bezor] Which was in the borders of the tribe of Simeon, derived and descending from the mountains of Judah, and running to the west sea.

where those] That is, the two hundred men mentioned, v. 10.

V. 11. gave him bread] God at once by his wise providence, provideth food for this almost starved Egyptian, and for David, a fit guide.

V. 12. his spirit came] That is, he was revived and strengthned.

V. 13. three dayes] Heb. this is the third day, to wit, from which I fell sick.

V. 14. the Cherethites] That is, the Philistines, as appeareth, vers. 16. for so they were called, Ezek. 25. 16. Zeph. 2. 5.

south of Caleb] That is, the south of the land, inhabited by Calebs posterity, Josh. 14. 13. 15. 15.

V. 15. I will bring] Having learned from some of the company, at their departure from him, where they purposed to encamp; that if he recovered his sickness, he might come to them.

V. 16. land of Judah] To which, Ziklag and the land of Caleb belonged.

V. 17. twilight] To wit, of the foregoing evening, for David found them eating, drinking, and dancing, which are actions usually of the evening, and not done in the twilight of the morning; and having so small a number to fight against a great multitude, the night was fittest for such an attempt; yet some take it for the morning twilight, because of the unfitnesse of Davids men for this enterprize, by reason of their weariness and long march.

the next day] Heb. their morrow.

V. 20. David took] That is, Davids men.

all the flocks] That is, all the residue of the cattle which the Amalekites had taken from others, that is, the Philistines and the Calebites.

Davids spoil] That is, belongs to David, by his souldiers free consent and gift, and therefore afterwards he bestowed it on whom he pleased, v. 26.

V. 21. saluted them] Or, asked them how they did.

V. 22. Then answered] That is, when the two hundred men had spoken to have that part of the spoil which belonged unto them.

V. 23. with that] That is, with the spoil, which we have gotten, not by our own strength, but Gods free gift.

who hath preserved us] Or, for he preserved us.

V. 24. as his part] That is, they both shall have equall shares, according to Gods appointment, Num. 31. 27. Josh. 22. 8. And also the law of arms which, appointeth those that guard the camp, an equall share with those that go out to fight.

V. 25. forward] Heb. and forward.

made it] That is, did revive and ratifie this statute first made by God.

V. 26. his friends] Who remained faithfull to him in his affliction and persecution.

present] Heb. blessing.

V. 27. in Beth-el] Or, the house of God; which at this time was at Kirjath-jearim, with the ark, 1 Sam. 6. 21 7. 1.

south-Ramoth] A city in the tribe of Simeon, Josh. 19. 8. So distinguished from Ramoth in Gilead, 1 King. 22. 13.

Jatir] A city situate on a mountain in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15. 48.

V. 28. Aroer] A city lying upon the river Arnon, belonging to the tribe of Reuben, Josh. 13. 16. Deut. 3. 12.

Siphmoth] The same (as some think) with Shepham, Num. 34. 10. one of the land-limits of Canaan.

Eshtemoa] A city situate in the tribe of Judah, called also Ashtemoth, Josh. 15. 50. and was given to the sons of Aaron, 1 Chron. 6. 57.

V. 29. Rachal] This town is no where else in scripture mentioned. Some think that it was in the tribe of Judah, though not named in that catalogue, Josh. 15.

Jerah-meelites] See Chap. 27. 10.

Kenites] See Judg. 1. 16.

V. 30. Hormah] Called also Zephath, Judg. 1. 17. 2 Chro. 14. 10. belonging to the tribe of Simeon.

Chor-ashan] The same (as some think) which is called Ashan, in the tribe of Simeon. Josh. 19. 7.

Athach] Saint Jerome in his book de locis Hebraicis, placeth it in the tribe of Judah; and we read not of it, but only here.

V. 31. Hebron] A famous city in the mountains of Judah, given to Caleb. See Josh. 14. 13, 14.

By this means Excellent JONATHAN was duly honoured.

ANNOTATIONS
On the second Book of SAMUEL,

Otherwise called,

The second Book of the KINGS.

The ARGUMENT.

THe History concerning the state of the Church and Common-Wealth of Israel is continued in this Book, from the death of Saul, to the end of Davids reign, and is the story of fourty yeers. In it is declared the infallible Truth of Gods promises, made and accomplished unto David concerning the kingdom, Who though for a long time, he passed thorow main difficulties and dangers, yet at last, after those storms of trouble and affliction, he arriveth at the Wished Haven, and quietly enjoyeth the Crown and Scepter. Yet not all at once, but by degrees; for at first, he is opposed by Ishbosheth, Sauls son, counselled and assisted by Abner the Captain-generall of his Host, having onely Judah, his own Tribe adhering to him, over Which alone he reigned in Hebron, for the space of seven yeers, till he growing, and they daily decreasing in strength, at last by the treacherous death of both his chief enemies (of which he was innocent) the Warre is finished, and by the generall choice of all the Tribes, he is With much applause crowned and established in his Royall Throne. In him is set forth unto all posterity, the lively picture and patern of a truely Royall King, every way qualified With such rich graces, piety, justice, and heroicall endowments, as approved him to be a man according to Gods own heart. His piety towards God was singular, and not to be paralleld With any that Went before, or succeeded him; For he chiefly devoteth himself to Gods service, and the performance of all religious duties, continually meditating in Gods Law, composing and singing of Psalms, which breath nothing but piety and holinesse, praying and praising of God, excellently ordering the Ecclesiasticall Government, and promoting Gods publike service to an high degree of perfection in all the parts of it; adorning the Tabernacle, and making and pitching a Tent for the Ark of the Covenant, neer unto his own dwelling, that he might more readily, upon all occasions, resort unto it for comfort, counsell, and direction. And thinking this too mean to be the place of Gods glorious presence, his whole care and study is taken up about the building him a Temple, which his pious zeal being accepted, and yet the work it self interdicted by God, he useth all his indeavours in preparing for it, and doth not onely leave to his son Solomon, a modell and patern of the building, being inspired by Gods spirit; but provideth before-hand a vast masse of Gold, Silver, and all other materialls for the perfecting the Work in a most sumptuous and magnificent manner. His justice also towards men appeareth in many passages, but especially in the punishment of the Amalekite, who brought tidings of Sauls death, and of Ishbosheths servants, who had treacherously murthered him. For when they expected from him some Royall reward for slaying his enemies, and so preparing a way to his present and secure enjoying of the Crown and Scepter; he abhorring their treason, though attended with a Kingdom, caused them instantly to be put to death. He was also excellently endowed by the Spirit of God With Heroicall vertues and graces, fit for a generall and great Commander, as wisdom, courage, strength and magnanimity, whereby he was enabled to fight the Lords battles against all his, and the Churches enemies; as the Philistines, Ammonites, Moabites, and Syrians, all Which he wholly vanquished, and either destroyed or brought them under tribute; whereby the Kingdom of Israel was extended to the utmost limits Which God had promised. Yet as he was endowed with all these excellencies, he had also his failings, yea, strong corruptions, as exorbitant lusts, uncleanesse, cruelty, which discovered themselves in the matter of Uriah, pride in numbring of the people, partiall injustice in passing an unrighteous sentence against innocent Mephibosheth, lying, dissembling, which the Holy Ghost hath also recorded; not to incourage any to do the like; but as Sea marks, that they may avoid these Rocks, against which so choice a Vessell dashed, and had surely splitted and perished, had not Gods Grace and holy Spirit (as a timely gale of winde) blown him off, and reduced him into his right course, by unfeigned repentance: Upon which, though his sin was pardoned, yet to shew how horrible it Was in it self, and how odious and displeasing unto God; and that also the enemies of the Church might not by his impunity, take occasion to blaspheme, God severely corrected his sins (as it were) by the Law of Taliation, like for like, so as he might plainly read his sins in his punishment. Thus sinning by adultery, his own daughter was incestuously ravished by his own son; and his Concubines defiled by his son Absalon, in the sight of the sun; and causing Uriah to be murthered by the sword of the children of Ammon, the sword departed not from his house, but Absalon murthereth his brother Amnon, and after riseth in rebellion against himself, and unnaturally seeketh his death, that preferred his life before his own; in which ambitious treason, himself perished, to the intolerable grief of his over-loving Father: Besides all other warres, both forreign and intestine, With which he Was continually vexed to the end of his reign; And finally, his pride and confidence in the number of his people, and the arm of flesh, Was punished with a grievous plague, that consumed threescore and ten thousand of them in the space of three dayes; and yet for all this, the Lord did not, as his sins meritted, utterly forsake him; but loving him With a love unchangeable, he doth by these fatherly (though severe chastisements) thorowly humble him in the sight and sense of his sins, and so raising him from these grievous falls, by unfeigned repentance, he forgiveth his sins, and receiveth him into former favour, (to incourage all that have so sinned to follow his example) reneweth his Covenant with him, and ratifieth, and (as it were) sealeth unto him all his gracious promises, especially, that which was chief of all, the perpetuity of his Kingdom, which lasted long in a numerous posterity, but was accomplished in the eternity of Christs Kingdom, who came (according to the flesh) out of his Loyns, of which, David and his Kingdom were a type and figure.

CHAP. I.

Vers. 1. THE slaughter of the Amalekites] 1 Sam. 30. 17.

V. 2. clothes rent] Which in mourning testified their great grief, and contrition of heart, shame, unworthinesse, and deep humiliation, Gen. 37. 29. Josh. 7. 6. 1 Sam. 4. 12. Job. 2. 12.

V. 4. How went the matter?] Heb. What was, &c.

V. 6. I hapned] To wit, fleeing in the chace.

of the mighty] That is, the arms of Saul, Jonathan, and the rest.

vilely] Disgracefully, and dishonourably, to wit, in their flight from their enemies.

V. 22. turned not back] That is, they never in vain attempted their enemies, with their arms and weapons; but were alwayes victorious, piercing, and killing the best and valiantest of them.

V. 23. pleasant] Or, sweet.

swifter] To wit, in pursuing their enemies; and stronger then lions, in vanquishing them.

V. 24. who clothed you] That is, who caused you to live in all peace and plenty, and adorned you with the spoils of your enemies, Psal. 68. 12.

other delights] As rich garments and costly jewels, in which women take much pleasure, Jere. 2. 32.

V. 25. high places] That is, places of advantage in thine own countrey.

V. 26. of women] That is, either to their onely sons or husbands, or one another; that is, it exceeded the deerest love, or neerest friendship.

V. 27. mighty fallen] See v. 19.

weapons] That is, either Saul and Jonathan, who were as swords and shields, to defend the common-wealth. So 2 King. 2. 12. 13. 14. Or simply, he meaneth the arms and munition which were lost in the battle, and became a spoil to the Philistines, to the dishonour and weakning of Gods people.

CHAP. II.

Vers. 1. ENquired] By the priest, putting on the brest-plate with the Urim and Thummim, Numb. 27. 21.

Hebron] A city belonging to the priests in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 14. 13. and 21. 10, 11.

V. 2. Nabals wife] That is, that had formerly been his wife, 1 Sam. 25. 39. So Matth. 1. 6.

V. 3. his men] That is, his fighting men or souldiers, that had accompanied him in his persecution.

in the cities] Which belonged to Hebron, which was the metropolis, or chief citie.

V. 4. anointed] 1 Macc. 2. 57. Hereby ratifying his former anointing by Samuel, 1 Sam. 16. 13.

told David] To wit, enquiring what was done with Saul and Jonathans bodies, as being willing to have them buried in an honourable manner, 1 Sam. 31. 13.

V. 5. said unto them] To wit, by his messengers.

Blessed] That is, the LORD multiply upon you all his blessings.

V. 6. and truth] According to his promise, which is to recompense subjects that are loyall and faithfull to their Soveraigns.

V. 7. be ye valiant] Heb. be ye sons of valour] Be not dismayed, though you have lost your lord, for I whom the house of Judah, according to Gods appointment, have anointed king, will supply unto you all good things which you have lost by his death. And thus David useth all lawfull policy and good means, to gain the peoples love, though he had assurance from God that he should be king.

V. 8. Sauls host] Heb. the host which was Sauls.

took Ish-bosheth] Called Eshbaal, 1 Chro. 8. 33. and him he set up to be king, either out of love and fidelity to his old master; or, because he was his neer kinsman, or knowing him to be but a weak man, he presumed, that he should have under him a greater stroke in the government, then he could expect under David, though he knew Gods will to the contrary, Chap. 3. 9, 10, 18.

Mahanaim] Situate beyond Jordan on the river Jabbok, neer Jabez-Gilead. See the reason of the name, Gen. 32. 2.

V. 9. Gilead] That is, over all the countrey beyond Jordan.

Asshurites] The tribe of Asher, on the north of Canaan.

Jezreel] Situate almost in the midst of Canaan, and on the borders of Zebulun, half the tribe of Manasseh and Issachar, in which tribe it was.

all Israel] To wit, Judah onely excepted.

V. 10. two yeers] To wit, after these wars between him and David began; for he had reigned over Israel before, all the time that David raigned in Hebron over Judah, that is, five yeers and six moneths before these wars, though it is not like they lived in peace all the time before; howsoever this was the chief war that was between them in these two yeers. See Ch. 3. 1.

V. 11. time that David] Heb. number of dayes, Chap. 5. 5.

V. 12. went out] To wit, to wage war against David and Judah.

Gibeon] Situate in the tribe of Benjamin. See Josh. 9. 3.

together] Heb. them together.

Gibeon] On the south-side without Gibeon.

V. 14. play before us] Try their valour by skirmishing together, we in the mean while being quiet, and looking on the spectacle, like an old souldier, flesht with blood, who makes but a play of death.

V. 16. his fellow] That is, his antagonist or adversary.

fell down] All slain by one another.

Helkath-hazzurim] That is, the field of valiant champions, or combatants, who like rocks, stood firm in their place; or, of the points of swords, because they thrust them into one another.

V. 18. as light] As swift in running, hyperbole.

of foot] Heb. of his feet.

as a wild roe] Heb. as one of the roes that is in the field.

V. 19. from following Abner] Heb. from after Abner.

V. 21. armour] Or, spoil.

V. 22. wherefore] q. d. I am very loth to kill thee (if thou doest not too much urge, and presse upon me) for thy brothers sake.

how then] With what confidence can I look for any peace or reconciliation with him, having killed his brother?

V. 23. hinder end] With the pike of his spear in the lower end, for their spears were double pointed.

fifth rib] That is, under the loweſt of the short ribs (which are five in number) neer the belly; out of which wound his guts came forth. So Chap. 3. 27. 4. 6. 20. 10. or in that place, which in likelihood was below the usuall armour, which also was a place of great danger.

V. 24. to the hill] To which Abner retreated, that having the advantage of the upper ground, they might the better stand upon their defence.

V. 25. gathered themselves] To wit, into one main body, or battalia on the top of one hill.

V. 26. shall the sword] That is, wilt thou put no end to slaughter?

be bitternesse] That is, be unto thee a cause of grief, when thou shalt consider, that those whom thou hast slaughtered, are thy brethren, of the same nation and religion.

V. 27. thou hadst spoken] First challenged and provoked us to the fight, vers. 14.

in the morning] Heb. from the morning.

the people] I should have caused my souldiers to have marched away, and not to have given battle to their brethren.

gone up] Or, gone away.

V. 29. Bithron] Which are called the mountains of Bether, Cant. 2. 17. That is, of separation, because lying in Gilead, they were by Jordan separated from Canaan.

V. 31. had smitten] That is, slain.

Abners men] That is, of his partie, to wit, of all the other tribes, besides Benjamin.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. Long war] For it lasted five yeers and odd moneths from the first fight, Chap. 2. 12. to the death of Ish-bosheth: For Davids reign over Judah in Hebron, was seven yeers and six moneths, two of which were spent before that fight, Chap. 2. 11.

V. 2. sons born] So 1 Chro. 3. 1.

V. 3. Chileab] Called also Daniel, 1 Chro. 3. 1.

Geshur] A city situate in the north, on the frontier of Gilead, at the entrance of the valleys of Syria Trachonitis, Deut. 3. 14. Josh. 12. 5. 2 Sam. 15. 8.

V. 5. Davids wife] All the rest were his wives, and yet she onely is so called, either because she was no otherwise known, as the other were, but by this title, or, to distinguish her from some other of the same name, or, the word wife may be referred to each one before named.

V. 7. Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah] Chap. 21. 10.

gone in] That is, defiled her, thereby aspiring to the kingdom. So Absalon, 2 Sam. 16. 21. and Adonijah, 1 King. 2. 27. and he chargeth him out of his own suspition, or report of others.

V. 8. a dogs head] Or, a dog-keeper; That is, doest thou esteem me no more then a dog, for all my service done to thy fathers house? So 1 Sam. 24. 15. Deut. 23. 18. and Chap. 9. 8. and 16. 9.

V. 9. So do God] See Ruth 1. 17.

V. 10. from Dan] That is, the whole land of Canaan, of which, these two places were the outmost limits, Dan in the north, and Beer-sheba in the south. See Judg. 20. 1. 1 King. 4. 25.

V. 11. feared him] That is, because of his great power, which he had with the people, especially the souldiers.

V. 12. on his behalf] Heb. in stead of himself; That is, in his own name. Others read it, because of this; That is, being enraged by this affront.

Whose is] That is, to whom belongeth of right the kingdom, but to thee, to whom God hath given it?

Make a league] That is, enter into Covenants with me, that thou wilt remit all that is past, receive me into favour, and give me such place and preferment, as befitteth my person, and parts.

bring about] That is, cause them to leave Ish-bosheth, and become thy subjects.

V. 13. Well] That is, I like and accept of thy propositions.

that is] Heb. saying.

Thou shalt] So Gen. 43. 3.

Michal] That is, Sauls daughter, both because she had been loving and faithfull to him, and also would now be some help, to gain, and confirm his kingdom by inclining Sauls party unto him.

V. 14. And David sent] It is like Abner desiring it, that he being backed with the kings authority, might the more easily effect it.

for an hundred foreskins of the Philistines] 1 Sam. 18. 25, 27.

V. 15. Phaltiel the son of Laish] 1 Sam. 25. 44. Phalti.

V. 16. along weeping] Heb. going and weeping.

Bahurim] In the tribe of Benjamin, Chap. 19. 16. situate upon the frontiers of Judah.

V. 17. Abner had] According to covenant with David.

in times past] Heb. both yesterday, and the third day.

V. 19. also spake] That is, to the same purpose as he had done to the elders of Israel, v. 17.

went also] That is, having received such an answer as satisfied him, from Israel and Benjamin, he himself went to carry the news of it to David.

Benjamin] Who are specially named, because Saul being of their tribe, was chiefly in their favour; and therefore, if they gave way to Davids title, little doubt was to be made of the other tribes.

V. 21. all Israel] That is, the greatest part, or all the chief of all states and conditions. So Matth. 3. 5. Phil. 2. 21.

over all] That is, all the tribes, or the whole kingdom.

V. 22. a troup] Of enemies, and as it is most likely, the Philistines, who had sent this troup to spoil the country.

V. 24. What hast thou done?] That is, thou hast done very inconsiderately in sending Abner away in peace.

V. 25. knowest Abner] That is, to be so politique and subtile.

going out] That is, all thy counsels and courses.

V. 26, after Abner] To wit, in Davids name, as if he had some further businesse of importance to speak of to him.

well of Sirah] Situate on the north of Hebron.

V. 27. took him aside] 1 Kings 2. 5.

quietly] Heb. peaceably; That is, to treat with him about the kings affairs in secret, and (as it were) in his ear, that no man might hear him.

fifth rib] As he had done to his brother Asahel. See Chap. 2. 23.

V. 28. blood] Heb. bloods.

V. 19. not fail] Heb. be cut off; That is, as long as his family, or any of it continueth, let some, or all of these evills befall them, 2 King. 5. 25.

an issue] See Levit. 15. 2.

on a staff] To wit, by reason of feebleness and lameness.

V. 30. and Abishai] So that both the brothers conspired in this murther, though Joab onely did act it.

the battell] This is an aggravation of the murther, Abner slew Asahel in time of war, and unwillingly; but Joab Abner treacherously in time of peace.

V. 31. to Joab] He would have Joab present at the funerall, either for the more solemnity, or, that by the sight of this publike mourning, he might be convinced of his sin, and brought to repentance.

Rent your clothes] See Genesis 37. 29, 34. and Chapter 1. 2.

V. 33. as a fool] As a base coward, that foolishly yeeldeth himself to be slaughtered by his enemy, making no resistance.

V. 34. Thy hands] q. d. Though thou diddest thus die, yet thou wast truely valiant in all thy enterprises, as Joab should have found if he had fought with thee on equall termes.

wicked men] Heb. children of iniquity, Who have no respect to true valour, honour, or honesty.

V. 35. to eat meat] That is, to refresh himself after his great mourning, as Chap. 12. 17.

V. 36. pleased them] Heb. was good in their eyes.

V 37. of the king] That is, not by his will, counsell, or instigation.

V. 38. a great man faln] And therefore they that killed him should be punished as murtherers, where there is power to do it.

V. 39. And I am this day weak] Heb. tender; That is, unsetled in my kingdom, and therefore of small power to see justice executed, especially on those murtherers who are in such favour with the people, and command the army.

the Lord] That is, though I be unable to inflict condign punishment on these potent offenders, yet the LORD in his due time will do it himself. So 1 King. 2. 5, 6. and 34.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 1. Were feeble] That is, became weak both in courage and counsell. So Chap. 17. 2. Isai. 13. vers. 7.

were troubled] With the suddenness of this ill news, because they knew not what would become of the treaty of peace and reconciliation, Abner being dead, who did negotiate it.

V. 2. Sauls son] That is, Ish-bosheth.

of bands] Used to rove and spoil. So Chap. 3. 22.

other] Heb. second.

of Beniamin] See Josh. 9. 17. and 18. 25. Though now the Philistines possessed it, the Benjamites after Sauls discomfiture being fled out of it, 1 Sam. 31. 7.

V. 3. Gittaim]

3.18. ——— for the Lord hath spoken of David, ——— It is monstri simile That Abner's Ambition should thrust him forward all this while, wittingly and willingly to fight against GOD!

July, 15. 1726.

Capt. 5. 23, 24. This place is refuted by ye Annotation on Psal. 84. 6.

cap. 6. 3. Cart I Ita hodie Papistæ colunt Deum ceremonijs vel a lege Mosaica revocatis, vel petitis ab Ethnicis: si tamen hoc est colere, ac non potius Dei nomen contemptissimè violare.
——— gentili ritu & Palæstinorum more Deum colere. P. Martyr. 211. b.

V.3. Gittaim] Some think that there were two cities of this name; one in Benjamin, Neh.11.33. another in the south frontiers of Judah, whither these Beerothites fled and inhabited; which they liked so well, that they returned not to their own city, to the time that this story was written.

V.4. of Saul] That is, of their overthrow and death, 2 Sam. 32.

Jezreel] Where the battell was fought and lost, 1 Sam.29.1.

Mephibosheth] Called also Merib-baal, 1 Chron.8.34.

V.5. went] That is, seeing all things grew worse and worse with him, and that David was likely to be king of all Israel, they resolved to slay him; and to this end now came, thinking hereby to gratifie David, and to endear their service; presuming of impunity, because there was none to revenge his death but Mephibosheth, who was but a childe, and also lame.

V.6. fetched wheat] To wit, having disguised themselves in the habite of such as come to buy corn; or of porters, that came to carry away some that had been bought.

fifth rib] See Chap.2.23.

V.7. away] From Mahanaim, where Ish-bosheth resided, Chap.2.8. 3.27.

the plain] That is, between Jericho and Hebron.

thine enemie] They commend their service in killing Ishbosheth, by putting him in minde of Sauls enmity, which they in this fact had revenged upon his son.

V. 10. one told me] Chap. 1. 4, 5.

Saul is dead] Saying withall, That upon Sauls request he did but help to kill him, and rid him out of pain, Chap.1.10.

Thinking to have brought good tidings] Hebr. he was in his own eyes as a bringer, &c.

who thought that I would have given him a reward for his tidings] Or, which was the reward I gave him for his tidings.

V.11. How much more] To wit, ought I severely to punish such as you, seeing neither the example of him that said he slew Saul; nor duty to your master, nor the innocency of the person, nor reverence of the place nor time; did deter you from committing such a treacherous and bloody fact.

a righteous] That is, who had done you no wrong.

V.12 sepulchre of Abner] Chap.3.32.

CHAP. V.

Vers.1. Came all the tribes] 1Chro.11.1. That is, elders and chief of all, or else their ambassadours.

thy bone] That is, descended from the same father Jacob, and therefore all brethren, out of which God commandeth to chuse a king, Deut.17.15. See Gen.29.14, Judg.9.2.

V.2. leddest out] That is, wast then our captain, and so the more fit to be chosen king, because thou art expert in war, and able to lead an army. So Num.27.17.

the Lord] That is, hath already anointed thee king by Samuel, 1 Sam.16.11,12.

shalt feed] That is, shalt govern them with such fidelity, affection and care, as a good sheepherd doth his sheep, Psal.78. 70,71.

V.3. before the Lord] Calling him to be a witnesse and judge of performing the covenants which were made between them. See Judg.11.11.

V.5. seven yeers, and six moneths] Chap.2.11.

thirty and three] The last yeer being begun, but not finished; for he reigned precisely but thirty and two yeers and six moneths: but, to make up a round number, the last yeer, though not compleat, is added, as is usuall in the Scriptures, Judg. 20. 46.

V.6. the king and his men] That is, his army went, by Gods direction, and consent of the elders that were with him.

Jerusalem] Before called Jebus, Judg.19.10.and Salem, Gen. 14.18. Psal.76.2. belonging to Judah and Benjamin: but yet a chief and strongest part of it, till this time, was in the possession of the Jebusites, the old inhabitants of this city, Judg.1. 8, and 19.12.

Spake unto David] That is, in scorn and derision, trusting in the impregnable strength of their fort, That though there were none but the blinde and lame to defend it, they were sufficient to hold it against all Davids forces. Some think, That in contempt of David and his forces, they had placed onely blinde, lame and impotent persons in the fort to defend it, boasting that they were sufficient, in respect of the strength of the fort. Some, by blinde and lame, understand the idolls of the Jebusites, to whom, as their protectors, they entrusted the fort, calling them blinde and lame, according to the Israelites esteem, and not their own, boasting that they should finde them able enough to defend them.

thinking, David cannot come in hither] Or, saying, David shall not, &c.

V.8. getteth up] That is, shall enter the fort first, and slay the Jebusites, 1 Chron.11.6. taking away the lame and blinde, or the idols placed there.

that are hated] That is, by reason of that scorn which the Jebusites put upon him, vers. 6. whether we understand the idols, which Davids Soul hated; or impotent persons, in regard of their presumptuous contempt.

he shall be chief and captain] 1 Chron.11.6.

wherefore they said, The blinde and the lame shall not come into the house] Or; because they had said, even the blinde and the lame, He shall not come into the house.

they said] That is, it became a proverb among the people, for a perpetuall memoriall of this victory: or else taken up and used to reprove them who were too presumptuous and confident in their own strength, seeing they might be deceived as well as these Jebusites. Others read it as in our margin; because they had said] That is, David promiseth this reward to him that should take away the blinde and lame, because they had put this scorn upon him.

V.9. Millo] A deep and broad valley or ditch, dividing Sion from the lower city; from whence David raised his wall of defence about Sion. See 1 King.9.15.

V.10. went on] Hebr. went going and growing] That is, prospered in all his attempts.

V.11. Hiram king of Tyre] 1 Chron.14.1. A royall, potent and famous city of merchandise, situate on and in the sea, by the west limits of Asher. See Josh.19.29

V.6. when they came to Nachons threshing-floor] 1 Chron.13.9. Called also Chidon.

shook it] Or, stumbled; and so did endanger it to falling.

V.7. against Uzzah] To wit, because, being but a Levite, he presumed to touch the ark; which was unlawfull for any to do, saving the high priest or his sons, Num.4.15.

errour] Or, rashnesse; That is, his sin, in touching the holy things, Num.4.15. which was his own sin, peculiar to himself, besides that of carrying the ark in a cart, which was common to all the rest, v.3.

V.8. displeased] That is, grieved for Uzzah, both in respect of his sin and punishment.

made a breach] Heb. broken; That is, had smitten him with sudden death, and thereby interrupted their proceeding in this joyfull and holy action.

Perez-uzzah] That is, the breach of Uzzah:

to this day] To wit, when this story was written.

V.9. afraid] To wit, because of this his severe executing of judgement, fearing to proceed further in the action, lest himself also, through some errour committed, might miscarry and perish in it.

How shall the ark] q. d. It seemeth by Gods dealing, that he is not pleased with our action, or because we have failed in our manner of doing it; and therefore it will not be safe to carry it to my house, till I have from God further direction.

V. 11. Obed-edom] A Levite of the porters and singers, 1 Chron.15.18.

the Gittite] That is, of Gath-rimmon, lying neer Gath, a royall city of the Philistines, appropriated to the Levites, Josh. 21.24,25. where, it seemeth, he was born.

blessed] That is, caused him and all he had to prosper.

V.12. So David went] 1 Chron.15.25. This story of bringing the ark is more fully and particularly related, 1 Chron. 15. 11, 12, &c.

brought] To wit, by the ministery of the priests and Levites.

V. 13. he sacrificed] That is, by his commandment the priests and Levites sacrificed: see 1 Chron.15.26. and this they did to testifie their thankfulnesse unto God for blessing their proceeding hitherto, and to move him to be propitious for the future. See 1 Sam.9.12.

V 14. David danced] Not vainly and carnally, but excited with inward spirituall joy, expressing it self outwardly in this holy service of God.

linen ephod] See 1 Sam.2.18.

V.16. despised him] That is, out of a carnall heart, judging carnally of Davids holy actions and intentions, she vilified his person and carriage.

V.17. pitched for it] Hebr. stretched; To wit, before he went to fetch it, 1 Chron.15.1. the which David did by Gods inspiration and direction, that it might continue there till a temple were built for it: for the tabernacle made by Moses was erected first at Shiloh, 1 Sam.1.3. 14.3. then at Nob, Chap.21. 1. and was now at Gibeon, 1 Chron. 16.39. See on 1 King. 3. 4.

V.18. he blessed the people] 1 Chron.16.2. That is, as a godly king, and holy prophet, he prayed for their peace and prosperity, and for all blessings spirituall and temporall.

V.20. to bless] That is, to pray for his family, as he had done for the people.

How glorious] This she speaketh ironically, in a way of derision and contempt; as if she should have said, Thou didst not carry thy self as became the state of a king, but as one of the basest of the people, in a vain and light manner. See Judg. 9. 4. or as the Levites, of whom she had a mean conceit, like whom he was clad.

uncovered] That is, laid open his nakednesse in his dancing, without any respect to his kingly majesty, gravity or modesty.

shamelessely] Or, openly.

V.21. before the Lord] That is, I did it to Gods glory, that I might expresse my thankfulnesse to him, and the joy of my heart in doing him this service.

V.22. And I will] That is, I am so far from repenting of what I have done, that I will be ready still to abase my self, when as thereby I may glorifie God.

of the maid-servants] Or, of the hand-maids of my servants.

V.23. no childe] That is, was by God punished with barrennesse, for deriding her husband.

untill the day] That is, never. So 1 Sam.15.35. and Matth. 1.25.

CHAP. VII.

Vers. 1. And it] Compare this whole Chapter with 1 Chron.17.

when the king sate] 1 Chron.17.1. In peace and safety.

V.2. house of cedar] As if he should say, It is a most unfitting thing that I should dwell in a more fair, costly and setled habitation then the ark of God, the visible signe of his glorious presence. See Hagg.1.4.

curtains] That is, in the tabernacle covered with skins and curtains, Exod.26.1.

V.3. Nathan said] That is, out of his own opinion and advice, and not by any revelation from God, which he should have waited for, in a matter of such great importance, before he gave his sentence.

do all] That is, build a house to the LORD, as thou desirest, and he that hath moved thee to do it, will prosper thy work.

V.5. my servant David] Hebr. to my servant to David.

shalt thou] That is, thou shalt not do it, for thou hast shed much blood; and canst have no leisure in time to come, because thou shalt yet have much war. See 1 Chron. 17.4.22.8. and 1 King.3. 5.

to dwell in] That is, to shew therein my gracious presence.

V.6. in a tent] That is, have shewed my presence in a tabernacle flitting and removing from place to place. So 1 Chron. 17.5. As if he should say, There is no present haste or necessity of building an house for me, who have all this while been content with a tent, and so shall be still, till my own time be come.

V.7. spake I] Did I ever complain that my house was not built? seeing though I had a purpose that it should be done in due time, yet I had not required that they should go about it, till this time were come.

any of the tribes] That is, any of the judges and rulers of the tribes, 1 Chron.17.6.

to feed] That is, as faithfull shepherds to govern and provide for my people.

V.8. I took thee from the sheep-cote] 1 Sam.16.11. Psal. 78. 70. God recounteth his former and future benefits, not to upbraid him, but that David might not doubt of his love, nor think that for want of it he rejected his service in building him a temple.

from following] Hebr. from after.

V.9. I was with thee] So Chap.8.6, 14.

great name] That is, I have made thee famous and formidable among all the nations round about thee.

great men] That is, princes and potentates of the earth.

V. 10. a place] That is, in their own land allotted to them.

no more] To wit, if they will continue in obedience, Deut. 28. 8,9. Jer.18.9,10.

children of] The malicious enemies of Israel.

V.11. since the time] That is, as they have been divers times afflicted in the dayes of the Judges, when as their enemies did often oppresse them; whereas, since thy reign, I have given thee and them full victory over thine and their enemies.

make thee an house] That is, set up and establish thy kingdom in thy posterity, graciously to reward thy zealous intention to build him an house, Exod.1.21. See on 1 King.2.24.

V. 12. when thy dayes be fulfilled] 1 King.8.20.

thy seed] That is, Solomon as the type, and the Messias prefigured by him, both which he respecteth in the following promises; some of which properly belong to one, and some to the other.

V.13. He shall build] 1 King.5.5. and 6.12. 1 Chron.22.10. That is, Solomon, an earthly and temporall temple, and Christ, a spirituall and everlasting house, that is, the Church, Luke 1. 32, 33.

for ever] Which is proper and peculiar to Christs kingdom alone.

V.14. I will be his father] Heb.1.5.

my son] Solomon, by grace and adoption; Christ, by nature and eternall generation, Joh.1.18. Act.13.33. 1 Joh.4.9.

if he commit iniquity] Psal.89. 30,31,32. That is, Solomon; for Christ was without sin, Isai.53.9. 1 Cor.5.21. 1 Pet.2.22. and 1. 19.

rod of men] That is, as a father his childe, in measure, and for his good and amendment; not his destruction, Jer.30.11.

V.15. not depart] That is, I will not quite cast him out of favour, and deprive him of his kingdom, as I did Saul.

V.16. before thee] That is, I will begin to establish thy kingdom in thy own dayes, to strenthen thy faith in assurance, that it shall be accomplished in thy son Christ, 1 King.1.48.

V.17. speak] That is, make a true and faithfull relation of all that which God had commanded to speak.

V.18. David in] That is, into the tent in which he had placed the ark.

and sate] That is, remained in Gods presence meditating and praying.

brought me] That is, so highly advanced me already, being wholly unworthy of such grace and favour.

V.19. And this] To wit, which thou hast already done.

and is this] That is, to extend such favour and goodnesse of meer grace above all desert? no, it is proper to thee onely. Or thus; Do men use to deal so freely and familiarly with their mean inferiours, as thou dost with me?

manner] Hebr. law.

V.20. say more] That is, I need not use many words to expresse presse my thankfulnesse, seeing thou knowest my heart.

N. V.21. words sake] That is, thy free and gracious promise: or, thy Christs sake, who is thy eternall Word, and thy meer grace, and free good-will. See 1 Chron. 17.19.

know them] That is, to acknowledge thy benefits with all thankfulnesse.

V.22. have heard] That is, according to all which by thy word thou hast made known unto us.

V.23. what one nation in the earth is like thy people] Deut.4.7.

went to redeem] That is, came (as it were) down from heaven, to shew his power in redeeming them, Exod.3.7,8.

to make him] That is, to make his people Israel famous and renowned among all nations. See 1 Chron.17.21. or to magnifie his own glory by his great works.

the nations] That is, the Ægyptians and their idols.

V.24. for ever] That is, the naturall Israel, till the coming of Christ: but the spirituall Israel, that is, all the faithfull Jews and Gentiles, for ever 3 of which he assigneth no other cause, but Gods free election, Gen.17.7.

V.27. hast revealed] Hebr. opened the ear; That is, hast made him clearly to know. See 1 Sam.9.15.

an house] That is, continue the kingdom to thee, and to thy posterity.

in his heart] That is, hath found his heart thus disposed to call upon thee, having thy promise as the ground of his faith and prayer, Psal.116.10.

V.28. thy words be true] Joh.17.17.

V. 29. let it please thee to blesse] Hebr. be thou pleased and blesse.

hast spoken it] And therefore I firmly believe it shall come to passe.

for ever] That is, both now, and to all eternity.

CHAP. VIII.

Vers.1. And after this it came to passe] 1 Chron.18.1, &c. Here, and in the following Chapters, he rendereth a reason why God would not suffer David to build his temple, namely, because he had no leisure, being by the LORDS will employed in these wars.

Metheg-ammah] Or, the bridle of Ammah; That is, Gath, a chief city of the Philistines, as appeareth, 1 Chron. 18.1. which is here called Ammah, being situate on an hill: and a bridle, because by its strength it restrained enemies from envading it and the countrey adjacent.

V 2. measured them] That is, being victorious, he used them and their countrey at his pleasure, dividing their land by measure, and giving it to whom, and in what proportion he pleased, and razing their cities to the ground.

with two lines] That is, he divided the people which he had conquered and taken prisoners, into three parts, so equally by lots, as if they had been measured with a line; one part whereof he reserved alive; and put the two other to the sword: for though God at first appointed his people to spare them, Deut.2.9. yet becoming malicious enemies, David exerciseth upon them this hostile severity, Num.24.17. 25.17.

V.3. Hadadezer] Called also Hadarezer.

Zobah] Psal.60.2. A part of Syria, Chap.10.6.

as he] That is, David went to settle his dominion in these utmost limits of it, which God had given unto his people, Josh. 1.4. Deut.1.7. 11.24.

V.4. from him] Or, of his.

seven hundred horse-men] That is, ranks of horse-men, ten going to a rank, that is in all seven thousand, as it is expressed 1 Chron.18.4.

houghed] See Josh.11.6.

V.5. Syrians of Damascus] Which were the chiefest part of the kingdom of Syria, and Damascus the metropolis or chief city in it.

V.6. preserved] That is, prospered his attempts, and gave him victory.

V. 8. Betah and Berothai] Called also Tibhath and Chun, 1 Chron.18.8.

V.9. Toi] Called Tou, 1 Chron.18.9. See Num. 13.21.

Hamath] A city of Syria, some think Antioch.

V.10. Joram] Named also Hadoram, 1 Chron.18.10.

eighteen thousand men] Which were of the Edomites, 1 Chro. 18.12. as the verse following also implieth.

V.14. put garisons] Over which was appointed a vice-roy or deputy, 1 King.22.47.

Davids servants] And of the kings his successours, till the reign of Joram, 2 King.8.22.

V.16. over the host] That is, Generall of the army, 2 Sam.5.

recorder] Or, remembrancer, or, writer of chronicles.

V.17. Zadok the son of Ahitub] Of the posterity of Eleazar; 1 Chron.6.8. who was a chief, but not high priest, till Abiathar was deposed by Solomon, and he put in his room, 1 King. 2.26,35.

Abiathar] Of the posterity of Ithamar, 1 Chron.24.3. and son of Ahimelech, who was slain by Saul, 1 Sam.22. Some think that both the father and the son had double names, and the one and the other called both Ahimelech and Abiathar, and so promiscuously Ahimelech is said to be the father of Abiathar, 1 Sam.22.20. and Abiathar to be the father of Ahimelech, as here, and 24.6. See Mar.2.26.

scribe] Or, secretary.

V.18. And Benaiah, &c.] 1 Chron.18.17.

Cherethites and Pelethites] Which were old, expert, strong and valiant men, like the Prætorian souldiers, which David chose for his guard, and made Benaiah captain over them. See 1 Kin. 1.38.

V.13. was lame] That is, though he were lame, and therefore unfit to come to the kings table; yet David, out of his love to Jonathan, gave him this privilege.

CHAP. IX.

Vers 1. David said] That is, enquired of his servants.

V.3. the kindnesse of God] That is, great kindnesse, confirmed by covenant and oath in Gods presence, 1 Sam. 20.14,15,16.

lame on his feet] Chap.4.4.

V.4. Lo-debar] Situate in the land of Gilead beyond Jordan, in the tribe of Gad, not far from Mahanaim, Chap.17.27.

V.5. fet him] That is, caused him to be brought to him.

V.7. will restore thee] For David had now the right to dispose of them, because by the rising of the house of Saul, and warring against their lawfull king, they were confiscate.

eat bread] That is, eat and drink, and take thy diet with me at my own table, and be my daily guest.

V. 8. a dead dog] That is, one very mean and contemptible, who am wholly unworthy of so high an honour. See Chap.3.8.

V.9. Sauls servant] To wit, when he lived; but now the servant of Mephibosheth.

masters sons] That is, Mephibosheth, the nephew or grandson of Saul, who usually in the Scriptures are called sonnes, Dan.5.11.

V.10. masters son] That is, Micha the son of Mephibosheth, vers. 12.

the king] Called Nahash, 1 Chron.19.1. and v.2.

V.2. shewed kindenesse] What this kindenesse was, the Scripture mentioneth not, nor when shewed. Hierome thinketh that it was when he fled from Achish king of Gath; the which, it is like, he did out of hatred to Saul, 1 Sam.11.

his father] That is, for his fathers death.

V. 3. Thinkest thou that David] Hebr. In thine eyes doth David.

to spie] That is, to discover some advantages, that he may the more easily surprise it; and thus some politicians think, That they are then most wise, when as they are most suspitious.

V.4. buttocks] To discover their nakednesse, to their shame. So Isai,20.4. and 47.2.

V.5. at Jericho] That is, in some private houses set up in the place where Jericho stood before it was destroyed, Josh.6. 24, 26. for it was not rebuilt till the time of Ahab, 1 King. 16.34.

V.6. stank] That is, had made themselves odious and abominable, by so foul and barbarous an act, in thus disgracing his ambassadours, against the law of nations.

the Syrians] See Chap.8.5.

Beth-rehob] That is, out of that part of Syria in which the metropolis or chief city was Rehob.

Zobah] See Chap.8.3.

Maacah] King of one part of Syria, 1 Chron. 19.6. neer Gilead Trachonitis, Deut.3.14.

Ish-tob] See Judg. 11.3.

V. 8. the gate] To wit, of the city Medeba, in the border of the the Ammonites, 1 Chro. 19. 7. Others understand it of Rabbah, the chief city of the Ammonites.

by themselves] To wit, that they might inclose Joab on both sides, as v. 9.

V. 12. for our people] To wit, which have been so injuriously abused and disgraced by the Ammonites and their king.

V. 16. sent] To wit, his agents, and hired the Syrians, which inhabited beyond the river Euphrates.

Shobach] Called also Shophach, 1 Chron. 19. 16.

V. 18. of seven hundred chariots] Which had in them ten fighting men in every chariot, which make up the number of seven thousand, mentioned, 1 Chro. 19. 18. See Chap. 8. 4. or seven hundred troops of horsemen in chariots, consisting of ten in a troop.

fourtie thousand horse-men] Besides the fourty thousand footmen mentioned, 1 Chro. 19. 18. For with such huge multitudes of men, the Syrians, and others in those dayes used to go out to battell, 1 King. 20. 10. So David is said to have gathered all Israel to fight with them.

V. 19. servants] That is, who were in his pay, and fought under him in his quarrell.

made peace] Yeelding subjection, and becoming tributaries.

CHAP. XI.

Vers. 1. After the yeer was expired] Heb. at the return of the yeer; To wit, in which this battell was fought, and the winter of that yeer ended.

at the time] That is, in the spring and summer, when the earth yeelded her fruits, serving for forrage and provant, accessary to relieve an army. So 1 King. 20. 22. 2 Chron. 36. 10.

David sent Joab] 1 Chron. 20. 1.

servants] That is, his commanders and souldiers.

Rabbah] The metropolis or chief city of the Ammonites, lying on the mountains of Gilead beyond Jordan, by the head of the river Jabbok, Chap. 12. 26, 27.

V. 2. his bed] On which he had taken his afternoons rest, as to this day is usuall in those hot countreyes. So Chap. 4. v. 5, 7.

roof] Which in those countreyes were flat, made in the manner of a terrace with battlements about them, Deuter. 22. 8.

V. 3. one said] That is, one of his servants.

Is not this] That is, it is surely she. See Judg. 4. 6.

Bath-sheba] Called Bath-shua, 1 Chro. 3. 5.

Eliam] Named, Ammiel, 1 Chron. 3. 5.

Hittite] See 1 Sam. 26. 6.

V. 4. took her] That is, caused her to be brought unto him.

for she was purified from her uncleanesse, and she returned unto her house] Or, and when she had purified her self, &c. she returned, Levit. 15. 19. and 18. 19. And thereby more apt to conceive.

V. 5. told David] To wit, fearing lest being found an adultresse, she should be stoned according to the law.

V. 7. how Joab did] Heb. of the peace of, &c.

V. 8. to thy house] David thought, that if Uriah went home and lay with his wife, his fault might be cloaked.

wash thy feet] That is, as they used to do after a journey in those hot countreys; and it is as much, as if he had said, recreate and refresh thy self after thy travell.

followed him] Heb. went out after him.

a messe of meat] The which he did in shew of kindnesse, but with a purpose, That faring more daintily and plentifully, he might be the more apt to desire his wives company.

V. 10. told David] To wit, first enquiring what became of him, and how he carried himself.

why then] As if he had said, It is fit that thou shouldest take thy ease after so long a journey. For Rabbah was so far distant from Jerusalem (as some of the learned think) that it was a journey of thirty hours.

V. 11. The ark] Which it seemeth was now in the camp, that as need should be, they might ask counsell of God, which they used to do in great wars, 1 Sam. 4. 4. and 14. 18.

my lord Joab] Generall of the army.

and as thy soul] Which is not a double oath, but a more pathetical expression of the same thing; as sure it is, that I will not do it, as it is sure that thou livest, or, that I desire that thou shouldest live now and for ever. All which pious care, and carriage in Uriah, did aggravate Davids sin in practising against him.

V. 13. made him drunk] Both to make him forget his oath, and also more apt to go home to his wife, to which he could not perswade him whilest he was sober.

at even] That is, notwithstanding all Davids devices and practices, he remained constant in his resolution.

V. 14. And it came] That is, when all his former policies failed for the effecting his designe; which was to hide his sin, and adultery.

a letter] Namely, That by his help he might take away Uriahs life, by such a means as might not come to light; and so he might have his wife.

V. 15. hottest] Heb. strong.

from him] Heb. from after him.

V. 16. observed the city] To finde out where the stoutest souldiers manned the walls.

V. 21. Abimelech] Judges 9. 53.

Jerubbesheth] That is, Gideon called Jerubbaal, Judg. 7. 1. For the Hebrews in detestation of idols, did expunge the word Baal out of their names, and put in place of it, Bosheth, or Besheth, signifying an infamous thing, as the idoll was, Hos. 9. 10. See and compare, 1 Chron. 8. 33. with 1 King. 2. 8. 1 Chron. 8. 34. with 2 Sam. 4. 4.

V. 23. the men] That is, of Rabbah that was besieged.

came out] That is, sallied out upon us.

and we were] Forced them to retire, pursuing them to the very gate; and so in heat of war came too neer the wall, and lost some of our men.

V. 25. Thus shalt thou] He dissembleth with the messenger, to the end, That neither his cruell commandment, nor Joabs wicked obedience might be discovered.

displease thee] Heb. be evil in thine eyes.

the sword] That is, the event of war is various; and sometimes these, and sometimes those are slain.

one as well as another] Heb. so and such.

encourage thou] That is, as my messenger encourage and comfort Joab from me.

V. 26. husband] Heb. her man. So Gen. 20. 3.

V. 27. the mourning] Which as Josephus writeth, lasted the space of seven dayes, 1 Sam. 31. 13. Eccluss. 22. 12.

but the thing] That is, Davids whole carriage in this businesse of Uriah.

displeased] Heb. was evill in the eyes of.

CHAP. XII.

Vers. 1. There were] The scope of this parable was to awaken David out of his deep sleep of security and sin, by causing him unknowingly to passe an unpartiall sentence against himself, in the person of another; that so he might be brought to unfeigned repentance.

V. 3. own meat] Heb. morsell; That is, though he had little, and as it were but a bit; yet he gave his lamb part of it.

was unto him] That is, he dearly and tenderly loved it, as if it had been his childe.

V. 5. shall surely die] Heb. is the son of death, or, is worthy to die; That is, deserveth to die. So Ephes. 2. 3.

V. 6. fourfold] According to the law, Exod. 22. 1. And this penalty was inflicted on David, who for slaying Uriah, lost four sons, the young infant, Amnon, Absalon, and Adonijah; and for his defiling Uriahs wife, had his own concubines defiled by Absalon.

V. 7. the man] That is, who hath committed this sin, and on whom thou hast passed this sentence of death.

anointed thee king over Israel] 1 Sam. 16. 13.

V. 8. thy masters house] That is, the kingdom of Saul, who was thy lord and master.

thy masters wives] Not to marry with them (for that had been incest, Levit. 18. 15. having married Michal his daughter; neither do we read, that David ever took any of them to be his wives) but to be in his power, and at his disposing in any lawfull way, being their king. Others understand it not of wives married to Saul, but of other women, widdows, and maids, in Sauls court and kingdom; neither doth God herein approve of polygamy, for it was not a gift of allowance, but of providence, tolerating for a time this plurality of wives. Though we may here by wives, understand those things which were most neer and deer to Saul his master.

I would] That is, I was able, and would have been willing to have satisfied thy hearts desire, by giving unto thee in a lawfull way, and by lawfull means, more and greater things then all these, Psal. 37. 4.

V. 9. the commandment] That is, by transgressing the second table of the law; the sum whereof is, That we should love our neighbour as our selves, give every one his own, and do to others, as we would have them to do unto us.

thou hast killed] For David was the chief contriver of his death, who betrayed him into the hands of his enemies; Joab an accessary; and the Ammonites but onely, and that unknowingly, their instruments.

V. 10. shall never] That is, for a long time, or all thy life time. See 1 Sam. 1. 22. Deut. 15. 17.

despised me] To wit, by thy wilfull violating of my law.

V. 11. I will raise] That is, for these thy sins I will afflict thee with many evils, by means of thy own children, giving them over to commit rapes, murthers, and unnaturall rebellions.

V. 25. he sent] Or, had sent by the hand, &c. That is, the LORD used Nathan as his messenger.

Jedidiah] That is, Beloved of the Lord: That he might be a type of Christ, Gods best Beloved, and the King of Peace, 1 Chron. 22. 9, 10. Matth. 3. 17. Isai. 9. 6.

because of the Lord] Or, for the LORD Christ, Gods best Beloved, in whom alone Solomon was beloved of God, Mat. 3. 17. Or, as others, because the Lord had testified his love towards him.

V. 26. royall city] That is, that part of Rabbah in which the royall palace stood, environed with waters, both for safety and delight.

V. 27. city of waters] Encompassed with the river Jabbok, which did flow and run about it.

V. 28. and take it] That is, that thou mayest have the honour of taking it, and not I, seeing the conquerour usually hath the glory of his conquest.

it be called after my name] Hebr. my name be called upon it.

V. 30. And he took their kings crown from off his head] 1 Chron. 20. 2.

a talent] That is, threescore pound, after the weight of the common talent; which, in respect of the great weight, was not worn by their king, or David (as some think) but hanged or held over their head, as an ensigne of state and royalty. See on 1 Chron. 22. 14.

in great] Hebr. very great.

V. 31. the people] That is, so many of them as he thought fit to be made exemplary in these severe punishments.

the brick-kiln] Some think that this was the furnace of Molech, or Milchom the idoll of the Ammonites, where they had made their children to passe thorow the fire, 2 King. 16. 3. and 23. 10. Lev. 18. 21. And if so; then was it a fit and sutable punishment for such abominable wickednesse. Others say, That David inflicted these severe punishments upon them, because they had, against the law of nations, so shamefully abused his ambassadours sent in love to them; because also they were such horrible idolaters, and most bitter and spightfull enemies to Gods people, and had put many of them unto the like cruell deaths when they came into their hands, Amos 1. 3, 13. Hebr. 11. 37.

CHAP. XIII.

Vers. 1. A fair sister] Both of them born of Maacha the daughter of Talmai king of Geshur, Chap. 3. 3.

son of David] And of Ahinoam, the Jezreelitesse, Chap. 3. 2.

Amnon thought it hard] Heb. it was marvellous, or hidden in the eyes of Amnon; To wit, to obtain his desire of her, by reason she was so diligently attended and observed, being a virgin and the kings daughter.

V. 3. Shimeah] Called also Shammah, 1 Sam. 16. 9.

V. 4. being the kings son] And thereby hast power and means to have any thing at thine own pleasure.

lean, Heb. thinne] from day to day, Hebr. morning by morning. That is, dost daily pine and languish more and more.

V. 5. my sister Tamar] He bids him call her sister, to avoid the rather all jealousie and suspition of so foul a fact to be intended by him.

V. 6. cakes] Some hearty cordiall thing, or pleasing dish, fit for one in my languishing condition.

V. 8. flour] Or, paste.

V. 9. poured them] To wit, out of the baking or frying-pan into a dish.

V. 12. force me] Hebr. humble me.

no such thing ought to be done] Hebr. it ought not so to be done.

in Israel] That is, which being Gods holy people, abhorre such abominable wickednesse, Levit. 18. 6, 9, 11. See Gen. 34. 7.

V. 13. whither] That is, which way shall I clear my self of this dishonour and reproach.

fools] That is, notoriously infamous, and branded with folly and wickednesse.

speak] This she saith to allay the rage of his lust for the present, and to escape his violence, knowing, That if this brunt were past, the king would take order to keep her from him, such a match being incestuous, Levit. 18. 6, 9, 11.

V. 15. exceedingly] Heb. with great hatred greatly.

V. 16. is greater then the other] Seeing that, being done in secret, might be concealed; whereas if you, by thrusting me out, put me to open shame, Gods Name will be blasphemed amongst his enemies, when they hear of so foul a fact committed among his people; his people scandalized, our father grieved, both you and I shamefully dishonoured, and my brother Absalom enraged and incited to take revenge.

V. 18. divers colours] That is, of wrought or embroidered work. So Gen. 37. 3. Judg. 5. 30.

V. 19. ashes] As they used to expresse bitter mourning, and great grief.

her hand] To expresse her sorrow and shame, Jer. 2. 37.

and went] To wit, to bemoan her misery to her brother Absalom, v. 20.

crying] Proclaiming her wrong, that it might appear she had been forced, and not willingly yeelded to his lust.

V. 20. been with thee] That is, abused thee.

he is my brother] And therefore this foul fact of his were best to be concealed, seeing the publishing of it would redound both to the dishonour of the king, and the disgrace and shame of our whole family.

regard not] Hebr. set not thine heart: That is, take it not too much to heart, to be thereby swallowed up of grief; seeing a fit time may come of revenging thy wrongs.

desolate] Heb. and desolate.

V. 22. neither good] To wit, concerning this abuse offered to his sister, lest he should suspect that he intended revenge; and so should prevent it.

V. 23. Baal-hazor] Or, the plain of Hazor, situate on the borders of Ephraim and Benjamin, Josh. 15. 25.

invited] To wit, to a feast, as the manner was in those times. See 1 Sam. 25. 36.

V. 24. the king] He invites the king, to avoid all suspition and jealousie of any ill intention against Amnon.

V. 25. blessed] That is, gave him thanks. So Chap. 14. 22.

V. 28. have not I commanded you?] Or, will you not, since I have commanded you? That is, Is not my command warrant sufficient to bear you out and excuse you?

valiant] Heb. sons of valour.

V. 29. gat him] Heb. rode.

V. 30. in the way] That is, posting towards the court.

V. 31. tare his garments] See Chap. 1. 11. and 12. 16.

lay on] As one dejected with grief, apprehending Gods wrath upon his house, Chap. 12. 10.

V. 32. answered] Heb. See Judg. 14. 18.

appointment] Heb. mouth.

determined] Or, setled.

V. 34. and looked] And having discovered the people approaching, brought word of it to David.

by the way] Which did lie between Baal-hazor and Jerusalem.

V. 35. as thy servant said, so it is] Heb. according to the word of thy servant; To wit, that all the kings sons are alive, and onely Amnon is dead.

V.36. very sore] Hebr. with a great weeping greatly.

V.37. Talmai] Who was his mothers father. See Chap.3.3.

Ammihud] Or, Amnihur.

every day] To wit, for the space of three yeers, v.38.

V.39. longed] Or, was consumed. See Psal.84.2. and 119.81. Job 19.27.

to go forth] That is, so much desired to have him come back, that he could willingly have gone for him himself, or met him in the way. Others, That he could have found in his heart to send out some to fetch him home.

comforted] That is, had ceased his mourning for Amnons death.

seeing] And his mourning could not fetch him again, Chap. 12.23.

CHAP. XIIII.

Vers.1. Toward Absalom] That is, longed to have him fetched home.

V.2. Tekoah] A city neer Jerusalem, situate on an hill on the north borders of Judah, 2 Chron.11.6.

anoint not] In token of mourning; for they used anointing to seem chearfull.

V. 3. the words] To wit, which he would have her speak to the king, Exod.4.13.

V.4. Help] Hebr. Save.

V.6. there was none] And consequently, no witnesses to prove the fact, as the law requireth.

none to part them] Hebr. no deliverer between them.

and slew him] As the avengers say, but cannot prove.

V.7. the whole family] That is, the kinred, who are appointed by the law to be avengers of blood, are risen to prosecute justice against the offender, Num.35.19. Deut.19.12.

my cole] That is, kill my onely remaining son, by whom my husbands name and family may be continued and preserved, even as a fire almost ready to go out, may yet be again revived and kindled by a cole hid in the ashes, being kept alive and blowed upon, Deut.25.6. Ruth 4.5,10.

upon the earth] Hebr. upon the face of the earth.

V.8. give charge] To wit, that thy cause may be examined, and thy son may be preserved, if that thou sayest appear to be true.

V.9. the iniquity] That is, I am so well perswaded of my sons innocency, that if there be any fault, I take it wholly upon my self and mine, that the king and his kingdom may not lie under the guilt of blood for preserving my son that is alive: or if any iniquity be in that which the king shall grant at my request, let the guilt be upon me and mine, Matth.27.25.

V.10. touch thee] That is, not put thee to any more trouble.

V.11. remember] That is, how the LORD by his law hath provided, That they who have slain a man at unawares, should be preserved from the avengers of blood, Num.35.12. And seeing there were many that sought her sons life, the king would take order that he might be preserved against the prosecutions of them all. Some take it, That in these words she presseth him to swear that he will make good his promise.

that thou wilt not suffer the avengers of blood to destroy] Hebr. that the revenger of blood do not multiply to destroy.

As the Lord] See 1 Sam.14.45.

not one hair] That is, I will take order that thy son shall not be hurt in the least degree or manner. So Act.27.34.

V.13. thought such a thing] Namely, to do such a thing as in any particular case thou hast judged unfit and unjust.

the people] To wit, who long for Absaloms return, as being next heir to the kingdom.

faulty] In giving such a sentence for my sons safety, which himself will not execute in his own case; though herein she flattereth the king, in that the case was far unlike, seeing Absalom did not kill Amnon at unawares, but wilfully and treacherously.

V. 14. we must needs die] We take his absence so much to heart, that we can no longer subsist without him, seeing we shall all be desperately lost, if such an hopefull successour be cut off: Besides, in that God hath preserved him all this time of his banishment, and now useth means to thee to perswade his restoring, it is a signe that his will is that he should succeed thee. Or, all must die first or last, and cannot be recovered, and therefore in vain to take one away for him that cannot be brought back, Chap.12.23.

neither doth God respect any person, yet doth he devise means that his banished be not expelled from him] Or, because God hath not taken away his life, he hath also devised means, &c.

V.15. me afraid] To wit, that thou wilt ever continue his banishment, or that of themselves they will rise against thee, and bring him back against thy will: or because of the danger unto which the people are exposed, if they may not have him restored, who is right heir to the kingdom.

V. 16. of God] And consequently will, out of common equity, do the like favour for his own son, who is so dear to all the people, which is the inheritance of God.

V.17. said] That is, thought with her self.

The word] That is, I shall receive such an answer from the king, as shall be comfortable both to my self, Absalom, and all the people.

comfortable] Hebr. for rest.

an angel] That is, laying by all humane affections and perturbations, he will judge uprightly in one case as well as another.

to discern] Hebr. to hear.

V. 19. Is not the hand] That is, hast thou not spoken and done all in this businesse, by Joabs counsell and direction?

none can] That is, thou hast judged so right, that none can decline from that which thou hast spoken, without speaking an untruth.

V.20. To fetch] That is, to use this parabollicall form of speech, propounding the matter in my own case, that thou mightest the more unpartially judge of it, being applied to thy self.

wise] That is, of a deep reach, to dive into the secrets of all our counsells, as far excelling others in wisedom, as angels excell men.

V.21. I have done] That is, I have granted thy suit, which by the woman of Tekoah thou hast moved me in.

V.22. thanked the king] Hebr. blessed, wishing unto him all happinesse.

his] Hebr. thy.

V.23. Joab arose] Hebr. That is, he addressed himself to go with all speed.

Geshur] See Chap.3.3.

V.24. not see my face] That is, not be admitted into my presence: and this he did, partly to bring him to the sight and sense of his sin, and partly to avoid the scandall of easie remitting so foul a fact, and to deter others from doing the like.

V.25. But in all Israel there was none to be so much praised as Absalom, for his beauty] Hebr. And as Absalom there was not a beautifull man in all Israel to praise greatly.

V.26. shekels] To wit, common and civill shekels, which weighed a quarter of an ounce, or two drachms, that is, fifteen pence apiece of our coin

V.28. saw not] See vers. 24.

V. 29. to have sent him] Namely, to mediate in his behalf, that he might be admitted into his grace and favour.

would not come] Fearing (as may be thought) that the king might suspect some secret counsells and practices between them.

V.30. neer mine] Hebr. neer my place.

V.31. arose] See vers. 23.

V.32. answered] Hebr. that is, said unto Joab.

had been good] Or, it was better with me while I was yet there.

there still] To wit, rather then to live here out of the kings favour, and thereby to be dishonoured among the people.

any iniquity] That is, if I have offended by revenging my sisters dishonour. Thus wicked men justifie themselves in their evil actions, especially when they presume upon the favour of their judge.

V.33. told him] That is, related unto him Absaloms speeches.

kissed Absalom] To give him assurance of full reconciliation, Luk.15.20.

CHAP. XV.

of the tribes] That is, of this or that city, situated in such or such a tribe.

V.3. there is no man deputed of the king to hear thee] Or, none will hear thee from the king downward: That is, to examine thy cause, and to do thee justice: which was a base slander, as appeareth, Chap.8.15.

V.4. Oh that] So Gaal, Judg.9.29.

V.5. any man] That is, without respect of persons, poor or rich, to shew that he onely respected justice and the common good.

V.6. stole] To wit, from David his father (whose they were by right and duty) unto himself, to whom they belonged not.

V.7. after fourty yeers] It is uncertain from what time these fourty yeers are to be reckoned: Some would have it, from the beginning of Sauls reign, when the monarchie in Israel begun; Some, from the beginning of Davids reign, Chap.5.5. But the most probable opinion is, That they are to be computed from the time that David was first anointed king, 1 Sam.16.

pay my vow, which] Or, pay my vow in Hebron, which, &c.

V. 8. Geshur] Where he had lived as an exile three yeers.

serve the Lord] By offering a peace-offering or sacrifice of thanksgiving, which was lawfull to do in any place.

V.10. sent

2 Sam. 16. 5 — The only unjust Act that ever David had done against the house of Saul, he had but newly done, that was, giving away Mephibosheth's Land: and here, a man of the house of Benjamin is soon upon him.

V. 33. a burden] Altogether unprofitable and troublesome.

V. 35. hast thou not] That is, they are surely there. See Judg. 4. 6. and they will be ready to assist thee with their counsell, and all their endeavours.

V. 36. they have there] To wit, as David thought, who sent them away to the city together, not knowing that by their fathers command they stayed at En-rogel, Chap. 17. 17.

CHAP. XVI.

Vers. 1. The hill] That is, the mount of Olives, Ch. 15. 30.

V. 3. masters son?] Mephibosheth the son of Jonathan.

for he said] This was a shameleſſe and improbable slander, both because of this poor cripples unfitnesse, and because all the peoples hearts were set upon Absalom; and yet David out of a kingly jealousie, doth over credulously beleeve it, and passeth a rash censure upon it, without further enquiry.

my father] That is, my grandfather Saul.

V. 4. I humbly] Heb. I do obeisance.

finde grace] As if he should say, I do not so much desire to be inriched with my masters goods, as to deserve the continuance of thy favour.

his city] Giloh, Chap.15.12.

put his household in order] Heb. gave charge concerning his house.

in order] That is, disposed and setled his estate, and the affairs of his family, 2 King.20.1.

hanged] As despairing of Absaloms good successe; disdaining that Hushai's counsell was preferred before his, and expecting nothing but extremity, if David prevailed.

V.24. Mahanaim] See Chap.2.8.

V.25. Ithra] Called Jether, 1 Chron.2.17.

an Israelite] That is, a proselyte, and so an Israelite in respect of religion, profession and life; but by nation and birth an Ishmaelite, 1 Chron.2.17. Others think that he was an Israelite by birth, but called an Ishmaelite, because he had dwelled among them.

went in] That is, companied with her.

Abigail] Davids sister, as also Zeruiah.

Nahash] Whom some think to have been the wife of Jesse Davids father, and others Jesse himself, called here by another name.

V.26. of Gilead] In which also Mahanaim was situate, either to environ David, or to provoke him to battell.

V.27. Shobi] Who was, as some think, brother to Hanun, whom David deposed or killed, and made this Shobi king in his stead; who, in token of thankfulnesse, sheweth this kindnesse to David in supplying his wants, Chap.10.1. and 12.30,31.

Machir] With whom Mephibosheth dwelt, before he was called to the court, Chap.9.4.

Lo-debar] See Chap.9.4.

Barzillai] Of whom, see Chap.19,31. 1 King.2.7.

V.28. basins] Or, cups. That is, all manner of furniture and household-stuff fit for Davids present use.

V.29. they said] They thought with themselves that Davids company wanted these necessaries, by reason of their sudden flight from Jerusalem, and hastie passage thorow the desert.

CHAP. XVIII.

Vers.2. ITtai] See Chap.15.19.

V.3. care for us] Heb. set their hearts on us.

worth ten thousand of us] Heb. as ten thousand of us; As being our king and chief Generall, protectour and directour of the whole army and kingdom, at whose ruine the enemies principally aim. See Chap.17.2,3.

succour us] Heb. be to succour; By commanding men, munition and victualls to be sent to the army, as their occasion shall require.

city] To wit, Mahanaim.

V.6. against Israel] That is, Absalom and his army.

wood of Rephaim] Lying on the east side of Jordan in Gilead, in the tribe of Gad, not far from Mahanaim; but called Ephraims wood, from that great defeat given to this tribe there, by Jephthah, Judg. 12.5,6. though it was no part of the land belonging to Ephraim. Some think that it was so called, because there the Ephraimites fed their cattell, which they did drive over Jordan.

V.8. wood devoured more] Hebr. multiplied to devour. Being disordered and routed with the bushes and trees, they were easily slain by their enemies pursuing them; and also falling in their hastie flight into marishes, pits and ditches; they perished in them, v. 17.

V.9. his head] That is, the long hair of his head patted and plaited (it may be) into locks (like Samsons, Judg.16.13.) and winding about the thick boughs, God making his pride the means of his ruine: or his head striking into, and so held in the boughs of an oak.

V.10. told Joab] Not daring to hurt him himself, because of the kings command, v.12.

V.11. ten shekels] See Chap.14.26.

a girdle] That is, a military belt to be worn by him as an honourable ensigne and reward of his valour.

V.12. receive] Hebr. weigh upon mine hand.

Beware that none touch the young man Absalom] Heb. Beware whosoever ye be of, &c.

touch] Namely, to do him any harm.

V.13. falshood] That is, I should have betrayed my life to the kings revenge; or if I had made a lie to save my life.

thou thy self] That is, thou wouldest have been so far from standing for me, that thou wouldest have been one of the first to hasten my ruine.

V.14. not tarry] That is, not spend in idle talk, and so lose this opportunity of ending the war by Absaloms death.

with thee] Heb. before thee.

the heart] That is, the middle of the body neer the heart, for there was some life still in him after these wounds received, v.15.

midst] Hebr. heart.

V.16. the trumpet] As pitying the people seduced by Absaloms flattery.

V.17. heap of stones] As they used to burie those that died ignominiously. See Josh.7.26.

V.18. a pillar] A pyramis, for a monument and remembrance of him after his death; the which is here inserted, to shew how God crossed his ambition, by causing him, dying in his treason and rebellion, to be ignominiously buried.

the kings dale] A place neer Jerusalem, Gen.14.17. called also the valley Cedron, or of Jehosaphat, lying between Jerusalem and the mount of Olives.

no son] Whereby it appeareth, that his children mentioned Chap.14.27. were now all dead.

V.19. avenged him of his enemies] Hebr. judged him from the hand, &c.

V.20. bear tidings] Hebr. be a man of tidings.

is dead] And therefore the tidings will not be well accepted.

V.22. howsoever] Hebr. be what may; that is, come on it what will.

no tidings] To wit, that will be pleasing to the king; and besides all that, Cushi that is gone before thee, will relate it before thy coming.

ready] Or, convenient.

V.23. plain] That is, the champion countrey, which was more easie and compendious.

V.24. two gates] To wit, of the city Mahanaim, which, for more strength, used to be double, and an entry between them, where he sate waiting for the news. So 1 Sam.4.13.

roof] That is, the turret appointed for the watch-man.

V.26. be alone] For they that are beaten in battell flee by troups, whereas the victors dispatch some one or two to carry newes, being otherwise busied in taking the spoil and pursuing their victory.

V.27. Methinketh the running] Hebr. I see the running.

a good man] That is, who useth to bring me good news.

V.28. All is well] Or, Peace be to thee. Hebr. Peace.

delivered up] Hebr. shut up; To wit, to be slain by the kings servants. So 1 Sam.24.19. 26.8.

V.29. Is the young man Absalom safe?] Hebr. Is there peace? the kings servant] That is, Cushi.

I knew not] He conceals Absaloms death, because he thought that it would be unwelcome news to David, and much grieve him, and therefore leaves it to be told by Cushi.

V.31. Tidings] Hebr. Tidings is brought.

V.32. young man is] That is, overthrown and dead.

V.33. much moved] Considering both Gods judgement against himself for his sinne, the death of his dear Absalom, and also having just cause to fear his everlasting perdition, dying in his sinne, which he would willingly have prevented and redeemed, by dying for him a temporall death.

CHAP. XIX.

Vers.2. Victory] Heb. salvation, or deliverance; That is, the joy that should have been for the victory.

V.3. by stealth] To wit, that they might not be seen of the king.

V.4. covered his face] To wit, after the manner of close mourners, Chap.15.30.

V.5. hast shamed] To wit, in not accepting of their faithfull service with the danger of their lives; and frustrating their hopes of praise and reward, which they expected from thee.

V.6. In that thou lovest, &c.] Hebr. by loving, &c.

that thou regardest neither princes nor servants] Heb. that princes or servants are not to thee.

had pleased] This reproof was too harsh and sharp for a king from his subject, especially dejected with bitter grief: and false also, for David desired the life and welfare of all his friends, but of Absalom also with the rest.

V.7. arise] That is, shake off thy sorrow, and put off thy mourning.

comfortably to thy servants] Hebr. to the heart of thy servants.

V.8. the gate] That is, the ordinary place of publike assemblies and judicature.

all the people] To wit, of Davids party.

for Israel] To wit, who were of Absaloms party, and were all that had escaped, departed to their own houses.

V.9. at strife] To wit, laying the fault of the rebellion one upon another, and now blaming their own slackness to make him some amends, in hasting his return with honour to his own home at Jerusalem.

V.10. speak ye not a word] Hebr. are ye silent.

V.11. the speech] To wit, expressing their resolution of coming to fetch him back to his house from Mahanaim.

V.13. Amasa] Generall of Absaloms army, Chap.17.25. and son of Abigail Davids sister, 1 Chron.2.16,17.

my bone] See Chap.5.1.

God do so] See Ruth 1.17.

before me] That is, as long as I and thou live.

of Joab] Whom he deposed for killing Absalom, contrary to his expresse command; for murthering Abner, Chap.3.39. and because, through his harshnesse and imperiousnesse, he was become vexatious to himself, v.5,6.

V.14. he bowed] That is, David, by this message sent by the priests, enclined with unanimous consent their hearts towards him. Some refer this to Amasa.

V.16. Shimei the son of Gera] 1 King.2.8.

Bahurim] See Chap.16.5.

V.17. Ziba] Chap.16.1. Fearing that now his unfaithfulnesse towards his master would be discovered, sheweth his officiousnesse towards David, to gain his favour.

before the king] That is, they got over before the kings coming, that they might wait upon him when he arrived.

V.18. And there went] To wit, after the king was passed over.

houshold] That is, his wives, children and servants.

what he thought good] Heb. the good in his eyes.

V.19. impute iniquity] Namely, to punish me according to my demerits.

that which thy servant did perversly the day that my lord the king went out of Jerusalem] Chap.16.5.

V.20. come the first] That is, out of an earnest desire to regain thy favour, I have with my diligence prevented others farre neerer to this place then I, to wait upon thee, and to finde grace in thy sight.

Joseph] That is, of all the tribes of Israel, Judah excepted: but he nameth Joseph, because all the rights and priviledges of the primogeniture and birth-right were by Jacobs blessing divided between the posterity of Judah and Joseph, Gen. 49. and Ephraim among the ten tribes had still the pre-eminence.

V. 22. to do with you] That is, that I should be hindered by you from shewing mercy to whom, and when I please.

adversaries] That is, to hinder me in that which is good, and tempt me unto evil, to wit, unseasonable revenge.

that I am] That is, I am as newly created king, my lost kingdom being restored; and therefore it is unfit to interrupt and damp the publike joy with any severe punishment. So Saul, 1 Sam.11.13.

V.23. Thou shalt not die] That is, neither at this time, nor during my reign; though his offence was so haynous and scandalous, that he did not think it just that it should be wholly remitted, but that his successour should call him to account for it, 1 King.2.8,9,36.

V.24. son] That is, the nephew or grand-son of Saul.

dressed] That is, washed; by which neglect both of his person, and habite, he testified his mourning and grief for Davids exile and trouble.

V.25. to Jerusalem] Wanting (as it seemeth) opportunity of coming sooner to him, through Ziba's treachery. Or thus; when he was come from Jerusalem to meet, &c.

V.26. servant said] That is, I made known my purpose to Ziba, and commanded him to make ready my asse; and he neglected and disappointed me.

to the king] Or, with the king.

V.27. he hath slandered thy servant unto my lord the king] Chap. 16.3.

As an angel] That is, of excellent wisdom to discern between truth and falsehood, good and evill, Chap.14.20.

do therefore] That is, if thou deest judge me faulty, punish me how thou pleasest, for thou mayest justly do it, seeing all my fathers house deserved to be punished with losse of goods and life, by rising against thee our lawfull king, and siding with Ish-bosheth.

V.28. dead men] Heb. men of death.

to cry] That is, to make further complaints of my servants ill dealing with me, and losing both my honour and lands.

V.29. Why speakest] As if he had said, There needs no more words, seeing I accept thy excuse.

I have said] That is, I have adjudged and fully determined the matter, and will not alter my sentence of dividing the lands between you. And thus this just king, now blinded with Ziba's lies, sycophancy, flattery, and bribes, and with a kingly jealously of his crown and kingdom, judgeth unjustly, and rewardeth a perfidious villain, who for his treachery deserved severe punishment. Some think that he doth here but recall his former sentence, Chap.16.4. and ratificth his first order, Chap. 9.10. But he doth not speak of dividing the fruits for tillage, but of the land it self, and Mephibosheth his answer implyeth so much, Let him take all, that is, both land and fruits.

V.30. forasmuch] That is, seeing it goeth well with the king and state, this joyeth me so much, that I can easily dispence with my own private losse.

V.31. Rogelim] A city beyond Jordan, where he dwelled.

V.32. he had provided the king of sustenance while he lay at Mahanaim] Chap.17.27.

great man] In power and riches.

V.34. How long have I to live] Heb. How many dayes are the yeers of my life? That is, I cannot in respect of my great age live long, and therefore have no reason to change my habitation and course of life, for so little a time, especially being unfit by reason of age, to enjoy the pleasures of the court.

V.35. fourscore yeers old] And therefore high time it is, to prepare for death, rather then delight and solace; and yet if I would, I am not in this age capable of it.

good and evil?] To wit, in meats, drinks, and other delights.

a burthen] To wit, being unable to do thee any service in this decrepit age.

V.36. recompense it] That is, my poor kindnesse in supplying thy late wants, with so rich a reward, whereas all I did was but my duty.

V.37. Chimham] That is, one of my sons, 1 King.2.7. of him, see Jerem.41.17.

V.38. over] To wit, to the other side of Jordan, and so to the court.

require] Heb. choose.

V.39. blessed him] That is, giving him thanks, wished unto him all peace and prosperity. So Chap. 14.22.

V.40. half the people] That is, either those that had not rebelled, or had reconciled themselves to the king, or so many of them, as in that great haste could make themselves ready to go out to meet him.

V.41. stolen thee] That is, have fetched thee homewards unawares to us, and not expecting our company, thereby appropriating to themselves all the glory of the action.

the king] They change their speech from the second person to the third, which is usuall in the Hebrew phrase, when the inferiour speaketh to the superiour, that he may exalt him, and abase himself.

V.42. of kin] That is, of our tribe, and dwelleth amongst us.

have we eaten] That is, have we done him this service for our own advantage, and not rather in the former respects?

V.43. ten parts] As if they had said, If David be considered as a private man, you have more interest in him; but consider him as a king over the whole land, and then we have a greater share in him then you; being ten tribes for one, and so far the greatest part of his kingdom.

despise us] Heb. set us at light.

CHAP. XX.

Vers.1. There] That is, where the ten tribes contended with Judah.

of Belial] See Judg. 19.22.

a trumpet] To assemble the Israelites who were discontented, Chap. 19.41,43. and to stir them up to rebellion.

We have no part] A form of speech used by the Hebrews, whereby they professed, That they would have no commerce with with those that had displeased them. So 1 King. 12. 16. Act. 8. 21. As if they had said, Judah challengeth the whole interest in the king, and therefore let them wholly have him.

to his tents] That is, shift for himself, and stand upon his own guard.

V. 2. went up] That is, forsook David and followed Sheba.

V. 3. concubines] Chap. 16. 22.

ward] Heb. a house of ward.

went not] That is, did not company with them as his wives, because his son had defiled them.

shut] Heb. bound.

living in widowhood] Heb. in widowhood of life.

V. 4. Amasa] Whom he had made generall of his army in Joabs place, Chap. 19. 13.

Assemble] Heb. Call.

V. 6. Abishai] Joabs brother, being unwilling to use Joab, lest he might take occasion hereby to presse into the place from which he had deposed him.

thy lords] That is, either them that had been under Joabs command, or Davids souldiers.

escape us] Heb. deliver himself from our eyes.

V. 7. Cherethites] See Chap. 8. 18.

V. 8. garment] That is, souldiers coat or cassock.

it fell out] He purposely put it into a wide scabbard, that upon the moving or bending of his body, it might fall out; that falling, he might without Amasa's suspecting any thing, stoop to take it up, and in his rising, might wound Amasa, whilest he imbraced and took him by the beard to kisse and salute him.

V. 9. my brother] Heb. That is, my dear kinsman; for they were sisters sons, 1 Chro. 2. 16, 17.

to kisse] As their manner was in saluting. See Genesis 29. 11.

V. 10. smote him] That is, stabbed him in the body under the fift rib. See Chap. 2. 23.

strook him not again] Heb. doubled not his stroke, Because he made sure to kill him with the first blow. See 1 Sam. 26. 8.

V. 11. favoureth Joab] That is, to restore him to his place of Generall, Amasa being dead.

the man] That is, Joabs friend and follower, mentioned in the former verse.

V. 12. wallowed] To wit, in the panges of death.

V. 14. all the tribes] That is, between Jerusalem and Abel, to wit, Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar, Zebulon, and Naphthali.

Abel] Situate in the tribe of Naphthali in the north border of Canaan towards Syria, where were valleys called Maachah; From whence it is surnamed Abel-Beth-Maachah here, and 2 King. 15. 29. And Abel-Maim, 2 Chro. 16. 4. to distinguish it from another city of this name.

Berites] That is, the inhabitants of the land and city of Beeroth, in the tribe of Benjamin, neer Abel, Josh. 18. 25.

and they] That is, the Israelites, which were the inhabitants of the fore-mentioned places, followed also Joab.

V. 15. besieged him] That is, Sheba the rebell.

a bank] To wit, that from, or upon it, they might fight with, and beat off those that defended the city wall.

it stood in the trench] Or, it stood against the outmost wall.

battered the wall] Heb. marred to throw down. To wit, with engins, and as the word implyeth, undermined the wall.

V. 16. the city] That is, from the city wall.

V. 18. They were wont to speak in old time, saying, They shall surely ask counsell at Abel: and so they ended the matter] Or, They plainly spake in the beginning, saying, Surely they will ask of Abel, and so make an end. It seemeth, that the inhabitants of this city were in former times reputed very just and prudent; and therefore, in weighty affairs were resorted unto for counsell; Whence it grew into a proverb, That they that needed advice should ask at Abel; And when they had heard it, they so rested in it, That the controversie was ended and determined, and all was well and peaceably concluded. Which course, if Joab had taken before the siege, he might have saved that labour, and that city been preserved from danger. Others think, that she putteth him in minde of the old law, which commandeth that before they besieged a city, they should summon it, and offer unto it, conditions of peace; to which, if the citizens yeelded, there should be a cessation of arms, Deut. 20. 10, 11. Which if Joab had done, sending by his messengers such conditions of peace to Abel, before he laid siege to it; they had yeelded to them, and so the war had ceased.

V. 19. a mother] She speaketh this in the name of the city, that it was a mother, or head city, having other towns and villages under it, which had been peaceable, and loyall to the king.

the inheritance] That is, a city in Israel which the LORD accepteth and loveth, as his inheritance.

V. 21. mount Ephraim] That is, dwelling upon the confines of Ephraim; for properly the Beerothites, of which Sheba was, were of the Benjamites. See vers. 1. Chap. 4. 2. Josh. 28. 25.

by name] Heb. by his name.

V. 22. in her wisdom] That is, perswaded the citizens with her wise reasons, to give Sheba's head to Joab, as she had promised.

retired] Heb. were scattered.

V. 23. Joab was over all the host of Israel] Chap. 8. 16. That is, was restored to his generallship after the death of Amasa, because another could not be substituted without danger of commotions. See Chap. 3. 39.

and Benaiah] These officers named, 2 Sam. 8. 16. are here the second time repeated, because upon Davids restoring to the kingdom, there might happen many other great alterations, but these remained still the same.

V. 24. recorder] Or, remembrancer.

V. 25. Sheva] That is, the same (as some think) who is called Seraiah, Chap. 8. 17.

V. 26. Jairite] Of the countrey of Jair in Gilead, Num. 32. 41. Judg. 10. 4.

a chief ruler] Or, a prince.

CHAP. XXI.

Vers. 1. And David] To wit, in the fourth yeer, enquired, that is, by the priest, with the brestplate, and Urim and Thummim, what was the cause of Gods wrath in sending this dearth, that he might use means to appease it, Numb. 27. 21.

enquired of the Lord] Heb. sought the face, &c.

because he slew] To wit, contrary to covenant confirmed by an oath, Josh. 9. 7, 15, 18. The which, his sin is imputed to his house, and all the people; because they approved his bloody fact, and did not seek to hinder, or dissuade him from it.

V. 2. of the remnant of the Amorites] Josh. 9. 3, 16, 17. So called improperly and figuratively, for they were of the Hivites, Josh. 9. 7. But these nations were generally named Amorites. So Gen. 15. 16. as being the most potent people in the countrey of Canaan.

in his zeal] A blinde zeal envying that these Gentiles should be incorporated into Gods people, and injoy all their priviledges; and thinking hereby to rectifie the errour of Joshua, and other rulers, and to bring the kingdom into a right frame; when none enjoyed any part of it, but onely the Israelites to whom it was given. The which is called zeal, because it seemingly respected Gods commandment, that these nations should be destroyed, Exod. 23. 32, 33. Deut. 7. 16.

V. 3. What shall I do] That is, what satisfaction will ye require, that ye may not complain unto God of his peoples cruelty, and draw down his judgements upon them: but contrarywise being satisfied, may pray for their peace and prosperitie.

V. 4. We will have no silver nor gold of Saul, nor of his house, neither for us shalt thou kill any man in Israel] Or, It is not silver nor gold, that we have to do with Saul or his house, neither pertains it to us to kill, &c.

V. 5. devised against us] Or, cut us off.

V. 6. of his sons] That is, of his posterity.

hang them] Which execution was used to make atonement for some publike misdeeds, Deut. 21. 22, 23.

unto the Lord] That is, devote them to the LORD, to appease his wrath incensed against the land of Israel. So Numb. 25. 4.

whom the Lord did choose] Or, chosen of the Lord; To wit, to be king of Israel.

V. 7. the Lords oath] 1 Sam. 18. 3. and 20. 8, 42. That is, the covenant made between him and Jonathan, 1 Sam. 20. 16, 42.

V. 8. Rizpah] That is, Sauls concubine, Chap. 3. 7. and v. 11.

Michal] Or, Michals sister; That is, of Merab, the sister of Michal, and wife of Adriel. 1 Sam. 18. 19. who being educated and adopted by Michal, are called here her sons. See Gen. 16. 2. and 30. 3. and 50. 23. Ruth 4. 17. Some think that here is used the figure eclipsis, cutting of the name off the one sister, and expressing it by the other. So verse 19. Goliath, for the brother of Goliath, and Jerem. 32. 12. uncle, for uncles son.

brought up for Adriel] Heb. bare to Adriel.

Meholathite] In the tribe of Manasseh, where Abel-Meholah did lie, Judg. 7. 22. which is here used to distinguish him from Barzillai the Gileadite, Chap. 19. 31.

V. 9. in the hill] That is, in Gibeah Saul, v. 6. which was mountainous.

before the Lord] That is, to appease Gods wrath.

fell] That is, perished, or were executed.

harvest] Which was in Canaan, in the moneth Nisan, of which, part was in March, and part in April, Ruth. 1. 27.

V. 10. Rizpah] Chap. 3. 7.

spread it] To wit, over the dead corps day and night.

untill water] By Gods law, bodies were to hang onely to the sun setting of the same day, Deut. 21. 23. But because the famine came through drought, the king would have them hang till rain came; that it might be a sign that Gods wrath was appeased, and mercy obtained; for which end they were hanged up.

V. 12. and took] That is, commanded his servants and officers to take. So v. 14.

Jabesh-gilead] See 1 Sam. 31. 10, 11, 12.

Philistines had hanged them] 1 Sam. 31. 10.

V. 13. the bones] That is, after they had been long buried. See 1 Sam. 31. 12.

V. 14. Zelah] See Josh. 18. 28.

was intreated] Taking away the famine, and returning plenty by sending rain. So Chap. 24. 25.

V. 16. of the giant] To wit, who dwelt at Gath, v. 22. called Rapha, from whom other giants had their name Raphites.

spear] Heb. the staff, or the head; That is, the iron of his spears head. So 1 Sam. 17. 5.

three hundred shekels] That is, twelve pounds and an half. See 1 Sam. 17. 5.

V. 17. the light] Heb. candle, or lamp. That is, their wisedom to guide and counsell them; and even the very joy and life of the whole nation. So 1 King. 15. 4. and 11. 36. q. d. lest the glory and splendour of Israel perish with thee.

V. 18. Gob] Situate by Gezer, where this war was therefore said to be raised, 1 Chron. 20. 4. in Ephraim, upon the border of Benjamin, towards the countrey of the Philistines.

Sibbechai] One of Davids worthies, 1 Chron. 11. 29.

Saph] Called also Sippai, 1 Chro. 20. 4.

the giant] Or, Rapha.

V. 19. Elhanan] One of Davids worthies, 1 Chro. 11. 26.

Jaare] Called also Jair, 1 Chro. 20. 5. to which name Oregim was added, because the spear of the giant whom Elhanan slew, was like a weavers beam, as the word signifieth.

of Goliath] Called Lahmi, 1 Chro. 20. 5.

V. 20. Gath] One of the five famous cities of the Philistins, neer unto the Midland-sea.

the giant] Or, Rapha.

V. 21. defied] That is, reproached, dared and challenged with scorn and despight.

Shimea] Named also Shammah, 1 Sam. 16. 9.

V. 22. David] As being king and generall, to whom the victorie of his souldiers and commanders is ascribed; or we may adde to these, Goliath, who was slain by David, 1 Sam. 17. all which were the sons of this giant.

CHAP. XXII.

Vers. 1. OF this song] Compare this with Psalm 18, and see the annotations upon it.

V. 2. The Lord is my rock and my fortresse, and my deliverer] Psa. 18, 2, &c.

V. 5. The waves] Or, pangs. Psal. 18. 5. the sorrows; That is, such pressing griefs, as like waves overflow, and overwhelm us.

ungodly] Heb. Belial.

V. 6. sorrows] Or, cords.

V. 8. foundations of heaven] Psal. 18. 7. of the hils; That is, of the high mountains, which seemed to touch the heavens, as though they were founded upon them.

V. 9. a smoke] An emphaticall description of fearfull earthquakes, and tempests, which God raised against Davids enemies, for his defence, and their destruction.

out] Heb. by.

V. 12. dark waters] Heb. binding of waters.

V. 13. See this more enlarged, Psal 18. 12. a description of the lightnings, breaking out of the thick and dark clouds.

V. 17. many] Or, great.

waters] That is, out of deep and desperate dangers and calamities, which threatned to drown and destroy me, Psal. 69. 2. and 124. 4, 5.

V. 18. strong enemy] Especially Saul, who above others was most potent and malicious.

V. 19. See 1 Sam. 13. 24, 25, 26.

V. 21. righteousnesse] That is, my innocency, and the righteousnesse of my cause; in relation to his enemies, who unjustly persecuted him; and not unto God, against whom he had sinned, as he often confesseth, Psal. 7. 3, 4, 8.

V. 24. before him] Heb. to him.

V. 25. in his eye-sight] Heb. before his eyes.

V. 27. shew thy self unsavoury] Or, wrestle. Psal. 18. 26. froward] That is, distastfull, unpleasant and opposite to their will, as one wrestling with them to overthrow them. So Levit. 26. 24, 27, 28.

V. 28. thine eyes] That is, thou takest speciall notice of the proud, to oppose and pull them down.

V. 29. lamp] Or, candle; That is, thou art my light to guide me, and dost fill me with joy and comfort.

darknesse] Comfort me in my heavinesse and misery.

V. 30. run thorow a troup] Or, broken a troup.

leaped] That is, overcome all difficulties and dangers.

V. 31. tried] Or, refined; That is, as metall purified in the fire from all drosse.

V. 33. maketh my way perfect] Heb. ridden, or looseth.

V. 34. maketh] Heb. equalleth.

high places] That is, in places of strength and defence against all enemies. See Deut. 32. 13. 33. 29.

V. 35. to warre] Heb. for the war.

V. 36. made me great] Heb. multiplyed me.

V. 37. enlarged] That is, thou hast made me to go freely and firmly in all my wayes, without restraint or danger.

feet] Heb. ancles.

V. 40. subdued] Heb. caused to bow.

V. 41. the necks] Thou hast subdued them under my power and command. See Gen. 49. 8. Exod. 23. 27.

V. 42. They looked] Psal. 18. 41. they cryed; That is, they looking about, cryed for help.

V. 43. of the earth] Psal. 18. 42. as the dust before the winde; That is, as the dust of the earth scattered with the winde.

I did stamp] That is, I did cast them out as dirt and refuse, and did stamp them under my feet. See Psal. 18. 42.

V. 44. strivings] That is, from their insurrections against me, both in the dayes of Saul, and also of Absalom and Sheba.

V. 45. Strangers] Heb. sons of the stranger.

submit] Or, yeeld feigned obedience. Heb. lie.

V. 46. fade away] To wit, like flowers, and untimely fruit.

V. 49. bringeth me forth] That delivereth me from my enemies. So Psal. 18. 48.

violent man] That is, especially from Saul, who pursued me with all violence.

V. 50. among the heathen] Where he propheseth of the kingdom of Christ, and the calling of the Gentiles, Rom. 15. 9.

V. 51. the tower] That is, the king by his power and protection, as by a strong tower hath defence and deliverance from his enemies.

salvation] Heb. salvations.

to his seed for evermore] Chap. 7. 12.

CHAP. XXIII.

Vers. 1. THE last words] That is, which he spake by the inspiration of Gods spirit, as a pen-man of holy Scriptures, after his Psalms, and other works.

raised] To wit, from a low estate to be king of Israel.

sweet psalmist] That is, who had both penned the Psalms, and appointed the musick-instruments, and tunes fitting for them, Amos 6. 5.

V. 2. my tongue] Meaning that he spake nothing, but by the motion of Gods spirit.

V. 3. the Rock] That is, the immoveable foundation of all their hopes and comforts, and the place of their refuge in danger of all enemies. So Deut. 32. 4. and Psal. 18. 2.

He that ruleth] Or, Be thou ruler, &c. That is, it is fit that he who giveth laws and commands to order and guide others, should himself be just and straight; and that not for outward and civill respects, but from an inward and true principle, the fear of God, in whose right and place he ruleth. Some think this to be meant of our spirituall king, the LORD CHRIST, of whom David and Solomon were types, Psal. 2, 8. 110. 2. 72. 5, 8. Jere. 23. 5, 6. Zach. 9. 7.

V. 4. as the light] That is, he that ruleth justly, and in the fear of God, shall like the morning light, still increase in glory and all prosperity.

tender grasse] That is, he shall grow and flourish like the grasse and herbs, which have the benefit of the sun, and seasonable showres; all which, some understand of the Messias, and the fruits and benefits that accompany his kingdom, Hos. 6. 3. Psal. 110. 3. Mal. 4. 2. Isa. 60. 1, 2. Luk. 1. 78. Isa. 64. 4.

V. 5. be not so] That is, so exact and perfect in our rule and government; but are subject to many failings, and often break our covenant with God.

everlasting] That is, durable and immutable, being grounded not on our worthinesse and perfections, but his own free grace, 2 Sam. 7. 15, 16. Jere. 31. 31, 32, 33, 34.

ordered] That is, by his eternall and gracious decree disposed, both in respect of the end and means, that it cannot fail; but will, notwithstanding our unworthinesse; continue firm in all his promises, both to me and my house, even for his own names sake, and for his Christ the foundation of the covenant.

for this] That is, Gods gracious covenant, and the things contained in it, concerning my self and house.

not to grow] That is, although for our sins and unworthinesse he do not grant unto us that flourishing prosperity expressed in the former verse; yet all this will not frustrate his free promises, and make them of no effect, Rom. 3. 3.

V. 6. Belial] That is, wicked and reprobate men, who being quite opposite to the just and faithfull, have shaken off the yoke of Christs kingly government. See Judg. 19. 22.

be taken] To wit, without pricking and hurting those that gripe them.

V. 7. fenced] Heb. filled.

with iron] That is, must fill his hand with some iron instrument to cut them down, or preserve it from hurt, by putting on it some strong and impenetrable glove.

the staff] That is, must thrust them from him, and keep them aloof, that they may not hurt, with a staff or pole, like the staff of a spear.

same place] To wit, in which they are cut down; and thus wicked men must be used like these thorns, if the godly will keep themselves from being hurt by them.

V. 8. mighty men] That is, Davids worthies, and cheif commanders.

the Tachmonite] Or, Josheb-bassebet the Tachmonite head of the three; called Jashobeam the son of Hachmoni, 1 Chro. 11. 1.

sat in the seat] To wit, president in the councell of war; to which his name alludeth.

chief] To wit, among the six colonels here named, who in Davids army were set over the thirty captains after mentioned, v. 23, 24.

he lift up] That is, he fought against, or set upon eight hundred to slay them; though he slew onely three hundred upon the place, as it is 1 Chron. 11. 11. Or it may be thus taken, That he discomfited eight hundred by slaying three hundred of them, and put the rest to flight. Others think, that this place, and that in the Chronicles, speak of two severall victories.

whom he slew] Heb. slain.

V. 9. Eleazar the son of Dodo the Ahohite] 1 Chron. 11. 12.

defied] Exposing their lives to danger of death, as it is Judg. 5. 18.

gone away] That is, were by the Philistines put to flight. See 1 Chron. 11. 13. where this story is inlarged.

V. 10. the people] To wit, who had fled, returned not to fight (for he had got the victory) but to pillage onely.

V. 11. Shammah] Called Shammoth, 1 Chro. 11. 27.

into a troup] Or, for foraging.

V. 13. And three of the thirty] Or, the three captains over the thirty. That is, those three set over the thirty, as chief colonells, that is, Adino, Eleazar, and Shammah.

of Adullam] See 1 Sam. 22. v. 1. to 6.

Rephaim] See Chap. 5. 18.

V. 14. an hold] See 1 Sam. 22. 5. Some take it for the fort of Sion.

V. 15. longed] That is, through heat and thirst afflicting him.

that one] That is, some one or other, not requiring any to fetch it: But the wishes of princes are commands to subjects.

V. 16. poured it] That , as an oblation to testifie his thankfulnesse to God, for preserving these men in this extream danger.

V. 17. the blood] That is, that for which they have hazarded their blood.

V. 18. Abishai the brother of Joab] 1 Chron. 11. 20.

among three] That is, not the first three, but a second ternary of colonels, to wit, Abishai, Benajah, and Asahel. Or as others think, Jonathan the son of Shimea, Chap. 21. 21.

lift up] That is, assaulted and fought with three hundred.

and slew] Heb. slain.

V. 19. attained not] That is, to that esteem of strength and valour.

V. 20. Kabzeel] A citie situate in the south end of Judah, Josh. 15. 21.

who had done many acts] Heb. great of acts.

lion-like men] Heb. lion of God; That is, both in respect of courage and strength.

of snow] That is, when wilde beasts are most hungry and fierce.

V. 21. a goodly man] Heb. a man of countenance, or sight: called also, a man of great stature; That is, both in respect of stature, strength and valour. See 1 Chro. 11. 23.

V. 22. among three] That is, the three of Davids chief commanders of the second order.

V. 23. more honourable then the thirty] Or, honourable among the thirty.

his guard] Or, councel. Heb. at his command. See Chap. 8. 18.

V. 24. Asahel the brother of Joab] Chap. 2. 18.

one of the thirty] He was last of the second order of Davids chief commanders, but more honourable then the thirty captains after named, which had over every five of the thirty one of the six colonels set to command them for the service of warre.

V. 25. Harodite] See Judg. 7. 1.

V. 26. Pahite] 1 Chron. 11. 27.

V. 27. Anethothite] See Josh. 21. 18.

Hushathite] Of the tribe of Judah, 1 Chro. 4. 4. many of these here mentioned had two names, as appeareth, 1 Chro. 11. (the which was usuall among the Hebrews) and many more are there reckoned, which were either added to this number, or else substituted in the places of those that died. All which were called Davids thirty, in respect that they were just so many in his first choice, though afterwards they might be fewer or more; as they were called still the twelve Apostles, when Paul and Barnabas were added to them, and so also when Judas was taken from them, Joh. 20. 24. 1 Cor. 15. 5.

V. 30. brooks] Or, valleys.

V. 39. thirty and seven] To wit, Joab the generall, and the six great worthies being added to the thirty here named.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Vers. 1. And again] That is, besides the judgement of three yeers famine, wherewith God formerly in his just displeasure had punished the people, he was again by their sins incensed to anger against them.

and he moved] That is, Satan; which is to be supplyed out of 1 Chro. 21. 1. or, David was moved; or God himself (that hereby he might take occasion to punish Davids, and the peoples sins) did give him over to be tempted by Satan, and withheld his grace, whereby he might have been enabled to withstand the tentation; and so David committed this sin of numbring the people, which did arise out of his pride, curiosity and confidence in his own strength; which otherwise in a civill use might have been lawfull, Exod. 30. 12. and Numb. 1. 2. See Chap. 16. 10. 1 Sam. 26. 19. 1 King. 22. 22.

to say] To wit, not inquiring of God, or having his command to warrant him in so weighty a matter, nor upon any just cause, either Ecclesiasticall or civill, but his curiosity, &c. vers. 2.

V. 2. Go] Or, compasse.

Dan] That is, the utmost bounds of Canaan north and south.

the people] That is, from twenty yeers old and upward, Num. 20. 3. or as some take it, all that are able to bear arms, without respect to this age, contrary to the law, Numb. 1. 3. which they think may be a cause of the difference between the number here expressed, vers. 9. and 1 Chro. 21. 5. The one speaking of them onely above twenty, and the other of all in generall.

V. 3. delight] Implying, that there was no just cause of this tedious and troublesome work, but onely the kings will and pleasure. Compare this with 1 Chron. 21. 3, 6.

V. 5. Aroer] Situate between the two rivers of Arnon, the one of them running into Jordan, the other into the dead sea. See Josh. 13. 16.

river] Or, valley.

Jazer] Situate on the river Arnon.

V. 6. land] Or, netherland newly inhabited.

Tahtim-hodshi]. Which reacheth from the river Arnon to the north limits of Canaan.

Dan-jaan] That is, as some think, the city of Dan the north limit of Canaan, named also Lais and Leshem, Josh. 19. 47. Judg. 18. 7.

V. 7. Tyre] See Josh. 19. 29.

V. 9. eight hundred thousand] In 1 Chron. 21. 5. there are mentioned eleven hundred thousand. And for reconciling of these two places, some think that Davids ordinary souldiers or trained-bands are not here computed, because their number was already known, and that they are reckoned in that number, expressed 1 Chron. 21. 5. Now the number of these comes to two hundred and eighty thousand, there being in every of the twelve tribes twenty and four thousand, as appeareth 1 Chron. 27. vers. 1. to 15. Over which were set so many colonels or tribunes, centurions, captains, commanders, and chief officers, as made up the number of twelve thousand, which also are mentioned, 1 Chron. 27. 1. which in the whole, amount to eleven hundred thousand.

five hundred thousand] In which are reckoned the ordinary souldiers of Davids army in Judah, which are computed to have been thirty thousand, every thousand having one of those colonels or captains set over them, mentioned Cha. 23. 8. 13. 23. The which are left out in the computation, 1 Chron. 21. 5. and onely four hundred and seventy thousand mentioned, to which, these thirty thousand being added, make up the number of five hundred thousand here expressed. Others think, That according to that number related, 1 Chro. 21. 5. Joab did not in his return reckon the tribes of Benjamin, Levi, and Jerusalem it self, because he was weary of his work, and the kings command abominable unto him, as appeareth 1 Chron. 21. 6. and 27. 24.

V. 10. smote

24. 2. — he giveth up David to a covetous thought, to number the people; that he might lay a Tax upon Every Poll. ——— The L. begun to cut off them that David had begun to make his Pride; and intended to make his Profit. Lightfoot. p. 34, 5.

Araunah the king] Some think he is called a King, bec. he behaved himself here so bountifull, as if he had been a King. Others conceive that he was a King of the Jebusites, before David took the hold of Zion.
Others think that his Sir-name was King. Dutch Anon:

V. 10. smote him] That is, his conscience checked him for his sin, after the prophet Gad had convinced him of it, 1 Chro. 21. 9. and vers. 11.

take away] That is, pardon, and put out of thy sight. See Chap. 12. 13.

V. 11. Davids seer] See 1 Sam. 9. 9.

V. 13. seven yeers] That is, reckoning in this number the three yeers of famine already past, and this yeer present following, there shall three yeers more be added unto them, which all together make up these seven. See 1 Chron. 21. 12. Some by seven understand many, according to the usuall Hebrew phrase.

thine enemies] To wit, they also overtaking thee in thy flight, and destroying thee. See 1 Chron. 21. 12.

pestilence] Which is called the sword of the LORD, in the hand of his angell, destroying in all their coasts, 1 Chron. 21. 12.

V. 14. into the hand] That is, to be corrected onely, and immediately by himself.

V. 18. and said] To wit, by Gods command and appointment, 1 Chron. 21. 18. and v. 19.

threshing-floor] This was on the mount Moriah, where Abraham was commanded to sacrifice Isaac, upon which the temple was afterward built, 2 Chron. 3. 1. which place was consecrated by this altar, for that use, by making upon it a publike atonement.

V. 22. for wood] Namely, to kindle the sacrifice with fire.

V. 23. as a king] That is, in respect of kingly bounty and magnificence. Some think that he had been king of Jebus before David took it.

accept thee] That is, be made propitious by this thy sacrifice, and remove the present judgement from thee and thy people.

V. 24. for fiftie shekels of silver] That is, the oxen and threshing-instruments for fiftie shekels of silver, and the threshing-floor, with the place on which it stood, for six hundred shekels of gold, as it is 1 Chron. 21. 25. See the inlargement of this story, 1 Chron. 21. vers. 18. to 30.

ANNOTATIONS
On the first Book of the KINGS,
Commonly called,
The third Book of the KINGS.

The Argument of the two Books of KINGS.

THE Books of Kings record an History of four hundred thirty eight yeers, whereof Solomon reigned fourty over all the twelve Tribes; but after his reign, those Tribes were divided into two Kingdoms: Two Tribes (Judah and Benjamin) made one Kingdom, called Judah, wherein the posteritie of David and Solomon reigned three hundred seventy and two yeers. In which time, nineteen Kings of the same stock succeeded each other: Onely one interruption was made for the space of six yeers, by Athalia an usurper, 2 King. 11. 3. Of the Kings of Judah, some were very good, others idolaters. The other two Tribes made another Kingdom, called Israel, which continued but two hundred thirty and seven yeers, till the sixth of Hezekiah, when Hoshea the last King of Israel was carried away captive; 2 King. 18. 6. In that time there were twenty Kings of Israel; and ten severall stocks, whereof one destroyed another. For first, Jeroboams stock was destroyed by Baasha (1 King. 16. 29.) secondly, Baasha's by Zimri (1 King. 16. 11.) thirdly, Zimri's, and fourthly, Tibni's by Omri (1 King. 16. 17, 18, 22,) fifthly, Omri's by Jehu (2 King. 10. 11.) sixthly, Jehu's by Shallum (2 King. 15. 10.) seventhly, Shallum's by Menahen (2 King. 15. 14.) eighthly, Menahen's by Pekah (2 King. 15. 25.) ninthly, Pekah's by Hoshea (2 King. 15. 30.) tenthly, Hoshea was carried away captive by Salmaneser (2 King. 17. 3, 6.) In this time of twenty Kings over Israel, there were but eleven over Judah: Whereof one (namely Asa) raigned in the time of eight severall Kings of Israel (1 King. 15. 9. and 16. 29.) of which, were the first five severall stocks: And another (namely Azariah or Uzziah) reigned in the time of six other Kings of Israel (2 King. 15. v. 27.) of which were four other stocks. From the division of the ten Tribes to the captivity of Israel, there was not one good King of Israel. That Kingdom remained idolatrous from the beginning to the end. The Kingdom of Judah continued one hundred thirty and five yeers after the captivity of Israel, from the sixt of Hezekiah (2 King. 18. 10.) to the last of Zedekiah (2 King. 25. 3.) Twenty six yeers after the captivity of Zedekiah, mention is made of lifting up Jehoiachin (2 King. 25. 27.) which fill up the History of four hundred thirty and eight yeers.

Shimei] Of whom mention is made, Chap. 14. 18. See what favour David shewed him, 2 Sam. 19. 23.

Rei] A states-man.

mighty men] The guard or garison-souldiers under Benaiah, called Cherethites and Pelethites (2 Sam. 20. 23.) who remained faithfull to David in Absaloms rebellion, 2 Sam. 15. 18. Of these, see the notes on 2 Sam. 8. 18.

V. 9. slew sheep] For sacrifices, and for a feast. So Gen. 31. 54.

En-rogel] Or, the well Rogel. Without Jerusalem (2 Sam. 17. 17.) on the east-side, Josh. 15. 7.

called] Invited to his feast, thereby to win them to his side.

brethren] Except Solomon.

kings servants] Except the mighty-men, v. 9. and the servants mentioned, v. 33.

V. 10. he called not] Such as he had no hope to win to his side.

V. 11. Nathan spake, &c.] He knowing that God had appointed Solomon to be king, useth means to bring it to passe.

Haggith doth reign] 2 Sam. 3. 4.

knoweth it not] So as all which is done, may be undone.

V. 12. save, &c.] Heb. counsell. This he said because he knew that usurpers would do what they could to destroy such as have a right claim, and also their friends.

life] Heb. soul.

V. 13. swear] Herewith David comforted Bath-sheba, 2 Sam. 12. 24. David himself confesseth that he did so swear, v. 30.

hand-maid] Though she were his wife, yet his subject. It is a title of reverence, 1 Sam. 25. 24, 41. See v. 16.

V. 14. confirm] Heb. fill up. Testifie the truth of what thou sayest: And further adde what I shall conceive requisite to be added.

V. 15. old] See v. 1. ministred] See v. 4.

V. 16. bowed] As became a wife, and a subject. See v. 13.

What wouldst thou?] Heb. What to thee.

V. 17. sware st] A sacred and solemn oath. See v. 13.

thy God] Inclusively: not excluding others: but as John 20. 17. But she thus appropriateth this relation to him, to move him the more to make good his oath.

V. 18. reigneth] Endeavoureth to reign, and carrieth himself as king.

knowest not] By reason of bodily weakness, so as David had no hand therein.

V. 19. thy servant] As hand-maid, v. 13.

V. 20. And thou] Or, And now.

eyes of all] All expect whom thou wilt declare to be thy successour in the throne. Thus they who expect any succour from God are said to have their eies on God, Psal. 25. 15. and 123. 2.

V. 21. sleep] Shall be dead and laid in grave, Gen. 47. 30. See Chap. 2. 10.

with his fathers] As his fathers and predecessors before him, Gen. 15. 15.

offenders] Heb. sinners. See Gen. 43. 9.

V. 22. came in] So as David might not suspect the matter before-hand plotted betwixt them, as it was, v. 14.

V. 23. come in] Bath-sheba going out, v. 28. See v. 32.

bowed] In the lowliest manner that he could, according to the custome of those times, yeelding civill obeisance to his Sovereign.

V. 24. hast thou said?] I cannot let it sink into my minde, that thou shouldest say any such thing.

V. 25. eat, &c.] They feast together, v. 9.

God save king Adonijah] Heb. Let king Adonijah live. An usuall acclamation at the election or coronation of a king, vers. 34. 1 Sam. 10. 24. 2 King. 11. 12.

V. 26. me thy servant] Prophets are kings servants.

thy servant Solomon] Though designed king, yet servant to the old king living.

V. 27. hast not shewed] For David was wont to communicate his weighty purposes to Nathan, 2 Sam. 7. 2.

V. 28. into the kings] Heb. before the king.

V. 29. As the Lord liveth] Heb. The Lord liveth. An usuall form of oath, Judg. 8. 19. Forms of oaths use to be concise. The first particle, as, is prefixed to make up the sense.

V. 31. for ever] Very long, an usuall salutation given to kings, Nehem. 2. 3. Dan. 6. 21. It is here used by Bath-sheba, to shew that she preferred Davids life and reign before her sons.

V. 32. and Nathan] For he went out upon Bath-sheba' coming in, that they might not seem to plot together.

V. 33. servants] Such as abode faithfull to David, and were speciall attendants on him, and his guard, v. 8.

lord] David, Heb. your lords. Meaning his own, and his son Solomons servants.

mine own] Heb. which belongeth to me. To shew it was with Davids consent.

mule] A royall honour, Esth. 6. 8.

Gihon] A famous place, so called by reason of the river Gihon, 2 Chron. 32. 30. and 33. 14. and so far distant from En-rogel, as the two companies might not meet together; for it was on the west-side of the city, over against Gihon, vers. 9.

V. 34. Zadok,

V. 34. Zadok, and Nathan] For the greater solemnity.
anoint] An usuall rite of inaugurating kings; especially in troublesome times. 1 Sam. 10. 1. and 16. 1. 2 King. 23. 30.
blow, and say] These acclamations adde much to the solemnity. See 2 Sam. 15. 10. 2 King. 9. 13. and 11. 12, 14.
God save] See v. 25.
V. 35. I have appointed] A good warrant. and Judah] For excellency sake Judah is distinctly named; and the rather because David was of the tribe of Judah. Besides, there were emulations betwixt the ten tribes and Judah, (2 Sam. 19. 41.) before the division of the kingdoms, 1 King. 12. 19.
V. 36. Benaiah] In his own, and the others name, as Matt. 16, 16.
Amen] An Hebrew word, which importeth an approbation, ratification, and earnest desire of all that whereunto it is annexed: thereupon it useth to be added to prayers, Matth. 6. 13. The words following are an exposition hereof.
say so] Accomplish that which the king hath said: Gods words are deeds, Gen. 1. 3. Psal. 33. 9.
V. 37. so be he] In bestowing all kindes of blessing.
greater] Increase of blessing must ever be prayed for, v. 47.
V. 38. Cherethites and Pelethites] The mighty men and kings servants before mentioned, v. 8, 10, 33. Such as waited on the king to guard his person, 2 Sam. 8. 18. and 15. 18.
V. 39. out of the tabernacle] To shew it was holy oyl; as Psal. 89. 20.
God save] See v. 25.
V. 40. pipes] Or, flutes.
the earth rent] An hyperbolicall speech, to amplifie the exceeding great rejoycing, and loud acclamations of the people. Reports of great canons will make mountains to shake and cleave: so will great thunder-claps.
V. 41. end of eating] Their feast being soon ended.
Joab] It belonged to his office to suppresse tumults, as Act. 21. 38. 32.
V. 42. a valiant man] Heb. a man of vertue. Or, a vertuous man. This word is translated (Prov. 12. 4.) vertuous, being applyed to a woman. Such a man is stiled a good man, 2 Sam. 18. 27.
good tidings] Flattering himself with vain hopes.
V. 44. kings mule] Whereon none must ride but a king.
V. 45. city rang] Another hyperbole, whereby the rejoycing is amplified.
V. 46. sitteth on the throne] Hath an actuall possession of the kingdom.
V. 47. blesse] Saluted him: prayed, and praised God for him. See v. 37.
bowed himself upon the bed] Worshipped God even in his bed, and praised him, as Gen. 47. 31.
V. 48. Blessed] This shews that he bowed to God.
V. 49. afraid] Joy may soon be turned into fear, which quickly seizeth on traitors.
his way] To his own house, and affairs: leaving Adonijah and his cause.
V. 50. feared] By reason of a guilty conscience he feared lest Solomon should take away his life, knowing that he had sinned against God, and his fathers will.
horns] The altar was made with four horns, Exod. 38. 2. on them a man might lay fast hold.
altar] They supposed that to be a place of refuge, Exod. 21. 14. and to have a priviledge of immunity from punishment: at least he thought he might gain time, thereby to pacifie his brothers wrath (which he did, v. 52, 53.) and to seek mercy of God, as Joab, Chap. 2. v. 30.
V. 51. swear] His guilty conscience would be satisfied with nothing but an oath.
servant] An acknowledgement of subjection.
V. 52 If he will] He is pardoned upon his future good behaviour.
a worthy man] Heb. a son of vertue. So as becometh his place.
not an hair] The least evill shall not befall him, for what he did before, 1 Sam. 14. 45. 2 Sam. 14. 11. Act. 27. 34.
he shall die] No hope of escaping hereafter shall be given him.
V. 53. Go to thine house] Attend thine own affairs: and meddle not with the affairs of the kingdom.

CHAP. II.

Vers. 1. Should die] Words of dying men make deepest impressions, Gen. 49. 1. Deut. 33. 1. Josh. 23. 2. Joh. 19. 26, 27. 2 Pet. 1. 14.
his son] Designed to succeed him in the kingdom.
V. 2. way of all the earth] Of all men living on earth, Josh. 23. 14. For it is appointed unto men once to die, Heb. 9. 27.
strong] Heb. be a man; Of a valiant minde.
a man] Though thou be young in yeers, Chap. 3. 7. 1 Chron. 22. 5.
V. 3. And keep] So Josh. 1. 7. Faithfulnesse to God makes valiant. charge] That which God hath given in charge to be kept.
his wayes] That course of life which he hath prescribed.
statutes] Rites and ceremonies enjoyned.
commandments] Contained in the morall law.
judgements] For governing the state.
testimonies] Which were signes of the covenant betwixt God and them. Notwithstanding this distinction, these are in scripture promiscuously used.
written] Deut. 17. 18, 19.
prosper in all that thou doest] Deut. 29. 9. Josh. 1. 7. Or, do wisely.
V. 4. continue] Perform.
word] Promise.
not fail thee (said he) a man on the throne of Israel] 2 Sam. 7. 12. Heb. be cut off from thee from the throne. One after another shall succeed.
Israel] Including Judah too.
V. 5. to me] By breaking the agreement which David made with Abner, 2 Sam. 3. 26. and with Amasa, 2 Sam. 19. 11. Joabs murthering those two, might have tended to Davids dishonour. shed] Heb. put.
of war in peace] Doing hostile actions to confederates in time of peace.
the blood of war] A bloody sword used in war.
upon his girdle] Into the scabbard that was on his belt.
in his shoes] While he embraced them, he kil'd them; so as their blood ran into his shoes. His insolency is further set out by these phrases, in that he carried a bloody sword, and walked with blood in his shoes, as if he had done a worthy deed.
V. 6. according to thy wisdom] Wisely observing him: he is of a stirring spirit, so as thou mayest some time or other, take just advantage against him.
hoar head] He was now old, having been a Generall all Davids time, 2 Sam. 2. 13.
in peace] By a naturall death, without revenge; but cut him off by the sword of justice. See vers. 9. See also Genesis 42. 38.
V. 7. sons of Barzillai] As Barzillai desired; and David promised, 2 Sam. 19. 37, 38.
so they came] They brought all store of provision to David, 2 Sam. 17. 28, 29. and 19. 32.
because of Absalom] Heb. from the face of Absalom.
V. 8. Shimei the son of Gera] 2 Sam. 16. 5. grievous] Heb. strong.
I will not put thee to death] Heb. If I put thee to death. A form of imprecation, wherein the penalty is understood. Gen. 14. 23. 2 Sam. 19. 23.
V. 9. guiltlesse] Though I for my time pardoned him, thou mayest take some occasion of punishing him.
with blood] By the sword of justice. Gen. 49. 4.
V. 10. David slept with his fathers] Died. Death is a kinde of sleep, Acts 2. 29. and 13. 36. Deut. 31. 16. See Chap. 1. v. 21.
city of David] Called Zion, which David wonne, and built: wherein also he dwelt, 2 Sam. 5. 7, 9. Here was the usuall royall burying place, where the successours of David that were of any good note and name, were buried.
V. 11. reigned over Israel] 2 Sam. 5. 4. 1 Chron. 29. 26, 27.
V. 12. Then sat Solomon upon the throne of David his father] 2 Chron. 29. 23.
greatly] None now durst hisse against him.
V. 13. mother of Solomon] Mothers may prevail much with their children.
peaceably?] Hebr. Is peace thy coming? and he said, Peace. 1 Sam. 16. 4. His former practice made her still suspect him.
V. 14. I have somewhat] Heb. a word of me to thee. A request to make to thee, v. 16.
V. 15. mine] By birth-right.
set their faces] Expected, and that with a desire.
from the Lord] By Gods appointment, 2 Chron. 22. 10. and 28, 5.
V. 16. deny me not] Heb. turn not away my face.
V. 17. unto Solomon] Without his consent he durst not attempt such a matter.
not say thee nay] Heb. not turn away thy face. See vers. 16. 20. 2 Chron. 6. 42. Psal. 122. 10.
to wife] See v. 22.
V. 18. I will] Being too forward to gratifie him.
V. 19. bowed himself] To testifie his reverend respect to his mother: as she had done to David, Chap. 1. v. 16.
throne] See Chap. 10. v. 18. right hand] The highest place next to the king, who sat in the midst, 2 Chron. 18. 18. Nehe. 8. 4. Psal. 45. 9. and 110. 1. Matth. 20. 21.
V. 20. small] Being ignorant of the importance of the thing, and dangerous consequences that might have followed thereupon.

say me not nay] Heb. turn not away my face. For men use to turn their faces from them, whose request they dislike.

I will not say thee nay] Supposing it had been just, and safe, and but small, as she said.

V. 22. Abishag] She had been as his fathers wife, and lain in his bosom. This was one thing which incensed Solomon.

the kingdom also] It might have been a means for Adonijah to have gained many of the people, if Abishag (much admired for beauty, and seemly behaviour in ministring to David, and so honoured, as to be Davids bed-fellow) if she had been his wife.

elder brother] This may give him a shew of title.

and for Abiathar] Hereby is implyed, that Adonijah, Abiathar, and Joab, were all as one, all intending and plotting the same thing.

V. 23. and more also] Heb. and so adde; A form of imprecation, whereby most severe vengeance is wished for, if the things sworn be not performed. See the notes on Ruth 1. 17.

against his own life] Heb. soul. To take it away. So v. 24.

V. 24. established me] In my kingdom. See v. 12.

made me an house] A fair and royall family, 1 Sam. 2. 35. and 25. 28. 2 Sam. 7. 27. Exod. 1. 21.

promised] 2 Sam. 7. 12, 13.

V. 25. by the hand] Gave a charge and power to Benaiah to slay Adonijah.

fell upon him] This was of old the custome in cases of apparent treasons, and other capitall crimes, as 2 Sam. 1. 15. and 4. 12.

V. 26. to Anathoth] Josh. 21. 18. There live a private life, and meddle no more with the priests office.

worthy of death] Heb. a man of death. Because he conspired with Adonijah, Chap. 1. 4. and 2. 22.

bare'st the ark of the Lord God before David my father] 1 Chro. 15. 11, 12. 2 Sam. 25. 24, 29.

been afflicted] Hebrew, thou hast afflicted thy self; Hast had a part and share in all my fathers troubles, by thine own voluntary following of him, 1 Sam. 22. 23. and 23. 6, 9. and 30. 7. 2 Sam. 15. 24. Solomons piety to God and his father David, moves him to spare Abiathar; to God, in that he was his priest; to David, in that he was an ancient follower of him, above fourty yeers, 1 Sam. 22. 23.

V. 27. fulfill the word of the Lord] 1 Sam. 2. 31, 35.

of Eli] Abiathar was the fourth from Eli: for he was the son of Ahimelech, the son of Ahitub, (1 Sam. 22. 20.) the son of Phinehas, the son of Eli, 1 Sam. 14. 3.

in Shiloh] A city in the tribe of Ephraim, where the tabernacle was for many yeers, and where the tribes were wont to assemble together in Joshua's and the Judges times, Josh. 18. 1. Judg. 21. 19. 1 Sam. 4. 3, 4.

V. 28. tidings] Of what befell Adonijah and Abiathar: For Joab lived not at the court.

to Joab] In some copies, to Solomon: but corruptly.

turned] Traiterously, Chap. 1. v. 7.

not after Absalom] Vulg. Lat. after Solomon. So the L X X, and Josephus, but all corruptly.

fled, &c.] See Chap. 1. v. 50.

V. 29. and behold] The speech of them that told Solomon what Joab did.

fall upon him] See v. 25.

V. 30. Come forth] Though it be not expressed in the kings speech, yet he might say, or at least intend as much, to keep the altar (if it might be) from being polluted. See Exod. 21. 14.

die here] Or in hope that they would not slay him there: or in a superstitious conceit of the place, that it might be some advantage to his soul.

V. 31. fall upon him] Slay him by the altar: for better, blood be there shed (which was but a ceremony) then murther and treason not punished, which is a morall matter.

bury him] For the honour of his place (2 King. 9. 34.) and for his former service.

take away] The reason why he was slain, Numb. 35. 33.

innocent] The blood of Abner and Amasa, whom Joab unjustly slew.

house] Posterity.

V. 32. his blood] The blood which he shed: the vengeance thereof shall fall on his head: even upon himself. See v. 37.

more righteous] In that cause, being unjustly slain.

not knowing] Before they were slain, 2 Sam. 3. 26, 37.

Abner the son of Ner] 2 Sam. 3. 27.

Amasa the son of Jether] 2 Sam. 20. 10.

V. 33. Their blood] The vengeance of their blood, v. 32.

his seed] His posterity. 2 Sam. 3. 29.

peace] All manner of blessings, in that by executing judgement on the murtherer, the guilt is taken from the magistrate.

V. 34. wilderness] A place not so populous as other countries, Matth. 3. 1. Act. 8. 26.

V. 35. Zadok] Who by lineall descent came from Phinehas, to whom the covenant of priesthood for ever was confirmed, Num. 25. 11, 12, 13. See Zadoks pedigree, 1 Chron. 6. 3, &c. See his solemn inauguration, 1 Chron. 29. 22.

V. 36. Shimei] Of whom his father had given him a charge, v. 8.

in Jerusalem] That he might be the more in the Kings eye, and kept within compasse.

V. 37. Kidron] A river betwixt Jerusalem and Bahurim, which was Shimeis inheritance (see 2 Sam. 16. 5.) whereunto he could not go but over that river, 2 Sam. 15. 23. 1 King. 23. 6. Joh. 18. 1.

own head] Heb. Knowing thou shalt know that dying thou shalt die. None but thy self shall be accounted guilty of thy death: thou art the cause thereof, Josh. 2. 19. Matth. 27. 25.

V. 38. good] Just and equall, (2 King. 20. 19.) he being conscious to the wrong he had done to David, could not but acknowledge his confinement to be meet in it self, and lesse then his desert.

so will, &c.] And bound himself thereto by oath, vers. 42.

V. 39. Gath] See the notes on 1 Sam. 5. 8. There was then peace betwixt the Israelites and Philistines: So as one might freely passe to the other.

V. 40. Shimei] His covetous minde made him venture his life.

V. 41. told Solomon] Kings have more eyes then their own.

V. 43. not kept] This was cause enough to take away his life.

V. 44. moreover] The king declareth the true and just ground of his proceeding against Shimei, from the beginning to the end.

the Lord] Solomon puts him in minde of Gods just dealing with him, to justifie himself therein.

thy wickednesse] The punishment of thy wickednesse.

V. 45. established] Execution of justice establisheth a kingdom. Psal. 106. 30.

V. 46. kingdom was established in the hand of Solomon] 2 Chro. 1. 1. The contrary faction being destroyed.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. Solomon made affinity with Pharaoh king of Egypt] Cha. 7. 8.

Pharaohs daughter] It is more then probable, that she professed the faith of Israel, and was taken into the Church, as Rahab (Josh. 2. 9. Heb. 11. 31.) Ruth 1 16. Maacah (2 Sam. 3. 3.) and sundry others. See Chap. 11. 1.

city of David] The place where his own court was. See 2 Sam. 2. 7. and 1 Chron. 11. 7. David built this city, and in it his palace.

untill] For this place was too strait for such a princesse and her retinue. See Chap. 7. v. 8.

own house] Chap. 6. 38.

the house of the Lord] Chap. 7. 1.

the wall] Chap. 9. 15.

V. 2. Onely] Or, as yet; then, and before; It was the more warrantable, because (as is here noted) no temple was yet built, Deut. 12. 8.

V. 3. of David] Wherein David himself walked (Chap. 11. v. 34.) and commanded his son to walk, Chap. 2. v. 3.

V. 4. Gibeon] That great city which first yeelded to the Israelites, Josh. 9. 3, &c. and fell to Benjamins lot, Josh. 18. 25. but was given to the Levites to dwell in, Josh. 21. 17. There was the tabernacle of the L O R D, 1 Chron. 16. 39. and the altar of burnt-offering, 1 Chron. 21. 29.

great high-place] An high-place used to be on an hill, whereon fair spreading trees grew, under which they erected altars for sacrifices, Ezek. 20. 28, 29. Idolatrous Israelites superstitiously used such high-places, and the groves upon them (1 King. 14. 18. 2 Chr. 33. 5.) and that in imitation of the heathen. But the true worshippers of God used them as convenient places, from the time that the ark and tabernacle were removed from Shiloh, till the temple was built. The first high-place that we read of to be used by the people of God, is mentioned 1 Sam. 9. 12. See the note there. This is here said to be the great high-place; First, in regard of the spaciousnesse and fairnesse of the place. Secondly, in regard of the multitude of people that resorted thereunto. Thirdly, in regard of persons that frequented it, as the chiefest priests and Levites (1 Chro. 16. 39.) yea, David and Solomon with their princes and courtiers. Fourthly, in regard of that tabernacle, and altar which Moses built, and was there pitcht, 1 Chron. 21. 22. Of groves. See Chap. 16. 33.

V. 5. appeared] Evidently manifested that it was God who spake.

in a dream] While Solomon was asleep, as Gen. 28. 11, &c. see v. 15.

by night] In that night (2 Chron. 1. 7.) after he had offered up his sacrifices.

Ask] To try and manifest his disposition.

V. 6. And]

cap. 3. 3. - high places] - Non in vituperium quidem, sed in laudem Solomonis profertur, nempe quod non promiscuè, in locis omnibus sacrificarit, sed in excelsis; nimirum in unica illa ara consecrata et destinata a Domino. Bullinger. Decad. 3. Serm. 5. fol. 117. a.

V. 6. And] Presently without further demur upon the matter.

said] In his sleep, and dream, v. 15. For hereon had high thoughts been when he was awake: and this he had oft desired before: whereupon the answer was so ready in his dream.

shewed] Heb. done.

mercy] Or, bounty.

according as] Answerably whereunto. This sets out Davids answerable carriage to Gods mercy.

kept] And not suffered to fail, 2 Sam.7.15.

V. 7. a little childe] He had now a son, Chap.14. 21. This therefore is here spoken figuratively, but a little childe to sway so great a scepter as was put into his hand. So 1 Chro.22.5. and 29. 1. Jerem.1. 6.

to go out or come in] To order and govern the people. A comparison taken from captains, or shepherds. See Num.27.17.

V. 8. in the midst] A supreme governour, about whom they all stand.

great] In number, as the words following shew, Num.20.20.

V. 9. understanding heart] Heb. hearing; Wisdom and knowledge, 2 Chron.1.10. See v. 11.

who is able] Without wisedom given from above.

V. 10. the speech] This pleased the LORD, that, &c.

the Lord] Heb. in the eyes of the Lord.

V. 11. not asked, &c.] Inferiour things, such as mens hearts by nature are set upon, Psal.4. 6.

long life] Heb. many dayes.

the life of thine enemies] Or, the soul; Their ruine and utter destruction.

to discern] Heb. to hear.

V. 12. thy words] Thy desire.

none like] See Chap.4. v. 29, &c.

V. 13. I have also given thee that which thou hast not asked] Wisd. 7. 11. Matth. 6. 33. Eph. 3. 20. I have determined to give: thou maiest be assured in due time to have all, as if now thou hadst all.

shall not be] Or, hath not been.

V. 14. as thy father David did walk] Chap.15. 5. Approved examples are directions and incitations, which shew what must, or may be done: they are as guides before us.

lengthen] Solomons apostasie shortned his dayes: for many kings lived longer then he, 2 Sam.5.4. 2 King.15.2. and 21.1.

V. 15. behold, a dream] A dream worth the heeding, more then ordinary, Gen.41.7.

Jerusalem] 2 Sam.6. 12.

ark of the covenant] See Exod.40. 3, 20. and Num. 10. 33. In the ark was the law kept, (Deut.10. 5.) which is stiled the covenant, Deut.4. 13.

offered] In way of thankfulnesse to God, for the kindnesse of the LORD shewed to him.

burnt-offerings] Which were for expiation of sin, Levit.1.4.

offered] Or, made.

peace-offerings] Which were evidences of reconciliation and gratulation, 1 Sam.11. 15.

a feast] To testifie his respect to his subjects, and to quicken their spirits. See Chap.8. 65.

V. 16. Then] After the foresaid dream, that an evidence of his wisdom might be discerned, v. 28.

harlots] Or the law (Deut.23.17.) was neglected; or they were concubines, or victuallers, as some take Rahab to be, Josh.2. 1.

V. 17. O] A note of complaint, and seeking succour. So v. 26. and Gen.43. 20.

with her] She being then in the house, and privy to it.

V. 18. no stranger] No other. So as there were no witnesses to prove the matter in difference.

V. 19. overlaid] By her arms, or some other part of her body lying upon the mouth of the childe, she smothered it. Many children by the carelesnesse of heavy and drousie women, have in all ages been thus made away.

V. 20. midnight] The darkest time of the night; and the time of deepest sleep, when fewest are stirring.

V. 21. my childe] That which I supposed to have been mine.

it] The childe was laid by me.

considered it] Thorowly viewed it, Job 37.14. Psal.119.95. Isai.43.18.

in the morning] When it was day-light.

V. 22. spake] Contended one against another.

V. 24. a sword] Meerly for triall, as Gen.22. 2. See v.27.

V. 26. bowels] Heart and affections were moved, Gen.43.30.

yerned] Heb. were hot.

in no wise slay it] Heb. slaying do not slay it.

divide it] Not love to the childe, but envy that her companion had what she had lost; made her at first steal the childe away from her mother, and now not care though it were slain.

V. 27. in no wise slay it] Heb. slaying do not slay it.

the mother] He discerned it by her motherly affection.

V. 28. the king] Heb. before the king.

wisdom of God] First, most excellent, and extraordinary wisdom, as Gen. 23. 6. and 30. 8. Psal. 36. 6. and 80. 10. 1 Chron.12. 22. Ezek.10.5. Secondly, wisedom given and inspired by God himself.

in him] Heb. in the midst of him. Job 20. 14.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers.1. All Israel] All the twelve tribes, which no king after him did; no, nor David his father in the beginning of his reign, 2 Sam 5.5.

V.2. princes] By whose ministery he governed the kingdom, according to Jethro's advice, Exod.18.21.

Azariah the son] If Zadok the priest (Chap.2.35.) be here meant, Azariah was his grand-childe, 1 Chron.6.8,9. But the Hebrew word כֹּהֵן signifieth a secular prince, as wel as an ecclesiasticall priest. This title is given to Davids sons (2 Sam.8.18.) who are said to be chief about the king, 1 Chron.18.17. It is also given to Ira, Davids chief officer, 2 Sam.20.26. and to Nathan, Solomons principall officer, v.5. and to Josephs father in law (Gen.41.45.) and to Moses his father in law, Exod.3.16. It is therefore most probable that another Zadok is here meant; and that this Azariah was a vice-roy under Solomon, as Dan.6. 2,3. or as Gen.41.44.

the priest] Or, the chief officer.

V.3. scribes] 2 Sam.8.17. Est.3.12. such as our kings secretaries are. Three sorts of scribes are mentioned in Scriptures; 1. these. 2. publike notaries, Jer.36.26. 3. teachers of the law of God, Ezr.7.6. Matth.23.1. David (2 Sam.20.25.) had but one scribe: Solomon (whose dominion was larger) had two.

recorder] 2 Sam.8.16. 2 King.18.18. According to the derivation of the Hebrew word, it signifieth a remembrer, or remembrancer, as Gen.14.9. Isai.62.6. and 66.3. Such are Masters of request, whose office it is to put the king in minde of petitions and other like things. Others stile them chroniclers, such as Esth.2. 22.

V. 4. Abiathar] He was a chief priest when Solomon first came to the crown, and so is he here joyned with Zadok; for David joyned him with Zadok, 2 Sam.20.25. because he was an occasion of the death of his fathers house (1 Sam.6.22,23.) and because Abiathar still followed him, Chap.2.26. Besides, though Abiathar was removed from the superior place, yet he remained a priest. See the notes on Mar.2.26.

V.5. over the officers] Mentioned v.7. and 2 Chron.8.10.

principall officer] See v.2.

friend] As 2 Sam.15.37. his favourite, who had on all occasions a free accesse to the king: by this he is distinguished from Azariah; for the other title is common to them both.

V.6. over the houshold] Treasurer of the kings house, or governour thereof, Chap.16. v.9. and 18.3.

Adoniram] Chap.5.14.

over the tribute] Or, levie: Chief customer or receiver of the kings revenues, Chap.5. v.14. and 12.18.

V.7. twelve] For the twelve moneths.

V.8. The son of Hur] Or, Ben-hur. So are the rest described by their fathers names, because their fathers were men of note and name, famous in Israel.

Ephraim] The divisions are not simply made according to the tribes, for so might some have been over-prest, in that some were neither so large, nor so fertile as others: the division is according to the commodities of the soil.

V.9. The son of Dekar] Or, Ben-dekar.

Makaz, &c.] Cities in the tribe of Dan, Josh.19.40,&c.

V.10. The son of Hesed] Or, Ben-hesed.

Sochoh, &c.] Cities in Judah, Josh.15.35, &c.

Hepher] Josh.12.17. 1 Chron.4.6.

V.11. The son of Abinadab] Or, Ben-abinadab.

Dor] In Manasseh, Josh.17.11. Judg.1.27.

Daughter of Solomon] This is here set down by anticipation, for mention being here made of Abiathar, occasion is thence taken to name the wife which he married many yeers after, to shew that he was a man of some worth, in that the king would bestow his daughter upon him. Solomon at this time could not have daughters marriagable.

V.12. Taanach and Megiddo] In Manasseh too, Josh.17.11. Judg.1.27.

Zartanah] Josh.3.16.

Jezreel] In Issachar, Josh.19.18.

Beth-shean] Josh.17.11.

Abel-meholah] Judg.7.22.

Jokneam] In Zebulun, Josh.19.11. and 21.34.

V.13. The son of Geber] Or, Ben-geber.

Ramoth-gilead] In Gad; it was in the countrey of Gilead, Deut.4.43. Josh.20.8. 1 King.22.3. By Gilead added to it, it is distinguished from Ramoth in the tribe of Issachar, 1 Chron.6.73.

towns of Jair] In Manasseh, Num.32.41.

region of Argob] Deut.3.4,14.

V.14. Mahanaim] Or, to Mahanaim; Gen. 32.2. In Gad, Josh.13.26.

V.15. the

V.15. the daughter] Another daughter. See v.11.

V. 19. Gilead] Another part then that which is mentioned vers.13.

of Sihon and of Og] Num.21.21, &c. Deut.3.8.

onely officer] Over so much of that land taken from Sihon and Og, as was not mentioned before, over all the residue.

V. 20. as the sand] A proverbiall phrase and hyperbolicall, therefore not too strictly to be taken. It implies an innumerable number (Jer.33.22. Gen.15.5.) and hath respect to the promise, Gen. 22. 17. and 32.12. note Prov. 14. 28. See on vers.29.

eating, &c.] A description of plenty, peace and joy.

V.21. Solomon reigned, &c.] Ecclus 47.13. 2 Chron.9.26.

all] Round about him.

river] Euphrates, as it was promised, Gen.15.18. Exod.23. 31. Deut.11.24. Josh.1.4. This river was their coast north-east.

Philistines] On the west.

Egypt] On the south, Num.34. 3,4,5. See Chap.8.v.65.

presents] In testimony of fealty. See on 2 King. 17. 3. 2 Chron.17.5,11. and 32.23.

V.22. Solomons provision] Heb. bread; Of bread for himself and his court: The like is not read of in any other kings time: much was that which was provided for Nehemiah, Neh. 5. 18. but not comparable to this.

measures] Heb. cors: One cor contained an ephah; for a cor and homer are the same measure; and an ephah and bath are also the same: But an ephah or bath is the tenth part of an homer, Ezek.45.11,14. An homer of barley was valued at fifty shekels of silver, Lev.27.16. whence it may be gathered, That an homer or cor was a very great measure, the greatest that is mentioned in Scripture: some take it to be an asses load, as we count, a seam of wheat (which holds eight bushells) an horse-load. An ephah was about the measure of our bushell; by which account, one cor was about ten bushels: so as he had every day three hundred bushels of flour, and six hundred of meal. See the Notes on Exod.16.16. and Isai.5.10.

V.23. Ten fat, &c.] Fatted in stalls. His provision of flesh was answerable to that of bread, v.22.

V.24. over all] Such a description of Solomons dominion, as v.21.

Tiphsah] 2 King.15.16.

Azzah] Gen.10.19.

V.25. safely] Heb. confidently.

under his vine] 1 Mac. 14.8. in his own possession, Zach. 3.10.

from Dan, &c.] From north to south, from one end to the other, Judg.20.1. See on 2 Sam.3.10.

V.26. Solomon had fourty thousand stalls] 2 Chron.9.25. Divisions in stables; whereof there being ten in every of the stables, this division of fourty thousand may stand with that of four thousand, 2 Chron.9.25. Solomon is the first, among the kings and Judges of Israel, that furnished himself with warre-horses and chariots; and that as an evidence of Gods promise, Chap.3. v.13. and also of his wisedom in securing his kingdom in time of peace.

V.27. those] mentioned v.7, &c.

table] Many came out of the countreys (v.34. and Chap.10. 24.) to Solomons table; and sufficient provision was made for them all.

V.28. Dromedaries] Or, mules: post-horses, Est.8.10,14. swift beasts, or beasts of price, Mic.1.13.

V.29. God gave Solomon wisedom] Ecclus 47.14,15,16.

largenesse of heart] An heart or minde capable of whatsoever might be known by man.

as the sand] See v.20. The comparison may be applied either to the large capacity of his understanding, as the sea-shore is very large; or else to the innumerable matters which he understood, as the sands of the sea are innumerable.

V.30. east-countrey] Men of the east were commonly reputed the wisest in the world, Matth.2.1. Such were the Caldeans (Dan.2.2.) and other philosophers and astronomers.

Egypt] Egyptians were also famous for wisedom and knowledge in all sciences, Act.7.22. Under these two instances he compriseth all forreign people.

V.31. all men] In Israel, as the following instances shew.

Ethan, and Heman] These two names are mentioned, 1 Chro. 2.6. and said to be the sons of Zerah, and so may be Ezrahites. These were of the tribe of Judah. These might be pen-men of some of the Psalms, as of the 88, and 89 Psalms. There be also two mentioned, Psal.88.1. and 89.1. Both these are expresely stiled Ezrahites, and of the tribe of Levi, 1 Chron.15. 19. Of Heman a singular commendation is given, 1 Chron. 25.5.

Chalcol, and Darda] Two like names are mentioned 1 Chron. 2.6. and set down as brothers of Ethan and Heman: but another name is here given to the father of Chalcol and Darda, so as they seem to be severall persons, yea, and to live in severall ages.

V.32. he spake] So as others might hear them out of his mouth, and register them.

three thousand] Whereof some may be in the books of Solomon, now extant: others, by continuance of time, lost.

songs] Divine sentences, accurately penned, as poems, and fitted to a melodious tune, as the Psalms and Canticles.

V.33. of trees] Of all manner of plants that grow out of the earth.

from the cedar, &c.] A proverbiall speech, which compriseth all kinde of plants under it, like to v. 25. and Exod.11.5. and Isai.1.6. The cedar is the tallest of trees; the herb intended under this word hysop, is the least and lowest of plants; it may be an herb not known to us.

Lebanon] See Chap.5.6.

out of the wall] Or, out of rockie or stony places.

of beasts, &c.] The particulars here specified shew that he was a great philosopher: his parables manifested his divine learning, these, his humane.

V. 34. all people] See v. 21. Report of Solomons wisedom filled all the world.

CHAP. V.

Vers.1. King] To distinguish him from another Hiram, Chap.7. v.13,14.

of Tyre] And Sidon; for the Sidonians were his subjects: they were two sea-towns (Isai.23.1,2.) in Phœnicia, bordering upon Galilee, towards Lebanon.

sent] To congratulate, and renew a league, v.12.

ever] Heb. all days; All the time that they lived together.

lover] Ready to do all good offices, 2 Sam.5.11.

V.2. Solomon sent to Hiram] 1 Chron.2.3.

V. 3. Thou knowest] By the common report that was every where spread thereof.

Name] Glory (Psal.76.1.) The Name of God is oft put for God himself, Deut.28.58.

wars] For, 1. They afforded him not time enough. 2. They occasioned him to shed much blood, 1 Chron.22.8.

under the soles] A note of full conquest, Josh.10.24. Psal. 110.1. Mal.4.3.

V.4. rest] From all enemies: Peace.

evil occurrent] To hinder this work.

V.5. purpose] Heb. say. See 2 Chron.2.1.

to the Name] Or, honour. See the Notes on Chap.8.15.

as the Lord spake unto David] 2 Sam.7.13. 1 Chron.22.10.

V.6. Lebanon] An high, large and goodly mountain (Deut. 3.25.) whereon cedars grew (Psal.92.12.) on the north-side of Judea, bordering on Sidon.

my servants] To help, that all the burden may not lie on thy servants.

appoint] Heb. say.

Sidonians] Exercised in that work. Severall countreys have their severall abilities.

V.7. Blessed] See Chap.10. v.8.

Lord] Jehovah, who had by such wonders made himself known to be the true God, as the heathen had knowledge thereof, Deut. 32.31. Note Josh.2.11. 2 King.5.15. Dan. 3.28. and 6.26. Besides, Hiram had this benefit by his amity with David, to know the true God, See Chap.8.41.

V.8. considered] Heb. heard.

firre] These trees also grew on Lebanon, 2 King.19.23. musicall instruments were made hereof, 2 Sam. 6. 5. It was much used in the temple, Chap.6.15, 34. 2 Chron.3.5.

V.9. flotes] Flat bottomed vessells; or boards fastned together, and towed with ropes. Word for word, I will put them flotes; that is, I will so fasten them together, as they shall flote upon the water and be towed.

the place, &c.] Joppa, 2 Chron.2.16. Ezr. 3.7. an haven-town, Jon.1.3.

appoint] Heb. send.

food] Heb. bread; All manner of provision, as v.11. See Ch.4.22. Although Tyrus were stored with all manner of merchandises brought from other countreys (Ezek.27.3, &c.) yet the land was but barren, and brought not forth provision enough for it self (it was nourished by Herods countrey, Act.12.20.) therefore he desired food.

V.11. measures] Heb. cors. See Chap.4.22. There is a far greater quantity promised, 2 Chron.2.10. but that might be for his household and work-men too, and this for his household onely: or here synechdochically one kinde put for the rest. He might have twenty measures of pure oil (as here) and the rest in ordinary oil for labourers.

yeer by yeer] So long as they continued to labour for Solomons works.

V.12. as he promised him] Chap.3.12.

V.13. levie] Heb. tribute of men.

all Israel] Of aliens that were dispersed up and down in Israel, chap.9.21.

V.14. by courses] That they might have some time to be at their their own houses, and not be over-wearied with continuall labour.

V. 15. threescore and ten thousand] These also were aliens, 2 Chron. 2. 17, 18.

hewers] Both of timber and stone.

V.16. three thousand and three hundred] 2 Chron. 2. 2. three thousand and six hundred: The three hundred over-reckoned were over-seers of the officers: or else there might be three thousand and three hundred over hewers of stone, and three hundred over hewers of timber.

V.17. hewed stones] Heb. stones of cutting, such as were fit to be cut, hewed and squared. So 2 Chron.22.2.

foundation] Though they were hid in the earth, yet Solomon would spare no cost, but make them every way of the best sort; therefore the great stones are said to be precious, of great worth.

V. 18 stone-squarers] Or, Giblites; Inhabitants of Gebal (Ezek.27.9.) neer to Sidon, were artificiall stone-cutters.

CHAP. VI.

Vers.1. IT came to passe] 2 Chron.3.1.

four hundred and fourscore] Fourty in the wilderness, Num.14.33. Seventeen under Joshua: Fourty under Othniel, Judg.3.11. Fourscore under Ehud and Shamgar, Judg. 3.30. Fourty under Deborah, Judg.5.31. Fourty under Gideon, Judg.8.28. Three under Abimelech, Judg.9.22. Three and twenty under Tola, two and twenty under Jair, Judg.10. 2,3. Six under Jephthah, seven under Ibzan, ten under Elon, eight under Abdon, Judg.12.7,9,11,14. Twenty under Samson, Judg.15.20. Fourty under Eli, 1 Sam 4.18. Fourty under Samuel and Saul, Act.13.21. Fourty under David, 2 Sam.5.4. Four under Solomon.

Egypt] Then the Israelites began to be a free people, and a nation of themselves; therefore the computation of times in that state began from thence.

fourth] In the former yeers of his reign he prepared and fitted all manner of materialls for the work.

Zif] They began the yeer about the spring equinoctiall: Their first moneth was Abib, Exod.12.2. and 13.4. their second, Zif; their seventh, Ethanim, Chap. 8. 2. their eighth, Bul, v.38. their ninth, Chisleu (Zec.7.1. Neh.1.1.) their eleventh, Sebat, Zec.1.7. Other Hebrew names of moneths we find none in sacred Scripture; but numerall distinctions, as, the first, second, third, &c. We finde also sundry Persian names of moneths, in those books which were written after their captivity. The Hebrew names import thus much: Abib, the spring: Zif, brightnesse; then are plants in their chiefest splendour: Ethanim, ripenesse, or strength; then they are at their full ripenesse and strength: Bul, fading; then is the fall of leaves: Chisleu, variable, or tempestuous; so is the weather in that moneth: Chesil is also put for Orion (Job 9.9. and 38. 31. Am.5. 8.) a star, which, rising in this moneth, causeth great tempests: Sebat, a drie stick, or staff; for in this moneth are trees very drie.

second] For in the first moneth the passeover was celebrated, Exod.12.3. in the very beginning of this moneth, even the second day, he set upon this great work, 2 Chron.2.2.

began] Heb. built; Laid the foundation, v.37. Of the place where this house was built, see 2 Chron.3.1.

V.2. length] From east to west: the breadth, from north to south.

cubits] A cubit is in length, from the elbow to the top of the middle finger; which, of an ordinary mans stature, is eighteen inches. It is supposed, that the sacred cubit, stiled, A great cubit, Ezek.41.8. and the first, or chief measure, 2 Chron.3.3. after which the tabernacle and temple were built, was one and twenty inches, or two foot long at the most; for it was a cubit and an hand-breadth, Ezek.43.13. See the Notes on Deut.3.11.

V.3. porch] This was no part of the fore-mentioned house, but added to the open end thereof: it is called Solomons porch (Joh.10.23.) here the people used to stand, while the priests were offering sacrifices or incense within the temple: here they prayed, and heard the law read and expounded, Luk.1.10. Act.3. 11,12. and 5.12.

length] From north to south, all along the end of the temple.

breadth] Thorow which was the passage into the temple: the height far exceeded the height of the temple, even ninety cubits higher, 2 Chron.3.4. It hath been the manner of building fair edifices, to make the entrance much higher then the rest of the building.

V.4. windows of narrow lights] Or, windows broad within, and narrow without; or, skewed and closed. Without narrow, to keep out the weather; within broad, to diffuse the light.

V. 5. against the wall] Or, upon, or joyning to. There were two thick walls that compassed the house about, for the greater strength thereof: betwixt these walls were chambers built for the priests and Levites use, and for the treasury of the temple, as first-fruits, tythes, free-offerings, and the like, 1 Chron.28. 11. 2 Chron.31.11,12. Ezr.8.29. Neh.10.37,38,39. and 13.5. Ezek. 42.13.

chambers] Heb. floors.

temple] The outer and larger part of the house, where all sorts of priests and Levites did their services, v.17.

oracle] The innermost part, whereinto the high priest, and that but once a yeer, might enter: called the oracle, because there God delivered divine answers or oracles, Levit. 16. 2. Exod.30.6.

chambers] Heb. ribs.

V.6. nethermost] The chambers were three stories high one over another: and as they were higher, they were also wider; for the walls were thickest at the bottom; the higher they ascended, the thinner they were, and the space betwixt them the wider. Every chamber was of one height, namely, five cubits, verse 10.

narrowed rests] Heb. narrowings, or rebatements. At the floor of the middle chamber there was a rebatement in the wall, a cubit thick; and at the floor of the highest chambers such another rebatement: on these rebatements the beams of the chambers were laid.

V.7. stone] And wood too, Chap.5.18.

tool] Used to hew, square, polish and fit materialls for the building.

V.8. middle chamber] Middle story.

right side] Heb. shoulder; As they went thorow the temple to the oracle.

third] Story.

V.9. covered] The top or roof.

with beams and boards of cedar] Or, the vault-beams and the cielings with cedar.

V.10. against all the house] On both sides thereof; yea, and about the oracle, whereinto there was no entrance from without.

the word of the Lord] By some prophet; for God himself appeared to him but twice, chap.9.2. and 11.9.

V.12. statutes, &c.] See the difference betwixt these; chap.2. v. 3.

which I spake unto David thy father] 2 Sam.7.13. 1 Chron. 22.10.

V.13. I will dwell] As a tender father, and provident master, I will abide among them, and they shall have assured evidence of my gracious presence, Levit.26.11,12. 2 Cor.6.16.

V.14. the house] The main fabrick thereof with stone and timber.

V.15. built] Cieled.

both the floor of the house, and the walls of the cieling] Or, from the floor of the house, unto the walls, &c. and so v.16.

walls of cieling] From the floor to the uppermost part of the walls, whereon the cieling or roof rested; or from the bottom to the top.

V.16. built] He cieled and floored the most holy place with cedar.

most holy place] Heb. holy of holies.

V.17. fourty cubits long] Vers.2.

V.18. knops] These are translated gourds, 2 King.4.39.

open flowers] Heb. openings of flowers.

V.19. in the house within] In the innermost part of the house.

V.20. in the height thereof] The oracle might be but twenty cubits high, because, as they ascended out of the porch into the temple by steps, so they ascended out of the temple into the oracle, Ezek.40. 34,37.

overlaid] With plates of gold, not gilt onely.

pure gold] Heb. shut up; That which was thorowly refined, and laid up especially for that purpose, 1 Chron.28.18. and 29. 3,4. 2 Chron.3.6. See the Notes on chap.9.28.

altar] For incense, v.22.

V.21. chains of gold] Whereupon the vail did hang, 2 Chron. 3.14,16.

V.23. cherubims] A cherub was a representation of a young man with wings: cherubims set out angels, Gen.3.24. These here were carved statues: As in the tabernacle there were two cherubims of massie gold, and sundry other cherubims wrought in the curtains and vail (Exod. 36.8,35.) so in the temple many cherubims graven on the walls, on the doors (1 King. 6. 29,32,35.) and on the bases (1 King.7. 29, 36.) All these set out the multitudes of angels in churches, as Eph. 3. 10. See the Notes on Exod.25.18.

of olive-trees] Or, oilie. Heb. trees of oil; Because they were so great, like giants. The cherubims which Moses made were of beaten gold, Exod. 25. 18. for they were farre lesse then these: these covered those, 2 Chron. 3. 10, 11, 12, 13.

V. 24. ten cubits] The body of the cherub was comprehended under the wings, so as the two wings stretched out together with the thickness of the body made ten full cubits.

V.27. they stretched forth the wings of the cherubims] Exod.25. 20. Or, the cherubims stretched forth their wings.

V.29. figures]

V.29. figures of cherubims] See the Notes on v.23.
open flowers] Heb. openings of flowers.
within and without] In the oracle within, and temple without.
V.31. a fifth part] Or, five-square: Four cubits, which is the fifth part of twenty cubits. See v. 20. Each side was four cubits, so as the entrance was twelve cubits wide: the door had two leaves, and each leaf had two foldings, as v. 34. Ezek. 41. 23, 24.
V.32. two doors] Or, leaves of the doors.
open flowers] Heb. openings of flowers.
V.33. a fourth part] Or, four-square.
V.35. fitted] So as the covered works might distinctly be discerned thorow the plates of gold.
V.36. inner court] Where the priests and Levites did their daily service; that being the outer court where the people were. The former is called, The court of the priests: The later, The great court, 2 Chron.4.9. See the Notes on v. 3.
V.37. fourth yeer, &c.] Verse 1.
V.38. But] See v. 1.
thorowout all the parts thereof, and according to all the fashion of it] Or, with all the appurtenances thereof, and with all the ordinances thereof.
seven yeers] And six moneths; for he began in the second, and ended in the eighth moneth. Compare the first and last verses of this chapter together.

CHAP. VII.

Vers. 1. Own house] For himself and all his followers, commonly called, The kings court.
thirteen yeers] After the temple was finished, Chap.9.10. six yeers longer then he was in building the temple, because he neither had such materialls prepared for it, nor employed so many work-men about it. The house of Lebanon, v.2. the porch for the throne, v. 7. and the house for the queen, were all done in this time.
V. 2. forest of Lebanon] So called, because great store of trees, as in Lebanon, were planted about it; and gardens, orchards, groves, walks, and all manner of delightfull things added thereto, Eccles.2.4,5,6. It had also in it five and fourty pillars of cedar; beams, boards, and all the timber whereof it was made, was of the cedars of Lebanon; and (as some gather out of Chap.6.19.) it was framed in Lebanon.
a hundred cubits] Whereas from this measure it may be objected, That it was longer then the temple, which is said to be but sixty cubits long, and twenty broad, Chap.6. v.2. I answer, 1. The cubits after which the temple was counted, were sacred, of four and twenty inches; but these common, of eighteen inches. See the notes on Chap.6. v.2. 2. The measure of the temple is reckoned from inside to inside: the thickness of the two walls, the space of the porch at the entrance, and of the chambers round about, are left out. 3. 'Tis supposed that the three houses, one for the king, another for the queen, a third for delight, are all comprised under the one hundred cubits; yea, also the kings treasury, 2 Chron.9.16.
pillars] To support it, by reason of the breadth of it.
V.3. with cedar] With thin cedar boards.
beams] Heb. ribs.
V.4. light was against light] Heb. sight against sight: So many on the one side as on the other, directly opposite, for more light and delight.
three ranks] One over another.
V.5. doors and posts were square] Or, spaces and pillars were square in prospect.
V.6. a porch] Before the house of Lebanon, as there was before the temple, Chap.6. v.3.
of pillars] Containing many pillars.
before them] Or, according to them.
before them] Or, according to them: The porch, pillars and beams therein were answerable to the house, and to the pillars and beams of the house.
V.7. a porch] Before the kings court. throne] See Chap.10.18. covered] Cieled.
from one side to the other] Heb. from floor to floor. From bottom to top.
V.8. another court] A great hall betwixt the foresaid place of judgement, and other rooms of the kings house, 2 King.20.4.
for Pharaohs daughter] See the reason, 2 Chron.8.11.
whom he had taken to wife] Chap.3.1.
like unto this porch] And other edifices before mentioned, namely, in their materialls, specified in the verses following.
V.9. All these] Fore-mentioned buildings. costly stones] Chap.5.17.
according to the measures] As great. Though they were in their kinde precious or costly, yet also were they as great as other ordinary stones, and every way fitted as other stones.
of hewed] Hebr. of cutting.
within and without] Every way, on all sides.
unto the coping] The top of the wall whereon the beams were laid.
great court] Where all sorts of people used to assemble.
V.11. above] Upon or over the foundation.
cedars] Thin plain boards of cedar, wherewith the walls were ceiled.
V.12. both for] Like to the inner court, Chap.6.36.
porch] Before that inner court, Chap.6.3.
V.13. Hiram] Not the king, but a work-man, described v.14.
V.14. Naphtali] Of this tribe was the said Hiram by his father, for his mother was of the tribe of Dan, 2 Chron.2.14.
of Tyre] Educated in Tyre, and an inhabitant there, when he learned his skill. He was called Hiram, of him who taught him his art, and adopted him to be his son. See 2 Chron.4.16.
a widows son] Heb. the son of a widow woman, 2 Chron.2.14.
filled with wisedom and understanding] Exod.36.1.
V.15. cast] Heb. fashioned. See Jer.52.21.
two pillars of brasse] Jer.52. 21, &c.
eighteen cubits] Betwixt the foot whereon it stood, and the chapiter on the head of it; for from the ground to the top of the chapiter, it was thirty and five cubits high, 2 Chron.3.15. Besides, the eighteen cubits here mentioned were sacred, but the thirty and five were common, and shorter by a third part, as is noted v.2. Or else here the height of one single pillar may be set down, but in 2 Chron.3.15. the length of them both.
V.16. chapiters] Or, heads; so called, because they were on the tops of the pillars for grace and ornament.
V.19. in the porch] Where they were set, v. 21. This place hath reference to the word pillars, not to lilie-work.
four cubits] From the square, whereon the belly and crown of the chapiter stood: for the chapiter consisted of these three parts; a square, a belly, a crown; all which were in height five cubits, v.16. the three cubits mentioned, 2 King.25.17. are meant of the net-work thereupon.
V.20. over against the belly] Round about the middle part.
by the net-work] The net-work being upon it.
two hundred] On both sides, for on the one side were but an hundred, Jer.52 23. 2 Chron.3.16.
the other] Heb. second, That is, the one as well as the other, both alike, Jer.52.22.
V. 21. And he set up the pillars in the porch of the temple] 1 Chron.3.17.
Jachin, that is, he shall establish: Boaz, that is, in it is strength] These two names had respect to the lasting strength of these pillars, which typified the continuall power of Christ in his Church.
V.23. sea] 2 Chron.4.2. So called, by reason of the largeness of it. See notes on v. 38.
ten cubits] To shew it was exactly round: for a diameter (that is, a straight line thorow the midst of a circle) is the third part of a perfect circumference, or round circle.
from one brim to the other] Heb. from his brim to his brim.
V.24. knops] As, Chap.6.v.18. oxen are named (2 Chron. 4.3.) because the Hebrew word may import any figure; or because there were the shapes both of knops, and also of oxen or bull-heads cast thereon.
ten in a cubit] In every cubit: three hundred in all; for it was thirty cubits in compasse.
compassing the sea round about] 2 Chron.4.3.
when it was cast] At the first casting of the vessell it self; they were not afterwards added.
V. 25. twelve oxen] Not such small ones as are mentioned 2 Chron.4.3. but huge massie ones; not hollow, but solid thorowout, that they might bear the burden of so great a vessell full of water.
V.26. an hand-breadth] Being hollow within, as Jer.52.21.
two thousand baths] So much was ordinarily put thereinto; but up to the brim it could contain three thousand baths. A bath containeth about eight gallons: by which account, four baths make a barrell; so as this sea could contain five hundred barrells of water; and two hundred and fifty barrells full were ordinarily put into it: This was for the priests to wash in, 2 Chron.4.6.
V.27. ten bases] To bear so many lavers, or great vessells to hold water in them, besides the sea before mentioned.
V.28. borders] Broad places compassing the vessell round about, whereon were sundry images of lions, v.29.
ledges] Plain places round about the vessell, standing out further then the side of the side of the vessell.
V.29. lions] Figures of lions, and cast with the vessell, as v.24.
a base] An under-propper. See v.34.
additions] Curious works, engraven after that the vessell was cast.
V.30. wheels] To remove the vessell from place to place, as occasion served.
plates] Into which the axle-trees were put.
under-setters] Heb. shoulders; To keep the vessell from shaking, or moving out of its place, when it was removed. See verse 34.

V.31.

8. I. — Ethanim] answering to part of our September; at which time of the year, our Saviour, Whom this Temple typified, In. 2.9. was born; and 29 years after, baptized. Lightfoot. p. 47.

V. 31. mouth] The hollow place of the base, into which the lower part of the laver (called the chapiter) was put, to the upper part of it, was a cubit: but the round compasse of it was a cubit and an half: and though there were a round hollow place in the base, yet the base it self was square, and sundry gravings upon it.

V. 32. joyned to the base] Heb. in the base.

V. 34. undersetters] See vers. 30.

of the very base] Of the same metal, molten all together.

V. 35. in the top] See verse 31.

of the same] As verse 34.

V. 36. plates] See verses 29, 30.

proportion] Heb. nakednesse.

V. 38. ten] Yet but one in the tabernacle, Exod. 30. 18. Besides, that the sea (v. 23.), far exceeded in quantity the laver, in the temple there were ten other lavers, because the temple was bigger then the tabernacle, and had need of a greater quantitie of water: and God thereby would shew the increase of his goodnesse, as in the candlesticks (ver. 49.) tables (2 Chro. 4. 8.) and other things.

lavers] Vessels to hold a good quantity of water, to wash their sacrifices therewith, 2 Chron. 4. 6.

fourty baths] An hundred barrells. See verse 26.

V. 39. side] Heb. shoulder.

house] Where the priests did their services.

east-ward] At the entring into the house.

south] Which was the left side of the temple.

V. 40. Hiram made the lavers] Vers. 13, 14.

shovels] To take away ashes, and other things from the altar, and other places.

basins] To hold the sprinkling water, or blood. There is mention made of an hundred of these, 2 Chro. 4. 8. Under this Hebrew word we comprise bowls, as well as basins.

V. 41. two pillars] Verse 15.

bowls], These were the bellies mentioned, vers. 20. For each of the pillars had a belly, or bowl.

two net-works] Verse 17.

V. 42. four hundred] Each had two hundred, mentioned, vers. 20.

upon the pillars] Heb. upon the face of the pillars.

V. 43. ten bases] Verse 27.

V. 44. one sea] Verse 23, 25.

V. 45. pots] To boil in, Levit. 2. 7. and 8. 31. 1 Sam. 2. 13.

bright brasse] Heb. made bright, or, scoured.

V. 46. cast] Caused to be cast.

in the clay-ground] Heb. in the thicknesse of the ground, 2 Chro. 4. 17.

Succoth] Gen. 33. 17. In the tribe of Gad, Josh. 13. 27.

Zarthan] In the tribe of Ephraim, Josh. 3. 16. It is called Zeredatha, 2 Chron. 4. 17.

V. 47. unweighed] See the notes on 1 Chron. 22. 3, 14.

because they were exceeding many] Heb. for the exceeding multitude.

found] Heb. searched.

V. 48. all the vessels, &c.] Such as Moses had caused to be made before, Exod. 37. 10, &c. but far bigger, because the temple was far larger then the tabernacle. See v. 38.

of gold] Overlaid with gold, Exod. 37. 25, 26. The altar it self was of cedar, Chap. 6. vers. 20.

table] As the altar, Exod. 37. 11. There were ten of these, 2 Chron. 4. 8. See notes on v. 38.

shew-bread] Heb. bread of faces. So called, because they were set continually before the LORD, Levit. 24. 6.

V. 49. pure gold] As Chap. 6. vers. 20. All massy gold, as Exod. 37. 17, &c.

five] See on v. 38.

flowers] Ornaments to set it out, Exod. 37. 17, 18.

tongs] To take coals from the altar of incense.

V. 50. bowls,] For wine or beer: Or, vessels for oyl.

snuffers] To snuff the lamps.

basins] These were of gold: others of brasse, vers. 45. Of these there were an hundred, 2 Chro. 4. 8.

spoons] For broth or other liquid things.

censers] Heb. ash-pans. For incense.

V. 51. brought] Into the holy treasury, that in future times they might be for the use of the temple, as need should require. For the present they had sufficient.

things] Heb. holy things of David.

which David his father had dedicated] 2 Chron. 5. 1.

CHAP. VIII.

Vers. 1. SOlomon assembled] 2 Chron. 5. 2. For the greater solemnity, as 1 Chron. 13. 1, &c.

elders] Such as for age and prudence were principall officers, Levit. 4. 15.

heads] The highest and chiefest in dignity, Num. 1. 4.

chief] Heb. princes. Principall governours.

unto king] Unto himself: a phrase proper to the Hebrew tongue. So Chap. 2. vers. 19.

bring up] For the temple was built on a mount, 2 Chron. 3. 1. and the temple was a worthier place.

ark of the covenant] See Chap. 3. v. 15.

citie] Where David had set it, 2 Sam. 6. 12, 17. See the notes on 1 King. 3. 1.

Zion] See Chap. 2. 50.

V. 2. feast] Of tabernacles (2 Chron. 5. 3.) This was one of the three great feasts, in which all the males were to go to the house of the LORD, Deut. 16. 13, 16. and it was in the moneth here mentioned, Levit. 23. 34.

Ethanim] See Chap. 6. 1.

V. 3. all] That were come to Jerusalem.

elders] To accompany the king.

priests] To carry the ark, 1 Chron. 15. 2, 14.

V. 4. the ark] See v. 6.

tabernacle] That which Moses made, Exod. 36. 8. As a sacred monument it was laid up in the temple, never to be removed again, as formerly it had been. For first, in the wildernesse it was carried up and down for the space of fourty yeers, Exod. 40. 2. Secondly, It abode in Gilgal (Josh. 4. 20.) about fourteen yeers. Thirdly, It remained in Shiloh till Samuels time; Josh. 18. 1. 1 Sam. 4. 4. Psal. 78. 60. Jerem. 7. 12. Fourthly, It was in Nob (1 Sam. 21. 1.) till Saul destroyed that place, 1 Sam. 22. 19. Fifthly, It was in Gibeon all Davids time, 1 Chron. 16. 39. Sixthly, from thence it was brought into Zion, to be brought with the ark into the temple. See further 2 Maccab. 2. 5. See the notes on 2 Sam. 6. 17.

V. 5. before the ark] As had before been done when David brought the ark to Zion, 2 Sam. 6. 13.

could not] An hyperbolicall phrase, which importeth an exceeding great number: and it puts a difference betwixt Solomons solemnity here, and Davids, 2 Sam. 6. 13.

V. 6. the priests] To whom that office belonged, Deut. 31. 9.

his place] Appointed for it, Exod. 26. 33, 34.

cherubims] The cherubims which Moses made, were fastened to the mercy-seat, wherewith the ark was covered (Exod. 37. 7.) so as those cherubims with the mercy-seat, and ark, stood by these cherubims.

V. 7. staves] To bear the ark, Exod. 37. 4, 5.

above] Over the ark, and the staves thereof.

V. 8. drew out] For they might not be clean taken away, Exod. 25. 15.

ends] Heb. heads.

seen] For a memoriall, that in former times the ark had been carried up and down.

holy] Or, ark: as 2 Chron. 5. 9.

before the oracle] At the entrance betwixt the holy and most holy place: so as they who stood at that entrance before the Oracle, might see those barres.

without] By such as were without the most holy place, and not at that entrance.

to this day] An Hebrew phrase which implies a perpetuity, Gen. 26. 33. and 32. 12. so long as the temple stood they so remained therein.

V. 9. nothing] This shews that the pot of Manna, and Aarons rod (mentioned Heb. 9. 4.) were not in the ark at this time: so as the Apostle there speaketh of the ark in Moses his time, or else the relative particle there hath reference to the most holy place.

save the two tables of stone] Deut. 10. 5.

Horeb] See Chap. 19. 8.

when] Or, where.

made] Heb. cut. Gen. 15. 18. This defective phrase is frequent, as 2 Chron. 5. 10. 1 Sam. 20. 16. and 22. 8.

V. 10. holy place] The temple where the priests executed their function, Exod. 26. 33. See 2 Chron. 5. 11.

a cloud] As a manifestation of Gods presence, Levit. 16. 2. In a cloud did God oft manifest his presence, and called it his glory, in the next verse, to shew that his Majesty is incomprehensible, and the brightnesse thereof such, as if it were not clouded over, it would dazle, and utterly confound us.

filled the house of the Lord] All the parts of it, from one end to another, Exod. 40. 34.

V. 11. could not stand] First, for reverence sake, as Exod. 3. 5. Secondly, upon a great amazement, 1 Chro. 21. 16, 30. Thirdly, for want of convenient light. Object. This phrase following (the glory of the Lord) implieth, light in the cloud. Ans. 1. Not necessarily. Well weigh verse 12. 2. It might be a great brightnesse, and yet not give convenient light to do any work thereby. 3. It might dazle them too much. The like is noted, Exod. 40. 35.

glory of the Lord] Set out in the cloud. This the LORD did to shew his approbation of all that was done, as Gen. 4. 4. 1 Kin. 18. 38. and by a visible sign to sanctifie to himself that place, as Exod. 40. 34. Levit. 9. 24.

V. 12. Then] Upon that manifestation of Gods glory,

Solomon discerning this to be a sign of Gods gracious presence quickly makes known as much.

said] 2 Chron. 6. 1. Levit. 16. 2. Psal. 18. 12. and 97. 2. In that God oft manifested himself in darkness, it is as much as if he had said, he would dwell therein.

V. 13. surely built] Or, building I have built] Or, perfectly finished.

for thee] He directeth his speech to God, to testifie the great devotion of his soul.

to dwell in] To manifest thy presence therein: See chap. 6. v. 13.

a setled] Not to be removed, as the tabernacle was. See v. 4.

for ever] So long as Israel should remain to be the people of God: as Gen. 13. 15. Exod. 12. 17.

V. 14. about] From the west, where the oracle stood, to the east, where the people stood together.

blessed] Prayed to the LORD for all blessings on them, as Num. 6. 23. Psal. 118. 26. Yea, blessed the LORD for his mercy to them, as vers. 55, 56.

all] See v. 3.

stood] In testimony of their reverence, attention and observation.

V. 15. Blessed] Praised, Psal. 115. 17, 18.

spake] By Nathan, 2 Sam. 7. 6. For prophets are Gods mouth, Exod. 4. 15. Isai. 3. 16. 2 Cor. 13. 3.

V. 16. Since the day] From the time that I made Israel a distinct, peculiar and free people.

I chose] I declared not my minde concerning such a matter, as Zach. 2. 12.

my name] That it might be dedicated to me, for a place of my worship, and for service to be performed to me therein, Deut. 12. 11.

but I chose David] Till I chose, 1 Chron. 28. 4. He means not onely a choice of Davids person, but also his stock and posterity. God did not so chuse Saul, 2 Sam. 7. 15, 27. 2 Sam. 7. 8.

V. 17. in the heart] He purposed. So 1 Sam. 7. 3. 1 Chron. 22. 7.

V. 18. thou didst well] A phrase of approbation. That God approved this purpose of David, is evident by the promise he made thereupon, 2 Sam. 7. 11, &c.

V. 19. out of thy loyns] Whom thou shalt beget, 2 Sam. 7. 12. Gen. 35. 11.

V. 20. am risen up] Do succeed. My father being dead, I in his room am set on his throne.

promised] 2 Sam. 7. 12, &c. 1 Chron. 28. 5.

V. 21. for the ark] See vers. 6.

the covenant] The two tables of stone (vers. 9) wherein the law that God gave as a covenant to his people, was written.

V. 22. stood] Upon a scaffold, 2 Chro. 6. 13. 2 King. 11. 14. and 23. 3. After he had there stood a while, he kneeled down, vers. 54. standing, sets forth the erection of his spirit, and stedfastnesse of faith in God: kneeling, the humiliation of his soul, and acknowledgement of Gods supreme Sovereignty: spreading forth hands, an expectation of blessing, and readinesse to receive it. This was an usuall gesture of prayer in those times, Isai. 1. 15.

before the Altar] 2 Chron. 6. 12. Of burnt offering: for he himself was in the court where the people stood; but at the door of the temple where the altar stood, turning himself towards the temple, because he made his prayer to God.

V. 23. before thee] See chap. 2. v. 4.

V. 24. kept] Begun to keep: For he prayeth for a further keeping, v. 25.

with thy mouth] Or, with thy hand: He speaketh of God figuratively after the manner of man for teaching sake.

V. 25. There shall not fail thee a man in my sight] Chap. 2. 4. 2 Sam. 7. 12. Heb. There shall not be cut off unto thee a man from my sight. There shall ever be some descending from thee by lineall descent, to sit on thy throne. See 2 Chron. 21. 7. This was especially fulfilled in Christ, Luke 1. 32, 33.

so that] Heb. onely if.

V. 27. But will God] An emphaticall admiration of Gods goodnesse in vouchsafing his presence in any place on earth, 2 Chron. 2. 6. To speak properly, God cannot be contained within any compasse, as the words following shew, Acts 7. 49. He is infinite.

heaven of heavens] That which compasseth about all the other heavens, and is the most spacious place that ever was created. It is called the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2.

V. 28. thy servant] He meaneth himself. It is a title (as here used) of reverence and confidence, as Psal. 116. 16.

and supplication] Prayer importeth petition for good things: supplication, a desire of pardon of sin, and of removing evils: a cry noteth the earnestnesse of desire.

V. 29. thine eyes] Another phrase applyed to God after the manner of man, as verse 24. The meaning is, That God would shew that he taketh speciall notice of all things done in that house, by hearing all manner of prayers in it, or towards it. See Psal. 33. 18. and 34. 15. The like may be said of Gods hearkning, or being attent with his ears, 2 Chro. 6. 40.

this house] For it was an especiall type of Christ.

night and day] Continually.

My name shall be there] See vers. 16. Deut. 12. 11.

towards this place] Or, in this place. See verse 44.

V. 30. towards this place] Or, in this place.

V. 31. trespasse] Be suspected to have done wrong, as Num. 5. 14.

and an oath be laid upon him] Heb. and he require an oath of him. He means an oath of execration.

be laid upon him] By a Judge, Exod. 22. 8.

and the oath] The man that taketh the oath.

before thine altar] Which was a sign of Gods presence there. Thither was he brought, to work in him the more fear of Gods presence, Num. 9. 16. The swearers laying his hand on a Book, among us, is to work the greater fear.

V. 32. in heaven] Though thou beest in heaven, yet shew that thou heerest things on earth.

his way] His just desert, Ezek. 9. 10. Or, such measure as he would have mete unto others.

V. 33. smitten down] Overcome. Mention is made of four cases, in regard of enemies. First, when enemies smite them down in the field. Secondly, when enemies besiege them, v. 37. Thirdly, when God sends them out against enemies, vers. 44. Fourthly, when enemies carry them into captivity, verse 46.

thy name] Thy justice, in giving them over to the enemy. See Josh. 7. 19.

in] Or, towards.

V. 35. heaven] The lowest heaven, where clouds are.

shut] When clouds let down rain, the heavens are said to be opened, Deut. 28. 12. and shut, when there is no rain, Deut. 11. 12. yea, they are said to be as iron, which melts not, when there is no rain, Levit. 26. 19.

V. 36. that thou teach them] By that affliction: Or, when thou shalt have taught them (as 2 Chron. 6. 26.) and so they have learned the end and use of thy judgements, Isai. 26. 9.

good way] Right course prescribed in Gods word: good, because pleasing to God and profitable to themselves.

V. 37. in the land] Of Israel.

V. 39. according to his wayes] According to the present course which he taketh, namely, of repentance.

V. 41. a stranger] Willing to associate himself with the people of God.

far countrey] As Matth. 2. 1. and 12. 42. Act. 8. 27.

for thy names sake] To worship and praise thee, having heard of thee, and of thy great works, whereby he knoweth and beleeveth thee to be the onely true God: As Exod. 12. 38. and 18. 11, 12. Josh. 2. 9. See chap. 5. vers. 1.

V. 42. hand, arm] See verses 24. and 29. The mighty power of God is set out by these metaphors, as Ps. 136. 12. Jere. 32. 17.

V. 43. this house which I have builded, is called by thy name] Heb. thy name is called upon this house. The temple of the LORD (as Gen. 48. 16.) and that it is not in vain so called.

V. 44. go out] In a just cause, warranted by Gods word.

thou shalt send] Gods warrant for the war which is intended, is a good ground of faith in Gods assistance, and of praying for it.

toward the citie] Heb. the way of the city. When they cannot come to it: testifying thereby, that all there confidence is placed in the true God, whose presence is in an especiall manner manifested in that temple, a type of Christ.

the city] Jerusalem, Dan. 6. 10. The city is mentioned because the temple was built in it, vers. 1 and chap. 11. v. 36.

V. 45. their cause] Or, right. Their just and righteous cause, by giving good successe, Psal. 9. 4. and 140. 13. see vers. 49.

V. 46. for there is no man that sinneth not] 2 Chron. 6. 36. Eccles. 7. 20. 1 John 1. 8, 10.

V. 47. bethink themselves]. Heb. bring back to their heart] Call to minde their sins.

V. 49. their

V. 49. their cause] Or, right. Take part with thy people that repent, and pray against the unjust oppression of their enemies, Isai. 10. 6, 7. and 47. 6. Zach. 1. 15.

V. 50. give them compassion] Procure pitty, grace, and favour for them. Turn the heart of their enemies toward them, Gen. 39. 21. and 43. 14. Examples, Ezra 7. 6. Nehe. 2. 2. Esth. 2. 9, 17. and 6. 10. and 10. 2, 3. Dan. 1. 9, 17. and 2 48, 49. Psal. 106. 46.

V 51. furnace of iron] Hard and cruell oppression. See Deut. 4. 20. Isai. 48. 10. A furnace to melt iron in useth to be the hottest. See Jerem. 11. 4.

V. 57. with us] Oft was this promised, Deut. 31. 6, 8. Josh. 1. 5. 1 Chron. 28. 20. Mark the inferences made hereupon, Rom. 8. 31. Heb. 13. 5, 6.

V. 58. incline] Psal. 9. 36. Otherwise nothing can be well done, 2 Cor. 3. 5.

wayes] See chap. 2. v. 3.

V. 59. nigh] Ever in his minde and memory.

the cause] See v. 45.

his servant] Solomon, as v. 28.

at all times] Heb. the thing of a day in his day. Day after day. The Hebrew phrase is translated daily (Exod. 5. 13, 19. Dan. 1. 5.) every day (Exod. 16. 4.) upon his day (Levit. 23. 37.) as every dayes work required (1 Chron. 16. 37.) after a certain rate every day (2 Chron. 8. 13.) as the duty of every day required, 2 Chron. 8. 14.

V. 60. may know that the Lord is God] Deut. 4. 35, 39.

V. 61. perfect] Entire, in a sincere subjection of it self wholly, and onely to God, 1 Chro. 28. 9. and 29. 19. 2 King. 20. 3. This is the best and greatest perfection that in this world can be attained unto. See Gen. 17. 1.

as at this day] Still, from time to time continually, as now ye do.

V. 62. the king, and all Israel with him, offered, &c.] 2 Chr. 7. 4.

V. 63. two and twenty thousand, &c.] The greatest that we read of. Great sacrifices are mentioned, 1 Chro. 29. 21. 2 Chr. 15. 11. and 29. 32. and 30. 24. and 35. 7, 8, 9. But none like this. By the multitude of sacrifices, pious Jews were wont to testifie their zealous and gratefull affection to God: wherein hypocrites would make shew of imitating them, Mic. 6. 7.

and all] They also brought oxen and sheep, and so made up the foresaid number.

dedicated] By their joynt prayers, praises, and sacrifices.

V. 64. The same day did the king] 2 Chron. 7. 7. By the ministery of the priests.

hallow] Set apart to that holy service, Exod. 13. 2, 12.

the middle] Of the priests court: either by erecting other altars there, for that present use, or by using the pavement in steed of an altar.

burnt-offerings, &c.] Under these three heads, all ordinary sacrifices are comprised: as Josh. 22. 23. Of burnt-offerings, see Levit. 1. of meat-offerings, see Levit. 2. of peace-offerings, see Levit. 3. See chap. 3. 15.

V. 65. at that time] At the dedication of the temple.

a feast] Beside the feast of tabernacles, v. 2. See on 1 Chr. 16. 3.

from the entring] Which came from all coasts of the land, even from north to south.

Hamath] The utmost part of Canaan on the north, Numb. 13. 22. and 34. 7, 8.

river of Egypt] On the south. Numb. 34. 3, 5. Josh. 13. 3. See chap. 4. 21.

seven and seven] Seven for the feast of tabernacles, Levit. 23. 34. and seven for the dedication, 2 Chron. 7. 9. See the notes on 1 Chron. 15. 26.

V. 66. the eighth day] After the second feast, being the three and twentieth of the seventh moneth, 2 Chron. 7. 10. For on the two and twentieth day, an holy convocation was enjoyned, Levit. 23. 36.

blessed] Thanked him, and prayed to God for him.

David] Davids house and posterity, according to the promise made to David himself.

CHAP. IX.

Vers. 1. It came to passe when Solomon had finished the building of the house of the Lord] 2 Chron. 7. 11.

(and the kings house, and all Solomons desire, which he was pleased to do) This latter part of the verse must be included in a parenthesis, for the second verse depends on the former part. To make up the sence of the latter part, the principall verb may be repeated, and thus added, he finished.

V. 2. second time] See chap. 6. v. 11.

as he had appeared] Chap. 3. 5. In the night, 2 Chron. 7. 12.

V. 3. I have hallowed] Set it apart to those holy uses for which thou hast prayed, Gen. 2. 3.

my name] See chap. 8. v. 16.

mine eyes] See chap. 8. 29.

mine heart] I will not onely take notice of the prayers made and services done in this house, but also set my heart thereon, and manifest my grace and favour therein.

V. 4. if thou wilt] See chapter 2. vers. 4. and 3. 14. and 6. 12, 13.

V. 5. establish] Make to continue: so as no other stock, but thine, shall sit thereon, Chap. 2. 4. and 8. 25. 2 Sam. 7. 16.

for ever] See chap. 8. 13.

as I promised to David thy father] 2 Sam. 7. 12. 1 Chron. 22. 10.

V. 6. at all turn] Heb. turning, turn. Clean turn away, obstinately, totally.

from following me] Heb. from after me; If ye shall renounce me, and my service: as servants who are weary of their master, and will no longer follow him, 1 King. 18. 21.

V. 7. I will cut off] As a tree stocked up: root and branches, 2 King. 17. 20.

for my name] Vers. 3. Jerem. 7. 14.

out of my sight] Out of my protection and favour. This is directly contrary to the promised blessing, vers. 3.

a proverb] Such as this, worse then a Jew. To other painfull judgements, shame and disgrace shall be added, Deut. 28. 37. Jerem. 24. 9.

V. 8. astonished], Through horrour.

hisse] In derision and scorn, Jere. 19. 8. Lam. 2. 15.

Why hath the Lord done thus unto this land, and to this house?] Deut. 29. 24. Jerem. 22. 8.

V. 9. they forsook] The very heathen detest apostasie, as justly deserving severe vengeance. See Jerem. 2. 11. Lam. 4. 15.

therefore] Gods judgements appear just in all mens eyes.

V. 10. it came to passe at the end of twenty yeers, when Solomon had built the two houses] 2 Chron. 8. 1.

house of the Lord] In seven yeers, Chap. 6. v. 38.

the kings house] In thirteen yeers, chap. 7. v. 1. under the kings house, the queens house (chap. 7. 8.) the house of Lebanon (chap. 7. 1.) and the appurtenances to them, are comprised.

V. 11. Galilee] That which is stiled Galilee of the Gentiles. Isai. 9. 1. Matth. 4. 15. So called, because it was, before Davids time, inhabited by Gentiles, and because it bordered upon the Gentiles, namely upon Tyrus. See the notes on Josh. 19. 27. Or, Galilee may be taken appellatively for a circuit of land, (Joel 3. 4.) and applyed to such cities, as without the land of Israels inheritance, might not be alienated.

V. 12. pleased him not] Heb. were not right in his eyes. Gave him no content. Therefore he returned them back again to Solomon, 2 Chron. 8. 2. See the notes on Joshua 19. vers. 27.

V. 13. What cities] This interrogation importeth a dislike.

my brother] Kings are brothers in office, Chap. 20. 32.

Cabul] That is, displeasing, or, dirty.

unto this day] This phrase implieth a perpetuall continuance of a thing, as Gen. 26. 33. at least till the time of writing this history.

V. 14. sent] Upon compact, and that time after time, while he was building the foresaid houses: not all at once.

a hundred and twenty talents] The Jews had two talents, one sacred, the other common. The sacred was in weight and worth, as much more as the common. The sacred in gold was reputed to be three thousand seven hundred and fifty pound in value. The common, one thousand eight hundred seventy and five pound; multiply either of these one hundred and twenty times, and the quantitie will be found to be very great. See the notes on 1 Chron. 22. 14.

V. 15. levy] Of men, as chap. 5. 13. Because he had such plenty of money, and of all things fit to accomplish great works, he made great levies of men. This very word is applyed (v. 21.) to such men as he used for his works.

Millo] According to the Hebrew notation, it signifieth a fulnesse, or a place filled up. Some thereupon take it to be an high strong bulwark filled up with earth: Others, for a spacious place for people that attended the kings court to meet in. It is called an house, 2 King. 12. 20. and it appears to be an house of defence, or a fort, because in danger of enemies

Hezekiah repaired it, 2 Chron. 32. 5. It was in Zion which David won from the Jebusites. See on 2 Sam. 5. 7, 9. Solomon (both here and Chap. 11. 27.) is said to build it, in that he so repaired, and beautified it, as he made it as a new one.

Hazor] In the tribe of Nephthali, Josh. 19. 32, 36. See Josh. 11. 10, &c.

Megiddo] In the tribe of Manasseh, Josh. 17. 11. Judg. 1. 27.

Gezer] In the tribe of Ephraim, belonging to the Levites, Josh. 21. 21. 1 Chron. 6. 67.

V. 16. taken Gezer] For the Canaanites and Philistines held it at that time, Judg. 1. 29. 1 Sam. 27. 8. 1 Chron. 20. 4.

V. 17. the nether] Two Beth-horons, the nether and upper, are bounded, Josh. 16. 3, 5. See 2 Chro. 8. 5. The nether was in the tribe of Benjamin, Josh. 18. 11, 13. The upper in the tribe of Ephraim, Josh. 16. 5. and appertaining to the Levites, Josh. 21. 22.

V. 18. Baalath] In the tribe of Dan, Josh. 19. 44.

Tadmor] In the coast of Syria.

in the wilderness] In a dry and sandy place.

in the land] Of Israel, though at the utmost coasts thereof. This clause (in the land) may be referred to all the fore-mentioned places.

V. 19. of store] Of ammunition, provision, and all manner of preparation for war, navigation, food, clothing, and other necessaries, as Exod. 1. 11.

that which Solomon desired] Heb. the desire of Solomon which he desired.

in Lebanon] See Chap. 7. 2.

V. 20. left] See Judg. 1. 21, 27, 29, 30, 31, 33. and 2. 23.

V. 21. levy] See vers. 15. and 21. Chap. 5. 13.

V. 22. make no bond-men] Levit. 25. 39.

men of war] Trained up to that noble discipline.

servants of Solomon] Imployed in free and honourable functions, ordained by Solomon, and they and their posterity thereupon stiled Solomons servants, Ezra 2. 55. Nehe. 7. 57. These are opposed to the bondmen.

V. 23. five hundred and fifty] In 2 Chron. 8. 10. but two hundred and fifty, for five hundred did serve by turns: two hundred and fifty at a time. These are mentioned, 2 Chron. 8. 10. Fifty were over those rulers in their course, to take account of the five hundred, the whole reckoned up together, make five hundred and fifty. See the notes on Chap 5. v. 16.

V. 24. Pharaohs daughter came up out of the city of David] 2 Chron. 8. 11.

city of David] See Chap. 3. 1.

her house] See Chap. 7. v. 8.

Millo] See vers. 15.

V. 25. three times] At the three great feasts: the Passeover, the feast of weeks, and the feast of tabernacles, Deut. 16. In 2 Chron. 8. 16. it appears that he offered sacrifices at sundry other times: but these he observed most solemnly and constantly.

offer] By the ministery of the priests: for note 2 Chron. 26. 16.

the altar which, &c.] The great brasen altar, Chap. 8. v. 62.

upon] Heb. upon it.

before the Lord] Before the ark in the oracle, which was a representation of Gods presence.

V. 26. Ezion-geber, Eloth] Two places in the wilderness, where the Israelites had there stations, Deut. 2. 8. They were both sea-havens by the red-sea.

shore] Heb. lip.

V. 27. sent in the navy] The navy was Solomons, and the ships thereof made by his appointment. Where it is said (2 Chron. 8. 18.) that Hiram sent Solomon, by the hands of his servants, ships, the meaning is, that Hiram conducted or guided Solomons ships, by the skill and industry of his servants. For the word translated, sent, signifieth also to conduct, guide, or bring on the way, Gen. 18. 16.

V. 28. Ophir] An Island in the Indies, where the most precious gold is to be had. Hereupon the finest gold is stiled gold of Ophir, Job 22. 24. 28. 16. Psal. 45. 9. Isai. 13. 12. It is also stiled gold of Parvaim, 2 Chron. 3. 6. This is supposed to be in Havilah, Gen. 2. 11. It is called perfections of gold, 2 Chron. 4. 21.

four hundred and twenty] In 2 Chron. 8. 18. mention is made of four hundred and fifty. Answ. Four hundred and twenty talents were brought to Solomon: the thirty overplus was for all manner of charges.

talents] See the note on vers. 14.

CHAP. X.

Vers. 1. Queen of Sheba] 2 Chron. 9. 1. Luke 11. 31. Sheba was a countrey on the south from Jerusalem, far remote, in the uttermost parts of the earth; (Matth. 12. 42.) It was a place that afforded store of gold, and sweet spices, and precious stones, Psal. 72. 15. Ezek. 27. 22. see v. 2.

name of the Lord] For the report went (as the truth was, Chap. 3. 12.) that the LORD had inspired him with more then ordinary wisedom.

to prove] To get evidence of his understanding and wisdom.

hard questions] Dark speeches, (Numb. 12. 8.) dark sentences (Dan. 8. 23.) proverbs (Hab. 2. 6.) riddles, Judg. 14. 15.

V. 2. train] Multitude of attendants, called her servants, v. 13. See Gen. 50. 9.

was in her heart] Which she had before purposed, or then came into her minde.

V. 3. told] Resolved, and expounded her doubts: or such obscure and difficult cases as she propounded.

questions] Heb. words.

V. 4. wisedom] Effects and evidences of his wisdom.

the house] Of the LORD, together with his other houses.

V. 5. the meat] That varietie and plenty of dishes set upon his table, and the discreet ordering of all.

sitting] A word of dignity and honour, opposed to standing: For by servants, he meaneth counsellors of state, peers, and other chief officers, who all were servants to the king: yet opposed to ministers, or attendants.

attendance] Heb. standing.

apparel] Whereby they were distinguished one from another, according to their degrees. See the notes on 2 Chron. 9. 4.

cup-bearers] Or, butlers: In regard of the plenty and variety, both of plate and drink, which they set out.

ascent] A stately gallery, or causway, or terrace, whereby he ascended out of his palace into the temple. See verse 12. A like thing is mentioned, Ezek. 44. 3. and 46. 2. This is called the kings entry, 2 King. 16. 18. and the entrance out of it into the temple, the kings gate, 1 Chron. 9. 18.

spirit] She was so astonished, as if she had been in a swoon.

V. 6. report] Heb. word.

acts] Or, sayings.

V. 7. was told me] Of the greatnesse of thy wisdom, &c. 2 Chron. 9. 6.

thy wisdom and prosperity exceedeth the fame] Heb. thou hast added wisdom and goodnesse to the fame.

prosperity] Good which by thy wisdom thou hast done.

V. 8. thy men] Thy subjects.

which stand] Attend and wait, as Deut. 1. 38. Prov. 22. 29. These were more neer him.

hear] As Luke 11. 28.

V. 9. the Lord] She knew that such wisedom must needs come from above, and thereupon blesseth him. See chap. 5. vers 7.

delighted in thee] Set his favour on thee.

throne] Over the realm of Israel. It is called Gods throne, (2 Chr. 9. 8.) because, first, All powers are of God (Rom. 13. 1.) and kings reign by him (Prov. 8. 15.) and kings bear his image, and are in his stead, (Psal. 82. 6.) Secondly, God after an especiall manner reigneth in his church: there is his throne (Exod. 19. 5, 6. Psal. 132. 13, 14.) Thirdly, Solomon was by God himself deputed to be king, 1 Chron. 28. 5.

for ever] To establish them for ever, 2 Chron. 9. 8. This is true of Israel after the flesh, so long as it remained a true church: and of Israel after the spirit, everlastingly without end.

to do judgement and justice] In executing judgement to deal justly, 2 Sam. 8. 15.

V. 10. gave] Freely, as a royall queen. See Psal. 72. 10.

talents] See chap. 9. 14.

V. 11. navy of Hiram] Distinct from Solomons navy, verse 22.

almug-trees] Other then the algum-trees, mentioned 2 Chr. 2. 8. (though that name be applyed to these, 2 Chro. 9. 10.) For the algum grew in Lebanon, the almug in India. They were to be had again, these not so, as appears in the next verse. It was such as is mentioned, Revel. 18. 12. if not the same.

V. 12. pillars] Or, rails. Heb. a prop. Supporters on each side of the gallery that led from the kings palace to the temple. See verse 5.

almug-trees] 2 Chron. 9. 10.

nor seen] In Judah, 2 Chron. 9. 11.

V. 13. of his royall bounty] Heb. according to the hand of king Solomon. In recompence of her bounty to him, vers. 10. For he would exceed her every way. See 2 Chron. 9. 12.

V. 14. in one yeer] One after another, or every yeer.

talents of gold] See chap. 9. 14.

V. 15. merchant-men] Factors, or customers.

of the traffick] For suffering such to bring in some, and export other commodities.

kings] That paid him tribute, being subdued by David. Many also gave gifts on good-will and gratitude, 2 Chron. 9. 24.

of Arabia] See 2 Chron. 17. 11.

governours] Or, captains.

of the land] Of that countrey, namely Arabia. They all brought gold and silver, 2 Chron. 9. 14.

V. 16. targets] Such as captains were wont to have carried before them.

of beaten gold] To give evidence of the abundant plenty of gold which he had.

shekels] The root from whence the Hebrew word cometh, signifieth to weigh or poize. Our english word, skale, may thence be taken. Where mention is made of silver or gold, and no word of quantity expressed; a shekel useth to be understood, as here. See on Judg. 16. 5. A shekel of silver was in weight, half an ounce; in worth, two shillings and six pence. The Jews prized gold at ten times more in worth: so as half a shekel in gold was twenty and five shillings. By this account, every target weighed twenty five pound troy: and it was worth seven hundred and fifty pound sterling. See the notes on 2 Chro. 22. 14.

V. 17. shields] Or, bucklers: A shield was lesse then a target: Men use to carry it on their left arms for defence.

three pound] A pound is twelve ounces: an ounce of gold was by the Jews esteemed worth fiftie shillings sterling. One pound weight worth thirty pound. Thus every shield worth ninty pound.

of Lebanon] See chap. 7. v. 2. For civill state, this was the most sumptuous work that Solomon made; and his magnificence therein most manifested: and therefore those glorious targets and shields there set: Onely it is probable that they were oft carried before Solomon, as the like of brasse, before his son, chap 14. 28.

V. 18. throne] A seat proper to a king (Gen 41. 40.) thereon to sit in state, chap. 22. 10. and to exercise judgement, chap. 7. 7. Psal. 9. 4, 7.

ivory] Heb. tooth: Meaning elephants tooth (verse 22.) which is ivory. Herewith stately things were wont to be garnished; as houses (1 King. 22. 39. Amos 3. 15.) palaces (Psal. 45. 9.) benches (Ezek. 27. 6.) beds (Amos 6. 4.) vessels (Revel. 18. 12.)

overlaid] Not, as the sacred things of the oracle, all over, but with such curious and artificiall work, as the white ivory, and yellow gold gave a fair lustre one to the other: as Prov. 25. 11.

V. 19. behinde] Heb. on the hinder part thereof.

stayes] Heb. hands.

stayes] And a foot-stool of gold, 2 Chron. 9. 18.

V. 20. the] Heb. so.

V. 21. none were of silver] Or, there was no silver in them.

nothing accounted of] An hyperbolicall speech; for silver was brought to him, time after time, by ship (verse 22.) and given him as an acceptable present, vers. 25. But by this phrase the great abundance which he had, both of silver and gold, is amplified. See vers. 27.

V. 22. of Tharshish] That went to Tharshish, 2 Chron. 20. 36. Jerem. 10. 9. Ezek. 27. 12.

ivory] Or, elephants teeth.

apes and peacocks] Or monkies and parrets. Birds and beasts of remote countries have in all ages been accounted precious commodities for rarity sake.

V. 23. exceeded] Chap. 4. v. 30. See the promise, chap. 3. v. 12, 13.

V. 24. all the earth] All kings of the earth, 2 Chro. 9. 23.

sought] Heb. sought the face of.

V. 25. a rate yeer by yeer] Or, the thing of the yeer in the yeer. A like phrase concerning day after day, is used, ch. 8. 59. Every yeer they brought their present, and that which was seasonable for the yeer.

V. 26. And Solomon gathered together charets, and horsemen] 2 Chron. 1. 14.

a thousand and four hundred] See chap. 4. 26. Whereas in 2 Chron. 9. 25. mention is made of four thousand stalls and charets: conceive that the number of four thousand hath especiall relation to stalls: now there being in each stall four horses for every charet, the four thousand stalls will well stand with a thousand charets: as for the four hundred charets overplus, they might be in a readinesse when any of the other were out of repair.

and with the king] He ordered that some of them should be in his own court, or neer it.

V. 27. made] Heb. gave.

silver] And gold too, 2 Chron. 1. 15.

as stones] See vers. 21.

sycomore] Trees that grew in every field, and hedge-row, as abundantly as oaks and elms with us, 2 Chron. 9. 27.

V. 28. And Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt] 1 Chron. 1. 16. and 9. 28. Heb. And the going forth of the horses which was Solomons. Which had great plenty of choice horses (Isai. 31. 1.) and fine flax, Gen. 41. 42. Prov. 7. 16. Ezek. 27. 7.

at a price] By compact with the king of Egypt.

V. 29. a chariot] Drawn with four horses, or so many horses as use to draw a chariot, which are four.

six hundred shekels] The price of four horses: or of the linen drawn in a chariot.

an horse for an hundred and fifty] The fourth part of six hundred.

so for all] Other kings bordering upon Solomons kingdom had horses and other commodities by the same means.

by their means] Heb by their hand.

CHAP. XI.

Vers. 1. Loved] Unduly, and immoderately.

many] So many, as the like not heard of any other, contrary to the law, Deut. 17. 17.

strange] That were not Israelites, but of other nations, out of the covenant, by law forbidden, v. 2.

together with] Or, besides. Not content with her that had been long his wife. See chap. 3. v. 1.

Moabites] Nations round about him.

V. 2. the Lord said] Exod. 34. 16. Deut. 7. 3. Josh. 23. 12. Under the particular nations mentioned in the law, all other out of the covenant are comprised, Gen. 34. 14.

go in] A modest marriage phrase, Gen. 6. 4. and 38. 2, 8.

clave] Inordinately, Gen. 34. 3.

V. 3. seven hundred wives] Whom he solemnly married.

princesses] Such were some, before he married them, as Pharaohs daughter: Others he made such.

concubines] Nor wives, nor whores: but in a kinde of middle condition. Not wives, because not solemnly married, not endowed with dowry or joynter: nor had their children any right of inheritance: Gen. 21. 10. and 25. 6. Not whores, because taken by a man to be his alone, as wives, and none others, and in this respect oft stiled Wives, as Gen. 25. 1, 6. 1 Chron. 1. 32. Gen 30. 4. and 35. 22. Judg. 19. 1. Concubines therefore were a kinde of wives, but in an inferiour degree, see the notes on Judg. 19. 1, 2. and on Gen. 22. 24. and 30. 4. It is probable, in regard of the seven hundred wives, and three hundred concubines here mentioned, that Solomon dealt with many of them, as Ahashuerosh did with many of the maidens that went in to him, She came in to the king no more, except the king delighted in her, Esth. 2. 14.

turned away his heart] From the LORD, to their idols; vers. 4.

V. 4. old] Betwixt fifty and threescore. Take him to be about twenty when he began to reign (for he had a son of a yeer old, chap. 14. 21.) He had reigned more then three yeers before he began to build (chap. 6. 1.) He was twenty yeers in building his great works (chap. 9. 10.) These summed up, make fourty three. Some yeers must be added to all these for spreading his fame thorowout the world, and for the queen of Sheba's, and other kings coming to him, to hear his wisdom, and departing from him: and for his continuing in the services of the temple: yea, and for gathering together a thousand wives and concubines: and for that boldnesse they took to turn away his heart.

V. 5. Ashtoreth] This being a word of the feminine gender, is by most taken for the goddesse Venus; and because there were sundry sorts of idols stiled Venus: the plurall number is oft used, Judg. 2. 13. 2 King. 23. 13. As Baalim is taken for all manner of gods, so may Ashteroth for all manner of goddesses: And in this large extent are these two words oft joyned together, Judg. 10. 6. 1 Sam. 7. 4. and 12. 10. The Hebrew notation implieth, that this idol was set out in the shape of a sheep. See more on Judg. 2. 13.

Milcom] This idol is stiled Molech, v. 7. It is like to be that idol to which children were sacrificed. See the notes on Levit. 18. 21. and 20. 2. Jerem. 32. 35. according to the notation of the Hebrew word, it signifieth a king, and by the heathen, was accounted one of the chief of their idols: most apply it to Saturn. Such idols were Adrammelech, and Anammelech, 2 King. 17. 31.

abomination] Because as other idols, (verse 7.) it was most abominable: and also among other idols, it was the most abominable, by reason of the sacrificing of children to it.

V. 6. went not fully after] Heb. fulfilled not after.

V. 7. high place] See chap. 3. 4.

Chemosh] This idol is taken for Bacchus, and said to be worshipped in secret and dark places, as Ezek. 8. 12. These three were the worst of idols. See chap. 15. 13.

Moab] So Numb. 21. 29. Jere. 48. 13. If it be objected, that Chemosh is said to be the god of the Ammonites. I answer, That neighbouring countries did oft worship one anothers god: And in this respect, the god of one countrey may also be called the god of another.

hill] Mount of Olives, 2 Sam. 15. 30. mount of corruption (2 Kings 23. 13.) because it was a place of corrupting the Jews.

before Jerusalem] In the sight of the holy city, where the temple was: so as the true worshippers of God, and idolaters which had appeared unto him twice] Chap.3.5. and 9.2. Job 42.6

V. 10. had commanded him concerning this thing] Chap. 6. 12. and 9.6.

V.11. is done of thee] Heb. is with thee.

I will surely rend] Heb. rending I will rend.

the kingdom] The greater part of it, v.31. See v.13.

thy servant] Jeroboam, v. 29.

V. 12. for Davids sake] By reason of my promise to him, 2 Sam.7.16. See 2 King.13.23.

thy son] Rehoboam, Chap.12. 16,17. we read not of any other son that Solomon had, though he had seven hundred wives, and three hundred concubines; and this son was born long before he had so many wives, Chap.14. v.21. See Hos.4.10.

V.13. one tribe] Judah, with Benjamin (Chap.12. 21, 23.) for Benjamin bordered on Judah, Josh. 18.11. and in it was Jerusalem, Judg.1.21. So much also of Simeon as lay within Judah (Josh.19.1,9.) was comprised under Judah, and the Levites likewise, for they were no distinct tribe: and because their chief service was in the temple, they left their cities in the other tribes, and came to Jerusalem, 2 Chron.11.13,14. See chap.12.23.

David my servants sake] Verse 32.

for Jerusalems sake] To which I have made a promise, 2 Chron.6.6. See the Notes on v. 36.

V.14. the Lord] See the Notes on chap.12. v.15.

an adversary] Who would not submit himself to Solomon, nor pay tribute, as 2 King. 8.20. but did much mischief to Israel, v.25.

seed] Son.

V.15. it came to passe] These particular circumstances are not registred in the history of David, as we now have it; yet are they to be accounted most true, because they are here mentioned.

when David was in Edom] 2 Sam.8.14.

to bury] Such of the Israelites as were slain in the battell or siege.

every male] Of the city besieged, because they would not yeeld to reasonable conditions of peace, Deut.20.13.

V. 16. six moneths] From his first setting on the Edomites, till his full conquest of them.

V. 17. a little childe] Young, about twelve yeers old, Gen. 44.20. 1 King.3.7.

V. 18. Midian] Bordering upon Edom, Num. 22. 4. To Midian he first fled, and there sometime abode.

Paran] Betwixt Midian and Egypt, Gen.14.16. and 21.21.

took men] To come the better attended, and more like a kings sonne.

gave him, &c.] Courteously entertained him, and afforded unto him all things fit for present and future maintenance, and abode with him.

V.20. in Pharaoh's household] Trained up in the court.

V.21. David and Joab] The very names of these two were a terrour to him; but they being dead, he conceived some hope of freeing his nation.

Let me depart] Heb. Send me away.

V.22. Nothing] Heb. Not.

let me go] Heb. letting go, let me go. Nothing could detain him from prosecuting his purpose of freeing his countrey: what at first he could not effect, was in time brought to passe. He laid the foundation of an utter revolt, 2 King.8 20,22. whereby Isaac's prophesie (Gen.27.40.) was accomplished.

V.23. God] See v.14.

fled] When he discovered that David had the better, and that his master was like to be utterly overthrown, 2 Sam.8.3. Read the title of Psal.60.

V.24. gathered men] Such as were put to flight in that battell.

when David slew them of Zobah] 2 Sam.8.3. and 10.18.

slew] Had slain.

they went to Damascus] Where David had put a garison (2 Sam.8.6.) which they put out, and dwelt there. Damascus was a royall city in Syria, Isai.7.8.

reigned] Established Rezon to be king there.

V.25. an adversary] As Hadad, v.14.

all the days] Ever bearing ill will, but most manifesting it after Solomons apostasie; for note 1 King.5.4.

that Hadad] See v.14.

he abhorred] Hated in his heart, and took all occasions of doing mischief, like as Hadad did.

Syria] Heb. Aram: That countrey whereof Damascus was the chief city, and always at enmity with Israel.

V.26. Jeroboam the son of Nebat] 2 Chron.13.6.

an Ephrathite] Of the tribe of Ephraim. Elkanah was so called, because he dwelt in Ephraim, 1 Sam 1.1.

Solomons servant] One of his chief officers and counsellours, vers.28. The judgement was the greater, in that such a one was against him, and not strangers, v.11.

widow] The more likely to put an high minde into him, lift up his hand] Did that which offended the king, and made the king suspect his loyalty. This phrase sets out plain rebellion, 2 Sam.20.21.

V.27. the cause] One cause.

Millo] See Chap.9.15.

repained] Heb. closed.

V.28. mighty, &c.] The more fit to be the head of a faction.

was industrious] Heb. did work.

ruler] Thus he might the sooner know the complaints of people, and more readily draw them after him.

charge] Heb. burden.

Joseph] Ephraim and Manasseh. It is probable, that Solomon, to maintain the state of his seven hundred wives, and three hundred concubines, laid great taxes on his people (chap. 12.4.) which made them complain; and that, upon their complaint, Jeroboam might expostulate the case with the king, and the king thereupon eye Jeroboam, as Saul eyed David, 1 Sam. 18. 9.

V.29. And it came to passe] Another cause of the kings jealousie over Jeroboam, and of Jeroboams high thoughts against the king.

prophet] To distinguish him from the priest, 1 Sam.14. 3. from the Levite, 1 Chron.26.20. from the scribe, Chap.4.3. and from Baasha's father, chap.15.27.

Shilonite] He dwelt in Shiloh, chap.14.2. See chap.2.27.

he] The prophet Ahijah; for he might more boldly rend his own garment: and he himself, knowing what he was to do, might purposely put on a new garment.

new] To shew, that, though the kingdom were as a new garment, fresh and strong, yet it should be rent.

alone] Lest it might be too much divulged, 1 Sam. 9. 27. 2 King.9.6.

V.30. rent it] For a signe, to make him the more confidently believe it. So Isai.20.2. Ezek.24.24.

V.31. I will] See chap.12.15.

V.32. for my servant, &c.] See v.13.

V.33. Ashtoreth, &c.] See v.5,7.

V.34. whole] Nor any part, Psal.103.2.

make] Continue, preserve.

V. 35. I will take the kingdom out of his sons hand] Chap. 12.15.

V.36. a light] Heb. lamp, or candle. A royall glory in a successour, that, as a light, may shine before his people, and govern them, chap.15.4. 2 Sam.21.17. 2 King.8.19. Psal.132.17.

alway] See chap. 8. 13. In the Messiah this is most properly accomplished.

I have chosen, &c.] In that God appointed Jerusalem to be the place where his temple should be (2 Chron.3.1. and 6.6. Psal. 68.29. and 132.13. and 135.21.) God is said to chuse it, to put his Name there. See the Notes on chap. 8. 16. and on 2 Chron.6.6.

V.37. according, &c.] As a supream king, under no superiour on earth.

Israel] Distinguished from Judah.

V. 38. a sure house] A durable continuance of a stock or progenie. See chap.9.5. 1 Sam.2.35. 2 Sam.7.16.

V.39. not for ever] Sometimes there shall be good kings, who shall well prosper: they shall also be brought out of captivity; and, in the end, the Messiah shall reign most gloriously, Luk.1.35.

V.40. sought therefore] Because he discerned Jeroboams stout stomack, and heard of Ahijah's message to him.

Shishak] This was his proper and peculiar name; Pharaoh was a name common to all the kings of Egypt: Particular persons being kings of Egypt, had other titles added to Pharaoh for distinction sake; as Pharaoh Hophrah (Jer.44.30.) Pharaoh Necho (Jer.46.2.) It is probable that this Shishak was brother to Solomons wife, and son and heir to Pharaoh their father: but ignorant of the ease betwixt Solomon and Jeroboam, and so he might well afford courteous hospitality: or, he might be offended with Solomon for taking so many wives to his sister.

V.41. acts] Or, words, or things.

book] Large records, not part of canonicall scripture. See 2 Chron.9.29.

V.42. time] Heb. dayes.

fourty yeers] 2 Chron.9.30.

V.43. slept, &c.] See the Notes on 1 King.2.10.

Rehoboam] Matth.1.7, called Roboam.

CHAP. XII.

Vers.1. Rehoboam went to Shechem] 2 Chron. 10. 1. A city in the tribe of Ephraim, which belonged to the Levites (Josh.20.7.) in the midst of the land, most convenient for all the tribes to come unto: thither Joshua gathered all Israel; there Abimelech consulted about the kingdom, Judg. 9. 1.

for all] The reason why Rehoboam went thither, rather then to Jerusalem.

heard

to make him king] To crown him, and to perform such solemnities as were used at a kings coronation, if at least he would yeeld to their conditions, v.4.

V.2. Egypt] Chap.11.40.

heard of it] Of Solomons death, chap.11.v.40.

dwelt] Till that time, or he returned from Egypt, as 2 Chro. 10. 2.

V.3. they sent] Some of his speciall friends that conspired with him, had sent to him before-hand, while Rehoboam was solemnizing his fathers funerall rites; so Jeroboam had time to return to Israel, and to plot with his complices about the kingdom.

Jeroboam] He was the mouth of all Israel, having been a prime officer of Solomons counsell, who suffered in the peoples cause; being also a man of valour. See chap.11.v.26,28.

V.4. yoke] Chap.4.7. Service or subjection, Jer.27.8,11,12. Levit.26.13.

grievous] By hard services, and great taxes. This may have reference to that large provision which was taken out of all parts of the land to maintain the royalty of his court (chap.4. 7,2,23.) and to the great pains of multitudes of people about his buildings, and other affairs (chap.5.18. and 9.22.) But questionlesse there were other farre more grievous burdens laid on them after his apostasie, to maintain the royalty and idolatry of his seven hundred wives, all princesses, and three hundred concubines.

of thy father] Which thy father exacted of us.

serve thee] Accept thee for our king, and be subject to thee, vers.7.

V.5. Depart yet] This he said, to gain time for advice and counsell; which, in a case of so great importance, was a point of good prudence, had he not preferred the arrogant advice of unexperienced youths, before the grave counsell of well staid states-men.

V.6. old men] Ancient and experienced counsellours of state, called privie counsellors: Gen.50.7, elders of the land.

stood before] Were on all occasions called to advise with him, as Esth.1.14.

V.7. a servant] As a servant, yeeld to them.

and serve them] Do what they require, 2 Chron.10.7.

thy servants] Obedient subjects. See v.4.

V.8. young men] Unexperienced; stiled young, in opposition to the old men, v.6.

grown up with him] Been with him from time to time.

stood before him] Attended upon him.

V.9. What counsell] They who like not good counsell, are ready to seek for other counsell, to get some pretext to justifie their folly.

V.10. My little, &c.] A proverbiall and hyperbolicall speech. By little (for the word finger is not in the Hebrew, but yet fitly supplied) he means the least and weakest member of the body: By loins, the side, or thigh, or back, which are the greatest and strongest parts: whereby he implieth, That his power and courage farre surpassed his fathers. He alludes to his fathers youth, when the crown was first set on his head, chap.3.7. 1 Chron.22. 5. and to his own man-age, chap.14.21. Yet it is a speech full of great pride, boldnesse, folly and falshood.

V.11. with whips] Another proverbiall speech. Whips are cruell instruments of punishing, they use to be made with hard whip-cord knotted; they quickly fetch blood, and tear skin and flesh. Scorpions are venimous creatures with stings in their tails, whereby men are intolerably tortured, even unto death: There are also certain scourges of wyar, with knops of lead and sharp hooks or pricks at the ends of them, which are called scorpions. Some write of kindes of briers or thorns called scorpions. All these senses of the word tend to one and the same end, and imply, That he would handle them much more roughly and hardly then his father had done.

V.12. appointed] See v.5.

V.13. roughly] Heb. hardly; Not fore-seeing nor fearing what the issue of exasperating a people might be.

V.14. I will adde, &c.] Because the counsell of the young men pleased him, though it were very pernicious, he holds close to the very words thereof. Compare this with v.11.

V.15. the cause] Heb. circuit. This passage or event was ordered by the LORD; he suffered Rehoboam so to carry himself towards the people, to bring to passe what he had fore-told. So Gen.47.5,7.8 and 50.20. 2 Chron.25.20. Whatsoever in such cases is attributed to God, is to be taken as an act of justice done by the supreme and righteous judge: thus Am.3.6.

by Ahijah] Heb. by the hand of Ahijah; Chap.11.31. That is, by the ministery of Ahijah, Lev.8.36. Mal.1.1.

V.16. What?] This interrogative imports a strong negative; We have no porion at all.

portion] Benefit or advantage.

in David?] In Davids lineage or posterity: What good can we expect from Davids stock? Or what right hath it to us?

son of Jesse] A phrase of contempt, because Jesse, the father of David, was but a private man. They manifest herein great impiety against God, who raised David to do so much good for Israel as he did: they learned the phrase of an arch-rebell, 2 Sam.20.1.

to your tents] A phrase of apostasie from their former government: Depend no more on Davids stock, but every one look to his own house, v.24. Because of old they dwelt in tents, this phrase continued to be in use among them, Deut. 5. 30. Josh.22.4.

thine own house] That tribe whereof thou art.

David] Thou that art descended from David.

V.17. of Judah] And Benjamin. See chap.11. v.13.

V.18. who was over the tribute] By vertue of this office he had the more acquaintance with them, and might the better assure them that they should be eased in their tribute, and thereby pacifie them.

made speed to get up to his chariot] Heb. strengthned himself.

V.19. rebelled] Or, fell away: Revolted, as 2 King.1.1.

unto this day] See Chap.9.13.

V.20. they sent] After he saw a fair way made for him to be king, he with-drew himself (as Saul, 1 Sam.10.24.)

onely] Chap.11.13.

V.21. the kingdom] So much of it as had revolted.

the word of God came unto Shemaiah] 2 Chron.11.2.

the man of God] The prophet, 2 Chron.12.5,15. By this title he is distinguished from two false prophets, Jer.29.24. Neh.6,10. See Chap.13. v.1.

V.23. remnant] That dwelt in the tribe of Simeon, and priests, Levites and sundry others of other tribes, 2 Chron. 11. 13, 16. See Chap.11.13.

V.24. to his house] Be quiet, and follow every one his own affairs.

this thing is from me] Ordered and disposed by me, as v.15.

V.25. built] Made it a kinde of new city, a royall city. See Chap.9.15.

Penuel] Wherein there had been a strong towet, Judg.8. 9, 17.

V.26. said in his heart] Thought, imagined, Psal.14.1.

the kingdom] The people of this kingdom will revolt from me, and take Davids posterity for their king, as in the next verse.

V. 27. to do sacrifice] For this was the most principall and proper service of the temple, Deut.12.6. This usurper feared that piety to God might draw away peoples hearts from him.

V.28. two] For the peoples ease, that they might not travell too farre.

calves of gold] In imitation of their ancient progenitours idolatry, Ex.32.4. and those ancient Jews did so, in imitation of the Egyptians, among whom they had long lived, and where Jeroboam himself had lately lived, chap.11. v.40.

behold thy gods] A representation of thy god, as Exod.32.4.

V.29. Beth-el] A city in the tribe of Benjamin, the utmost coast of Israel on the south (Josh.18.22.) It signifieth, The house of God, because there God appeared to Jacob, Gen.28.12, 19. and there they worshipped God, Gen.12.8. and 35.7. But by reason of Jeroboams impiety, the prophet calls it Beth-aven, Hos.10.5. The inhabitants of this city severed themselves from others of Benjamin, and revolted to Jeroboam, whereby he had the opportunity to set up one of his calves here: it was recovered from Jeroboam even in his time, 2 Chron.13.19.

Dan] The city so called, Josh.19.47. Dan was in the utmost coast of Israel on the north.

V.30. a sinne] A most haynous sin, that which is most dishonourable to God, and of all sins, causeth a divorce betwixt God and his people: A sinne also whereby he drew all Israel from God, and made them sin, 2 King.17.21. this therefore is put into Jeroboams stile, 2 King.13.31. See the Notes on Chap.13.v.34.

to worship] To offer up their sacrifices, as v.32.

V.31. an house of high places] A large temple in an high hill, wherein were many altars, and other idolatrous monuments which use to be in high places; so as this temple was instead of many places. Chap.13.v.32. mention is made of houses, in the plurall number. In other places, the word house is left out, and onely high places mentioned, as Chap. 13.33. 2 King. 17.32. 2 Chron.11.15.

of the lowest] Meanest sort, Chap.13.33.

not of, &c.] Lest they, being entrusted in the law, should draw people to the temple in Jerusalem, v.27. His practice was expressly against the Law, Num.3.6,10.

V.32. a feast] For Israel, from their coming out of Egypt, had been accustomed to solemn and sacred feasts.

in the eighth moneth] A time of his own invention, none of the LORDS feasts were in that moneth, v.33.

feast that is in Judah] With like solemnity used in their feasts; or in particular, like to the feast of tabernacles, at which Solomon dedicated the temple, Chap.8.65.

offered upon the altar] Or, went up to the altar, &c.

sacrificing] Or, to sacrifice.

V. 33. So he offered upon the altar which he had made in Beth-el] Or, went up to the altar, &c. Jeroboams offerings at Beth-el are repeated repeated, to shew the time and occasion of the prophets reproving him in the next chapter.

he offered] Jeroboam himself, presumptuously, as 2 Chron. 26. 26.

and burnt incense] Heb. to burn incense.

CHAP. XIII.

A man of God] A prophet, v. 18. one inspired and sent by God, as chap. 12. 22.

to burn] Or, to offer; With his own hand, as chap. 12. 33.

V. 2. cried] With earnestnesse and boldnesse declared his message, Isai. 58. 1.

against the altar] To astonish the king the more, as Jer. 22. 29.

in the word, &c.] Inventing nothing of himself.

O altar, altar] An elegant and emphaticall expression of his message, as Isai. 29. 1. Under the term, altar, all his idolatrous worship is comprised, because offerings on that altar were principall parts thereof.

Behold] Though these things were accomplished three hundred and thirty yeers after this, yet they are as punctually in their particular circumstances set down, as if it had been, not a prediction of future things, but a narration of things past. Read 2 King. 22. 1, 2. and 23. 15, 16, 17.

Josiah by name] 2 King. 23. 16.

priests] See the accomplishing of this, 2 King. 23. 20.

V. 3. a signe] To assure them that heard him of the truth of his prophesie, Jer. 28. 9.

shall be rent] Presently, of it self, without any violence from another.

poured out] Shall with such violence fall out, as water poured down.

V. 4. put forth his hand] In anger, to have apprehended him.

dried up] By the flesh withering, and sinews shrinking.

V. 5. The altar] The event was every way answerable to the threatning.

V. 6. answered] In regard of Gods speaking to him by that signe.

the face] This is attributed to God after the manner of man: the face most manifesteth displeasure and anger, or good liking and favour. His meaning then is, That the prophet would beseech the LORD to turn away his anger, and then pray for his favour.

thy God] As Jon. 1. 6. This in opposition to his own idolls.

the Lord] Heb. the face of the Lord.

V. 7. Come home] Wonders work on the stoutest, and mollifieth them, Exod. 8. 8.

refresh] Heb. strengthen.

V. 8. half thine house] A proverbiall speech, Esth. 5. 3. Mar. 6. 23. like to Num. 22. 18.

in this place] In this city; for he denied, on this ground, to eat in the old prophets house, v. 16.

V. 9. nor turn] As one ashamed, or afraid, or failing of his purpose returns, 2 King. 19. 28.

V. 11. old] In yeers and office, yet not very faithfull, vers. 18.

prophet] Because he assumed that function, as 1 King. 18. 20. and God used his ministery, v. 10. as Num. 23. 5.

in Beth-el] There he had his habitation; but at that time he came from Samaria, 1 King. 23. 18. or had formerly dwelt in Samaria.

his sonnes] Heb. his some; First, one sonne told the news, then other of his sons confirmed the same: therefore the singular number is used in the first place, and afterward the plurall.

V. 12. had seen] Had observed, and thereupon told their father.

the asse] Those beasts were in those countreys used, as horses are now with us, Num. 22. 21. He was old, and knew not how far he might go before he might overtake the man of God, and therefore useth this help.

V. 14. sitting] For he was weary and hungry, as Christ, Joh. 4. 6.

V. 15. Come home] It is probable that the sons of the old man had told him how the man of God had refused to accept the kings invitation, so as he could not mean any good by this invitation.

V. 16. in this place] See v. 8.

V. 17. it was said] Heb. a word was. See v. 9.

V. 18. an angel] For God was wont to declare his minde to men by angels, Num. 22. 35.

lied] This was not the part of a prophet.

V. 19. he went back, &c.] Contrary to the expresse charge which he had before received (v. 9.) from which no angel should have drawn him, Gal. 1. 8.

V. 20. the word of the Lord] God can inspire wicked men, and use their ministery, Num. 23. 5. Joh. 11. 51.

V. 21. cried] Being, by an inward divine rapture, in a manner forced, though it were an evidence against his own former word. See v. 2.

V. 22. thy carcase, &c.] Thou shalt not die among thy kinred, nor be buried with thy progenitours. This was accounted a curse, 2 Chron. 21. 20.

V. 23. he] The man of God.

he saddled] The old prophet caused the asse to be sadled.

V. 24. met him] Ordered by the divine providence (v. 26.) as Chap. 20. 36. 2 King. 2. 24.

slew him] Judgement beginneth at the house of God, 1 Pet. 4. 17. and saints are signes, Ezek. 24. 24.

stood by] Being restrained from devouring it, as Dan. 6. 22. God in judgement remembred mercy, and gave this visible evidence of his souls salvation. So Levit. 10. 2, 5.

V. 25. in the city, &c.] In Beth-el, v. 11.

V. 26. the prophet, &c.] The old prophet, v. 18.

torn] Heb. broken.

torn him, and slain him] By biting him, slew him.

unto him] By my ministery.

V. 28. nor torn the asse] Not bit it, nor done any harm to it. When the lion had done what God appointed, it could do no more, nor to a carcase, nor to an asse, Job 38. 11. See the Dutch Annots torn] Heb. broken.

V. 29. took up] Or the lion, upon the prophets approach, went away; or the prophet, observing how the lion was restrained, took courage, and feared not the lion.

to mourn] So was the custom, for such as they respected, chap. 14. v. 13. To make some recompence for his former wrong, he now performeth all courteous offices.

V. 30. own grave] Not the man of God's fathers sepulchre, vers. 22.

they] The old prophet and his sons.

Alas] The beginning of a funerall-song.

V. 31. in the sepulchre] He believing that whatsoever the man of God had fore-told should be accomplished, thought that the bones of the man of God, if known, might be spared, and therefore appoints his body to be there laid, and a superscription to be engraven on the tomb-stone, to shew whose bones lay there, 2 King. 23. 17.

V. 32. houses] See Chap. 13. 21.

Samaria] A mountain. See Chap. 16. 24.

surely come to passe] Heb. being shall be. He believed what was foretold, v. 2, 3.

V. 33. this thing] All before set down.

evil way] Idolatrous courses.

made again] Heb. returned and made.

of the lowest of the people] Chap. 12. 31.

would] Offer himself.

consecrated him] Heb. filled his hand, Exod. 28. 41. The priests, at their consecration, laid their hands on the sacrifice, and in their hands took some part thereof when it was cut asunder, together with bread and oil: thus were their hands filled, Exod. 29. 9, 10, 23, 24. They also who brought gifts to the LORD, by such a filling of their hands, are said to be consecrated, 1 Chron. 29. 5. and they who executed the LORDS just revenge, Exod. 32. 29. Idolaters, in imitation of the LORDS ordinance, were wont to fill their hands with some sacrifice or gift, and thereby thought themselves sufficiently consecrated to their priestly function.

V. 34. this thing] Persisting in idolatrous courses.

became sinne] An indelible sin, a sin that could never be removed from his house, no nor from Israel, till they were destroyed. See the Notes on Chap. 12. 30.

to cut it off] As 1 King. 15. 29, 30.

CHAP. XIIII.

AT that time] While Jeroboam persisted in his idolatrous courses.

Abijah] The same name the king of Judah's son had, 2 Chr. 13. 1.

son] Eldest son, heir to the crown, as is supposed.

V. 2. Arise] A word of quickning, Gen. 13. 17.

disguise thy self] Every way, in attire, attendance, speech and behaviour.

not known] Nor by him, nor by the people.

Shiloh] See Chap. 11. v. 29.

told me] He therefore can tell before-hand what will fall out.

I should be king over this people] Chap. 11. 31.

V. 3. take] It was usuall to carry presents to prophets. See on 1 Sam. 9. 7, 8. 2 King. 8. 8.

with thee] Heb. in thine hand.

ten loaves, &c.] These are countrey commodities, to imply she was some countrey-woman.

cracknels] Or, cakes.

cruse] Or, bottle.

become

15.5.—anything—] The Scripture reports divers Failings of David; and questionless he had many that are not reported. Yet God would take notice but of One, knowing his Integrity.
Caryl, Job, 31.6. p. 354.

become] Whether he should recover or no: as 2 King. 3. 9.
childe] Of such age and discretion, as he could discern betwixt good and evill courses, and follow the one, and leave the other, v. 13.

V. 4. were set] Heb. stood for his hoarinesse. By reason of the withering and shrinking of the eye-strings, or nerves.

V. 5. a thing] What shall become of him, as v. 3.
thus and thus] As is expressed, v. 7, &c.
feign] By being disguised, as v. 2.

V. 6. sound] Treading, or trampling.
heavy] Heb. hard.

V. 7. I exalted] God hath an hand in ordering and turning to his own purposes the acts of wicked men, 1 Sam. 15. 17.
from among the people] Being before a subject, and one of the people. So chap. 16. 2.

V. 8. And rent] See chap. 11. 31. that onely] In the generall course of his life. See chapter 15. 5.

V. 9. above all] Saul made not such idols as the calves. Solomon made not all Israel to sin, chap. 12. 30.
other gods] For representations of gods are as gods.
cast me behinde] As one not regarded, thou hast scornfully rejected me, Ezek. 23. 35.

V. 10. I will bring evil upon the house of Jeroboam] Chapter 15. 29.
house] The stock, or all that belong to him, Chap. 16. 3.
him that pisseth against the wall] Chap. 21. 21. 2 Kings 9. 8. The childe that can stand against a wall, or a dog that useth to do so. An usuall phrase, whereby an utter destruction of all that belong to a man, is set out (1 Sam. 25. 22.) even all that breathe, chap. 15. v. 29.
shut up and left] Or, left out. Another proverbiall speech, whereby is meant, whatsoever a man hath at home or abroad, whether precious, and much esteemed; as things which men shut up, are; or lesse esteemed, as things left without: Or it may be applyed to such as have shut themselves up in strong holds, and such as are left in other places: All shall be destroyed, none escape, Deut. 32. 36. See in 2 King. 14. 26.
dung] Because dung is filthy and noysom, men use to take it every whit away. A very fit comparison: like to 2 King. 21. 13. Isai. 14. 23.

V. 11. the dogs eat, &c.] A proverbiall speech, whereby is implyed, that no care at all should be had of their dead corps to bury them, but they should be left to dogs and ravens. Dogs use to be in cities and towns: ravenous fowls in open fields, Chap. 16. 4. and 21. 24. Jere. 15. 3.

V. 12. into the city] And therein to thine own house.

V. 13. mourn] In testimony of that good hope they had of him, and good respect they bare to him.
and bury him] For honour sake. See v. 11.
some good, &c.] Seeds of a fear of God, and of true piety.

V. 14. a king] Baasha, chap. 15. 27, &c.
but what?] An elegant communication to work a more thorow consideration of the point. For they were wont to put off divine prophecies of judgement to future times far off, Ezek. 12. 22.
even now] A direct answer to the former question: like to Ezek. 12. 25. For now was Baasha, the king spoken of, among them.

V. 15. Israel] Not onely the house of Jeroboam, but all the ten tribes.
as a reed] With the continuall running of water, and blasts of winde: So shall Israel with civill wars, and different factions be continually troubled.
root up] Cause the nation to be carried out of their own land.
scatter] Up and down in sundry places disperse them.
the river] Euphrates, which was betwixt the land of Israel and Assyria, whither they were carried captive. See all that is here fore-told, accomplished, 2 King. 17. 6.
groves] For idols. See chap. 3. 4. and 16. 33.

V. 16. made Israel to sin] By causing them to leave the temple, and to worship the calves. See chap. 12. 30.

V. 17. Tirzah] A fair city, where the royall palace for the kings of Israel was, before Omri built Samaria, chap. 16. 24. See chap. 15. 33. and 16. 17, 18.
to the threshold] Which was the first entrance, mentioned, vers. 12.

V. 19. how he warred] With Rehoboam, v. 30. and Abijah, 2 Chron. 13. 2. chronicles] Such as are mentioned, chap. 11. 41.

V. 20. slept] Heb. lay down.

V. 21. Rehoboam was fourty and one yeers old when he began to reign] 2 Chro. 12. 13. Therefore born before Solomon reigned, chap. 11. 42.
choose] See the notes on 1 King. 11. 36.
Ammonitesse] It is probable, that at the time of her marriage, she made profession of the true religion, as Pharaohs daughter, chap. 3. 1. But when Solomon fell away, then she might follow her countrey gods, and be a means to seduce her son, as 2 Chron. 22. 3. See chap. 15. 10.

V. 22. Judah] The people under the government of Rehoboam, following the ill exemple of their king, or by him being made to sin, as v. 16. This was three yeers after Rehoboam began to reign, 2 Chron. 11. 17. in 2 Chron. 12. 1. Rehoboams subjects are called Israel, because they also descended from Israel, and to shew that none of the children of Israel remained faithfull: For ten tribes having revolted with Jeroboam, the other fell with Rehoboam: Yet, so as some particular persons might here and there remain faithfull. See the notes on chap. 19. 10, 18.
jealousie] Jealousie is the wrath of an husband for his wives adultery and disloyalty; God being as an husband to his people, (Isa. 54. 5. Jer. 31. 32.) and idolatry being a spirituall adultery, (Jere. 13. 27. Ezek. 23. 37, 43.) in this case jealousie is attributed to him, Deut. 29. 20. and 32. 16, 21. Jealousie imports the highest displeasure, and greatest degree of anger, Prov. 6. 34, 35.
their fathers] In no kings time before, was there such a generall apostasie of Judah.

V. 23. they also] As well as the ten tribes.
built] To serve their idols, as the heathen, Deut. 12. 2.
images] Or, standing images, or statues.
under every green tree] Under the broad, fair, flourishing trees on those hils they built altars, 2 Chron. 28. 4. Isai. 57. 5. The things which being erected by others God commanded his people to destroy (Deut. 7. 5.) they presumptuously erect.

V. 24. sodomites] Such as against nature burned in their lust one towards another, and committed that kinde of unnaturall and abominable uncleannesse, Rom. 1. 26, 27. So did the Sodomites (Gen. 19. 5.) and the Gibeonites (Judg. 19. 22.) The notation of the Hebrew word is taken from the contrary: for it signifieth an holy one: now such unclean persons being of all others farthest from holinesse, in great scorn have this title given them. Thus the word that properly signifieth blessing, is put for cursing, chap. 21. 10. Or, this sin here mentioned, may be taken for obscene and filthy idolatry.
all the abominations] Such as are specified, Levit. 18. 24. Deut. 18. 10, 11, 12. Such as leave the LORD, being left of him, give themselves over to all abominable filthinesse.

V. 25. fifth] Two yeers after that he began to fall from the LORD, 2 Chro. 11. 17.
Shishak] He to whom Jeroboam fled (chap. 11. 40.) and it is probable, that he was put on to this expedition by Jeroboam.

V. 26. took away] No marvell that he so prevailed, coming so well prepared as is set down, 2 Chro. 12. 13. against a prince and people forsaken of the LORD.
away all] All that he could finde and finger, and might have done more spoil, but that upon their humiliation the LORD delivered them, 2 Chro. 12. 7.
which Solomon had made] Chap. 10. 16.

V. 27. guard] Heb. runners. Such as used to run, or go before the king, or to wait on him, 1 Sam. 22. 17.

V. 28. guard-chamber] That they might be safely kept.

V. 29. chronicles] Such as are mentioned, chap. 11. 41. they are said to be written by Shemaiah, and Iddo, 2 Chro. 12. 15.

V. 30. war] On the out-borders of the two kingdoms: each maintaining his own.

V. 31. his mothers name was Naamah an Ammonitesse] Vers. 21.
Abijam] Some copies write Abijah. So is he stiled, 2 Chro. 12. 16.

CHAP. XV.

Vers. 1. Jeroboam the son of Nebat] 2 Chro. 13. 1.

V. 2. Three] Current, not compleat. The eighteenth of Jeroboam, was his first: the nintenth, his second: the twentieth, his third: And in that twentieth yeer began Asa to reign, v. 9.

V. 2. Maachah] Called also Michaiah, 2 Chro. 13. 2. Two names given to the same person. See chap. 14. 21.
Abishalom] Called Absalom (2 Chro. 11. 21.) and Urial of Gibeah, 2 Chro. 13. 2. This Absalom is supposed to be another then Davids son, 2 Sam. 18. 18.

V. 3. not perfect] Or entire (see chap. 8. 61.) He made a fair shew, 2 Chron. 13. 4, &c. but he wanted soundnesse.

V. 4. a lamp] Or, candle. See chap. 11. 32, 36.
to set up] Or, by setting up.

V. 5. from any thing] Deliberately, purposely, obstinately.
save onely in the matter of Uriah the Hittite] 2 Sam. 11. 4. and 12. 9. Under which are comprised his adultery, murther, and many aggravating circumstances which accompanied the same.

V. 6. And there was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam all the dayes of his life] Chap. 14. 30.
Rehoboam] This is mentioned in Abijams time, because he revived and pursued the warres begun by his father.

V. 7. Now the rest of the acts of Abijam] Chap. 14. 29.
chronicles] See chap. 14. 29.
war] Hereof expresse mention is made, 2 Chron. 13. 3.
V. 8. slept, &c.] See chap. 2. 10.
Asa his son reigned in his stead] 2 Chron. 14. 1.
V. 10. mothers] That is, grand-mothers. All female ancestors in the right line, use to be called mothers; as male, fathers. David, his great-great grand-father (for Asa was the fourth from David) is stiled his father in the next verse. Mention useth to be made of the mothers of kings, because in their younger yeers they were most instructed by them, Prov. 31. 1. and because kings used to have many wives. Therefore by name they expressed the proper mother. It might be that Asa his own mother was dead, and he educated by his grand-mother: who though she were an idolater, yet could not infect him: which maketh much to his commendation.
V. 11. right] In the generall course of his life: and particularly about the worship of God, though otherwise he had many infirmities, and committed sundry grosse sins, as 2 Chro. 16. 7, 10, 12.
V. 12. Sodomites] See chap. 14. v. 24.
out of the land] Heb. from the earth. He slew them, as 2 Sam. 4. 2. fathers] Solomon (chap. 11. 7.) Rehoboam (chap. 14. 23.) and Abijam (chap. 15. 3.)
V. 13. Maachah his mother] 2 Chron. 15. 16.
queen] Though the king her husband were dead, yet she retained a royall dignity, yea, and authority too, at least over her own court, in her sons, and grand-childes time; and probable it is, that she had a command over such as were of her idolatrous religion. The wives of kings deceased, are still called queen-mothers. Such an one was Athaliah, 2 Chron. 22. 2, 3. Asa deprived his mother of all dignity, and authority which either she had by custome, or usurped.
idol] The Hebrew word signifieth an horrible thing. This idol was horrible in the uglinesse and filthinesse of it: so as the worst of idols were brought in among the Jews. See chap. 11. 7.
in a grove] See chap. 16. 33.
destroyed] Heb. cut off.
burnt it] To shew his great indignation against it: and utterly to abolish it, Deut. 7. 5.
Kidron] See chap. 2. 37. He burnt it by this river, that he might cast the ashes of it thereinto, and so nothing at all thereof be preserved, 2 King. 23. 12. see Exod. 32. 20.
V. 14. the high places] People were loath to be tied to one place for their sacrifices, and therefore would here and there have their high places, and that in times of Reformation, 2 Kin. 12. 3. and 15. 4, 35. though he took away high places which were for idols, (2 Chro. 14. 13.) yet the high places which were for Gods worship (such as are mentioned, chap. 3. v. 2.) he let stand: which he ought not to have permitted, Deut. 12. 5, 6, 11.
nevertheless] Though the people did so and so, yet the king neither appointed them so to do, nor approved them in so doing.
perfect] See v. 11. and chap. 8. 61.
with the Lord] In regard of the worship of God.
V. 15. things] Heb. holy.
his father] After that famous victory, 2 Chro. 13. 15.
dedicated] Vowed to the LORD, and prepared for the temple, but had not brought into it.
vessels] For the services of the temple. See chap. 7. 45, 50.
V. 16. war] See chap. 14. v. 30.
V. 17. Baasha king of Israel went up, &c.] In the thirteenth yeer of his own raign, and sixteenth of Asa's, 2 Chron. 16. 1. against Judah] To block up the passages (not to invade it) as the words following shew.
built] Made strong with bul-works, and forts. See the notes on 2 Chron. 11. 6.
Ramah] A city in the tribe of Benjamin, (Josh. 18. 25.) upon the frontiers of Ephraim, Judg. 4. 5.
any] Of his own subjects.
go out, or come in] Lest they might joyn with the men of Judah in the true worship of God, and become Asa's subjects, chap. 12. 26, 27.
V. 18. left] After Shishak's pillaging, chap. 14. v. 26.
of the house of the Lord] Herein he committed sacriledge.
Benhadad] 2 Chro. 16. 2. A name common to sundry kings of Syria (chap. 20. 1. 2 King. 8. 7. and 13. 3.) as Pharaoh to the kings of Egypt. See the notes on 2 King. 23. 29.
Hezion] He is supposed to be Rezon, mentioned chap. 11. 23. who was an inveterate enemy of the Jews.
Damascus] See chap. 11. 24, 25.
V. 19. a league] This phrase importeth a renewing of a former league betwixt the armies of Judah and Syria, which was forbidden, Judg. 2. 2. come] He hires the king of Syria against Israel: wherein he addes sin to sin. First, he distrusts God, 2 Chron. 16. 7. Secondly, he spoils himself, to enrich an infidell. Thirdly, he invites an enemy into Israel. Fourthly, he causeth a breach of covenant. Fifthly, he trusteth too much to the arm of flesh, Isai. 31. 1.
depart] Heb. go up.
V. 20. hearkned] Being allured by Asa his rich present, v. 18.
smote] In breaking league, he exercised great hostility.
Ijon] A frontier town, 2 King. 15. 29.
Dan] In the tribe of Dan, Josh. 19. 47.
Abel-beth-maacah] Called Abel-maim, 2 Chro. 16. 4. This is that strong city whereunto Sheba betook himself, 2 Sam. 20. 15.
all Cinneroth] All the town situate by the sea of Cinneroth (Josh. 12. 3.) called Genesaret, Luk. 5. 1.
with all the land of Naphtali] The store-cities therein, 2 Chr. 16. 4. By this and the fore-mentioned places which were in severall tribes, it appears, that this enemy ranged up and down, and did great spoil in many of the coasts of Israel.
V. 21. he left] To defend his own countrey against the enemies incursions.
dwelt] Had his chief residency, after he had secured his land, he continued quiet, without any revenge against Asa.
Tirzah] See chap. 14. v. 17.
V. 22. made] Heb. made to hear.
a proclamation] To gather his subjects together, to demolish Baasha's work, and perfect his own, with all expedition.
none exempted] Heb. free. From adding their assistance.
built] As v. 17.
Geba] A strong city in Benjamin given to the Levites, Josh. 21. 17. It was the north coast of the kingdom of Judah.
Mizpah] Another city in the same tribe, Josh. 18. 26. Asa here made a great pit, which continued till the captivity, Jerem. 41. 9.
V. 23. his might] Valiant deeds, 2 King. 14. 15, 28.
Nevertheless] His prosperity could not keep away the gout: for his sin made God afflict him: yet did he not seek the LORD in his affliction, 2 Chro. 16. 12.
V. 24. slept, &c.] See chap. 2. 10.
Jehoshaphat] Matth. 1. 8, called Josaphat.
V. 25. began to reign] Heb. reigned. in the second] Asa his first yeer ended in the twenty and one of Jeroboam, vers. 9. His second in the twenty and two: in which Jeroboam died, and Nadab succeeded.
two yeers] Current, as v. 2. For Nadabs first yeer was in the second of Asa: his second in Asa's third, wherein Nadab was slain, v. 28.
V. 26. his sin] About the golden calves. See chap. 12. v. 30.
V. 27. Ahijah] See chap. 11. v. 29. conspired] Traiterously, as chap. 16. 9, 20. 2 King. 12. 20. his treason is aggravated by the time when, and place where he did it.
Gibbethon] A city in the tribe of Dan, given to the Levites, Josh. 21. 23.
Philistines] Who possessed it at that time.
laid siege] To recover it: which, because he effected not in his time, the people after him renewed the siege, chap. 16. v. 15.
V. 28. third] See v. 25.
V. 29. smote] He slew. See chap 14. v. 10.
any that breathed] This phrase is oft restrained to reasonable persons: as Josh. 11. 14.
the saying of the Lord] Chap. 14. 10.
V. 30. sins of Jeroboam] Wherein Nadab his son persisted, v. 26.
V. 31. chronicles] Civill records.
V. 32. war] See v. 16.
V. 33. twenty and four] Current. See v. 2. For he began his reign in the third yeer of Asa, and ended it in the twenty and sixth, chap. 16. 8.
V. 34. in his sin] See v. 26.

CHAP. XVI.

Vers. 1. Jehu son of Hanani] Not the king (2 King. 9. 14.) nor the son of Obed (1 Chron. 2. 38.) nor the Antothite (1 Chron. 12. 3.) but the prophet (v. 12.) who was long after this, sent to Jehoshaphat (2 Chron. 19. 2.) who also wrote chronicles, 2 Chron. 20. 34.
Hanani] Who also was a seer, 2 Chron. 16. 7.
V. 2. I exalted] See chap. 14. 6. out of the dust] From the lowest of the people, chap. 14. 6. Psal. 113. 7.
V. 3. of his house] Of such as are allied to him. Thus the brethren of Ahaziah, who was allied to Ahab, were in such a case slain, 2 King. 10. 13.
the house of Jeroboam the son of Nebat] Chap. 15. 29.
V. 4. Him that dieth of Baasha in the city] Chap. 14. 11.
V. 5. his might] See chap. 15. 23.
V. 6. Tirzah] See chap. 14. v. 17.
V. 7. And also] This hath reference to the judgement denounced by Ahijah against Jeroboam, Chapter 14. v. 6, 7, &c.

As

As the word of the LORD came by Ahijah against Jeroboam, so also by Jehu against Baasha.

in the sight of the Lord] See Chap. 21. v. 20.

because he killed him] Nadab, Jeroboams son, and that upon his own traiterous and ambitious minde: nor commanded by God (as Jehu was, 2 Kin. 9. 7.) nor inwardly incited by Gods Spirit, as Ehud was, Judg. 3. 20, 21.

V. 8. two yeers] Current, as chap. 15. 2. For he was slain in the twenty and seventh yeer of the reign of Asa.

V. 9. servant] A speciall officer under the king, and attendant on him.

captain of half] A great command he had thereby.

in Tirzah] While his army was in the field, v. 15.

drinking] Excessively, till he was drunk. Thus was he the more easily surprised, as Belshazzar, Dan. 5. 2, 30. and Amnon, 2 Sam. 13. 28, 29.

steward] Heb. which was over. Or, governour, chap. 4. 6.

went in] Into the city and house where the king was.

V. 11. when he began to reign] Which was so soon as he had slain Elah.

he slew] By the assistance of those souldiers which were under his command.

that pisseth] See chap. 14. 10.

neither of his kinsfolks] Or, both his kinsmen and his friends.

kinsfolks] Heb. redeemer, Num. 35. 19.

friends] All that he thought might any way favour Elahs cause, be on his side, and seek to revenge his death.

V. 12. all the house] He was diligent and speedy in his bloody design, that in a weeks space could make such a thorow dispatch of them all.

by] Heb. by the hand of.

V. 13. vanities] Idols which are meer vanities, Deut. 32. 21. 2 King. 17. 15. Isai. 41. 28. 1 Cor. 8. 4. False gods have no reality of deity in them, but are vainly imagined to be what they are not, Jere. 2. 5. Jon. 2. 8.

V. 15. seven dayes] All that time he was Gods rod to scourge Baasha's stock. So soon as that work was done, the rod was cast into the fire, v. 18.

Gibbethon] Where Nadab was slain, chap. 15. 27.

V. 16. all Israel] Except such as took part with Tibni, v. 21.

V. 17. from Gibbethon] Accounting a traiterous usurper more dangerous then an open enemy: and the losse of a kingdom, worse then the losse of a city.

V. 18. died] Being consumed in, and with the palace. He chose rather to destroy himself, then to fall into the revengers hands, like Saul, 1 Sam. 31. 4.

V. 19. sins] Even before he slew his master, as well as after.

way of Jeroboam] Worshipping the calves, and causing the people to continue in that idolatry, chap. 12. vers. 28, 29, 30.

V. 21. followed Tibni] Took part with him, affording their best ayd to settle him in the throne.

V. 22. died] In fight, as is probable.

V. 23. In the thirty and one] Then was Tibni destroyed, and Omri reigned over all Israel quietly. The people made him king so soon as they heard that Zimri had kild his master, which was in the twenty and seventh yeer of Asa, v. 15, 16. But because it was uncertain, whether Omri or Tibni should carry the crown away, while Tibni lived, he is said to begin his reign four yeers after, in the thirty and one of Asa.

twelve yeers] These twelve yeers must needs be reckoned from the peoples first making him king in the twenty and seventh of Asa; because in the thirty eighth of Asa, Ahab the son of Omri began to reign, and that after the death of his father, v. 28, 29.

six yeers] Till he had bought Samaria, and built his palace there.

V. 24. Samaria] This is a Greek title, Joh. 4. 4. The Hebrew is Shomeron. Here an hill is called Samaria, in the end of this verse, a city built thereon is so called; so also the whole country about that hill, wherein were many cities, chap. 18. 2. 2 King. 17. 24. yea, and the whole kingdom of Israel; for the king of Israel is stiled king of Samaria, 2 King. 1. 3.

Shemer] This name is expressed, to shew the reason of the name of the place: whereby it appears that he was a man of great esteem.

two talents] The Jews valued silver ten times lesse worth then gold. So as a talent of silver was reckoned at three hundred and seventy five pound sterling: but a talent of gold, three thousand seven hundred and fifty pound (chap. 9. v. 14.) The price then that Omri paid, was seven hundred and fifty pound. See the notes on 1 Chron. 22. 14.

Samaria] Heb. Shomeron.

V. 25. worse] In that he made statutes to binde the people to his idolatry, Mic. 6. 16.

V. 26. his sin] See chap. 15. 26.

V. 27. his might] For he was captain of hosts (v. 16.) and he prevailed against Zimri the king (v. 17, 18.) and against Tibni, whom many of the people would have made king, vers. 21, 22.

V. 28. slept] See chap. 2. 10.

Samaria] See v. 29.

V. 29. in Samaria] There was his royall palace, and chiefest place of residency. See v. 24. This city was to Israel (as Zion and Jerusalem to Judah) their metropolis, or chief city (cha. 20. 2. and 22. 10.) yea, the place of their kings sepulchres. See v. 29. chap. 22. 37. 2 King. 10. 35. and 13. 9, 13.

twenty and two yeers] Current, as chap. 15. 3. His first yeer must be reckoned in the last of his fathers. Compare this verse with the eighth.

V. 30. above all] Above his father and others too, before them. The reason is rendred in the verses following.

V. 31. as if it had been a light thing] Heb. was it a light thing? &c. In the Hebrew it is set down interrogatively, which implies, a more vehement deniall.

Jezebel] An heathen, a notorious idolater, extremely arrogant, and cruell, as the case of Naboth, and destruction of the prophets, sheweth, chap. 18. 4. and 21. 8, &c.

Ethbaal] His own, and his daughter Jezebels name, being compounded of Baal, shews how much he was addicted to that idol Baal.

Baal] Signifieth a lord, Hos. 2. 16. In common it is put for any kinde of Idol, which men do worship as a lord. In speciall it signifieth a prime, or chief idol, a prince of idols: Beel-zebub is interpreted, prince of devils, Matth. 12. 24. Sundry countries, to distinguish their idoll from others, had severall additions to Baal; as Ekron, Baal-zebub (2 King 1. 2.) a fly-lord. The Moabites, Baal-Peor (Num. 25. 3.) Peor is a mount in Moab, where their Baal was worshipped. The Israelites Baal-berith (Judg. 8. 33.) a lord of covenant: an idoll to whom by covenant they bound themselves. The chief idoll of the Zidonians, was Baal, which is supposed to be Hercules, common to Tyrus, as well as Ziden, 2 Maccab. 4. 18, 19. See more of Baal, Judg. 2. 11.

worshipped him] Baal himself, and not Jehovah in that image, as the Israelites did in the golden calves, chap. 12. 28. This phrase of Elijah (if Baal be God, chap. 18. v. 21.) proves as much.

V. 32. house] A fair temple, in imitation of that which was in Jerusalem.

in Samaria] The royall city of the kingdom, which his father had built, v. 24. Thus he exceeded Jeroboams idolatry.

V. 33. a grove] A place planted with trees for refreshing and delight, dedicated to the honour of an idoll, to allure people to idolatry. For therein they used to set their idols, to erect altars, and offer sacrifices to their idols. Chap. 15. v. 13. Jere. 17. 2. See the notes on Judg. 3. 7. and on Gen. 21. 33. and on Deut. 12. 3.

did] Heb. added.

more] First, None trod in the steps of such a father, v. 25. 1.
Secondly, none married such a wife, v. 31.
Thirdly, nor attributed such deity to an idol, v. 31.
Fourthly, nor erected such an idolatrous temple, v. 32.
Fifthly, nor so slighted Gods word, v. 34.
Sixthly, nor so hated Gods prophets, chap. 22. v. 8.
Seventhly, nor so persecuted them, chap. 18. v. 10.
Eightthly, nor so coveted anothers inheritance, chap. 21. 4.
Ninthly, nor so causelessely and unjustly shed blood, chap. 21. 19.
Tenthly, nor so heaped up idolatrous and false prophets, chap. 18. 22. and 22. 6.
Eleventhly, nor so foolishly let go the enemy whom God put into his hand, chap. 20. 42.
Twelfthly, nor so sold himself 12.
to work wickednesse in the sight of God, Chap. 21. 20, 21.

V. 34. In his dayes] Before which, for the space of more then five hundred yeers, none durst attempt that work, upon which there lay so fearfull a curse. If it were done with his knowledge and consent, surely he too much slighted Gods threatning. If without his consent, yet was it a judgement even on him, that such a thing should be done in his dayes.

Beth-elite] So called, because he was an inhabitant of Bethel, that idolatrous city.

Jericho] An accursed city: the first of all Canaan that was destroyed, and that miraculously, Josh. 6. 20. God would have the ruines thereof remain as a monument of his power, and of the curse that lay upon it.

in his first born] When he first began this forbidden work, his eldest son and heir died: and in the finishing of it, his youngest son died: and as probably may be gathered from the curse, in Josh. 6. 26. by some casualty in laying the foundation and setting up the gates. So as it is likely that he destroyed his living house by erecting this cursed city.

according to the word] Compare, Josh. 6. 26. with this verse, and you may finde Gods threatning accomplished in the particular circumstances thereof.

by] Or, by the hand.

CHAP. XVII.

Vers. 1. And] This copulative particle joyns this chapter with the latter part of the former, and shews that this judgement of famine followed upon the forementioned sins of Ahab, and Hiel.

Elijah] Heb. Elijahu. Luke 4. 25. he is called Elias. He is here brought in as Melchisedec, without father, or mother, or descent, Gen. 14. 18. Heb. 7. 3.

Tishbite] Of the city Thisbe, Tob. 1. 2.

Gilead] A countrey on the other side of Jordan, appertaining part to Gad, part to Manasseh, Josh. 13. 25, 31.

said] After he had prayed that there might be no rain (Jam. 5. 17.) and by some evidence from God, was assured that his prayer was heard.

As the Lord] See Chap. 1. 29.

before whom I stand] Whose minister I am, and whom I am ready to serve, Deut. 10. 8. Acts 27. 23.

there shall not be] Heb. if there be. A form of asseveration, which implieth an imprecation, and maketh a more vehement and certain negation.

not be dew] No moisture, or refreshing at all; for dew is the least kinde of refreshing that falls upon the earth. Thus is the threatning (Levit. 26. 19.) accomplished.

these yeers] Immediately following, for the space of three yeers and an half, Luk. 4. 23. Jam. 5. 17.

but according] Unlesse God by my ministery shall declare otherwise. Or, but just as I have said.

V. 2. came] By divine inspiration, or revelation.

V. 3. hide thy self] From Ahab's rage, chap. 18. 10.

Cherith] A running spring in a desert place, not inhabited.

V. 4. command] Even unreasonable creatures are at Gods command, Psal. 78. 23. and 105. 28. see v. 9.

to feed thee] To bring to thee such meat as thou maist eat.

V. 5. dwelt] There abode night and day as in an house. There was questionlesse some cave there, wherein he so dwelt, as chap. 19 v. 9.

V. 6. the ravens] Greedy birds, devouring what they can get, not sparing any thing for their young ones, as is inferred out of Job 38. 41. and Psal. 147. 9.

bread and flesh] Some ravens, bread, others, flesh, and that sod, or rosted: God by his providence directing them to the places where they might have it.

V. 7. after a while] Heb. at the end of dayes. Six moneths, as is supposed. See chap. 18. 1.

brook dried] Springs are much maintained by the moisture that comes from heaven. Great droughts dry them up. This setteth out the greatnesse of the drought.

in the land] Of Israel. No circumstance sheweth that that rain was withheld from Judah. That land was at this time as Goshen, Exod. 8. 22. and 9. 26. note Amos 4. 7.

V. 8. came] See v. 2.

V. 9. Zarephath] Called Sarepta; A citie which the Zidonians inhabited, of which countrey this widow was, Luk. 4. 26. It bordered upon the land of Israel; and as Israel was infected with their sin (chap. 16. 31.) so they did partake of Israels punishment.

dwell there] There continue as in thine own house, v. 5.

commanded] By my over-ruling powerfull providence I have, as by a command, moved her. For the certainty of the thing, the time past is put for the future. Here are instances given of senseless creatures (dew and rain, vers. 1.) of unreasonable (ravens, vers. 4.) and of the heathen, to be at Gods command.

V. 10. a little water] Water was there more plentifull then bread: therefore first, he thereby makes triall of the readinesse of her minde to sustain him, as Gen. 24. 17.

in a vessell] Or, in this vessel. Bringing with him the dish, or cup, with which he took water out of the brook.

V. 11. as she was going] By her readinesse to grant his first request, he is encouraged to ask more.

a morsell] A little peice: so much as may somewhat satisfie my present hunger.

V. 12. the Lord thy God] Vers. 1. She believed the God of the Israelites to be the true God: as Rahab (Josh. 2. 11.) and Ruth 1. 16.

not a cake] Not so much as a little cake baked on an hearth. (Gen. 18. 6.) No bread at all baked in the oven; not a peece of a loaf.

two sticks] A few sticks: two or three, as we say, 2 Sam. 13. 6.

for me and my son] See v. 15.

eat it, and die] Preserve our life as long as we have any means, and then yeeld our lives to the good pleasure of God. For she saw no means of preserving their lives any longer.

V. 13. fear not] Famine, and death to follow thereupon.

first] Before thou make for thy self and son a cake.

V. 14. The barrel of meal] The meal in the barrell, and the oyl in the cruse shall continue without wasting.

sendeth] Heb. giveth.

V. 15. she, and he] The widdow and the Prophet.

her house] All that were in her house: her family, Gen. 7. 1. This implieth that there were more then her self and her son. But there being no more meal and oyl left, then was for once sufficient for her self and her son, she mentions them onely, vers. 12.

many dayes] Or, a full yeer. Three yeers. See chap. 18. 1.

V. 16. the barrel] See v. 14.

by] Heb. by the hand of.

V. 17. no breath] A description of death.

V. 18. What have I, &c.] Heb. What to me and thee? What difference is there betwixt thee and me? What have I done to thee? or, What hast thou seen in me? Joh. 2. 4. See on Judg. 11. 12.

to call my sin, &c.] To put God in minde of my sins: or, to complain of me before God for my sins.

to slay my son] To incense God so against me, as to take my son away, my son from me.

V. 19. out of her bosome] Where she hugged him, to bring, if it were possible, some heat into him.

into a loft] That he might be the more private, Acts 9. 40.

own bed] Because he went to stretch himself thereupon, v. 21.

V. 20. cried] Earnestly prayed, Exod. 14. 15. 2 King. 2. 12.

my God] He strengthneth his faith with the consideration of that speciall relation which was betwixt God and him.

evil] This judgement, Job 2. 10. Amos 3. 6. His complaint is through fear of the widows discouragement, lest she should think that she had shewed kindnesse to her own damage.

V. 21. stretched] Heb. measured. The Hebrew word importeth such a posture, as in a like case is noted of Elisha, 2 King. 4. 34. He so lay upon the childe, that by sense of the childes coldnesse, his own spirit in calling on God might be the more fervent, and also that he might discern heat and life, as it should come into the childe, Act. 20. 10.

three times] To shew his fervency and constancy in prayer. So Matth. 26. 44. 2 Cor. 12. 8.

into him] Heb. into his inward parts.

V. 22. came into him] For by death the soul departeth from the body.

he revived] The first, that we read of, raised from the death.

V. 23. took the childe] Now living again, to shew the widow that she had not entertained a prophet in vain, Matth. 10. 41.

V. 24. by this I know] I am further assured. For miracles confirm faith, Joh. 3. 2.

a man of God] A true prophet of God, chap. 13. 1.

the word of the Lord] What soever thou saist from the LORD: as the continuance of drought, and the increase of my meal and oyl.

CHAP. XVIII.

Vers. 1. Many dayes] Three yeers and six moneths, Luk. 4. 25. Jam. 5. 17.

in the third yeer] Of his abode with the widow. There is no other remarkable matter from whence we can take the beginning of these three yeers. See chap. 17. v. 7, 15.

Go shew] That the limitation of time and means (chap. 17. 1.) may be manifestly accomplished.

V. 2. in Samaria] In that kingdom wherein Samaria was the head city. See 2 Kings 17. 24.

V. 3. Obadiah] Heb. Obadiahu.

the governour of his house] Heb. over his house. As Joseph, Gen. 39. 5. and 41. 40. see chap. 4. v. 6.

feared] As Gen. 42. 18. He therefore was one of the seven thousand, chap. 19. v. 18.

V. 4. Jezebel] Heb. Izebel.

cut off] Slew, destroyed, v. 13.

prophets] In a large sense, they that gave themselves to be truely and thorowly instructed in the will of God, and on all occasions to declare the same to others; were stiled Prophets. Of these there were companies, 1 Sam. 10. 5, 10. and 19. 20. Yea, there were colledges (2 Kings 22. 14.) in which there were masters and seniors, who were called Fathers (1 Sam. 10. 12. 2 King. 2. 12.) and they who as auditors, or attendants accompanied the ancient prophets, were called Children, or Sons of the prophets, chap. 20. 35. 2 King. 2. 3. and 4. 38. Yea, all that openly professed against idolatry, and professed the true religion, are comprised under this title Prophets.

bread and water] In such a famine and drought as then was, bread

17.4,9. If God comission Ravens; they will be good Caterers. If God appoint a Zidonian Widow, that has nothing for her own Livelihood; To be Elijah's Landlady: he need not fear but he shall have sufficient Provision and Accommodation; And she may confidently with Self-denial, undertake to be his Hostess. Deut. 8.3.

-bread and water was dainty cheer: though the phrase may be taken for meat and drink.

V. 5. grasse] For grasse useth to grow in grounds lying by springs and brooks.

to save the horses] Not that they had more care of beasts then men, but that they could not so well provide out of other countries for beasts as for men.

that we loose not all the beasts] Heb. that we cut not off our selves from the beasts.

V. 6. they divided] For a more quick dispatch.

by himself] That a business of such consequence might be the more thorowly done. He would not leave it to the trust of others.

and Obadiah] Whom he had found as faithfull as Potipher found Joseph, Gen. 49. 4.

V. 7. he knew him] Obadiah knew Elijah.

fell on his face] A gesture of high esteem, and great reverence: yet civill onely.

my lord] In regard of his high calling, and extraordinary gifts. So v. 12. thy servant.

V. 8. thy lord] King Ahab.

Behold] As this note roused up his attention, so it invites him to go and see, as Joh. 1. 36, 46.

V. 9. What have I sinned] By what sin against God, or wrong to thee, that my life should be put in such hazard, as it is like to be, by doing as thou bidst me? See v. 12.

V. 10. As the Lord, &c.] See chap. 1. 29.

thy God] Not to exempt himself from this relation, but to work the greater credence in Elijah: Or, because Elijah was Gods prophet.

there] Heb. If there be.

no nation] Neighbouring by him, and in league with him.

he took an oath] Moved them to swear that they knew not where thou wast.

V. 11. Behold] See v. 8. The words following in the next verses, especially in the v. 14. shew the reason, Why he was loth to carry that message to Ahab.

V. 12. shall carry thee] As Ezek. 3. 14. and Act. 8. 39. and 2 King. 2. 11.

slay me] Conceiving me to mock him.

thy servant] A note of an humble minde, ready to do him any service. See v. 7.

fear the Lord] This he pleads to move the prophet to forbear the imposing of that perilous task upon him.

V. 13. what I did] See v. 4.

V. 14. Go, &c.] See v. 11.

V. 15. Lord of hosts] Under whose command are all creatures as souldiers. Because Obadiah was in such fear, Elijah by this solemn oath, puts him out of all fear.

I stand] See chap. 17. v. 1.

V. 16. told him] That he had seen Elijah in such a place.

V. 17. Art thou he, &c.] This interrogation is a strong asseveration, whereby he layeth the blame of the drought upon the prophet.

troubleth] Bringeth such trouble and calamity, as they are forced to seek up and down, and send far and neer for ordinary food, Josh. 7. 25.

V. 18. but thou] Gods Spirit put this spirit into him, Ezek. 3. 8.

thy fathers house] Thy brothers, kinsfolks and courtiers left thee by thy father, and observing his courses and statutes, Chap. 16. 25.

Baalim] Many false gods.

V. 19. all Israel] Governours and others out of every tribe, to be eye and ear-witnesses of that which shall be done.

Carmel] There were two places called Carmel; one in the tribe of Judah (Josh. 15. 55.) where Nabal had his possession, 1 Sam. 25. 2. the other in the tribe of Asher (Josh. 19. 26.) here, and in other places, called a mount; an high mountain (Am. 9. 3.) situate by the sea (Jer. 46. 18.) On it Elisha had an habitation (2 King. 2. 25. and 4. 25.) According to the Hebrew notation, it signifieth a fair fertile place (Isai. 32. 2.) and is by our English translated, a fruitfull field. See on Isai. 32. 15. Carmel in Asher is here meant. See on 1 Sam. 25. 2.

prophets] Idolaters feigned such functions as the true Church had: but they were false prophets, such as Chap. 22. v. 23. Luk. 6. 26. 2 Pet. 2. 1.

of the groves] Heb. that grove] Chap. 16. 33. Of the idolls in groves, where these prophets had their residency.

eat at Jezebels table] Were sustained by Jezebels provision.

V. 20. prophets] The four hundred and fifty prophets of Baal, v. 22. it is probable that Jezebel kept back the other four hundred, mentioned Chap. 22. 6.

V. 21. halt ye] A man that halts, now enclines his body one way, and now another. This metaphor may be applied to the body of the people; whereof, some enclined their hearts to Jehovah, and others to Baal: or to the same persons, who at some times, in some things enclined to Jehovah; at other times, in other things, to Baal: this later is the most probable. The like is taxed, Matth. 6. 24.

opinions] Or, thoughts.

if Baal] Be the true God.

answered not] Or, through ignorance of the true God; or, through fear of Ahab and Jezebel.

V. 22. I onely] Here present; the hundred before mentioned were hid, v. 4. See the Notes on Chap. 19. 10, 18.

four hundred and fifty] The other four hundred appeared not, vers. 20.

V. 23. Let them give] Let them that will; an indefinite speech, Let there be given.

let them chuse] The offer is made to Baals prophets, that the truth of the case might the more evidently appear.

cut it in pieces] Prepare it for a sacrifice.

dresse it] By cutting it in pieces, and observing other rites to that purpose.

V. 24. by fire] By sending fire from heaven to consume the sacrifice, as Levit. 9. 24. 1 Chron. 21. 26. 2 Chron. 7. 1. In the tabernacle and temple, the fire that came from heaven was preserved (Levit. 6. 12.) but in Israel there was no such fire, therefore Elijah would have it call'd for from heaven.

be God] Be reputed and esteemed as the onely true God.

It is well spoken] Heb. The word is good. A phrase of approbation and consent.

V. 25. Chuse you] Two bullocks being set before them.

ye are many] A multitude to be preferred before one.

V. 26. the bullock] One of the bullocks which they best liked.

which was given them] Heb. which he gave them. See the last word of this verse.

untill noon] The furthest time used for the morning sacrifice.

hear] Or, answer.

answered] Or, heard.

leapt upon the altar] Or, leaped up and down at the altar. Idolaters use to have many antick and strange gestures in their idoll-services: as, leaping upon their altars, as if they themselves were willing to be sacrificed; skipping on it, and dancing round about it: to all which this place may have relation. See v. 30.

was made] Heb. he made: An indefinite phrase; he, whosoever he was: It is well expounded by the passive, was made; as in v. 23, Let them give.

V. 27. at noon] Being silent till the very end of their time was come, lest they should say he had interrupted their devotion.

aloud] Heb. with a great voyce.

he is a god] After evidence was given that he was no god, Elijah doth thus ironically flout them.

either he is talking] Or, he meditateth. The true God is subject to none of the things here mentioned; to be hindered by any of them is humane frailty: they are therefore manifest scoffs, and great aggravations of their folly.

is pursuing] Heb. hath a pursuit; Of enemies, or beasts, or fowls, or other pleasures.

V. 28. cried aloud] Not with ardency of affection, as saints, to the searcher of hearts; but with extention of voices, as idolaters, to such as cannot hear.

their manner] The manner of idolaters, whereunto Gods people might not conform themselves, Levit. 19. 28; Deut. 14. 1.

the blood gushed out upon them] Heb. poured out blood upon them. The devill, delighting in mans blood, brought idolaters, in whom he ruleth, therewith to pacifie and gratifie their idolls; in which respect they spared not their own blood, (as here) nor their childrens, Ezek. 16. 36.

V. 29. they prophesied] Thus they made themselves prophesie, or stirred up themselves thereto. By their strange, affected, passionate gestures, they made shew of propheticall raptures, and, in the vulgar's account, prophecied, 1 Sam. 18. 10.

offering] Heb. ascending.

evening sacrifice] The ordinary time wherein the sacred daily sacrifice was appointed (Exod. 29. 39.) to be offered up; which was about three in the after-noon. See v. 36.

neither voice] No manner of evidence whereby any might discern that their god heard them.

that regarded] Heb. attention.

V. 30. Come neer] Be eye-witnesses of my whole carriage, diligently mark whether I use any fraud or no.

the altar of the Lord] Which had of old been erected by their pious predecessours; or rather, which Elijah himself had before-hand prepared for this purpose.

broken down] By former idolaters; or rather, by these prophets of Baal, who, in their mad leaping and dancing, might spightfully break it down.

V. 31. twelve stones] As Josh. 4. 5, 20.

number of the tribes] To shew, that all the tribes should be united in the true worship of God. So Ezr. 6. 17.

Israel shall be thy name] Gen. 32. 28. 2 King. 17. 34.

V. 32. an altar] The altar before mentioned: which, in this extraorextraordinary case, warranted by God himself (v.36.) was lawfull; though otherwise forbidden, Deut.12.13,14. See the Notes on 1 Sam.7.9. and 9.12. and Judg.21.4.

in the Name] At the appointment (v. 36.) to the honour, (compare 1 Cor.10.31. with Col.3.17.) for the service of the LORD.

a trench] A ditch, or a water-chanell.

as great] As wide and as deep as a bag of two pecks and an half of seed might lie in: or a furrow, so much in compasse as men ordinarily sowe two pecks and an half of seed in. The Hebrew word, seed, translated measure, signifieth the quantity of somewhat more then a peck and a pottle.

V.33. he put, &c.] He did all things as they used to be done in offering a sacrifice, Levit.1.6,7.

with water] That all suspition of collusion might be taken away; and that the power of God, and truth of the miracle might be the more manifested.

V.34. the third time] So as twelve barrells of water were poured on it. See v.32. Mount Carmel was neer the sea, and thence he might have the water; see v.19. yea, the river Kishon also was by the bottom of this mount. See v.40.

V.35. ran] Heb. went.

the trench] See v.32. The filling of a trench is an evidence of great store of water, which he poured on the altar, that the reality and fervency of that fire might be more manifest.

V.36. evening sacrifice] See v.29. 1 King.3.20.

neer] To the altar, when he prayed.

Lord God of Abraham, &c.] The stile which God took to himself (Exod. 3. 6.) to move the Israelites that came from those patriarchs to take him for their God.

at thy word] By thy direction.

V. 37. Hear me] Shew thou hearest me, by sending down fire (v.24.) which Baal could not do, v.29.

that thou hast turned] That they who shall be converted may ascribe the glory of their conversion to thee.

back again] From their idolls to thee.

V.38. fire of the Lord] Fire which came out of heaven from the LORD (as 1 Chron.21.26. 2 Chron.7.1.) that the people might the better discern whence it came.

and the stones, &c.] This fire had more then ordinary power and efficacy in it.

V.39. The Lord] Jehovah is the onely true God, not Baal, vers. 24.

V.40. to them] Who acknowledged Jehovah to be God.

Take] Or, Apprehend,

Elijah brought] Caused them to be brought and slain; according to the law, Deut. 13. 5. and 18. 20. For the like is Jehu commended, 2 King. 10.25.

Kishon] A river that ran along at the bottom of Carmel; hereinto were their dead bodies cast. This river was made famous by the overthrow of Sisera, Judg.5.21.

V.41. Get thee up, &c.] Now that the cause of the judgement is taken away, thou mayest freely and liberally refresh thy self; I hear in the heavens some noise that fore-shews much rain. Thus his word (Chap.17.1.) is accomplished.

a sound of abundance of rain] Or, a sound of a noise of rain.

V. 42. to the top] From the people which were below, that he might be the more retired for prayer. So Christ, Matth. 17. 1.

cast himself down] In a most humble manner, before God, upon his knees.

put his face, &c.] Bowed his head to the very earth whereon he kneeled, testifying thereby the fervency of his devotion. Though he discerned rain to be coming, yet he is earnest in using means, Jam.5.18.

V.43. Go up] He longed to see some evidence of the return of his prayer.

look toward the sea] Westward, whence clouds of rain first arise.

seven times] He waxed not faint, but would hold out.

V. 44. a little cloud] God, by degrees, gives evidence of his purpose.

Go up, &c.] The least evidence works much assurance in true believers.

Prepare] Heb. Tie, or Binde.

V.45. in the mean while] While Ahab was preparing his charet, which was no long time.

Jezreel] A city in the tribe of Issachar (Josh.19.18.) where one of the kings houses was, Chap.21.1. 2 King.8.29. and 9. 30.

V.46. hand] Spirit of the LORD, which made him more then ordinarily nimble and swift.

girded, &c.] Tucked up his long side-coat, 2 King.4. 29. and 9.1. Jer.1.17.

before Ahab] So as he out-ran him.

to the entrance of Jezreel] Heb. till thou come to Jezreel: For, fear of Jezebel kept him from lodging in the city, Chap.19.2.

CHAP. XIX.

Vers.1. All that Elijah] All the particulars before mentioned, about the altar, sacrifice, fire, peoples acclamation, slaughter of Baals prophets, prediction of rain, and coming to Jezreel.

all the prophets] That are mentioned, Chap.18.v.22,40.

V.2. sent a messenger] The more to affright Elijah: but it proved a warning to shift for himself.

So let the gods] A form of oath, wherein the vengeance imprecated is implied in this particle, so; So as I threaten to him, let it be done to me.

the gods] For she was a worshipper of many gods.

V.3. he saw] He perceived by Jezebels message.

for his life] Or, according to his soul, even whither his minde carried him.

Beer-sheba] A city in the tribe of Simeon, but within the inheritance of Judah, Josh.19.1,2. it was at the utmost border, as is evident by this frequent phrase, From Dan to Beer-sheba; and that on the south, opposite to Geba, 2 King.23.8.

his servant] Heb. his boy; The widow of Zarephath's son, as many of the ancients and others suppose.

V.4. juniper-tree] No broad spreading tree, but the best that in that desert he could finde, See Job 30.4.

requested] Prayed to God.

for himself] Heb. for his life.

enough] That I have hitherto lived. See Deut.3.26.

not better] Of no better stock or constitution then my predecessours that have died before me.

V.5. and slept] As Jacob, Gen.28.11.

an angel] As before he was provided for by a raven and a widow extraordinarily (Chap.17.6,15.) so now by an angel.

V.6. behold, &c.] It was the more remarkable, because he knew not how it was provided for him.

a cake baken on the coals] Heb. a cake of coals.

head] Heb. bolster.

V.7. eat] Liberally, that thou mayest be the stronger, and thy strength the longer continue.

too great for thee] In regard of thy humane weakness, unless thou use the means which God affordeth to strengthen thee.

V.8. in the strength] By that vertue and efficacy which God gave to it, whereby it remained fourty days in his body, and continued to nourish him, as Chap.17.14, 15.

fourty dayes] So much time was spent in going to, and abiding in Horeb. So long time remained Moses (Exod.34.28.) and Christ (Matth.4.2.) without food.

Horeb] In the desert of Sinai, Exod.3.1. and 19.1.

mount of God] Where God appeared to Moses (Exod.3.1,2.) and delivered the law to Israel, Deut.4.10,15.

V.9. unto a cave] Supposed to be that place where the LORD shewed his glory to Moses, Exod.33.21,22.

What dost thou here] Heb. What to thee here. This question is propounded, to make way to the discourse following.

V.10. I have been very jealous] Heb. being jealous, I am jealous. Of jealousie, see Chap.14.22. Hereby he sheweth that Gods honour was as tender to him, as a wives honestie to an husband. So Num.25.11. Psal.69.10.

thine altars] Such altars as in former times had been erected to the LORD; which the Israelites, as an evidence of preferring Baal before God, had impiously demolished, Chap. 18. 26, 30. Else altars may be here put for the worship of God.

I, even I onely am left, &c.] Rom.11.3. Alone, for ought I know to the contrary: for none shewed themselves in Gods cause, when Elijah most zealously stood for it. See Chap.18. vers.4,22.

V.11. Go forth] For he had reposed himself in the cave.

before the Lord] Where the LORD will manifest his presence.

the Lord passed by] In some sensible manifestation of his presence.

a great, &c.] Such evidences of terrour as were at the delivery of the law, Exod.19.18. Hebr. 12.18, &c. They were to shew the power of God, to humble the prophet, and to prepare him with better heed to hearken to the still voice.

the Lord was not in] Did not manifest his presence by any distinct voice.

V.12. a still small voice] That might, without any terrour, be heard and understood.

V.13. wrapped his face] In testimony of his own unworthiness, and reverence to God, Exod.3.6. Isai.6.2.

a voice] The still voice mentioned, v.12.

What dost thou here] Vers.9. The same question is again propounded, to shew, that the same person continued to speak with him.

V.14. Jealous, &c.] See vers.10.

V.15. Go] Hereby God gives him assurance of his life, whereof he doubted, v.14.

wilder-wilderneſſe of Damaſcus] Appertaining to Damaſcus. See Chap. 11. v. 24.

anoint Hazael] Take order that he be anointed, or declared to be king. So he did by the miniſtery of Eliſha, 2 King. 8. 13.

V. 16. Jehu the ſon of Nimſhi ſhalt thou anoint to be king over Iſrael] 2 King. 9. 1, 3.

ſon] Grand-childe, 2 King. 9. 2. Nimſhi was a man of note, and therefore expreſly named.

anoint] As v. 15. This was done, 2 King. 9. 6.

Eliſha] Luke 4. 27, called Eliſeus.

of Abel-meholah] Mentioned Chap. 4. v. 12.

anoint] Solemnly ordain.

in thy room] To ſucceed thee, and to do ſuch things as thou (if alive) ſhouldeſt do.

V. 17. of Hazael] As Joram, who was wounded, and other Iſraelites that eſcaped, when Hazael got the day, 2 King. 8. 28.

ſhall Jehu ſlay] This he did, 2 King. 9. 24, &c.

ſhall Eliſha ſlay] By his prophecie denouncing divine vengeance againſt them, as Iſai. 11. 4. Jer. 1. 10. Hoſ. 6. 5.

V. 18. I have left] Or, I will leave; Rom. 11. 4. In this generall apoſtacie I have reſerved and kept from the evil of the time. Becauſe theſe were not openly known, Elijah thought there were none, v. 10. as in a like caſe it is ſaid, that all Iſrael forſook the LORD, 2 Chron. 12. 1.

ſeven thouſand] A great number: a ſet number is here put for an indefinite number, as Matth. 18. 22.

all the knees, &c.] Such as have not worſhipped Baal: bowing the knee is an externall act of worſhip, Pſal. 95. 6.

kiſſed] A note of willing ſubjection, Job 31. 27. Hoſ. 13. 2. ſo as the ſeven thouſand here mentioned, no way conformed themſelves to the idolatry of the times.

V. 19. ſo he] Elijah.

plowing with twelve] In the company of other perſons that were there plowing, and Eliſha the laſt of them; who, of a plow-man, is made a prophet, as Am. 7. 14. Matth. 4. 18.

mantle] His upper coat (v. 13.) whereby he was known to be a prophet, 2 King. 1. 8. Zac. 13. 4.

upon him] As a ſigne of his calling to be a prophet.

V. 20. he left the oxen] To thoſe others that were in company, and plowing with him.

V. 2. ſent meſſengers] Being confident of victory.

V. 3. is mine] Is at my command and diſpoſing, v. 5, 6.

V. 4. my lord, O king] An acknowledgement of ſubjection.

according to thy ſaying] As I conceive the purport of thy meſſage to be.

I am thine] As tributary to thee.

all that I have] I hold in fealty under thee. Fear made him take his enemies demand in the firſt ſenſe, and ſo to yeeld to his demand.

V. 5. Although I have ſent] Though my meſſage be ſo interpreted by thee, as if I intended no more then homage and fealty to be yeelded by thee to me, yet my purpoſe is to have the poſſeſſion of all, as v. 6. Ben-hadad obſerving Ahab to ſtand in fear of him, grows more and more upon him

V. 6. ſearch] To ſee what is laid up therein, that they may bring it to me.

pleaſant] Heb. deſireable.

pleaſant in thine eyes] Thou deſireſt to keep, and art loth to part withall.

put it in thine hand] Take it up from thee, to bring it to me.

V. 7. all the elders] His ancient grave counſellours that were with him in the city. See Chap. 8. v. 1.

ſeeketh miſchief] Not victory and ſoveraignty onely over us, but our utter ruine and deſtruction.

I denied him not] Heb. I kept not back from him; That which at firſt I conceived him to aim at, namely, to make me and mine tributary to him.

V. 8. and all the people] For Ahab propounded his caſe to the elders in the audience of the people.

nor conſent] To his later demand: ſtand it out rather to the uttermoſt.

V. 9. my lord the king] Verſ. 4.

at the firſt] Namely, that I and mine ſhould be tributary to thee.

this thing] To put all preſently into thine hand.

V. 10. The gods do ſo to me] Chap. 19. 2.

V. 15. two hundred and thirty two] Which were to be captains and leaders.

all the people] That were left in Samaria.

V. 16. at noon] The time wherein it was likely that the enemy would more think of eating and drinking then of warring. See v. 12.

V. 17. ſent out] Having intelligence that ſome marched out of the city, as the words following ſhew.

V. 18. for peace] It was againſt the law of arms to ſurpriſe ambaſſadours of peace: their meſſage ſhould have been heard, if they had come for peace.

take them alive] That I may deal with them as I ſee cauſe: he thought that they were no way able to withſtand him.

V. 19. young man, &c.] See v. 14.

V. 20. every one his man] Both the young men, and the reſt of the people that followed, ſlew ſeven thouſand two hundred and thirty and two at the leaſt; even as many of the enemies that came to apprehend them, as they themſelves were in number.

V. 21. went out] With ſuch troops of horſe as he had.

V. 22. the prophet] That foretold this victory, v. 13.

V. 23. of the hills] Dwelling on hills, and protecting their dwelling places. This they ſay, becauſe of the many high places which the Iſraelites had on hills.

in the plain] For Samaria (about which they fought before) was on a mountain.

and ſurely] Heb. if not. A conciſe ſpeech ordinarily uſed in forms of oaths: for making up the ſenſe, ſomething muſt be ſupplied; as ſee, or trie if we prove not ſtronger. So Gen. 14. 23.

V. 24. the kings] For kings uſe not to be expert and hardie enough for difficult and dangerous exploits, nor ſo ſubmiſſive to military diſcipline as captains.

captains] Of thine own dominions, and under thy ſubjection, which are like to ſtand out the battell more couragiouſly.

V. 25. like] In number, in proweſſe, in all furniture.

that thou haſt loſt] Heb. that was fallen.

in the plain] Whither their gods will not come down to help them. See v. 23.

V. 26. at the return of the yeer] When it was fit to bring an army into the field. See v. 22.

Aphek] A city in the tribe of Aſher, bordering upon the Sidonians (Joſh. 13. 4. and 19. 30.) Here ſundry of the Canaanites continued to dwell, Judg. 1. 31. at this time the Syrians had ſome command therein. See v. 30.

to fight againſt Iſrael] Heb. to war with Iſrael.

V. 27. were

V.27. were all present] Or, were victualled. It may be meant of persons or things: all that were appointed came to the battell; or, all necessaries were provided for them.

two] Divided into two armies.

little flocks] Few in number, compared to the huge host of the Syrians.

of kids] Weak; not furnished with such warlike provision as the Syrians: so as in number of souldiers, and warlike preparations, the Syrians much exceeded the Israelites.

V.28. a man of God] The prophet, mentioned, v.13,22.

God of the hills] See v.23.

shall know] See v. 13.

V.29. seven dayes] So long they continued in battell-aray one against the other (as 1 Sam.17.2,3.) and one of those days must needs be the sabbath, as Josh.6.15.

an hundred thousand] Many more then every one his man, as verse 20.

V.30. to Aphek] This sheweth that Aphek was now in the Syrians power. See v.26.

fell] As Luk.13.4. This might be by some earth-quake.

into an inner chamber] Or, from chamber to chamber. Heb. into a chamber within a chamber; Where he might best hide himself. See Chap.22.25.

V.31. mercifull kings] Heb. kings of mercy.

put sackcloth] In token of sorrow for taking up arms against Israel.

ropes] In token of our desert of death.

V.32. my brother] Of the same calling whereof I am, and one whom I respect as a brother. A foolish courtesie. See v.42. See Chap.9.13.

V.33. any thing] That they might work upon.

V.42. Because thou hast let go out of thy hand] Chap.22.73.

a man] Ben-hadad, an implacable enemy of Israel.

whom I appointed, &c.] Heb. of my curse. It is probable that the prophet who foretold the victory (v. 28.) gave it also in charge, that the king and all should be destroyed: if not, yet the law expresly enjoyned as much, Deut.7.2. The word wherby Achans sin is set forth is here used, Josh.7.1. See 1 Sam.15.18, &c.

thy life shall go for his] Verse 39. Thou and thy people shall be destroyed. See this accomplished, Chap.22.34, &c.

V.43. displeased] At the prophets words, whereby the joy and glory of the victory was turned away, as 2 Sam.19.2. See Chap.21.4.

and came] When he came.

CHAP. XXI.

Vers.1. After these things] After the fore-mentioned victories. This circumstance of time hath relation to Ahabs covetousnesse and cruelty, not to Naboths vineyard, which he had from his ancestours, v.3.

Jezreel] See Chap.18.45.

V.2. Give] Let me have by sale or exchange.

a garden of herbs] Pleasant and usefull, Deut.11.10.

it is neer] The fit situation of it made him the more to covet it.

seem good to thee] Heb. be good in thine eyes.

V.3. The Lord forbid] Heb. This be abomination to me from the Lord: The LORD keep me from this, as from an abominable thing. It is a phrase that sets out an utter detesting of a thing, as Gen.44.7. Josh.22.29.

inheritance of my fathers] Which is forbidden to be alienated, Levit.25.23. Num.36.7. Ezek.46,18.

V.4. heavie] Very sad, and discontented in his spirit, v. 5. See Chap.20. v.43.

turned his face] From the company, as if he would have none to speak to him.

eat no bread] Take no sustenance, as if he would starve himself.

V.5. his wife] Herein like Eve, Gen.3.6.

V.6. my vineyard] Naboth said, My fathers inheritance, v.3. to shew the reason of his refusall, which Ahab left out, to aggravate the matter.

V.7. dost thou govern] She impiously implies, that it is the part of a supreme governour to take from his subjects what he list, by fair or foul means; and checks him for his remisnesse in not using the power he hath.

let thine heart be merry] Heb. let thy heart be good. Cast off this sadnesse of spirit. So Judg.16.25. 1 Sam.25.36.

I will give] I will take a course to get Naboths vineyard for thee.

V 8. in Ahabs name] As Esth.3.12.

elders] See Chap.20.7. Chief magistrates.

nobles] Heb. the white ones: For great and noble persons were wont to go in white or fair robes, Gen.41.42. Esth.8.15.

his city] Naboths city, Jezreel, where Naboth dwelt, and where he was a prime man.

V.9. a fast] That what ye do may be thought to be done through zeal of Gods glory. In dayes of fast they were wont to enquire after haynous sinners, executing the law on them, and so seeking reconciliation with God, Num.25.7,8. Psal.106.30.

on high among the people] Heb. in the top of the people; In an high place, according to his dignity, that ye may not seem to have plotted this against him: or cause him to come from among the people, to appear in some conspicuous place before the judges, or among the chief of the people.

V.10. two men] By reason of the law, Deut.13.5.

sons of Belial] This Hebrew phrase sets out men of a most desperate condition, who care not what they do. According to the notation of the word, Belial signifieth, without yoke, or, without profit; such as Judg.19.22. 1 Sam.2.12. This title is attributed to the devil, 2 Cor.6.15.

blasphemie] The Hebrew word properly signifieth to blesse. The Jews so abhorred blasphemie against God, as they would not have the sound of blasphemie joyned with the Name of God, but expressed under a word of the contrary sense. So Job 1.5. See Chap.14.24. See the Notes on 1 Cor.16.22.

God and the king] These two are joyned, to work in such as heard it a greater detestation of the crime; that they who sleighted the king, might be moved at the Name of God; and they who regarded not God, might be moved at the name of the king.

carry him out, and stone him] Both these were according to the law; Levit.24.14.

V.11. men of this city] Such citizens as had votes in city-businesses.

and elders, &c.] See v.8.

did as, &c.] Every way executed her bloody plot.

V 12. a fast, &c.] See v.9.

V.13. stoned him] And his children, 2 Kin.9.26. so was Achan and his children, and all that he had, dealt withall, Josh.7.24. Thus was none left to lay claim to the vineyard, so as it did escheat to the king. See the Notes on Numb.15.35,36.

V.14. they sent, &c.] To give evidence of their readinesse to execute her cruell designe.

V.15. Arise] A phrase of inciting one without delay, speedily to do a thing, Gen.19.15.

take possession] Of that which is now fallen to thee, as v.13.

V.17. Elijah] A prophet that feared not the face of Ahab, Chap.18.18.

Tishbite] See Chap.17.1.

Cap. 21. 25. — sell himself — quod ea res quæ venditur, tota in mentis transeat potestatem. — Vendere ergo se peccatis, est sese totum dedere ac devovere peccatis. Sebast. Munsterus. 1546. see v. 20.

— What is a man profited, if he shall gain ~~the~~ the world, and lose his own Soul? Mat. 16. 26. What a Foolish Bargain then did Ahab make when he sold his Soul for Naboth's Vinyard!

V. 18. is in Samaria] Now at this instant. Or, he dwels at Samaria.

he is in the vineyard] Being now going thither, there thou shalt finde him.

V. 19. Hast thou killed] Hast thou not feared to kill? He is said to kill, First, In that he was the first occasion thereof. Secondly, in that, as is probable, he knew the whole carriage. Thirdly, in that he punished not the actors thereof. Fourthly, in that he approved and ratified it by taking possession.

and also] Was it not enough to take away his life, but that thou must also alienate the inheritance from the family, against Gods law? See v. 2.

dogs licked] Or, like as the dogs. This was accomplished in Ahab, chap. 22. 38. and in his son, 2 King. 9. 25, 26. Malefactours blood being spilt on the ground, dogs that came by used to lick it up.

V. 20. Hast thou found me?] Art thou so envious and audacious as to dog me, and meet me whersoever I am?

O mine enemy] Which never speakest good, but evill unto me, as chap. 22. 6.

I have found thee] I have cause to come to thee, and to denounce Gods judgement against thee.

thou hast sold thy self] 2 King. 17. 17. Thou hast given thy self over as a slave, to do any evill that thy lust would have thee do, Eph. 4. 19.

in the sight of God] Heb. in the eyes. Notwithstanding thou knowest that God seeth thee: and so doest what thou doest in despight of God, Num. 32. 13.

V. 21. Behold, I will bring upon thee] Chap. 14. 10. 2 King. 9. 8. This is here added as a judgement upon the forementioned iniquity, that because he had sold himself to work evill, therefore the LORD would bring evill upon him. So as there should be (v. 20.) a period after found thee, and a comma after LORD.

him that pisseth against the wall] 1 Sam. 25. 22.

him that is shut up] Chap. 14. 10.

V. 22. Jeroboam the son of Nebat] Chap. 15. 29.

Baasha the son of Ahijah] Chap. 16. 3.

V. 23. of Jezebel also spake the Lord] 2 Kings 9. 36.

wall] Or, ditch.

shall eat] Chap. 14. 11.

V. 25. there was none] See chap. 16. 33.

stirred up] Or, incited. See v. 7.

V. 26. idols] Not onely the golden calves, but Baal and other idols. See chap. 16. 31. see the notes on 2 King. 17. 12.

the Amorites] The wickedest even among the heathen, Gen. 15. 16. 2 King. 22. 11.

V. 27. rent, &c.] All these are externall signs of penitency, warrantable, and commendable, when they proceed from an inward answerable devotion. First, Rending clothes sets out contrition of heart, 2 King. 22. 11. See the notes on 2 King. 18. 37. Secondly, Putting on sackcloth, acknowledgement of ones unworthinesse of any soft, or comely apparrell, Jon. 3. 6. Thirdly, Fasting, an acknowledgement of ones unworthinesse of any sustenance, 2 Sam. 12. 16. Fourthly, Lying in sackcloth, a means to keep from sleep, that the soul might watch unto prayer, Joel 1. 13. See notes on Gen. 27. 34. Fifthly, Going softly, a mourning disposition, Isai. 38. 15.

V. 28. came] See chap. 17. 2.

Tishbite] See chap. 17. 1.

V. 29. humbleth himself] In outward appearance as a true penitent: but not in the inward truth of his heart: for he turned from none of his sins.

I will not bring] Externall and temporary humiliation may put off a temporary judgement.

in his sons, &c.] See this accomplished, 2 King. 9. 15, &c.

CHAP. XXII.

Vers. 1. Three yeers] From the covenant made betwixt Ahab and Benhadad (chap. 20. 34.) which was in the ninteenth yeer of Ahabs reign, chap. 16. 29.

V. 2. third yeer] After Jehoshaphat had made peace (v. 44.) and affinity with Ahab, 2 Chron. 18. 1. 2 King. 8. 18. This was in the seventh yeer of Jehoshaphat, v. 51.

Jehoshaphat the king of Judah came down to the king of Israel] 2 Chro. 18. 1, &c.

V. 3. servants] Counsellours who attended on him.

Ramoth-Gilead] See chap. 4. 13.

is ours] It was a part of Israels inheritance, even one of their cities of refuge, Josh. 20. 8. And though it were taken away by Benhadads father, yet it was promised to be restored again, chap. 20. 34.

still] Heb. silent from taking it.

V. 4. I as thou, &c.] 2 Kings 3. 7. I and mine are ready to go, and do as thou wilt. See v. 44.

V. 5. Enquire, &c.] By some prophet, whether God will prosper our design, or no.

V. 6. four hundred men] Those prophets of the groves which are mentioned, chap. 18. 19. as is probable.

V. 7. besides] These that are prophets of the groves. Jehoshaphat suspected that their word was not from the LORD.

V. 8. yet one man] Notwithstanding many of them have been slain (chap. 18. 4. and 19. 10.) and some fled, so as I know not where to finde them. It may be gathered from this phrase (carry him back again, v. 26.) that Micaiah was in prison when Ahab sent for him.

son of Imlah] To distinguish him from the other Micaiah, Mic. 1. 1.

good] That which is pleasing; Jer. 38. 4. or that which may tend to my honour or profit.

evil] Terrible things, which tend to my shame, damage and undoing.

Let not the king] A modest check, implying, That sound counsell, though unsavoury, is to be hearkned unto.

V. 9. officer] Or, eunuch. The Hebrew word signifieth one that is gelded, Isai. 56. 3. So the Greek, Matth. 19. 12. The Persians, Babylonians and other heathen, were wont to appoint such to be chief attendants upon queens and great ladies, for the surer confidence of their continence: such also were attendants upon kings, and other great persons; whence, it became to be a title given to such great officers and attendants, whether they were gelt or no, Gen. 39. 1. See the Notes on Gen. 33. 36.

V. 10. robes] Royall robes, to set out their majestie, as Act. 12. 21.

void place] Heb. floor. A spacious place, where multitudes of people might stand together, Gen. 50. 10. The Hebrew word is used to signific a barn or a floor, where corn is threshed, as Ruth 3. 3. 2 Sam. 24. 18.

prophesied] See Chap. 18. 29.

V. 11. Zedekiah] The chief of the false prophets.

son of Chenaanah] To distinguish him from Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, Jer. 29. 21.

made him horns] As a signe of the truth of his prophecie, in imitation of true prophets. See Jer. 27. 2. and 28. 13. Zac. 1. 18, 19.

the Lord] They used the Name Jehovah, to please Jehoshaphat.

With these, &c.] As horned beasts with their horns push and wound other beasts, till they have destroyed them: so shall thine army deal with the Syrians.

V. 12. so] To the same purpose that Zedekiah had done.

V. 13. good] See v. 8.

with one mouth] With one consent.

V. 14. As the Lord, &c.] This was an usuall concise form of oath. See Chap. 1. v. 29.

V. 15. Go, and prosper] This was spoken ironically, in the words of the false prophets (v. 12.) to discover their falshood more evidently: in such a manner were these words uttered, as Ahab discerned them to be a meer mock. This kinde and way of discovering the folly of men, is frequent, as Chap. 18. 27. Gen. 3. 22. Judg. 10. 14. 2 Chron. 25. 8. Eccles 11. 9. Lam. 4. 21. Am. 4. 4, 5.

V. 16. How many times] The interrogation implies a vehement asseveration, thus, Again and again, as by a solemn oath, I charge thee, &c.

in the Name of the Lord] Received from the LORD; for Micaiah, in his answer (v. 15.) no way implied that he spake it in the Name of the LORD. The king falsly imagined that it was the will of the LORD that he should recover Ramoth-gilead.

V. 17. I saw] In a vision, as Ezek. 1. 4, &c. Act. 10. 11, 17. A vision was a representation of things to a mans imagination while he was awake: wherein it differed from a dream.

all Israel] All that were drawn forth to warre, put to flight.

as sheep] Pursued by wolves, without a shepherd, Zach. 13. 7.

no master] Their king being slain.

V. 18. no good] See v. 8.

V. 19. therefore] Because thou didst adjure me to tell the truth in the name of the LORD.

I saw] As v. 17.

sitting] As a Judge, Isai. 6. 1. Dan. 7. 9.

the host] Angels, who as an host, or army of souldiers, attend the LORD, Psal. 103. 20, 21.

on his right, &c.] Round about him.

V. 20. the Lord said] All this discourse is by way of resemblance, and that after the manner of man, applied to God: For who is his counsellour? Isa. 40. 13.

perswade] Or, deceive.

one] Spirit.

V. 21. a spirit] An evill spirit: for evill spirits can for their advantage, thrust into the company of good spirits,

Job 1.6. He calls himself a lying spirit in the next verse.

V.22. I will be a lying spirit] I will so work on them, as they shall declare false things, Joh.8.44. Thus he is called, a spirit of whoredom, Hos.4.13. meaning spirituall whoredom, which is idolatry: and an unclean spirit, Zac.13.2. and a spirit of errour, 1 Joh.4.6. because he allures men to those sins.

he said] The LORD. Because Ahab hated Gods true prophets, God in justice gave him over to believe lies. See on 2 Thess.2.11,12.

V.23. the Lord hath put] As a just Judge, making an evil spirit his executioner, to punish Ahab. So 2 Sam.16.10. Job 12.16. Ezek.14.9.

spoken evil] Denounced judgement, Am.3.6.

V.24. smote] Impudently, before the kings and whole assembly.

on the cheek] Reproachfully, Job 16.10. Act.23.2.

Which way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speak to thee?] 2 Chron.18.23. Zedekiah pretends that he himself had the Spirit of the LORD; and thereupon inferres, that Micaiah had it not, because it could not be shewed how it should passe from the one to the other.

V.25. thou shalt see] By wofull experience thou shalt finde, that I, by the Spirit of the LORD, have declared a truth. To see, is oft put for an experimentall proof, as Gen.26.28. Matth.2.16.

go into an inner chamber] Or, from chamber to chamber; As Benhadad did, Chap.20.30.

an inner chamber] Heb. a chamber in a chamber.

to hide thy self] From Ahabs friends, who will revenge this thy falshood in deceiving the king.

V.26. carry him back] To the prison where he was before. See v.8.

the kings son] Appointed governour of the kingdom while the king went to war; as Jotham, when his father was a leper, 2 Chron.26.21.

V.27. bread of affliction] With no more then may sustain life, that he may be preserved, but in affliction through want.

V.28. thou return] Heb. returning thou return. Herein he hath reference to the evidence of a true or false prophet, Deut.18.21,22. See Num.16.29.

Hearken] I take you all to witnesse.

V.29. and Jehoshaphat] Though in sundry other things he gave good evidence of a true fear of God, yet here he shewed great failing, 2 Chron.19.1.

V.30. I will disguise my self, and enter into the battell] Or, when he was to disguise himself and enter into the battell: By changing my habit, that I may not be known to be whom I am. See Chap.14.2. and 20.38.

thy robes] As v.10. Hereby he pretends honour to Jehoshaphat, but he was afraid of the issue of Micaiah's prophecie.

V.31. with small nor great] A proverbiall speech, whereby he doth not forbid his servants to slay any other then the king; but that they should observe the king, and bend their main force against him, and not suffer themselves, by fighting with others, to be kept from setting upon the king.

V.32. turned aside] From all others (as they were commanded, v.31.) and compassed about Jehoshaphat, 2 Chron.18.31.

cried out] Earnestly prayed to the LORD, as Chap.17.20. 2 King.2.12. Exod.14.15.

V.33. perceived] By some speciall work of the LORD, whereby the LORD is said to help him, 2 Chron.18.31.

V.34. at a venture] Heb. in his simplicity ; Not purposely aiming at Ahab, nor knowing Gods purpose, 2 Sam.15.11.

joynts of the harnesse] Heb. joynts and the brest-plate.

I am wounded] Heb. made sick. Or, being wounded, I am ready to faint. See 2 King.1.2.

V.35. encreased] Heb. ascended ; Grew more and more fierce.

was stayed up] Or, stayed himself up, 2 Chron.28.34. to keep his army together from fleeing away: for though he were carried aside out of the host (v.34.) to binde up his wound, yet did he not clean leave the army.

chariot] Some put it in the plurall number, thus, or, his chariots; and apply it to the chariots of his captains, that by the kings abiding in the field, they might be kept from flight.

midst] Heb. bosome.

V.36. a proclamation] By reason of the kings death, 2 Chro. 18.34. and this was according to the prophets word, v.17.

Every man to his city] A phrase of retreat, and giving over the battell. See a like phrase, but in another sense, Chap.12.16.

V.37. died] In the field, 2 Chron.18.34.

was brought] Heb. came, Dead.

Samaria] See Chap.16.24,29.

V.38. pool of Samaria] Which reached to Jezreel, where was the kings armoury, and where his chariots stood. Thus, though it were stiled, the pool of Samaria, yet the chariot and armour might be washed in Jezreel, where Naboth was stoned, as Chap.21.19.

unto the word of the Lord which he spake] Chap.21.19.

V.39. ivory house which he made] Chap.10.18.

chronicles] See Chap.11.41.

V.40. slept] See Chap.2.10.

V.41. Jehoshaphat the son of Asa began to reign over Judah] 2 Chron.20.31.

V.42. thirty and five yeers old] Heb. a son of thirty five yeers.

twenty and five yeers] To the end of his life, all which time he was the true king. See 2 King.1.17.

mothers name] See Chap.14.21. and 15.10.

V.43. in all the ways] First ways, as 2 Chron.17.3. See Chap.15.10.

high places] See Chap.15.v.14.

V.44. peace] Which brought the wrath of God upon him, 2 Chron.19.2.

king of Israel] Both with Ahab (v.4.) and also with Jehoram Ahabs son, 2 King.3.7.

V.45. chronicles] As Chap.14.v.29.

sodomites] See Chap.15.12.

V.47. then] From the time that David subdued Edom, (2 Sam.8.14.) till Jorams time (2 King.8.20.) Then was Jacobs prophecy (Gen.27.40.) accomplished. See the Notes on Gen.25.23.

a deputy] Put in by the king of Judah.

V.48. made ships] Or, had ten ships.

ships of Tharshish] See Chap.10.v.22.

Ophir] See Chap.9.v.28.

Ezion-geber] See Chap.9.v.26.

V.49. would not] After he had been reproved and punished for joyning with him, 2 Chron.20.37.

V.50. slept, &c.] See Chap.2.10.

V.51. two yeers] Currant (as Chap.15.2.) His first yeer was in common with Ahab his father: his second, with Jehoram his brother, 2 King.1.17.

V.52. father] Ahab.

mother] Jezebel.

V.53. served and worshipped] Ascribed Deity, and yeelded divine honour to Baal, as to a true God. See Chap.16.21.

ANNOTATIONS
On the second Book of the KINGS,

Commonly called,

The fourth Book of the KINGS.

The Argument of the second Book of KINGS.

THe second Book of Kings continueth the History of the Kings of Israel and Judah, to the captivity of them both. The History of Israel is from the rebellion of Moab in Ahaziahs time, to the captivitie of Hoshea, 2 Kings 18. 6. which was the space of one hundred fifty and nine yeers, wherein twelve Kings reigned one after another. The History of Judah is from the end of Jehoshaphats reign, to the captivity of Zedekiah, which was the space of two hundred ninty and four yeers (besides the twenty and six yeers, mentioned 2 King. 25. 27.) wherein fifteen Kings (besides Athalia the usurper, 2 King. 11. 1.) reigned, one after another.

The Title.

The second] See the Title of the first Book of KINGS.

CHAP. I.

Vers. 1. Moab] Whom David had subdued, 2 Sam. 8. 2.

rebelled] Refused any longer to be subject. Chap. 3. v. 4, 5.

after the death of Ahab] Chap. 3. 5.

Ahab] Who, as his predecessors before him, had held them in subjection.

V. 2. thorow a latteſſe] It seemeth that there were crosse-bars, or latteſſes, to let light into his chamber, either weak, or rotten, or not well fastned, whereon he leaned or trod: but they failing, he fell thorow, and mortally hurt himself. Some take the word translated upper chamber, for the flat-roof of his house: and latteſſes, for battlements, as Deut. 22. 8.

was sick] The Hebrew stiles every hurt, a sickneſſe, Chap. 22. 34. 2 Chron. 35. 23.

Baal-zebub] A fly-lord. So called, because the Ekronites being infested with flies, thought their Baal freed them: or because their priests told them, that in the shape of a fly, he buzzed oracles into their ears. See chap. 16. v. 31.

Ekron] A great city within the lot distributed to Judah (Josh. 15. 45. Judg. 1. 18.) but the Philistines recovered it, and kept it, 1 Sam. 5. 10.

whether I shall recover] Heb. If I shall live.

V. 3. Is it not, &c.] This is a sharp rebuke, whereby Ahaziahs folly is upbraided unto him: in that by sending to the idoll of Ekron, he shewed, that he thought there was no God in Israel: or that the God of Israel could not, or would not tell, what would be the issue of his hurt.

V. 4. Thou shalt not come down from that bed on which thou art gone up] Heb. The bed whither thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it. The judgement is denounced against Ahaziah, as spoken to his face, for the surer evidence thereof.

come down] Thou shalt not recover. For when men recover, they use to rise, and come down from their beds.

shalt surely die] Heb. dying thou shalt die.

Elijah departed] To his accustomed habitation, or mount Carmel. See v. 9. and chap. 4. v. 25. and 1 King. 18. 19.

V. 5. he] Ahaziah.

now turned] So soon: For he knew that they could not have been so soon at Ekron.

V. 6. a man] One whom they knew not: but supposed by his message to be a prophet.

Is it not, &c.] They faithfully delivered their message in the very words that they received it. See v. 3.

V. 7. What manner of man was he] Heb. What was the manner of the man? Of what stature and kinde of countenance was he? What kinde of apparell did he wear? How did he go?

V. 8. an hairy man] Heb. a lord of hairs. He was clad with a rough hairy coat: which was girt about him with a plain girdle, as Zach. 13. 4. Matth. 3. 4.

It is Elijah] For the king had seen Elijah before: or else had heard before of him, and of his manner of going.

the Tishbite] See 1 King. 17. 1.

V. 9. a captain of fifty] Captains were distinguished by the number of souldiers under them: Some were over the whole hoast, 1 Chron. 11. 6. Some over a thousand, 1 Sam. 18. 13. Some over an hundred, Act. 23. 23. Some over fifty, as here.

with his fifty] To force him to come, if he made any resistance.

on an hill] As Judg. 15. 11. This hill is supposed to be mount Carmel. See v. 4.

Thou man of God] This he speaks imperiously, though he knew him to be a man of God, a prophet.

V. 10. let fire] This he did by an extraordinary spirit, Luk. 9. 55.

from heaven] As 1 King. 18. 38. Consumed, as Num. 11. 1.

V. 11. he] Ahaziah.

another captain] Being nothing moved with the former judgement.

O man of God] See v. 9.

quickly] This is added more then before, which importeth greater obstinacy.

V. 12. And Elijah, &c.] See v. 10.

V. 13. again] As it were in despight of God.

fell on his knees] Heb. bowed. In an humble, but civill reverence.

let precious] Be preserved, and not taken away.

V. 14. fire, &c.] See v. 10.

V. 15. Go down, &c.] God encourageth him by his wonders and word against all fear. So Jere. 1. 17. Ezek. 2. 6.

V. 16. is it not, &c.] The very same message that he delivered to the kings messengers, he faithfully and boldly delivers to the kings face, though it were a terrible message.

shalt surely die] Heb. dying thou shalt die.

V. 17. Jehoram] Son of Ahab (chap. 3. 1.) and brother to Ahaziah who had no son.

in the second yeer of Jehoram] Being vice-roy in his fathers stead, when he went out to warre with Ahab, 1 King. 22. 2, &c. This was the eighteenth yeer of Jehoshaphats reign. See chap. 3. v. 1. and 1 King. 22. 42, 51.

V. 18. chronicles] See 1 King. 22. 39.

CHAP. II.

Vers. 1. When the Lord would] When the time that the LORD had appointed for that purpose.

take up] As v. 11.

with Elisha] Who followed him as an attendant, 1 King. 19. 21.

Gilgal] The situation of this place is set down, Josh. 4. 19. And the reason of the name, Josh. 5. 9.

V. 2. Tarry] To try whether he would leave him, or no: and to stir up in him a more earnest desire, and diligent care of following him (as Luk. 24. 28.) that he might be a witnesse of his rapture.

Beth-el] See 1 King. 12. 29.

As the Lord liveth] See 1 King. 1. 29.

and as thy soul liveth] This is added as a strong asseveration, the rather because it was sensibly evident, that his soul lived, and because he was resolved, so long as it was so, not to leave him. That the same phrase may be applied to different things, in different respects, and that together, is evident, Exod. 14. 31. See 1 Sam. 20. 3. and 25. 26.

V. 3. sons of the prophets] See 1 King. 18. 4.

Knowest thou, &c.] The LORD had before-hand made known how he meant to take away Elijah.

from thy head] From being over thee as an instructer and governour. The chiefe and elder prophets in their colledges sate as doctors, in high seats, over the heads of their disciples (Neh. 8. 5.) who sate at their feet, Act. 22. 3.

hold your peace] I need not be instructed by you therein; therefore trouble me not with any discourse thereabouts.

V. 4. Jericho] In the tribe of Benjamin, Josh. 18. 21. though the first ruined city were accursed (see 1 King. 16. 34.) yet there were buildings thereabouts, and prophets trained up therein, as in Gilgal, Beth-el, and other places, wherefore Elijah, about the time of his departure, visited these places.

V. 5. Yea, I know it] I also know it: I as well as you. For the LORD hath revealed it to me.

V. 6. Tarry] The third time he makes the same motion to try his constancy.

V. 7. stood to view afar off] Heb. in sight, or over against. To observe in what manner Elijah should be taken away.

they two] Elijah and Elisha.

V. 8. his mantle] That upper garment which he used to wear, and whereby he was known to be Elijah, chap. 1. 1. and with which he covered his face, 1 King. 19. 13.

wrapt it together] That he might use it the more easily.

smote the waters] A means was used to shew that that great work was done not casually, but by his ministery: and so unlikely means to shew that a divine power accompanied the means: so Exod. 14. 21.

hither and thither] Some one way, some another: as Exod. 14. 21, 22.

dry ground] As Exod. 14. 22. Josh. 3. 17.

V. 9. Ask, &c.] This offer Elijah made by divine instinct. It is like, 1 King. 3. 5.

I shall do] As Gods instrument and minister: so Acts 8. 17.

a double portion of thy spirit] Heb. a mouth (or a portion) of two in thy spirit. That phrase is oft used for a double portion, or two parts, as Deut. 21. 17. Zach. 13. 8. Elisha being to succeed his master, and to be the head of the prophets, desireth that (as the first-born had a double portion above any of his other brethren) he may have a double portion above the other prophets: or the two parts of Elijahs spirit, which were to foretell things to come, and to work miracles: or if it be taken for the doubling of Elijahs gifts on him, then it implieth, an holy, earnest, unsatisfied desire of promoting Gods glory, and doing good to Gods people, even abeve his master that excelled therein: as 1 Cor. 12. 31. and 14. 12.

V. 10. Thou hast asked an hard thing] Heb. Thou hast done hard in asking. A rare and difficult thing: such as none but God can grant. So Dan. 2. 11.

if thou see, &c.] This is a sign to assure him that his desire should be granted.

if not, &c.] This is added to make him more heedfull in observing the manner of Elijahs departure, that he might be an eye witnesse thereof, as Acts 1. 10.

V. 11. they still went on, and talked] Heb. they went going and talking.

a charet of fire, &c.] A fiery apparition in shape like horses drawing a charet, as chap. 6. 17. A charet is a fit means to carry a man from place to place: and horses use to draw a charet: Therefore Gods Angels that carried up Elijah, are thus set out: and all fiery, for the greater glory and brightnesse: but such a fire, as Exod. 3. 2.

by a whirl-winde] Which carried up the charet with him in it.

into heaven] In his body and soul, so as (like Enoch, Heb. 11. 5.) he never died. This rapture was a type of Christs ascension, Mark. 16. 19.

V. 12. he cryed] Earnestly prayed to have the promise accomplished, 1 King. 22. 32.

My father] A title of excellency and superiority: doubled, in testimony of his true and hearty acknowledgement thereof. See chap. 5. 13. chap. 13. 14.

the charet, &c.] He so stiles him in allusion to the manner of his rapture: and to shew that he was a better defence to Israel, then horse-men and charets could be: in acknowledgement hereof a king of Israel so stiles Elisha, chapter 13. vers. 14.

he saw him no more] Being carried into heaven, Act. 1. 3.

rent them] An ancient, usuall expression of grief and astonishment, Gen. 37. 29, 34. See 1 King. 21. 27.

V. 13. the mantle] To keep it in memory of his master.

bank] Heb. lip.

V. 14. smote the waters] In imitation of his master, vers. 8. and to try whither his desire of a double spirit were granted, or no.

Where is the Lord, &c.] That God which wrought wonders by Elijah, to work by me now, as he did before by Elijah. These are words, not of diffidence, but of earnest desire of experimentall proof.

smitten, &c.] As v. 8.

V. 15. to view at Jericho] Verse 7.

spirit of Elijah] Such power of Gods spirit as was manifested in, and by the ministery of Elijah.

bowed] In a civill manner acknowledging him to be now their father and master, as Elijah was before. See chapter 4. 37.

V. 16. thy servants] A phrase of subjection to him.

strong men] Heb. sons of strength.

thy master] They thought that he might be carried from place to place, as 1 King. 18. 12.

some mountain] Heb. one of the mountains.

Ye shall not send] For he knew that Elijahs body and soul were both in heaven.

V. 17. ashamed] That he should seem inexorable: or that they should be without cause importunate.

Send] That they might by experience see their errour: and be more fully assured of his ascent into heaven. See Matth. 11. 2.

V. 18. at Jericho] Till the fifty men returned.

V. 19. the city] Jericho.

naught] Unwholesome. See the notes on Numb. 13. 20.

barren] Heb. causing to miscarry. The fruit thereof grows not to maturity. Or it is noxious: so as many perish thereon.

V. 20. salt] This may seem to be a most unlikely means. See Judg. 9. 45.

V. 21. I have healed] The blessing on means cometh from the LORD.

barren] As v. 19.

V. 22. unto this day] Wherein this history was written: which was many yeers after this fact. See the Argument on this book. This phrase implieth a long, if not a perpetuall time.

V. 23. children] Of the idolaters that lived in that city.

mocked him] In contempt of his person, being bald-headed: and of his office, being a prophet of the LORD.

V. 24. in the name of the Lord] By divine instinct, and by commission from the LORD: not on a revengefull minde in his own cause, but to the glory of God, and withall calling upon God. See 2 Chro. 14. 11.

V. 25. from thence] He went up and down from place to place, partly to avoid danger, but principally to do the more good.

to Samaria] It may be that Elisha foreseeing that the three kings would have occasion to use him, and his ministery (as they did, chap. 3. 12.) went thither purposely. Or God by his secret providence might direct his journey thither for that end.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. THe eighteenth yeer of Jehoshaphat] When Jehoram his son was vice-roy. See chap. 1. 17. and 8. 6. and 1 King. 22. 51.

V. 2. evill] As is exemplified, v. 3.

not like his father] Ahab. See 1 King. 16. 33.

and like his mother] Jezebel. See 1 King 16. 31.

image] Heb. statue.

V. 3. sins of Jeroboam] See the notes on 1 King. 16. 19.

V. 4. sheep-master] A possessour of many sheep. His countrey abounded with that kinde of cattle, Isai. 16. 1.

rendred] By way of tribute every yeer. See chap. 1. v. 1.

to the king of Israel] For after the revolt of the ten tribes, the kings of Israel held that jurisdiction over Moab, which David had got, 2 Sam. 8. 2. For Moab was on the other side of Jordan, and coasted upon the tribes which belonged to the kingdom of Israel, Num. 21. 13.

with the wooll] At the best time, when they were most worth.

V. 5. Ahab was dead] Chap. 1. 1.

rebelled] See chap. 1. v. 1.

V. 6. the same time] Heb. in that day. When Moab began to rebell, which was in the beginning of his reign, yea, somewhat before, chap. 1. 1.

numbred] Took a view of, as 2 Sam. 24. 1. or mustered them.

V. 7. wilt thou go, &c.] See 1 King. 22. 4.

I am as thou art, &c.] 1 King. 22. 4.

V. 8. he] Jehoshaphat.

wildernesse of Edom] Because he had obtained ayd from Edom.

V. 9. king of Edom] Who was onely a deputy there (1 Kin. 22. 48.) but called king, because he was the supreme governour in Edom.

A com-

Cap. 2. 9. - double portion] — De hisce tribus interpretationibus, id prudenter annotabimus, Elisæum data sibi patrii optione, minime frivola postulasse; honores, voluptates, divitias — Spiritualia optavit, et quæ ad gloriam Dei — conducere noverat. Qua in re videtur Salomonem imitatus; — sapientiam sibi dari petiit — hæc postulata Deo accepta sunt, quòd non a carne, sed Spiritu erumpant.
Petri Martyris Comment. fol. 189. a.

a compasse] About the wildernesse of Edom.

that followed them] Heb. at their feet.

V. 10. Alas] A word of despair.

that the Lord] He impiously laies the blame of their distresse upon the LORD, as chap. 6. 33.

V. 11. powed water] Ministred unto him as an houshold servant.

V. 12. The word of the Lord] Jehoshaphat supposed that he was now in the place of Elijah, and had his spirit, chap. 1. 16. 1 King. 18. 18. and 21. 20.

V. 13. What have I to do with thee?] Heb. What to thee and me? So Joh. 2. 4. This shews that the spirit of Elijah was in him.

get thee to the prophets] He upbraideth to him his toleration of those false prophets that could give him no safe counsell. Of these prophets, see 1 King. 18. 19.

three kings] Hereby he pleads favour, if not for himself alone, yet for the two other kings joyned with him.

to deliver, &c.] His guilty conscience made him misgive the worst.

V. 14. As the Lord] See 1 King 17. 1.

of Jehoshaphat] For his piety and integrity. It was not the number of three, but the goodnesse of one of the three which most wrought upon the prophet.

V. 15. a minstrel] The Hebrew word signifieth any kinde of musician, whether by singing or playing on instrument: prophets used to have such (1 Sam. 10. 5.) and that to quicken their spirits, and to rouze them up from dulnesse and heavinesse. The minstrell or musician, here intended, might be some Levite, skilfull in singing divine Psalms, and playing them on a lute, harp, or other like instrument.

the hand of the Lord] A divine motion of Gods spirit stirred him up to prophesie as he did.

V. 16. valley full of ditches] The doubling of the Hebrew (thus, ditches, ditches) importeth very many. See chap. 4. v. 3.

V. 17. Ye shall not see winde] No ordinary means to cause water: as there was no ordinary means to cause fire, 1 King. 18. 38.

V. 18. but a light] Though in kinde and benefit it be a very great thing, yet to the LORD it seems but small: for he intends a far greater blessing.

V. 19. ye shall smite] This is by prediction, promise, and command, as 1 Sam. 15. 3. chap. 8. 12. and 1 King. 20. 28.

fell every good tree] This was extraordinary for this time. It was forbidden, Deut. 20. 19. God would have them so spoiled every way, as they might have no power to rebell again.

marre] Heb. grieve.

V. 20. when the meat-offering] The ordinary morning sacrifice (Exod. 29. 39.) When the true and faithfull ministers of the LORD were at their devotions. A like at the evening sacrifice, 1 King. 18. 36.

V. 21. gathered] Heb. were cryed together.

all that were able] Both younger and elder: such as never before went to warre, and old souldiers; as Josh. 8. 26.

put on armour] Heb. gird himself with a girdle.

in the border] In the outmost coast of their own land. For theirs was a defensive war.

V. 22. red] For the morning and evening sun will make water look red.

V. 23. are surely slain] Heb. by destroying are destroyed.

one another] Heb. a man his neighbour.

Moab, to the spoil] An incitation of one another.

V. 24. they went forward smiting] Or, they smote in it even smiting. The Israelites having put the Moabites to flight, pursued the victory, and slew them every where in the fields, and in the cities.

V. 25. they beat down, &c.] As was foretold, and enjoyned, v. 19.

Kir-haraseth] The chiefest and strongest city in Moab: so called by reason of the workmanship and strength of the wals. Mention is made of it, Jere. 16. 7, 11.

the stones] The strong stone-wall, which they could not demolish.

the slingers] Engineers, who with such violence forced stones against a wall out of their engines, as now gunners shoot bullets.

they smote it] Or, battered it.

V. 26. that drew sword] That were valorous and well exercised in war.

to break, &c.] To break thorow the king of Edoms troops, to have seized on that king.

but they could not] Yet, it seems, they took his son, v. 27.

V. 27. his eldest son] This relative HIS may have reference to the king of Moab, or of Edom: for both are mentioned in the verse before. If to the former, then he offered his own son and heir to his god, to move him by such an extraordinary sacrifice to help in that desperate case. A folly worse then that of the Baalites, 1 King. 18. 28. If it have reference to the king of Edom, then was his son, being taken, in the hands of the king of Moab, who in a spitefull revenge thus offered him up, Amos 2. 1.

great indignation against Israel] By the king of Edom and his souldiers, or the king of Judah and his souldiers. Or there might be great indignation and vexation of spirit upon, or among the Israelites themselves, by reason of that desperate and miserable fact of the king of Moab.

they departed] Being much troubled at that lamentable spectacle.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 1. SOns] See 1 King. 20. 22.

fear, &c.] A man that fears God may be in debt.

the creditour] To whom I ow money, but am not able to pay it.

to be his bond-men] That was then the custome, as Matth. 18. 25. see Levit. 25. 39.

V. 2. What, &c.] These interrogations were to prepare her with confidence to expect some relief, v. 14. chap. 2. 9.

V. 3. vessels] Fit to hold oyl: that there may be means to receive that blessing which the LORD will give: as chap. 3. 16.

borrow not a few] Or, scant not.

V. 4. shut the door] That none may come in to hinder thee, no nor to see thee. See v. 33.

V. 5. she poured out] That oyl which was in her own pot still increasing, till all the borrowed vessels were full. See 1 King. 17. 16.

V. 6. the oyl stayed] Ceased to run, there being sufficient for her present and future need.

V. 7. sell the oyl] For it was a very vendible commodity, being usefull for food (1 King. 17. 15.) and refreshing (Psal. 104. 13.) and many other wayes.

pay thy debt] Or, creditour. With that money which is taken for the oyl.

of the rest] Of the money that remains over and above the debt.

V. 8. it fell on a day] Heb. there was a day.

Shunem] See 1 King. 1. 3.

great] This indefinite particle may be applyed to any thing that makes one to be in high esteem, as to fame or reputation, honour, wealth, power, &c. Chap. 5. 1. and 7. 6. Exod. 11. 3. Esth. 10. 3. Gen. 24. 35.

woman] Such an one as Prov. 31. 10, 11.

constrained] Heb. laid hold on him. As Luke 24. 29. Acts 16. 15.

to eat bread] To take a meal, as Gen. 31. 54.

V. 9. to her husband] For his consent.

holy] In his disposition.

man of God] In his function. See 1 King. 13. 1.

V. 10. on the wall] There house might be by the town wall, as Rahabs (Josh. 2. 15.) and the chamber being on the wall, the prophet thereby might have the more free ingresse, and egresse: or her meaning might be to make a little chamber with a wall, or a partition, to separate it from other rooms, that he might be the more private to himself.

a bed, &c. All things fit for study and rest.

V. 11. thither] To the Shunammites house.

V. 12. stood before him] Expecting what the prophet would with her.

V. 13. he said to him] The prophet by his servant speaketh to the woman, that she might the more freely deliver her minde by the servant.

carefull, &c.] The phrase implieth such a care as hath a fear of failing in some duty mixed with it.

king or captain] Who could not but be ready to do a kindnesse to the prophet that had declared so good a message to them, as is declared, chap. 4. v. 16, &c.

I dwell] I have so good content among my kinsfolks and neighbours, as I have no need of the kings, or captains favour.

V. 14. What then, &c.] His gratefull minde made him as carefull for his hostesse, as she was for him. See v. 2.

no childe] He knew that a childe would of all things be most acceptable to her, and that his master could obtain it of the LORD.

V. 15. Call her] For she was gone, after her first coming to the prophet, v. 12. or else, this hath reference to v. 12.

in the door] By reason of her modest shamefulnesse, as Sarah, Gen. 18. 10.

V. 16. he said] To the woman her self.

About this season] Gen. 18. 10. Heb. set time. This time of the next yeer.

the time of life] The time of a womans going with childe. Not that she should presently conceive, but that from her first conceiving conceiving she should go her full time, and then bring forth a son, and all within the space of a yeer. This appears to be an usuall kinde of expressing that point, as Gen. 18. 10, 14. Rom. 9. 9.

do not lie] Deceive me not with vain hope.

V. 17. conceived] The promise, in the very circumstances thereof, was accomplished.

V. 18. grown] To some three or four yeers at the least; for he was able to go into the fields.

My head] Aketh. The doubling of the word implieth great pain, as Jer. 4. 19.

V. 20. sate on her knees] That she might the more tenderly look to him.

V. 21. laid him on the bed] To try if by that means he might be raised (see v. 32.) or at least to keep others from winding him up and coffining him; or to conceal it from her husband; or to have it the more ready, and better prepared for the prophet when he should come.

V. 22. Send, &c.] She would not use servant nor beast, nor her self go abroad, without her husbands consent.

run] Make all the speed I can, v. 26. Jer. 51, 31. Joel 2. 4.

V. 23. neither new moon] Those were times wherein Gods people used to go to prophets for advice; for then people ceased from the works of their calling, and prophets set themselves apart to instruct and advise such as should come to them.

well] Heb. peace; No offence will hence arise: the prophet will well take my coming to him in good part.

V. 24. she saddled] See 1 King. 13. 23.

slack not thy riding for me] Heb. restrain not for me to ride, For my ease.

V. 25. Carmel] See 1 King. 18. 19.

afar off] Heb. over against him.

V. 26. Run] See v. 22.

well] Heb. peace.

well] Heb. peace.

well] Heb. peace.

She answered, &c.] Thus she saith, because she would declare the case to the prophet her self.

well] Heb. peace.

V. 27. she caught him] To testifie her reverend respect to him (as Matth. 28. 9.) and to hold him till he had heard her, and granted her desire. This gesture is also an expression of much passion, which the prophets words intimate.

him by the feet] Heb. by his feet.

thrust her away] Supposing that she was too troublesome to his master, as Matth. 15. 23.

vexed] Heb. bitter.

hid it] As 2 Sam. 7. 3.

V. 28. Did I desire?] This interrogation imports a strong negation, thus; Thou knowest that I never mov'd thee to ask a son of the LORD for me: and when of thy self thou didst promise one, I intreated thee not to deceive me (See v. 16.) Hereby she implies, That now she had no son: he was dead; which the prophet presently discerned, v. 29.

V. 29. Gird] See 1 King. 18. 46.

my staff] Because God oft wrought miracles by such externall things as belonged to his servants, Chap. 2. 8. Exod. 4. 2, 3. Act. 19. 12.

salute him not] Let no office of courtesie stay thee any whit at all, Luk. 10. 4.

V. 30. As the Lord, &c.] See Chap. 2. 2.

V. 31. neither voice, &c.] No evidences of life.

went] Heb. returned.

not awaked] Not revived: for death is a kinde of sleep. See 1 King. 2. 10.

V. 32. behold, &c.] Notwithstanding all that Gehazi had done according to his masters charge, v. 29, 31.

V. 33. them twain] The prophet and the dead childe.

and prayed] As 1 King. 17. 20. This not being done before, the staff could do nothing.

V. 34. lay upon the childe] See 1 King. 17. 21.

waxed warm] A signe that life began to come again.

V. 35. he returned] From the childe: or this may be an Hebraism, he returned and walked; that is, he walked again, Dan. 9. 25. See Chap. 13. 25.

walked, &c.] A signe of a fervent spirit. See 1 King. 17. 21.

to and fro] once hither, and once thither.

neesed, &c.] A further signe of life.

V. 36. Take up thy son] See 1 King. 17. 23.

V. 37. fell at his feet] In testimony of her high esteem, reverend respect, and gratefull heart; all in a civill manner. See Chap. 2. 15.

V. 38. to Gilgal] See Chap. 2. 2.

sitting] As disciples, to hear the prophet, Act. 22. 3. See 2 King. 10. 5.

the great pot] That there might be enough for all, and none of them forced to wander up and down for food.

V. 39. a wilde vine] Heb. a vine of the field; A plant growing in fields and hedge-rows, like a vine.

wilde gourds] Leaves or herbs which are bitter and poisonous: this kinde of plant is taken to be Colequintida.

V. 40. there is death in the pot] The broth therein is poisoned, and will poison all that eat of it. Death is put for that which may cause death, as Exod. 10. 17.

V. 41. bring meal] Not that meal had any vertue to draw out bitternesse or poison; but that by such a means it might be discerned whence that vertue came, even from God, who appointed that means to be used, as Exod. 15. 25. This was a miracle.

harm] Heb. evil thing.

V. 42. Baal-shalisha] This was the place in Ephraim which was called Shalisha, 1 Sam. 9. 4. and after Baal was there set up, it was called Baal-shalisha.

brought] In testimony of his good respect to the prophets of God in that time of dearth.

of the first-fruits] Which God reserved to himself. Because this pious man could not carry them to Gods house (as Exod. 23. 19.) he thus honours God with them, Prov. 3. 9.

in the husk] Or, in his scrip, or, garment: Not beaten out.

unto the people] The sons of prophets, v. 38.

V. 43. What, should I] As Joh. 6. 9.

They shall eat, and shall leave thereof] Joh. 6. 11.

V. 44. and left] A miracle, like Matth. 14. 20. Joh. 6. 11.

CHAP. V.

Vers. 1. A great man] See Chap. 4. 8.

with] Or, before.

honourable] Or, gracious. Heb. lifted up, or, accepted, in countenance.

by him] By his valour and prudence.

deliverance] Or, victory.

V. 2. gone out] Into the land of Israel for spoil, Chap. 13. 21.

waited on] Heb. was before.

V. 3. with] Heb. before.

that is in Samaria] The kingdom of Israel. See 1 King. 16. 24.

recover] Heb. gather in.

V. 4. one] That heard the maid speak it: Or, he, that is, Naaman, went in.

V. 5. said] To Naaman, who told the king what the maid had said.

took] For a present to give the prophet. See 1 King. 14. 3.

with him] Heb. in his hand.

ten talents of silver] Three thousand seven hundred and fifty pound sterling. See 1 King. 16. 24. and 1 Chron. 22. 14.

six thousand of gold] When the distinct sum is not expressed, a shekel is ordinarily understood. Six thousand shekels of gold, is an hundred and fifty thousand pounds sterling. See 1 King. 10. 16. If the word pieces be understood, the sum will arise according to the quantity of the piece.

ten changes] Of upper garments, such as our gowns or cloaks, which Jews used oft to shift; and therefore changes or shifts of fundry new ones were wont to be given or sent for presents. See Gen. 45. 22. Judg. 14. 12.

V. 6. Now when] The main sum of the letter, not the whole form thereof, is here set down. See the like, Chap. 10. 2.

recover] Procure that he be recovered. The king of Syria took for granted, that the king of Israel well knew that the prophet in his kingdom could do it.

V. 7. rent, &c.] A signe of much passion, Gen. 37. 29. See the Notes on Chap. 18. v. 33.

I God] He supposeth that the king of Syria required him to do it with his own hands.

to kill, &c.] This is Gods prerogative, Deut. 32. 39. 1 Sam. 2. 6.

a quarrell] An occasion to wage war.

V. 8. Wherefore hast thou rent, &c.] An implicite reproof, for not sending to the prophet of the LORD in such a case.

V. 9. stood at the door] Expecting that Elisha would come out to him.

V. 10. sent a messenger, &c.] Not in scorn, but for triall of Naamans subjection to that course which was prescribed.

thy flesh] Which is dried up by the leprosie.

V. 11. was wroth] Taking all to be done in neglect, scorn, or contempt.

I thought] Heb. I said. Or, I said with my self. He restrains Gods power and wisedom to his own conceit.

strike] Heb. move up and down.

V. 12. Abana] Or, Amana: This river is said to run thorow many parts of Damascus, and the other to flow along by it.

better] Have more vertue in them. He supposed that he was sent to Jordan, for the vertue of the water.

V. 13. My father] A title given to all sorts of superiours, Exod. 20. 12. it is a note of reverence, mixed with love. See Chap. 2. 12.

great] Hard to be done.

2 K. 5. 18. He would nevertheless upon 4th Solicitation of his Worldly Interest have a Reserve to Bow in ye house of Rimon.

Owen H. S. P. 425.

As Faith will not dislike any thing in this way of Holiness; so it will not desire, on any Occasion, that there should be any Alteration in it, or any Abatement of it, or of any thing required in it.

Naaman the Syrian liked well of the Worship of the True God in general: but he would have an Abatement of Duty, as to one Instance, in compliance with his earthly Interest; which discovered his Hypocrisie.

Owen, Evidences of the Faith of God's Elect. p. 40.

6. 19. — Not the way] See Exod. 1. 19.

he was clean] Luk.4.27.

V.15. he said] To Elisha, being come out to him.

a blessing] A gift, in testimony of gratitude. So Gen.33.11.

V.16. As the Lord, &c.] See 1 King.17.1.

V.17. Shall there not then] A form of an earnest desire, 2 Sam.13.26.

of earth?] Out of the land of Israel, to make an altar thereof. He esteemed the earth in Israel more holy then the earth in Syria.

V.18. Rimmon] The idoll of the Syrians.

leaneth, &c.] It was Naaman's place and office to be next the king of Syria, so as the king used to lean on him on all occasions, as Chap.7.2. Whither the king went, even to the idoll-temple, or any where else, Naaman must go with him: thus was he brought to do outward reverence as before the idoll, for which he craveth pardon. This is commonly taken of the future, as if before-hand he craved pardon for that which he should afterwards do. The words may also be taken of the time past, thus, When my master went into the house of Rimmon, and leaned on my hand, and I bowed my self; in this my bowing, the Lord pardon, &c. The word translated went, is so used in the titles of the 51, 52, 54 Psalms; and, leaned, 2 Sam.1.6. and, bowed, Exod.33.10.

V.19. Go in peace] An usuall fare-well-phrase, as Exod.4.18. It doth not imply an approbation of any sinfull intention, but onely a friendly dismission.

a little way] Heb. a little piece of ground. Gen.35.16.

V.20. said] To himself, as Matth.9.3,4.

V.21. lighted] The Hebrew importeth a quickness or speed in his action: so Gen.24.64. Josh.15.18.

Is all well?] Heb. Is there peace?

V.22. my master, &c.] He feigneth all of his own head.

a talent, &c.] See v.5.

V.23. Be content] Be willing, and refuse not to take my offer.

he urged him] It seems that Gehazi refused to take more then one talent, which, he said, his master desired.

V.24. the tower] Or, secret place. The Hebrew word signifieth an high place made for safety: it is oft translated as a proper name Ophel, 2 Chron. 27.3. and 33.14. Neh.3.26. and 11.21.

in the house] Where his master dwelt.

V.25. Whence] For he had been some while absent.

no whither] Heb. not hither or thither; Out of the house.

V.26. Went not mine heart, &c.] In spirit, by a divine vision, I saw thee run after the man, and the man meet thee: I saw all, though thou seek to conceal it from me.

is it a time] Now that prophets are to honour their calling, and grace their carriage before idolaters; it must needs be most unseasonable for us to receive bribes.

and olive-yards, &c] These particulars are added, because Elisha might perceive that Gehazi had it in his thought to buy such things with the money he had of Naaman.

V.27. The leprosie] Such a leprosie as Naaman had.

shall cleave] Shall so seise on thee and thy posterity, as it shall never be taken away, 2 Sam.3.29. Yet, as promises, so threatnings had their limitations, upon repentance, 2 King. 20.5. Jon.3.10. See on Chap.8.2.

V.2. unto Jordan] Where was not onely conveniency of water, but also of wood and other materialls to build withall.

a beam] That which may be fit to erect a fit meeting-place.

V.3. Be content] See Chap.5.23.

V.4. he went] To satisfie their desire, to perform his promise (v.3.) and further to do what occasion should require, as v.6.

V.5. ax-head] Heb, iron.

Alas] See v.15.

it was borrowed] So as I ought to restore it again.

V.6. a stick] As Chap.2.21. and 4.41. This stick was as a load-stone, to draw the iron to it.

V.7. Therefore, &c.] Because it so floated on the top of the water, as he might easily reach it.

V.8. In such and such] The Hebrew words are used to set out a certain, but unnamed thing; whether person (as Ruth 4.1.) or place, as 1 Sam.21.2.

in thy bed-chamber] In thy most private and secret places. Eccl.10.20.

V.13. Dothan] A city neer to Sichem, or Samaria, Gen.37. 13,17.

V.14. a great host] Heb. heavie; Of foot-men.

V.15. servant] Or, minister.

behold] He saw an host.

Alas, &c.] A phrase of despair, as Chap.3.10.

V.16. Fear not] A phrase of encouragement, as Exod. 14.13.

they that be with us, are mo then they that be with them] 2 Chron. 32.7.

V.17. open his eyes, &c.] Grant that by some extraordinary vision he may see thy guard of angels.

full of horses, &c.] A multitude of angels in manner of an host, Psal.34.7. and 68.17. See Chap.2.11.

V.18. they came down] The Syrians came down toward Elisha's house.

smote, &c.] as Gen.19.11.

blindenesse] Whereby they were so dazeled in their minde and bodily sight, as they could not discern any thing or person in the true and proper kinde thereof. Note Luk.24.16. Mar.8.24. See on Gen.19.11.

V.19. said] Or answered; being asked by them where Elisha was.

This is not the way, &c.] Whither ye should go, &c. so as his speech hath ambiguity in it, but not equivocation.

follow me] Heb. come ye after me.

I will bring you to the man] For in Samaria they saw him.

V.20. open the eyes] Take away that dazelledness which hath been upon them.

that they may see] Distinctly, and discern what they see.

V.21. My father] See Chap.2.v.12. The king hereby testifieth his respect to the prophets calling, and to the extraordinary Spirit of God in him.

shall I smite] Slay them. The phrase is doubled, in testimony of joy in that power which he now had over his enemies.

V.22. wouldest thou smite, &c.] Men use not to kill such as in the field are taken captives, and stand not out in hostility; much lesse oughtest thou to kill such as by Gods extraordinary work are brought to thee.

bread and water] Meat and drink: courteously entertain them. See v.23.

go to their master] To tell him what befell them.

V.23. came no more] As before they used, with troops, to spoil and plunder the countrey; for in the next history they are noted to come with a full army.

V.24. Ben-hadad] He that besieged Samaria before, 1 King. 20.1.

V.25. an asses head] Not fit to be eaten, but in extreme famine.

fourscore pieces of silver] Ten pound sterling. See Chap.5. vers.5.

the fourth part of a cab, &c.] A cab is an Hebrew measure, of a pottle or thereabouts: the fourth part is a pinte.

doves dung] Which may be taken for the corn in their crop, which, by flying, they brought out of the fields into the city: or for that corn which was in their entrails, and came from them: or else their very dung might be eaten in that extremity, or used for salt, or for fuell. vid. An. Gen. 42.1.

five pieces of silver] Twelve shillings and six pence.

V.26. upon the wall] To view the city.

V.27. If the Lord do not help thee] Or, Let not the Lord save thee. Can I do more then God?

V.33. while he, &c.] While Elisha was speaking to the elders.

he said] The messenger, in the kings name, uttering the kings words: or the king himself, who had prevented the messenger.

this evil] This famine, and the effects thereof, as, mothers eating their children.

what should I wait, &c.] A speech of diffidence and despair. It seems that Elisha had made promise of succour from the LORD, which made king Jehoram to wait some while: but when he saw the great extremity of the famine, in distrust and despair he said, What should I wait, &c.

CHAP. VII.

Vers.1. THen] When the king said, What should I wait any longer? Chap.6.33.

said] To the elders, king and messenger, all met together.

To morrow about this time] The day and hour is here designed.

a measure] A peck and a pottle, and somewhat more: three measures make one of our bushells.

a shekel] Two shillings and six pence. See 1 King.10.16. and 1 Chron.22.14. Compare the difference betwixt this, and Chap.6.25.

V.2. a lord] The Hebrew word importeth, the third from the king; or one of the three great officers of state, such as Dan.6.2. He is supposed to be the man whom the King sent to kill Elisha, Chap.6. v.32. for great ones were so employed, 1 King.2.29.

a lord on whose hand the king leaned] Heb. a lord which belonged to the king, leaning upon his hand. This was the custom of kings, Chap.5.18.

Jokthеel] The word, according to the notation of it, signifieth, obedience to God: which name Amaziah might give to this city, in testimony of his obedience to God, 2 Chron. 25. 10,11.
unto this day] See the Notes on 1 King.9.13.
V.8. Come] A word of chalenge, as 1 Sam.14.12.
look one another] Stand one against another in the open field: he means not this of a single presenting their two persons one to another, but of setting their armies one against another, themselves being as Generalls, in the head of them: so it is applied v.11. See a like phrase, chap.23.29. This chalenge he made, in revenge of the wrong which the men of Israel had done to the cities of Judah, 2 Chron.25.13. and to restrain Israel from invading cities, and to move him rather to decide the quarrell by main battell hand to hand.
V.9. The thistle] A parabolicall speech, as Judg.9.8, &c. In derision, the king of Israel resembleth the king of Judah to a thistle, a thistle in Lebanon, which grew under cedars: himself to a cedar: desire of marriage betwixt the son of the one, and daughter of the other, to a conceipt of equality: a wilde beast, to the army of Israel: treading down the thistle, to vanquishing Judah. This application is verified in the next verse.
V.10. Thou hast indeed smitten] Heb. Smiting thou hast smit.
thine heart] The pride of thine heart, occasioned by thy victory over Edom, hath puffed thee up. The like is said of Hezekiah, 2 Chron.32.25,26.
glory, and tarry, &c.] If thou wilt needs boast thy self, do it privately, in thine own countrey, among thine own people.
at home] Heb. at thy house.
why shouldest thou] A dissuasive exprobration.
meddle to thy hurt] Put thy self into mischief?
V.11. would not hear] Would not forbear to do what he was dissuaded from.
went up] Into the field, not staying till Amaziah should come to him.
looked one another, &c.] Met with their armies face to face.
to Judah] Josh.15.10. and 21.16. for there was another Beth-shemesh in the tribe of Naphtali, Josh.19.38.
V.12. was put to the worse] Heb. was smitten.
to their tents] To their own houses. See the Notes on 1 Kin. 12.16.
V. 13. took Amaziah] Took him captive; seised on his person.
and came] In hostile manner with his army.
brake down] See the Notes on Neh.8.16.
gate of Ephraim] Which looketh towards Ephraim, Nehem. 12.39.
corner-gate] Out of which they might look two ways, Zac. 14.10. Jer.31.38.
V.14. hostages] Children of the king, or other noble persons, for a pledge of keeping covenant with him.
V.15. Jehoash, &c.] This is the same that is called Joash, chap.13.12,13. where the same things are written of him.
his might] Chap. 13. 8. His valourous deeds against the Syrians, chap.13. v.25.
V.19. they made a conspiracy] So many of his subjects, and such mighty ones, plotted and wrought treason against him, after his idolatry (2 Chron.25.14,27.) as he durst not stand out against them, but fled.
to Lachish] A strong city in the borders of Judah, 2 Chron. 11.9. Isai.36.1,2.
V.20. on horses] In a chariot drawn with horses, as chap.9.28.
V.21. Azariah]

V. 21. Azariah] 2 Chron. 26.1. he is called, Uzziah.
instead of his father] While his father lived; for he reigned twelve yeers in his fathers time, even after the time that they conspired against his father; which thus appears: Jeroboam the son of Joash began his reign in the fifteenth yeer of Amaziah, and reigned one and fourty yeers, v.23. Jeroboams son began his reign in the eight and thirtieth of Uzziah, chap.15.8. Amaziah reigned twenty nine yeers: take away fifteen from twenty nine, and there remains fourteen: adde to these thirty eight of Uzziah's, there will arise the summe of fifty two. Out of these must be taken at least eleven, to make the just account of Jeroboam's one and fourty yeers: these eleven (or twelve, because yeers of kings are reckoned currant) must needs be swallowed up in the joynt reign of Amaziah and Uzziah his son. See the like, 2 King.1.17.

V.22. He built Elath] Elath was an ancient city, whereof mention is made, Deut.2.8. but it was so decayed, as by repairing it, he is said to build it. This was lost in Ahaz time, Chap. 16. 6.

V.23. In the fifteenth yeer] See the Notes on v.21.

V. 24. from all] See the Notes on chap.13.11.

sins of Jeroboam] See the Notes on 1 King.16.19.

V. 25. the coast of Israel] Cities which were betwixt Judah and Israel, and were then under the power of Israel, but of right appertained to Judah. These coasts were appointed by God himself to his people, Num.34.8.

from the entring] Compare Num.34.8. with Deut.3.17.

Jonah] Matth.12.39,40, called Jonas; The fifth of the small prophets, Jon.1.1.

Gath-hepher] A city in the tribe of Zebulun, Josh.19.13.

V. 26. not any shut up] See the Notes on 1 King.14.10. It may here imply, that none was safe, whether he were shut up in a place of defence, or left abroad; whether he were great or mean; whether he had means or not.

V.27. said not] Had not yet determined; though afterwards he said it (Hos.1.6,9.) and did it, Chap.17. v.18. See Chap. 13. 23.

V.28. and his might] See the Notes on v.15.

Damascus] Which David won (2 Sam.8.6.) and Rezon got again (1 King.11.24.) but now Jeroboam recovered.

to Judah] Of old it belonged to Judah, but now Jeroboam united it to the kingdom of Israel.

chronicles] Civill records.

CHAP. XV.

Vers.1. BEgan] Heb. reigned. This word is not in the text: but this word, reigned, is oft translated thus, began to reign, as 1 King.15.25. and 22.41,51. If it be here so taken, it must be expounded of his beginning of his reign alone, after his fathers death; for he began to reign with his father twelve yeers before this. See the Notes on Chap.14.21.

Azariah] 1 Chron.16.1, Uzziah.

V.2. two and fifty yeers] From his first beginning to reign with his father, Chap.13.21.

his mothers] See the Notes on 1 King.15.10.

V.3. according to all] See the Notes on Chap.14. v.3.

V.4. high places] See the Notes on 1 King.15.14.

V.5. smote the king] See the cause and punishment, 2 Chron. 26. 16.

a severall house] Heb. a house of freedom; Free from all company, Levit.13.46.

over the house] Over the court and kingdom; for he reigned as king while his father was a leper.

V.7. with his fathers] In the field or place of buriall where other kings were buried, but not by their sepulchres, 2 Chron. 26.23. See 2 Chron.24.25.

V.10. Shallum] Some great commander.

before the people] Openly, publikely: first, he plotted against the king secretly, and is said to conspire: afterwards, he got the people to favour his cause, and to be on his side.

V. 12. the word of the Lord which he spake unto Jehu] Chap. 10. 30.

fourth] 1.Jehu. 2.Jehoahaz (chap.13.1,3.) 3.Jehoash (Chap. 13.10.) 4. Jeroboam (chap.14.16.) 5. Zechariah (chap.14. 29.) Thus Gods Word was accomplished to the full; for there were four generations of his sons, besides himself.

V.13. Uzziah] Matth. 1.8, 9. called Ozias.

a full moneth] Heb. a moneth of dayes.

V.14. Menahem] Josephus saith, that Menahem was captain of Zechariah's army, and hearing that Shallum had slain his master, came with the army, and destroyed Shallum.

Tirzah] See the Notes on 1 King.14.17.

V.16. Tiphsah] A city (situate in the way to Tirzah) thorow which Menahem desired to passe.

the women] He was so incensed against Tiphsah, for refusing to entertain him, as he spared not their women great with childe; but opened their wombs, because the citizens would not open their gates to him. See an example of great severity for a like cause, Judg.8,5,16. Chap.8.12.

V.18. sin] See 1 King. 5. 26.

V.19. Pul the king of Assyria] 1 Chron.5.26.

against the land] Which was on the other side of Jordan, 1 Chron.5.26.

a thousand talents] This amounts to three hundred seventy and five thousand pound sterling. See the Notes on 1 King.16.24.

to confirm] Menahem gave that great sum to Pul, not onely to move him to depart from him, but also to aid him against all other forreign invasions, and intestine insurrections. This is to confirm or secure his kingdom, chap.14.5.

V.20, exacted] Heb. caused to come forth.

fifty shekels] Six pound and five shillings: for a shekel was two shillings and six pence. See Chap.7.1.

V.25. with Argob] Pekah with these conspired; they aided him.

V.29. Tiglath-pileser] Son of Pul, mentioned v.29.

Ijon, and Abel-beth-maachah] Of these two, see 1 King. 15. 20.

Janoah] Situate on the border of Ephraim, Josh.16.6.

Kedesh and Hazor] 1 Kin. 9. 15. These two were in the tribe of Naphtali, Josh.19.32,36,37.

Gilead] See the notes on chap.10. v.33.

Galilee] See the Notes on 1 King.9.11.

them] The inhabitants of the places before named.

V.30. twentieth yeer] From the time that Jotham began to reign; for he reigned but sixteen yeers, v.33. Some say that he lived four yeers after those sixteen, but gave up the kingdom to his son Ahaz: for Hoshea began to reign in the fourth yeer of Ahaz: but no mention being as yet made of Ahaz, the account is taken from the beginning of Jothams reign.

V.32. second yeer] Currant; for after sixteen yeers of Jothams reign, Ahaz began to reign, in the seventeenth yeer of Pekah.

Jotham] 2 Chron.27.1.

V.33. his mothers name] See the Notes on 1 King.15.10.

V.34. that his father] Before he presumed to offer incense, 2 Chron.26.16.

V.35. high places] See the Notes on 1 King.15.14.

higher gate] See Chap.11.6.

V.37. began to send] In the later end of Jothams reign those enemies consulted about invading Judah; which they put in execution in Ahaz time, chap.16.5 Isai.7.1.

Pekah] Who slew in one day sixscore thousand valiant men of Judah, 2 Chron.28.6.

CHAP. XVI.

Vers.1. SEventeenth yeer of Pekah the son of Remaliah, Ahaz, &c.] 2 Chron. 28.1. See the Notes on chap.15. v.32.

V.2. Twenty yeers old] By this account, Ahaz was but eleven yeers old when his son Hezekiah was born; for he reigned but sixteen yeers: and Hezekiah was five and twenty yeers old when he began to reign, chap.18. v.2. Some refer the relative particle, he, to Jotham, as if it had been thus expressed; Twenty yeers old was Ahaz, when Jotham began to reign. See 2 Chron. 36.9.

V.3. to passe thorow the fire] The heathen burnt their children to death for a sacrifice to their idoll, which the Jews learned of them: and it is set out, sometimes by offering up their children for a sacrifice, as Psal.106,37,38. Jer.7.31. and 19.5. Sometimes, by causing them to passe thorow the fire, as 2 Chron.33.6. Jer.32.35. The idol to which they consecrated their children, was Molech; whereof, see the Notes on 1 King.11.5. The place where they used so to do, was called, The valley of the son of Hinnom. Hinnom was the name of a man: his son had a pleasant place neer Jerusalem, in a valley, which was usually called, The valley of the son of Hinnom, Josh.15.8. and 18.16. It is also called, The valley of Hinnom, Neh.11.30. In this valley was a place called Topheth, from the Hebrew word תֹּף toph, tympanum, a timbrel or drum. See the Notes on Exod.14.20. Because of the sacrificing of children, they used to beat a drum, and sound other instruments, that the cry of the childe might not be heard. Of sacrificing children in this valley, see 2 Chron.28.3. and 33.6. Of Topheth in that valley, see Jer.7. 31, 32. From that cruelty used in the valley of Hinnom, which in Hebrew is גֵּיהִנֹּם Gehinnom; the Greek word Γέεννα, Gehenna, which signifieth hell, ariseth, Matth.5.22,29. Yea, Topheth also is used in a like signification, Isai.30.33. See of Gehinnom, the Notes on Josh.15.8.

V.4. on the hills] See the Notes on 1 King.14.23.

V.5. Then Rezin king of Syria] Isai.7.1.

could not] Because God hindered them, Isai.7.7.

V.6. Elath] See the Notes on chap.14 v.22.

unto this day] See the Notes on 1 King.9.13.

V.7. Tiglath] See the Notes on chap.15.29.

servant] To be in subjection, and to serve thee.

son] To be under thy protection.

V. 8. took the silver, &c.] As Joash had done before (chap. 12.18.) and Hezekiah did after him, chap.18.16.

V.9. Damas-

V. 9. Damascus] Heb. Dammesek. to Kir] Not Kir of Moab, mentioned Isai. 15. 1. but another Kir in Media, Am. 1. 5. Isa. 22. 6.
Rezin] King of Syria, v. 6.
V. 10. to meet Tiglath] To congratulate his victory: and to obtain further ayd against the Syrians, but all in vain, 2 Chr. 28. 18, 21. For Tiglath-Pileser took very chargeable presents of him, and thereby distressed him, but sent him no ayd: only for his own turn he overcame Damascus, but suffered others to spoil Ahaz.
an altar] Whereon the Syrians offered sacrifices to their idols: wherein he preferred the Syrians idols before Jehovah the God of Israel: This is pleaded against Israel, Jerem. 2. 9, 11.
V. 11. priest] The priest, or was, or should have been better instructed in the law (Mal. 2. 7.) but they who set themselves to please princes, regard not Gods law, Gal. 1. 10.
against he came] That the king might see how ready and forward he was to please him.
V. 12. and offered thereon] Herein Ahaz committed two great sins: one was to usurp the priests office, as Uzziah had done, 2 Chron. 26. 16. The other, to bring in a strange altar into the house of the LORD. In this, he is said to sacrifice unto the gods of Damascus, 2 Chro. 28. 23.
V. 13. his burnt-offering] Which he offered up for himself: so the rest.
burnt-offering] See Levit. 1. meat-offering] See Levit. 2.
drink-offering] See Levit. 23. 13.
his] Heb. which were his.
peace-offerings] See Exod. 20. 24.
the altar] That strange altar mentioned, v. 11.
V. 14. the brasen altar] Which Solomon made, 2 Chron. 4. 1.
before the Lord] At the entrance into the house of the LORD, Exod. 40. 29. 1 King. 8. 64.
from between the altar] That the LORDS altar might not stand betwixt his altar and the temple.
on the north-side] Not in the midst directly, before the temple. There he placed his own altar, and set the LORDS altar at the north-side of his.
V. 15. the great altar] That new strange altar, which Urijah had made (v. 11.) which was in quantity, and in his account, greater then the LORDS altar.
the brasen altar] The LORDS altar shall be for me to enquire of the LORD, what, and when I please. Thus he would have his own altar to be continually used for all holy services enjoyned to the people of God: and the LORDS altar, for what he pleased.
V. 16. Thus did Urijah] Too basely and slavishly.
V. 17. cut off] He defaced the beauty of those holy vessels which Solomon had made.
borders] See 1 King. 7. 28.
the sea, &c.] See 1 King. 7. 23, 25.
V. 18. the covert for the sabbath] A place in the temple for them, or, for the priests, who by sabbaths, or weeks kept their courses (of whom intimation is made, chap. 11. v. 5.) to rest therein: this he took away.
the kings entry without] The gallery without the temple, whereby the king ascended from his own palace to the house of God. Hereof see the notes on 1 King. 10. 5.
turned he from, &c.] Because he had no minde to go to Gods house, the doors whereof he shut up, 2 Chron. 28. 24.
for the king of Assyria] Partly to collogue with him by shewing a detestation of the Jewish religion, and partly to cut of all bie-passages to his palace, through fear of the king of Assyria.
V. 20. in the city of David] But not in the sepulchre of the kings, 2 Chron. 28. 27. So Joash, chap. 12. 21.

CHAP. XVII.

Vers. 1. IN the twelfth yeer] Eight yeers before this did Hoshea slay Pekah, and reigned in his steed, chap. 15. 30. but as a tributary to the king of Assyria, vers. 3. Now in the twelfth yeer of Ahaz, Hoshea rebelled against the king of Assyria, and took upon him an absolute government: and in that respect is said then to reign.
V. 2. not as] It is probable that he gave not himself over to so many severall sorts of idolatry, as other kings had done. See chap. 3. 2. nor that he invented any new idolatry.
V. 3. Shalmaneser] This may be the Tiglath-Pileser (chap. 15. 29.) For he continued a long while in Ahaz time, 2 Chro. 28. 20. Or, he may be another.
became his servant] Yeelded subjection to him.
gave] Heb. rendred.
presents] Or, tribute. Yeerly tribute, v. 4.
V. 4. found conspiracy] Breach of covenant, as chap. 24. 20. Ezek. 17. 13, 14, 15.
he had sent, &c.] To desire ayd against the king of Assyria.
no present] Hereby he manifested his breach of covenant.
shut him up] After he had besieged him three yeers, and taken him in the last yeer of his reign.
prison] Heb. an house of shutting up.
V. 5. throughout all the land] Having conquered it.
V. 6. In the ninth yeer of Hoshea] Chap. 18. 10.
Halah, Habor] Cities in Assyria: whereunto Haza is added, 1 Chro. 5. 26. river of Gozan] Or, Nehar-Gozan: so as both words joyned together, make the name of one city.
cities of the Medes] Others then those before mentioned to be in Assyria: For Media was then under the king of Assyria.
V. 7. For when] In this and the verses following, is shewed how long Israel had continued to provoke the LORD, and how much, before he executed the foresaid judgement on them.
V. 8. statutes of the heathen] Their inventions, customes, orders, and ordinances. God long before this threatned, that their land should spue them out for such abominations, Levit. 18. 26, 28.
which they had made] Of their own inventions against the law of God.
V. 9. secretly] Heb. they hid: They covertly, and deceitfully, did that which was not right, upon pretence of serving God, yea, and beside their open idolatry, they did many secret abominations, Ezek. 8. 12.
from the tower, &c.] Watch towers used to be up and down in the countrey, to descry danger afarre off: great and populous cities were wont to be fenced. This then is a proverbiall speech, whereby the extent of their idolatry is set out, to be every where in countrey and city, in meaner and greater places.
V. 10. images] Heb. statues.
groves] See the notes on 1 King. 3. 4. and on 16. 33.
V. 11. incense] There was a peculiar altar (Exod. 30. 1, &c.) appointed for incense in Gods house: so as it was not lawfull to burn it in high places.
V. 12. idols] According to the notation of the Hebrew word some translate them, dungy gods: so stiled in contempt, Ezek. 20. 39.
Ye shall not do this thing] Deut. 4. 19.
V. 13. by all the] Heb. by the hand of all.
seers] Seers were properly such as by visions had Gods minde made known to them. See 1 Sam. 9. 9.
Turn ye from your evil wayes, &c.] Jerem. 18. 11. and 25. 5. and 35. 15.
V. 14. hardened their necks] Deut. 31. 27. This metaphor importeth a stubborn disposition, which will not bow, nor submit to Gods will, 2 Chron. 29. 6. 36. 13. Prov. 29. 1. Isai. 48. 4. Jere. 7. 26. It is a metaphor taken from beasts which will not bear the yoke.
V. 15. statutes, &c.] See the notes on 1 King. 2. 3. vanity] Idolatry. See the notes on 1 King. 16. 13.
vain] Foolish, without understanding, Rom. 1. 21. Psal. 115. 8. not do like them] Deut. 12. 31, 32. Josh. 23. 7.
V. 16. made them molten images] Exod. 32. 8. 1 King. 12. 28.
host of heaven] The stars, which, as an host, are many, set in good order, keep their rank, are ready to do what their LORD will, Judg 5. 20. see Deut. 4. 19. Jere. 8. 2. served Baal] See the notes on 1 King. 16. 31.
V. 17. to passe, &c.] See the notes on chap. 16. 3. used divination] Heb. divined divinations. Intercourse with the divell. See the notes on Deut. 18. 10. Jere. 14. 14. Ezek. 21. 21.
enchantments] Heb. they enchanted. To enchant, or use enchantment, is by words, or signs, to make pretence of doing some rare thing. Of charming serpents. See Psal. 58. 5. Eccle. 10. 11. Jere. 8. 17. The Hebrew word doth also signifie, to discern, or, know what is done in secret, to divine, Gen. 44. 5, 15.
sold themselves] See the notes on 1 King. 16. 33. and 21. 20.
V. 18. out of his sight] Out of that land whereupon the eyes of the LORD were continually after an especiall manner, Deut. 11. 12. where the evidences of his gracious presence were: where his church was.
Judah] See the notes on 1 King. 11. 13.
V. 19. Also Judah] This is added as another cause of Israels ruine, that they were an ill example to Judah, and infected that nation, and as an aggravation of Judahs sins, that would not be warned by Israels fall, Jere. 3. 8.
which they made] Vers. 8.
V. 20. all the seed of Israel] All the ten tribes: or, it may be extended to the twelve tribes.
spoilers] Kings of Syria (chap. 13. v. 3, 7.) and kings of Assyria, chapter 15. 19, 29. chapter 18. 9. and afterwards

Judah

Judah was destroyed by the Caldeans, chapter 25.

out of his sight] Vers. 18.

V. 21. he rent Israel] The LORD (1 King. 11. 11, 31: and 12. 24.) or, Israel rent it self, 1 King. 12. 16.

from the house of David] 1 King. 12. 16, 20, 28.

drave Israel] By not suffering them to go to the house of the LORD, 1 King. 12. 28.

a great sin] Which was to worship calves. See the notes on chap. 12. v. 30.

V. 22. walked] From the time of Jeroboam, till the captivity. There were twenty kings, and ten severall stocks (see the Argument on both Books of Kings) yet all agreed in the sin of Jeroboam. See the reason, 1 King. 12. 26.

V. 23. all] All that he had stirred up in those dayes to foretell this judgement, as 1 King. 13. 32. and 14. 16. 2 King. 8. 12. Hos. 1. 4, 6, 9. Amos 5. 27. Mic. 1. 6.

unto this day] See the notes on chap. 9. 13.

V. 24. the king of Assyria] Shalmaneser first, vers. 3. afterwards Esar-Haddon (Ezra 4. 2.) who was Sennacheribs son.

Babylon] Heb. Babel. The chiefest city in Assyria.

Cuthah] No mention is elsewhere made of this city. It is supposed to be in the confines of Syria.

Ava] Or, Iva. This, and Hamath and Sepharvaim were cities which the king of Assyria had conquered, chap. 18. 34.

cities of Samaria] Appertaining to the kingdom of Israel, which was called Samaria, from the chiefest city in that kingdom. See the notes on 1 King. 16. 24.

instead, &c.] Having removed the Israelites to other cities (v. 6.) he placed strangers in the cities of Israel, that in all places they might hold what they had, not as inheritours of their own, but as his vassals. Joseph used the like policy, Gen. 47. 21.

V. 25. they feared not] Nor inwardly did they know, or beleeve in Jehovah the true God: nor outwardly did they yeeld any worship or service to him.

V. 26. they spake] By letters, or messengers, they made known to him.

the manner of the God] His minde, how he will be worshipped.

V. 27. one of the priests] Who may be a chief instructer, and directer about the worship of the LORD.

let them] Him and his company: wherein other priests may be included.

V. 28. how they should] In generall what kinde of sacraments, sacrifices, feasts, meats, and other like rites were formerly used in that countrey.

V. 29. every nation] Heb. nation, nation.

gods of their own] Idols of their own native countrey, stiled gods, in relation to their esteem of them.

Samaritanes] The Israelites which before dwelt in the cities of Samaria.

V. 30. Succoth-benoth] This, and the other titles following, were proper names which the heathen gave to their severall idols.

Cuth] The same that was called Cuthah, v. 24.

V. 31. burnt their children] See the notes on chap. 16. v. 3.

Adrammelech and Anammelech] The same that Molech: whereof see the notes on 1 King. 11. 5. Adrammelech, according to the Hebrew notation signifieth a glorious king. Anammelech, an afflicting king: both which may not unfitly be applied to Saturn, the idol to whom they burnt their children. In their esteem he was glorious, which brought upon them that affliction of sacrificing their children to him. The former name was also given to one of the sons of Sennacherib, chap. 19. 37.

V. 32. of the lowest] As Jeroboam had done before, 1 King. 12. 31.

V. 33. They feared the Lord] Zeph. 1. 5.

whom they carried away from thence] Or, who carried them away from thence. Idolatrous Israelites: or as those heathenish nations whom the Assyrians brought thither, did in their severall countries.

V. 34. they do, &c.] The Israelites which were carried captive into Assyria. From this verse to the last, the obstinate disposition of the Israelites in their captivity is set down.

former manners] Before they were carried away captives.

they fear not] They testifie no respect to God, nor inwardly, nor outwardly.

their statutes] Which the LORD ordained as proper to them.

whom he named] By this he puts them in minde of the great mercy which God shewed to their ancestor, from whom they sprouted, when he first give him that name Israel (Gen. 32. 28.) and of the gracious promises made to him and his posterity, when that name was again confirmed to him, Gen. 35. 10, &c. This is here mentioned as an aggravation of their obstinacy. See the like 1 King. 18. 31.

V. 35. a covenant] To be their God (Gen. 17. 7.) and to cast out nations before them.

Ye shall not fear other gods] Judg. 6. 10.

nor bowe your selves to them] Exod. 23. 24.

nor sacrifice to them] Exod 34. 15.

V. 36. with great power] Deut. 5. 15.

stretched-out arm] So extraordinary was the power manifested in rescuing Israel out of Egypt, as God by way of resemblance to man, is said to stretch out his arm: that is, to extend his strength: or it was such as it plainly appeared to be the arm of the LORD, or a divine power. See Exod. 6. 6. Deut. 5. 15. Jere. 32. 21. Ezek. 20. 33, 34.

him shall ye fear] Deut. 6. 13.

to him shall ye do sacrifice] Exod. 8. 27.

V. 37. the statutes] Deut. 6. 1. See the notes on 1 King. 3. 3.

V. 40. former manner] Expressed before, v. 8, 9, &c.

V. 41. these nations] Which the king of Assyria placed in the cities of Samaria; of whom see v. 29, &c. Of these came the Samaritans, with whom the Jews would have nothing to do, Joh. 4. 9.

feared the Lord] Acknowledged Jehovah to be a God, and did some services to him. This is here noted, in opposition to the obstinacy of the Israelites. For those heathen in Samaria, were somewhat moved with Gods judgement, v. 25. But the Israelites nothing at all, though the judgement on them, being cast out of their land, was more severe.

and served] This shews that their fear of the LORD was unsound and servile. See Zeph. 1. 5.

CHAP. XVIII.

Vers. 1. IN the third yeer] After he began to reign as an absolute, and not as a tributary king. See the notes on chap. 17. v. 1.

Hezekiah the son of Ahaz king of Judah began to reign] 2 Chro. 28. 27. and 29. 1. He is called Ezekias, Matth. 1. 9.

V. 2. Twenty and five yeers] See the notes on chap. 16. 2.

his mothers name] See the notes on 1 King. 15. 10.

Abi] Abijah, 2 Chron. 29. 1.

Zachariah] The king of Israel (as some suppose) mentioned chap. 14. 29.

V. 3. right] Agreeable to the rule or law of God: and therein pleasing and acceptable to him.

David] See 1 King. 15. 5.

V. 4. removed] According to the commandment of the LORD, Deut. 7. 5.

images] Heb. statues.

brasen serpent that Moses had made] Num. 21. 9.

Nehushtan] Brasse, or brasen. Hereby he gave them to understand, that it was but a piece of brasse, there was no deity in it: and therefore not to be worshipped.

V. 5. none like him] This is a proverbiall speech, which highly commends one. Proverbs carry a generall sense, wherein they hold true, though one or two particulars may seem to make against them. The like is said of Josiah, chap. 23. v. 25. So in discommendation, sundry wicked ones are said to do worse then any before them, as 1 King. 16. 25, 30.

V. 6. clave] With his whole heart, and entire affection, Deut. 10. 20.

from following him] Heb. from after him.

V. 7. with him] As with Abraham, Gen 21. 22.

he rebelled] Not that he brake any covenant, which he himself had made; but in that he refused to be tributary to the king of Assyria, as his father was forced to be, chap. 16. 7.

V. 8. Philistines] Who had in the reign of Ahaz, taken many cities from Judah, 2 Chron. 28. 18.

Gaza] Heb. Azzah.

from the tower] Every where. See the notes on chap. 17. v. 9.

V. 9. it came to passe in the fourth yeer of king Hezekiah] The beginning of it. Chap. 17. 3.

the seventh] After he had revolted from the king of Assyria. See the notes on v. 1. The history of carrying Israel into captivity is before set down, chap. 17. v. 6, 7.

V. 10. the ninth, &c.] Chap. 17. 6.

V. 13. In the fourteenth yeer of king Hezekiah] 2 Chro. 32. 1. Isai. 36. 1.

Sennacherib] Heb. Sanherib. Son of Salmeneser, chap. 19. 12.

took them] Many of them. He thought to do more then he did, 2 Chron. 32 1.

V. 14. Lachish] Where the king of Assyria was with his army. See the notes on chap. 14. v. 19.

I have offended] By refusing to be tributary, as v. 7.

three hundred talents of silver] An hundred and fourteen thousand and five hundred pound sterling. See the notes on 1 King. 16. 24.

thirty talents of gold] After the sacred talent, an hundred and fourteen fourteen thousand and five hundred pound sterling. See the notes on 1 King.9.14.

V. 15. all the silver] See the notes on chap.16. v.8.

V. 16. which Hezekiah] Piety moved Hezekiah in the beginning of his reign, to repair with gold what his father had pulled off, (2 Chron.29. 3.) and now fear makes him pull off the same again.

it] Heb. them.

V. 17. sent] He received the present, but stood not to the condition.

with a great host] Heb. heavy. To terrifie Hezekiah, and make him yeeld to his demands.

the conduit] Which was without Jerusalem, into which water was let out of a lake in a field, where fullers washed and dried their clothes. Hereof mention is made, Isai.7. 3.

V. 18. called to the king] To speak with him: for they were not admitted into the city.

Eliakim] That pious governour. Of whom see Isai. 22. 20.

over the household] See the notes on 1 King.4. 6.

Shebna] That proud states-man, described, Isai. 22. 15, &c.

scribe] Or, secretary. See the notes on 1 King.4. 3. He was also over the kings house, Isai.22. 15.

recorder] See the notes on 1 King.4. 3.

V. 19. What confidence] He sleighteth all confidence but his own.

V. 20. sayest] Or, talkest.

vain words] Heb. word of the lips.

counsel and strength for the war] Or, but counsel and strength are for the war. The two most necessary things for defence against an enemy. This by way of derision he objecteth to Hezekiah, as if he had neither.

V. 21. trustest] Heb. trustest thee.

staff of this bruised reed] Egypt is here resembled to a staff, by reason of that pretence which he maketh of help and support: to a reed, by reason of his impotency: to a bruised or broken reed, by reason of the damage he doth: for a reed broken, is sharp and full of teeth, and pierceth into a mans flesh, Isai.36.6. Ezek.29. 6,7.

V. 22. whose altars] He accounts reformation of religion, to be impiety against God.

V. 23. give pledges] Or, hostages. Submit your selves, and give hostages for assurance of your fidelity.

if thou be able] A scoff: as if Judah had not two thousand horses, nor two thousand men, able to be troopers.

V. 24. turn away the face] Be able to resist and put to flight.

V. 25. Am I now] This he speaks of his master: who most falsly pretends commission from God, to terrifie them the more.

V. 26. Eliakim] He, as the mouth of all: the rest standing by, and giving consent.

in the ears] To the understanding of the souldiers who ward on the wall.

V. 27. But Rabshakeh said] To trouble the people (2 Chro. 32. 18.) that by casting fears into their heads, they might murmure, mutine, and yeeld to the king of Assyria.

that they may eat] That if they persist and yeeld not, they may endure all the extremities of a siege.

their own piss] Heb. the water of their feet?

V. 28. loud] Heb. great. He lift up his voice the higher, that more might hear him, and be (as he supposed) affrighted.

V. 29. not able] He was not well acquainted with Gods almighty power.

V. 30. The Lord] See v. 33.

will surely deliver us] Heb. delivering will deliver us.

V. 31. Make an agreement] Or, seek my favour. Heb. make with me a blessing. Word for word, or make peace with me, or render a present to me.

then eat ye] Then shall ye eat by my permission.

cistern] Or, pit.

V. 32. take you away] So was Israel dealt withall, chap. 17. v. 6.

a land of corn, &c.] A land abounding with all needfull commodities: as Deut.32. 13, 14.

perswadeth] Or, deceiveth.

V. 33. delivered] Heb. delivering delivered. He equals the idols of the nations to Jehovah the onely true God. See v. 35.

V. 34. Where is, &c.] An insolent insultation.

Hamath and Arpad] Cities of Syria, Jere.49. 23.

Sepharvaim, Hena, Ivah] Other cities vanquished by kings of Assyria, chap.17. v.24. Sundry of their gods names are expressed, chap.17. v. 30, 31.

have they delivered] Or some of these countries gods were worshipped in Samaria, before it was overcome by the Assyrians: or the gods of Samaria are understood under this relative they.

V. 35. that the Lord] See v. 33.

V. 36. Answer him not] See Prov. 26 4.

V. 37. Eliakim, &c.] See v. 18.

clothes rent] This rite was of old used upon occasion of grief, as an expression of much passion, Gen. 37. 34. Judg. 11. 35. and upon apprehension of Gods displeasure, as a sign of deep contrition, 2 King. 22. 11, 19. And also used, upon hearing of blasphemy, as an evidence of great indignation, Matth.26.65. All these may here be applied.

CHAP. XIX.

Vers.1. IT came to passe when king Hezekiah heard it] Isai. 37. 1.

rent his clothes] See the notes on chap. 18. v. 37.

sackcloth] See the notes on 1 King.21. 27.

into the house of the Lord] To make solemn prayer, and to offer sacrifice.

V. 2. Eliakim] See the notes on chap.18. v. 18.

Isaiah] Luke 3. 4. called Esaias.

V. 3. This day, &c.] At this time we are exceedingly molested by the enemy, who reproacheth us, and provoketh God himself.

blasphemy] Or, provocation.

the children, &c.] A parabolicall speech, wherein he resembleth Jerusalem to a woman in travail; the inhabitants, to infants in the womb; the straitnesse of the siege, and threatning of the potent enemy, to pains of travail; the weaknesse of the Jews, to the disability of the woman in travail to help her self. The sense is this, we are brought to the extremity of danger, and are utterly unable to help our selves: Now is the time for the LORD to shew himself.

V. 4. It may be] A phrase taken from men, when they conceal their minde in such things, as there is strong hope they will do. It is a word of good hope and confidence: as 1 Sam. 14. 6. and 2 Sam.16. 12.

will hear] Will shew that he hears by confounding the devices of so proud an enemy.

reproach] By putting him in the rank of dumb, senseless idols, chap.18. v. 35.

reprove] By shewing how vain and false they are.

remnant] For the ten tribes were swept away: and many of the tribe of Judah, which dwelt in the cities that Sennacherib took (chap.18. v.13.) were destroyed.

left] Heb. found.

V. 5. servants] Those honourable and venerable persons which are mentioned verse 2. For they were of his court. Besides, all sorts of subjects are servants to their Soveraign.

V. 6. servants] The plurall number is here used, because many assisted Rabshakeh, and consented to his blasphemy, chap. 18. 17, 18, 19.

blasphemed] By making me no better then an idol, chap.18. v. 35.

V. 7. a blast] That which like the blast of a terrible tempest shall overthrow his formidable army, v. 35, 37.

a rumour] Of an enemy coming against him, as v. 9.

sword] Of his own sons, v. 37.

V. 8. Libnah] See chap.8. 22.

from Lachish] A strong city (chap. 14. 19.) and probable it is that Sennacherib found it too difficult a task to take it at that time: and therefore for the present went from it, as also upon the report of Tirhakah, v. 9.

V. 9. Ethiopia] Heb. Cush.

against thee] In Sennacheribs own land. See a like instance of Gods seasonable providence, 1 Sam. 23. 27.

he sent] Heb. he turned and sent.

V. 10. Thus shall ye speak] This is the sum of the letter which Sennacherib sent to Hezekiah (v.14.) which the messengers, by whom he sent the letter, were, at the delivery of the letter, to relate.

V. 11. shalt thou be delivered?] This interrogation imports a strong negation.

V. 12. nations] Other countries.

fathers] Predecessours, as his father Salmaneser (chap. 17. 3, 6.) his grand-father Tiglath-Pileser (chap.15.29.) his great grandfather Pul (chap.15. 19.)

Gozan] See chap.17. 6.

Haran] See Gen.11. 31.

Eden] Some take this for the proper name of a man. Others, for that countrey wherein the garden of God was (see on Gen. 2. 8.) situate in Caldea, Ezek. 27. 23. Thus, children of Eden, are put for the inhabitants thereof, as Ezr.2. 21, 28.

Thelasar] A fortresse.

V. 13. Hamath, &c.] See the notes on chap.18. 34.

V. 14. spread it] To quicken his own spirit, and strengthen his own faith the more by sight of the writing in the letter.

before the Lord] Before the altar, which was a representation of Gods presence. So Solomon, 1 King.8. 22, 28.

V.15. which

V. 15. which dwellest, &c.] The Cherubims were placed neer the ark (1 King. 8. 7.) which was the most principall representation of Gods presence. There did God use to declare his minde (Numb. 7. 89.) and thereupon is said to sit or dwell there, Psal. 80. 1. The king to strengthen his faith in a gracious answer, thus sets out God: the rather because the golden Cherubims were the most glorious types under the law (1 Kin. 6. 23, &c.) and they set out the glory of God, as angels do now (Mark. 8. 38. see on 1 King. 6. 23.) or as heaven doth, Matth. 6. 9. See on 1 Sam. 4. 4. They put him also in minde of the mercy-seat, which represented the throne of Grace, Heb. 4. 16. See 1 Chron. 28. 2.

V. 16. bow down, &c.] These phrases are spoken of God, after the manner of man, to make men better conceive Gods dealing with them.

him] Rabshakeh, Chap. 18. v. 19.

to reproach] See v. 4.

V. 17. Of truth] This is a word whereby a truth, but such a truth as maketh nothing against the point in hand, is granted.

the nations] Which were not under the LORDS protection.

V. 18. cast] Heb. given.

no gods] Therefore might men have power over them.

V. 19. therefore] Because thou art not as they: but a true God: the onely true God.

V. 20. That which thou hast prayed] To be saved out of thy enemies hand, v. 19.

I have heard] So as I mean to grant thy desire.

V. 21. The virgin, &c.] The state of the Jews, which is stiled virgin, because she was now incorrupt in religion: daughter of Zion and Jerusalem, because this people was brought forth and brought up in those places. See other reasons on Isa. 47. 1.

despised, &c.] Sundry phrases of derision and scorn, because of Gods succour afforded to the Jews, and the vain attempts of the king of Assyria.

thee] An elegant manner of turning the speech to the king of Assyria, though he were not present, to make the Jews the lesse to fear him.

V. 22. exalted, &c.] Gestures of insolent arrogancy.

holy One] The LORD GOD, who is holy in regard of his essentiall property: holy One by an excellency and property, none like him therein: holy One of Israel, in that he hath dedicated and consecrated himself to be in a speciall manner Israels God. See Psal. 71. 22. Isa. 1. 4. Ezek. 39. 7.

V. 23. By thy] Heb. By the hand of.

messengers] Mentioned, Chap. 18. v. 17.

With the multitude, &c.] Though these very words were not uttered by the messengers, yet the sense was: which is expressed in an elegant and pertinent comparison. By mountains are meant, cities of Judah: by the height, the midst of them: by Lebanon, Jerusalem: by tall cedar-trees, and choice firre-trees, the king, nobles, and other eminent persons: by lodgings of his borders, frontier towns: by forest of Carmel, fruitfull fields, vineyards, orchards, gardens, and such like places. Of Lebanon, see the notes on 1 King. 5. 6. Of Carmel, see the notes on 1 King. 18. 19.

the tall] Heb. the talnesse, &c.

the forest] Or, the forest and his fruitfull field.

V. 24. strange waters] Waters in places where none were before, as Num. 21. 18.

with the sole of my feet] With the treading of my numerous army I have stopped all the streams that ran into the places that stood out against me. This is a proud brag of his providing for himself, and annoying his enemies. Herein also he derides Hezekiahs diligence in stopping the waters, 2 Chron. 32. 3.

besieged] Or, fenced.

V. 25. Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times that I have formed it? now have I brought it to passe that thou shouldest be to lay waste fenced cities into ruinous heaps] Or, Hast thou not heard, how I have made it long ago, and formed it of ancient times? should I now bring it to be laid waste, and fenced cities to be ruinous heaps?

Hast thou not heard] The prophet changeth the person, and bringeth in God, answering the proud brags of Sennacherib.

how I have done it] God chalengeth that to be his own work, which Sennacherib arrogateth to himself. See Isa. 10. 5, 7, 13, 15.

V. 26. Therefore] Because God gave them over.

of small power] Heb. short of hand.

the grasse] Fit comparisons, whereby the impotency and instability of those who are left of God, is set out.

V. 27. thy abode] Or, sitting. Thy purposes, plots, and practices, Psal. 129. 2, 3.

rage against me] In that it is against my people. See Act. 9. 4.

V. 28. my hook in thy nose] As men deal with bears, and other wilde beasts.

my bridle] As men deal with sturdy steeds.

turn thee] This is accomplished, v. 36.

V. 29. to thee] The Prophet in the name of the LORD now turns his speech to Hezekiah, and his people.

this yeer] The yeer of rest, Levit. 25. 4, 5.

of themselves] Being faln from the last crop, and not sown by man.

in the second yeer] Herein especially lieth the miracle, that the enemy coming upon them in the yeer wherein their land was not tilled, and hindering them from sowing the yeer after that rest, the ground brought forth fruit of it self two yeers together.

V. 30. the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah] Heb. the escaping of the house of Judah that remaineth. See the notes on v. 4.

take root] The Jews are resembled to trees well rooted, which thereupon live, grow, flourish, and bear fruit. So shall they be established in peace, and prosper in their callings.

V. 31. out of Jerusalem] They which were besieged and shut up in Jerusalem and Zion, shall freely, without fear, go abroad as they please. This may typically be applied to the Gospel which first went out of Jerusalem, Isa. 2. 3.

they that escape] Heb. the escaping.

the zeal] Fervent love of God to his people, and indignation against his enemies, Isa. 9. 7.

V. 32. He shall not come] He was now going against the king of Ethiopia, v. 9. yet with a purpose to return and take Jerusalem; but here is shewed how far he should be from accomplishing his purpose. See more hereof on Isa. 37. 33.

V. 33. By the way] He came out of his countrey, and with shame and losse he returned to his countrey, v. 36, 37.

V. 34. for my own sake] To give an evidence of my power, providence, mercy and goodnesse, Isa. 48. 9, 11. Ezek. 36. 22.

Davids sake] See the notes on 1 King. 11. 12.

V. 35. it came to passe that night] Isa. 37. 36. Wherein they were sitting themselves to assault Jerusalem: for they had not assaulted or besieged it, v. 32.

the angel of the Lord] Such an angel as destroyed the Israelites in Davids time, 2 Sam. 24. 16.

camp of the Assyrians] Which came with Rabshakeh (chap. 18. v. 17.) but had not yet made any assault: or which returned from the Ethiopians, before they had done any thing against Jerusalem, v. 32.

when they arose] Sennacherib and his attendants that were not destroyed.

all] The greater part of the army: in a manner all.

V. 36. Nineveh] The head and royall city of Assyria. See Gen. 10. 11.

V. 37. Nisroch] The name of his idol. Adramelech. See chap. 17. 31.

smote him] As was foretold, v. 7.

Armenia] Heb. Ararat.

Esarhaddon] The last of Assyrian monarchs.

CHAP. XX.

Vers. 1. IN those dayes was Hezekiah sick] 2 Chron. 32. 24. Isa. 38. 1. Anon after God had preserved Jerusalem from the attempt of the king of Assyria. For he reigned but twenty nine yeers (chap. 18. 2.) In the fourteenth yeer Sennacherib came against him (chap. 18. v. 13.) In this yeer fell out this sickneſse: for he lived fifteen yeers after this, v. 6.

unto death] In regard of the kinde, and strength of the disease, which had ceized upon him. See v. 7.

Set thine house in order] Heb. Give charge concerning thine house. Make thy will, and give order about thy family and kingdom, after thy decease. See 2 Sam. 17. 23.

shalt die] Such is thy disease, as no means that any creature can use, can recover thee. See the notes on chap. 8. v. 10.

V. 2. to the wall] That he might be the more free from distracting objects.

V. 3. remember] Not as any meritorious cause, but as a condition annexed to the covenant. See 1 King. 2. 4. So as herein he pleads Gods truth in keeping covenant. So Exod. 32. 13. Nehe. 13. 22.

perfect] See the notes on 1 King. 8. 61.

wept] Because he had not a son to succeed him, according to the promise, 1 King. 2. 4. Compare the yeers which Hezekiah lived after this (v. 6.) with the age of his son that succeeded him, chap. 21. 1.

sore] Heb. with a great weeping.

V. 4. middle court] Or, citie. Of the kings palace. See 1 King. 7. 8. or, into the midst of the city: so as God gave a speedy answer to Hezekiahs prayer.

V. 5. captain] Governour and chief commander, as in time of peace, so also of war.

heal thee] Perfectly recover thee of this mortall disease.

go up] An evidence of health and strength.

V. 6. deliver] From further attempts.

for mine own] See the notes on chap. 19. v. 34.

V. 7. lump of figs] Figs have a mollifying and ripning vertue: they are a fit remedy for an hard boil: yet had they here an extraordinary vertue put into them, as the meal, chap. 4. v. 41.

boil] It is probable that this was a plague-sore.

V. 8. said] Before he recovered.

What sign] This in faith he asketh to strengthen his faith, as Judg. 6. 17, 37.

V. 9. shall the shadow] This was to be an evidence of the suns sudden being in such a degree of heaven, before the accustomed course thereof, or of its sudden starting back so far. And because it was all one with the LORD to do the one or the other, he refers it to Hezekiahs choice, lest he should renew his desire, as Gideon did, Judg. 6. 39.

ten degrees] This message might be brought to the king at high noon, when the sun might go forward or backward ten degrees: whence is inferred that the diall here mentioned was divided into twenty four equall parts, each of them being half an hour.

V. 10. It is a light] In mans apprehension, and comparatively to going backward: but simply in it self it was a very great matter, extraordinary and miraculous. In regard that both of them were above nature, in the truth of the case; neither of them was lighter then other. Such an one is noted, Josh. 10. 13.

V. 11. cryed] Earnestly prayed: for warranted means must be used for obtaining things promised, 1 King. 18. 42. Exod. 14. 15.

the shadow] By causing the sun to go so far back, Isai. 38. 8.

by which it had gone down] See on Isai. 38. 8.

diall of Ahaz] Heb. degrees. Ahaz had made a fair, lasting diall, which was common for all of all sorts to look upon: by which diall the course of the sun was openly, and distinctly discerned.

V. 12. Berodach] Called Merodach, Isai. 39. 1. This is supposed to be a name common to the kings of Babylon, as Pharaoh to the kings of Egypt, Jere. 50. 2. Evil-merodach (chap. 25. 27.) had his name thence.

son of Baladan] Supposed to be the first that raised the Babylonian monarchy upon the ruine of the Assyrians.

sent letters] To congratulate Hezekiahs victory and recovery, (as 2 Sam. 8. 10. and 10. 2.) and to enquire after that great wonder of the suns going back-ward (2 Chron. 32. 31.)

he had heard] By reason of the great wonder, v. 11.

V. 13. hearkned] To their kinde salutations, and to their questions about the miracle.

shewed them] With a minde too too vainglorious, 2 Chron. 32. 25.

precious] Or, spicery.

armour] Or, jewels. Heb. vessels.

nothing] Rare, and worthy to be shewed to such Ambassadours: and he had many rare and precious things, 2 Chron. 32. 27.

V. 14. What said, &c.] These interrogations are made not so much for information, as for the greater conviction.

V. 15. All, &c.] Though he dealt foolishly, yet he concealeth nothing.

V. 16. Hear, &c.] This preface is to make him heed what he should hear.

V. 17. fathers] Ancestors.

carried] See this accomplished, chap. 24. 13. and 25. 13. Jere. 27. 22.

V. 18. shalt beget] Or immediately (as Manasseh and his brothers (2 Chron. 33. 11.) or successively, as Jehojachin and his brothers, chap. 24. 12.

eunuchs] See the notes on 1 King. 22. 9.

V. 19. Good] Just: no other then what I and my people have deserved. See such an acknowledgement, 1 Sam. 3. 18. Job 1. 21.

Is it not good, if peace and truth, &c.] Or, Shall there not be peace and truth, &c.

Is it not] This interrogation is a confirmation of the point.

if peace] This is added not simply as a reason of the justice of the cause, but as an amplification of mercy mixed with justice.

V. 20. a pool, and a conduit] Hereof see chap. 18. v. 17.

brought water] Both for their own use, and also to withdraw it from the enemy (2 Chro. 32. 3, 4, 30.) which he might well do by bringing it in pipes under ground.

V. 21. slept] See 1 King. 2. 10.

CHAP. XXI.

Vers. 1. WAs twelve yeers old when he began to reign] 2 Chr. 33. 1. Born three yeers after his fathers great recovery, chap. 20. 6.

fifty and five yeers] The longest that ever any judge or king of Judah or Israel ruled.

his mothers] See the notes on 1 King. 15. 10.

Hephzi-bah] The title whereby God testifieth his delight in his Church, Isa. 62. 4.

V. 2. abominations] See the notes on 1 King. 14. 24.

V. 3. he built] Heb. he returned and built.

which Hezekiah his father had destroyed] Chap. 18. 4.

as did Ahab king of Israel] 1 King. 16. 32, 33.

all the host] See the notes on chap. 18. v. 16.

V. 4. he built altars] Jere. 32. 34. More then one: which was unlawfull, Josh. 22. 19. the more unlawfull, because they were built for his image, v. 7.

in the house of the Lord] A great aggravation.

In Jerusalem will I put my name] 2 Sam. 7. 13. Where the house of the LORD was built. See v. 7.

V. 5. two courts] See the notes on 1 King. 6. 36.

V. 6. his son] See the notes on chap. 16. 3.

observed times] The word properly signifieth to over-cloud, Gen. 9. 14. It is frequently applied to such as over-cloud, or overshadow what they do as juglers: or to such as observe the clouds, the planets, the stars, and thereby judge of matters present and future. They are called soothsayers (Isai. 2. 6. Mic. 5. 12.) enchanters (Jere. 27. 9.) sorcerers (Isai. 57. 3.) and observers of times, here, and 2 Chron. 33. 6. under which title they are forbidden, Levit. 19. 26. Deut. 18. 10, 14. They were counted observers of times, who by the flying of birds judged things at such and such times to be fit or unfit to be done; or on other signs or occasions, daies to be lucky, or unlucky.

enchantments] See the note on chap. 17. 17.

dealt] Heb. made.

familiar spirits] The Hebrew word אוֹב. Ob signifieth a bottle, (Job 32. 19.) They who use evill spirits oft swell in the belly, as a bottle: and the spirit seemeth to speak out of their belly with a low hollow voice. Such an one is called in Greek ἐγγαστρίμυθος, one that had a spirit speaking in the belly. See Isai. 8. 19. 29. 4. Such an one by the law was to be stoned (Levit. 19. 27.) the law forbad to deal with such (Levit. 19. 31. Deut. 18. 11.) they who dealt with them are threatned to be cut off (Levit. 19. 6.) This was Sauls sin (1 Sam. 28. 7.) for which he died, 1 Chro. 10. 13.

wizards] The Hebrew word יִדְּעֹנִים Ideonim such as are thought to know much, called in Greek γνάφοι. Our English word wizards, importeth such as would be thought to be wise, and full of knowledge: they undertake to know all things, even secret and future. We also call them cunning men. They are in all the forenamed places joyned with such as deal with familiar spirits, and so to be judged of.

V. 7. image of the grove] Appertaining to the grove, v. 3.

David] 2 Sam. 7. 10.

In this house] 1 King. 8. 29. and 9. 3. Chap. 23. 27.

V. 8. the feet, &c.] They shall not be carried captives to another land.

onely if] This being the condition of Gods promise, their failing therein made the promise void.

all that I] The morall law, Exod. 20. 1.

Moses] The ceremoniall and judiciall law, Exod. 21. 1.

V. 9. seduced] By example, and encouragement, so v. 11.

more evil] For they set up more idols, and sinned against more light, and more means afforded to turn them from their sins.

whom the Lord destroyed] The Canaanites.

V. 10. spake] To king and people.

by] Heb. by the hand.

V. 11. Because Manasseh king of Judah hath done these abominations] Jerem. 15. 4.

Amorites] Under these all the heathen are comprised.

V. 12. tingle] Shall have as it were a ringing sound in them, affrighting and astonishing them. See on 1 Sam. 3. 11. Jere. 19. 3.

V. 13. the line, &c. the plummet] The measure and weight: that is, the like judgement. The comparison is taken from carpenters, bricklaiers, and other like workmen, who by measure and rule make up and break down their work.

of Samaria] For Jerusalem was carried away captive (chap. 25. v. 9.) as well as Samaria, chap. 17. 6, &c.

of Ahab] For the posterity of Manasseh was cut off, (Jere. 22. 30.) as well as the posterity of Ahab.

wipe] The state of Jerusalem is resembled to a dish, the inhabitants thereof to the filth thereon: which as maids use to wash and wipe clean away, so should the inhabitants be taken clean away: and the state of the Jews utterly overthrown and turned up-side down. See the notes on 1 King. 14. 10.

wiping it, and turning it up-side down] Heb. he wipeth and turneth it upon the face thereof.

V. 14. remnant] The kingdom of Judah. For the kingdom of Israel was forsaken, chap. 17. 18.

inheritance] A people whom God chose, protected, provided for, and delighted in, as men their inheritance.

V. 15. since the day, &c.] Time after time, from their first beginning to be a nation.

V. 16. innocent

V. 16. innocent blood] The blood of such as deserved not death, who were no malefactors, but upright and righteous.

filled] An hyperbolicall expression of his unsatiable cruelty manifested in every street of Jerusalem.

from one end to another] Heb. from mouth to mouth.

his sin] Idolatry. See the notes in 1 King. 12. 30.

V. 17. the rest] Both evill and good, 2 Chron. 33. 3; 12, &c.

his sin] Sin may well be taken more largely here, then in the former verse: and by a synechdoche comprise under it, not onely idolatry, but also oppression, murther, sorcery, sacriledge.

V. 18. Manasseh slept with his fathers] 2 Chron. 33. 20.

garden] Where it is probable that he had built a sepulchre for himself.

garden of Uzzah] Who might be a former owner of it, and therefore the garden still carries his name.

V. 19. his mothers] See the notes on 1 King. 15. 10.

V. 20. as his father] The particular kindes hereof are reckoned up, v. 21, 22.

V. 21. the idols] See v. 3, 7.

V. 22. forsook] So do all idolaters.

V. 24. the people] Because their new king was but eight yeers old.

V. 26. in his sepulchre] In the sepulchre of Manasseh, v. 18. or in the sepulchre which he had made for himself in the same garden.

CHAP. XXII.

Vers. 1. Was eight yeers old when he began to reign] 2 Chro. 34. 1.

his mothers] See the notes on 1 King. 15. 10.

of Boscath] A city in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15. 39.

V. 2. right hand] Gods law is the onely way wherein men ought to walk: all aberrations are in their excesse, to the right hand; or in defect, to the left hand: both which Josiah carefully avoided. The metaphor is taken from travellers, Num. 20. 17. 1 Sam. 6. 11. The strict circumspection comprised under it, is oft commanded, Deut. 5. 32. Josh. 1. 7.

V. 3. eighteenth yeer] Of his reign, 2 Chron. 34. 8.

scribe] See the notes on 1 King. 4. 3.

V. 4. sum the silver] Take up all, and tell it. See a like charge, chap. 12. 5, &c.

keepers of the door] Heb. threshold. These were Levites, 2 Chron. 8. 14. and 34. 9.

V. 5. that have the oversight] These also were Levites, and named 2 Chron. 34. 12.

V. 6. carpenters, &c.] Under these three heads are comprised all manner of artificers, whose work was requisite for repairing the temple. See chap. 12. 11, 12.

V. 7. with them] With those Levites which had the oversight, v. 3. See the notes on chap. 12. v. 15.

faithfully] Heb. in truth, or, faith.

V. 8. the book] The originall copy which Moses wrote (2 Chron. 34. 14.) and caused to be put by the side of the ark, Deut 31. 26. which by the disorder in Manasses and Ammons time might be laid aside.

V. 9. Thy servants] Hikiah, and I.

gathered] Heb. melted.

V. 10. a book] Even that very book of the law which is mentioned, v. 8. 2 Chron. 34. 18.

read it] By the kings appointment.

V. 11. rent] See the notes on chap. 18. 37.

V. 12. Achbor] Called also Abdon the son of Micah, 2 Chron. 34. 20.

a servant] A courtier, alwayes at his hand, as Matth. 8. 9.

V. 13. enquire] What judgement hangeth over our head, and when it is like to fall.

V. 14. Harhas] Or, Hasrah, 2 Chron. 34. 22.

wardrobe] Heb. garments. Holy vestments appertaining to the temple. See Nehe. 7. 72.

in the colledge] Or, in the second part.

colledge] See the notes on 1 King. 18. 4. and on 2 King. 6. 1. Some apply this word to the middle court, mentioned, chap. 20. 4. and render it as a reason why they went to her, because her habitation was so neer the king.

V. 15. the man] The king who was but a man. She cals him king, v. 18.

V. 16. the words] The judgements.

read] Heard read, v. 10, 18.

V. 18. heard] Out of the book, v. 10.

V. 19. tender] Soon moved at the hearing of judgement. A tender, or soft heart is opposed to an hard and obstinate heart.

a desolation] The land shall be emptied of all her inhabitants.

a curse] Shall lie under the curse, and vengeance of God.

heard] Observed and regarded.

V. 20. thy grave] Or, thy graves. The word is of the plurall number, to set out a most fair and sumptuous grave; or else one of many graves: so 2 Chron. 16. 14. and 35. 23.

in peace] Before that desolation and curse fall out: in peace of conscience, in peace with God, yea, and in the peace of the land. The troubles of Israel followed after his death; and his sudden and violent death brake not off his peace with God, for thereby he was taken from the evils to come, as Isai. 57. 1, 2.

CHAP. XXIII.

Vers. 1. The king sent] 2 Chron. 34. 30.

the elders] See the Notes on 1 King. 8. 1.

V. 2. prophets] Such extraordinary prophets as were then living, as Jeremiah (Jer. 1. 2.) Zephaniah (Zeph. 1. 1.) Urijah (Jer. 26. 20.) and all their disciples, yea, all that went under the name of prophets. See the Notes on 1 King. 18. 4.

both small and great] Heb. from small even unto great.

read] Caused to be read.

the book] Mentioned, Chap. 22. 8.

V. 3. a pillar] See Chap. 11. 14.

stood to] Gave their consent to it, and bound themselves to perform it. See 2 Chron. 34. 32.

V. 4. of the second order] Next to the high priest.

keepers] See Chap. 22. v. 4.

all the vessels] All manner of instruments and utensils, as altars, and whatsoever belonged to them, images and their appurtenances; for such things had Manasseh (Chap. 21. 4, 7.) and other idolatrous kings, brought into the house of the LORD; which, though in the former yeers of Josiah's time, they had not been used, yet they were in the temple.

of Kidron] See the Notes on 1 King. 2. 37.

Beth-el] The city wherein Jeroboam set one of his golden calves (1 King. 12. 29.) It was, for the iniquity of it, called also Beth-aven, Hos. 10. 5. To stain that conceit which many had of the holinesse of this idolatrous city, here he layes the ashes of those idolatrous things which he had burnt.

V. 5. put down] Heb. caused to cease.

idolatrous priests] Heb. chemarim. They are called in Hebrew chemarim, from their black clothes which they used to wear, or from burning their sacrifices. As many papists do yet still entertain masse-priests in England, so did many Israelites entertain these chemarims in Josiah's time, Jer. 3. 6, &c. Zeph. 1. 1, &c.

planets] Or, twelve signes, or, constellations; Commonly called, The seven wandring stars; whereof the sun and the moon are two. The Hebrew word importeth such things as send down an influence. Every of the seven planets were accounted prime gods or goddesses by the heathen, as Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, Phœbus, Mercury, Venus, Phœbe.

all the host] See the Notes on 1 King. 17. 16.

V. 6. grove from the house of the Lord] Chap. 21. 7.

brook Kidron] See the Notes on 1 King. 2. 37.

upon the graves] In detestation of such as had been idolaters, and for a fore-warning to such as then or afterwards might be so.

children of the people] The common sort who had offered sacrifices to idolls (2 Chron. 34. 4.) and were most sottish therein.

V. 7. he brake] See the like zeal, Chap. 18. 4.

sodomites] See the Notes on 1 King. 14. 24.

hangings] Heb. houses. Or, curtains, whereby they might keep themselves from the sight of others.

V. 8. priests] Of the seed of Aaron, but idolatrous, v. 9.

out of the cities] Where they had exercised their idolatry.

defiled] Put them to such base uses, and cast such filthy things into them, as idolaters thought them to be defiled.

from Geba to Beer-sheba] From the north to the south-coast. Of these two cities, see the Notes on 1 King. 15. 22. and 19. 3.

high places of the gates] Which were publikely erected at the gates of cities.

of Joshua] A man of great place in those days, who had caused high places to be by his own house: so as Josiah in his reformation spared none, no not the greatest.

V. 9. priests of the high places] Which were brought from the idolatrous places and services, v. 8.

came not at the altar] Were not admitted to perform the priests functions.

did eat] Were maintained by the provisions belonging to the priests. See Levit. 21. 21, 22. Ezek. 44. 10, &c.

V. 10. defiled] As v. 8.

Topheth] See the Notes on Chap. 16. v. 3.

Molech] See the Notes on 1 King. 11. 5.

V. 11. the horses] Live horses and light-horses that were from time to time nourished and kept to ride with speed, and carry men where they might see the first rising of the sun, to worship it, after the manner of the Persians. This phrase, he took away, (not burnt) implieth that they were live horses. Or they may be taken for images of horses.

chamberlain] Or, eunuch, or officer. See the Notes on 1 Kin.22.9.

chariots] To be drawn by the said horses, and dedicated to the sun: or images of horses.

V.12. on the top] Fair great houses were leaded on flat roofs (Deut.22.8. Mar.2.4.) on these they used to erect altars, especially to the host of heaven, Jer.19.13. Zeph.1.5.

Manasseh had made] Chap.21.5.

brake them down from thence] Heb. ran from thence.

V.13. the mount of corruption] That is, the mount of Olives; for there the Jews by their idolatry corrupted themselves.

Solomon the king of Israel] 1 King.11.7.

Ashtoreth, &c.] Of all these idolls, see the Notes on 1 Kin. 11.5, 7.

V.14. images] Heb. statues.

with bones, &c.] This was one way whereby he defiled places (as v.8,10.) to keep men from using them any more so superstitiously as they had done formerly. Those bones he took out of the graves of idolaters, v.16.

V.15. the altar] 1 King.12.33. and 13.1.

high place] An house of high places, 1 King.12.31.

made Israel, &c.] See Chap.12.30.

grove] Where his house of high places was. See the Notes on 1 King.3.4. and 16.33. That Jeroboam had had groves, is evident, 1 King.14.15.

V.16. upon the altar] At Beth-el (v.15.) before he had destroyed it.

word of the Lord] 1 King.13.2.

V.17. What title] Inscription upon a grave-stone. See the Notes on 1 King.13.31.

of the city] Beth-el.

the sepulchre] See 1 King.13.30,31.

V.18. alone] Heb. to escape.

out of Samaria] The whole countrey and kingdom of Israel was oft called Samaria (see the Notes on v.19. and on 1 Kings 16.24.) In this extent is the word here used.

V.19. cities of Samaria] Of that countrey, in sundry tribes, expressly mentioned, 2 Chron.34.6. It is probable that all these cities were under the jurisdiction of the king of Judah at that time, and that many in those tribes yeelded themselves to the king of Judah, 2 Chron.30.

V.20. slew] Or, sacrificed.

all the priests] Such as are described, 1 King.13.33.

upon the altars] To defile the altars the more thereby, and to testifie the greater indignation of that idolatry.

V.21. Keep the passover] 2 Chron.35.1.

as it is written] Exod.12.3. Deut.16.2.

book of the covenant] Wherein the covenant betwixt God and his people was contained. See Exod.24.7.

V.22. such a passeover] With such preparation, humiliation, detestation of idolatry, devotion and solemn renovation of the covenant.

from the days of the judges] Even of the last of them, 2 Chron. 35.18. from the time that Israel was an established kingdom.

V.23. eighteenth] Of his reign; but six and twentieth of his age.

V.24. familiar spirits and wizards] See the Notes on Chap.21.6.

images] Or, Teraphim. Teraphims were fashioned in the shapes of men: such an one Michal put into Davids bed, 1 Sam.19.13. The heathen consulted with such, Ezek.21.21. and answers have been returned by them (Zac.10.2.) either by the devil, or by the forgery of their priests. Teraphim (translated idolatry, 1 Sam. 15.23.) is reckoned, among things most detestable to God.

idols] See the Notes on 1 King.17.12.

the law] Levit.20.27. Deut.18.11.

Hilkiah] Chap.22.v.8.

V.25. like unto him] In holy zeal. See the Notes on chap.18.5.

V.26. Notwithstanding] Gods wrath may be so far provoked, as God unalterably setled to take vengeance, Chap.24.v.4. 1 Sam.3.14. but though Josiah were truely pious, and rightly zealous, yet the people still doted after Manasseh's idolatry, Jer. 3.6,10. justly therefore are Manasseh's provocations remembred in this time of reformation.

provocations] Heb. angers.

V.27. as I have, &c.] See Chap.17.18,19, &c.

Jerusalem] See Chap.21.12.

My Name, &c.] 1 King.8.29. and 9.3. Chap. 21.7. See 1 King.8.16.

V.29. In his days] 2 Chron.35.20.

Pharaoh] This was a common name to kings of Egypt, as Abimelech to kings of Philistims, and Cæsar to Roman Emperours.

Nechoh] This is added, to distinguish him from others, as Hophra, Jer.44.30.

went against him] To hinder him from passing thorow this countrey, and to do a courtesie to the King of Assyria.

slew him] See the Notes on v.30.

Megiddo] See the Notes on 1 King.9 15.

seen him] See the Notes on Chap.14. v.8.

V.30. his servants] Josiah's souldiers and subjects.

dead] Deadly wounded; for he died at Jerusalem, 2 Chron. 35.24.

the people] 2 Chron.36.1. All of all sorts, with an unanimous consent. See the Notes on v.36.

Jehoahaz] Called Johonan (1 Chron.3.15.) and Shallum, Jer.22.11.

anointed] To settle him the more surely against Pharaoh-nechoh. See the Notes on v.36.

V.31. his mothers] See the Notes on 1 King.15.10.

of Libnah] See the Notes on Chap.8.22. This distinguisheth him from the prophet Jeremiah, who was of Anathoth, Jer.1.1.

V.32. fathers] predecessours, Amon, Manasseh, Ahaz, and such like.

V.33. at Riblah in Hamath] Both these were in the circuit of the land of Canaan given to Israel, Num.34.8,11.

that he might not reign] Or, because he reigned.

put the land to a tribute] Heb. set a mulct upon the land.

an hundred talents of silver] Thirty seven thousand and five hundred pounds sterling, after the sacred account. See the notes on 1 King.9.14.

a talent of gold] Three thousand seven hundred and fifty pounds, after the sacred account.

V.34. in the room of Josiah] Because Jehoahaz, in regard of his short and troublesome time, was reputed as no king, turned his name] As an evidence of his power over him, Pharaoh accounting Jehoiakim as his substitute or vassal. See Chap. 24.15. Dan.1.7.

Jehoiakim] Matth. 1.11, called Jakim. This and Eliakim have both the same notation and signification; for the first syllable in each of them is a name of God; and both signifie Gods rising.

he came] Jehoahaz, being carried to Egypt by Pharaoh.

died there] As was fore-told, Jer.22.11,12.

V.35. gave the silver and gold] Which Pharaoh had charged upon the land, v.33.

taxed the land] Laid a rate upon the severall inhabitants of the land.

commandment] Heb. mouth.

his taxation] The rate or sum which the king laid on every one.

V.36. twenty and five yeers old] Or Jehoiakim was elder then Jehoahaz, v.31. or this time of his age must be reckoned from the death of Jehoahaz, v. 34. For while Jehoahaz lived, he might be accounted a chief governour in his brothers absence, but not a plenary and absolute king. They who hold Jehoiakim to be the elder brother, say that Jehoahaz was a more stern and stout man, better able, and more forward to stand against Pharaoh then Jehoiakim: they say that he was the first lion mentioned, Ezek.19.3. and that the people (v.30.) through a strong faction, chose him, and anointed him, to establish him the more firmly, as 1 King.1.39.

eleven yeers] From the time that Pharaoh first set him on the throne.

his mothers] See the Notes on 1 King.15.10.

V.37. his fathers] See the Notes on v.32.

fathers] See v.32.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Vers.1. IN his days] In the end of the third yeer of Jehoiakims reign, Dan.1.1. and the beginning of his fourth, Jerem.25.1. In the third he began his expedition, in the fourth he laid his siege against Jerusalem.

came up] Against Jerusalem, and besieged it, Dan. 1.1. The reason hereof may be gathered out of Jer.46.2. Pharaoh invaded Carchemesh, which bordered upon Nebuchad-nezzars dominion; but Nebuchad-nezzar overcame Pharaoh (v.7.) Jehoiakim was tributary to Pharaoh, Chap.23.35. and, it may be, assisted him: hereupon Nebuchad-nezzar comes against Jehoiakim after he had smitten Pharaoh.

became his servant] Yeelded to be tributary to him, as Chap. 17.v.3.

three yeers] Which were the fifth, sixth and seventh of his reign.

rebelled] See thee Notes on Chap.1.v.1. and Chap.17.v.4.

V.2. the Lord sent] See the Notes on 1 King.12.15.

bands of the Caldees] All the bands here mentioned served under Nebuchad-nezzar, and made up one army.

according to the word of the Lord] Chap.20.17. and 23.27.

by] Heb. by the hand of.

prophets] Chap.22.16. Jer.25,9.

V.3. commandment] Heb. mouth.

of Manasseh] See the Notes on Chap.23.v.26.

V.4. innocent blood] See the Notes on Chap.21.v.16.

V.6. slept with his fathers] In the generall, as death is a sleep; but of the particular kinde of his death, far different from his fathers: for he was taken by Nebuchad-nezzar, bound with chains, 2 Chron.36.6. and, as he was going captive to Babylon, he died; and without any buriall, or mourning for him, he was as an asse cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem, Jer.22.18,19.

Jehoiachin

Jehoiachin] Called also Jeconiah (1 Chron. 3. 6.) the Lords strength: and in contempt, Coniah (Jere. 22. 24, 28.) leaving out the syllable that hath relation to the LORD.

V. 7. came not again] Till the last yeer of Zedekiah, when he came with no successe; for he quickly returned home again, Jer. 37. 7.

river of Egypt] Called Sihor, Josh. 13. 3. taken by some to be Nilus.

all that pertained] And lay betwixt Babylon and Egypt. This is here noted to shew how little cause the Jews had to trust to Egypt: see Jere. 2. 36.

V. 8. eighteen yeers] See 2 Chron. 36. 9.

three moneths] And ten dayes, 2 Chron. 36. 9. For it may be that Jeremiah perswaded him to submit to the king of Babel: and so he did, v. 12.

V. 9. father] See chap 23. 32.

came] At the return of the yeer, 2 Chro. 36. 10. see 1 King. 20. 22.

was besieged] Heb. came into siege.

V. 11. came] In his own person: while his servants and his army were besieging the city, v. 10.

V. 12. went out] See the notes on v. 8.

his reign] Nebuchadnezzars. Compare Jere. 25. 1. with this.

V. 13. And he carried out thence all the treasures, &c.] Chap. 20. 17. Isa. 39. 6. The generall particle all oft used in this and the next verse, must have some limitation: as all that he could finde: or all that he thought meet: or that it was in his power to have taken all away. For there were left vessels in the house of the LORD, and in the kings house, Jere. 27. 18, 20, 21. After this were many more vessels carried away, chap. 25. v. 13, 14, 15. yea, many of the princes and mighty men were left, Jere. 38. 4.

V. 14. all Jerusalem] All sorts of people in Jerusalem, as noble, strong, skilfull in workmanship, and other the like, to weaken the city, and to keep it from rebelling again. The like policy did other enemies use in former times, Judg. 5. 8. 1 Sam. 13. 19.

ANNO-

ANNOTATIONS

On the first Book of the

CHRONICLES.

The generall Argument of the two Books of Chronicles.

The two Books of Chronicles were of old compiled in one: which contain an History of three thousand four hundred fifty and seven yeers at least, even from the first man (1 Chron. 1. 1.) to the return of the Israelites from the Babylonish captivity, 2 Chron. 36. 22. Yea, the Genealogie of Davids seed is extended far further, 1 Chron. 3. 19, &c.

History of 3457. years. See Chap. 6. 8.

The speciall Argument of the first Book of Chronicles.

Two thousand nine hundred forty and seven yeers, are passed over in reciting Genealogies (and relating a few brief passages) from Adam to Saul, whose death is registred, 1 Chron. 10. Fourty yeers more are added about the acts of David in the time of his reign: with whose death the first is concluded, 1 Chron. 29. 27, 30.

The Title.

Chronicles] A Chronicle is a register of acts done time after time. The Hebrew title is, Words of dayes: or, Deeds of dayes, which importeth the same that Chronicle doth. The Greek Παραλειπόμενα, Remainders. This hath relation to the Books of Kings: as if the Books of Chronicles had gathered up what the Books of Kings had left out.

CHAP. I.

CHAP.

CHAP. II.

Vers. 1. These are, &c.] All the genealogies following are of such as were of the Church; for Jacob had the happinesse to have all his children to be of the Church: out of his issue, the Church began to spread.

Israel] Or, Jacob.

Israel] Of the meaning of this name, and reason of giving it, see Gen. 32.28. The Church under the Law (Exod. 4.23. Deut. 4.1.) and under the Gospel (Galat. 6.16.) had this name.

Reuben] Gen. 29.32. and 30.5. and 35.18, 21. and 46.8, &c. These were the heads of the twelve tribes, and are stiled, The twelve patriarchs, Act. 7.8.

V. 3. Judah] Gen. 38.3. and 46.12. His genealogie is first set down, by reason of the royall dignity setled on him (Gen. 49.10.) and the descent of the Messiah from him, Luk. 3.33.

the Canaanitesse] This hath relation to daughter; for Shua was a man, Gen. 38.2.

V. 4. Tamar] Gen. 38.29,30. She is put into the catalogue of Christs progenitours, as Rahab and Ruth (Matth. 1.3, 5.) to shew, Christ came to save sinners, both of Jews and Gentiles.

V. 5. Pharez] Ruth 4.18.

V. 6. Zimri] Or, Zabdi, Josh. 7.1.

Ethan] See the Notes on 1 King. 4.31.

Dara] Or, Darda.

V. 7. Achar] Or, Achan.

accursed] Josh. 6.19. and 7.1.

V. 8. Azariah] And others: for sons are more then one; the chiefest of them is named. So v. 31. Or, the plurall number may synechdochically be put for the singular, as Gen. 46.23.

V. 9. Ram] Or, Aram, Matth. 1.3.

Chelubai] Or, Caleb, vers. 18.

V. 10. begat Amminadab] Ruth 4.19.

V. 13. And Jesse] 1 Sam. 16.6.

Shimmah] Or, Shammah, 1 Sam. 16.9.

V. 15. seventh] Jesse had eight sons (1 Sam. 16.10, 11. and 17.12.) of whom, one might be childelesse, and therefore not put into this genealogie: Or, one of the eight might be Jesse's grand-childe.

V. 16. sons of Zeruiah] 2 Sam. 2.18. They are called by their mothers name for her honours sake. Their father is no where expressed. See the Notes on 1 Sam. 26.6.

V. 17. Abigail] 2 Sam. 17.25.

Ishmeelite] Jether was an Ishmeelite by birth, but by profession an Israelite, 2 Sam. 17.25.

V. 18. Caleb] He is called Chelubai, v. 9. This was not that Caleb who was, among others, sent to search the land (Num. 13.7.) and after entred into Canaan (Num. 14.30.) That Caleb's genealogie is set down, Chap. 4.15.

V. 20. Bezaleel] Exod. 31.2.

V. 21. went in] This is a modest expression of the matrimoniall duty: such an one is this, knew her, Gen. 4.1.

father of Gilead] Num. 26.29.

married] Heb. took.

threescore yeers old] Heb. a son of threescore yeers.

V. 22. Jair] See the Notes on Num. 32.41.

children] For Sheshan had no sons, v. 34.

V. 36. Zabad] One of Davids worthies, Chap. 11.41.

V. 42. sons] Which he had by Azubah: for his sons by his two other wives are rehearsed before, v. 18, 19.

father of Ziph] Of the inhabitants of Ziph, a city in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15,55. The word, father, may here be taken for a planter or first establisher of a city. So v 45,49.

V. 45. of Beth-zur] Of the inhabitants of Beth-zur: for this also was a city in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15.58.

V. 47. the sons] Moza (v. 46.) is supposed to be here understood, thus, And the sons of Moza were Jahdai.

V. 48. concubine] See the Notes on 1 King. 11.3.

V. 49. Madmannah, Machbenah and Gibeah, are three cities in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15.35,57. See the Notes on v. 42.

Achsah] Another Caleb also had a daughter of this name, Josh. 15.17.

V. 50. son of Hur] Hur was the son of Caleb before mentioned, v. 19. so as this Caleb son of Hur, was the other Caleb's grand-childe.

father] See v. 42. Kirjath-jearim was a city in Judah, Josh. 15.9.

V. 51. father] See the Notes on v. 42.

Beth-lehem] In part; for Ephratah also had a part, chap. 4.4.

V. 52. Haroch] Or, Reaiah, chap. 4.2. Haroch may be taken appellatively, and thus translated, He was over-seer (or governour) of half of the Manahethites.

half of the Manahethites] Or, half of the Menuchites, or Hatsi-hammenuchoth.

Daniel] Or, Chileab, 2 Sam. 3.3.

V. 3. Eglah] 2 Sam. 3.5.

his wife] The five other women reckoned up before, were also Davids wives: to every of them may this relative, his wife, be referred. See 2 Sam. 3.5.

V. 4. Hebron] See 2 Sam. 5.5.

V. 5. And these were born unto him, &c.] 2 Sam. 5.14.

Shimea, &c.] Or, Shammua. These four are set down in a clean contrary order: for Solomon was the eldest, Nathan the second, as is implied, Luk. 3.31. But his purpose was to prosecute Solomons race, and therefore he sets him in the last place.

Bath-shua] Or, Bath-sheba, 2 Sam. 11.3.

Ammiel] Or, Eliam, 2 Sam. 11.3.

V. 6. Elishama] Or, Elishua. 2 Sam. 5.15.

V. 8. Elishama, &c.] These two names are before set down (v. 6.) They two who are mentioned, v. 6. might be dead before these were born, and thereupon their names given to these.

V.29. Bilhah] Or, Balah, Josh.19.3.

Tolad] Or, Eltolad, Josh.19.4.

V.31. Hazar-susim] Or, Hazar-susah, Josh.19.5.

unto the reign] While the kingdom of David continued, even till the captivity of Judah.

V.32. Etam] Or, Ether, Josh.19.7.

V.33. Baal] Or, Baalath-beer, Josh.19.8.

their genealogie] Or, as they divided themselves by nations among them.

V.38. These, &c.] Who are reckoned up from v.34. to this.

mentioned] Heb. coming.

V.39 the valley] That valley which is described, 2 Sam.17.1,2.

V.40. they of Ham] This shews the reason why the Israelites entred into those lands; even because the posterity of cursed Cham (Gen.9.25.) had invaded them.

V.41. destroyed] As accursed of God.

V.42. mount Seir] The countrey of the Amalekites bordered on mount Seir; and such as escaped the sword of the Israelites, fled thither.

V.43. the rest] When Saul destroyed many of them (1 Sam. 14.48. and 15.7.) and David more, 2 Sam.8.12.

CHAP. V.

Defiled] Gen.35.22. and 49.4. By committing incest with his fathers concubine. See Levit.18.8.

V. 3. five] Together with their father, as chap. 3. 22.
V. 4. they had many wives and sons] Heb. they multiplied wives and children. This is the reason of their many children.
V. 6. Benjamin] Gen. 4. 21.
Jediael] Or, Ashbel.
three] These were prime men. Two more are mentioned, chap. 8. 6.
V. 12. Shuppim] Or, Muppim, Gen. 46. 21.
Ir] Or, Iri, vers. 7. Some make this word Ir an appellative, thus, sons of the city: that is, born and dwelling in the city.
sons of Aher] Or, Ahiram, Num. 26. 38. Aher may also be expounded appellatively, thus, sons of another. For Hushim were of Dan, Gen. 46. 23. and for their paucity reckoned in the tribe of Benjamin, or sons born in another countrey, as ch. 8. 8.
V. 13. the sons of Bilhah] And sons sons of Bilhah, who was Jacobs concubine (Gen. 35. 22.) and Rachels maid, Gen. 30. 3. Naphtali was her son: the other, his sons, Gen. 46. 24. Some understand under this title, sons, the posterity of Dan, who also was Bilhahs son, Gen. 30. 6.
V. 14. sons of Manasseh] His posterity. For Asriel was sundry degrees from Manasseh, Num. 26. 31.
she] Gileads wife; Num. 26. 30, 31.
his] Manassehs.

V. 34. Shamer] Or, Shomer, v. 32.

CHAP. VIII.

Vers. 1. Benjamin] His genealogie was before set down, chap. 7. 6. But here he returns to it, and that more largely, because the first king was taken out of it (1 Sam. 10. 21.) and it was united to Judah, 2 Chro. 11. 12. There is difference betwixt some names in this and other genealogies of Benjamin, because many persons had two or three names.
Bela his first born] Gen. 46. 21. Num. 26. 38.
V. 3. Addar] Or, Ard, Gen. 46. 21.
V. 5. Shephuphan] Or, Shupham, Num. 26. 39.
V. 6. Geba] Or, Gibeah, 1 Sam. 11. 4.
they removed] The forenamed heads of the fathers removed the foresaid inhabitants, because they were so many as they could not well continue together. See the like, Gen. 13. 6. and 26. 16.
Manahath] Chap. 2. 52.
V. 7. he removed] Ehud their progenitor.
V. 8. sent them] After he had sent away Hushim and Baara his wives, by giving them a bill of divorce. Or thus, he begat children in the countrey of Moab after he had sent them away, Hushim and Baara being his wives. See chap. 7. 12.
V. 12. Ono, &c.] Cities in the tribe of Benjamin, Nehe. 11. 35.
V. 13. of Aijalon] Or of the countrey bordering by it: for one Aijalon was a city in the tribe of Dan, Josh. 19. 42. See the notes on chap. 6. 69.
V. 14. Ahio, &c.] A catalogue of such prime fathers of families of the tribe of Benjamin as dwelt in Jerusalem, v. 28. See Nehe. 11. 1, 2.
V. 21. Shimhi] Or, Shema, vers. 13.
V. 28. heads, &c.] See the notes on v. 14.
V. 29. father] As chap. 1. 31.
father of Gibeon] Called Jehiel, chap. 9. 35.
wives name was Maachah] Chap. 9. 35.
V. 31. Zacher] Or, Zechariah, chap. 9. 37.
V. 32. Shimeah] Or, Shimeam, chap. 9. 38.
their brethren] Other Benjamites, of whom see, v. 14, 28.
V. 33. Ner begat Kish] 1 Sam. 14. 51. Or, Abiel, 1 Sam. 9. 1.
Esh-baal] Or, Ishbosheth, 2 Sam. 2. 8.
V. 34. Merib-baal] Or, Mephibosheth, 2 Sam. 4. 4.
V. 35. Tarea] Or, Tahrea, chap. 9. 31.
V. 40. archers] Heb. benders of the bowe.
had many] Heb. multiplied.

CHAP. IX.

Vers. 1. Book] Hence he had the Genealogies which he hath set down.
who were, &c.] The forementioned Genealogies are, for the most part, of such as were before the captivity. These which follow, are also for the most part of such as returned from the captivity.

V. 2. Israelites, &c.] Four ancient distinct orders then continued, are here set down. First, secular, of lay-men. Secondly, Priestly. Thirdly, Leviticall. Fourthly, Voluntary submitters of themselves, as the Gibeonites (Josh. 9. 23, 25, 27.) who are here called Nethinims. See Ezra 2.58. and 8.20.

V. 3. in Jerusalem dwelt of the children of Judah] Nehe. 11. 1.

of Ephraim, &c.] After the ten tribes were carried into captivity, sundry of them that were left in their own land joyned with Judah in the worship of God, 2 Chron. 30. 11, 18. And after Judahs return from Babylon, many of the ten tribes came in to them. Of these he here speaketh.

V. 4. Uthai, &c.] These are set down, Nehe. 11. 4, &c. but many of them under other names; as was noted chap. 8. 1.

Pharez the son of Judah] Gen. 38. 29.

V. 6. brethren] Heb. kinsmen, as v. 9.

V. 9. brethren] The six hundred and ninety mentioned, v. 6. and nine hundred and fifty and six in this verse: so as in the whole sum of the principall heads of families, there were one thousand six hundred fourty and six.

V. 10. priests] Here he begins to set down the second order, mentioned, v. 2.

V. 11. Azariah the son of Hilkiah] Chap. 6. 13.

Azariah] Azariah was chief of the heads mentioned, v. 13. and next to the high priests, as Eleazar was, Num. 3. 32.

V. 12. Pashur] Three betwixt Jehoram and Pashur, reckoned up (Nehe. 11. 12.) are here left out: so as the title son is here used of the fourth descent.

V. 13. very able men] Heb. mighty men of valour. In strength of body, and courage of minde.

V. 14. Levites] These were of the third degree, mentioned, v. 2.

V. 16. Netophathites] See chap. 2. 54.

V. 17. porters] Or, keepers of the gates, v. 19. Of their orders and offices, see chap. 26. 1, &c. v. 13, &c. As they were to take care about opening and shutting the doors and gates of the temple, so also of such things and persons as might, or might not passe in or out thereat.

V. 18. hitherto] After their return from captivity.

waited] Held the office of a porter.

the kings gate] Whereby the king was wont to go in and out of the temple. See the notes on 1 King. 10. 5.

in the companies] Whereas all the Levites had their offices in and about the temple, these were porters therein.

V. 19. brethren] As v. 6.

keepers] See v. 17.

gates] Heb. thresholds.

fathers] Ancestors who encamped round about the tabernacle, Num. 1. 50. and 2. 17.

V. 20. ruler, &c.] As Eleazar was before him, Num. 3. 32.

was with him] Blessed him. Numb. 25. 12. and 31. 6, 49.

V. 21. Zechariah] This may be meant of Davids time, 1 Chron. 26. 2.

porter] A chief porter over the rest.

V. 22. David] See 1 Chron. 26. 1, &c.

and Samuel] Samuel might settle their orders himself, while he ruled, after he had setled the ark. Or he might advise with David thereabout while they two lived together: as in a like case Gad and Nathan did, 2 Chron. 29. 25.

seer] See the notes on 2 King. 17. 30.

did ordain] Heb. founded.

set office] Or, trust. Perpetuall and unalterable.

V. 23. So they, &c.] This also hath relation to Davids time.

the house, &c.] Or this is an exposition of the former: and so both signifie one and the same place. Or, by house of the Lord he meaneth, (as 2 Sam. 6. 17.) the house of the tabernacle, even Moses his tabernacle, which was at Gibeon, 2 Chron. 1. 3.

by wards] By turns or courses, see v. 25.

V. 25. brethren] As v. 6. or, colleagues and fellow officers.

with them] That were chief and governours (v. 17.) who always had their abode in Jerusalem, as v. 26.

V. 26. the four] Which are named, v. 17.

set office] Or, trust. See v. 22.

chambers] Or, store-houses. See the notes on 1 King. 6. 5.

treasuries] Places where the treasures of the house of the LORD were laid.

V. 27. round about] In the chambers mentioned, 1 King. 6. 7.

every morning] Heb. morning and morning.

V. 28. ministring vessels] All sorts of instruments and utensils which were for sacred uses, and holy services. See Exod. 27. 3. and 37. 16.

V. 30. sons of the priests] Though Levites were to provide, keep, and prepare the spice, yet the priests were to compound and make the ointment. See Exod. 30. 23, 34.

V. 31. Shallum] V. 17, 19.

in the pans] Or, on flat plates, or, slices] Wherein were prepared such meat-offerings as were baked in pans or ovens, and fried in frying pans. Hereof read Levit. 2. 4, 5, 7.

V. 32. shew-bread] Heb. bread of ordering. Levit. 24. 5, 6.

every sabbath] Heb. Sabbath, sabbath.

V. 33. chief, &c.] Principall heads, as v. 9.

in the chambers] See the notes on 1 King. 6. 5. Here they abode while other Levites did other services in the temple, from which the singers were exempted.

day and night] Early and late at the morning and evening, and at the time of all other sacrifices. So Luk. 2. 37.

V. 35. of Gibeon] He repeats the genealogy that leads to Saul as a preparation to Sauls history, chap. 10.

wives] Some copies read sisters. Then it must be taken as Abrahams wife, who was also his sister, Gen. 20. 12.

V. 39. Ner] Chap. 8. 33. Ner is left out, chap. 8. 30. This was not he that is stiled the father of Abner (1 Sam. 14. 50, 51.) for he was Sauls uncle, brother to Kish, but Ner, the father of Kish, was Sauls grand-father.

V. 41. and Ahaz] Chap. 8. 35.

V. 42. Jarah] Or, Jehoadah, Chap. 8. 36.

CHAP. X.

THe history of this chapter is almost word for word recorded, 1 Sam. 31. 1, 2, &c.

V. 3. archers] Heb. shooters with bowes.

hit him] Heb. found him.

V. 4. abuse me] Or, mock me. In 1 Sam. 21. 4. Thus, Thrust me thorow and abuse me. He thought, that when they had killed him, they would insult over him, and boast in their own act. See Judg. 16. 21, 25.

V. 6. three sons] In 1 Sam. 31. 6 is added, and his armour-bearer.

V. 7. in the valley] On the other side of the valley next to Jordan, and on the other side Jordan, 1 Sam. 31. 7. so as they were on every side affrighted.

V. 9. stripped him] Having first cut off Sauls head, 1 Sam. 31. 9.

V. 10. their gods] Ashtareth, 1 Sam. 31. 10. See the notes on 1 Kin. 11. 5. At the end of 1 Sam. 31. 10. is added, and they fastned his body to the wall of Beth-shan. This they did for the more open and publike disgrace.

V. 11. Jabesh-Gilead] The inhabitants of Jabesh-Gilead, 1 Sam. 31. 11.

V. 12. They arose] And went all night. 1 Sam. 31. 12. Thus they did, that they might not be descried, and so hindered: and also that they might the more speedily prevent the intended disgrace.

V. 13. So Saul, &c.] These two last verses are not mentioned in 1 Sam. 31. They shew the particular causes of this heavy judgement that befell Saul. Three kindes of sins are expressely set down. First, Disobedience against Gods expresse charge. Secondly, consulting with the devill. Thirdly, forsaking the LORD.

to enquire of it [1 Sam. 28. 7.

V. 14. enquired not, &c.] Neither in truth, nor in faith (see 2 Chr. 16. 12. Jam. 1. 6, 7, 8. and 4. 3.) nor by those means which God had warranted and sanctified, did he enquire of the LORD: For he had destroyed the LORDS priests (1 Sam. 22. 18.) by whom he should have enquired, and provoked the LORD to take away his spirit from him (1 Sam. 16. 14.) that therefore which is recorded (1 Sam 28. 6.) of his enquiring of the Lord, is meant of an enforced, fearfull, faithlesse, hypocriticall wish, that God would some way or other foretell the issue of that great preparation which the Philistines made against him: which was in truth as no enquiring of the LORD. It was like Balaams wish (Num. 23. 10.) and Israels prayer, Isa. 1. 12.

he slew, &c.] See the notes on 1 King. 12. 15.

turned the kingdom] As he had threatned against Saul, 1 Sam. 13. 14. and 15. 28.

After Lord, adde, thy God.
After they be, adde, and that the eyes of my lord the king may see it, 2 Sam.24.3.
V.4. After Joab, adde, and against the captains of the host.
went thorowout all Israel] went out from the presence of the king to number the people of Israel, 2 Sam.24.4.
The places thorow which Joab went, are expressed, 2 Sam.24. 5,6,7,8.
V.5. a thousand thousand] See the Notes on 2 Sam.24.9.
V.6. But Levi, &c.] This verse is not mentioned in Samuel: but it was here inserted, to shew, That Joab was as sparing as he durst be, in executing the kings command. The Levites were sacred persons, and bound in their courses to attend the service of Gods house: in this respect, he thought that they might well be excepted. He put off Benjamin to the last, whereby that tribe came to be left out: for Joab much against his minde, went so far as he did: and the smiting of Davids heart (2 Sam. 24.10.) brake off the businesse.
the kings word, &c.] That which the king commanded Joab to do, seemed to him to be an haynous sin.
V.7. And God was displeased with this thing] Heb. And it was evil in the eyes of the Lord concerning this thing.
V.8. Before this verse, adde, And Davids heart smote him, after that he had numbred the people, 2 Sam.24.10.

burnt offerings] so the Lord was intreated for the land, and the plague was stayed from Israel, 2 Sam.24.25.
V.28. then he sacrificed there] So also at other times after this; for he had Gods warrant for this place, v.18. and here the temple was to be built, 2 Chron.3.1.
V.29. Gibeon] 1 Kings 3.4. Chap.16.19. 2 Chron.1.3.
V.30. he was afraid] It seemeth that the plague much raged at Gibeon; whereat David was so affrighted, that he durst not go from the place where he was.

CHAP. XXII.

Vers. 1. This is the house] This threshing-floor (Chap.21. 18.) is the place where God will have his house to be built, and his altar to be erected.
V.2. the strangers] Such as are mentioned, 2 King.9.20,21.
wrought stones] Heb. stones of cutting. See the Notes on 1 King. 5.17.
V. 3. without weight] It would have been too great a task to have weighed all, and too great a charge to have been accountable for all by weight: see 1 King.7.47. 2 King.25.16.

V. 8. the word of the Lord] By the ministery of Nathan, 2 Sam.7.5, &c.
Thou hast shed, &c.] Chap.28.3. Though this reason be not expressed, yet it is implied, 2 Sam. 7.9. And it sheweth, that, albeit just war, and just execution of death on capitall malefactors be lawfull, yet shedding of blood indefinitely, is in Gods account a strange work, Isai.28.23.
because thou hast shed, &c.] Hereby is implied, That a man of war who sheddeth much blood, is not, in that respect, so fit a type of him who is our peace (Eph.2.14.) and the chief builder of the Christian Church, as a man of peace making peace. See verse 9.
V.9. Solomon] That is peaceable; and therein a fit type of the Prince of peace (Isai.9.6.) and the more fit to build so fair and sumptuous an house as the temple was, because he had much rest and leasure.
V.10. He shall build, &c.] 2 Sam.7.13. See the Notes there.
I will establish] See the Notes on 1 Kings 9.5.
V.11. be with thee] By his gracious assistance.
prosper] A prayer for good successe.
build the house] This may be taken as an exhortation to Solomon, to do his best: or, as a promise of Gods enabling him to do it.
V.12. wisedom, &c.] Hereby Solomon learned to ask what he did ask, of God, 1 Kings 3.9.
give thee charge] Furnish with such counsell, as may enable thee to instruct and direct all Israel.
V.13. Then shalt thou prosper] This is the onely course of procuring good successe: see 1 Kings 2.3.
be strong, and of good courage] These two words imply a setled and undaunted resolution, very requisite for undertaking and going thorow with a weighty work. See Josh.1.7.
dread not, &c.] These are contrary to the two former great hinderances to worthy atchievements, Deut.20.8.
V.14. in my trouble] Or, in my poverty. Notwithstanding the mean stock and store I had at my first beginning, and the many troubles I have had all my days.
an hundred thousand talents] Because all estimation must be according to the shekel of the sanctuary (Levit.27.25.) the shekel is fit-is fittest to be the rule of all other accounts: our English word scale, seems to be thence derived. Shekel, in Hebrew, signifieth, to weigh. Many make two kindes of shekels, one sacred, the other common; the sacred as much more as the common: the sacred is, for the most part, meant in sacred Scripture. The shekel contained two bekah's, Exod.38.26. for bekah signifieth half a shekel. A bekah weighed an hundred and threescore barley-corns: a shekel, three hundred and twenty; which answereth to our half ounce of troy-weight: in worth, two shillings and six pence. A talent containeth three thousand shekels, which may be collected from Exod. 38. 25,26. where six hundred thousand, and three thousand, and five hundred and fifty men, are taxed by the poll at so many bekahs, or half shekels, a bekah for a man; which are half so many shekels, namely, three hundred thousand, and one thousand, and seven hundred threescore and fifteen. Put three thousand shekels to one talent, and the sum there mentioned will thence arise, namely, an hundred talents, and a thousand seven hundred threescore and fifteen shekels. Thus it appears, that three thousand shekels made a talent. A shekel then being half an ounce, three thousand shekels produce three hundred seventy and five pound sterling, at five shillings per ounce, in silver; which is the value of a talent in silver. The Hebrews valued gold ten for one of silver; that is, one talent of gold, the value of ten talents of silver; after which rate, a talent of gold was three thousand seven hundred and fifty pound: which proportion of ten for one is evident in this verse; for the hundred thousand talents of gold, and the thousand thousand talents of silver, are ten for one, and both of one value, namely, three hundred seventy five millions, or three hundred seventy five times an hundred thousand pounds: and both sums, of silver and gold together, amount to seven hundred and fifty millions. Gold is now in Christendom at a higher rate; after which if the talent should be reckoned, the sum would be so much the greater.

drams] The Hebrew word אדרכנים is once more used, Ezra 8. 27. and an other like it דרכמנים Ezra 2. 69. Nehem. 7. 71, 72. The Septuagint translate both words δραχμὰς. A dram then is the fourth part of a shekel, whereof see chap. 22. 14. in value seven pence half peny of silver: of gold, six shilling three-pence. For a shekel contained twenty gerahs (Exo. 30. 13.) and one gerah was three-half-pence in silver. So then half a shekel (wherein every one was rated, Exod. 30. 13.) was fifteen pence. This tribute for the service of the house of God, Cæsar took to himself: whereupon this question was propounded to Christ (Matth. 22. 17.) is it lawfull to give tribute to Cæsar, or not? This tribute was a double dram and in Greek called δίδραχμος, Matth. 17. 24 The drams here mentioned were of gold, and amount to three thousand one hundred twenty five pounds sterling. The ten thousand talents of silver amount to the same sum. The whole sum of gold and silver here mentioned, amounts unto eighteen millions seven hundred fifty six thousand and two hundred fifty pound sterling.

V. 36. he joyned, &c.] Before he was reproved (chap. 19. 2.) for after that, he refused. See on 1 King 22. 48, 49.

CHAP. XXI.

Verse 1. Jehoshaphat slept with his fathers] 1 King. 22. 50.
slept] See on 1 King. 2. 10.
V. 2. Azariah] Or, Azariahu.
Israel] See on chap. 15. 17. Jehoshaphat coming from David by lineal descent, had a right to the whole kingdom of Israel: but he held onely a part thereof. So as by a synechdoche the whole is put for a part. So v. 4.
V. 3. gave gifts] Gen. 25. 6.
in Judah] And Benjamin, chap. 11. 1, 3. because he was the first-born] Though his brethren were better then he, v. 13. The LORD gave this priviledge to the first-born, Gen. 4. 7. Deut. 21. 17.
V. 4. when Jehoram was risen up to the kingdom of his father] 2 King. 8. 16, 17.
Israel] Israel put for Judah, as v. 2.
V. 5. thirty and two, &c.] See on 2 King. 8. 16, 17.
V 6. Ahab to wife] Chap. 22. 2.
V. 7. Howbeit] See on 1 King. 11. 34, 36.

light] See on 1 King. 11. 36.
dominion] Heb. hand.
V. 9. went forth with his princes] 2 King. 8. 21.
V. 11. high places] See on 1 King. 3. 4. fornication] Spirituall: that is, idolatry, v. 13 See 2 Kin. 9. 22.
Judah] Not onely the city where he dwelt, but also his whole kingdom.
V. 12. a writing] Which Elijah had written before his assumption, and left behinde him. For it is evident, 2 King. 3. 11. That Elijah was translated in Jehoshaphats time: As the man of God prophesied of Josiah long before his time (1 Kin. 13. 2.) and Isaiah of Cyrus (Isai. 45. 1.) and Daniel of the monarchs (Dan. 7. 1, &c.) so Elijah of Jehoram. For he would not endure a living prophet to declare the truth unto him.
V. 13. a whoring] See on v. 11.
Ahab] 1 King. 16. 31, 33.
V. 14. a great plague] Heb. a great stroke.

V. 17. brake into it] Running thorow the whole land, even into Jerusalem, which they plundered, as the words following shew.
carried away] Heb. carried captive.
his sons also and his wives] Chap. 22. 1, They were slain.
Jehoahaz] Or, Ahaziah, chap. 22. 1. or Azariah, chap. 22. 6. So as he had three names.
V. 18. in his bowels] See v. 19.
V 19. after the end, &c.] All which time he continued in his torturing disease.
no burning] As they had done for other kings, chap. 16. 14.
V. 20. departed] Or, walked, or lived.
without being desired] Heb. without desire. So miserably and ignobly, as he took no content in himself: nor did any other care for him.
not in the sepulchres, &c.] This is added as an evidence of his subjects disesteem of him.

CHAP. XXII.

Verse 1. Ahaziah his youngest son] 2 Kings 8. 24, &c. eldest] Chap. 21. 17.
V. 2. Fourty and two yeers old] Heb. A son of fourty and two yeers. This is here to be taken of the continuance of Omris pedigree. He was great-grand-father to Ahaziah, the son of Athaliah, daughter of Ahab, son of Omri. Omri reigned as sole king, six yeers (1 King. 16. 23.) Ahab two and twenty (1 King. 16. 29.) Ahaziah, his son, two (1 King. 22. 51.) Joram, twelve (2 King. 3. 1.) Thus he began to reign in the two and twentieth yeer of his age (1 King. 8. 26.) and two and fourtieth of that stock, whereof he was the last branch.
Athaliah] Chap. 21. 6. daughter] Or, grand-childe.
V. 3. He also, &c.] As well as Jehoram his father, chapter 21. 6.
V. 4. to his destruction] By the allurement of the son of Ahab he went out against Jehu, and was slain, v. 7.
V. 5. He walked also, &c.] He did not onely hear, but also, follow their counsell.
Ramoth-gilead] Or, Ramah. See on 1 King. 4. 13.
V. 6. which were given him] Heb. wherewith they wounded him.
Azariah] Otherwise called Ahaziah, verse 1. and Jehoahaz, chap. 21. 17.
V. 7. destruction] Heb. treading down. was of God] Ordered by the divine providence. See on 1 King. 12. 15.

ANNOTATIONS
On the Book of EZRA.

The Argument.

THe peculiar excellency of this Book, is this, That it containeth the Hiſtory of Gods ſingular mercy in bringing back his people from the Babylonian captivity, according to his promiſe. And that in two expeditions. The firſt under Zerubbabel the Prince, Chap. 2. in the firſt yeer of Cyrus King of Perſia, Chap. 1. 1. The ſecond, under the conduct of Ezra the Prieſt, the writer of this Hiſtory, in the reign of the ſecond Artaxerxes, Chap. 7. 1, 6 Five Perſian Monarchs are here mentioned, Cyrus, Chap. 1. 1. Xerxes, Chap. 4. 6. The firſt Artaxerxes, Chap. 4. 7. Darius, Chap. 6. 1. The ſecond Artaxerxes, Chap. 7. 1. Some others in likelihood are omitted, becauſe either they reigned but a while, or no memorable things came to paſſe in their reign concerning Gods people: So that this Book comprehends the Hiſtory of the Jews, from the firſt yeer of Cyrus, to the reign of the ſecond Artaxerxes. As Gods great mercy was manifeſted in bringing his people back into their own Land, ſo likewiſe in giving them ſtrength to finiſh the Temple, and reforming his Church there, maugre all oppoſition. This is the ſum of the Book of Ezra.

CHAP. I.

It was about One Hundred and eleven years after [their return out of Babylon] before the [2] Temple was built: Twenty years after that, before the Reformation[3] of their Ecclesiastical and civil policie was accomplished by Ezra: and Forty five years after that, before the [4] Wall of Jerusalem was perfected by Nehemiah. So that from their coming out of Captivity, to the compleating of the Work, was not lesse than about One Hundred Seventy six years; almost the length of the Wilderness Travail four times told. All which time, they met with so many open Oppositions, and secret Treacheries and Plots that might well have made it seem a lost Design, no Deliverance at all: as you may find in the Stories of Ezra & Nehemiah.

Margine

They came out of Babylon 1 Cyri; Anno mundi 3420. 2. In the 6. year of Darius Nothi, the Temple was finished; Anno, 3531. 3 In the 7. year of Artaxerxes Mnemon, Ezra came from Babylon, and set upon the Reformation of Church and State, Anno 3550. 4 In the 20th year of his Reign, Nehemiah began to build the Walls of Jerusalem, Anno, 3564. and perfected them in 12 years.

one thousand drams of gold] Which amounts to twenty two thousand eight hundred seventy and five pound of our money. The dram is the eighth part of an ounce, and the ounce of gold is three pounds of our money: so that every dram of gold is seven shillings six pence of our money: And then sixty one thousand drams make up the sum above named. It was a Persian coyn of Darius, king of Persia, as the name Drakmon shews. See more in the notes on 1 Chron. 29. 7.

five thousand pound of silver] Which are called mina's, and each amounts to seven pound ten shillings of our money: which being too great a sum to put in one piece of silver, was somtimes coyned in three pieces, one of twenty shekels, another of twenty five, and the third of fifteen shekels, Ezek. 45. 12. So each mina of silver was sixty shekels: Each shekel of silver was two shillings six pence, which being computed, produceth in our coyn thirty seven thousand and five hundred pound. See the notes on 1 King. 10. 17. The whole sum now given in gold and silver, comes to sixty thousand three hundred and seventy five pound in our coyn.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. THe seventh moneth] Either he means, when they had dwelt six moneths in the cities of Judah, after their return, or else in the seventh moneth of the yeer called Tishri, containing the part of September, and part of October: for in that moneth were two feasts, and a fast. V. 8. unto the house of God at Jerusalem] To the place where the temple stood before.

in the second moneth] Which moneth containeth part of April, and part of May: for in the mean season they provided things needfull for the work, vers. 7.

V. 9. Then stood Jeshua, with his sons and his brethren] They gave them exhortations not to fear the enemies, and stood to guard them, and encouraged every one, and so forwarded the work, 2 King. 25. 2, 9. 2 Chron. 36. 11, 19. Ezek. 40. 1.

Judah] Or, Hodaviah, chap. 2. 40.

together] Heb. as one.

V. 10. ordinance of David king of Israel] 1 Chron. 6. 31. and 16. 7. and 25. 1.

V. 12. that had seen the first house] As well some of them might, it being but about sixty yeers since the former was destroyed, which was done in the eleventh yeer after the captivity of Jeconiah, 2 King. 25.

wept with a loud voice] Because they saw by the foundation, that the temple was not like to so glorious, as Solomons had been. But Haggai comforts them with the coming of Christ into this very temple, which shall make it more glorious then the former, Hag. 2. 4, &c. see the blank pages at the end

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 1. THe adversaries of Judah] Meaning the inhabitants of Samaria, whom the king of Assyria had placed in the room of the ten tribes, 2 King. 17. 24. and 19. 37. These professed God, but worshipped idols also, and therefore were the greater enemies to the true servants of God.

the children of the captivity] Heb. the sons of the transportation.

V. 2. we do sacrifice unto him] Or, we do not sacrifice to another.

V. 3. but we our selves] For they percived what their pretence was, to wit, to erect idolatry in stead of true religion.

together] Or, alone, as Job 34. 29.

V. 5. And hired counsellours against them] They bribed the kings counsellours, that they might hinder the building of the temple. Thus they that halt in religion, cannot abide that God should be purely served.

even until] Or, and unto.

even until the reign of Darius] In all the kings reignes between Cyrus and Darius, vers. 24. Two of which are named, v. 6. 7.

V. 6. Ahasuerus] Heb. Ahashveroth. Some think it was Cambises, Cyrus his son: or Xerxes, called in Greek Oxuares; or Xerxes, who succeeded Darius the son of Hystaspes.

wrote they unto him] Now they openly opposed them, and wrote against them, though it be not set down in particular what they writ in Ahasuerus his time.

V. 7. of Artaxerxes] Called so in the Persian tongue, because he was an excellent warriour; supposed to be Artaxerxes Longimanus, who succeeded Xerxes: by others, Darius Hystaspis, who reigned before him.

wrote] The copie of this letter is not recorded.

Bishlam] Or, in peace.

companions] Heb. societies. The other governours of those countries under the king.

V. 8. scribe] Or, secretary.

V. 9. companions] Chald. societies.

the Dinaites] These were heathen placed by the Assyrians in the room of the ten tribes.

V. 10. Asnappar] Sennacherib, or Salmanasar, or Esarhaddon, as v. 2.

on this side the river] To wit, Euphrates; and he meaneth that they dwelt beyond it, in respect of Babel, Psal. 72. 8.

at such a time] Chald. Cheeneh. He meaneth the time when the letter was dated, which is not set down in particular.

V. 12. set up] Or, finished.

joyned] Chald. sowed together.

V. 13. pay] Chald. give.

toll, tribute and custom] Toll of substance, tribute of persons, custom of passengers, yeerly revenue.

thou shalt endamage] Or, it shall endamage; To wit, the city.

revenue] Or, strength.

V. 14. we have maintenance from the kings palace] Chald. we are salted with the salt of the palace. We live upon the kings allowance.

dishonour] Chald. nakednesse.

V. 15. moved] Chald. made.

within the same] Chald. in the midst thereof.

V. 17. companions] Chald. societies.
V. 19. I commanded] Chald. by me a decree is set.
made insurrection] Chald. lifted up it self.
V. 21. Give ye now commandment] Chald. Make a decree.
V. 22. of the kings] Or, of kings.
V. 23. by force and power] Chald. by arm and power.
V. 24. of the reign of Darius] Darius Nothus who succeeded Artaxerxes Longimanus, vers. 5.

CHAP. V.

Vers. 1. HAggai] Hag. 1. 1.
Zechariah] Zech. 1. 1.
the son of Iddo] That is, his sons son, for he was the son of Berechiah, Zech. 1. 1.

V. 2. Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua the son of Jozadak] Zerubbabel was the ruler, chap. 2. 2. Jeshua the high priest, Zech. 1. 3.
the prophets of God helping them] Which encouraged them to go forward, and accused them that they were more carefull to build their own houses, then zealous to build the temple of God, Hag. 1. 4.

V. 4. Then said we unto them] The enemies asked this, as v. 10. They speak as if they were writing to the king against the Jews.
that make this building] Chald. that build this building.

V. 5. the eye of their God] His favour, and the spirit of strength from him.
they returned answer] The king and his counsell: or, an answer was sent by letter.

V. 7. wherein] Chald. in the midst whereof.

V. 8. with great stones] Chald. stones of rolling. With stones that could not be carried, they were so great, but must be rolled, as the Chalde word imports, or drawn on sleds with rollers.

V. 11. and set up] 1 Kings 6. 1.

V. 12. Nebuchadnezzar] 2 Kings 24. 2. and 25. 8.

V. 13. of Cyrus] Chap. 1. 1.

V. 14. the vessels also of gold and silver] Chap. 1. 7, 8. and 6. 5. governour] Or, deputy.

V. 17. let there be search made] These carry themselves more moderately then those, chap. 4. v. 12, 13. for they accuse not the Jews, they report their answer modestly, they desire onely to know the kings pleasure, as if they sought to shew themselves good subjects to the king, rather then enemies to the Jews.
in the kings treasure house] Their records were laid up as treasures in those times.

CHAP. VI.

Vers. 1. AND search was made] Or, after that search had been made. That is, after the decree of Cyrus was found, Darius made another decree to build the temple. See vers. 6. rolls] Chald. books.
laid up] Chald. made to descend.

V. 2. at Achmetha] Or, Ecbatana, or, in a coffer. A place where the kings of Persia kept court in the summer, as they did at Shushan in the winter, Esth. 1. 2. Kings used to have winter and summer houses, Jere. 36. 22. Amos 3. 15.
a roll] For their books were written, and laid up in rolls of parchment to be kept for posterity, Jere. 36. 2. So the Jews have the law in rolls to this day.

V. 3. the height thereof threescore cubits] Cyrus gave leave to build it larger then it was before. See 1 King. 6. 2.

V. 5. brought] Chald. go.

V. 6. your companions] Chald. their societies.

V. 8. I make a decree] Chald. by me a decree is made.
hindred] Chald. made to cease. For lack of money, and materialls.

V. 10. of sweet savours] Chald. of rest.
of his sons] Of them which he had left, which he the rather injoyned, because his first children dyed young; as Ctesias reporteth.

V. 11. let him be hanged thereon] Chald. let him be destroyed.

V. 12. that hath caused his name to dwell there] Who hath appointed that place to have his name called upon there constantly: or, to make it the place of his own speciall residence, Psal. 132. 14.

V. 14. of Haggai the prophet] Whom God stirred up to assure them, that he would give their work good successe. commandment] Chald. decree.
Artaxerxes] Not Artaxerxes mentioned, chap. 4. 7. for he hindered the building of the temple, but another that succeeded Darius, chap. 7. 1. Or else the meaning is, that they builded in the dayes of Cyrus and Darius, and ceased in the dayes of Artaxerxes, as they were commanded, chap. 4. 5, 21. Or, it may be he might give a commandment to build the temple a while before he died, which was not executed till Darius his time who succeeded him, and might confirm this by another decree, which might take effect.

V. 15. of the moneth Adar] This is the twelfth moneth, and containeth part of February, and part of March.

V. 16. the children of the captivity] Chald. the sons of the transportation.

V. 18. as it is written] Chald. according to the writing.
in the book of Moses] Num. 3. 6. and 8. 9.

V. 20. for their brethren the priests] Either he means, the Levites killed for the priests, or some priests for the rest.

V. 21. and all such as had separated themselves unto them] Which were of the heathen, and had forsaken their idolatry, to worship the true God, and so were to be admitted to the passeover by the law, Exod. 12. 48. Numb. 9. 14.

V. 22. for] Or, because.
and turned] Or, seeing he had turned.
of the king of Assyria] Meaning Darius, either because the Assyrians were subject to him, as well as the Persians: or, because he kept his court there at that time, having left Persia to be governourned by his son. The king of Babylon is called king of Assyria, 2 Chron. 33. 11.

CHAP. VII.

Vers. 1. ARtaxerxes] There were divers kings of this name among the Persians. This was Artaxerxes Memor, who succeeded Darius Nothus, as some think: or as others suppose Artaxerxes Longimanus, who succeeded Darius Hystaspis.
Ezra the son of Seraiah] This Ezra was brother to Jehozadac the high priest that went into captivity, 1 Chron. 6. 14. and uncle to Jehoshua that returned with Zerubbabel, Ezra 3. vers. 2.

V. 3. the son of Meraioth] Here six of Ezra's predecessours are omitted for brevity sake. See 1 Chro. 6. See the like Matth. 1. 8.

V. 5. the son of Aaron the chief priest] Here Ezra reckoneth up his genealogy, till he come up to Aaron, to prove that he came of him.

V. 6. was a ready scribe] He sheweth here what is a scribe: One who had charge to write the law, and to expound it. He whom Mark calleth a scribe, Mark 12. 28. is by Matthew and Luke, called a lawyer, or doctor of the law, Matth. 22. 35. Luk. 10. 25.

V. 8. in the fifth month] Which containeth part of July, and part of August.

V. 9. began he to go up] Heb. was the foundation of the going up.

V. 10. to do it, and to teach] They are the best teachers, that do first themselves, and then teach others to do, Act. 1. 1.

V. 12. Unto Ezra the priest, a scribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace] Or, To Ezra the priest, a perfect scribe of the law of the God of heaven, peace, &c.

V. 13. which are minded of their own free will to go up to Jerusalem] Which remaineth as yet in Babylon, and went not up with Zerubbabel.

V. 14. of the king] Chald. from before the king.
his seven counsellours] Esth. 1. 14.
to enquire] To examine who liveth not according to Gods law, and to punish him.
which is in thine hand] Wherein thou art expert.

V. 16. And all the silver and gold] Chap. 8. 25.
that thou canst finde in all the province of Babylon] Which any of my subjects will give, after my example. He gives him leave to make a generall collection for Gods service.
of the people] The people of Israel, as chap. 8. 25.

V. 18. and to thy brethren] The priests whose counsell thou shalt please to use.

V. 19. before the God of Jerusalem] Or, before God at Jerusalem.

V. 21. beyond the river] Which was the river Euphrates; and they were beyond it, in respect of Babylon, chap. 4. 10.

V. 22. an hundred talents of silver] A talent of silver is three thousand shekels, as appears, Exod. 38. 25, 26. where six hundred thousand men, at half a shekel apiece, are valued at an hundred talents. The shekel being two shillings and six pence of our money, three hundred shekels make three hundred seventy and five pounds; which, multiplied by an hundred, is thirty seven thousand and five hundred pounds. See 1 Chron. 22. 14.
an hundred measures of wheat] Chald. cors. A cor is a measure for dry things, containing ten epha's. An epha was about a bushel of our measure; so that a cor makes ten bushels: then an hundred cors is a thousand bushels.
an hundred baths of wine] A bath was a measure for liquid things, containing as much as an epha did of dry things. Every bath then was eight gallons; which, being multiplied by an hundred, make eight hundred gallons, 1 King. 7. 26. and 4. 22.

V. 23. Whatsoever is commanded] Heb. Whatsoever is of the decree.
for why should there be wrath] This declareth, that the fear of Gods judgements caused him to use this liberality: also it sheweth, that this heathen king knew, That the hinderance of Gods service was a means to bring Gods wrath on him and his. See Notes on chap. 10. 6.

V. 24. it

Cap. 8. 17. – Caſiphia] This is held to be the Land of the Caſpians, where the great Sea was, called mare Caſpium –: from whence (tho a great way off) by the bleſsing of God, the benefit of the King's Comand, and the ordinary – Penſion – Poſt – houſes; – they ſpeedily came to Jeruſalem. Dutch Anot.
Vide Sebaſtianum Munſterum.

V. 24. it shall not be lawfull] Chald. none hath power. That is, I do not permit any, how great soever, to do it.

V. 25. of thy God] Which thy God hath given thee: or, of divine matters.

in thine hand] See notes on v. 14.

set magistrates and judges] He gave Ezra full authority to restore all things according to the word of God, and to punish them that resisted, and would not obey.

V. 26. to banishment] Banishment in the Chaldee is called rooting out. A man is planted in his native soil, as in a garden; and banishment plucks him up out of it, as it were by the roots.

V. 27. Blessed be the Lord] Thus Ezra gave God thanks for that he gave him so good successe in his affairs for the churches good, by the kings favour.

V. 28. as the hand of the Lord my God was upon me] Heb. according to the hand of the Lord my God upon me; as verse 6. of this chapter, and chapter 8. verse 18. Or, which was upon me. He notes the cause of his great strength that encouraged him to go on stoutly in the work, till he finished it: Not the degree of it, as if sometimes he went more earnestly about it, sometimes more slowly.

CHAP. VIII.

Vers. 2. Of the sons of Phinehas] He begins with the two branches of the priestly office, and with the royall seed.

Hattush] 1 Chron. 3. 22.

V. 3. of the sons of Pharosh] Or, who was of the sons of Pharosh. Hereby is he distinguished from the other, Shechaniah, vers. 5.

V. 12. the son of Hakkatan] Or, the youngest son.

V. 13. the last sons of Adonikam] Who went up now with Ezra, and not before with Zerubbabel, chap. 2. 13. Or they were born of his youngest sons.

V. 14. Zabbud] Or, Zaccur, as some read.

V. 15. And I gathered them together] To that place of Euphrates, where Ahava the river entreth into it.

abode] Or, pitched.

V. 17. Iddo the chief] It seems he had commission from the kings of Persia, in that place, as in a colledge, to instruct the Levites in Gods law, and to breed them for Gods service.

I told them what they should say] Heb. I put words in their mouth.

V. 18. and Sherebiah] Or, even Sherebiah. So and for even. 1 Sam. 17. 40. and 28. 3.

V. 20. Also of the Nethinims] See chap. 2. 43.

whom David and the princes had appointed] It is likely that he sought out those Gibeonites that neglected their service appointed, Josh. 9. 21. and by his captains set them in order, and forced them to do it, when he ordered the Levites: for many of these Nethinims dwelt in Jerusalem. Compare 1 Chron. 9. 2. with chap. 25. and 26.

V. 21. Then I proclaimed a fast] Fasting and prayer is an excellent help in difficult cases.

that we might afflict our selves] He sheweth that the end of fasting is to humble men, by abstinence from matters of delight, Levit. 16. 29. and 23. 29.

right] Or, safe. As Psal. 5. 8.

V. 22. For I was ashamed, &c.] He thought it better to commit himself altogether to Gods protection, then to give the heathen king the least suspicion of his distrust of Gods protection, whose goodnesse and power he had proclaimed to the king before.

V. 24. Sherebiah] Or rather, with Sherebiah: For he and his brethren were no priests, but Levites. Compare vers. 14. with 18, 19. It seems vers. 30. that to these twelve Levites, were twelve priests joyned, though they be not named.

V. 25. even the offering of the house] To be carried to Jerusalem, for the service of Gods house.

V. 26. talents of silver] Chap. 7. 22.

V. 27. drams] Chap. 2. 69.

fine copper] Heb. yellow, or shining brasse. Heb. brasse, or copper, guilded over.

precious] Heb. desireable. To wit, because it pleased the eyes, for it glistered like gold. See Gen. 3. 6. It could not be of equall price with gold.

V. 30. the weight of the silver] That is, the silver that was weighed, and not a note alone of the weight of it.

V. 31. of such as lay in wait by the way] This sheweth that their journey was full of danger, in regard of such as lay in ambush for them in the way; and yet God delivered them according to their prayer.

V. 33. by the hand] Or rather, into the hand, as vers. 26. For there is no mention of any other, to whom they were delivered.

V. 34. all the weight was written at that time] That their faithfull performance might appear upon record.

CHAP. IX.

Verse 1. The Levites have not separated themselves] From the time they came home under Zerubbabel, untill the coming of Ezra they had degenerate contrary to the law of God, and married where it was not lawfull, Deut. 7. 3.

V. 2. of their daughters] Unconverted.

the holy seed] By Gods covenant with Abraham, out of whose loyns they came, 1 Cor. 7. 14.

the hand of the princes and rulers hath been chief] They began first to take strange wives, to the bad example of the rest.

V. 3. I rent my garment] Gen. 37. 34.

and plucked off the hair of my head] Heb. some of the hair.

V. 4. I sate astonied] As one doubting whether God would continue his benefits towards them, or no.

V. 5. heavinesse] Or, affliction.

having rent my garment] He meaneth not that he rent his garment again, but that he prayed with those garments on, which he had rent, vers. 3. and did not put them off.

V. 6. our iniquities are increased over our head] That is, we are drowned in sin: or, over-whelmed with it, Psal. 38. 4.

our trespasse] Or, guiltinesse.

is grown up unto the heavens] They so exceed, that they cannot grow greater, Jon. 1. 2. 2 Chron. 28. 9.

V. 7. as it is this day] For many were not returned from captivity.

V. 8. And now] They suddenly grew evill. This aggravates their sin.

for a little space] Heb. for a moment.

grace hath been shewed] So doth the great favour of deliverance from captivity make their sin greater.

a nail] Or, a pin: That is, a constant and sure abode. A fixed place, as a nail hath, being fastned in a wall, Isai. 22. 23. Eccles. 12. 11.

lighten our eyes] By refreshing us who were in great danger, like men whose sight decayes, 1 Sam. 14. 29.

V. 9. to repair] Heb. to set up.

V. 10. after this] Seeing God hath not left us in our adversity, and yet we have sinned against him after our deliverance.

V. 11. Which thou hast commanded] God had forewarned them, and therefore they could not plead ignorance, to lessen their sin.

by thy servants] Heb. by the hand of thy servants.

from one end to another] Heb. from mouth to mouth.

V. 12. give not your daughters unto their sons] Exod. 23. 32. Deut. 7. 3.

nor seek their peace] Deut. 23. 6.

V. 13. hast punished us lesse then our iniquities deserve] Heb. hast withheld beneath our iniquities. This made their present sin the greater, because God favourably corrected them for their former sins, and not utterly destroyed them, as in justice he might, Lam. 3. 22.

V. 14. wouldest] Or, wilt.

hadst] Or, hast.

should] Or, shall.

V. 15. for] Or, though.

we remain yet escaped] We may be destroyed another time, though we have escaped now.

for] Or, but.

we cannot stand before thee] Though we come before thee as thy people, yet our consciences accuse us, and make us hang down our heads.

CHAP. X.

Vers. 1. When he had confessed] He confessed his sins, and the sins of his people, Dan. 9. 20. especially in unlawfull mariages.

wept very sore] Heb. wept a great weeping.

V. 2. there is hope in Israel] Meaning, that God would receive them to mercy.

V. 3. to put away] Heb. to bring forth. He sheweth the ground of his hope, and means of effecting it.

according to the counsell] Because God and the king have given thee authority to reform things amisse.

my lord] Or, the Lord.

V. 5. the chief priests, the Levites, and all Israel] Or, the chief of the priests, and of the Levites, and of all Israel. For why should he make all the Levites and Israelites swear, and not all the priests? Neither were all Israel yet gathered together, vers. 7. And he had some chief men that offered him assistance, vers. 4. See also vers. 14. and 16.

V. 7. they made proclamation] They who had sworn to assist Ezra, vers. 5. and are called princes and elders, vers. 8.

V. 8. forfeited] Heb. devoted.

separated] Or, excommunicated, Joh. 9. 22.

V. 9. the ninth moneth] Which containeth part of November, and part of December.

the great rain] Heb. the showers. For the season was given to rain, and so the weather was more sharp and cold, and also their conscience accused them.

V. 10. have taken] Heb. have caused to dwell, or, have brought back.

encrease the trespasse] By laying one sin upon another, 1 Sam. 12. 19. Luke 3: 20.

V. 13. we are many that have transgressed in this thing] Or, we have greatly offended in this thing.

V. 14. Let now our rulers of all the congregation stand] Let them be appointed to be ready to examine this matter speedily.

with them the elders of every city] The rulers of every place that knew the offenders, must come with them to inform the judges of the whole congregation.

untill the fierce wrath of our God] Till all the strange wives be put away, and so Gods wrath be appeased.

for this matter, be turned from us] Or, till this matter be dispatched.

V. 15. Jonathan the son of Asahel, and Jahaziah the son of Tikvah] It seems few of the priests and Levites were free from this sin: therefore so few judges are chosen among them. The high priest himself was not employed in it, because his sons were guilty, verse 18.

were employed] Heb. stood.

V. 16. after] Or, for.

tenth moneth] Which contained part of December, and part of January.

V. 17. first moneth] Which containeth part of March, and part of April.

V. 19. And they gave their hands] As a token that they would keep promise, and do it, 2 King. 10. 15.

V. 25. of Israel] Meaning of the common people: for he spake before of the priests and Levites, that were guilty.

V. 40. Machnadebai] Or, Mabnadebai, according to some copies.

V. 44. by whom they had children] Neither love to wife nor children, could keep them from obeying Gods commandment. They put away as well those wives by whom they had children, as those by whom they had none. And it is likely they put away their children also. See verse 3.

ANNOTATIONS

On the Book of NEHEMIAH.

The Argument.

BEcause Religion cannot Well subsist Without civill policie and peace, therefore God stirs up the spirit of Nehemiah to use the favour that he had With Artaxerxes the second, to obtain the Government over the Jews: Whereby he sets up the Walls of Jerusalem, sets the City and Countrey in order, and then returns to the King in the thirty second yeer of his reign, Chap. 13. 6. Some think this History to be written by Ezra, because he speaks of Nehemiah, as a different person, Chap. 1. 1. But so doth Isaiah of himself, Isai. 1. 1. and Solomon, Prov. 1. 1. *yet were those Books theirs. to fear thy name] To worship thee aright.

and grant him mercy in the sight of this man] That he may grant my request.

For I was the kings cup-bearer] It is an excellent thing when great men use their interest in the favour of princes, for the good of Gods Church.

CHAP. II.

Vers. 1. IN the moneth Nisan] Which was the first moneth of the yeer to the Jews, and seventh to the Chaldeans and Persians: It contained part of March, and part of April. The news came to him three moneths before, chap. 1. 1. but he staid till his office brought him into the kings presence, and till the king spake to him.

of Artaxerxes the king] Artaxerxes Memor, mentioned Ezra 7. 1. Others think him to be Artaxerxes Longimanus.

V. 2. I was very sore afraid] He was terrified with the kings majesty, the trouble of his people, and the greatnesse of his request.

V. 3. the place of my fathers sepulchres lieth waste] No doubt he was most troubled, because Gods service was interrupted: but he thought an argument taken from naturall compassion, would most move an heathen king: and their sepulchres were generally esteemed sacred.

V. 4. I prayed] I desired God in mine heart to prosper mine enterprise, Exod. 14. 15.

V. 5. that thou wouldest send me] My request is, That thou wouldest send me.

V. 6. queen] Heb. wife.

I set him a time] The space of twelve yeers. See chapter 5. 14.

V. 7. over] Or, thorow.

V. 8. the palace] That is, the court of the temple, where the priests were to dwell, which yet lay open.

according to the good hand of my God upon me] God that moved me to ask, verse 4. give me good successe.

V. 10. When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah] These were great enemies to the Jews, and laboured alwayes, both by force and subtilty, to overcome them: And Tobiah because his wife was a Jewesse, had advertisement ever of their affairs, and so wrought them great trouble.

the servant] It seems he was a slave born, but preferred by the kings favour.

V. 11. and was there three dayes] He rested him three dayes after his journey, as Ezra did, Ezra 8. 31, 32.

V. 13. by the gate of the valley] So called, because it led to the the valley of Jehoshaphat. It was next the dung-gate on the left-hand, v. 15. chap. 3. 13. 2 Chron. 26. 9.

dragon-well] A well so called between the valley-gate, and the dung-gate, but neerer to the former.

to the dung-port] Either because the rain carried the dirt thorow it to Kidron, or because men carried their dung that way to some common lay-stall, chap. 3. 13. and 12. 3.

V. 14. to the gate of the fountain] Which led toward the fountain of the river Siloah, chap. 3. 15. and 12. 37.

to the kings pool] Pool of Siloah by the kings garden, chap. 3. 15.

no place for the beast] By reason of stones and rubbish faln out of the wall.

that was under me to passe] Or, to passe under me. That is, I was forced to go on foot.

V. 15. by the brook] The brook Kidron, 2 Sam. 15. 23.

by the gate of the valley] Which I went out at, v. 13.

and so returned] To my lodging.

V. 16. nor to the nobles] So called, because they ware white robes, Esth. 8. 15.

V. 17. that we be no more a reproach] That is, contemned of other nations, as though God had forsaken us.

V. 18. which was] Or, that it was.

good upon me] Vers. 8.

they strengthned their hands] They were encouraged, and gave themselves to do well; and to travell in this worthy enterprise.

V. 19. Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian] These were three chief governours under the king of Persia, beyond Euphrates.

will ye rebell against the king?] Thus the wicked when they will discredit the children of God, use to lay rebellion unto their charge, both because it maketh them most odious unto the world, and also stirreth the hatred of princes most against them, Ezra 4. 15.

V. 20. no portion] Ezra 4. 3.

nor memoriall in Jerusalem] Neither are ye of the number of the people of God (to whom onely he hath appointed this city) neither did any of your predecessors ever fear God.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. Eliashib the high priest] The nephew of Jehoshuah, chap. 12. 10.

they built the sheep-gate] Here is an exact description of the gates of Jerusalem in order as they stood. The sheep-gate here: the fish-gate next on the right-hand, v. 3. Then the old-gate, v. 6. Next was the valley-gate, v. 13. After that the dung-gate, v. 14. Then the fountain-gate, v. 15. Next was the water-gate, v. 26. After that the horse-gate, v. 28. Then the east-gate, v. 29. Lastly, the gate Miphkad, which was the prison-gate, v. 31. chap. 12. 39. This appears to be the order for these reasons. First, when Nehemiah went to view them, chap. 2. v. 12, 13. those few gates there named, stand in the rank they do here. Secondly, in repairing the wall in this third chapter, they begin and end at the sheep-gate. Thirdly, many of these stand in the same posture, chap. 12. 31. at the dedication of the wall: for one company goes on the right-hand, to the dung-gate; the other on the left, and both meet at the prison-gate, chap. 12. 39.

they sanctified it] Dedicated it to the LORD by prayer, when they had finished it, Deut. 20. 5. desiring God to maintain it. Or, appointed it for the use of the temple, that sacrifices might be had there at hand in the market, and other things.

unto the tower of Meah] Heb. of Hammeah. Or, to the hundredth tower: or, it might have one hundred pinacles: or, be one hundred foot high. For Meah signifies an hundred.

unto the tower of Hananeel] Chap. 12. 39. Jerem. 31. 38. Zech. 14. 10.

V. 2. next unto him] Heb. at his hand.

them] Heb. to him. It may be the men of Jericho builded on the one side of the high priest, and Zaccur on the other.

V. 3. the fish-gate] It might look toward the sea, and so the fish might be brought in there, and sold neer it, some coming from Joppa, and some from Tyrus, though it were further off. See chap. 13. 16, 19.

and set up the doors thereof] Afterwards, when all the wall was finished, chap. 6. 1. and 7. 1.

V. 4. next unto them] For it is likely Merimoth wrought not alone, but set others on work with him.

V. 5. their nobles put not their necks to the work of their Lord] The rich and great men would not work with their hands in Gods work, for they thought it too mean a service for them.

V. 6. the old gate] Part whereof stood ever since the razing of the walls, chap. 12. 39.

V. 7. unto the throne of the governour] Where the governour was to dwell: that is, Nehemiah himself, chap. 2. 8.

V. 8. fortified Jerusalem unto the broad wall] Or, left fortifying Jerusalem at the broad wall: Or, left Jerusalem unto the broad wall. Chap. 12. 38.

V. 9. the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem] It may be he was over that part of the city which was in the tribe of Judah, and some other set over that part which was in the tribe of Benjamin, v. 12.

V. 11. other piece] Heb. second measure. That is, the part next Hattush his part: or, as much, as he did.

the tower of the furnaces] See chap. 12. 38. Some think fire was kept there perpetually for direction of men at sea: Or, it may be, the furnaces for melting of metals stood thereabouts.

V. 12. and his daughters] These virgins thought not much to work like men in this publike service.

V. 13. unto the dung-gate] Chap. 2. 13.

V. 14. of part] Or, of the tract. It seems to be some outpart of Jerusalem in the tribe of Benjamin, Jere. 6. 1.

V. 15. the gate of the fountain] Chap. 2. 14.

of the pool of Siloah] John 9. 7.

V. 16. the sepulchres of David] It is likely he made them to bury his household in.

to the pool] 2 King. 20. 20. Isai. 22. 11.

that was made] Not naturall, as the pool, v. 15. is thought to be.

unto the house of the mighty] Where the garison of the city of David used to watch.

V. 17. in his part] Or, for his part: or, with his part: That is, the men subject to him.

V. 18. of the half part] That is, of the other half part.

V. 19. over against the going up to the armoury] Where the weapons and armour of the city lay.

at the turning of the wall] 2 Chron. 26. 9.

V. 20. Zabbai] Or, Zaccai.

V. 21. Koz] Heb. Hakkoz.

V. 22. the men of the plain] Which dwelt in the plain countrey, between Jerusalem and Jericho, 2 Sam. 2. 29. Nehe. 12. 28.

V. 25. court of the prison] Jere. 32. 2.

V. 26. dwelt] Or, which dwelt.

Ophel] Or, the tower. 2 Chron. 27. 3. and 33. 14. An high tower reaching as it were to the clouds, as the name in the originall imports. There dwelt the Nethinims, neer the water-gate; for they carried wood and water to the temple. See the notes on Ezra 2. 43.

the water-gate] Chap. 8. 1. and 12. 37.

V. 27. the Tekoites repaired another piece] Though their great men would not help them, yet they quickly ended their work, v. 5. and now take another part upon them.

V. 28. the horse-gate] It stood east-ward, Jere. 31. 40. it was called the horse-gate, as some think, because the kings horses went in and out that way, 2 King. 11. 16. 2 Chron. 23. 15. Or, as others suppose, either because they might ride no further toward the temple, or because they rid their horses out of that gate to water them in Kidron, and breathe them in the valley of Gehinnom.

V. 29. of the east-gate] Some think it stood not full east, but was called the east-gate, because it stood on the east-end of the temple. It is by some called the golden-gate. It seems it was the beautifullest gate; yet it might be so called, because the sun-beams lighting on it in the morning, might make it glister.

V. 31. unto the place of the Nethinims] Vers. 26.

the gate Miphkad] Which was the prison-gate, not far from the sheep-gate. See chap. 12. 39.

going up of the corner] Or, corner-chamber.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 2. His brethren] His companions that dwelt in Samaria: he stirs them up against the Jews.

What do these feeble Jews] Thus the wicked mock Gods people, as though they were weak and feeble, because they consider not, that Gods power is ever in a readinesse for the defence of his.

fortifie themselves] Heb. leave to themselves.

V. 4. Hear, O our God] This is the remedy that the children of God have against the derision and threatnings of their enemies.

despised] Heb. despite.

the land of captivity] Let them be spoiled, and led away captive.

V. 5. And cover not their iniquity] Let thy plagues declare to the world, that they set themselves against thee, and against thy church, Jere. 18. 23. Thus he prayeth, having respect to Gods glory, and not out of [illegible]ridge.

they have provoked thee to anger before the builders] Or, they have provoked others against the builders. Or, they have provoked the builders standing over against them.

V. 6. unto the half thereof] Of the height of the wall.

V. 7. were [illegible]

V. 7. were made up] Heb. ascended.

V. 8. to hinder it] Heb. to make an errour to it.

V. 9. Nevertheleſſe] Or, Therefore.

against them] Or, over them: That is, over the workmen because of the enemies.

V. 10. ſo that we are not able to build the wall] The bearers, and the rubbiſh lying in the way, hinders us from building.

V. 12. they ſaid] Or, and ſaid.

ten times] That is, oftentimes, Job 19. 3.

From all places, whence ye ſhall return unto us, they will be upon you] Or, That from all places ye muſt return to us. Or, They that are againſt us will come on all places, whence ye ſhall return. That is, when you go from your work to eat, or reſt; the enemies will aſſail you on all ſides.

V. 13. Therefore] Or, Then.

in the lower places] Heb. from the lower parts of the place, &c.

V. 14. remember the Lord] Who is ever at hand to deliver his out of danger; and therefore ſeeing they ſhould fight for the maintenance of Gods glory, and for the preſervation of their own lives, and the lives of theirs; he encourageth them to play the valiant men, 2 Sam. 10. 12.

V. 15. and God had brought] Or, that God had brought.

that we returned] Or, and we returned.

V. 16. And] Or, Yet.

the rulers were behinde all the houſe of Judah] To over-ſee them, and to encourage them to their work.

V. 17. and with the other hand held a weapon] A lively type of the militant church, which ſtill muſt with the one hand build on the work of the LORD; and with the other, muſt be ready to keep off their ſpirituall and bodily enemies.

V. 18. by his ſide] Heb. on his loyns.

V. 20. reſort ye thither unto us] Meaning to reſiſt their enemies. And to this end he kept a trumpeter alwayes by him, to make them know when the enemy approached, v. 18.

our God ſhall fight for us] Exod. 14. 14. Deut. 1. 30. and 3. 22.

V. 23. ſaving that every one put them off for waſhing] Or, every one went with his weapon for water.

for waſhing] That is, when they purified themſelves, or elſe when they waſhed their clothes.

CHAP. V.

Verſ. 1. Againſt their brethren] Againſt the rich which oppreſſed them, v. 7.

V. 2. we take up corn for them] This is the complaint of the people, ſhewing to what extremity they were brought, that they were forced to ſell their children for food. See v. 5. Matth. 18. 25.

V. 3. We have morgaged our lands] They were brought to this poverty, becauſe by reaſon of continuall labour in building the wall, they were forced to neglect their own buſineſſe.

V. 4. for the kings tribute] Which they yeerly paid to the king of Perſia: for church-men onely were free. See Ezra 7. 24. Gen. 47. 22.

V. 5. our fleſh is as the fleſh of our brethren] By nature the rich is no better then the poor, Iſai. 58. 7. Act. 17. 26.

neither is it in our power to redeem them] We are not able to redeem them, but for poverty are compelled to hire them out to others.

V. 7. I conſulted with my ſelf] Heb. my heart conſulted in me.

You exact] Ye oppreſſe them with uſury, and ſeek how to bring all things into your hands.

uſury] Or, burden, Iſai. 58. 6.

And I ſet a great aſſembly againſt them] Both becauſe they ſhould be moved with pitty, ſeeing how many were by them oppreſt; and alſo hear the judgement of others, which ſhould be as it were witneſſes of their dealing toward their brethren.

V. 8. We, after our abilitie, have redeemed our brethren] Levit. 25. 48.

ſhall they be ſold unto us?] Seeing God by our means hath once already delivered them from the bondage of the heathen, ſhall we make them our ſlaves?

V. 9. Alſo I ſaid] Meaning Nehemiah.

not good] Or, ſtark naught, as Prov. 24. 23.

becauſe of the reproach of the heathen] Who by this occaſion will blaſpheme the name of God, ſeeing that our acts are no better then theirs, 2 Sam. 12. 14. Rom. 2. 24.

V. 10. might exact of them money] Or, have lent to them. To wit, without uſury.

uſury] Or, burden, v. 7.

V. 11. that ye exact of them] Which ye take of them for the loan: or, otherwiſe exact from them, Iſai. 58. 3.

V. 12. will require nothing] Or, we will not require it: To wit, the hundredth part, v. 11. For it is not likely that they would do more then Nehemiah asked.

V. 13. I ſhook my lap] A ceremony then uſed, the ſame in effect with that, Act. 18. 6. and not unlike that of ſhaking off the duſt of their feet, Matth. 10. 14. Act. 13. 51. For ſubſtance ſee the like, 2 Chron. 15. 13.

emptied] Heb. empty, or void.

V. 14. the bread of the governour] I received not that portion and diet which the governours before me had exacted, v. 15. wherein he declareth, that he rather ſought the wealth of the people, then his own commodity, 1 Cor. 9. 4, 15. 1 Kings 4. 22.

V. 15. bread] Or, for bread.

beſide fourty ſhekels of ſilver] Or, after fourty ſhekels of ſilver. That is, being not contented with the fourty ſhekels they exacted of the people, they required more of them to buy bread and wine.

V. 17. from among the heathen] Of ſtrangers that came for viſitation, or embaſſage, or the like offices.

V. 18. ſtore of all ſorts of wine] It may be they had wine at other times by a ſet allowance; but once in ten dayes they had aboundance.

the bread of the governour] See v. 14.

V. 19. Think upon me] Chap. 13. 22.

CHAP. VI.

Verſ. 1. NO breach left therein] That is, that the wall was joyned together every where, chap. 4. 6.

V. 2. Ono] Which was in the tribe of Benjamin, chap. 11. 35.

to do me miſchief] That is, to kill me.

V. 3. why ſhould the work ceaſe] Meaning, that if he ſhould obey their requeſt, the work which God had appointed, would ceaſe. Yet he teacheth us withall, that we ſhould not commit our ſelves into the hands of the wicked.

V. 6. Gaſhmu] Or, Geſhem, verſe 2.

according to theſe words] As the fame goeth.

V. 7. thou haſt alſo appointed prophets] Thou haſt bribed and ſet up falſe prophets to make thy ſelf king, and ſo to defraud the king of Perſia of that ſubjection which ye owe unto him.

and let us take counſell together] That no hurt may come to you, nor to us for your neighbour-hood.

V. 10. who was ſhut up] As though he prayed to God for Nehemiahs preſervation, but intending to deceive him: or, he ſhewed by his own carriage what he thought fit for Nehemiah to do. So did prophets teach by geſtures, 1 King. 22. 11. Ezek. 24. 17, 22.

and let us ſhut the doors of the temple] It is not ſafe for us to meet, or be in the city, becauſe the gates are not up, but we can ſhut the doors of the temple upon us, and be ſafe.

V. 11. Should ſuch a man as I flee?] He doubted not but God was able to preſerve him, and knew that if he had obeyed the counſell of Shemaiah, he ſhould have diſcouraged all the people: and alſo, that the enemies might have come in (for the gates were yet open, v. 1.) and have taken the city, while he lay hid in the temple. Thus God giveth wiſdom to his, to prevent the hurt that might come by falſe prophecies, though they ſeem to have never ſo great probability: or elſe he thought it unlawfull for him, being not a prieſt, to come into the temple, Numb. 3. 38.

V. 12. Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him] Either to do this work at this time, that they might take the city by Nehemiahs neglect, upon his preſwaſion: or elſe he had a yeerly penſion from them, to further their ends to the hurt of the Jews.

V. 14. on the propheteſſe Noadiah] Very grief cauſed him to pray againſt ſuch, as under the pretence of being miniſters of God, were adverſaries to his glory, and went about to overthrow his church, declaring alſo hereby, that where there is one true miniſter of God, the devill hath a great ſort of hirelings, chap. 13. 29.

V. 15. the wall was finiſhed] With gates, barrs, locks, and all things needfull, which were wanting, verſ. 1.

of the moneth Elul] Which was the ſixth moneth, containing part of Auguſt, and part of September.

in fifty and two dayes] From the beginning of the building of it: For it is delivered as a ſtrange thing. See v. 16.

V. 17. ſent many letters unto Tobiah] Heb. multiplied their letters paſſing to Tobiah. Thus the church of God hath evermore enemies within it ſelf, which are more dangerous then the outward and profeſſed enemies.

V. 19. words] Or, matters.

CHAP. VII.

Verſ. 3. LEt them ſhut the doors, and bar them] Or, and ſhut the doors, do ye lay hold on them: That is, when the porters ſhut the doors in the evening, feel ye your ſelves whither they be ſhut faſt or no.

appoint] Heb. appoint thou; Hanani, or Hananiah. For it is likely they would not be there both at once.

againſt his houſe] That is, the place where his houſe ſhould be large and great] Heb. broad in spaces.

V.5. to gather together the nobles] That the city might be better peopled then it was, by bringing in the children of the former inhabitants of Judah, and adding others if need should require, v.5. Chap.8.1.

V.6. These are the children of the province] That is, the inhabitants of Judah that came up with Zerubbabel, Ezr.2.1, &c.

V.7. Azariah] Or, Seraiah. Azariah in Ezra is called Seraiah, and Raamiah Reeliah, Ezr.2.2. and so the names of many other are different: neither do they wholly agree in the sum of the numbers; because, being made long after, some of the mentioned families might be diminished, and some encreased.

V.8. The children of Parosh] For the rest that follow, see the Notes on Ezr.2.1, &c.

V.15. Binnui] Or, Bani.

V.21. Hezekiah] Ezr.2.16.

V.24. Hariph] Or, Jora.

V.25. The children] That is, the inhabitants. So in many verses following, they are called men, which, Ezr.2.21. are called children of those places.

Gibeon] Or, Gibbar.

V.28. Beth-azmaveth] Or, Azmaveth.

V.29. Kirjath-jearim] Or, Kirjath-arim.

V.33. of the other Nebo] For there were two cities called Nebo. See the Notes on Ezr.2.29.

V.34. the other Elam] See v.12.

V.7. caused the people to understand the law] Preached to the peoples capacity, as v.8. In this work both priests and Levites assisted Ezra; for the people were so many, that one man could not be heard of all.

V.9. the Tirshatha] Or, the governour. See chap.7.70.

all the people wept] In considering their offences against the law: therefore the Levites do not reprove them for mourning, but labour to chear them up, and the rather, because it was a festivall day.

V. 10. for whom nothing is prepared] That is, Remember the poor, Ezr.9.22.

the joy of the Lord is your strength] Rejoyce in the LORD, and he will give you strength. Or, rejoyce in Gods benefits, who by his power hath restored to you your land, the city, the temple, and the free use of your religion, which ye could never have compassed by your strength.

V.12. to send portions] Esth.9.19.

ANNOTATIONS
On the Book of ESTHER.

The Argument.

THis Hiſtory falls within the yeers recorded in Ezra, *and in the reign of one of thoſe Perſian Kings there mentioned: who it was, ſee in Notes on Chap.*1.1 In the third yeer of this King, Was the great feaſt made, Chap. 1. 3. In the ſeventh yeer he married Eſther, *Chap.*2.16. In the twelfth yeer fell that great Conſpiracy of Haman, *Chap.*3.7. Which God prevented by Eſthers *preferment, Chap.*4.14. God did not onely deliver his people, and give them victory over their enemies, but alſo raiſed up Mordecai *to ſettle their peaceable condition for time to come. And ſo the book ends, Chap.*10.3.

CHAP. I.

Verſ.1. OF Ahaſuerus] It ſeems to be Xerxes. See Ezr. 4. 6. He was the ſonne of Darius Hyſtaſpis; his wife was called Ameſtris, a name not much unlike Eſther. Others think that it was Darius his father, whoſe wife was Atoſſa, not much differing from Hadaſſa, chap. 2. 7. See Herodotus and Cteſias.

an hundred and ſeven and twenty provinces] Belike the kingdom was enlarged ſince the firſt Darius his time. See Dan.6.1.

V.2. ſate on the throne] That is, had quietneſſe and reſt.

Shuſhan] Neh.1.1.

the palace] The city and palace were both of one name. See chap.3.15. & 4.6. & 9. 14, 15. The kings of Perſia uſually kept their winter-court here, as they did their ſummer-court at Ecbatana, Ezra 6.2. Shuſhan was a city ſituated on the river Coaſpes: it hath its name in Hebrew from lilies, whereof ſtore grew there in likelihood.

V.4. When he ſhewed] Or, While he ſhewed, or, after he had ſhewed, as Deut.4.45.

V.5. a feaſt] Some think there were two feaſts; one for the princes, the other for the people. Others think there was but one for both.

that were preſent] Heb. found. Both inhabitants and ſtrangers.

V.6. blue] Or, violet.

the beds were of gold] Which they uſed in thoſe countreys, in ſtead of tables.

of red, and blue, and white, and black marble] Or, of porphyre, and marble, and alabaſter, and ſtone of blue colour.

V. 7. royall wine] Heb. wine of the kingdom. The beſt and choiſeſt wines, ſuch as the king himſelf uſed to drink.

according to the ſtate of the king] Heb. according to the hand of the king. As was beſeeming ſo magnificent a prince.

V.8. none did compell] Or, no man might reſtrain. So the word is uſed, Dan.4.9. no ſecret is reſtrained from thee. For it ſhewed the kings magnificence, to give men as much wine as they would, and not to reſtrain any.

V.9. for the women] Or, for their wives. To wit, whoſe husbands did feaſt with the king.

V.10. On the ſeventh day] Which was the laſt day of the feaſt that the king made, as v.5.

merry] Heb. good, 2 Sam.13.28.

with wine] So that this command came rather from wine, then from reaſon: yet God by this means brought in Eſther to preſerve his Church.

chamberlains] Or, eunuchs.

V.11. fair to look on] Heb. good of countenance.

V.12. by his chamberlains] Heb. which was by the hand of his eunuchs.

V.13. which knew the times] That had experience of matters of government, by reading and obſervation, 1 Chron.12.32.

ſo was the kings manner] This heathen king did always uſe the counſell of learned men in his publike affairs; and ſo he doth now in the midſt of his jollity.

V.14. the ſeven princes of Perſia] Ezra 7. 14.

which ſaw the kings face] Matth.18.10. Which were his chief counſellours, who daily had acceſſe to him.

V.15. What ſhall we do?] Or, what may we do? Heb. What to do?

V.16. but alſo to all the princes] By her diſobedience ſhe hath given an example to all women to do the like to their husbands.

V.17. For this deed of the queen] That is, her diſobedience.

ſhall] Or, will. ſhall] Or, will.

The king Ahaſuerus] She came not at the kings own command, Why ſhould we at meaner mens?

V.18. the ladies of Perſia] The ladies will firſt be corrupted by the queens example, and then the meaner women by theirs.

contempt and wrath] Contempt in wives, works wrath in husbands.

V.19. If it pleaſe the king] Heb. if it be good with the king.

from him] Heb. from before him.

let it be written among the laws] Among the authenticall records of the kingdom, that it may remain firm.

that it be not altered] Heb. that it paſſe not away.

that Vaſhti come no more before king Ahaſuerus] Let her be divorced, and another made queen.

unto another] Heb. unto her companion.

V.20. for it is great] For he had under him an hundred and ſeven and twenty provinces. See v 1.

V.21. pleaſed the king] Heb. was good in the eyes of the king.

V.22. that every man ſhould bear rule in his own houſe] That is, that the wife, and the whole family, ſhould be ſubject to her husband, and at his commandment.

and that it ſhould be publiſhed according to the language of every people] Or, and ſhould ſpeak according to the language of his own people. Heb. that one ſhould publiſh according to the language of his people. That is, that women ſhould ſpeak their husbands language, and all the family; for conformity in language, is a token of ſubjection, Dan.1.4.

CHAP. II.

Verſ. 1. HE remembred Vaſhti] He ſpake of Vaſhti, it may be, with ſome relenting, after his heat was over, though he could not reverſe the former law, ch.8.8. Dan.6.15.

and what was decreed againſt her] By advice of the ſeven wiſe men of his councell, chap.1.19,21.

V.2. Let there be fair young virgins ſought for the king] Leſt he ſhould take Vaſhti again, and puniſh his counſellours.

V.3. unto the cuſtody] Heb. unto the hand.

Hege] Or, Hegai] Verſe 8.

keeper of the women] The abuſe of theſe countreys was ſo great, that they invented many means to ſerve the luſts of princes; and therefore, as they ordained wicked laws, That the king might have whoſe daughters he would, ſo they had divers houſes appointed, as, one for them while they were virgins here, another when they were concubines, v.14.

for purification] Read what this purification was, v.12.

V.6. Who had been carried away] 2 King.24.15. 2 Chron. 36.10. Jer.24.1.

V.7. brought up] Heb. nouriſhed.

that is] Or, the ſame is.

Eſther] Her name was changed, as may well be thought, when ſhe was married unto the king.

fair and beautifull] Heb. fair of form, and good of countenance, Gen.12.11. and 24.16.

V.9. ſhe obtained kindneſſe of him] Dan.1.9.

ſuch things as belonged to her] Heb. her portions.

he preferred her] Heb. he changed her.

V.10. that ſhe ſhould not ſhew it] Becauſe the Jews were then deſpiſed, and ſo ſhe might miſſe the honor ſhe after attained to.

V.11. Mordecai walked every day] For though ſhe was taken away from him, yet he ceaſed not to have a fatherly care over her, and therefore did reſort oft times to hear of her.

to know how Eſther did] Heb. to know the peace.

V.13. whatſoever ſhe deſired was given her] What apparell, ornaments, or other things ſhe asked of the eunuch, that was he bound to give her.

V.14. into the ſecond houſe of the women] See Notes on v.3.

V.15. the keeper of the women appointed] Wherein her modeſty appeared, in that ſhe ſought not fine apparell to commend her beauty, but ſtood to the eunuchs appointment.

V.16. the moneth Tebeth] Which contained part of December, and part of January.

V.17. favour] Or, kindneſſe.

in his ſight] Heb. before him.

V.18. Eſthers feaſt] Made for her ſake, when he made her queen.

according to the ſtate] That is, great and magnificent, ch.1.7.

V.19. the ſecond time] Either to attend at Eſthers marriage-feaſt, or to chuſe ſome concubines for the king.

Morde-

Mordecai sate in the kings gate] Either he had the office of a porter, or else he sate there to hear how it fared with Esther.

V. 20. as Mordecai had charged her] Lest the king should dislike her for her peoples sake, who were meanly thought of there.

V. 21. Bigthan] Or, Bigthana, chap. 6. 2.

before the king] Either it was written while the king was there, or in the book which used to lie before the king, for him to read in.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. THe Agagite] It is likely he was an Amalekite, and of the race of Agag, 1 Sam. 15. 8. which might be one cause why Mordecai would not stoop so low to him, v. 2. See Exod. 17. 16. Num. 24. 7.

set his seat above all the princes] 2 King. 25. 28.

V. 2. but Mordecai bowed not] The Persians manner was to fall down and reverence their kings, and such as he appointed in chief authority, which Mordecai would not do to this ambitious and proud man.

V. 3. the kings servants] Such courtiers as attended at the gate.

V. 4. they told Haman] Thus we see that there is none so wicked, but they have their flatterers to accuse the godly.

V. 6. for they had shewed him the people of Mordecai] Or, but seeing they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought, &c. See here the extremity of pride and malice.

V. 7. the moneth Nisan] Which containeth part of March, and part of April.

they cast Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman] According to the Persian superstition, to know what moneth and day should be good to enterprise this thing, that it might have good successe: but God disappointed their lots and expectation.

the moneth Adar] Containing part of February, and part of March.

V. 8. their laws are diverse from all people, neither keep they the kings laws] These be the two arguments which commonly the worldlings and the wicked use toward princes, against the godly, to wit, The contempt of their laws, And diminution of their profit; without respect how God is either pleased or displeased, Dan. 3. 12. and 6. 13.

for the kings profit] Heb. meet, or equall.

V. 9. that they may be destroyed] Heb. to destroy them.

according to the writing thereof] Chap. 8. 9.

V. 13. the spoil of them] The fore-named sum, v. 9. being remitted to him, v. 11. he disposeth the spoil to the executioners, to make them more eager in the work.

V. 14. was published] Or, to be published.

V. 15. was given in Shushan] Chap. 8. 14.

the city Shushan was perplexed] To wit, the Jews that were in Shushan, who were condemned by this decree, made great lamentation, as soon as they heard of it.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 1. WHen Mordecai perceived all that was done] By the proclamation set out. See v. 8.

rent his clothes] Josh. 7. 6.

and put on sackcloth] Jon. 3. 5, 6.

and cried with a loud and a bitter cry] Gen. 27. 34.

V. 2. And came even before the kings gate] Because he would advertise Esther of this cruell proclamation.

clothed with sackcloth] In the habit of a mourner, 1 King. 21. 27, 29.

V. 3. many lay in sackcloth and ashes] Heb. sackcloth and ashes were laid under many.

V. 4. chamberlains] Heb. eunuchs, Gen. 39. 1. 1 King. 22. 9. 2 King. 9. 32.

told it her] How Mordecai grieved: for they could not tell her of the grief of the Jews in all provinces, which they knew not: therefore the verse before should be read in a parenthesis; for the matter they told the queen is in the second verse, not in the last before this.

V. 5. whom he had appointed to attend upon her] Heb. whom he had set before her.

V. 8. to charge her that she should go in unto the king] She was once under his charge, and indebted to him for a pious and charitable education, when she was an orphan, chap. 2. 7. and therefore, though now she were greater then he, he thought he might make bold to lay a charge on her for a publike service, that so much concerned Gods Church.

V. 11. of his] Or, for him.

except such to whom the king shall hold out the golden scepter] This was a signe that the king did call him to him, and free him from the danger of the law, and gave him some hope that his petition was likely to be granted.

V. 14. at this time] In this great extremity of Gods people.

enlargement] Heb. respiration.

deliverance arise to the Jews] Thus Mordecai spake in the confidence of that faith which all Gods children ought to have, which is, That God will deliver them, though all worldly means fail.

for such a time as this?] For to deliver Gods Church out of these present dangers. The occasions which God offers us by his speciall providence to do good to others, must not be neglected by us.

V. 16. present] Heb. found.

fast ye for me] Praying that God would encline the kings heart to grant my petition, and save my life.

and if I perish, I perish] I will put my life in danger, and refer the successe to God, seeing it is for his glory, and the deliverance of his Church.

V. 17. went his way] Heb. passed.

CHAP. V.

Vers. 1. ON the third day] To wit, after that the Jews had begun to fast.

V. 2. the king held out to Esther the golden scepter] Which was a signe that her coming was well pleasing unto him, as ch. 4. 11.

touched the top of the scepter] For the scepter being stretched out to her, the top was next her. This she toucheth, in acknowledgement of the kings favour, and of submitting her self and her petition to him.

to the half of the kingdom] Meaning hereby, that whatsoever she asked, should be granted, as Mark 6. 23.

V. 4. let the king and Haman come this day] She invites Haman also, that she might accuse him to his face, and he might not by false suggestions disswade the king privily from believing her complaint.

V. 6. at the banquet of wine] Because they used to drink excessively in their banquets, they called the banquet by the name of that which was most in use, and most highly esteemed: or, in which wine was most plentifull; for it was not the ordinary drink.

V. 8. to perform] Heb. to do.

I will do to morrow as the king hath said] I will then declare what thing I demand. She expected a more fit opportunity.

V. 9. joyfull] Thus wicked men triumph, when death is neerer them then they are aware of.

glad] Heb. good, chap. 1. 10. and 9. 19.

V. 10. called] Heb. caused to come.

V. 11. of the glory of his riches] He rips up his greatnesse, to exaggerate Mordecai's offence, and his own discontent.

wherein the king had promoted him] The wicked, when they are promoted, in stead of acknowledging their charge, and humbling themselves, wax ambitious, disdainfull and cruell.

V. 13. Yet all this availeth me nothing] No honour can satisfie malicious men, without revenge. Haman cannot stay for Mordecai's death till the time appointed to kill all the Jews, though it drew neer.

so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the kings gate] And not rising up to me, as others do.

V. 14. gallows] Heb. tree.

then go thou in merrily] Then thou mayest be merry, when thy adversary is hanged.

CHAP. VI.

Vers. 1. COuld not the king sleep] Heb. the kings sleep fled away. See Gods wonderfull work for the preservation of Mordecai, who had been hanged before Esther had known of it, if God had not taken away sleep from the king, directed him to read the chronicles, and moved him to prefer Mordecai.

V. 2. Bigthana] Or, Bigthan, chap. 2. 21.

door] Heb. threshold, 2 King. 22. 4. and 23. 4.

What honour and dignity hath been done, &c.] For he thought it unworthy his estate, to receive a benefit, and not reward it.

V. 4. on the gallows that he had prepared for him] Thus while the wicked imagine the destruction of others, they themselves fall into the same pit.

V. 6. whom the king delighteth to honour] Heb. in whose honour the king delighteth.

Haman thought in his heart] Because of the kings former favour to him, he made account this honor had been intended to himself, and therefore requires abundance: but he little thought it was meant to Mordecai his enemy, whose life he came to beg, else he would have asked little enough.

V.7. whom the king delighteth to honour] Heb. in whose honour the king delighteth.

V.8. Let the royall apparell be brought] Heb. Let them bring the royall apparell. Note Hamans pride; nothing would serve him, but the kings own royalties.

which the king useth to wear] Heb. wherewith the king clotheth himself.

V.9. let this apparell and horse be delivered] It seems the crown was counted part of the royall apparell, or else it was not put on his head, but carryed before him.

bring him] Heb. cause him to ride.

V.10. Then the king said to Haman] So God sometimes honours his by their enemies.

let nothing fail] Heb. suffer not a whit to fail.

V.12. and having his head covered] For grief or shame, 2 Sam. 15.30. Jer.14.4.

V.13. If Mordecai be] Or, Seeing Mordecai is.

shalt surely fall] Thus God sometime putteth in the mouth of the very wicked to speak that thing which he hath decreed shall come to passe.

surely fall before him] Or, fall quite down before him: For he being a Jew, will revenge the wrong done to him and his countrey-men: and favourites of princes plot the downfall of former favourites, lest they hinder their rising.

CHAP. VII.

Vers. 1. To banquet] Heb. to drink, Gen.43.34.

V.3. let my life be given me] Because she was involved in the same danger, as being of the same nation, chap.4.13. and therefore calls them her people.

V.4. to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish] Heb. that they should destroy, and kill, and cause to perish.

the enemy could not countervail the kings damage] Meaning, that Haman could not profit the king so much with his ten thousand talents of silver, chap.3.9. as he would hinder him by the losse of the Jews tribute and strength accruing to his royal state from them. Thus she urgeth the king with the danger of her own person, and the equity of the king. She had concealed her kinred and people to good time, when, by Gods providence, she might do them good, and her self no harm.

V.5. that durst presume in his heart] Heb. whose heart hath filled him, Act.5.3.

V.6. The adversary] Heb. the man adversary.

V.7. to Esther] Heb. of, or from Esther.

he saw that there was evil determined] He saw by the kings angry face, that he intended to put him to death.

V.8. Haman was fallen upon the bed] He fell down on the bed, on which they had feasted, and made request for his life.

before me] Heb. with me.

they covered Hamans face] It was the manner of the Persians, when one was out of the kings favour, to cover his face, as counting him unworthy ever to see the kings face any more: or, as a condemned person, Job 9.24.

V.9. gallows] Heb. tree.

who had spoken good for the king] Which discovered the conspiracy against the king, chap.2.22,23.

V.10. on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai] Thus the mischief devised by him for another, fell upon his head, chap.9.25. Psal.7.15,16. and 9.15,16.

CHAP. VIII.

Vers. 1. Mordecai came before the king] That is, was received into the kings favour and presence, and was made one of those princes spoken of, chap.1.14.

Esther had told what he was unto her] That he was her uncle, and had brought her up, chap.2.5,7.

V.2. which he had taken from Haman] It seems, chap.3.10,12. that Haman was keeper of the kings seal, which office now is bestowed on Mordecai: or, which he had formerly delivered to Haman for expediting the busines against the Jews, chap.3.10.

V.3. and besought him with tears] Heb. and she wept and besought him.

to put away the mischief] By abolishing the wicked decrees which he had made for the destruction of the Jews.

V.4. Then the king held out] Or, For when the king had held out.

So Esther] Or, Then Esther.

V.5. the letters devised] Heb. the device.

which he wrote] Or, who wrote.

V.6. endure to see] Heb. be able that I may see.

unto my people] Chap.7.4.

V.7. because he laid his hand upon the Jews] He intended so to do, and had gotten a decree to kill them, chap.2.21.

V.8. for the writing which is written in the kings name] Others read it, but the writing, &c. That is, I cannot reverse a law sealed with the kings seal (Dan. 6.15.) but I give you power to make another decree in favour of them, that they stand on their guard, and slay their enemies. This seems to be right, because in the new decree, v.11. no man is commanded to assist them, nor forbidden to set upon them; both which, doubtlesse, Mordecai would have inserted, if he had durst: and the assistance the rulers gave the Jews was not by the kings decree, but for fear of Mordecai. See chap.9.3.

may no man reverse] See chap.1.19. The king did as good as revoke the decree for Esthers sake. This shews his great love to her, and Gods speciall providence over his people.

V.9. the moneth Sivan] Which containeth part of May, and part of June.

according to the writing thereof] That is, in such letters and language as was usuall in every province, chap.3.12.

V.10. in the king Ahasuerus name] 1 King.21.8.

V.11. to stand for their life] That is, to defend themselves against all that would assail them.

V.12. upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth] The same day they should have been destroyed, chap.3.13.

moneth Adar] Which containeth part of February, and part of March.

V.13. published] Heb. revealed.

to avenge themselves on their enemies] The king gave them liberty to kill all that did assault them, as v.11.

V.14. the decree was given at Shushan the palace] Proclaimed, and set up for all men to read. See chap.9.14.

V.15. blue] Or, violet.

and was glad] Contrary to their sorrow, chap.3.15.

V.16. and joy] He sheweth by these words that follow, what this light was, to wit, joy, from this new decree, which cheared their hearts, as the light of the sun did their eyes, Psal.18.28. and 97.11. This is to be understood of the Jews in Shushan, chap.3.25. Others are spoken of, v.17.

V.17. became Jews] They conformed themselves to the Jews religion, if not for love, yet for fear.

for the fear of the Jews] Chap.9.3. Because they were afraid lest the Jews should kill them.

CHAP. IX.

Vers.1. Though it was turned to the contrary] This was Gods great providence, who turneth the joy of the wicked into sorrow; and the tears of the godly, into gladnesse, Psal.30.5,11. and 126.5.

V.3. officers of the king] Heb. those which did the businesse that belonged to the king.

helped the Jews] Did them honour, and shewed them friendship, and stood for them.

the fear of Mordecai fell upon them] Chap.8.17.

V.5. the Jews smote all their enemies] Which had conspired their death, by the perswasion of wicked Haman.

what they would] Heb. according to their will.

V.6. in Shushan the palace] Where the palace was: for so many could not be slain in the kings house.

destroyed five hundred men] Besides those three hundred that they slew the second day, v.15. and Hamans sons, as vers.12. whom they slew, not as enemies barely, but as devoted to destruction by God, Exod.17.24. Deut.25.17.

V.10. but on the spoil laid they not their hand] Shewing their moderation, in not taking so much as the kings decree allowed; and that it might appear they sought nothing, but to save their lives.

V.11. was brought] Heb. came.

V.13. to do to morrow also] For some enemies were left the day before, which might hurt the Jews hereafter.

let Hamans ten sons be hanged] Heb. let men hang Hamans ten sons; As they did their father; to terrifie other oppressors.

V.19. made the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar] This yeer onely; for it was otherwise ordered afterwards, v.21.

of sending portions] Of the cattell they killed. See 1 Sam. 1.4,5. Neh.8.12.

V.20. And Mordecai wrote these things] Or, But Mordecai, &c. For he writ to them how the Jews in Shushan had slain their foes on the fourteenth day also, and so appointed the fourteenth day to be kept, because the countrey-Jews had rest then; and the fifteenth, because they of Shushan had not rest till then: so they must joy in one anothers peace.

V.21. that

JOB is thought by some, to be set up as a Type, among the Gentiles, of CHRIST at his crucifying; who was to be left by his Apostles, forsaken of GOD —— It is resolved into an extraordinary dealing, wherein God took a liberty to glorify himself, by singling out one of his stoutest, valiant est Champions; and setting him hand to hand, to wrastle with the powers of Darkness. And because Satan was, (as it were) not hard enough for him, he turned Enemy Himself, Job, 13-24.

ANNOTATIONS
On the Book of JOB.

The ARGUMENT.

IN this Book Job is set forth as an example, first of patience, then of humane frailty. Some think him to be one of Abrahams posteritie by Keturah. But his dwelling speaks him rather one of Esau's generation, Lam. 4. 21. His great losses are set out, Chap. 1. His crosses in his body and wife, Chap. 2. His first impatient fit, Chap. 3. His discourse with his three friends, Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar, Chap. 4. and so forth, to the end of Chap. 31. Elihu's speech is continued to the conclusion of Chap. 37. Gods conviction of Job, and his submission from thence, to Chap. 42. 7. The conclusion contains the reconciliation of Jobs three friends to God and him, and Jobs renewed, and augmented prosperity. Jobs friends labour to prove him an Hypocrite, because of his great sufferings. He defends his integrity against them, yet so, that sometimes he taxeth God for dealing too hardly with him. Elihu shews both him and them their errours. God seconds, and confirms his speech, and brings all to an happy conclusion.

CHAP. I.

Vers. 1.

N the land of Uz] That is, of the countrey of Idumæa, as Lam. 4. 21. or bordering thereupon, for the land was called by the name of Uz, the son of Dishan, the son of Seir, Gen. 36. 28. Jerem. 25. 20.

of the east] In respect of Canaan, as Judg. 6. 3. 1 King. 4. 30. Such were the Arabians, Chaldeans, Idumeans, &c.

V. 4. his sons went and feasted] At certain times of the yeer they met in banquets of love, and brotherly conversation.

V. 5. Job sent and sanctified them] He bid them prepare themselves by outward purifications, as fasting, abstinence, washing, Exod. 19. 10. and above all, by internall and spirituall means, as prayer, mortification, good meditations, Gen. 35. 2. repentance of their errours in their feasts, reconcilement to one another; that without uncleanesse they might be partakers of the action, and benefit of their fathers sacrifice offered for them.

offered burnt-offerings according to the number of them all] He offered for every one of his children an offering of reconciliation, which declared his religion toward God, and care of his children. See Levit. 1. 10.

Job said] He thought in his heart.

cursed God] In Hebrew it is, blessed God, which is here taken for cursing, as 1 King. 21. 10, 13. For in detestation of cursing, it is covered under the name of the contrary. He feared his sons had some irreverent thoughts concerning God in the heat and liberty of their feasting.

continually] Heb. all the dayes. To wit, when the dayes of feasting at one of their houses were done, as in the beginning of the verse appeareth.

V. 6. the sons of God] The angels, Job 38. 7. Luke 20. 36.

They

They are Gods children by creation according to Gods image, as Adam was, Luke 3. 38.

before the Lord] Because our infirmity cannot comprehend God in his Majestie, he is set forth unto us as a king, that our capacity may be able to understand that which is spoken of him. And his angels are likened to great officers, that at certain times appear before kings, to give an account of their imployment, 1 King. 22. 19.

and Satan] Heb. the adversary. As he is an adversary, which his name here signifies; so also he is the accuser of the brethren, Revel. 12. 10. He presents himself impudently, not called, that he may get a commission to hurt Gods people, 1 Kings 22. 21.

among them] Heb. in the midst of them.

V. 7. Whence comest thou?] This question is asked for our infirmity: for God knew whence he came.

From going to and fro in the earth] 1 Pet. 5. 8. Herein is described the nature of Satan, who is ever ranging for his prey, as one unquiet, seeking alwayes to do mischief, Matth. 12. 43.

from walking up and down in it] He sets a good face on it, as if the earth were the place of his delight, and full liberty, which is the place of his banishment and restraint, till he receive his lasting damnation, Luke 10. 18. Revel. 12. 12. Joh. 14. 30.

V. 8. Hast thou considered] Heb. Hast thou set thy heart on?

V. 9. Doth Job fear God for nought?] He feareth thee not for thine own sake, but for the commodity he receiveth by thee, as appeareth, vers. 10. or like a mercenary, Job 14. 6.

V. 10. Hast not thou made an hedge about him] By thy providence thou keepest him safe, and all he hath, Isai. 5. 2.

his substance is increased] Or, cattel. See the notes on vers. 3.

V. 11. touch all that he hath] To take away, or, destroy that he hath, as chap. 19. 21. So that Satan is not able to touch us, without Gods leave.

all] Or, ought.

and he will curse thee to thy face] Heb. if he curse thee not to thy face.

and he will] In Hebrew it is, if he do not curse thee, &c. there is understood; Then say, I am a lyar, or, Let me perish. So the Jews in earnest speeches leave out the imprecation, to be added by others, as 1 King. 20. 23, 25.

curse thee] See notes on vers. 5.

to thy face] Satan noteth the vice whereunto men are commonly subject, that is, to hide their rebellion, and to be content with God in time of prosperitie, which vice is disclosed in time of adversity; for then they curse God openly without fear, Isai. 8. 21.

V. 12. all that he hath is in thy power] God giveth not Satan power over man to gratifie him, but to declare, that he hath no power over man, but that which God giveth him, Matth. 8. 31.

power] Heb. hand.

from the presence of the Lord] That is, went to execute that which God commanded him: for he can never go simply out of Gods presence.

V. 15. the Sabeans fell upon them] A people of Arabia alwayes given to theevery.

V. 16. The fire of God] Or, A great fire. A great lightning: for great things are called, things of God, Gen. 30. 8. Psal. 36. 6.

is fallen from heaven] This thing was done by the craft of Satan, to tempt Job the more grievously, that he might think God his enemy, as well as men, Rom. 1. 18.

V. 17. fell] Heb. rushed.

V. 18. Thy sons and thy daughters] The last plague declareth, that when one plague is past, which seemeth hard to be born; God can send us another far more grievous, to try his, and teach them obedience.

V. 19. from] Heb from aside, or, from beyond.

V. 20. rent his mantle] Or, robe. Which came not of impatience, but declareth that the children of God are not insensible like blocks, but that in their patience they feel affliction, and grief of minde: yet they keep a mean herein, and rebell not against God, as the wicked do. Renting clothes is a sign of great sorrow, Gen. 37. 29, 34.

shaved his head] In great sorrows men used to shave their heads, Isaiah 15. 2. and 22. 12. Jerem. 7. 29. Micah 1. 16.

worshipped] He threw himself all along before God, to give him glory with reverence and humility in his incomprehensible judgements.

V. 21. Naked came I out of my mothers womb] Eccles. 5. 15. 1 Tim. 6. 7. He comforts himself from the course of nature, and Gods providence.

naked shall I return thither] That is, into the belly of the earth, which is the mother of all: or, which he lay on, vers. 20. and might point to with his finger.

the Lord gave] The cattell and children which I had, Gen. 35. 5. 11. Josh. 24. 3, 4.

blessed be the name of the Lord] Hereby he confesseth that God is just and good, although his hand be sore upon him, Psal. 73. 1. Isai. 39. 8.

V. 22. nor charged God foolishly] Or, attributed folly to God. In the Hebrew it is, Nor attributed unsavourinesse to God. For as unsavoury meats offend the stomack, so do unjust accusations of God offend him. Job not onely murmured not, but also declared that God did all things according to justice and equity. By this it appears how he sinned not: to wit, as Satan had charged him, vers. 11.

CHAP. II.

Vers. 1. Sons of God] See the notes on chap. 1. 6.

Satan came also among them] Look chap. 1. 6.

V. 2. And Satan answered the Lord] Chap. 1. 7.

V. 3. a perfect and an upright man] Chap. 1. 1, 8.

although thou movedst me against him] He proveth Jobs integrity by this, that he ceased not to fear God, when his plagues were grievously upon him.

to destroy him] In Hebrew it is, to swallow him up. A metaphor from wilde beasts.

without cause] Not, but that Job was a sinner, but not a wilfull sinner, that he should be cut off.

V. 4. Skin for skin] A proverbiall speech. Hereby he meant, that a mans own skin is dearer unto him, then an other mans: and therefore Job could be content, his children should die, so he might escape: or, be content to expose any other part of his body, to save the vitall parts.

V. 5. touch his bone and his flesh] Meaning his own person, Eph. 5. 30.

and he will curse thee] See notes on chap. 1. 11.

V. 6. he is in thine hand] That is, in thy power. See cha. 1. 12.

but] Or, onely.

save his life] Thus Satan can go no further in punishing, then God hath limited him.

V. 7. with sore boyls] This sore was most vehement, wherewith also God plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9. 9. and threatneth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28 27. So that this tentation was most grievous: for if Job had measured Gods favour by the vehemency of his disease, he might have thought that God had cast him off.

from the sole of his foot unto his crown] Isai. 1. 6.

V. 8. he took him a potsherd] As destitute of all other help and means, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorrow of his disease, so that he could not scrape with his hands, they were so sore.

he sat down among the ashes] In Hebrew it is, in the midst of the ashes. To wit, in sign of humilitie, and mortification, as chap. 42. 6. And also of grievous sorrow, Esth. 4. 1, 3.

V. 9. his wife] Satan useth the same instrument against Job, as he did against Adam.

Dost thou still retain thine integrity] Meaning, what gaineth thou by serving God, seeing he thus plagueth thee, as though he were thine enemy? This is the most grievous tentation of the faithfull. when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perswade them, that they trust in God in vain, chap. 21. 15. Mal. 3. 14. Or, Dost thou continue still in maintaining thine integrity, when God hath discovered thine hypocrisie? See chap. 6. 9. Psal. 69. 10.

curse God, and die] See notes on chap. 1. 5, 11. Heb. blesse. That is, give glory to God by confessing thy fault before thou diest: or, that thou mayest be eased by death, Josh. 7. 19.

V. 10. shall we receive good] That is, be patient in adversity, as we rejoyce when he sendeth prosperity, and so to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and just.

with his lips] He so bridled his affections, that his tongue through impatience did not murmure against God, Psal. 39. 1. Jam. 3. 2.

V. 11. when Jobs three friends heard] Which were men of authority, and came to comfort him; but when they saw how he was visited, they conceived an evill opinion of him, as though he had been but an hypocrite, and so justly plagued of God for his sins.

the Temanite] Of Teman the Edomite, Gen. 36. 11.

the Shuhite] Of Shuah Abrahams son by Keturah, Gen. 25. 2.

V. 12. and knew him not] Because he was so much altered, as if he were not the same man.

they lifted up their voice] Ruth 1. 14.

and sprinkled dust upon their heads] This was a ceremony, which they used in those Countreys in sign of sorrow. See Josh. 7. 6. Nehe. 9. 1.

toward heaven] Casting it toward heaven, it fell on their heads.

V. 13. none spake a word unto him] Out of astonishment or commiseration.

Job, 2. 9. In ipso vulnere corporis aut dixit uxor relicta, sicut Eva, adjutrix diaboli; non consolatrix mariti — Dic aliquod verbum in Deum, et morere. Et ille Adam in stercore cautior, quam Adam in Paradiso. Nam Adam in Paradiso consensit mulieri, ut de paradiso emitteretur: Adam in stercore respuit mulierem, ut ad Paradisum admitteretur. August. Psl. 29. Col. 151.

for they saw that his grief was very great] And therefore they thought that he would not have hearkned to their counsell, Exod. 6. 9.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. After this] The seven dayes ended, chap. 2.13. cursed] Here Job beginneth to feel his great imperfection in the battell between the spirit and the flesh, Rom. 7. 18. and after a manner yeeldeth, yet in the end getteth victory, though he was in the mean time greatly wounded.

his day] The day of his birth, as vers. 3.

V. 2. spake] In Hebrew it is, answered. Yet sometimes it signifieth to begin a speech, as Matth. 22. 1.

V. 3. Let the day perish wherein I was born] Chap. 10. 18, 19. Jere. 20. 14.

Let the day perish] Or, would the day had perished. Let it not be reckoned among other dayes, nor kept as a birth-day yeerly, but be accounted infamous.

perish] Or, be lost.

wherein I was born] Or, I was born. Good men through anguish, may wish they had never been born, Eccles. 4. 3.

V. 4. let not God regard it from above] To make it lightsom or happy. Let it be put out of the number of dayes, and let it not have the light of the sun to separate it from the night.

V. 5. the shadow of death] That is, most obscure darkness, which maketh them afraid of death, that are in it, Psal. 23. 4.

stain it] Or, challenge it.

let the blackness of the day terrifie it] Or, let them terrifie it as those who have a bitter day.

V. 6. let it not be joyned unto the dayes] Or, let it not rejoyce among the dayes, as Exod. 18. 9.

V. 7. let that night be solitary] Without banquets, or songs.

V. 8. Let them curse it that curse the day] Mourners at funeralls, that use tragicall voices to curse dayes, 2 Chron. 25. 35. Jere. 9. 17. Am. 5. 16.

their mourning] Or, a leviathan.

V. 9. neither let it see the dawning of the day] Let it be alwayes night, and never see day.

the dawning of the day] Heb. the eye-lids of the morning.

V. 11. Why died I not from the womb?] This, and that which followeth, declareth, That when man giveth place to his passions, he is not able to stay, nor keep measure. See chap. 10. 18.

V. 12. Why did the knees prevent me?] Of the mid-wife, or nurse, Gen. 30. 3.

V. 13. For now should I have lien still] The vehemency of his afflictions made him to utter these words, presuming death to be the end of all bodily miseries.

V. 14. which built] Which built great cities, the chief of great empires, after the floud, Gen. 10. 10, 11. and 11. 3. Job 15. 28. Isai. 23. 13.

desolate places] Places that had been formerly ruined, Isai. 58. 12.

V. 17. There the wicked cease from troubling] That is, by death the cruelty of the tyrants hath ceased, Eccles. 4. 1, &c.

weary] Heb. wearied in strength.

V. 18. the prisoners rest] All they that sustain any kinde of calamity, and misery in this world.

they hear not the voice of the oppressour] That exacts labour of slaves in prison, Job 39. 7. Judg. 16. 21.

V. 20. and life unto the bitter in soul?] He sheweth that the benefits of God are not comfortable, except the heart be joyfull, Eccles. 2. 24.

V. 21. long] Heb. wait. Revel. 9. 6.

V. 23. to a man whose way is hid] That seeth not how to come out of his miseries, because he dependeth not on Gods providence.

and whom God hath hedged in?] Chap. 19. 8. Lam. 3. 7. Hos. 2. 6.

V. 24. before I eat] Heb. before my meat. I cannot eat nor rest at any time for grieving, chap. 7. 19.

V. 25. the thing which I greatly feared is come upon me] Heb. I feared a fear, and it came upon me. In my prosperity I looked ever for a fall, as is come now to passe.

V. 26. yet trouble came] The fear of troubles, that should ensue, caused my prosperity to seem to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 2. To commune] Heb. a word.

who can withhold himself from speaking?] Heb. who can refrain from words? Seeing this thine impatience.

V. 3. thou hast strengthened the weak hands] Isai. 35. 3. Heb. 12. 12. Thou hast comforted others by holy exhortations, and strengthned them in faith, constancy, and patience in their afflictions, and canst not now comfort thy self.

V. 4. upholden] Or, lifted up.

the feeble knees] Heb. the bowing knees.

V. 6. Is not this thy fear] This he concludeth that Job was but an hypocrite, and had no true fear, nor trust in God, chap. 2. 9. Or, is not thy hope, as thy fear of God, or religion, both pain?

thy] Or, as thy.

V. 7. who ever perished, being innocent?] He concludeth that Job was a wicked man, seeing that God handled him so extremely; which is the argument that the carnall men make against the children of God.

V. 8. they that plow iniquity] Prov. 22. 8. Hos. 10. 13. Psal. 7. 14, 15. Gal. 6. 7. They that do evill, cannot but receive evill.

V. 9. By the blast of God they perish] He sheweth that God needeth no great preparation to destroy his enemies; for he can do it with the blast of his mouth, Isai. 59. 19.

by the breath of his nostrils] That is, by his anger, as Isai. 30. 33. and 11. 4. Job 15. 30.

V. 10. The roaring of the lion] Though men according to their office do not punish Tyrants (whom for their cruelty, he compareth to lions, and their children to their whelps) yet God both is able, and in his justice will punish them. He will represse the anger of wicked and violent men, and take from them means of hurting, Psal. 58. 6.

the teeth of the young lions are broken] Psal. 58. 6.

V. 11. lion perisheth for lack of prey] Psal. 34. 10.

V. 12. secretly] Heb. by stealth.

secretly brought to me] A thing I knew not before, was declared unto me by vision; whether now upon occasion of Jobs afflictions, or before, it is uncertain. See Psal. 62. 11. The thing revealed was, That whosoever thinketh himself just, shall be found a sinner, when he cometh before God.

V. 14. came upon me] Heb. met me.

which made all my bones to shake] In these visions which God sheweth to men, there is ever a certain fear joyned, that the authoritie thereof might be had in greater reverence, Hab. 3. 16.

all my bones] Heb. the multitude of my bones.

V. 16. there was silence] Or, I heard a still voice. When all things were quiet, or when the fear was somewhat asswaged, as God appeared to Elijah, 1 King. 19. 12.

V. 17. Shall mortall man be more just then God?] His argument is, That if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more just, then the creatour, which were blasphemy.

V. 18. put no trust in his servants] Chap. 15. 15. 2 Peter 2. 4.

and his angels he charged with folly] Or, nor in his angels in whom he put light. If God finde imperfection in his angels, some of whom fell; how much more shall he lay folly to mans charge, when he would justifie himself against God.

V. 19. that dwell in houses of clay] That is, in this mortall body subject to corruption.

houses of clay] 2 Cor. 5. 1. Gen. 2. 7.

which are crushed before the moth?] Sooner, and with lesse labour, then a moth is crushed, which is killed onely with a touch, and a very light one also: or, insensibly, as a garment is consumed with a moth, Psal. 39. 11. Isai. 50. 9. and 51. 8. Hos. 5. 12.

V. 20. destroyed] Heb. beaten in pieces.

from morning to evening] That is, suddenly. See Isai. 38. 12. Psal. 90. 5, 6.

without any regarding it] No man looking after to see what is become of them.

V. 21. excellency which is in them] Psal. 39. 11. and 49. 14.

they die, even without wisdom] That is, they shall not carry so much as their wisdom with them, Job 36. 12.

CHAP. V.

Vers. 1. To which of the saints wilt thou turn?] He willeth Job to consider the example of all them that live godly, whether any of them have been plagued like him.

turn] Or, look.

V. 2. For wrath killeth the foolish man] For Gods wrath and indignation kills wicked men, who are called fools, vers. 3. Psal. 14. 1. and 92. 6. Prov. 1. 7. but he spares good men.

envy] Or, indignation.

V. 3. I have seen the foolish] That is, a wicked man, as vers. 2.

the foolish] Or, a foolish man.

taking root] Confirmed in an happy estate. A metaphor from plants.

I cursed his habitation] I was not moved with his prosperity, but pronounced him a man cursed of God, and accordingly he quickly perished, Psal. 37. 35, 36.

V. 4. His

V. 4. His children are far from safety] Rather, were, for he speaketh of a particular example, which he himself had observed, as appears vers. 2. David makes the like generall conclusion, Psal. 119. 155.

are] Or, were.

they are crushed in the gate] They were condemned by publike judgement, which was in the gate of the city, Ruth 4. 1. or, they were publikely punished, for all men see what is done in the gate; Gen. 34. 20. Psal. 127. 5.

are] Or, were.

is] Or, was.

V. 5. eateth] Or, did eat.

taketh it even out of the thorns] Though the field were hedged about with thorns, yet they took away the crop: for hunger will break thorow stone walls: or, they gather it out of the thorns, Gen. 3. 18. and 4. 12. which the field was overgrown with.

taketh] Or, took.

the robber] The word signifies, thirsty, for robbers thirst after other mens wealth, Job 18. 9.

swalloweth] Or, swallowed.

swalloweth up their substance] By changing the number, he shews that he knew many such fools.

V. 6. Although] Or, For.

affliction] Or, iniquitie.

affliction cometh not forth of the dust] The earth is not the cause of barrenness, and mans misery, but his own sin: or, it comes not by casualty.

V. 7. Yet] Or, But.

man is born unto trouble] Because he is born in sin, Psal. 51. 5. and it brings troubles.

trouble] Or, labour.

as the sparks flie upward] In Hebrew it is, and the sparks: That is, mans troubles and the sparks flying upward, are both alike, naturall. So Prov. 25. 25.

the sparks flie upward] Heb. the sons of the burning coal lift up to flie.

V. 8. I would] If I were in thy case.

seek unto God] By prayers, as 2 Chron. 16. 12. Psal. 9. 10. and 34. 4. and 77. 2. Isai. 9. 13. Zeph. 1. 6.

commit my cause] Or, turn my speech.

V. 9. Which doeth great things, and unsearchable] Chap. 9. 10. Psal. 72. 18. Rom. 11. 33.

Which doth great things] He counselleth Job to humble himself before God, who can exalt the humble, and pull down the proud.

and unsearchable] Heb. and there is no search.

without number] Heb. till there be no number.

V. 10. Who giveth] He sheweth by particular examples what the works of God are.

rain upon the earth] Chap. 38. 28. Jere. 5. 24.

fields] Heb. out-places.

V. 11. To set up on high those that be low] 1 Sam. 2. 7. Psal. 113. 7.

those that be low] By famine and penury.

those which mourn] For want of food in time of drought.

V. 12. He disappointeth the devices of the crafty] Nehe. 4. 15. Psal. 33. 10. Isai. 8. 10.

cannot perform their enterprise] Or, cannot perform any thing.

V. 13. He taketh the wise in their own craftinesse] 1 Cor. 3. 19.

V. 14. They meet with darkness in the day time] Deut. 28. 29. Isai. 59. 10. Amos 8. 9. In things plain they shew themselves blinde and foolish in stead of wise-men.

meet with] Or, run into.

and grope in the noon-day] So God punisheth the worldly wise, as he threatneth, Deut. 28. 29. Isai. 59. 10.

V. 15. the poor] That is, he that humbleth himself before God, Matth. 5. 3.

from their mouth] Of the crafty ones, mentioned, vers. 12.

and from the hand of the mighty] That is, from their evill deeds.

V. 16. So the poor hath hope] Psal. 107. 42.

iniquity stoppeth her mouth] Wicked men shall be so terrified with Gods judgements, that they shall not have a word to say against the poor, whom they sought crastily to destroy.

V. 17. Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth] Prov. 3. 12. Heb. 12. 5. Jam. 1. 12. Revel. 3. 19.

Behold, happy is the man] In Hebrew it is, Behold, the blessednesses. To wit, these that follow, vers. 18, &c.

V. 18. For he maketh sore, and bindeth up] Deuter. 32. 39. 1 Sam. 2. 6. Isai. 30. 26. Hos. 6. 1.

V. 19. He shall deliver thee in six troubles] Psal. 91. 3. Prov. 24. 16.

in six troubles] Many troubles may come on good men; but none shall hurt them, Psal. 34. 19.

V. 20. from the power] Heb. from the hands.

V. 21. from the scourge of the tongue] Or, when the tongue scourgeth. Psal. 12. 4, 5. and 31. 20. When other men shall be slandered and reproached, thou shalt be free.

V. 22. At destruction and famine thou shalt laugh] Psal. 33. 19. and 37. 19. Whereas the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt have occasion to rejoyce.

V. 23. For thou shalt be in league with the stones] Hos. 2. 18. Psal. 91. 12. Isai. 11. 9. and 35. 9. Ezek. 34. 35. When we are in Gods favour, all creatures shall serve us, as it were by covenant: Stones shall not hurt our feet, nor beasts devour us, Prov. 16. 7.

be at peace] Heb. be made peaceable. To wit, by God.

V. 24. that thy tabernacle shall be in peace] Or, that peace is thy tabernacle.

thou shalt visit thy habitation] Thou shalt go back to thy house, and be driven out of it no more.

sin] Or, erre, Judg. 20. 16. Or, stray.

V. 25. that thy seed shall be great] Thou shalt have as many children as before. Which was made good in Job, Chap. 42. 13.

great] Or, much.

V. 26. in a full age] Though the children of God have not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doth recompense them otherwise to their advantage, Isai. 65. 20.

cometh] Heb. ascendeth.

V. 27. we have searched it] We have learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in justice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man sustaineth, cometh for his own sin.

for thy good] Heb for thy self.

CHAP. VI.

Vers. 2. Laid] Heb. lifted up.

in the balances together] Oh, that my grief were laid in one balance, and my calamities in the other, to see whether my grief were immoderate, or no: or, oh that my miseries were weighed with some very heavy thing, as the sand of the sea, vers. 3. to shew how great they are.

V. 3. sea] Heb. seas.

my words are swallowed up] That is, I want words to expresse my grief.

V. 4. For the arrows of the Almighty are within me] Psa. 38. 2. He compareth his pain to a wound made by a poysoned arrow, shot deep into him by the hand of Almighty God.

the terrours of God do set themselves in array against me] Psal. 88. 15.

V. 5. Doth the wilde asse bray when he hath grasse?] Think you that I cry without cause, seeing the brute beasts do not complain, when they have what they would?

when he hath grasse?] Heb. at grasse.

V. 6. Can that which is unsavoury be eaten without salt?] Can a mans taste delight in that which hath no savour? Meaning, that none can take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot away with things that are unsavoury to the mouth, Heb. 12. 11.

V. 7. meat] Psal. 102. 9.

V. 8. the thing that I long for!] Heb. my expectation.

V. 9. to destroy me] In vain dost thou, O Eliphaz, exhort me to hope for restitution, chap. 5. 24. for my estate is altogether deplorable, and I look for, and desire nothing more then death, chap. 2. 9. Thus good men may be weary of their lives, Gen. 27. 46. 1 King. 19. 4. Jon. 4. 3.

V. 10. Then should I yet have comfort] Or, For it should yet be my comfort (and I would strengthen me in my grief, if he would not spare me) that I have not concealed the words of the holy One.

let him not spare] But kill me.

I have not concealed the words of the holy One] I have religiously professed the truth to Gods glory, Psal. 40. 10.

V. 11. what is mine end] The space of life which remains for me, according to the course of nature, is so short, that there is no reason to hope for restitution to my former prosperity, Chap. 16. 22. Psal. 89. 47. and 119. 84.

V. 12. the strength of stones] That I should be able to bear misery any longer.

of brasse] Heb. brasen.

V. 13. Is not my help in me?] Or, If there be no help in me, is wisdom, &c.

is wisdom driven quite from me?] Do ye count me a fool, because I cannot rid my self out of these great troubles? Ye should rather pity me, as vers. 14.

V. 14. To him that is afflicted] Heb. to him that melteth.

but he forsaketh the fear of the Almighty] Or, but the fear of the Almighty is forsaken. In condemning their brethren uncharitably.

V. 15. My brethren have dealt deceitfully] Eliphaz and his companions that come like brethren to comfort me. See v. 21.

and others of his family and kinred, Chap. 19. 13, &c. Pſal. 38. 11. and 88. 18.

as a brook] He compareth thoſe friends, which comfort us not in miſery, to a brook, which in ſummer, when we need water, is dry: in winter, is hard frozen, and in the time of rain, when we have no need, overfloweth with water.

V. 17. they vaniſh] Heb. they are cut off.

when it is not] Heb. in the heat thereof.

conſumed] Heb. extinguiſhed.

V. 19. of Tema] Tema and Sheba were places in Arabia, where they travelled with Caravans, and great companies, and had great want of water: ſo called of one of Iſhmaels poſterity, Gen. 25. 15.

looked] They think to finde water there, but they are deceived, Jere. 14. 3.

V. 20. were aſhamed] Or, digged: To wit, to finde water elſewhere.

V. 21. For now ye are nothing] Or, for now ye are like to them. Heb. to it.

ye are nothing] Friends of no value, Job 13. 4.

nothing] Heb. not.

ye ſee my caſting down] Ye think God hath caſt me down for ſome great wickedneſſe.

V. 22. Did I ſay] Or, was it becauſe I ſaid.

Bring unto me?] How would you have helped me with your money, that deny me good words?

give a reward for me] To redeem me from the enemy, as verſ. 23.

V. 25. what doth your arguing reprove?] He that hath a good conſcience, doth not ſhrink at the ſharp words of reaſonings of others, except they be able to perſwade him by good arguments.

V. 26. Do ye imagine to reprove words, and the ſpeeches of one that is deſperate, which are as winde?] Or, Do ye think that words reprove, and that the ſpeeches of one that is out of hope, are winde? Chap. 15. 3.

Do ye imagine to reprove words] Do ye think that all your words are as ſo many ſentences, and invincible arguments againſt me, and that mine are but frivolous things, Jere. 5. 13. Hoſ. 12. 1.

of one that is deſperate] Of me that am caſt down with troubles, without hope of reſtitution to proſperity in this world.

V. 27. ye overwhelm] Heb. ye cauſe to fall upon.

the fatherleſſe] Me, who am deſtitute of all help, like a fatherleſſe childe, whom all ſhould defend, Pſal. 94. 6. chap. 22. 9. and 24. 3, 9.

you dig a pit for your friend] He ſets out their cruelty againſt him by two things odious. Firſt, by the undoing of a fatherleſſe childe. Secondly, by digging a pit, not for an enemy, but for a friend to fall into.

V. 28. content] Or, well pleaſed.

look upon me] Conſider my cauſe, whether I ſpeak as one that is driven to this impatience through very ſorrow, or as an hypocrite, as ye condemn me.

evident unto you] Heb. before your face.

V. 29. Return I pray you] Chap. 17. 10. and 19. 28. Weigh the matter more thorowly.

let it not be iniquitie] That is objected to me.

my righteouſneſſe is in it] I am righteous in this buſineſſe.

in it] That is, in this matter.

V. 30. cannot my taſte diſcern perverſe things] A metaphor. For as the palate diſcerns harſh taſtes, ſo the minde knows perverſe things, chap. 12. 11. and 34. 3.

my taſte [Heb. my palate.

CHAP. VII.

Verſ. 1. AN appointed time] Or, a warfare. Chap. 14. 14. Pſal. 39. 4.

are not his dayes alſo like the dayes of an hireling?] If an hireling have a time ſet for the end of his painfull ſervice, and look for it daily; may not I wiſh for death, the end of my troubles?

V. 2. earneſtly deſireth] Heb. gapeth after: Or, that earneſtly deſireth.

the ſhadow] That is, the ſetting of the ſun, when his dayes work ſhall end, chap. 36. 20.

looketh for the reward of his work] Or, that looketh for the end of his work.

V. 3. So am I made to poſſeſſe moneths of vanitie] My times have been as troubleſome, as a ſervants, or hirelings, that through much toyl wiſhed for an end.

poſſeſſe] Or, inherite for my ſelf.

wearieſome nights are appointed to me] I have been troubled, while others enjoyed ſweet reſt.

V. 4. the night be gone] Heb. the evening be meaſured. The night. Heb. The evening which being the beginning of the night is put for the whole night, Gen. 1. 5. Which night, as well as day, was intolerable to him, Deut. 28. 67.

V. 5. My fleſh is clothed with worms] Iſai. 14. 11. This ſheweth that his diſeaſe was rare and moſt horrible.

V. 6. My dayes are ſwifter then a weavers ſhuttle] Chap. 16. 22. Pſal. 90. 6. and 102. 11. and 103. 15. and 144. 4. Iſai. 40. 6. Jam. 4. 14. Thus he ſpeaketh in reſpect of the brevity of mans life, which paſſeth without hope of returning into this world: in conſideration whereof, he deſireth God to have compaſſion on him, 2 Sam. 14. 14.

V. 7. winde] Pſal. 78. 39.

ſhall no more] Heb. ſhall not return.

ſee] To ſee, that is, to enjoy, Jere. 17. 6.

V. 8. I am not] That is, I can live no longer.

V. 9. As the cloud is conſumed] If thou behold me in thine anger, I ſhall not be able to ſtand in thy preſence.

ſhall come up no more] Shall no more enjoy this mortall life, Iſai. 38. 11.

V. 10. place know him any more] Chap. 20. 9. Pſal. 106. 16.

V. 11. I will not refrain my mouth] Seeing I can by no other means comfort my ſelf, I will declare my grief by words. And thus he ſpeaketh as one overcome with grief of minde, as appeareth by his words following, and ſeeking comfort by the relation of them.

V. 12. Am I a ſea] Am I ſo unruly and ready to devour others, that I muſt be kept in with plagues, as with a guard: or, kept to judgement. See notes on verſ. 20.

V. 14. thou ſcareſt me with dreams] So that I can have no more reſt in the night, then in the day.

V. 15. my ſoul chooſeth] He ſpeaketh as one overcome with ſorrow, and not out of judgement.

ſtrangling] He nameth ſtrangling, becauſe it is a ſpeedy death, though it be painfull.

then my life] Heb then my bones.

life] My life. Heb. my bones. For I have no fleſh left.

V. 16. let me alone] Chap. 10. 20. and 14. 6. Pſal. 39. 13. Seeing my term of life is ſo ſhort, let me have ſome reſt and caſe.

V. 17. What is man] Pſal. 8. 4. and 144. 3. Heb. 2. 6.

that thou ſhouldeſt magnifie him] Seeing that man of himſelf is ſo vile, why doſt thou give him that honour to contend againſt him? Job uſeth all kinde of perſwaſions with God, that he might ſtay his hand.

V. 20. what ſhall I do unto thee] What can I do to ſatisfie for my ſins?

O thou preſerver of men?] Preſerver. Rather obſerver of mens ſins. Chap. 27. 18. 2 King. 17. 9. Prov. 24. 12. Or, keeper of them to judgement, v. 12.

preſerver] Or, keeper, or, obſerver, as Pſal. 130. 3.

why haſt thou ſet me as a mark againſt thee] Chap. 16. 12. Pſa. 21. 12. Lam. 3. 12. Why doſt thou lay more afflictions on me, then on other men?

V. 21. pardon] Heb. take away.

and take away mine iniquitie] Pardon takes ſin away from Gods face and judgement, 2 Sam. 12. 13.

ſleep in the duſt] Iſai. 26. 19. Dan. 12. 2.

but I ſhall not be] That is, I ſhall be dead, Pſal. 39. 13.

CHAP. VIII.

Verſ. 2. LIke a ſtrong winde] Be violent againſt God.

V. 3. Doth God pervert judgement?] Deut. 32. 4. 2 Chron. 19. 7. Dan. 9. 14. Rom. 3. 5.

V. 4. and he have caſt them away] That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquitie: meaning, that Job ought to be warned by the example of his children, that he offend not God.

for their tranſgreſſion] Heb. in the hand of their tranſgreſſion.

V. 5. If thou wouldeſt ſeek unto God betimes] Chap. 22. 23. and 5. 8. and 11. 13.

betimes] If thou ſeek to God ſpeedily, while he calls thee to repentance.

make thy ſupplication] Pray to God for grace and favour, for ſo the word ſignifies.

V. 7. Though thy beginning was ſmall] Though thou thrivedſt not preſently, yet afterward thou ſhouldſt have abundance.

V. 8. For enquire] Deut. 4. 32. Job 5. 18.

enquire, I pray thee] He willeth Job to examine all antiquitie, and he ſhall finde it true, which he here ſaith.

V. 9. we are but of yeſterday] Gen. 47. 9. 1 Chro. 29. 15. Chap. 7. 6. Pſal. 39. 5. and 144. 4. Meaning, that it is not enough to uſe our own experience, but we muſt be confirmed alſo by the examples of ſuch as went before us.

nothing] Heb. not.

V. 10. Shall not they teach thee] Concerning Gods judgement, and the iſſue of good deeds and bad. Saying as followeth.

V. 11. Can theruſh grow up without mire?] As a ruſh cannot grow without moiſture, ſo a man cannot thrive without piety, which procures Gods bleſſing.

V. 12. While it is yet in his greenneſſe] Pſal. 129. 6. Jerem. 17. 6.

V. 13. hypocrites hope ſhall periſh] Chap. 11. 20. and 18. 14. Pſal. 112. 10. Prov. 10. 28.

blown away with ye wind, ſwept away with abſtinence of gods diſpleaſure it's ſomwt ſtrin ſelfe, he yt abideth in ch^t ſhall never Periſh.

V. 14. whoſe truſt ſhall be a ſpiders web] Which is to day, and to morrow is ſwept away, Iſai. 59. 5.

a ſpiders web] Heb. a ſpiders houſe.

web] Iſai. 59. 6.

V. 16. He is green before the ſun] An hypocrite may for a time flouriſh, maugre the plots of his adverſaries, as a tree may be green a while, even when the ſun ſcorches, and yet periſh ſoon after, Pſal 37. 35. Prov. 20. 5. and 27. 8.

V. 17. His roots are wrapped about the heap] He may for a while overcome all lets of his proſperity, as a tree growing among ſtones.

place] Heb. houſe.

V. 18. then it ſhall deny him] There ſhall remain nothing there to prove, that the tree once grew there. So ſhall the flouriſhing hypocrite be forgotten, Pſal. 37. 35, 36.

V. 19. this is the joy of his way] What joy can he have, when he is deſtroyed, and others dwell in his room?

V. 20. Behold] Hitherto from the beginning of the eleventh verſe, were the words of the ancients: now Bildad makes his concluſion out of them.

God may caſt down but will never caſt off Rewilnot take yn by ye hand caſt away] Heb. deſpiſe.

neither will he help the evil-doers] Either theſe words muſt be read by a parentheſis, or elſe, evil doers muſt be taken for Jobs enemies, becauſe it follows, Till he fill thy mouth. The latter agrees with v. 22. The former, with that which went before.

help the evil-doers] Heb. take the ungodly by the hand.

V. 21. Till he fill thy mouth with laughing] If thou be godly, he will give thee matter of exceeding great joy, Gen. 21. 6, 7.

rejoycing] Heb. ſhouting for joy.

V. 22. clothed with ſhame] Pſal. 132. 18.

dwelling-place] Heb. tent.

ſhall come to nought] Heb. ſhall not be.

CHAP. IX.

Verſ. 2. How ſhould man be juſt with God?] Pſal. 143. 2. Job anſwers Bildads ſpeech, chap. 8. 3. and acknowledgeth Gods juſtice in puniſhing wicked men: but complains that he could not defend himſelf before God, becauſe of Gods aſtoniſhing power.

with God] Or, before God.

V. 3. he cannot anſwer him one of a thouſand] Of a thouſand things which God could lay to his charge, man cannot anſwer to one. So he muſt be caſt alwayes: yea, though he were upright, yet Gods greatneſſe would make him ſpeechleſſe.

V. 6. Which ſhaketh the earth out of her place] He declareth what is the infirmitie of man by the mighty and incomprehenſible power that is in God, ſhewing what he could do, if he would ſet forth his power.

V. 7. Which commandeth the ſun] God maketh night, by taking away the ſun; and day, by hiding the ſtars, Amos 8. 9.

V. 8. Which alone ſpreadeth out the heavens] Gen. 1. 6. Or, Which boweth down the heaven, Pſa. 18. 9. That is, which makes clouds, ſo that the heaven ſeems to hang down.

and treadeth upon the waves of the ſea] Hab. 3. 15. God treadeth on the waves, when he ſtills tempeſts.

waves] Heb. heights.

V. 9. Which maketh Arcturus] Chap. 38. 31, &c. Am. 5. 8. Maketh to appear at ſeverall times, to diſtinguiſh the ſeaſons of the yeer: for he ſpeaks of works of providence, not of creation.

Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades] Heb. Aſh, Ceſil, and Cimah.

V. 10. Which doeth great things paſt finding out] Chap. 5. 9.

V. 11. he goeth by me] I am not able to comprehend his works, which are common and daily before mine eyes; much leſſe thoſe which are hid and ſecret.

V. 12. Behold, he taketh away, &c.] Iſai. 45. 9. Jere. 18. 6. Rom. 9. 20.

who can hinder him?] Heb. who can turn him away?

V. 13. If God will not withdraw his anger] There is no reſiſting God by any created power, though never ſo great.

proud helpers] Heb. helpers of pride, or, ſtrength.

V. 14. How much leſſe ſhall I anſwer him] If ſtouteſt men ſtoop, how ſhould I that am weak, helpleſſe, forſaken, ſtand againſt God?

chooſe out my words] How ſhould I be able to anſwer him by eloquence, as my friends plead againſt me?

V. 15. Whom] Or, Who.

would] Or, could.

would] Or, muſt.

make ſupplication] Or, crave mercy.

V. 16. If I had called, and he had anſwered me; yet would I not beleeve that he had hearkened unto my voice.] Or, If I have called, and he hath anſwered me; yet will I not beleeve, that he will hearken to my voice.

yet would I not beleeve] God hath heard me heretofore, but I beleeve he will hear me no more, becauſe his hand is ſo heavy on me. This agrees with the verſe following.

V. 17. with a tempeſt] He ſhews the greatneſſe of his afflictions by two ſimilitudes, a battering tempeſt, and many wounds.

without cauſe] I have not committed any ſuch hainous offence, as ſhould deſerve ſo many and ſo great afflictions.

V. 18. bitterneſſe] Heb. bitternеſſes. Lam. 3. 15. That is, abundance of afflictions.

V. 19. If I ſpeak of ſtrength] I can neither deal with God by might nor by right.

V. 20. If I juſtifie my ſelf] If I had a good cauſe, yet Gods majeſty would ſo terrifie me; and he could ask me ſuch queſtions, that I ſhould be forced to condemn my ſelf, verſ. 15.

If I juſtifie] Or, If I be juſt. Or, If I be upright.

V. 21. Though I were perfect] Though I were in the right, yet I ſhould be as it were out of my ſelf, and weary of my life, Gods greatneſſe would ſo affright me in pleading my cauſe.

V. 22. This is one thing] This is one thing that troubles me, That God, though he be juſt, yet puniſhes me that am upright, like a guilty perſon. He layes as great load of ſorrows on good men, as on bad, Ezek. 21. 3.

V. 23. If the ſcourge ſlay ſuddenly] If a plague, or war come, God laughs at the deſtruction of good men among the bad.

V. 24. he covereth the faces of the judges thereof] That they cannot ſee to do juſtice: or, caſts ſhame and confuſion upon them, Eſth. 7. 8. Pſal. 107. 40.

if not, where, and who is he?] If God do not this, then who doth it?

where, and who is he?] Gen. 27. 23.

V. 25. my dayes are ſwifter then a poſt] He endeavours to prove that God doth deal hardly with good men, by his own example, whoſe life was ſhort and miſerable.

ſee no good] Chap. 7. 7.

V. 26. as the ſwift ſhips] Heb. as ſhips of deſire. That is, deſired: to wit, for their ſwifneſſe: for gain makes merchants long to be at the haven.

ſwift ſhips] Or, ſhips of Eben.

as the eagle that haſteth to the prey] Hab. 1. 8.

V. 27. If I ſay] If at ſome time I think to comfort my ſelf with hope of deliverance, my preſent ſorrows are ſo great, that they daſh that hope ſuddenly.

heavineſſe] Heb. face. That is, my ſad countenance, 1 Sam. 1. 18.

V. 28. thou wilt not hold me innocent] That is, thou wilt not free me from puniſhment, as an innocent man ſhould be freed, Exod. 34. 7. 1 King. 2. 9.

V. 29. If I be wicked] Or, but I ſhall be held a wicked man. That is, accounted a wicked man that muſt be puniſhed.

why then labour I in vain?] To clear my ſelf.

V. 30. If I waſh my ſelf with ſnow-water] Though I make my cauſe as clean as he that is waſhed with ſnow-water or ſope, yet thou wilt make me moſt foul and miſerable.

V. 31. mine own clothes ſhall abhorre me] They that are neereſt to me, as theſe three friends that come to comfort me, ſhall take part with thee againſt me, and ſay, I ſuffer juſtly.

abhor me] Or, make me to be abhorred.

V. 32. For he is not a man as I am] Now Job turns his ſpeech from God to his friends, and ſhews why he could not maintain his cauſe againſt God. Not for want of equity, but becauſe his weak nature is farre inferiour to Gods majeſty, Num. 23. 19.

V. 33. any dayes-mans] Heb. one that ſhould argue.

dayes-man] Or, umpire.

that might lay his hand upon us both] That is, that may keep us within compaſſe: for contenders uſe to be very violent one againſt another.

V. 34. let not his fear terrifie me] Chap. 13. 20. and 33. 7. Let not the beams of his divine majeſty fright me, and I will clear my cauſe before him.

V. 35. but it is not ſo with me] Heb. but I am not ſo with my ſelf. But I am now ſo kept under, that I dare not ſpeak for my ſelf: or, for it is not ſo with me: That is, I might boldly plead with God then, for it is not ſo with me as ye think. I am not a wicked man.

CHAP. X.

Verſ. 1. Weary of my life] Or, cut off while I live.

upon my ſelf] I will ſpeak at mine own perill. If any inconvenience fall upon me for complaining, I will bear it my ſelf.

V. 2. Do not condemn me] Uſe not thy abſolute power to deſtroy me: ſeeing my conſcience condemns me not for ſuch a ſinner, as theſe men charge me to be; ſhew me why thou doeſt?

V. 3. Is it good unto thee] Profitable, or pleaſing to thee.

that thou ſhouldeſt deſpiſe] To deſtroy thy creature by thy ſoveraign power, before he be convicted, or condemned.

the work of thine hands] Heb. the labour of thine hands. To ſhew no reſpect to me thine own creature.

ſhine shine upon the counsell of the wicked?] To make wicked mens counsells flourish. It may be he means, that God did uphold his friends that called him an hypocrite.

V. 4. Hast thou eyes of flesh] 1 Sam. 16. 7. Thou knowest the heart. What needest thou to enquire of my estate by tormenting me, as earthly judges sometimes are forced to do.

V. 5. Are thy dayes as the dayes of man?] Art not thou eternall? Knowest thou not things past, present, and to come in a moment? What needest thou to procced by way of enquiry as men do?

V. 7. Thou knowest] Heb. It is upon thy knowledge.

Thou knowest that I am not wicked] Though thou thy self knowest my innocency, yet I must be punished.

and] Or, yet.

V. 8. Thine hands have made me] In this eighth verse, and those that follow, he describeth the mercy of God in the wonderfull creation of man: and thereon groundeth this conclusion, That God ought not to shew himself rigorous against him, Vers. 3. Psal. 119. 73.

made me] Heb. took pains about me.

together round about] Or, and wilt thou destroy me quite at once?

V. 9. thou hast made me as the clay] As brittle as a pot of clay, 2 Cor 4. 7.

V. 10. Hast thou not poured me out as milk] Psal. 139. 14, 15, 16.

V. 11. fenced] Heb. hedged.

V. 12. thy visitation hath preserved my spirit] Thy fatherly care and providence doth preserve me, and without it I should perish suddenly.

V. 13. And these things hast thou hid in thine heart] Or, And hast thou hid these things in thine heart? These thoughts of bringing evill upon me thy creature.

V. 14. If I sin, then thou markest me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquitie.] Or, if I had sinned, wouldst thou shut me up, and wilt thou not, &c. If I had committed some great sins, is it fit I should alwayes be kept in prison, as it were, with afflictions, and never be released? See notes on chap. 7. vers. 12.

V. 15. and if I be righteous] It is all one whether I be righteous or wicked: I can look for no ease, chap. 9. 15, 20.

will] Or, may.

V. 17. Thou renewest thy witnesses against me] Plagues are proofs of Gods indignation, and therefore are called his witnesses. See Ruth 1. 21. Job 16. 8. Mal. 3. 5.

thy witnesses] That is, thy plagues.

changes and war are against me] Psal. 55. 19. One sorrow comes after another upon me, as one army after another; for God hath infinite means to punish man.

V. 18. Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the womb?] Chap. 3. 11.

Oh that I had given up the ghost] Or, I might have given up, &c.

V. 20. Are not my dayes few?] See chap. 7. 6. and 8. 9.

cease then] He wisheth that God would leave off afflicting him, considering his great misery, and the brevity of his life.

V. 21. to the land of darknesse] A description of the grave, from whence a man shall never return into this world.

V. 22. without any order] A place where is no varietie, or difference of degrees, chap. 3. 19. which is a great part of the beauty of this world.

and where the light is as darknesse] Or, And when it shines here, it is as darknesse there.

CHAP. XI.

Vers. 2. SHould a man full of talk be justified?] Should he perswade by his great talk, that he is just? Wisemen must weigh arguments, not be swayed by words.

a man full of talk] Heb. a man of lips.

V. 3. lies] Or, devices.

when thou mockest] God and us, seeking to perswade us to beleeve absurd things, as if we were beasts and ignorant persons, chap. 10. 3. and 34. 7.

V. 4. My doctrine is pure] He chargeth Job that he should say, That the thing which he taught was true, chap. 6. 10. and that he was no wicked man, chap. 10. 7. or, at least had no sin in him, to deserve such judgements.

V. 5. O that God would speak] He wisheth God would speak, because he knew God was far better able to speak for himself, then he: and because he thought Job so obstinate, that he would not be convinced by any man.

V. 6. the secrets of wisdom] That which thou yet seest not, to wit, that thy sins deserve greater troubles, then yet thou endurest, Ezra 9. 13. Or, those high secrets of God, which exceed all that man can learn out of his revealed will, whereof this is one, his judgements laid upon men diversly.

they are double to that which is!] Or, thou hast deserved double to that which is!

exacteth of thee lesse then thine iniquity deserveth] Or, forgetteth thee for thine iniquitie: or, in comparison of thine iniquitie, Ezra 9. 13.

V. 7. unto perfection] Thou art not able to understand to the full the depth of Gods intentions, Eccles. 3. 11. Rom. 11. 33.

V. 8. It is as high as heaven] The perfection of Gods wisdom is. And if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heaven, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures; how can he attain to the perfection of the creatour?

as high as heaven] Heb. the heights of heaven.

V. 10. cut off] Or, make a change.

and shut up] If God should turn the state of things, and establish a new order in nature; who can controul him?

who can hinder him?] Heb. who can turn him away?

V. 11. he knoweth vain men] The inconstancy of men is the cause that God doth not proceed alwayes alike with them.

V. 12. vain] Heb. emptie.

like a wilde asses colt] Psal. 73. 22. and 92. 6. Eccles. 3. 18. That is, without understanding: so that whatsoever gifts he hath afterward, come of God, and not of nature: and therefore the carnall mans brutish sense knows not, or quarrels with this wisdom of God, Jere. 2. 24. 1 Cor. 2. 14.

V. 13. If thou prepare thine heart] Chap. 5. 8. and 22. 21. To seek after God, Psal. 78. 8. 2 Chron. 19. 3.

stretch out thine hands towards him] According to the custome of the ancients, to pray to God not with hands joyned together, but with arms stretched out, and hands held up towards heaven, 1 Kings 8. 22.

V. 14. put it far away] If thou wilt pray unto God, repent, renounce thine own evill works, and see that they over whom thou hast charge, offend not God, Gen. 35. 1, 2. Isai. 1. 16.

V. 15. then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot] Thou shalt be delivered from the confusion of thy conscience, and able in holy confidence to present thy self before God in prayer, and meditation, Gen. 4. 6. Job 22. 26. See the peace of conscience in true penitents, 1 John 3. 21, 22.

thou shalt be stedfast] Like a moulten pillar, for so the word signifies.

V. 16. passe away] Or, are past away.

V. 17. thine age shall be clearer then the noon-day] The remainder of thine age.

shall be clearer then the noon-day] Heb. shall arise above the noon-day. Psal. 37. 6. and 112. 4. Isai. 58. 8.

thou shalt shine forth] By shining and brightnesse in scripture, is meant joy and honour, Chap. 18. 5, 6. and 38. 15. Esth. 8. 16. Prov. 4. 18.

as the morning] Thou shalt be renewed in honour and prosperitie, as when the day comes after the night.

V. 18. because there is hope] God will furnish thee continually with new matter of hope, that thou mayest be fully confident in his favour.

thou shalt dig about thee] Either a foundation to build an house upon, or entrench thee about with a sure fence, chap. 1. 10.

thou shalt take thy rest in safetie] Levit. 26. 5.

V 19. thou shalt lie down] Psal. 3. 5. and 4. 8.

make suit unto thee] Heb. intreat thy face. Psal. 45. 12. Because of thy riches and authority.

V. 20. But the eyes of the wicked] He sheweth that contrary things shall come unto them that do not repent.

shall fail] Wicked men shall end their dayes in tears and sighs, expecting that good they never shall attain unto, chap. 8. 13.

they shall not escape] Heb. flight shall perish from them.

their hope shall be as the giving up of the ghost] Chap. 8. 14. and 18. 14.

as the giving up of the ghost] Or, a puff of breath. Their hope shall be in vain, as he that gives up the ghost can hope for no good in this life: or, they shall utterly despair in the end, being by a miserable death deprived of all expected prosperity.

CHAP. XII.

Vers. 2. BUt ye are the people] Ye onely are worthy the name of men: Or, ye are a people: That is, ye think your selves as wise, as if ye were a whole nation, John 11. 49.

wisdom shall die with you] Ye think ye are the onely wise ones of the world, whence it must needs follow, that none knows, or can know any thing but you, and when ye fail, wisdom must also fail with you.

V. 3. understanding] Heb. an heart.

I am not inferiour to you] Heb. I fall not lower then you.

inferiour] Heb. falling. A metaphor from two wrestlers: He that is overcome, fals before the conquerour.

who knoweth not such things as these ?] Heb. with whom are not such as these. The things you have brought forth for points of singular wisdom, are common and vulgar, to wit, that God prospers good men, and crosses bad.

V. 4. I am as one mocked of his neighbour] Prov. 14. 2. Job 16. 10. and 17. 2, 6. and 21. 3. and 30. 1.

I am as one mocked] He reproveth these his friends of two faults: the one, that they thought they had better knowledge, then indeed they had; and the other, that in stead of true consolation, they did deride and despise their friend in his adversitie.

of his neighbour] Being a mocker and wicked man, judging another to be out of Gods favour by reason of his present afflictions.

who calleth upon God] Or, calling upon God. Psal. 14. 6.

the just upright man is laughed to scorn] I who am upright, am accounted an hypocrite by my friends.

V. 5. to slip with his feet] By calamities, as I am.

as a lamp despised] Isai. 7. 4. and 42. 3. As men esteem not a torch, that goeth out: so is he despised that falleth from prosperitie, to adversitie, Psal. 31. 15. and 38. 17, 19. Jerem. 20. 10.

that is at ease] He that is at ease, whom no man troubles, hath no experience, nor cannot judge rightly of my estate: Such are ye my friends.

V. 6. The tabernacles of robbers prosper] Chap. 21. 7. Psal. 37. 1, 35. and 92. 7. Jere. 12. 1. Hab. 1. 3, 4. Mal. 3. 15.

V. 7. But ask now the beasts] He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisdom is common to all, and such as the very brute beasts do daily teach: or else, he intendeth that the beasts may teach them, that God makes wicked men to prosper, in that he makes beasts to serve evill men, and gives harmlesse beasts for a prey to harmfull ones. And see the like of fishes, Hab. 1. 13, 14.

V. 9. in] Or, by.

the hand of the Lord hath wrought this] Makes wicked men often to prosper in the world, more then good men.

V. 10. soul] Or, life.

all mankinde] Heb. all flesh of man.

V. 11. Doth not the ear try words ?] Chap. 34. 3. Either he blameth his friends for not weighing his words; or means that he can weigh theirs: or it may be thus, Doth not his ear try words, &c. That is, God knows your unsavoury words, as well as you do unsavoury meat. If old men be wise, much more God, Psal. 94. 9.

mouth] Heb. palate.

V. 13. With him] That is, with God.

V. 14. Shutteth up a man] Isai. 22. 22. Revel. 3. 7. Job 9. 12. and 11. 10.

up] Heb. upon.

V. 15. he withholdeth the waters] That is, the rain.

V. 16. the deceived and the deceiver are his] They must give account to God that go about to deceive those that are Gods, as ye go about to deceive me.

V. 17. He leadeth] As prisoners of war in triumph, after he hath overcome them.

counsellers] The wise guiders of the world, 1 Cor. 2. 6, 8. 2 Sam 15. 31.

spoiled] Of their wisdom, honour and power.

fools] 2 Sam. 15. 31. and 17. 14, 23. Isai. 19. 12. 1 Cor. 1. 19.

V. 18. He looseth the bond of kings] Takes away their authoritie, which bindes their subjects to obedience, Chap. 30. 11. Isai. 45. 1, 5.

girdeth their loyns with a girdle] Makes them captives, Psal. 66. 11. Joh. 21. 18.

V. 20. He removeth away the speech of the trusty] Chap. 32. 9. Isai. 3. 2, 3.

the speech of the trusty] Heb. the lip of the faithfull. Gen. 11. 1.

trusty] Of wise counsellers, whom kings trust: God makes them unable to give good counsell, and so makes them unserviceable to their princes.

V. 21. He poureth contempt upon princes] Psal. 107. 40. Dan. 2. 21.

weakneth the strength of the mighty] Or, looseth the girdle of the strong. Heb. looseth the girdle. Men ungirt are not fit to fight: Their clothes hinder them.

V. 22. He discovereth deep things out of darknesse] Dan. 2. 22. Matth. 10. 26. 1 Cor. 4. 5.

the shadow of death] Things most secret, that seem to be buried in eternall ignorance.

V. 23. He increaseth the nations] In this discourse of Gods wonderfull works, Job sheweth, that whatsoever is done in this world, both in the order and change of things; is by Gods will and appointment: wherein he declareth, That he thinketh well of God, and is able to set forth his power in words, as well as they that reasoned against him.

Straiteneth] Heb. leadeth in.

V. 24. causeth them to wander] Psal. 107. 40.

in a wildernesse where there is no way] Desperate, irresolute, without relief, or counsell in their affairs.

V. 25. They grope in the dark without light] Isai. 19. 14. and 24. 20.

stagger] Heb. wander.

CHAP. XIII.

Vers. 2. What ye know, the same do I know also] See notes on chap. 12. 3.

V. 4. ye are forgers of lies] Psal. 119. 69. Ye forge lies to defend Gods justice, when ye say, He punisheth onely wicked men, and so would make me wicked, because I am afflicted.

physicians of no value] Ye do not well apply your medicines. Ye come to comfort me your friend, whose pietie ye have known. Ye should cheer me up with Gods promises: but ye adde affliction to me, in that ye say, God punisheth me for wickedneſse.

V. 5. wisdom] Prov. 17. 28.

V. 7. and talk deceitfully for him ?] In maintaining a false cause, under colour of upholding Gods justice. He means, they taught false doctrine, in saying, God did plague none but the wicked.

V. 8. Will ye accept his person ?] Will ye favour God more then is fitting, because of his greatnesse; and condemn me for my meanneſse ?

will ye contend for God ?] Judg. 6. 31. God can maintain his own cause: he needs not you to strive for him. Job. 42.

V. 9. Is it good that he should search you out ?] Whether ye have pleaded his cause honestly, or by flattery.

do ye so mock him ?] Think ye, that by a false plea, ye can make him think himself just, as ye do men ?

V. 10. persons] Or, his person, as vers. 8.

V. 11. Shall not his excellency make you afraid ?] Mens greatneſse may make you flatter them; but Gods should keep you from it; for he likes not flattery. It may be read, Doth not his greatneſse: That is, but ye do fear Gods greatneſse too much, and so condemn me, to flatter him; and therefore he will finde it out, and punish you, and bring you to nothing, as vers. 12.

V. 12. Your remembrances are like unto ashes] Your fame shall come to nothing.

bodies of clay] Chap. 4. 19. and 10. 9.

V. 13. Hold your peace] Heb. Be silent from me.

let come on me what will] Let me speak at my own perill, and if God shall lay heavier things upon me, yet I will not confesse my self to be a wicked man.

V. 14. in my teeth] If God afflict onely wicked men, why have I so many ulcers, that I may bite of my flesh with my teeth ? Chap. 18. 4.

in mine hand ?] Why am I brought into so great danger of death, that my life seems to be in my hand, whence it may quickly fall out ? 1 Sam. 28. 21. Psal. 119. 109. 1 Sam. 19. 5.

V. 15. Though he slay me] Though he should proceed in anger, to take away my life; yet I would trust on him, and maintain mine innocency.

yet will I trust in him] Or, that I may not trust, ye I will: or lo, let him slay me, should I not trust ? surely I will.

maintain] Heb. prove, or, argue.

V. 16. for] Or, but, or, though.

an hypocrite shall not come before him] Whereby he declareth, That an hypocrite he is not, as they charged him.

V. 18. I have ordered my cause] I have put my reasons in order, to prove my innocency.

that I shall be justified] I shall be pronounced just, and not condemned, as ye say.

V. 19. Who is he that will plead with me ?] Seeing God clears me, who dares say God punishes me as a wicked man, Rom. 8. 33.

I shall give up the ghost] If I should not defend my innocencie, when ye condemn me for an hypocrite; I should burst with passion.

V. 20. do not two things unto me] Chap. 9. 34. and 33. 7.

then will I not hide my self from thee] I will appear boldly before thy face.

V. 21. Withdraw thine hand far from me] He sheweth what the two things spoken of in the former verse are; to wit, the taking away of Gods plagues, and laying aside his terrible majestie. See notes on chap. 9. 2.

from me] Heb. from upon me: That is, from abiding upon me.

V. 22. Then call thou, and I will answer] Then, be either plaintiff, or defendant. I am ready on both sides.

V. 23. How many are mine iniquities] Now he pleads his cause. I have many plagues, but not so many or great sins, as require such plagues.

V. 24. holdest me for thine enemy ?] Chap. 33. 10. Seeing thou hast no just cause to lay so many great plagues upon me,

Cap. 12. 22. discovereth] How great an Experiment hath God given us of this Truth in that grand discovery that He hath made (in this latter age) of another World. A great part of the World, even so great, as bears the name of a New World, was a deep thing of darkness to this part of the World, for many and many Ages and Generations. &c. &c.

Cap. 14. 4. Quis potest facere mundum de immundo conceptum semine? nonne tu qui solus es? Vulgar Latin. Psal. 50. 4.

15. 4. 1 Restraintst Prayer — 3 It is an argument of an evil heart, to shorten, or restrain; to lessen, or give off Prayer in times of Trouble. That King spake to the height of Profaneness, when he said, This evil is of the L.
What should I wait for the Lord any longer? 2 Kings, 6. 33.
When we have done Waiting, we have done Praying. —— To restrain Prayer, is worse than not to pray: The latter notes only a neglect of the duty; the former, a distaste of the duty.
—— Caryl, p. 15, 16.

why doſt thou deal ſo rigidly with me, as if I were thine enemy ?

V.25. Wilt thou break a leaf] Iſai. 42.3. Doth it become thy majeſtie to trample upon my weakneſſe ?

V.26. thou writeſt bitter things againſt me] Like the clerk of aſſize, thou writeſt down an heavie ſentence for me.

V.4. and shake mine head at you] Mock at your misery, as ye do at mine, 2 King.19.21. Psal.22.7,8. Lam.2.15.

V.5. But I would strengthen you with my mouth] Though I could mock, yet I would comfort you, and not do as ye do to me. Rom.1.11.12

V.6. Though I speak, my grief is not asswaged] It is true as true as ye say, my complaints bring no deliverance: yet if I should not complain, how should I ease my self? chap.13.13.

what am I eased?] Heb. what goeth from me? Or, how will it go from me?

V.7. he] That is, God. Or, it, to wit, my grief.

thou hast made desolate all my company] My family. His children were destroyed, his wife was an enemy rather then a wife.

V. 8. which is a witnesse against me] That thou art angry with me.

V.9. gnasheth upon me with his teeth] Psal.37.12.

mine enemy sharpeneth his eyes upon me] Looks thorow me with his eyes, as if he would pierce me.

V.10. they have gaped upon me] My friends have mocked me boldly, v.20. and others, chap.30.1,9,10. or, have assaulted me with open mouth, to devour me, Psal.22.13.

they have smitten me upon the cheek reproachfully] Smiting on the cheek was a signe of reproach, Lam.3.30. Mic.5.1. 1 Kin. 22.24.

they have gathered themselves together against me] They have filled themselves: they have glutted themselves with my sorrows, Exod.15.9. or, they have filled themselves with matter to plead against me.

V. 11. hath delivered me] Heb. hath shut me up.

into the hands of the wicked] The Caldeans and Sabeans that took away my cattell.

V.12. set me up for his mark] Chap.7.20. Lam.3.12.

V. 13. His archers compasse me round about] Sicknesses and sores wound me to the heart.

doth not spare] Lam. 2. 2,21.

he poureth out my gall upon the ground] So that my life is in danger.

V. 15. I have sowed sackcloth] The sackcloth I put on for the losse of my children, cleaves to my sores, as if it were sowed on.

and defiled my horn in the dust] Psal.7.5. My glory is brought lowe. A metaphor from beasts, whose strength is in their horns.

V.16. on my eye-lids is the shadow of death] Mine eyes be dark, as if I were dying.

V. 17. Not for any injustice in mine hands] Chap.31.13. and 21. 28. Signifying, that he is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grievous punishment; for he was not guilty of injustice toward man, nor of hypocrisie before God, Isai.53.9.

V.18. O earth, cover not thou my blood] If I have committed murder, let the earth reveal it, Gen.4.10. Isai.26.21. and let not God hear my prayer in my misery, Isai.1.15.

V.19. now, behold, my witnesse is in heaven] Though man condemn me, and I be in misery; yet now God is witnesse of my integrity.

on high] Heb. in the high places.

V.20. My friends scorn me] Heb. are my scorners. Psal.109.4. My sorrow is the more, because they are not strangers, but friends that deride me: having therefore no hope on earth, I pray to God to clear me.

but] Or, therefore.

V.21. O that one might plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his neighbour] It may be read thus; And he will plead for a man with God, and the son of man, for his friend; That is, Christ, who is God and man, will plead my cause with his father: he can prevail, because he is God; he will undertake it, because he will be man like me. Or, he desireth that a man might plead his cause before God, as an advocate doth for his client, chap.9.32,33, &c.

neighbour] Or, friend.

V.22. When a few yeers are come] Heb. yeers of number] I desire to have God cleer me quickly, that I may die with comfort, for I cannot live long.

go the way whence I shall not return] Chap.7.9,10.

CHAP. XVII.

Vers.1. Breath is corrupt] Or, spirit is spent.

V.2. Are there not mockers with me?] In stead of comfort, being now at deaths door, his friends mocked at his words, chap.21.3.

continue] Heb. lodge.

continue in their provocation?] I cannot sleep in the night, because their taunts in the day stick in my minde.

V.3. Lay down now, put me in a surety with thee] It may be read thus, Appoint, I pray thee, my surety with thee: That is, appoint Christ to plead my cause, and then which of these dare plead against me? it is sutable to Notes on chap.26.21. and to Rom.8 33. Heb.7.22. Or, Let some one go between us, that may procure me an equall hearing from thee.

strike hands] Prov.6.1. and 11.15. and 17.18.

V.4. therefore shalt thou not exalt them] Either their persons, or their cause they plead against me.

V.5. He that speaketh flattery to his friends] Psal.12.2. He that flattereth a man, and onely judgeth him happy in his prosperity, shall not in himself onely, but in his posterity, be punished. Or, it may be he means, God will punish them for speaking falsly for Gods sake against him, as chap.13.7.

V.6. He hath made me] Eliphaz, who spake last, and whom he pointed at in the verse before.

a by-word] I am derided by them who formerly rejoyced in me. Or, they make me a by-word, and I am plaid upon before them as a tabret: that is, they mock me, Job.30.9. Psal. 44. 13, 14.

aforetime] Or, before them.

V.7. Mine eye also is dim] Psal.6.7.

my members] Or, my thoughts.

as a shadow] More like a shadow of a body, then true members, Psal.6.7.

V.8. Upright men shall be astonied at this] To wit, when they see the godly punished; but in the end they shall come to understanding, and know what shall be the reward of the hypocrite.

V.9. The righteous also shall hold on his way] Not be discouraged by this scandall; but go on and encrease in piety, though good men be afflicted as well as bad.

hold on his way] Heb. lay hold on his way.

shall be stronger and stronger] Heb. shall adde strength. Isai. 40. 29, 31.

V.10. do you return] Chap.6.29. Ye, my friends, repent, and be of my opinion, or come learn of me.

V.11. My dayes are past] Chap.7.6. and 9.25.

my purposes are broken off] Of recovering my prosperity.

the thoughts of my heart] Heb. possessions. That is, the confident thoughts I might have of restauration, in regard of mine integrity.

V.12. They change the night into day] My thoughts of their harsh words in the day, will not let me rest in the night, as v.2. Chap.7.3,4,13.

short] Heb. neer; to wit, to an end.

because of the darkenesse] The day in which I finde some ease, seems very short to me, because of the trouble I have in the night.

V 13. If I wait, the grave is mine house] The house I wait for is the grave, I prepare for it, as a man makes his bed against night: I look for no more prosperity.

V.14. said

V.14. said] Heb. cried, or called.

Thou art my father] I have no more hope in father, mother, sister, or any worldly thing; for the dust and worms shall be to me in stead of them.

V.15. where is now my hope?] That is, my hope is no where: I have no hope of a prosperous life.

as for my hope, who shall see it?] If I should hope, it were in vain: no man shall ever see me in prosperity.

V.16. They shall go down to the bars of the pit] My hopes. See v.15.

when our rest together is in the dust] Or, seeing there is a descent to the dust. I shall come first to the grave, and others must follow, and lose their expectations as well as I. See Chap. 3.17. and 30. 23.

CHAP. XVIII.

Vers.2. FRe you make an end of words] Thou, and thy companions that are of thy minde. And it may be some were present at this discourse, that approved of Job's words, chap.35.4.

V.3. as beasts] I, and Eliphaz and Zophar. See chap.17.7. and 17.4,20.

V.4. He teareth himself in his anger] Chap.13.14. He speaks to those that were present, of Jobs impatience: he carries himself like a mad man.

himself] Heb. his soul.

for thee] Now he turns him suddenly to Job. Shall God change the order of nature, fastned as a rock, for thy sake, by dealing with thee otherwise then he doth with all men?

V.5. the light of the wicked shall be put out] Notwithstanding thy protestations, thou art wicked; for God hath afflicted thee, as he doth wicked men.

the spark of his fire shall not shine] His prosperity shall be totally taken away, and no spark of it left, 2 Sam.14.7. Prov.13.9. and 20.20.

V.6. candle] Or, lamp.

Vers. 3. THese ten times] That is, many times, as Neh.4. 12. Levit.26.26.

make your selves strange to me] Or, harden your selves against me.

V. 4. mine errour remaineth with my self] I my self shall be punished for it: or, ye have not yet confuted it.

V.5. If indeed ye will magnifie your selves against me] Ye take a fit time to tread me under foot, now God hath humbled me.

V.6. Know now that God hath overthrown me] He bursteth out into passion, and declareth that his affliction cometh of God, though he cannot see sufficient cause in himself.

and hath compassed me with his net] Shut me into afflictions, that I cannot get out, Lam.1.13. Ezek.12.13. Hos.7.12.

V.7. I cry out of wrong] I complain that wicked men have wronged me, and God will not right me.

wrong] Or, violence.

V. 8. He hath fenced up my way] Chap.3.23. Lam.3.7. So that I cannot get out of my afflictions.

he hath set darknesse in my paths] Uncomfortableness and sorrow: as light is put for joy, Psal.97.11.

V.9. He hath stript me] Taken it off all, as a beasts skin, for so the word signifies.

my glory] Of my authority, and dignity of magistracy, chap.29.7,14.20. and 30.11.

V.10. mine hope hath he removed] Of restauration to prosperity, chap.17.5. not of eternall life, v.25 of this chapter.

like a tree] Which is pluckt up, and hath no more hope to grow.

V.11. counteth me unto him] Chap.33.10. and 13.24.

as one of his enemies] In Hebrew it is, as his enemies; that is, as a deadly enemy. The plurall number encreaseth the signification.

V.12. His troups come together]. Job.16.33. Afflictions, like enemies, came against me in troups, cast a trench, and besieged me, chap.6.4. and 10 17.

V.13. far from me] Psal.88.18. Another trouble in war, to take off associates.

are verily estranged from me] In Hebrew it is, onely; that is, they onely are as strangers to leave me, not as friends to help me.

V.14. my familiar friends have forgotten me] In Hebrew, they that were well approved of me. An ill requitall.

V.15. They that dwell in mine house] My household-servants; for children he had none left. By all these losses Job sheweth, that, touching the flesh, he had great occasion to be moved.

V.16. I intreated him with my mouth] In Hebrew it is, with my very mouth. A servant should come at a beck, Matth.8.88. but mine regarded not my words.

V.17. My breath is strange to my wife] She turns her face from me, as if my breath were unsavoury.

for the childrens sake] For the love and regard due to our children, the pledges of conjugall love, in whom we had an equall interest, though they were now taken away.

mine own body] Heb. my belly.

V. 18. young children despised me] Chap.30.1, 10. Or, the wicked.

V.19. All my inward friends abhorred me] Psal.41.9. and 55. 13,14,20. Heb. the men of my secret.

V.20. My bone cleaveth] Besides these great losses, and most cruell unkindnesse, he was touched in his own person, as followeth.

my skin] Psal.102.6. Lam.4.8. All my flesh was consumed; yea, the very gums about my teeth.

and] Or, as.

V.21. for the hand of God hath touched me] Seeing I have these just causes to complain, condemn me not as an hypocrite, especially ye which should comfort me.

hand of God] Ruth 1.13. 1 Sam.6.9.

touched me] Chap.1.11. and 2.5.

V.22. Why do ye persecute me as God] Is it not enough that God doth punish me, except ye, by reproaches, encrease my sorrow?

not satisfied with my flesh?] To see my body wasted, but ye must trouble my minde? as wilde beasts are not satisfied with the flesh, but break the bones of what they prey upon, chap. 31. 31.

V.23. Oh that my words were now written] Heb. Who will give, &c. Which I shall speak. Because they counted him a wicked man, he sets out his hope of resurrection to eternall life.

V.24. in the rock for ever] That posterity may judge of my faith, and the equity of my cause, seeing ye will not.

V.25. I know that my Redeemer liveth] Who shall right me against you, and save my soul.

he shall stand at the later day] It may be read, Shall stand the last upon the ground; that is, shall carry away the victory over all enemies, 1 Cor.15.25,26.

V.26. And though after my skin, worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God] Or, after I shall awake, though this body be destroyed, yet out of my flesh shall I see God.

worms destroy this body] Though worms eat not my skin onely, but my flesh also.

in my flesh shall I see God] Job had a full hope, that his body and soul should enjoy Gods presence in the resurrection.

V.27. Whom

another] Heb. a stranger.

within me] Heb. in my bosome.

V. 28. seeing the root of the matter is found in me?] Or, and what root of matter is found in me? Gods promises are rooted in my heart, and true piety is found there: therefore I should not be condemned as an hypocrite.

V.29. for wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword] Either he means Gods wrath against them, or theirs against him.

that ye may know there is a judgement] To condemn them that judge rashly of others, Matth.7.1,2. Rom.4.4. Jam.4.11,12.

CHAP. XX.

Vers. 2. Therefore] Because thou threatnest us with Gods judgements, chap.19.29.

for this I make haste] To wipe away so foul a crimination.

make haste] Heb. my haste is in me.

V.3. I have heard the check of my reproach] Two things moved him to speak, because Job had touched him, and he thought he had knowledge sufficient to confute Job.

V.4. Knowest thou not this of old] Thou oughtest to know it, for examples of all ages do confirm it.

V.5. That the triumphing of the wicked is short] Psal.37.35,36.

the triumphing of the wicked] That is, their prosperity, that makes them triumph and sing.

is short] Heb. from neer. Newly begun, and will quickly end.

V.6. Though his excellency mount up to the heavens] He would prove Job an hypocrite, because he fell so low, from so great a height.

clouds] Heb. cloud.

V.7. dung] 1 King 14.10.

V.8. dream] Psal.73.20. Isai.29.8.

V.9. The eye also which saw him, shall see him no more] Chap. 7.10.

V. 10. His children shall seek to please the poor] Or, the poor shall oppresse his children. They shall be very poor, that must flatter poor men.

his hands shall restore their goods] Which he hath taken away from others by oppression.

V.11. His bones are full of the sin of his youth] Diseases bred in his bones by the sins of his youth, will carry him to his grave.

V. 12. Though wickednesse be sweet in his mouth] As poison, that is sweet in the mouth, bringeth destruction when it cometh into the body; so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterwards God turneth it to destruction, Prov.23.31,32.

he hide it under his tongue] As meat that he would chew and let down: or, sweet meats kept under the tongue.

V. 13. but keep it still within his mouth] Do not spue it out. He taxeth Job of hypocrisie, and of an ill minde, though his actions seemed good.

within his mouth] Heb. in the midst of his palate.

V.14. It is the gall of asps] Though his evil purposes were sweet to him, like meat, yet the punishment shall be like poison, to destroy him.

V.15. swallowed down riches] Isai.51.44.

V.16. He shall suck the poison of asps] He compareth evil-gotten goods to the venim of asps, which is most dangerous: noting, that Jobs great riches were not truely come by, and therefore God did plague him justly for the same.

V. 17. He shall not see the rivers] Deut. 8.7. Though God give to others abundance of his blessings, yet he shall have no part thereof.

the floods] Or, streaming-brooks.

honey and butter] Isai.7.22.

V.18. according to his substance] Heb. according to the substance of his exchange.

according to his substance, shall the restitution be] The spoilers of the poor shall enjoy their theft but for a time; for God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution; so that it is but an exchange.

V.19. oppressed] Heb. crushed.

V. 20. Surely he shall not feel quietnesse in his belly] Eccles. 5. 13,14.

feel] Heb. know.

in his belly] A similitude taken from meat, as v.15. Psal.59. 15. that troubles the belly.

V.21. There shall none of his meat be left] Or, there shall be none left for his meat. He shall leave nothing to his posterity.

V.22. every hand of the wicked shall come upon him] The wicked shall never be at rest; one wicked man shall seek to destroy another.

wicked] Or, troublesome, or, troubled by him.

V.23. while he is eating] Num.11.33.

V.24. the bowe of steel shall strike him thorow] When a wicked man fleeth from a lesse evil, he falls into a greater, Isai.24.18. Jer.48.43. Am.5.19. Or, in the midst of all his jollity, Gods vengeance shall fall upon him, Psal.78.30,31. Dan.5.5,6.

V.25. the glistring sword cometh out of his gall] It bringeth out his bowels with it.

V.26. All darknesse shall be hid in his secret places] Where he thinks to finde safety, he shall meet with horrible troubles.

a fire not blown shall consume him] Calamities, whose causes are unknown, and which proceed immediately from God, Isai.30.33. Job 1.16.

V.27. The heaven shall reveal his iniquity] By executing Gods judgements upon him for his wickednesse, Rom.1.18.

V.28. The encrease of his house shall depart] His children shall go into captivity.

his goods shall flow away] Like things carried away with a flood, Psal.90.5.

the day of his wrath] Gods wrath.

V.29. the heritage appointed unto him by God] Thus God will plague the wicked.

appointed unto him by God] Heb. of his decree from God.

CHAP. XXI.

Vers.2. Let this be your consolations] Your diligent marking of my words, is all the comfort I look for from you: interrupt me not then, as you did before.

V.3. Suffer me that I may speak] Have patience to hear me a little while.

mock on] Chap.16.10. and 17.2. Thou, O Zophar, that didst interrupt me (chap.20.2.) and mock me; do so again, if my words shall deserve it.

V.4. why should not my spirit be troubled?] I complain to God, and not to you, else I should be troubled; for ye have condemned my cause already: but I hope God will hear and clear me.

troubled] Heb. shortened.

V.5. Mark me] Heb. look unto me. Or, mark my words, or mark my case, and pity me for my afflictions.

lay your hand upon your mouth] Chap.40.4.

V.6. when I remember] Either the change of my estate; or, Gods favouring the wicked, as follows, Psal.119.119,120.

V.7. Wherefore do the wicked live] Psal.17.10. and 73.3,12. Jer.12.1. Hab.1.16. We see it is false thou saidst, chap.20.5, O Zophar; for wicked men thrive long.

V. 8. Their seed is established in their sight] They see their children prosper to their comfort.

V.9. are safe from fear] Heb. are peace from fear.

V.11. They send forth their little ones like a flock] They have store of little ones, Psal.107.41.

V.13. They spend their days in wealth] They live in prosperity all their days, and die without lingring pains, Psal.73.4.

in wealth] Or, in mirth.

V.14. Therefore they say unto God] Chap.22.17.

we desire not the knowledge of thy ways] He sheweth, that God prospers evil men more then good.

V.15. what profit shall we have if we pray unto him?] Mal. 3.14.

V.16. their good is not in their hand] They live as if their wealth were their own; yet I am not of their minde. So this verse and the rest, to the end of the two and twentieth, may be read all by way of question, which argueth a deniall. And the sense is good, else it seems to crosse Jobs scope, who labours to prove, That God doth prosper wicked men. Or, he grants that wicked men may long prosper, and yet God not approve them, but his vengeance, even here, oftentimes overtakes them, Psal.37.

their good is not] Or, is not their good.

the] Or, yet the.

V.17. candle] Or, lamp.

and how oft cometh their destruction upon them?] Sometimes God doth afflict wicked men, but not often.

V. 29. that go by the way?] Which through long travelling have experience, and tokens hereof; to wit, that the wicked may prosper in the world.

V. 30. That the wicked is reserved to the day of destruction] Prov. 16. 4. 2 Pet. 2. 9. This verse may be read thus, That in the day of destruction the wicked are kept back, and are carried out in the day of wrath. That is, they escape the common calamities of the world, and are kept to the day of judgement to be punished.

the day of wrath] Heb. the day of wraths.

V. 31. Who shall declare his way to his face] His power is so great, that no man dare reprove or punish him for his sins.

V. 32. Yet shall he be brought to the grave] This verse may be read thus. At length he is brought to the grave, and remaineth in the tombe: That is, after long prosperitie, he is not brought to the block for his sins; but buried with pomp, and lies quietly in the grave.

remain in the tombe] Heb. watch in the heap.

V. 33. The clods of the valley shall be sweet unto him] He shall rest sweetly in the grave, as others that die before, or after him.

V. 34. How then comfort ye me in vain] In coming to comfort me, why do you dispute against me with false grounds, as if I were wicked, because God afflicteth me, Chap. 14. 4. and 16. 2, 3.

Vers. 2. Can a man be profitable unto God] Chap. 35. 7, 8. Psal. 16. 2. Luke 17. 10. Though man were just, yet God could have no profit thereby. Why then dost thou talk so much of thy righteousnesse?

as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself?] Or, if he may be profitable, doth his good successe depend thereon: Or, but he that is wise, may be profitable to himself? Prov. 9. 12.

V. 3. Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous?] Canst thou adde any joy, or profit to God by being righteous?

V. 4. Will he reprove thee for fear of thee?] Dost thou think that God punisheth thee for being religious, or for fearing God? no, it is for thy wickednesse, as vers. 5. or, because he is afraid of thee; or, if thou didst fear him, would he reprove thee, or quarrell with thee?

for fear of thee] Or, for thy religion.

enter with thee into judgement] Psal. 143. 2.

V. 6. For thou hast taken a pledge from thy brother for nought] Thou hast been cruell, and wouldst do nothing for the poor, but for thy own advantage.

V. 7. water to the weary to drink] Isai. 21. 14.

and] Or, yea.

bread from the hungry] Isai. 58. 7.

V. 8. the mighty man] Heb. the man of arm] When thou wast in authority, thou didst wrong the poor, to please the mighty and honourable.

honourable] Heb. eminent, or, accepted for countenance.

V. 9. Thou hast sent widows away emptie] Whereas thou shouldst have defended the widows, and fatherlesse, by thy authority, and relieved them with thy wealth; thou hast not shewed pitty, but oppresst them.

the arms of the fatherlesse have been broken] Thou tookest from them all power to defend themselves.

V. 10. Therefore snares are round about thee] God hunts thee like a wilde beast, that spoils the countrey; chap. 18. 8, &c.

V. 11. Or darknesse that thou canst not see] Confusion of minde, that thou knowest not how to get out of trouble, Isai. 8. 22.

and abundance of waters cover thee] Of afflictions that overwhelm thee.

V. 12. Is not God in the height of heaven?] If thou passe not for men, yet consider the height of Gods majestie.

behold the height of the starres] That so much the more thou mayest fear God, and reverence him.

the height of the starres] Heb. the head of the starres.

V. 13. And] Or, But.

How] Or, What.

How doth God know?] Psal. 10. 11. and 73. 11. and 94. 7. He reproveth Job as though he denyed Gods providence, and affirmed, That God could not see the things that were done in this world.

V. 14. he walketh in the circuit of heaven] Enjoyes his own felicitie, not regarding what is done below.

V. 15. Hast thou marked the old way] How God hath punished wicked men from the beginning.

V. 16. Which were cut down out of time] Before they need to die by the course of nature, chap. 15. 32. Psal 55. 23. and 102. 24. Eccles. 7. 17.

whose foundation was overflown with a flood] Heb. a flood was powred upon their foundation.

with a flood] It is likely he alludeth to Noahs flood, 2 Pet. 2. 5.

V. 17. Which said unto God] Chap. 21. 14.

for them] Or, to them.

V. 18. Yet he filled their houses with good things] They had no cause to say so, for he had filled their houses with good.

the counsel of the wicked is far from me] Chap. 21. 16. Job said so in words, chap. 21. 16. but I and other godly men say so in truth.

V. 19. The righteous see it] Psal. 107. 42.

and are glad] The just rejoyce at the fall of the wicked, because God gets the glory of his justice, and shews his love to them in destroying their enemies. It may be he means, Noah and his did laugh at them that perished in the deluge. See notes on vers. 16. Psal. 58. 10.

V. 20. Whereas our substance is not cut down] God spared the good: but the wicked he destroyed by fire also, as in Sodom, 2 Pet. 2. 6, 7, 9.

substance] Or, estate.

the remnant of them] Or, their excellency.

V. 21. Acquaint now thy self with him] He exhorteth Job to repent, and to return to God.

with him] That is, with God.

V. 22. lay up his words in thine heart] Psal. 119. 11. Luke 2. 19.

the gold of Ophir] Most precious gold. See 1 King. 9. 28. and 10. 11.

V. 25. the Almightie shall be thy defence] Yea; thou shalt have God for thy protection in all perils, who is better then gold.

defence] Or, gold.

plentie of silver] Heb. silver of strength.

V. 26. and shalt lift up thy face unto God] Chap. 11. 15. Thou shalt boldly call upon God, and expect help from him, 1 Joh. 3. 21, 22.

V. 27. Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him] Psal. 50. 14, 15.

thou shalt pay thy vows] Psal. 116. 14, 18. God will give thee thy desire, that thou mayest have occasion to pay thy vows.

V. 28. the light shall shine upon thy wayes] Gods favour will direct thee to right wayes, and blesse thee in them.

V. 29. When men are cast down] God will deliver his, when the wicked are destroyed round about them: as in the flood, and in Sodom.

and he shall save the humble person] Jam. 4. 6. 1 Pet. 5. 5.

the humble person] Heb. him that hath low eyes.

V. 30. He shall deliver the island of the innocent] Or, the innocent shall deliver the island: or, he shall deliver him that is not innocent. One good man may save a whole countrey, Jere. 5. 1. Or, even those that are wicked may be saved for a good mans sake, Gen. 18. 26, &c.

CHAP. XXIII.

Vers. 2. My stroke] Heb. my hand.

my stroke is heavier then my groaning] I do not complain so much as I have cause.

V. 3. O that I knew where I might finde him] Chap. 13. 3. and 31. 35. I would clear my cause before God, but he will not be found to reason with me.

V. 6. with his great power] He would not deal with me with his absolute power, as with an enemy: but with fatherly affection, as with a childe, Isai. 27. 4, 8. Jere. 10. 24.

but he would put strength in me] Of his mercy he would give me power to answer him.

V. 7. There the righteous might dispute with him] When he of his mercy hath given them strength to maintain their cause.

from my judge] Or, by my judge: That is, by Gods sentence.

V. 8. Be-

V. 8. Behold, I go forward, but he is not there] Why do I desire that which cannot be had. God will not reason with us when we will, but when he will.

V. 10. the way that I take] Heb. the way that is with me.

I shall come forth as gold] God tries me for my profit. As gold comes pure out of the fire, so shall I appear loyall before God, when I come out of affliction, Psal. 66.10. Isai.48.10. Mal. 3. 3.

V. 11. My foot hath held his steps] Psal.44.17, 18. and 18. 21. He denies Eliphaz his bitter charge, chap.22. 5.

V. 12. I have esteemed] Heb. I have hid, or, laid up.

I have esteemed the words of his mouth] His word is more precious unto me, then the meat appointed daily to feed my body, Joh. 4. 34.

my necessary food] Or, my appointed portion.

V. 13. But he is in one minde] Though I be innocent, and know God will clear me in the end; yet if he will afflict me in the mean while, I cannot avoid it.

in one] Or, against one : That is, me.

who can turn him ?] Chap.9. 12,13.

his soul desireth] Psal.115. 3.

V. 14. many such things are with him] In many things man is not able to attain to the cause of Gods judgements: and he deals so with others, as well as with me.

V. 15. Therefore am I troubled at his presence] I am troubled with my present calamities, and afraid of future.

V. 16. God maketh my heart soft] Fearfull, and unable to bear these calamities.

V. 17. Because I was not cut off before the darkneſſe] If God had cut me off before these afflictions, I had not been so fearfull.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Vers. 1. Why, seeing times are not hidden from the Almighty, do they that know him, not see his dayes ?] The first verse may be read thus. Why are not times hidden from the Almightie, seeing they that know him, do not see his dayes. That is, It would make a man think that God doth not know the times of punishing the wicked, because he reveals it to none of his servants.

V. 2. land-marks] Deut. 19. 14. and 27. 17.

feed thereof] Or, feed them.

V. 4. the poor of the earth hide themselves together] They dare not meet the rich, because of their pride or cruelty.

hide themselves together] Prov. 28. 28.

V. 5. rising betimes for a prey] They are very diligent.

the wildernesse yeeldeth food for them] They and theirs live by robbing and murdering.

V. 6. They reap every one his corn in the field] The poor mans, vers. 4.

corn] Heb. mingled corn, or, dredge.

they gather the vintage of the wicked] Heb. the wicked gather the vintage. One wicked man spares not another.

V. 7. They cause the naked to lodge without clothing] Heb. because he hath no clothing. They take it from him.

V. 8. for want of a shelter] The poor are driven by the wicked into rocks and holes, where they cannot lie dry for the rain.

V. 9. from the breast] They so poul the poor, that they cannot keep their children: or, they take them from their parents, and sell them for slaves.

take a pledge of the poor] His garment, wherewith he should be covered or clad; against the law, Exod. 22. 26. Deut. 24. 17.

V. 11. Which make oyl within their walls] Though they labour for them, yet they oppresse them.

tread their wine-presses] Contrary to the law, Deuter. 25. 4.

V. 12. Men grone from out of the citie] For the great oppression and extortion.

the soul of the wounded] Ready to die for famine, like men wounded with the sword, Lam. 4. 9.

crieth out] Crieth out, and calleth for vengeance.

God layeth not folly to them] God doth not condemn the oppressours, but seemeth to passe over it by his silence.

V. 13. that rebell against the light.] That is, against Gods word, because they are reproved thereby, Joh. 3. 20.

V. 14. The murderer rising with the light] Psal. 10. 8. He riseth betimes to do wrong, and holds on all day and night, Psal.36.4. Mic. 2. 1.

V. 15. The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight] By these particular vices, and the license thereunto, he would prove, that God punisheth not the wicked, nor rewardeth the just alwayes in this life.

twilight] Prov. 7. 9.

No eye shall see me] My adultery shall not be known.

V. 16. they know not the light] They fly from the light, least they should be discovered, Joh.3. 19, 20.

V. 18. He is swift as the waters] He meaneth pirats, who rob at sea, and finding wealth there, live in desolate places, not in fruitfull lands among other men.

as] Or, on.

V. 19. Drought and heat consume the snow-waters] After a wicked life they die an easie death, as heat melts the water away easily. See chap.21. 13, 32. Psal.73. 4.

consume] Heb. violently take.

V. 20. The womb shall forget him] He shall be forgotten like other men: or, as if he had never been more, Psal. 31. 12.

V. 22. He draweth also the mightie with his power] After that wicked men have destroyed weak ones, they set upon the strong.

and no man is sure of life] Or, he trusteth not his own life.

V. 23. Though it be given him to be in safetie] The twenty third verse may be read thus. It is given him to be in safetie, and he resteth on it, though his eyes be upon their wayes. That is, God gives wicked men quietnesse, and they presume he will do so still, which makes them bold to oppresse, though God look on.

V. 24. are exalted for a little while] Psal. 73. 17, 18.

are gone] Heb. are not taken] Heb. closed up.

and cut off as the tops of the ears of corn] They die a naturall or violent death, like other men in full age; as corn cut down when it is ripe, or before.

CHAP. XXV.

Vers.2. Dominion and fear are with him] God is the Soveraign over all, full of majestie, guiding the angels: Therefore no man should question his judgements, as thou, O Job, desiredst to do, but submit to them in all humility and reverence.

V. 3. Is there any number of his armies ?] Psal. 68. 17. Dan. 7. 10. No man then can resist him, or hide himself from him.

V. 4. How then can man be justified with God ?] Chap. 4. 17, &c. and 15. 14, &c.

that is born of a woman] Not onely Gods majestie, but also thy own originall corruption should keep thee from pleading with God, Job 14. 4. Psal. 51. 5.

V. 5. Behold, even to the moon, and it shineth not] Look on gold and silver, and so forward up to the moon and starres, if God shew his power over them, they cannot have light; much lesse can man have any excellency but of God.

V. 6. a worm] Psal. 22. 6.

CHAP. XXVI.

Vers. 2. How hast thou helped him that is without power ?] Thou hast shewed thy self a weak comforter to one so low as I am.

V. 3. How hast thou counselled him that hath no wisdom ?] Thy words cannot instruct a fool, as ye count me to be, nor teach him true wisdom.

V. 4. To whom hast thou uttered words ?] Thy speech is vain to a man that understands Gods wayes, as I do: neither dost thou speak by the spirit of God, chap.32. 8.

V. 5. Dead] Or, Liveleſſe.

Dead things are formed from under the waters] Job beginneth to declare the force of Gods power, and providence, in the mines and metals in the deep places of the earth.

and the inhabitants] Or, with the inhabitants.

V. 6. Hell is naked before him] Prov. 15. 11. He knoweth the most hidden things, Heb 4. 13.

V. 7. over the emptie place] He stretcheth the heavens over the empty air, and foundeth the earth on the center of it, which is as nothing to bear so great a weight.

V. 8. the cloud is not rent under them] God shews his great power, in making thin air hold thick water.

V. 9. He holdeth back the face of his throne] The heavens which are called his throne, Isai. 66. 1. he hides from us with clouds.

V. 10. He hath compassed the waters with bounds] He made great hollow places in the earth to lodge the waters in, that they may not drown the earth, Gen. 1. 9. Job 38. 8, 10, 11. Psal. 33. 7. and 104. 9. Prov. 8. 29. Jere. 5. 22.

untill the day and night come to an end] Heb. untill the end of light with darkneſſe. That is, till the world be done, which cannot stand without dayes and nights, Jere. 31. 35, 36

V. 11. The pillars of heaven tremble] Not that heaven hath pillars to uphold it, but he means, The heavens are not strong enough to endure Gods anger. Or, mountains, that seem for their height to uphold heaven, 2 Sam. 22. 8.

and

V. 13. the crooked serpent] Some understand a figure of starres, figured like a serpent, because of the crookednesse: others read, The long serpent: meaning the whale, Isaiah 27. 1.

V. 14. how little a portion is heard of him] If these few things which we see daily with our eyes, declare his great power, and providence, how much more would they appear, if we were able to comprehend all his works?

the thunder of his power who can understand?] Psal. 29. 4.

CHAP. XXVII.

Vers. 1. Moreover] Job expected a while to see if Zophar would reply in his turn, and seeing he did not, he proceeds to clear his integritie.

continued] Heb. added to take up.

V. 2. who hath taken away my judgement] By denying to plead with me, and to clear me before my friends.

vexed my soul] Heb. made my soul bitter.

V. 3. the spirit of God is in my nostrils] That is, the breath which God gave him, Gen. 2. 7. Isai. 2. 22.

V. 4. My lips shall not] Heb. If my lips, &c. Then let me perish. A double oath, one, vers. 2. the other, here.

speak wickednesse] Howsoever men judge of me, yet I will not speak contrary to that which I have said, and so do wickedly in betraying the truth, Job 13. 7.

V. 5. God forbid that I should justifie you] Which condemn me as a wicked man, because the hand of God is upon me.

I will not remove my integritie from me] I will not confesse that God doth punish me as a wicked man, nor accuse my self against my own conscience.

V. 6. reproach me] Or, cast it away, as Judg. 5. 18.

so long] Heb. from my dayes.

V. 7. Let mine enemy be as the wicked] He shews his hatred of wickednesse, by wishing his enemies rather to be so accounted.

V. 8. For what is the hope of the hypocrite] Matth. 16. 26. What advantage hath the dissembler to gain never so much, seeing he shall lose his own soul, and die in despair, chap. 8. 13. and 20. 5.

V. 9. Will God hear his cry when trouble cometh upon him?] Prov. 1. 28. Ezek. 8. 18. John 9. 31. James 4. 3.

V. 10. will he alwayes call upon God?] In adversitie, as well as in prosperitie.

V. 11. by the hand of God] Or, being in the hand, &c. Or, of the hand of God: That is, his judgements.

V. 12. all ye your selves have seen it] Ye have seen God prosper bad men, and crosse good men, and ye will not understand.

altogether vain] Why maintain you then this errour?

V. 13. This is the portion of a wicked man] Sometimes God doth not punish them in their life time, but in their posteritie.

V. 14. for the sword] Hos. 9. 13.

his off-spring shall not be satisfied with bread] His children shall perish for hunger.

V. 15. shall be buried in death] As soon as they are dead, without funerall pomp.

his widows shall not weep] Psal. 78. 64. They that are nearest to them shall not weep for them, but be glad they are gone. Or, they shall not hire mourners for them, Jere. 22. 18. Eccle. 12. 5.

V. 17. the just shall put it on] Eccles. 2. 16. Prov. 28. 8.

V. 18. He buildeth his house as a moth] His house is easily cast down, as a moth is destroyed, chap. 8. 14. Psal. 39. 11. and 58. 9. Or, as a booth, which lasts but while the fruit is gathered, for the watchman to lodge in.

V. 19. he shall not be gathered] Buried honourably with his fathers. He shall die in captivitie.

he openeth his eyes] A man may look for him, but he cannot finde him, Psal. 37. 36.

V. 20. Terrours take hold on him as waters] Chap. 18. 11.

a tempest stealeth him away in the night] Suddenly as a deluge coming in the night. God sends many judgements in the night, that they may be more terrible, as not expected, Exod. 12. 29. 2 Kings 19. 35. Isai. 15. 1. Dan. 5. 30.

V. 21. The east-winde carrieth him away] Hos. 13. 15.

V. 22. he would fain flee] Heb. in fleeing he would flee.

V. 23. Men shall clap their hands at him] In sign of wonderment, and derision, as 1 Kings 9. 8. Lam. 2. 15. Ezek. 25. 6.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Vers. 1. A vein] Or, a mine.

V. 2. earth] Or, dust.

stone] Or, ore.

V. 3. He setteth an end to darknesse, and searcheth out all perfection] Or, an end is set to darknesse, and all perfection is searched out.

He setteth an end to darknesse] Man can carry light into the bowels of the earth, and finde out metals, that else would have lain hid for ever.

V. 4. The flood breaketh out from the inhabitant] Water unexpected rise in mine-pits to hinder mens work, but they by art carry them away.

V. 5. out of it cometh bread] That is, corn: and underneath is brimstone, or cole, which easily conceiveth fire.

bread] Or, bread-corn, Isai. 28. 28.

V. 6. The stones of it are the place of sapphirs] There are metals under the earth, which neither fowls nor beasts can come at.

dust of gold] Or, gold-ore.

V. 7. which the vulture's eye hath not seen] Birds of prey that have quick eyes, and can fly to places inaccessible, cannot come at these metals, though they search all corners for food.

V. 9. He putteth forth his hand upon the rock] Metall-men can work in stony places.

rock] Or, flint.

he overturneth the mountains by the roots] It may be read thus. He turneth it up from the roots of the mountains: That is, he can dig under mountains to bring forth gold.

V. 10. He cutteth out rivers among the rocks] He brings waters thorow mountains to move his engines, or wash his metals.

his eye seeth every precious thing] He findes out the choicest stones, whereof are made the richest jewels.

V. 11. He bindeth the floods from overflowing] He can stop the waters under ground, while he brings forth his minerals.

from overflowing] Heb. from weeping.

V. 12. But where shall wisdom be found?] Man may bring metals to light, but he cannot finde out the reasons of Gods proceeding, in prospering wicked men, and afflicting good: or, attain to spirituall wisdom in the wayes of God, Rom. 11. 33, 34.

V. 13. Man knoweth not the price thereof] No man can get it for any price: or, no man knoweth the value of it.

V. 14. The depth saith] Rom. 11. 33, 34.

V. 15. It cannot be gotten for gold] Heb. fine gold shall not be given for it. Prov. 3. 13, 14. and 8. 11, 19. and 16. 16.

V. 16. It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir] Heb. laid on the ground, as goods were wont to be, when men lived by exchange, and are yet in some parts, where they lay a heap of salt against a heap of other things to be changed for it, that buyer and seller may see they be of equall worth, Lam. 4. 2.

V. 17. The gold and the crystall cannot equall it] Heb. Be set in order against it. See notes on vers. 16.

jewels of fine gold] Or, vessel of fine gold.

V. 18. No mention shall be made of corall] They are not worthy to be named in comparison of wisdom.

corall] Or, Ramoth.

prepared] Or, prepareth.

searched] Or, searcheth.

V. 28. And] Or, But.

Behold, the fear of the Lord] God keeps that wisdom to himself, whereby he guides mens affairs; but hath revealed another wisdom to men in his commandments to guide them, Deut. 29. 29.

the fear of the Lord] Psal. 111. 10. Prov. 1. 7. and 9. 10.

that is wisdom] The way to true and saving wisdom: or, the fruit of it.

CHAP. XXIX.

Vers. 1. Continued] Heb. added to take up.

V. 3. When his candle shined upon my head] When I was in prosperity, Psal. 132. 17.

candle] Or, lamp.

light] Psal. 18. 28.

I walked through darkness] When I could bear common calamities, encouraged by the comforts left me.

V. 4. when the secret of God was upon my tabernacle] When Gods providence made all I had to prosper.

V. 6. When I washed my steps with butter] By these similitudes, he declares the prosperitie that he was in. He could have washed his feet in butter, he had so much, Gen. 49. 11. Job 20. 7. Psal. 81. 16.

me out] Heb. with me.

V. 7. When I went out to the gate] To the place of judgement, which was by the gate of the city. Job was a magistrate, Ruth 4. 1. Jere. 38. 7.

V. 8. and hid themselves] For reverence to me.

and stood up] Stood up till I was gone past them, Levit. 19. 32.

V. 9. and laid their hand on their mouth] Held their peace to hear me speak, chap. 21. 5. Prov. 30. 32. So they acknowledged my wisdom.

V. 10. The nobles held their peace] Heb. the voice of the nobles was hid. Because of my wisdom, dignitie and beneficence, Luke 11. 27.

V. 11. then it blessed me] All that heard me, approved and praised me.

it gave witnesse to me] Testifying that I did good justice.

V. 13. The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came upon me] I delivered him that was in distresse, and he prayed God to blesse me.

V. 14. I put on righteousnesse] Psal. 132. 9, 16.

my judgement was as a robe] I delighted to do justice, as others did to wear costly apparell.

V. 15. I was eyes to the blinde] I gave counsell to the ignorant, and means to the poor.

V. 16. the cause which I knew not] Deut. 13. 14. Prov. 25. 2.

V. 17. I brake the jaws of the wicked] I hindered great men from oppressing others, as he that strikes out the teeth of a wilde beast. I kept them from hurting some, and rescued others, Psal. 3. 7. and 58. 6.

the jaws] Heb. the jaw-teeth, or, the grinders.

out of his teeth] 1 Sam. 17. 35. Am. 3. 12.

V. 18. Then I said] Psal. 30. 6.

I shall die in my nest] At home in my bed, without trouble, and unquietnesse in old age. A metaphor taken from birds, Psal. 104. 12, 17.

V. 19. spread] Heb. opened.

by the waters] My felicitie did encrease as a tree growing by the waters, Psal. 1. 3. Jere. 17. 8.

V. 20. fresh] Heb. new.

my bowe was renewed in my hand] My strength grew more and more daily, Gen. 49. 24.

renewed] Heb. changed.

V. 21. and waited] Till I had done speaking, and agreeing thereunto.

V. 22. they spake not again] Either to adde to, or contradict my sentence.

my speech dropped upon them] Like a pleasing rain falling on a dry ground: my words delighted them, Deut. 32. 2.

V. 23. as for the rain] As the dry earth waiteth for the rain, Psal. 63. 1. and 65. 10.

they opened their mouth wide] As the earth gapeth in a drought, Prov. 30. 16.

for the latter rain] The latter rain was rare, but desirable to ripen the corn: or, after harvest to bring up the latter crop, Jere. 5. 24. Deut. 11. 14.

V. 24. they beleeved it not] They thought a man of my gravitie would not be so familiar with them.

the light of my countenance they cast not down] My familiaritie did not cause them to grieve, anger, or contemn me.

V. 25. I chose out their way] I had them at command.

and sat chief] I was both loved and feared by them.

as] Or, and as.

that comforteth the mourners] Alluding to the manner of those that resorted to their friends in times of heavinesse, to comfort them, chap. 2. 11. and 42. 11.

CHAP. XXX.

Verse 1. They that are younger then I] That is, mine estate is changed, and whereas before the ancient men were glad to do me reverence, chap. 29. 8. the young men now contemn me.

younger then I] Heb. of fewer dayes then I.

to have set with the dogs of my flock] To set like dogs to keep the wolves from my sheep.

V. 2. whereto might the strength of their hands profit me] They were so feeble they could not work.

old age was perished] They had lived long in vain, and got no experience, so that their yeers were spent unprofitably, and the benefit of their dayes lost.

V. 3. solitarie] Or, dark as the night.

in former time] Heb. yester-night. That is, lately.

in former time desolate and waste] Newly laid waste by the enemy. No man would let them dwell among them.

V. 4. Who cut up mallows by the bushes] They fared very hard and poorly.

and juniper-roots for their meat] Juniper roots are better for fire, then for meat.

for their meat] Or, for to warm them.

V. 6. caves] Heb. holes.

V. 7. Among the bushes they brayed] Like wilde asses for want of food, or being pricked with thorns, chap. 6. 5.

under the nettles they were gathered together] Or, had wheals gathered on them, being stung with nettles.

V. 8. base-men] Heb. men of no name, Gen. 6. 4.

V. 9. And now am I their song] Psal. 35. 15. and 69. 12. Job 17. 6. Lam. 3. 14, 63. They that are younger then I, whose fathers were so base, vers. 1. and their grand-fathers also, vers. 8. made songs of me, and mocked at my misery.

V. 10. and spare not to spit in my face] Heb. and withhold not spittle from my face.

to spit in my face] In sign of the greatest contempt, Num. 12. 14. Isai. 50. 6.

V. 11. Because he hath loosed my cord] The band of authoritie, whereby I kept them in aw, chap. 12. 18.

they have also let loose the bridle before me] They have cast off that obedience they ow me, and carried themselves licentiously against me.

V. 12. they raise up against me the wayes of their destruction] Seek to destroy me, as souldiers do raise a mount to batter a city, chap. 19. 12. Lam. 3. 5.

V. 13. they have no helper] They dare set upon me, though no great man countenance them. So full of malice and boldnesse is this base people against me.

V. 15. my soul] Heb. my principall one. Heb. my princesse. Because the soul rules over the body.

my welfare passeth away as a cloud] The means of escaping out of my present misery.

V. 16. my soul is poured out upon me] Melted with grief, 1 Sam. 1. 15. Psal. 42. 4.

V. 17. My bones are pierced in me] His troubles kept him from sleeping, chap. 7. 14. and 17. 12.

in the night-season] His pains pierced his flesh, and went into the very bones.

my sinews take no rest] Because of extreme inflammation.

V. 18. is my garment changed] With the corrupt matter that runs out of my sores: and is as stiff upon me as the collar of my coat.

V. 19. He hath cast me into the mire] God hath brought me into contempt.

V. 20. I cry unto thee] Psal. 22. 2. Lam. 3. 44.

V. 21. Thou art become cruell to me] Contrary to thy nature and former bounty, thou dealest harshly with me, Psal. 77. 9. Jere. 30. 14.

become cruell] Heb. turned to be cruel, Isai. 63. 10.

thy strong hand] Heb. the strength of thy hand.

V. 22. Thou liftest me up to the winde] His afflictions hurried him up and down like a tempest, or whirl-winde. They gave him no rest, chap. 27. 21.

substance] Or, wisdom.

V. 23. thou wilt bring me to death] I know I shall die shortly, and come to the grave, Psal. 49. 14.

V. 24. Howbeit he will not stretch out his hand to the grave] Men cry when God kils them; but he afflicts them not in the grave. My comfort is, I shall be quiet there.

grave] Heb. heap.

V. 25. Did not I weep for him that was in trouble] Psal. 35. 13. Rom. 12. 15. I pitied others in their misery, yet am not pitied.

for him that was in trouble] Heb. for him that was hard of day.

V. 26. When] Or, Yet when.

I looked for good] Jere. 8. 15.

V. 27. the dayes of affliction prevented me] Came upon me unlooked for.

V. 28. I

29.20. My Bow-] It is from the Lord, and it's a high favour from the Lord, When the Estimation, Power, and Authority of Magistrates, are Renewed, and daily confirmed to them.

31.14. —— cùm surrexerit ad judi—candum Deus, —— Vulg.

V.28. I went mourning without the sun] Psal.38.6. Not delighting in any worldly thing, not so much as in the light of the sun.

I cried in the congregation] I cannot forbear crying out in company.

V.29. I am a brother to dragons] Psal.102.6. I love solitarinesse and mourning, Mic.1.8. as wilde beasts do.

owls] Or, ostriches.

V.30. My skin is black upon me] With heat of affliction, Psal.119.83. Lam.4.8. and 5.10.

CHAP. XXXI.

Vers. 1. I made a covenant with mine eyes] To keep them from all wanton looks.

V. 2. what portion of God is there from above ?] For such as are wanton. Or, what portion for me ? I fare as bad as if I had been wanton.

V.3. a strange punishment] Such punishments as men inflict upon strangers, Obad.v.12. or, an extraordinary judgement from God, Isai.28.21.

V.4. Doth not he see my ways] 2 Chron. 16.9. Chap.34.21. Prov.5.21. and 15.3. Seeing great plagues are for the wicked, and God knows I am none, why doth he deal so hardly with me?

V.5. If I have walked with vanitie, or if my foot hath hasted to deceit] The form of an oath; If I have done so, then let me perish, chap.1.11. Or read it, I have not walked with vanitie, nor my foot hasted to deceit. Or, let the sixth verse be as a parenthesis, and the speech continued, as Psal.7.4,5.

V.6. Let me be weighed in an even balance] Heb. Let him weigh me in balances of justice.

V.7. my step hath turned out of the way] Chap.23.11.

mine heart walked after mine eyes] To accomplish the lust of mine eyes, Ezek.6.9. and 20.24. Matth.5.28. Eccles.11.9.

V. 8. let another eat] According to the curse of the law, Deut.28.33.

V.10. let my wife grinde unto another] Let her be abused by others; or, let her be a slave to grinde for them, Judg. 16.21. Lam.5.13.

V.11. iniquitie to be punished by the judges] Vers.28.

by the judges] A capitall crime, to be punished with death, Gen.38.24. Levit.20.10. Deut.22.22.

V.12. fire that consumeth] Prov.6.27.

that consumeth to destruction] Though man neglect to punish adulterers, yet Gods wrath will consume them.

V.13. when they contended with me] When they complained that they were ill intreated by me.

V.14. When God riseth up?] To judge me for my sins, or, for oppressing my inferiours, Col.4.1.

V.15. Did not he that made me in the womb, make him ?] He knew that God would punish him for oppressing his servant, because he is Gods creature, as well as he himself, chap.34.19. Prov.14.31. and 17.5. Mal.2.10.

did not one fashion us in the womb ?] Or, did he not fashion us in one womb ?

V. 16. or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail] By long waiting for the fulfilling of her request, Psal.119.123.

V.18. as with a father] He nourished the fatherlesse, and maintained the widows cause.

her] That is, the widow.

V.19. If I have seen any perish for want of clothing] If I did but see one naked, I gave him clothing, though he did not ask me, Luk.6.30. Matth.25.36.

V.20. blessed me] Deut.24.13.

V.21. If I have lift up my hand against the fatherlesse]To smite, oppresse, or do him injury, Isai.58.4.

when I saw my help in the gate] When others would have assisted me in oppressing him.

V.22. Then let mine arm fall from my shoulder-blade] Let me rot, and fall in pieces.

the bone,] Or, the chanell-bone.

V.23. For destruction from God was a terrour to me] I refrained not from sinning because I feared men; but for fear of God, Gen.39.9. and 42.18. Neh.5.15.

V.24. hope] Psal.49.6. and 52.7. and 62.10.

V. 25. If I rejoiced because my wealth was great] If I made riches my chief joy, Luk.12.19. and 16.19, Jam.5.5.

gotten much] Heb. found much.

V.26. If I beheld the sun when it shined] If I was proud of my worldly prosperity, which is meant by the shining of the sun, and brightnesse of the moon. Some understand it of idolizing those creatures.

the sun] Heb. the light.

in brightnesse] Heb. bright.

V.27. or my mouth hath kissed my hand] Heb. my hand hath kissed my mouth. If mine own doings dotingly delighted me: or, if I have adored those creatures, as this rite implyes, Hos. 13.2.

V. 28. This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judge] Verse 11.

I should have denied the God that is above] By putting confidence in any thing but him alone.

my mouth] Heb. my palate.

V.31. If the men of my tabernacle said not] My servants moved me to be revenged of mine enemy, yet did I never wish him hurt.

V.32. to the traveller] Or, to the way.

V.33. as Adam] Or, after the manner of men.

Adam] Gen.3.12. Hos.6.7.

V.34. Did I fear a great multitude] I did not carry my self like a tyrant, that is afraid to look out of doors: or, was I terrified by any might or multitude from doing right ?

V.35. behold, my desire is, that the Almightie would answer me] Or, behold my signe is, that the Almightie will answer me.

V.36. and binde it as a crown to me] This book of accusation should be a commendation to me.

V.37. as a prince would I go neer unto him] With an heroicall and undaunted spirit, as being cleared by my own conscience.

V.38. If my land crie against me] That I have got it by extortion or oppression, Hab.2.11,12.

complain] Heb. weep.

V.39. the fruits thereof] Heb. the strength thereof.

without money] Either not paying for the purchase, 1 King. 21. or, not paying the labourers for their work, Jerem.22.13. Mal.3.5. Jam.5.4.

caused the owners thereof to lose their life] Heb. caused the soul of the owners thereof to expire, or, breathe out.

V.40. cockle] Or, noisome weeds.

The words of Job are ended] That is, the talk which he had with his three friends; for he spake afterwards to God, chap. 40.3. and 42.1.

CHAP. XXXII.

Vers.1. To answer] Heb. from answering.

he was righteous in his own eyes] They could not perswade him, but that God dealt too hardly with him.

in his own eyes] Luk.16.15. Prov.30.12.

V.2. the Buzite] Which came of Buz the son of Nahor Abrahams brother.

of Ram] Or, as the Chaldee paraphrase readeth, Abram: or, Ram for Aram, as Dumah for Edom, Isai.21.11.

he justified himself rather then God] By making himself wronged, and charging God with rigour.

himself] Heb. his soul.

V.4. waited till Job had spoken] Heb. expected Job in words.

because they were elder then he] Job and his friends: therefore he stayed till Job and they had done speaking.

elder] Heb elder for days.

V.6. young] Heb. few of days.

durst not] Heb. feared.

V.7. I said, Days should speak] Meaning the ancient, which have experience, chap.12.12. and 15.10.

V. 8. But there is a spirit in man] But I see understanding is a speciall gift of God, coming not from nature, nor age, Jer.5.5. Eccles.4.13.

the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding] Chap. 38.36. Prov.2.6. Eccles.2.26. Dan.1.17. and 2.21.

V.11. reasons] Heb. understandings.

whilest you searched out what to say] Against Job, to prove that his afflictions were according to his sins.

what to say] Heb. words.

V.13. We have found out wisedom] And flatter your selves, as though you had overcome him.

God thrusteth him down] Chap.19.5,6.

V.14. directed his words] Or, ordered his words.

neither will I answer him with your speeches] He useth almost the like argument, but to another end; to prove that Job had wronged God, but not that he was an hypocrite: and therefore God never blames Elihu, as he did the rest.

V.15. they left off speaking] Heb. they removed speeches from themselves.

V. 18. For I am full of matter] I have conceived in my minde great store of reasons.

matter] Heb. words.

the spirit within me] Heb. the spirit of my belly.

the spirit within me constraineth me] Zeal within me urgeth me to speak, as winde in the belly seeks a passage, Jer.20.9. Psal. 39.3.

V.19. my belly is as wine which hath no vent] My minde is stuft with matter, and must ease it self by speaking.

hath no vent] Heb. is not opened.

V.20. that I may be refreshed] Heb. that I may breathe.

V.21. Let me not] Do not expect that I should flatter.

accept any mans person] Job had taxed his friends of this before, chap.13.7,8. and 17.5.

neither

neither let me give flattering titles unto man] I will neither have regard to his riches, credites nor authority; but will speak the very truth, Matth.22.16.

V.22. For I know not] I dare not flatter, I approve it not. So knowing is taken, Psal.1.6. or, I cannot flatter, as Jerem. 8. 12.

flattering titles] The Hebrew word signifieth, to hide ones name for honour sake, and give him some other name. He would give no man undue titles.

my Maker would soon take me away] Destroy me by a violent death, Psal.28.3.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Vers. 2. IN my mouth] Heb. in my palate.

V.3. clearly] In Hebrew, purely. I will fan or scour my words.

V.4. The spirit of God hath made me] Gen.2.7. Thou mayest boldly plead with me, for I am a man like thy self, chap.9.32.

breath of the Almighty hath given me life] Chap.27.3.

V.6. Behold, I am according to thy wish in Gods stead] Chap. 9.35. and 13.20,21.

according to thy wish] Heb. according to thy mouth. Because Job wished to dispute his cause with some man that might speak for God, and not be too majesticall for him, Elihu accepts of those terms, chap.13.21.

formed out of the clay] Heb. cut out of the clay.

V.7. hand be heavy] Psal.38.2.

V. 8. Surely thou hast spoken] I passe by those things thou hast spoken well. The first thing I except against in thy speech is, that thou hast said, God hath dealt too hardly with thee, and afflicted thee more then thy sins required, and dealt with thee as with a wicked man, and an enemy.

in mine hearing] Heb. in mine ears.

V.9. I am clean without transgression] Job 9.17. I have committed no transgression worthy of this punishment. No doubt Job knew he was guilty of sin; but he thought he had not deserved so great afflictions.

V.10. he counteth me for his enemie] Chap.13.24.

V.11. He putteth my feet in the stocks] Chap.13.27.

V.12. in this thou art not just] Thou mayest be a good man, but thou dealest unjustly with God, in accusing him to deal too hardly with thee.

V. 13. for he giveth not account of any of his matters] God is supreme, and not tied to give account to any why he scourges them; and therefore thou art unjust to demand it, Rom.9.20, Matth.20.15, as thou doest, chap.10.2.

he giveth not account] Heb. he answereth not.

V.14. For] Or, When.

For God speaketh once] That which thou requirest hath been done sometimes: God hath by revelations acquainted men for what sinnes he correcteth them, as Gen.20.6. and 31.24. Dan.4.5. but this is not perpetuall. Or, God doth call upon men more then once, to consider their ways; and they take no notice of it.

once, yea twice] Psal.62.11.

V.15. In a dream] God did use to acquaint men with his will by dreams, afflictions, or prophets, before the word was written.

V.16. he openeth] Heb. he revealeth, or, uncovereth.

he openeth the ears of men] Reveals his counsell to them, chap. 36. 10, 15. or, when men will not take notice, God makes them attend by afflictions, Isai.28.19. Mic.6.9.

sealeth their instruction] Signifies that he will chastise them for their sins, as surely, as if he had set it down under hand and seal: or, doth ratifie his former word by afflictions.

V.17. purpose] Heb. work.

and hide pride from man] Make it not be. Things hidden, are to men as if they were not.

V.18. from perishing by the sword] Heb. from passing by the sword.

V.19. He is chastened also with pain upon his bed] Heb. reproved: That is, he is put in minde of his sins by affliction, as Gen.42.21. Psal.39.11.

V.20. So that his life abhorreth bread] Psal.107.18.

daintie meat] Heb. meat of desire.

V.23. a messenger with him] A man sent of God to declare his will, why God sends this disease upon him, as Elihu was now to Job.

one among a thousand] A singular man, and as one chosen out of a thousand, Eccles.7.28. which is able to declare unto man the way of reconciliation, whereby he may be upright.

V.24. Then he is gracious unto him] There is great hope of Gods mercy to sinners, when he sends able preachers among them. If, being admonished, they repent, God will forgive them.

saith, Deliver him] God will say to the messenger, Tell him that I will deliver him; for I am reconciled to him through Christs death.

a ransome] Or, an atonement.

V. 25. His flesh shall be fresher then a childes] He shall feel Gods favour, and rejoyce: declaring hereby, wherein standeth the true joy of the faithfull; and that God will restore him to health of body, which is a token of his blessing, 2 King.5.14. Psal.103 5.

then a childes] Heb. then childhood.

V.26. he will render unto man his righteousnesse] God will forgive his sins, and accept him as just.

V.27. He looketh upon men] Either God, or his interpreter. Some understand it of the sick man recovered, perswading others, by his example, to seek for mercy, Psal.51.13.

He looketh upon men, and if any say, I have sinned] Or, he shall look upon men, and say, I have sinned, &c.

I have sinned] 2 Sam.12.13.

and perverted that which was right] That is, done wickedly.

and it profited me not] But my sin hath been the cause of Gods wrath toward me, and done me no good, Rom.6.21. Ephes. 5. 11.

V.28. He will deliver his soul from going into the pit, and his life] Or, he hath delivered my soul, &c. and my life, Isai.38.17.

He will deliver his soul] God will forgive the penitent sinner.

V.29. oftentimes] Heb. twice and thrice. As oft as a sinner afflicted doth repent: or, all before mentioned, from v.14.

V.30. to be enlightened with the light of the living] That he may be seen among men walking in the light, that lay obscure before, and almost buried, Psal.116.9. and 56.13.

V.32. If thou hast any thing to say] Any defence or argument to object against what I have said. Thus he gives Job free leave to answer this, before he object more against him.

I desire to justifie thee] Not to condemn thy person for an hypocrite, as thy friends have done; but onely shew thee thy errour: and if I mistake in charging thee, shew me my errour, and I will clear thee.

hearken unto me] Psal.34.11.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

Vers.2. O Ye wise men] Ye that think your selves wise; meaning Jobs friends. Or, if ye wise indeed, ye will get profit by my words, Prov.1.5.

V.3. For the ear trieth words] Chap.11.12.

mouth] Heb. palate.

V.4. Let us choose to us judgement] Let us lay aside prejudice, and try the matter uprightly.

V.5. I am righteous] Chap,13.18. The second thing Elihu accuseth Job of, is, That he had maintained that he had a good cause, but God would not suffer him to plead it: which is, in effect, to accuse God of injustice.

God hath taken away my judgement] Chap.27.2.

V.6. Should I lie against my right?] Should I confesse against my conscience that I am wicked, or an hypocrite? I will never do it, chap.27.4,6.

my wound] Heb. mine arrow, chap.6.4.

without transgression] Chap.9.17. I am sorer punished then my sin deserveth.

V.7. who drinketh up scorning like water?] Chap. 15. 16. Is full of scornfulnesse within, and vomits it out against God, chap.10.3. or, doth it as with a kinde of delight and greedinesse.

V.8. Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquitie] Thinks, as wicked men do, That it is in vain to serve God, Mal.3.14.

V. 9. It profiteth a man nothing, that he should delight himself with God] The third thing Job is accused of, is, Discouraging men from piety. Job had not said so in terms, but he gathered it by consequence out of his words, chap.9.22. for if God destroy good and bad, what good comes by serving him?

V.10. men of understanding] Heb. men of heart.

far be it from God, that he should do wickednesse] Deut. 32. 4. Chap.8.3. and 36.23. Psal.92.15. Rom.9.14.

that he should do wickednesse] To punish men without a cause, or to punish good and bad alike.

V.11. For the work of a man shall he render unto him] Psal.62. 12. Prov.24.12. Jerem. 32.19. Ezek. 33.20. Matth. 16. 27. Rom.2.6. 2 Cor.5.10. 1 Pet.1.17. Apoc.22.12.

V. 13. Who hath given him a charge over the earth?] God is supreme: his will is the rule of justice: how can he do wrong then? Gen.18.25. Job 8.3. and 21 22. Rom.3.5.

the whole world?] Heb. all of it.

V.14. If he set his heart upon man] Psal.104.29. To destroy him.

upon man] Heb. upon him.

his breath] The breath of life which he gave man.

V.15. All flesh shall perish together] Gen.3.19. Eccles.12.7.

V.17. Shall even he that hateth right govern?] If God were not not just, why should he, or how could he govern the world? Rom.3.5,6.

govern] Heb. binde.

V.18. Is it fit to say to a king] Or, Who saith to a king.

Is it fit to say to a king, Thou art wicked?] Wilt thou condemn God, who judgeth without partiality, and condemns wicked kings.

V.19. How much lesse to him that accepteth not] Or, who accepteth not.

accepteth not the persons] Deut.10.17. 2 Chron.19.7. Acts 10.34. Rom.2.11. Gal.2.6. Ephes.6.9. Coloss.3.25. 1 Pet. 1.17.

V.20. at midnight] When they look not for it, Exod.12.29.

the mightie shall be taken away] Heb. they shall take away the mightie.

without hand] Miraculously, and without means, Dan.2.45.

V.21. For his eyes are upon the ways of man] 2 Chron.16.9. Chap.31.4. Prov.5.21. and 15.3. Jer.16.17.

V.23. more then right] God doth not afflict man beyond his desert, that he should have occasion to contend with him, or sue him for false judgement, Ezra 9.13.

enter] Heb. go.

V.24. without number] Heb. without searching out.

V.25. Therefore] Hence it appears, that he knows their sins, because he destroys them.

destroyed] Heb. crushed.

V.26. in the open sight of others] Heb. in the place of beholders. Openly, in the sight of all men, that others may beware.

V.27. from him] Heb. from after him.

V.28. So that they cause the crie of the poor to come unto him] God hears the prayers of the oppressed complaining of their persecutours, Exod.2.24. Psalm 12.5.

V.30. That the hypocrite reign not] He puts down tyrants, that they may oppresse no more.

hypocrite] Or, prophane.

V.31. Surely, it is meet to be said unto God] The one and thirtieth verse may be thus translated: Surely thou shouldest addresse thy self to God, saying, I have born chastisement, I will not offend any more. He turns his speech to Job: In stead of striving against Gods justice, thou shouldst seek for mercy from him.

I will not offend any more] Shew me my secret sins, that I may repent of them, Psal.19.12.

V.33. Should it be according to thy minde?] Heb. Should it be from with thee? The three and thirtieth verse may be read thus, Should he reward it according to thy minde? though thou have despised the one, and chosen the other, yet will not I: therefore speak what thou knowest. That is, why should God reward thy goodnesse or sin, how and when thou wouldest? though thou hast rejected to submit to Gods mercy, and callest for justice, yet I dare not do so: if thou know better, teach me.

V.34. Let men of understanding tell me] The four and thirtieth verse may be read thus; Men of understanding will say as I, and a wise man will hearken unto me. That is, they will like my way better then thine: meaning Jobs.

of understanding] Heb. of heart.

V.35. Job hath spoken without knowledge] Or, That Job. They will consent with me, that Job hath spoken foolishly.

without knowledge] Chap.35.16.

V.36. My desire is that Job may be tried] Or, My father, let Job be tried.

unto the end] That he may speak as much as he can, that we may answer him, and all the wicked that shall use such arguments.

V.37. For he addeth rebellion unto his sin] If this be done, he will maintain that errour out of rebellion, that now he maintains out of ignorance.

For he addeth] Or, For else he will adde.

clappeth] Or, will clap.

clappeth his hands] In token of victory over us, Psal.47.1. and 98.8.

multiplieth] Or, will multiply.

CHAP. XXXV.

Verse.2. That thou saidst] To wit, by consequence; for he proveth it out of other words. And this is the fourth accusation, That Job had disparaged God, affirming, by consequence, That he regarded not righteous men, because Job had said, Good men gained no more by piety, then ill men by sinne.

V.3. What advantage will it be unto thee] Chap.9.22. and 10.15.

if I be cleansed from my sin] Or, by it more then by sin.

V.4. I will answer thee] Heb. I will return to thee words.

thy companions with thee] Either he means his three friends that had disputed with him before, or some others present, that favoured Jobs cause. See Notes on chap.18.2.

V.5. which are higher then thou] If thou canst not darken the heavens by thy sin, nor cleer them by thy righteousnesse, because they are far above thee; much lesse canst thou hurt God by the one, or help him by the other, who is farre above the heavens.

V.6. If thou sinnest, what dost thou against him?] Thou canst take nothing from God by thy wickednesse, nor adde any thing to him by thy righteousnesse.

V.7. If thou be righteous, what givest thou him?] Chap.22.3. Psal.16.2. Rom.11.35.

V.8. thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art] Either he means, Thy wickednesse may hurt thy self, and goodnesse profit thy self: or else, The one may hurt other men, and the other do them good.

V.9. By reason of the multitude of oppressions, they make the oppressed to crie] By thy wickednesse thou mayest hurt men, and cause them to complain of thee.

V.10. But none saith, Where is God] Men are more ready to take notice of wrongs done by others, then to praise God for good received from him; and therefore God will not hear their prayers. It may be he means, God heard not Job, because he was more ready to complain, then to praise God.

my maker] He alludeth to the Trinity: or, he speaketh of God in the plurall number, for honour sake, Isai.54.5.

who giveth songs in the night] Matter of praise, Psal.42.8. and 149.5.

V.12. There they crie] See Notes on v.9.

V.13. Surely, God will not hear vanity] Chap.27.9. Prov.1.29. Isai.1.13. Jer.11.11. Vain men when they pray.

V.14. thou shalt not see him] Chap.23.8,9. A fifth accusation of Job, that he had complained, That God came neer to him in his works, but would not appear to him, that he might plead his cause with him. His answer is, That he may boldly trust, that God will do him right in the end; for God is just, however he judged of him.

V.15. because it is not so] Because thou trustest not in him, nor expectest righteous judgement from him.

he] That is, God.

he] That is, Job.

he knoweth it not in great extremitie] Though God have greatly afflicted him for his errour.

V.16. Therefore] It appears by all that I have said, that Job is in an errour.

he multiplieth words without knowledge] Chap.34.35.

CHAP. XXXVI.

Verse.2. That I have yet to speak on Gods behalf] Heb. that there are yet words for God.

V.3. from far] He sheweth, that when we speak of God, we must lift our spirits more high then our naturall sense is able to reach.

V.4. he that is perfect in knowledge is with thee] Thou shalt perceive that I am a faithfull instructer, and that I speak to thee in the Name of God.

V.5. mighty] Chap.37.23.

and despiseth not any] Though God be powerfull, yet he is no tyrant, but ruleth justly, and doth every one right, and respecteth not the unequall conditions of men, contrary to Jobs speech, chap.10.3. and 12.7. and 23.13. and 30.21.

mighty in strength and wisedom] Chap.9.4. and 12.13,16.

wisedom] Heb. heart.

V.6. He preserveth not the life of the wicked] That is, he destroyeth, Psal.55.23. and 104.35.

are they on the throne] Psal.113.8.

V.8. bound in fetters] Psal.107.10.

in fetters] So afflictions are called, because they are as a prison to good men, for their correction, chap.13.27.

V.9. sheweth them their work] Psal.50.21.

their work] He will move their hearts to feel their sinnes, that they may come to him by repentance. So he dealt with Manasseh.

V.10. openeth also their ear to discipline] Chap.33.16,23.

V.11. spend their dayes in prosperity] Chap.21.13. Isai.1.19.

V.12. But if they obey not, they shall perish by the sword] The righteous, of whom he spake, v.7. these may be slain for their sinnes.

they shall perish by the sword] Heb. they shall passe away by the sword.

they shall die without knowledge] Because they would not take knowledge of the cause of their afflictions, when God revealed it unto them.

V.13. the hypocrites in heart heap up wrath] They who are maliciously bent against God, and flatter themselves in their vices, vices, grow worse in their afflictions, and encrease their plagues, 2 Chron.28.22.

they crie not when he bindeth them] When they are afflicted, they seek not to God for succour, 2 King.16.12. Rev.16.11.

V.14. They die] Heb. their soul dieth.

They die in youth] They die of some vile death, and that before they come to age.

full of fatnesse] If thou hadst submitted thy self to God, he would have brought thee to liberty and wealth.

V.17. of the wicked] Thou dost murmure against the justice of God, as wicked men do.

judgement and justice take hold on thee] Or, judgement and justice should uphold thee.

V.18. deliver thee] Heb. turn thee aside.

V.20. Desire not the night] Desire not to die, as thou didst, chap.7.1,2. lest in this estate thou die like Gods enemies; by Gods judgement in the dark, Exod.12.29.

V.21. regard not iniquity] To accuse God of want of equity in his judgements.

this hast thou chosen, rather then affliction] Rather then to bear thy afflictions patiently.

V. 23. Who hath enjoyned him his way?] Isai. 40. 13, 14. Thou must not go about to teach God how to guide the world, which thou doest, when thou complainest of his government.

V.24. his work] The meteors, v.27. We are no judges of Gods works, but spectators with reverence; as not knowing the causes of them.

V.26. Behold, God is great] Much more doth our infirmity hinder us from the full knowledge of God.

V.27. according to the vapour thereof] More or lesse, as the vapours which are exhaled from the earth, and kept in the clouds to produce rain.

V.29. or the noise] The thunder-claps, Psal. 18. 12, 14. and 144.5,6.

V. 8. Wilt thou also disannull my judgement] Psal. 51. 4. Rom. 3. 4. By complaining, that I use thee too hardly. They that justifie themselves, condemn God as unjust.

V. 10. Deck thy self now with majestie] Psal. 104. 1. Meaning, that these were proper to God, and belonged to no man.

V. 13. Hide them in the dust together] Cause them to die, if thou canst.

V. 14. that thine own right hand can save thee] Proving hereby, That whosoever thinks himself able to save himself, maketh himself God. If Job could do this, he had had some colour to plead with God.

V. 15. behemoth] Or, the elephant, as some think.

which I made with thee] Whom I made as well as thee: or, the same day with man: or, to be with thee.

he eateth grasse as an ox] This commendeth the providence of God toward man: for if the elephant were given to devour as the lion, he would be a great devourer, both of man and beast.

V. 17. He moveth] Or, he setteth up.

V. 19. He is the chief of the wayes of God] He is one of the chiefest works of God among the beasts.

he that made him, can make his sword to approach unto him] Though man dare not come neer him, yet God can kill him.

V. 20. food] Psal. 104. 14. and 147. 8.

where all the beasts of the field play] Because he eats grasse, else they would fear that he would eat them.

V. 21. in the covert of the reed, and fennes] He loves to lie in the shade neer the waters, to wash himself, and refresh him.

V. 23. he drinketh up] Heb. he oppresseth.

and hasteth not] He drinketh at leasure, and fears no body.

V. 24. He taketh it with his eyes: his nose pierceth thorow snares] Or, will any take him in his sight, or, bore his nose with a gin?

CHAP. XLI.

Vers. 1. LEviathan] That is, a whale, or, a whirlpool, or, as some, a crocodile.

which thou letteſt down] Heb. which thou drowneſt.

V. 3. Will he make many supplications unto thee?] Because he feareth lest thou shouldst take him.

V. 4. Will he make a covenant with thee?] In Hebrew it is, Will he cut a covenant? See Jere. 34. 18.

wilt thou take him for a servant for ever?] To do thy business, and be at thy commandment.

V. 8. Lay thine hand upon him] If thou once consider the danger, thou wilt not meddle with him.

V. 9. the hope of him is in vain] The hope of taking him is in vain.

V. 10. who then is able to stand before me?] If none dare stand against a creature, who is able to stand before the Creatour?

V. 11. Who hath prevented me that I should repay him?] Rom. 11. 35.

whatsoever is under the whole heaven is mine] Psal. 24. 1. and 50. 12. 1 Cor. 10. 26.

V. 12. I will not conceal his parts] The parts and members of this great creature.

V. 13. Who can discover the face of his garment?] Who dare pull off his skin? or, who can bring him out of the sea, which covers him?

with] Or, within.

with his double bridle] Who dare put a bridle in his mouth, as in an horses?

V. 14. Who can open the doors of his face?] Who dare look in his mouth?

V. 15. scales] Heb. strong pieces of shields.

V. 18. By his neesings a light doth shine] He casteth out breath like flames of fire.

V. 22. sorrow is turned into joy] Heb. sorrow rejoyceth.

sorrow is turned into joy before him] Nothing that he meets with, can grieve, or trouble him.

V. 23. The flakes] Heb. the fallings.

they are firm in themselves] Heb. moulten: For metals melted are firm, as bels.

V. 25. When he raiseth up himself, the mighty are afraid] When he appears in the sea, men pray to God, as if they were at the point of death.

V. 26. The sword of him that layeth at him cannot hold] Much lesse wound or hurt him.

habergeon] Or, brest-plate.

V. 30. Sharp stones] Heb. sharp pieces of the potsheard.

Sharp stones are under him] His skin is so hard, that he lieth upon rocks and sharp stones, as easily, as if he lay in the mire.

V. 31. He maketh the deep to boil like a pot] Either he maketh the sea to seem as it boiled, by his wallowing: or else, he spouteth water in such abundance, as it would seem that the sea boiled.

V. 32. He maketh a path to shine after him] That is, a white froth, and shining stream, where he hath gone.

V. 33. who is made without fear] Or, who behave themselves without fear.

V. 34. He beholdeth all high things] He feareth not the greatest on earth: or, he despiseth all other beasts and monsters, and is the proudest of all others.

CHAP. XLII.

Verse 2. CAnst do every thing] Gen. 18. 14. Jere. 32. 27. Luke 1. 37.

that no thought can be withholden from thee] No thought so secret, but thou dost see it, Heb. 4. 13. Psal. 139. 2. nor any thing that thou thinkest, but thou canst bring it to passe.

no thought can be withholden] Or, no thought of thine can be hindred.

V. 3. Who is he that hideth counsel without knowledge?] Job repeats Gods words, chap. 38. 2. As if he would say, Thou hast charged me of speaking foolishly of thy proceedings, and now I confesse my folly.

V. 4. Hear, I beseech thee] He repeats his own words, chap. 13. 22. and so confesseth a second fault, That he desired to dispute with God.

I] Or, now I.

I] Or, or I.

V. 5. I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear] Thou hast spoken to me, and revealed thy self more clearly, and gloriously, then ever before, chap. 38. 1. and so convinced me of my folly and boldnesse: Therefore I repent, &c.

heard of thee] Or, heard thee.

by the hearing of the ear] Chap. 28. 22.

but] Or, and.

V. 6. and repent in dust and ashes] Sitting in dust and ashes, as an humble sign of true repentance, Isai. 58. 5. Jere. 6. 26. and 25. 34. Lam. 3. 16. Jon. 3. 6.

V. 7. ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right] Ye have not spoken rightly of my providence, in that ye condemned Job my true servant for an hypocrite, because of his afflictions.

V. 8. and go to my servant Job] When ye have reconciled your selves to him for condemning him, he shall pray for you, and I will hear him. A great honour to Job, that he must pray for them, who condemned him.

him] Heb. his face, or person.

V. 9. accepted] Gen. 4. 9.

Job] Heb. the face of Job.

V. 10. the Lord turned the captivity of Job] God delivered him out of all his afflictions, which held him as a prisoner, chap. 13. 27. Psal. 69. 33.

the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before] Except in children, which cannot be said to be doubled, unlesse they be reckoned as not lost that God had taken away before.

gave Job twice as much as he had before] Heb. added all that had been to Job unto the double.

V. 11. all his brethren, and all his sisters] That is, all his kinred, chap. 19. 13.

comforted him over all the evil that the Lord had brought upon him] Chap. 29. 25.

V. 12. So the Lord blessed the latter end of Job more then his beginning] God made him twice so rich in cattel, as he was before, and gave him as many children, as he had taken from him.

she-asses] Or, asses, chap. 1. 3.

V. 14. Jemima] Of long life, or beautifull as the day.

Kezia] As pleasant as Cassia, or sweet spice, Psalm 45. 8.

Keren-happuch] The horn of beauty.

True & unfained repentance doth readyly apply generale reproofs to ym selves. unfeined repentance doth. wee expresse it selfe in selfe abhorring. God is wont to begin to schoole his dearest children & brethren
Itt's ye part of ffooles to be very chary in laying any thing agst good children & applying gods Providences

God will make us beholding to such children whom wee have wronged. when wee grow ready to be reverent to wth god & of freinds ye ye Lord will be ready to hear of Prayer & accept of Sacrifice.
Prosperity & sincerity may very well stand together.
when god Comes to debitate businesse among freinds he will bring ym home to Iesus with himselfe & ye one with another Psalms.

Delicia Spiritus nostri divina Cantica, Ubi et fletus sine gaudio non est. Fideli homini et peregrino in Seculo, nulla est jucundior Recordatio, quam Civitatis illius unde peregrinatur: Sed recordatio Civitatis in peregrinatione, non est sine dolore atque Suspirio. Spes tamen reditus nostri certa, etiam peregrinando tristes consolatur, et exhortatur. Rapiant cor vestrum verba Dei, et possessor vester vindicet sibi possessionem suam, i.e. mentes vestras, ne avertantur in aliud. Augustin. in Psal. 145. col. 1678, 1679.

Psal. 1.1. — the Man — Num a beatitudine mulieres excluditz Absit. Una enim est virtus viri & mulieris. Nam et creatio utriusq; aequalis, quare etiam merces eadem utriusque. Audi Genesim. Fecit, inquit, Deus hominem, secundum imaginem Dei fecit ipsum, masculum et foeminam fecit ipsos. Quorum vero natura una est, horum eadem sunt actiones. Quorum vero aequale opus, horum etiam eadem merces. Cur igitur facta viri mentione, de muliere tacuit? Quia quum una natura sit, sufficere putavit, ut ex principaliore totum indicaretur. Basil. p. 64. — Licet autem viri tantum mentio hic fiat, nequaquam tamen existimandum est, mulierem sexum vera felicitatis consortio excludi: praesertim cum foemina tam arcto sit vinculo viro conjuncta, quam capiti corpus, ejusque membra. Basil. p. 771.

Psal. 3. — his season in Rom. 5. 6.

Psal. 3.4. cried] Clamor autem etiam iste dicitur, propter vim ipsius Intentionis. Austin. col. 17.

Psal. 3. Title] Sicut solet Scriptura Psalmorum Mysteria in titulis ponere, et frontem Psalmi sublimitate Sacramenti decorare, ut sciamus qui intrahuri sumus, &c. Augustin. col. 582. Psal. 58.

Psal. 2.9. Nam ille Rex virgam ferream gerit, qua et regit, et frangit. Augustin. Psal. 58. col. 582.

2.9. Break them] Reges, Vulgar. Sed videntur magis probandi, qui verterunt ex Hebraeo ad hunc modum Conteres eos virga ferrea.
Antonius Flaminius, fol. 10. b. Parisijs, 1545.

Ps. 2.8. — Uttermost —
Of all the Places that do, from this Scripture, entitle themselves to the Government of Christ; America, in my Opinion, bids the fairest. For when once Columbus had added this Fourth, to the other parts of the known World; they who sailed further Westward, arrived but where they had been before. The Globe now failed of offering any thing New, to the adventurous Travailer. Or however, it could not afford another New WORLD.
V. 9. 'Twas a most awfull thing to see or to hear Christs Iron Rod Walking amongst the American Potsherds, Whereby great Empires and Kingdoms were quickly broken to shivers with many Millions of their Subjects. IRON was wanting in the American Artillery; and their numerous Vessels were made chiefly of Earth. Rev. 6. 7, 8.
V. 10. Motezuma died miserably, & paid his deserts to ye just judgmt of God for his pride & tyranny: his bodie falling into ye Indians power, yy would make him no Obsequies of a King, no not of an ordinary person; but cast it away in great disdain & rage — a servant of his having pitie of ye Kings miserie (who had before been feard & worshiped as a god) made a fire thereof, & put ye Ashes in a contemptible place. Acosta. p. 578.

ANNOTATIONS
On the Book of PSALMS.

The Argument.

This Book is by ſome called, The Anatomy of the ſoul: And that not unfitly, for herein we ſee all the affections of Gods ſervants lively expreſſed in excellent paterns. We finde them ſometimes grieving for ſin, and troubles: otherwhiles, rejoycing in deliverances: Now praying to God, then praiſing of God: Putting forth one while their deſire of God, and dependance on him: another while, their joy in God, and care to pleaſe him. And all theſe and many other, are ſet out in excellent expreſſions.

This varietie of Hymns is left us upon record, that we might in Gods publike ſervice, and in private by ſinging, make uſe of them, according to ſeverall occaſions, Matth. 26. 30. Coloſ. 3. 16. James 5. 13. This (beſides the often reading, and meditating on them) is the right uſe of the Book of Pſalms.

This first Psalm doth in a most lively manner give us a Description of CHRIST

4.2. How long will you love Vanity? How long will you oppose me in my Reign & Government? How long will ye resist that Honour and Dignity, which G. hath bestowed upon me? You set your selves against that which G. hath set up: this is to love Vanity. You reproach & scorn me, upon whom G. hath fastned honor & glory. This I understand to be the meaning of Vanity in that place.

15. 4. Contemned] You whose Spirit G. hath raised above others, in the Excellencies of your parts, and many Excellent Endowments of Learning you have; Who are men of larger Understandings, of higher apprehensions than others: and can look upon ordinary men as low & mean, in respect of the difference between yours parts and theirs: Do you labour yet to raise your Spirits higher yet by Grace, & Godlines; that as you differ from them in natural Excellencies; so you may differ from them much more, in Spiritual and divine. How eminent would you be in Grace, if those parts & abilities of Learning you have, were Sanctified for God! What Blessed Instruments might you be of Glory to G. of Comfort, and Encouragement to his people? But otherwise, your parts and gifts are poysoned; a Sinfull wicked heart will poyson all. Ps. Eugenius 2. was a man of great Learning and great Eloqurnce, with a mixture of great Hypocrisie. If it may be thus said of any, He is a man indeed of Excellent Parts, very Learned, of strong abilities: but he has a corrupt Spirit, he is a man of a corrupt mind: Surely these parts are all poysoned! In Natali Domini, Hymnus 4.

Alvus tumescit virginis, Claustra pudoris permanent:
Vexilla virtutum micant,
Versatur in templo Deus.

Procedens e thalamo suo, Pudoris aula regia,
Geminae gigas substantiae,
Alacris ut currat viam.

Egressus ejus a patre,
Regressus ejus ad patrem:

Ambros. tom. 5. col. 350.

19. 5. Bridegroom, Chamber, Race —

Deus ei tanquam sponso thalamum in Coelo collocavit, hemisphærium inferius tabernaculum ejus vocans, unde Sol mane egreditur tanquam sponsus de thalamo suo, omnibus creaturis lætantibus ad aspectum aurei illius orbis: et Sol quasi ipse quasi exultans gigas strenue exequitur injunctum officium, currens viam suam, Zodiacum in anni spatio circuiens, quo omnibus mortalibus calorem suum subministret; et nihilominus per singulos dies — diem sua præsentia, et noctem absentia constituens. enemies] See psal. 54. 51.

defend me from them that rise up against me] Heb. set me on high. That is, set me where my foes cannot reach me.

V. 3. not for my transgression] For I am innocent towards them, and have not offended them, psal. 7. 4. and 35. 7.

V. 4. awake to help me] God seems to sleep, when good men are oppressed, psal. 35. 23.

to help me] Heb. to meet me.

behold] Consider in what danger I am.

V. 5. awake to visite all the heathen] Saul and his watchmen, that carry themselves cruelly against me like heathen men: or, some heathen might be among them.

be not mercifull to any wicked transgressours] Seeing it appertaineth to God to punish the wicked, he desireth God to execute his vengeance on the malicious persecutours of his Church.

V. 6. They return at the evening] They go to hunt me out, like beagles.

they make a noise like a dog] Out of a desire to devour me.

and go round about the city] Watching me, that I may not escape.

V. 7. they belch out with their mouth] Speak often of murdering me.

words are in their lips] Psal. 57. 4.

who (say they) doth hear?] Psal. 10. 11. and 73. 11. and 94. 7.

Either to warn David, that he may escape: or, to punish us.

V. 8. But thou, O Lord, shalt laugh at them] Thou not onely seest, but wilt make their plots vain, that they may be derided.

laugh at them] Psal. 2. 4.

V. 9. Because of his strength will I wait upon thee] Because Sauls power is great, therefore I will trust in thee, that art stronger.

my defence] Heb. my high place.

V. 10. The God of my mercy] Or, My mercifull God.

The God of my mercy shall prevent me] God will deliver me before I pray to him, or, before I expect deliverance.

see my desire upon mine enemies] Psal. 54. 7.

mine enemies] Heb. mine observers.

V. 11. Slay them not] Altogether, but by little and little, that the people, seeing oftentimes their judgements, may be minded full of thee.

scatter them by thy power] Make them vagabonds and base people.

V. 12. the sin of their mouth] Prov. 12. 13.

let them be taken even in their pride] That in their misery and shame they may be as glasses and examples of Gods vengeance.

V. 13. Consume them in wrath] When the time shall come, and when they have sufficiently served for an example of thy vengeance unto others.

let them know that God ruleth in Jacob] Not they that are consumed, but others far remote.

them] Or, men, psal. 83. 18.

V. 14. And at evening let them return] He mocks them, and sets down their punishment in the words their sin was set out by, v. 6. Before, they did run about for malice, now let them do it for hunger.

V. 15. for meat] Heb. to eat.

and grudge if they be not satisfied] Or, if they be not satisfied, then they will stay all night.

V. 16. in the morning] In the time when they thought to have killed me, 1 Sam. 19. 11.

V. 17. O my strength] Confessing himself to be void of all strength, he attributeth the whole to God.

the God of my mercy] See v. 10.

V. 12. For he shall deliver the needy when he cryeth] Job 29. 12.

V. 14. precious shall their blood be in his sight] Though tyrants passe not to shed blood, yet this godly king shall preserve his subjects from all kinde of wrong, secret and open: He shall not suffer men to kill them; or shall sharply revenge their death, 2 King. 1. 13. Psal. 116. 15. Acts 20. 24.

V. 15. shall be given] Heb. one shall give.

of the gold of Sheba] God will prosper his life, and also cause people to bring rich presents to him.

V. 16. There shall be an handfull of corn] If a little corn be sowen in the most barren places, it shall grow so plentifully, that it shall shake, as the trees of Lebanon do with the winde.

the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon] Under such a king shall be exceeding great plenty, both of fruit, and also of the increase of mankinde, Jere. 31. 27.

V. 17. His name shall endure for ever] By a continuall succession of children: for so the Hebrew word signifies.

shall endure] Heb. shall be.

his name shall be continued as long as the sun] Heb. shall be as a son to continue his fathers name for ever.

and men shall be blessed in him] They shall count themselves happy in such a king, and expect all comforts from him, Prov. 31. 23. fulfilled chiefly in Christ, Gen. 12. 3.

V. 18. who onely doth wondrous things] Psal. 136. 4. He confesseth, That except God miraculously preserve his people, neither the king, nor the kingdom can continue.

V. 20. The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended] This was his last prayer that he made for Solomon, a little before his death: or, the last of those Psalms that David set in order, before his death, for the use of the church. The rest were gathered together by others, as some of Solomons Proverbs were, Prov. 25. 1.

V. 32. they sinned still] This sin by continuance maketh men insensible; so that no plagues will mend them, 2 Chron. 28. 22.

V. 33. in vanitie] In fruitlesse journeys in the wilderness, so that they could not come to Canaan, Num. 14. 29.

V. 34. When he slew them] Such was their hypocrisie, that they sought unto God for fear of punishment, though in their heart they loved him not, Hos. 5. 15.

V. 37. For their heart was not right with him] Whatsoever cometh not from the pure fountain of the heart, is hypocrisie.

V. 38. forgave their iniquity] Because he would ever have some remnant of a church to praise his name on earth, he suffered not their sins to overcome his mercy.

V. 40. provoke him] Or, rebell against him.

V. 41. turned back and tempted God] Or, tempted God again, limited the holy One of Iſrael] By appointing what he ſhould do, or including his power within their capacity.

V. 42. They remembred not his hand] The forgetfulneſſe of Gods benefits, is the root of rebellion, and of all vice.

from the enemy] Or, from affliction.

V. 43. wrought] Heb. ſet.

V. 44. And had turned their rivers into blood] Exod. 7. 20.

A song or psalm] Psal.48. tit. This psalm seemeth to be composed as a form of prayer, when the Church was in great danger by reason of her enemies: perhaps in Jehoshaphats time, 2 Chron.20.1.

of Asaph] Or, for Asaph.

Vers. 1. Keep not thou silence, O God] Psal. 28.1. and 35.22.

V.2. thine enemies make a tumult] He calleth them Gods enemies, which are enemies to his Church.

hate thee] Psal.81.15.

V.3. against thy hidden ones] Gods saints are his secret ones; for he hideth them in the secret of his tabernacle, and preserveth them from all dangers, psal.31.20.

V.4. let us cut them off from being a nation] They were not content to take the Church as prisoner, but sought utterly to destroy it, Jer.11.19.

V.5. consent] Heb. heart.

against thee] Acts 9.4. They thought to have subverted thy counsell, wherein the perpetuity of the Church was established, psal.2.1.

V.6. The tabernacles of Edom] Alluding to the manner of them that dwelt in tents, 2 Sam.20.1.

V.8. they have holpen the children of Lot] Heb. they have been an arm to the children of Lot. The Ammonites and Moabites were the plotters of this war against Gods people; but they were too weak, and call in the Assyrians to help, 2 Chron. 20.1.

V.9. as unto the Midianites] By these examples they were confirmed that God would not suffer his people to be utterly destroyed.

Midianites] Judg.7.22.

Sisera] Judg.4.15,24.

V.10. as dung for the earth] Trodden under feet as mire; 2 King.9.37. Zeph.1.17.

thou hast covered all their sin] Thou hast buried them, that they may not come into judgement.

V. 3. thou hast turned thy self from the fierceneesse of thine anger] Or, thou hast turned thine anger from waxing hot.

from the fierceneesse of thine anger] Not onely in withdrawing thy rod, but also in forgiving our sins.

V. 5. Wilt thou be angrie with us for ever?] As in times past they had felt Gods mercy in their deliverance, so now, being oppressed with the long continuance of evils, they pray unto God, That, according to his nature, he would be mercifull unto them.

V. 7. grant us thy salvation] He confesseth that our deliverance cometh onely from Gods mercy, psal. 6. 4.

V. 8. he will speak peace unto his people] He will send all prosperity to his Church, when he hath sufficiently corrected them: also by his punishments the faithfull shall learn to beware that they return not to like offences.

but let them not] Or, that they may not.

V. 10. Mercie and truth are met together] Though for a time God thus exerciseth them with his rods, yet under the Kingdom of Christ they shall have peace and joy.

V. 12. land shall yeeld her encrease] Psal. 67. 7.

V. 13. Righteousnesse shall go before him] Justice shall then flourish, and have free course and passage in every place.

V.4. For a thousand yeers in thy sight are but as yesterday] 2 Pet. 3.8. Though man think his life long, which is indeed most short, yet, though it were a thousand yeers, yet in Gods sight it is as nothing, psal. 39.5. and as the watch, that lasteth but three hours, Mark 13.35.

when it is past] Or, when he hath passed them. He addeth this, because men think of the shortnesse of their time when it is past, rather then when it is passing.

V.5. as with a flood] Besides the generall necessity of dying, thou sendest floods of particular judgements that suddenly take men away. So it was with the Israelites in the wildernesse, v.7, &c. Isai.8.7,8. Or, as a flood that goes swiftly away, and returns not again.

grasse which groweth up] Psal.103.15. Isai.40.6.

groweth up] Or, is changed.

V.7. For we are consumed by thine anger] Thou callest us by thy rods to consider the shortnesse of our lives, and for our sins thou abridgest our days.

V.8. Thou hast set our iniquities before thee] As a judge that goes according to evidence, psal.50.21.

our secret sins in the light of thy countenance] Not known to our selves: or, sins of our youth.

V.9. passed away] Heb. turned away.

we spend our yeers as a tale that is told] Our days are not onely miserable, but also short; for our sins provoke thee to cut us off.

as a tale that is told] Or, as a meditation.

V.10. The days of our yeers are threescore yeers and ten] Heb. As for the days of our yeers, in them are seventy yeers. Meaning, according to the common state of life.

and if by reason of strength they be fourscore yeers, yet is their strength labour] Or, or by reason of strength fourscore; but the pride (or the prime) of them is but labour.

if by reason of strength they be fourscore yeers] Heb strengths: that is, extraordinary strength.

yet is their strength labour and sorrow] Heb. pride: that is, their strength, pleasure, beauty, or whatsoever men are proud of in the best of their days. Or, the prime of their days.

we flee away] Flee away speedily, like a bird.

V.11. Who knoweth the power of thine anger?] If a mans life, for brevity, be miserable; much more if thy wrath lie upon it, as they which fear thee onely know: others consider it not.

even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath] Or, of thy wrath, so as to fear thee?

V.12. number our days] Psal.39.4.

that we may apply our hearts unto wisedom] Which is, by considering the shortnesse of our life, and by meditating of the joys of heaven.

apply our hearts] Heb. cause to come.

V.13. Return, O Lord, how long?] How long wilt thou be angry with thy people?

let it repent thee concerning thy servants] Cease to afflict us, as a man repenting alters his course, Deut.32.36.

V.15. wherein thou hast afflicted us] In Egypt, and in the wildernesse.

seen] Or, felt, psal.89.48.

V.16. Let thy work appear unto thy servants] Thy mercy, which is thy chiefest work.

and thy glory unto their children] Seeing Gods promises appertained as well to their posterity, as to them; Moses prayeth for their children.

V. 17. let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us] Meaning, that it was obscured, when he ceased to do good to his Church.

ps. 102. 22. Sed illa Ecclesia quæ fuit omnium gentium, jam non est, periit. O imprudentem vocem. Hanc vocem abominabilem et detestabilem, præsumptionis et falsitatis plenam, nulla veritate suffultam, nulla sapientia illuminatam, nullo sale conditam, vanam, temerariam, præcipitem, perniciosam, prævidit Spiritus Dei, et tanquam contra illos cum annunciaret Unitatem, in congregandos populos in unum, et regna ut servirent Domino.
Quam dix ero] propter illos qui dicunt, Impletæ sunt Scripturæ, &c. Augustin. Col. 1144, 1145. — Quid est quod dicis jam periisse Ecclesiam de omnibus gentibus, quando ad hoc prædicatur Evangelium, ut possit esse in omnibus gentibus? — pereant hæretici &c — 1146.

103.5. Eagles] Sive illa vera sint fratres, quæ dicuntur de serpente, vel quæ dicuntur de aquila; sive sit fama potius hominum, quam veritas: Veritas est tamen in Scripturis, et non sine causa hoc dixerunt Scripturæ: nos quicquid illud significat — faciamus: et quam sit illud verum non laboremus. Augustin. Ps. 66. col. 692. D. Col. 1158.

103.11. — Una species misericordiæ est, qua nos a morte restituit in vitam, deinde adhuc spiritus ab eo alieni alteram qua nos sustinet; quia statim evanescerit gratia illa, nisi quam quotidie veniam sanciret.

Aleph

Vers. 1. BLessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord] See Psal. 128. 1.

the undefiled] Here they are not called blessed, which think themselves wise in their own judgement, nor which imagine to themselves a certain kinde of holinesse, but they whose conversation is without hypocrisie, Ezek. 28. 15.

undefiled] Or, perfect, or, sincere.

in the way] A good life is a good way, that leads to heaven.

V. 2. that keep his testimonies] Gods law testifies of his will, which else were unknown to us.

V. 3. They also do no iniquitie] They live not in a sinfull course of life: Sin is not their trade, as it is wicked mens, 1 John 3. 9.

do no] Or, that do, or commit.

walk] Or, that walk.

V. 5. O that my wayes were directed] David acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reform it, that his life may be conformable to Gods word, Vers. 80.

V. 7. thy righteous judgements] Heb. judgements of thy righteousnesse. That is, thy precepts; which contain perfect righteousnesse. Or Adjudications of thy Justice.

V. 8. O forsake me not utterly] He refuseth not to be tried by tentations; but he feareth, lest he faint, if God succour not his infirmity in time, but leave him wholly to himself.

Beth. V. 9. Wherewith shall a young man cleanse his way] Because youth is most given to licentiousnesse, he chiefly warneth them to frame their lives betimes to Gods word, Eccles. 11. 9. and 12. 1.

V. 11. Thy word have I hid in mine heart] If Gods word be hid in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of satan; which, therefore he desired carefully to treasure up, Psal. 37. 31. Luk. 2. 19, 51.

V. 14. I have rejoyced in the way of thy testimonies] The prophet doth not boast of his vertues, but setteth forth an example for others to follow Gods word, and leave worldly vanities.

in] Or, for.

Gimel. V. 17. that I may live] He sheweth, that we ought not to desire to live, but to serve God, and that we cannot serve him aright, except he take away our naturall ignorance by the light of his spirit, that we may understand the spirituall meaning of his word.

and keep] Or, to keep.

V. 18. Open] Heb. Reveal.

V. 19. I am a stranger in the earth, hide not thy commandments from me] Gen. 47. 9. 1 Chro. 29. 15. Psa. 39. 12. Heb. 11. 13.

I am a stranger in the earth] Seeing mans life in this world, is but a passage to heaven, what should become of him, who knows not the way by nature, if Gods word did not guide him thither?

V. 20. My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgements at all times, Psal. 42. 1. and 63. 1. and 84. 1.

V. 21. Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed] In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy truth.

V. 22. Remove from me] Or, Roll from upon me.

V. 23. Princes also did sit and speak against me] Vers. 46. When the powers of the world gave false sentence against me, thy word was a guide and a counsellour, to teach me what to do, and to comfort me.

V. 24. Thy testimonies also are my delight] Heb. delights. That is, they did greatly delight me.

my counsellours] Heb. men of my counsell.

Daleth. V. 25. My soul cleaveth unto the dust] That is, I am like one overcome in battell, mortally wounded, and tumbling in the dust, or one in danger to die, and turn to dust; Psal. 44. 25. and 22. 15. and without thy word I cannot live.

V. 26. I have declared my wayes] I have laid open my businesse, and dangers to thee in great difficulties, as to my chief friend, and thou hast advised me ever for my good.

teach me thy statutes] Psal. 25. 4. and 27. 11. and 86. 11.

V. 28. My soul melteth for heavinesse] Psal. 107. 26.

melteth] Heb. droppeth.

according unto thy word] That is, thy promise. If God did not maintain us by his word, our life would drop away like water, Psal. 22. 14.

V. 29. Remove from me the way of lying] Keep me out of those false wayes, that corrupt nature teacheth, and let thy law guide me in the true way to happinesse.

V. 32. when thou shalt enlarge my heart] By this he sheweth, that we can neither chuse good, cleave to Gods word, nor run forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receive his grace, and willing to obey, by freeing from straits, filling us with joy and comfort, Isai. 60. 5. Psal. 4. 1.

V. 33. Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes] He sheweth, that he cannot follow on to the end, except God teach him oft-times, and lead him forward. Hê.

V. 34. with my whole heart] Not onely in outward conversation, but also with inward affection.

V. 36. and not to covetousnesse] He prayeth specially against this evill affection, as being the root of all evill, 1 Tim. 6. 10. and withdrawing men from the love of God, and goodnesse, Matth. 6. 24. 1 John 2. 15.

V. 37. Turn away] Heb. Make to passe.

Turn away mine eyes] Because they are chiefest inlets of sinfull objects, Job 31. 1. Isai. 33. 15. 2 Sam. 11. 2.

from beholding vanitie] Worldly things, that have no substance in them, nor are but shadows, Prov. 23. 5.

V. 39. for thy judgements are good] Let me not suffer reproach for obeying thy word, which is good.

V. 40. quicken me in thy righteousnesse] Restore life and strength to me, according to thy faithfull promise, Verse 37.

V. 41. Let thy mercies come also unto me] He sheweth, that Gods mercy and love, is the first cause of our deliverances. Vau.

V. 42. So shall I have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me] Or, So shall I answer him that reproacheth me in a thing, or, in ought. When thy promise is effected, I can stop the mouth of my scoffing adversaries, Psal. 107. 42.

V. 43. take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth] Make me not ashamed to speak of thy promises any more, by not performing those thou hast made to me already.

V. 45. And I will walk at libertie] I shall be free from all distresse of soul and body, Vers. 32.

at liberty] Heb. at large.

V. 46. before kings] He sheweth, that the children of God ought not to be daunted from giving testimony to Gods truth, by any power or fear of princes, Dan. 3. 13, 16. Matth. 10. 18, 19. Vers. 23.

V. 48. My hands also will I lift up unto thy commandments] I will addresse my self unto the doing of thy will, as a workman doth to his work.

V. 49. Remember the word unto thy servant] Though he feel Gods hand still to lie upon him, yet he resteth on his promise, and comforteth himself therein. Zain.

V. 51. The proud have had me greatly in derision] Meaning, the wicked, which contemn Gods word, and tread his religion under foot.

V. 52. I remembred thy judgements of old] That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy self to be judge of the world.

V. 53. Horrour hath taken hold upon me] A vehement zeal for thy glory, and indignation against the wicked: or, dread of persecution from them.

Psal. 136. Sicut in omnium versuum novissimis partibus positum est, [Quoniam in æternum Misericordia ejus] sic et in omnium capitibus, quamvis non sit positum, subaudiendum est [Confitemini]
Augustin. Col. 1562.

136. 6. — above the Waters] Hoc est, denudavit terram ab aquis, et aquas sursum in abyssis, contra naturam earum, manere coegit. Et hoc divinum beneficium stat in seculum, ut homines, animalia, plantæ, convenienter in superficie terræ manere possint. In diluvio tamen propter impietatem hominum, sed ad breve tempus, permisit aquas redire ad locum suum.
Munsterus.

137. 8. daughter] Propter successionem dicitur filia, propter prælationem dicitur mater. Per successionem Babyloniæ, facta est filia Babylonis.
Augustin. Col. 1576.

138. 7. Thou shalt stretch forth thy hand against the Wrath of my Enemies.
Quid possunt facere inimici? Pecuniam tollere, expoliare, proscribere, in Exilium mittere, doloribus tormentisq; cruciare; ad postremum, si permissi fuerint, & occidere. Super id quod mihi possunt facere inimici, Tu extendisti manum tuam.
Augustin. Col. 1583.

139. 15, 16. The mystical Body of Chr is principally intended. The Substance of ye Chh whereof it was to be formed was under ye eye of God, as proposed in ye Decree of Election.
Owen Med. Gl. Chr. 149.

141.3. door] Ergo si ostium est, et aperiatur et claudatur. Aperiatur ad confessionem peccati. Claudatur ad excusationem peccati. Augustin. Col. 1618.

142.1. My] Homo ergo interior, in quo coepit habitare Christus per fidem voce Sua, non strepitu labiorum, sed in affectu cordis clamet ad Dominum — Cogitatio tua Clamor est ad Dominum. Augustin. 1632.

142.5. my [portion] Spes mea hic, idea tolero. Portio autem mea non est hic, sed in terra viventium. Augustin. Col. 1638.

Maſchil of David] Or, A pſalm of David giving inſtruction.

when he was in the cave] 1 Sam.24.3.

Verſ.1. I] This pſalm appears to be made after the deliverance here mentioned. See the like, Jon.2.1.

cried] Davids patience and inſtant prayer unto God condemneth their wicked rage; who, in their troubles, either deſpair, and murmure againſt God; or elſe ſeek to others rather then to God, to have redreſſe in their miſeries.

did I make my ſupplication] The word, prayer, in the originall, ſignifies a demanding of juſtice againſt his foes: crying, ſignifies earneſtneſſe: making ſupplication ſhews, that he ſought for favour from God: complaint, or meditation, argues a preconſideration of what he prayed for: ſhewing, intends a laying open of his troubles orderly in fit words.

V.3. then thou knewеſt my path] Thou kneweſt which way I ſhould eſcape, when I knew no means of delivery: or, thou didſt approve the way that I was in, and tookeſt care of me, pſal. 1.6.

V.4. I looked on my right hand, and beheld] Or, look on the right hand, and ſee.

in thy ſight ſhall no man living be juſtified] Exod.34.7. Rom.3. 20. Gal.2.16.

V.3. hath perſecuted my ſoul] To take away my life.

hath ſmitten my life] I muſt needs be ſlain, if thou relieve me not.

to dwell in darkneſſe] I am forced to live in dark caves, like graves.

that have been long dead] He acknowledgeth that God is his onely true phyſitian that can heal him; for he can raiſe up men long ſince dead.

V.4. ſpirit overwhelmed within me] Pſal.142.3.

my heart within me is deſolate] So that he was upheld onely by Gods power, on which he relied, pſal.73.26.

V.5. I remember the days of old] To wit, thy great benefits of old, and the manifold examples of thy favour toward thine: or, I comfort my ſelf with the remembrance of thy favours to me in times paſt, and take them for a pawn of comfort in time to come, becauſe thou art the ſame, pſal.77.5,11.

all thy works] Heb. every work of thine, or, all thy practice.

V.6. my ſoul thirſteth after thee] Pſal.42.1,2. and 63.1. and 84. 2.

as a thirſtie land] I earneſtly deſire to be with God in the Sanctuary, as the drie ground deſires rain, pſal. 42. 1, 2. and 63. 1.

V.7. Hear me ſpeedily] Heb. Make haſte, anſwer me.

leſt I be like, &c.] Or, for I am become like, &c.

V. 8. in the morning] It ſeems he made this prayer in the night, and prays for comfort againſt the next day: or, in the morning, that is, ſpeedily, and in due time, pſal.101.8.

cauſe me to know the way] Direct me which way I may eſcape this danger, leſt I periſh in it, pſal.28.1. and 5.8.

V.9. I flee unto thee to hide me] Heb. hide me with thee. I hid my ſelf under the ſhadow of thy wings, that I might be defended by thy power, pſal.91.1. and 32.7.

V.10. Teach me] He confeſſeth, that both the knowledge of, and obedience to Gods will in us, cometh from the Spirit of God, who teacheth us by his word, giveth underſtanding by his Spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him.

to do thy will] That is, juſtly, and aright: for, ſo ſoon as we decline from Gods will, we fall into errour.

thy ſpirit is good, lead] Or, let thy good ſpirit lead.

into the land of uprightneſſe] Or, in (or on) an even ground, as Iſai.26.7,10.

V.11. Quicken me] Keep me alive, and free me from this deadly danger.

Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Names ſake] Pſal.119.25,37,88, 107.

for thy Names ſake] That thy Name may be honoured, thy juſtice ſhewed on perſecutours, thy mercy to me thy ſervant.

V.12. of thy mercy cut off thine enemies] Which ſhall be a ſigne of thy fatherly care of me.

I am thy ſervant] Pſal.116.16.

V.14. That our oxen may be ſtrong to labour] That our cattell may be very ſerviceable to us.

ſtrong to labour] Heb. able to bear burdens; or, loaden with fleſh.

V.15. Happie is that people that is in ſuch a caſe] Pſal. 33. 12. and 65. 4. If they be bleſſed that enjoy outward proſperity, much more happie are they that are in Gods favour.

PSAL. CXLV.

David's Pſalm of Praiſe.

Title.

praiſe] See the title of pſal.25.

Verſ.1. I Will extoll thee] Pſal.100.1. He ſheweth what ſacrifices are pleaſant and acceptable unto God, even praiſe and thankſgiving: and ſeeing that God ſtill continueth his benefits towards us, we ought never to be weary of praiſing him for the ſame.

V.3. Great is the Lord] Hereby he declareth, that all power is ſubject unto God; and that no worldly promotion ought to obſcure Gods glory.

and his greatneſſe is unſearchable] Heb. and of his greatneſſe there is no ſearch.

V.4. One generation ſhall praiſe thy works to another] Iſa.38.19. Pſal.78.4.

to another] Foraſmuch as the end of mans creation, and of his preſervation, in this life, is to praiſe God; therefore he requireth, that not onely we our ſelves do this, but cauſe all others to do the ſame.

V.5. works] Heb. things, or, words.

V.6. of thy terrible acts] Of thy terrible judgements againſt the wicked.

declare thy] Heb. declare it.

V. 7. They ſhall abundantly utter] As water runs out of a fountain, Jer.6.7.

the memory of thy great goodneſſe] Thy great bleſſings, which ought to be remembred.

V.8. The Lord is gracious, and full of compaſſion] Exod. 34. 6,7. Num.14.18. Pſal.86.5,15. and 103.8.

and full of compaſſion] He deſcribeth after what ſort God ſheweth himſelf to all his creatures, though our ſins have provoked his vengeance againſt all: he ſhews himſelf mercifull, not onely in pardoning the ſins of his children, but alſo in doing good to wicked men, albeit they feel not the ſweet comfort of Gods benefits.

of great mercy] Heb. great in mercy.

V.9. over] Or, toward.

V.11. They ſhall ſpeak of the glory of thy Kingdom] The praiſe of thy glory appeareth in all thy creatures: and though the wicked would obſcure the ſame by their ſilence, yet the faithfull are ever ſpeaking of it.

V.12. his mighty acts] Gods ſervants ſpeak of his great acts, that others may take notice of them.

V. 13. an everlaſting kingdom] Heb. a kingdom of all ages, 1 Tim.1.17.

V.14. The Lord upholdeth] All that are upheld from falling, are upheld by God: but ſome fall, and never riſe.

all that fall] Who, being in miſery and affliction, would faint and periſh, if God did not uphold them; and therefore they ought to reverence him that reigneth in heaven, and ſuffer themſelves to be governed by him.

raiſeth up all thoſe that be bowed down] Pſal.146.8.

all thoſe that be bowed down] Ready to fall under the burden of their miſeries.

V.15. The eyes of all wait upon thee] To wit, as well of man as of beaſt.

wait upon thee] Or, look unto thee.

thou giveſt them their meat in due ſeaſon] Pſal.104.17.

V.17. The Lord is righteous in all his ways] He praiſeth God, 143. 6. thirsty] Abundat mare, inundat, copiosum est: fluctuat, sed amarum est. Discreta est aqua — Augustin. Col. 1649.

v. 8. cause me to know ye way] Heo Lucernam Propheticam accendit; ideo ipsum Dominum tanquam in testa carnis misit. —— Ambula ad Prophetiam, ambula ad Lucernam Prædictorum futurorum, ambula ad Verba Dei. Augustin. Col. 1650.

v. 9. I flee unto thee] Qui aliquando à te fugi, ad te confugi. Fugit enim Adam a facie Dei ——— Quid ergo restat? Si assumpsero pennas meas ut Columba, et volabo in extrema maris ———

v. 10. Thou art my God] O Confessio, O Præscriptio! Ad alium curram refici, si ab alio factus sum. Tu es totum meum, quia tuus Deus meus. Non solum dator hæreditatis, sed ipsa hæreditas. Patrem quæram propter hæreditatem Dominum quæram propter Redemptionem? Patronum quæram propter Liberationem? Tu es Deus meus. 1651.

Thy Spirit is good] Si meum ostenderem meritum, nihil ab te mererer nisi supplicium. Avulsisti merita mea, inseruisti DONA TUA. 1652.

145. Laudare vobiscum Dominum desideravimus: et quoniam hoc concedere dignatus est; ut laus quam illi dicimus habeat Ordinem suum, ne forte aliquo excessu quem laudat offendat, melius iter Laudis in Scriptura Dei quærimus, ne ab ipsa via, nec in dexteram, nec in sinistram digrediamur. Audeo enim dicere charitati vestræ: Ut bene ab homine laudetur Deus, laudavit se Ipse Deus. ——— Ut enim se homo laudet, Arrogantia est: Ut Deus se laudet, Misericordia est. —— Augustin. Col. 1664, 1665.

Ps. 145. 9. Mercies over all his works. Namely, to cherish, nourish, and perfect them, as an Hen the Eggs: Not that his Mercy exceeds his Justice ———

Dr. Preston of the Simplicity of God Sect. 8. p. 104. Abridgment.

146.3. Put not your Trust] Dicatur homini in afflictione aliqua constituto, Est quidam homo magnus, per quem possis liberari: arridet, gaudet, erigitur. Quod si dicatur illi, liberat te Deus, quasi desperatione frigescit. Promittitur aeternum mortalis, et gaudes: promittitur Immortalis, et tristis Es? Augustin. col. 1683.

V. 7. food to ye hungry] Et nullam escam servat dilectis suis? Si habent aliam famem, habent et aliam esurire. Augustin. 1689.

147.13. Strengthened ye Bars] Vectium confirmatio non est portarum apertarum, sed clausarum. Multi quos nolumus, intrant: multi, et si nolumus exeunt: ideo crebrescunt Scandala. Et quoniam abundavit iniquitas, refrigescit Charitas multorum: propter intrantes, quos dijudicare non possumus; et exeuntes, quos tenere non possumus. Quare hoc? Quia nondum perfectio, nondum illa beatitudo. Augustin. col. 1712.

Thy Sons in ye midst of thee] Non vagantur foris, non peregrinantur; intus gaudent, — 1715.

V. 14. Peace] Hæresis quid monet? Damnat incognitos, damnat totum mundum, periit totus mundus, nullus est Christianus, Africa remansit. Bene judicasti! De quo tribunali dicis tu sententiam in orbem terrarum? In quo foro ante te mundus stetit? Nolo mihi credatur, sed nec tibi. Christo credatur, Spiritui Dei per Prophetas credatur. 1715, 1716. Unde judicasti de orbe terrarum, ut dicere coeperas quo tribunali? Præsumptione videlicet cordis tui. Altum tribunal, sed minosum. Et paulo ante, Omnia clamant pro Unitate Dominica, quia posuit fines Hierusalem Pacem. Tu contra ista latras hæretice? Unde merito dicitur in illa civitate, quod scriptum est in Apocalypsi, Canes foras. Tu contra ista Latras ye. col. 1717.

Nuptiæ Ipsius! Ipse Sponsus, Ecclesia Sponsa. 1718.

Qui mittit Crystallum suam velut frusta panis] Multum obduruit multum congelavit: non jam sicut nix facile solvi potest. Nix multorum annorum tempore durata, ut fiat Seculorum, Crystallum dicitur. Fuerunt nimis duri, non jam nivi, sed crystallo comparandi: et ipsi præordinati sunt & vocati. 1724.

not onely for his beneficence to all his creatures, but also for his justice in all his proceedings.

holy] Or, mercifull, or, bounti full.

V. 18. The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him] Not in essence onely, but in affection: he is ready to grant their requests, Isai. 55. 6.

in truth] In sincerity of heart, as all the faithfull do, without hypocrisie.

V. 19. He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him] For they ask, or wish for nothing, but according to his will, 1 Joh. 5. 14.

V. 21. let all flesh blesse his holy name for ever and ever] Let all men praise him. So Psal. 65. 2.

PSAL. CXLVI.

Vers. 1. PRaise ye the Lord] Heb. Hallelujah.
Praise the Lord, O my soul] Psal. 103. 1.

O my soul] He stirreth up himself, and all his affections to praise God.

V. 2. While I live, will I praise the Lord] Psal. 104. 33.

V. 3. Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help] Psal. 118. 8, 9.

Put not your trust in princes] That God may have all praise. Here he forbiddeth all vain confidence, shewing that by nature we are more inclined to put our trust in creatures, then in God the Creatour.

help] Or, salvation: or, because he cannot help himself.

V. 4. he returneth to his earth] Of which he was made, Gen. 2. 7. and 3. 19.

his thoughts perish] As their excellent devices, and vain opinions, whereby they flattered themselves, and imagined wicked enterprises against others.

V. 5. Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help] Jere. 17. 7.

V. 6. Which made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that therein is] Gen. 1. 1.

Which made heaven and earth] He encourageth the godly to trust onely in the LORD, both for that his power is able to deliver them from all dangers, and because, for his promise sake, his will is most ready to do it.

V. 7. Which executeth judgement for the oppressed, which giveth food to the hungry] Psal. 103. 6.

for the oppressed] Whose faith and patience for a while he tryeth, but at length he punisheth the adversaries, that he may be known to be the judge of the world.

the Lord looseth the prisoners] Psal. 68. 6. and 107. 10.

V. 8. the Lord raiseth them that are bowed down] Psalm 145. 14.

the Lord loveth the righteous] Though he visit them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment, and such like trialls; yet his fatherly love and pitie, never faileth them, yea, rather to his these are signs of his love, Heb. 12. 6.

V. 9. The Lord preserveth the strangers] Meaning, all them that are destitute of all worldly means, and succour, as being in a strange place, where none knows, or regards them.

the fatherlesse and widow] Deut. 10. 18. Psal. 68. 5.

the way of the wicked he turneth upside down] Psal. 1. 6.

V. 10. The Lord shall reign for ever] Exod. 15. 18. He assured the church, that God reigneth for ever, for the preservation of the same.

PSAL. CXLVII.

Vers. 1. IT is good to sing praises unto our God] Psal. 92. 1.
for it is pleasant] He sheweth wherein we ought to exercise our selves continuall, and to take delight, to wit, in praising God, for that is pleasing to him.

and praise is comely] Psal. 33. 1.

V. 2. The Lord doth build up Jerusalem] Because the LORD is the founder of the church, it cannot be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, and seem as it were, for a time, to be cast off.

he gathereth together the outcasts of Israel] Deut. 30. 3.

V. 3. He healeth the broken in heart] With affection, or with sorrow for sin.

wounds] Heb. griefs.

V. 4. He telleth the number of the starres] Though it seem to man incredible, that God should assemble his church, being so dispersed; yet nothing can be too hard for him, that can number, and name all the stars.

he calleth them all by their names] Isai. 40. 26.

V. 5. his understanding is infinite] Heb. of his understanding there is no number, Isai. 40. 28. Rom. 11. 33.

V. 7. Sing unto the Lord] Heb. Answer: That is, sing by turns, Exod. 15. 21. and 32. 18. Or, answer Gods goodnesse by thankfulnesse and obedience.

V. 8. Who covereth the heaven with clouds] He sheweth, by the examples of Gods mighty power, goodnesse and wisdom, that we can never want most just occasion to praise God.

who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grasse to grow upon the mountains] Psal. 104. 13, 14.

V. 9. He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry] Job 38. 41. Psal. 104. 27, 28.

to the young ravens which cry] For their crying is, as it were a confession of their need, which cannot be relieved without God: then if God shew himself mindfull of the most contemptible fowls, can he suffer them to die with famine, whom he hath assured of life everlasting? Job 38. 41. Matth. 6. 26.

which cry] Or, when they cry.

V. 10. he taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man] God is thus bountifull to the creatures, not for any worth in them, but for his love to his people.

V. 11. in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy] Psal. 33. 18.

hope in his mercy] Heb. wait for his mercy.

V. 13. he hath strengthned the barres of thy gates] He doth not onely furnish his church with all things necessary, but preserveth also the same, and maketh it strong against outward force.

V. 14. He maketh peace in thy borders] Heb. who maketh thy border peace.

finest of the wheat] Heb. fat of wheat, Deut. 32. 14. Psal. 81. 16.

V. 15. He sendeth forth his commandment] His secret working in all creatures, is as a commandment to keep them in order, and to give them motion and force.

his word runneth very swiftly] For immediately, and without resisting, all things obey him.

V. 19. He sheweth] As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures, his words; so here he meaneth the will of God revealed in the scriptures, given to his church, as a most precious treasure.

his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgements unto Israel] Mal. 4. 4.

his word unto Jacob] Heb. his words: That is, the ten words, or commandments. He gave them the law morall, ceremoniall, judiciall, Mal. 4. 4.

V. 20, they have not known them] The cause of this difference is, Gods free mercy to his church, which hath therefore great cause to praise him, Rom. 3. 1.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

Vers. 1. PRaise ye the Lord] Heb. Hallelujah.
from the heavens] Revel. 5. 13. Ye heavenly creatures praise God in the heavens.

V. 2. all his angels] Psal. 103. 20, 21. Because they are members of the same church, he setteth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience, teach us to do our duty.

V. 3. sun and moon] In that Gods glory shineth in these insensible creatures, this their beauty, and orderly motion, is a countinuall praising of God, Psal. 19. 1, 2, &c.

starres of light] Job 38. 7.

V. 4. ye heavens of heavens] Ye highest heavens, 1 King. 8. 27. called the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2. where the saints and angels are. The skie where the stars are, is the second heaven: the ayr, is the first, where the fowls flie.

ye waters] That is, the rain-waters lodged in the clouds Gen. 1. 7. Job 26. 8.

above the heavens] Above the lower region of the ayr.

V. 5. for he commanded, and they were created] Gen. 1. 3, 6. Psal. 33. 9.

ANNOTATIONS

On the Book of PROVERBS.

The ARGUMENT.

IT appears, 1 King.4. 32. that Solomon spake three thousand Proverbs: Of all which, these onely remain that are Written in this Book, Wherein are many excellent sentences, besides many directions, not onely in matters of pietie, but also of morality and civilitie, and household offices and affairs. To all which, the great, and Wise King was content to condescend for the good of Gods Church and people. He speaks one while in his own name, another while in his fathers, then in wisdoms, else where in his mothers, and sometimes in Gods Name. So he shews, whence he received so much Wisdom, and how willing he Was to communicate it. The particulars see in notes on Chap. 4. 4. Who so reads this Book, that he attains to the Writers intention, set out in the six first verses of the first chapter, shall never repent of his pains.

CHAP. I.

Vers. 1. THe Proverbs] That is, grave, short, usefull, and famous sentences, that men may search out the true sense, and they may receive the deeper impression in them.

V. 2. To know wisdom] To teach us to know the truth of God. This verse is for theoricall knowledge, as the next is for practicall.

V. 3. To receive the instruction of wisdom] That we may learn how to carry our selves wisely, and justly toward all men.

and equitie] Heb. equities: That is, all kinde of equitie, or equitie in all causes, 2 Thes.2. 17. Heb.13. 21.

V. 4. To give subtiltie to the simple] To such as have no discretion to rule themselves, and like children are ready to beleeve every thing, Eph.4. 14.

discretion] Or, advisement.

V. 5. A wise man will hear] Or, That the wise man may hear, &c. As he sheweth, that these Proverbs containing the effect of religion, as touching manners and doctrine, do appertain to the simple people: so doth he declare, that the same is also necessary for them that are wise and learned.

unto wise counsels] To guide others, as ship-masters do at sea: for so the word signifies.

V. 6. To understand] Or, Make to understand.

To understand a proverb] Or, To make others understand.

the interpretation] Or, an eloquent speech.

V. 7. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge] Job 28. 28. Psal.111. 10. Chap.9. 10. As the foundation is the beginning of the house, and upholds all the rest.

the beginning] Or, the principall part.

fools despise wisdom and instruction] Psal.14. 1.

V. 8. of thy father] Parents should instruct their children in the fear of God, before they go out into the wide world, (for they may think masters speak for their own profit) and children observe what their parents have so taught them, when they are gone from them, Jere.35. 8.

of thy mother] Mothers instruction must be hearkned to, as well as the fathers, Chap.30. 17. and 31. 1.

V. 9. an ornament] Heb. an adding.

and chains about thy neck] Nothing shall be a greater ornament to thee in the sight of others.

neck] Heb. throats: That is, both sides of the throat.

V. 10. if sinners entice thee] To wit, the wicked which have not the fear of God: spoken of verse 7.

V. 11. let

Quamvis Ordo Psalmorum, qui mihi magni Sacramenti videtur continere secretum, nondum mihi fuerit revelatus &c. col. 1750. Augustin.
v. 4. Organi] Quod genus significatum hic esse non arbitror. 1754. Augustin.
Quid ergo proposuit, Laudate Dominum in Sanctis ejus? Quibus hoc dixit nisi vobis ipsis? Et in quibus ut Deum laudent, nisi in seipsis? Vos enim Sancti ejus, inquit, Virtus ejus estis, — Vos estis tuba, Psalterium, Cithara, tympanum, Chorus, Chordæ & organum, et cymbala jubilationis bene sonantia, quia consonantia. Vos estis hæc omnia; nihil hic vile, nihil hic transitorium, nihil ludicrum cogitetur. Et quia fas vivere secundum carnem mors est; omnis Spiritus laudet Deum. 1755. paulo ante Habebunt enim etiam tunc Sancti Dei differentias suas consonantes, non dissonantes, i.e. consentientes, non dissentientes. Sicut fit suavissimus concentus ex diversis quidem, sed non inter se adversis sonis. Stella enim a stella differt in claritate; sic et Resurrectio mortuorum. Col. 1754. Written May 27. 1698. at which time I finished reading the excellent Sermons of Austin on the Book of Psalms. Let the Author of them teach me, and cause me to learn to sing them. Amen.

V. 11. let us lay wait for blood] Jere. 5. 26. He speaketh not onely of the shedding of blood with the hand, but also of all crafty practices, which tend to the detriment of our neighbours life, or livelihood, Psal. 10. 8. and 17. 12.

V. 12. Let us swallow them up alive] Without any sign of blood, as if they had died a naturall death: or, so as no man may know what is become of them. Thus they provide for their own safety: or, so suddenly, as if this went quick down their throat. See Psal. 124.

as the grave] As the grave is never satiate; so the avarice of the wicked, and their cruelty, hath no end, Chap. 30. 16.

V. 14. let us all have one purse] He sheweth whereby the wicked are allured to joyn together. Every one hopes to have part of the spoil of the innocent.

V. 15. My son, walk not thou in the way with them] Chap. 4. 14.

from their path] That is, have nothing at all to do with them, Psal. 1. 1.

V. 16. For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood] Isai. 59. 7. Rom. 3. 15.

V. 17. Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird] Heb. Surely without cause the net is spread in the sight of any bird: yet men lay wait for their blood, and lurk privily for their lives. So are the wayes, &c. That is, as men seek to kill birds to eat them, though the birds provoke them not: so do wicked men seek to kill such as never offended them, that they may have their wealth. This is an inhumane course: Therefore my son have nothing to do with these wicked men.

in vain] Or, without cause, Vers. 11. chap 3. 30.

in the sight of any bird] Heb. in the eyes of every thing that hath a wing.

V. 19. which taketh away the life of the owners thereof] Rather then they will lose their gain, they will adde murther to covetousnesse, 1 Tim. 6. 10.

V. 20. Wisdom] Heb. wisdoms; that is, excellent wisdom.

Wisdom crieth without] Chap. 8. 1. This wisdom is the eternall word of God.

in the streets] Places of most frequent concourse: so that none can pretend ignorance.

V. 22. ye simple ones] Wisdom reproveth three kindes of men: simple ones, which erre of ignorance: mockers, that scoff at knowledge: fools, that hate instruction.

V. 24. Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded] Isai. 65. 12. and 66. 4. Jere. 7. 13. Ezek. 8. 18.

I have stretched out my hand] A gesture of such as made proclamation, to get attention, Isai. 65. 2. Acts 21. 40.

V. 26. I also will laugh at your calamitie] This is spoken according to our capacity, signifying, That the wicked, which mock and jest at Gods word, shall have the just reward of their mocking, being requited in the same kinde.

V. 27. When your fear cometh] That is, your destruction, which you feared, Chap. 10. 24.

V. 28. Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not finde me.] Job 27. 9. Isai. 1. 15. Jere. 1. 11. and 14. 12. Mic. 3. 4.

but they shall not finde me] Because they sought not with sincere affection to God, but for ease onely of their own grief.

V. 30. They would none of my counsel] Psal. 81. 11, 12.

V. 31. Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.] Chap. 14. 14.

of the fruit of their own way] They shall feel what commodity their wicked life shall give them.

V. 32. For the turning away of the simple shall slay them] Turning away from my counsells, verse 25.

turning away of the simple] Or, ease of the simple.

the prosperity of fools shall destroy them] Prosperity abused to sensuality, wherein they delight by reason of their wealth, Psal. 69. 22.

CHAP. II.

Vers. 1. MY son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee] Chap. 7. 1.

hide my commandments with thee] That is, keep them in thine heart, as treasure, Psal. 119. 11.

V. 2. apply thine heart to understanding] If thou give thy self seriously to seek the true knowledge of God without hypocrisie.

V. 3. if thou criest after knowledge] It is not enough to be willing to learn wisdom, but we must pray earnestly to God for it, and spare for no cost or labour, whereby it may be obtained.

liftest up thy voice] Heb. givest thy voice.

V. 4. If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her, as for hid treasures] Matth. 13. 44.

V. 5. and finde the knowledge of God] He sheweth us, that true wisdom is to know and fear God.

V. 6. For the Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding, 1 Kings 3. 9. Jam. 1. 5.

V. 7. He layeth up sound wisdom for the righteous] God provideth sound wisdom for good men, which is as a buckler to defend them, that they may walk safely in good wayes: and God preserves them therein.

V. 8. He keepeth] Heb. To keep.

V. 9. Then shalt thou understand righteousnesse, and judgement, and equity; yea, every good path] Chap. 1. 3.

Then shalt thou understand righteousnesse] As wisdom will teach us how to carry our selves well towards God; vers. 5. So likewise towards man, in this verse: For holy hearts are best fitted to understand holy things, Psal. 25. 12. John 7. 17.

V. 11. Discretion shall preserve thee] It shall teach thee how to govern thy self, and to keep thee from sinfull wayes, and dangers thereupon ensuing.

V. 13. Who leave the paths of uprightnesse] The right wayes prescribed in Gods word, which is the onely light; they leave to follow their own fantasies.

the wayes of darknesse] John 3. 19, 20. Eph. 5. 11.

V. 14. and delight in the forwardnesse of the wicked] Perversly wicked, walking crosse to God and good men, Levit. 26. 21. Psal. 18. 27.

V. 16. To deliver thee] As discretion will deliver us from evill men, verse 12. so likewise from evil women, in this verse.

from the strange woman] That is, not thy wife, nor thou mayest not meddle with. So strange fire, Num. 3. 4. No stranger, Num. 1. 51.

even from the stranger which flattereth with her words] Chap. 5. 3. and 7. 5.

from the stranger] Who is as bad as one of a strange nation, whom God had forbidden them to touch, 1 King. 11. 1, 2.

V. 17. the guide of her youth] That is, her husband, who married her in her youth, whose office is to guide her; and to whom she ought to be subject, 1 Pet. 3. 7.

the covenant of her God] The promise made in marriage; whereof God is both the author, and witnesse, Mal. 2. 14.

V. 18. For her house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead] Chap. 7. 27.

her house inclineth unto death] The courses used in her house, bring men to untimely ends.

V. 19. None that go unto her, return again] Those that are so entangled, seldom get free again, Eccles. 7. 26.

V. 20. That thou mayest walk in the way of good men] Chap. 13. 20. Discretion will keep thee from evill men, vers. 12. and evill women, vers. 16. that thou mayest walk in good wayes, in this verse.

V. 21. For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it] Psal. 37. 29.

the upright shall dwell in the land] They shall prosper in the world, when wicked men, especially adulterers, waste their estate, and come to nothing, Chap. 6. 26.

the perfect shall remain in it] Heb. shall be left in it: To wit, when wicked men come to untimely ends.

V. 22. But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressours shall be rooted out of it] Job 18. 17. Psal. 104. 35.

rooted out] Or, plucked up.

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. FOrget not my law] Forget not to do it; for God accounts those that do not his law, forgetters of it.

but let thine heart keep my commandments] Deuter. 8. 1. and 30. 16.

V. 2. length of dayes] Long life is the blessing of God, which he giveth to his, so far forth, as it is expedient for them, Psal. 91. 16.

V. 29. Devise not evil] Or, practise no evil.

seeing] Or, when.

seeing he dwelleth securely by thee] Seeing he fears no ill from thee, and therefore cannot prevent it.

V. 30. Strive not with a man without cause] Out of pride, or covetousnesse.

V. 31. Envy thou not the oppressour] Psal. 37. 1. Desire not to be like unto him in oppression, that thou mayest be as rich as he.

the oppressour] Heb. a man of violence.

V. 32. but his secret is with the righteous] Psal. 25. 14. That is, his covenant, and fatherly affection, which is hid, and secret from the world.

V. 33. The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked] Mal. 2. 2.

V. 34. Surely he scorneth the scorners] Jam. 4. 6. 1 Pet. 5. 5. He will shew by his plagues, that their scorns shall turn to their own destruction, as Chap. 1. 26. Psal. 18. 26.

Surely] Heb. If.

he giveth grace unto the lowly] He makes them to finde favour with men, as Exod. 3. 21. and 11. 3. and 12. 36.

V. 35. shall be the promotion of fools] Heb. exalteth the fools.

CHAP. IIII.

Vers. 1. The instruction of a father] Of me, who take on me the person of a father, and love all you young men, as if ye were mine own children.

V. 2. good doctrine] The Hebrew word comes from receiving, to shew, that we are ignorant of our selves, and are bound to receive good instruction, when it is offered by others.

forsake you not my law] My precepts, which are not onely doctrinall instructions, but also rules of life appointed by God, as a divine law.

V. 3. For I was my fathers son] My father taught me, and I hearkened to him: so I teach you, and expect that you should hearken unto me.

tender and onely beloved in the sight of my mother] 1 Chron. 29. 1.

onely beloved in the sight of my mother] Beloved, is well added, to shew her singular affection to Solomon, as if she had had no more children; yet had she three more, 1 Chron. 3. 5. Gen. 22. 2.

V. 4. He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments and live] 1 Chron. 28. 9.

He taught me also] Meaning, David his father: It is probable, that the sum of Davids instructions, he sets down from hence, to the end of the seventh chapter: and then brings in wisdom, speaking in the eighth and ninth chapter: and from thence, to the end of the twentieth fourth chapter, he sets down those Proverbs of his own, which he had set in order in his life time. Then to the end of the twentie ninth chapter, are added Solomons Proverbs, gathered by Hezekias servants. In the thirtieth chapter, is the prophecie of Agur. In the thirtie one chapter, the instruction Solomons mother taught him. Anot. Prov. 5. 7.

V. 5. Get wisdom] In the fifth and sixth verses, he requires that we should purchase wisdom, lay it up in the memory, as in a store-house, not go aside from it on either hand, but obey it constantly, out of love.

V. 7. Wisdom is the principall thing] In Hebrew it is thus, The beginning of wisdom is this, Purchase wisdom, yea, with all thy possessions purchase understanding: That is, he that will get wisdom, must first resolve to stick at no price, Matthew 13. 44.

V. 8. Exalt her, and she shall promote thee] Have it in high account, and then thou shalt prosper. Worldlings do contrary, they make low account of wisdom, and seek it last, or not at all.

V. 9. an ornament of grace] Chap. 1. 9.

a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee] Or, she shall compasse thee with a crown of glory.

V. 11. I have taught thee in the way of wisdom] Solomon declareth what care his father had to bring him up in the true fear of God: for this was Davids protestation, which Solomon now repeats.

I have led thee in right paths] Heb. made thee to go: That is, assisted thee by calling upon thee.

V. 12. thy steps shall not be straitned] Thou shalt walk at liberty without offence.

and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble] Psal. 91. 11, 12.

V. 14. Enter not into the path of the wicked] Psal. 1. 1. Chap. 1. 10, 15.

and go not in the way of evil men] Come not into it at all, or if by force of temptation thou be brought into it, go not forward in it, but get out of it quickly.

V. 15. by it] Heb. through it.

V. 16. For they sleep not except they have done mischief] Meaning, that to do evill, is more proper and naturall to the wicked, then to sleep, eat, or drink, Psal. 36. 4.

unlesse they cause some to fall] Into povertie, as verse 17.

V. 17. they eat the bread of wickednesse] Chap. 9. 17. and 20. 17.

the wine of violence] Heb. violences. That is, gotten by wicked means, and most cruell oppression, Amos 2. 8.

V. 18. unto the perfect day] Psal. 37. 6. Signifying, that the godly encrease daily in honour, till they come to perfection.

V. 19. they know not at what they stumble] Like men in the dark they can foresee no dangers, much lesse prevent them, Isa. 59. 10. John 11. 10. 1 John 2. 11.

V. 21. Let them not depart from thine eyes] Chap. 3. 3, 21. Or, Let them not make them to depart: That is, let not the wicked (mentioned, verse 19.) make thee neglect obedience to God.

V. 22. and health to all their flesh] That is, they shall have health of body: under the which, all other blessings of this life,

V.23. Keep thy heart with all diligence] As men keep the heart most of all from wounding, because the wound of it is mortall; so must they, in spirituall affairs, look principally to their thoughts, and afterwards to their tongues, eyes and feet.

with all diligence] Heb. above all keeping.

out of it are the issues of life] Thence comes life naturall, spirituall and eternall.

V. 24. a froward mouth, and perverse lips] Heb. frowardnesse of mouth, and perverseneſſe of lips.

V.25. Let thine eyes look right on] Look to thy way, like a traveller, and look not aside: weigh thy actions beforehand by Gods word: keep the mean, and avoid both extremes.

V. 26. let all thy ways be established] Or, all thy ways shall be ordered aright.

V. 27. Turn not to the right hand nor to the left] Deut. 5. 32. Josh. 1. 7.

CHAP. V.

Vers.2. Discretion] Heb. discretions: that is, all manner of discretion.

that thy lips may keep knowledge] That thou mayest not onely be wise thy self, but also able to teach others wisedom, Mal.2.7.

V.3. For the lips] I warn thee to hearken to my words, lest thou be deceived by the words of the adultereſſe.

V.4. her end is bitter as wormwood] That which will come upon thee, if thou meddle with the adultereſſe.

end is bitter] 2 Sam.2.26.

V.5. Her feet go down to death] Chap.7.27. All her doings lead to destruction.

V.6. her ways are moveable] She hath ever new means to allure to wickedneſſe; so that men cannot discern their danger, nor think of returning to good ways.

V.7. O ye children] O Solomon, and the rest of my sons: for they are Davids words. See Notes on chap.4. v.4,11.

V.8. come not nigh the door of her house] As from an house infected with the plague: come not nigh the door.

V.9. Lest thou give thine honour unto others] Lest thou be dishonoured by adultery, and her husband slay thee, chap.6. v. 32,34.

V.10. thy wealth] Heb. thy strength.

and thy labours be in the house of a stranger] Lest she, her husband and her children spend those goods which thou hast gotten with hard labour.

V.11. And thou mourn at the last] Roar like a lion: as if he were going to hell; he hath more horrour now, then joy before.

V.12. How have I] How brutish was I to do so, psal.73.22. Now he seeth his errour, though late first.

hated instruction] He sheweth the true cause of continuing in adultery, to be, hatred of instruction; although no adulterer in his health will confesse so much.

V. 14. in the midst of the congregation] I was made a publike spectacle of misery for all men to gaze at, and almost utterly ruined.

V.15. of thine own cistern] Get a wife of thine own, and delight in her, to extinguish the fire of lust in a clear well, and not in dirty puddles, which strumpets are.

V.16. Let thy fountains be dispersed abroad] Let thy children lawfully begotten be married about into other families with credit, which bastards cannot; for few of credit will joyn with them.

fountains] Or, springs, as psal.87.7.

V. 17. Let them be onely thine own] Let it not be doubtfull whether they be thine, or other mens; as it is with the children of adulterers.

V.18. Let thy fountain be blessed] So God will blesse thy wife, and make her fruitfull.

rejoyce with the wife of thy youth] Which thou didst marry in thy youth, and so mayest have lawfull children by her to rejoyce in, chap.2.17. Mal.2.14.

V.23. He shall die without instruction] Heb. because there is no instruction. God is so angry with him, that he will let no man instruct him, that he might escape. Or, it may be understood of correction; God will not correct him, but let him perish in his sins, Hos.4.14. Or, because he receives no instruction.

CHAP. VI.

Vers.1. Surety for thy friend, if thou hast stricken thy hand, &c.] Chap.17.18. and 20.16. and 22.26.

for thy friend] Or, to thy neighbour, as v.3.

if thou hast stricken thy hand] Joyned hands with a stranger, as a surety, to pay thy friends debt, if he do not.

with a stranger] A man to whom thou owest nothing; nor knowest not how he will use thee, if thou fall into his hands.

V.2. Thou art] Or, And art.

Thou art snared] He forbiddeth us not to become sureties for our friends, according to the rule of charity; but wills, That we consider for whom, to whom, and upon what terms we do it; so that the creditour may not be defrauded, nor our selves damnified.

with the words of thy mouth] Many think words bring no hurt, if they part with no present money; but Solomon tells us, Our promises do ensnare us.

thou art] Or, and art.

V.3. when] Or, seeing.

and make sure thy friend] Or, so shalt thou prevail with thy friend: or, prevail with thy friends.

make sure thy friend] Heb. overcome thy friends. So the same word is used, Cant.6.5. His meaning is, That if we be not able to pay, nor can finde no favour with the creditour, we should be importunate with our friends to free us from him with all speed, as beast or fowl, pursued, flie for their lives, verse 5.

V. 4. Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eye-lids] Psal.132.4.

V.6. Go] When thou art out of debt, go labour for thy living, and keep thy self out of it.

the ant] Because we regard not our teachers, God sets silly creatures to teach us to live of our selves; and not to be burdensome to others.

be wise] Learn of the ant wisely to order thine affairs.

V.7. which having no guide] The ant, that hath none to go before her to shew her how to do it, nor none oversee whether she do it or no, nor no ruler to punish her for idlenesse, yet labours: much more should men, that have those motives she hath not, chap.30.25,27.

V.8. Provideth her meat in the summer] When the weather is fair, the way smooth, and food to be had, she provides against winter: so should we, against sickneſſe and old age.

V.9. How long wilt thou sleep, &c.] Chap.24.33. He chides the sluggard for being so long slothfull.

V.10. Yet a little sleep] The sluggard answers, That he had need yet of more sleeps and slumbers: for sluggards never have sleep enough, but ever seek new occasions.

V.27. Can a man take fire in his bosome] Meaning, that she will never cease, till she have brought thee to beggery, and then seek thy destruction.

V.28. Can one go upon hot coles] A man cannot use familiarity with such, or dalliance, but it will turn to his ruine, Judg.16.

V.29. So he] Or, So is he.

V.30. Men do not despise a thief] He approveth not theft; but sheweth, that stealing, for need, is not so abominable as whoredom; forasmuch as theft might be redeemed; but adultery was a perpetuall infamie, and death, by the law of God: and the one proceeds from want, and the other from wantonnesse.

V.31. if he be found] Heb. being found.

he shall restore seven-fold] That is, for a manifold restitution; for it was divers, according to the thing stollen: or, at most, they can but take his goods, his life they cannot take away for bare theft.

V.32. understanding] Heb. heart.

V.33. A wound and dishonour shall he get] That is, death, appointed by the law; or be slain by the strumpets husband. See verse 34. or, a wound in his fame, which shall never be done away.

V.34. therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance] He sheweth, that a man commonly seeketh his death that hath abused his wife; and so concludeth, That the husband will accept of no ransome, to save the adulterer.

V.35. He will not regard any ransome] Heb. He will not accept the face of any ransome.

CHAP. VII.

Vers.2. Keep my commandments, and live] Chap.4.4.

and my law as the apple of thine eye] By this diversity of words, he meaneth, That nothing ought to be so dear unto us, as the word of God; nor we look on any thing more, nor minde any thing so much.

V.3. Binde them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart] Deut.6.8. and 11.18. Chap.3.3.

V.4. kinswoman] Heb. kinsman.

V.5. That they may keep thee from the strange woman] Chap.5.3. and 2.16.

V.6. For at the window of my house I looked] I speak not without reason, for I have seen the folly of those that have suffered themselves to be abused by harlots.

V.7. the youths] Heb. the sons.

V.9. in the evening] Heb. in the evening of the day.

in the black and dark night] He sheweth, that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraid to be seen; and also their own consciences did accuse them, which caused them to seek the night, to cover their filthinesse, Job 24.15. 1 Thess. 5.7.

V.10. subtill] Heb. reserved.

V.11. She is loud and stubborn] Chap.9.13. He describeth certain conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.

V.13. with an impudent face said] Heb. she strengthned her face, and said.

V.14. I have peace-offerings with me] Heb. peace-offerings are upon me] Because that in peace-offerings a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that she hath meat at home to make good chear with: or else, she would use some cloke of holinesse, till she had gotten him in her snares, 1 Kings 21.9.

this day have I payed my vows] Which declareth, that harlots outwardly will seem holy and religious, both because they may the better deceive others, and also flatter themselves; thinking, by observing of ceremonies and offerings, to make satisfaction for their sins.

V.15. to meet thee] As if her affection were to him onely, which was ready for the first comer.

V.18. our fill of love] Heb. be drunken with loves, chap.5.19.

snare] Chap.1.17. Eccles.9.12.

V.24. Hearken unto me now therefore] Being warned by this terrible example, hearken rather to my wholesom words, then to the alluring ones of harlots.

V.26. yea, many strong men have been slain by her] Heb. and all that are slain by her are strong men.

many strong men have been slain by her] Many stout men have been overcome by harlots; yea, the most of them that she destroys are stout men: so that the strength of a man is oft overcome by the sleight of a woman: none hath been so strong, but, being careless, they have been overcome by lust, Judg.16.

V.27. Her house is the way to hell] Chap.2.18. and 5.5. Heb. the ways to hell are in her house: that is, there are many ways to hell in the harlots house.

way] Heb. wayes.

CHAP. VIII.

Vers. 1. Doth not] All that think rightly, must confesse, that wisedom reveals her self. Here Solomon himself begins again, as chap.4.4. and brings in Christ the eternall Word and Wisdom of God, speaking, Joh. 1.1. 1 Cor.1.24.

V.21. and I will fill] Or, and fill.

V.22. before his works] This Wisedom is Christ the Son of God, who was before the world. See v.1. Joh.1.1.

of old] Psal. 93. 2. Heb. from then: that is, before his works made in the Creation, psal.93.2.

V.23. I was set up from everlasting] Christ was anointed King over the Church, by Gods decree, before the world was.

V.24. I was brought forth] He was begotten by the Father from eternitie.

V.26. fields] Or, open places.

nor the highest part of the dust of the world] Heb. the beginning of the dusts of the world: that is, before the matter of the earth was made.

the highest part] Or, the chief part.

V.27. When he prepared the heavens] Christ was with the Father in the creation of the world, when he made the heavens, girded in the sea, set the clouds fast above, and the fountains beneath.

a compasse] Or, a circle.

V.29. When he gave to the sea his decree] Gen.1.9, 10. Job 38.10,11. Psal.104.9. The decree of the sea, to keep it always in its bounds.

V.30. as one brought up with him] As a childe with the father.

I was daily his delight] Heb. delights: that is, his greatest delight: for even when the world was in making, God the Father took more pleasure in his Son, then in his works.

rejoycing] Or, sporting. So v.31.

rejoycing always before him] Heb. sporting greatly, as little ones do before their parents.

V.31. Rejoycing in the habitable part of his earth] Heb. sporting greatly: so that the work of creation was no pain or labour, but a pleasure to the Son of God.

my delights were with the sons of men] Though he delighted in all the creatures, yet most of all in men; and came afterwards to dwell among them, Joh.1.14.

V.32. Now therefore hearken unto me] Seeing I am Eternall, and so dear to God, and count you as my children; hearken to my counsel, and ye shall be happie.

blessed are they that keep my ways] Psal.119.1,2. and 128.2. Luke 11.28.

V.34. Blessed is the man that heareth me] Chap.3.13,18.

watching daily at my gates] No pains is too much to get wisedom.

waiting at the posts of my doors] Men must take instruction when God offers it; and, like scholars, attend their masters hours, v.17.

V.35. obtain] Heb. bring forth.

V.36. all they that hate me, love death] Draw death on themselves, as if they loved it; and greedily seek their own ruine.

CHAP. IX.

Vers.1. Wisedom] Chap.1.20.

Wisedom hath builded] Heb. Wisedoms: that is, Christ, the supreme Wisedom, chap.8.1.

her house] He hath prepared him a Church.

seven pillars] Many chief stays, and principall parts of his Church, as were the patriarchs, prophets, apostles, pastours and doctours.

V.2. her beasts] Heb. her killing.

she hath mingled her wine] Heb. mingled it: or, poured it out. So they did, in those hot countreys, mix their wine with water, to allay the heat of it. So doth Christ fit his heavenly instruction for our earthly capacitie.

mingled] Or, poured out.

she hath also furnished her table] He compareth wisedom to a great queen, who keeps open house for all comers. So doth the King of heaven, Matth.22.2. This is opposed to the harlots feast, chap.7.14.

V.3. She hath sent forth] Salvation wrought by Christ will not profit us, except it be published to us.

her maidens] The incorrupt teachers and ministers of Christ, who are his servants, 2 Cor.4.2.

the highest places] Heb. the wings of the high places.

V.4. Whoso is simple] He that knoweth his own ignorance, and is void of malice.

in hither] Or, aside, as v.15,16.

V.5. eat of my bread] By meat and drink, is meant the word of God, and the ministration of the sacraments, whereby God nourisheth his servants in his house, which is, the Church. Joh.6.27.

mingled] Or, poured out, as v.2.

V.6. Forsake the foolish] Leave the company of ignorant and wicked men: or, leave your foolish and sinfull ways. So Prov.1.22.

V.7. He that reproveth a scorner] The 7,8,9,10 verses may be read included in a parenthesis: for in the 11 verse is a reason given of the exhortation given in the 5 and 6 verses.

getteth himself a blot] For the wicked will contemn the reprover, and labour to defame him, Matth.7.6.

V.8. Reprove not a scorner] Meaning, them which are incorrigible, which Christ calleth dogs and swine: or, he speaketh in comparison; Rather rebuke a wise man then a fool: not that scorners should not be rebuked simply, or of none; but advisedly and discreetly, considering their malice, and the small hope of doing them good.

Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee] Matth.7.6.

V.10. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisedom] Job 28.28. Psal.111.10. Chap.1.7. They then that fear not God, have not one spark of true and saving knowledge.

V.11. For by me thy days shall be multiplied] Chap.10.27.

V.12. thou shalt be wise for thy self] I speak not for my profit, but for thine: if thou hearken to me, the good will be thine; and if thou scoff at my instruction, the hurt will be thine own, Job 35.6,7. Gal.6.5.

V.13. A foolish woman is clamorous] Chap.7.11. The adultéresse, spoken of, chap.7.

V.15. who go right on their ways] That would hearken to wisedoms lessons, if they were not seduced.

V.16. Whoso is simple] She speaks in the same words which wisedom used before, yet seeks to deceive, v.4.

in hither] Or, aside, v.4.

V.17. Stolen waters are sweet] Sinfull delights taken by stealth, are the more pleasant to persons sensually affected; contrary to chap.5.15.

eaten in secret] Heb. of secrecies: that is, eaten most secretly.

V.18. dead

V.18. dead are there] Prov.2.18. and 7.26.
her guests are in the depths of hell] They are as sure to go into the deepest place of hell, as if they were there already. A metaphor from a dungeon.

CHAP. X.

Vers.1. The proverbs of Solomon] See Notes on chap.4.4. and 8.1.
A wise son maketh a glad father] Chap.15.20. Parents look for comfort from their children; and their hearts are dead within them, when they are disappointed of it.
V. 2. Treasures of wickednesse profit nothing] Chap.11.4. Riches wickedly gotten do not profit, but do much hurt, chap. 24.23. and 17.21.
V.3. The Lord will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish] Psal.37.25. Though he suffer the just to want for a time, yet he will send him comfort in due season.

a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding] Chap. 26.3. understanding] Heb. heart.
V.15. The rich mans wealth is his strong citie] Chap.18.11. A rich man trusts in his riches: a poor man fears destruction, for want of wealth.
V.16. The labour of the righteous tendeth to life] That which a righteous man gets, he useth to preserve his own life, and other mens; but wicked men use their wealth to undo themselves and others.
V.17. erreth] Or, causeth to erre.
V.18. with] Or, hath.
V.19. In the multitude of words there wanteth not sin] Eccles. 5.3. Jam.3.2. Not of pondered words, but of rash ones, which wisedom teacheth men to forbear: or, men that are full of talk, cannot but talk amisse sometimes.
V.20. The tongue of the just is as choice silver] Good mens words are of great price; wicked mens thoughts are of small value.
V.21. The lips of the righteous feed many] They are able to admonish, exhort, counsell and comfort others; when wicked men cannot preserve themselves.
of wisedom] Heb. of heart.
V.22. The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich] Gods blessing makes men rich, without those carefull toils that covetous men are oppressed withall, psal.127.2,3.
V.23. It is a sport to a fool to do mischief] Chap.14.9.
but a man of understanding hath wisedom] Or, and so is wisedom (or, to do wisedom) to a man of understanding.
a man of understanding hath wisedom] To avoid doing mischief.
V.24. be granted] Or, yeeld fruit, as chap.12.12.

frowardnesse] Heb. frowardnesses.

CHAP. XI.

Vers.1. A false balance] Heb. balances of deceit. Under this word, he condemneth all false weights, measures, and deceit.
abomination to the Lord] Though some men make light of it, yet God hates it.
A false balance is abomination to the Lord] Levit.19.36. Deut.25.15. Chap.16.11. and 20.10,23.
a just weight] Heb. a perfect stone.
V.2. When pride cometh, then cometh shame] Chap.15.33. and 16.18. and 18.12. When man forgetteth himself, and exalteth himself above his vocation; then God, by some sudden accident, bringeth him to confusion.
with the lowly is wisedom] And, by consequence, honour; from them that rightly weigh things.
V.3. The integritie of the upright shall guide them] Chap.13.6.
V.4. Riches profit not in the day of wrath] Chap.10.2. Ezek. 7.19. Zeph.1.18. Though well gotten, and not by fraud, as vers. 1.
V. 5. direct] Heb. rectifie.
V.6. The righteousnesse of the upright shall deliver them] It shall not onely leade him in safe paths; but also free him out of dangers.
transgressours shall be taken in their own naughtinesse] Chap. 5.22.
in their own naughtinesse] His plots to ruine others, shall ruine himself, chap.5.22.
V.7. hope] Or, expectation of strengths: that is, the most strong hope.
V.8. The righteous is delivered out of trouble] Chap.21.18.
the wicked cometh in his stead] It shews the great love of God to his, who brings them out of the snare, and their enemies into it; as in Mordecai's case, Esth.7.9.
V. 9. An hypocrite with his mouth destroyeth his neighbour] Job 8.13 A man that dissembles with his neighbour by fair words, leads him to destruction; unlesse he be a good man, that by knowledge findes out his drifts, and prevents them: or, a man that dissembles with God, draws others to do so: but good men that know Gods will, will not be drawn by him.
hypocrite] Or, profane man, psal.35.16.
V.10. the citie rejoyceth] Because of the good they get by them; whereas, by wicked men exalted they get hurt, v.11.
V.11. By the blessing of the upright the citie is exalted] By the prayers and good counsells of righteous men, a citie is exalted, as it is pulled down by the cursings and ill counsells of wicked men.
V. 12. void of wisedom] Heb. destitute of heart.
despiseth his neighbour] Speaketh ill of him, or to him; but he that is thorowly wise (Heb. a man of understandings) will not therefore speak ill of others, nor to him that reproacheth him.
understanding] Heb. understandings.
V. 13. A tale-bearer] Heb. he that walketh, being a tale-bearer, Levit.19.16.

A tale-

2. in his supernatural gifts
3. in his life & actions
4 in his death
5 in his resurrection

A tale-bearer revealeth secrets] Things committed to him concerning the speaker, or some other, upon condition of secrecie.

V. 14. Where no counsel is, the people fall] 1 King. 12. 1, &c. chap. 15. 22. Heb. counsells: Such as ship-masters use, to guide the ship well: for so the word signifies.

V. 15. He that is suretie for a stranger] Whose condition he knows not: or, for one whom he is no way obliged to, and therefore is not tied to be bound for him. So a strange woman is she that is not a mans own wife, chap. 2. 16. and 6. 1.

shall smart for it] Heb. shall be sore broken. Heb. be broken by breaking: That is, broken to shivers, as an earthen pot with a fall: and we call it breaking, when men are undone.

he that hateth suretiship, is sure] Loveth it not, and will not do it without just cause. The hated wife was the lesse beloved, Deut. 21. 15.

suretiship] Heb. those that strike hands.

V. 16. A gracious woman retaineth honour] That hath found favour with God: or, a woman endued with grace.

V. 17. The mercifull man doth good to his own soul] He that is of a bountifull disposition, affords himself things needfull, which a cruell man doth not: or, he that is good to others, shall receive a reward for it.

V. 18. The wicked worketh a deceitfull work] That promiseth a reward, but brings none, Rom. 6. 21. Eph. 5. 11.

to him that soweth] Psal. 112. 9, 10. It is like good seed: it will certainly bring profit, Gal. 6. 8. 2 Cor. 9. 6.

righteousnesse] Sometimes it is taken for alms.

a sure reward] Heb. a reward of truth.

V. 19. As] So.

As righteousnesse tendeth to life] He unfoldeth what he meant in the last verse, expounding the last part first.

so] Heb. and.

V. 21. Though hand joyn in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished] chap. 16. 5.

the wicked shall not be unpunished] A wicked man cannot free himself from mischief; but a good man may free his posterity also.

V. 22. so is a fair woman which is without discretion] Heb. that hath departed from taste: That is, that wants reason to guide her self. Or, that hath lost her savour: That is, her credit, by light courses.

the expectation] Or, to the expectation.

V. 23. The desire] Or, To the desire.

The desire of the righteous is onely good] The good shall have that happinesse they desire: but the wicked can expect for nothing but Gods anger.

V. 24. scattereth] Psal. 112. 9, 10.

and yet increaseth] He that giveth liberally, gets by giving: and the covetous lose by not giving.

V. 25. The liberall soul shall be made fat] 2 Cor. 9. 8, 9, 10. That is, rich.

The liberall soul] Heb. The soul of blessing.

he that watereth, shall be watered also himself] He shall be made richer, that he may still do good.

V. 26. He that withholdeth corn] He that keeps corn till it be dear, or faulty.

the people shall curse him] Heb. strike him thorow. For curses are like darts.

but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it] They will pray God to blesse him.

V. 27. He that diligently seeketh good, procureth favour] He that riseth betimes to seek good to himself, or others.

but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him] Psal. 7. 15, 16. and 9. 15, 16. and 10. 2. and 57. 6.

V. 28. He that trusteth in his riches, shall fall] Like a dry leaf, or as one that trusts to an unsure stay, Isai. 36. 6. 1 Tim. 6. 17. but the righteous that trust in God, shall flourish like a green leaf or branch.

the righteous shall flourish as a branch] Psal. 1. 3. and 92. 12, &c. Jere. 17. 8.

branch] Or, a leaf: That is, a green leaf.

V. 29. He that troubleth his own house, shall inherit the winde] Chap. 15. 27. By imposing too much labour, sparing too much, or raising quarrells; he shall not mend his estate, but impair it.

the fool shall be servant to the wise of heart] He that hath not wit to keep what his friends left him, must in his old dayes serve them, that are wiser then himself.

V. 30. and he that winneth] That they learn of some, they teach others.

he that winneth souls, is wise] Subdueth them to the knowledge and will of God, 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5.

winneth] Heb. taketh.

V. 31. Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth] 1 Pet. 4. 18. Punished for his sins.

CHAP. XII.

Vers. 1. WHoso loveth instruction, loveth knowledge] Rather, correction. To wit, by word of mouth, called reproof afterwards. It is a sign he loves knowledge, that can bear his masters reproof: but he that cannot bear it, loves it no more then a beast.

V. 3. the root of the righteous shall not be moved] Chap. 10. 25. The state of the righteous, though it shake sometimes, yet is like a deep rooted tree, it will not be blown down; whereas the wicked fall, when they seem strongest.

V. 4. vertuous] Heb. Of vertue, Chap. 31. 10.

A vertuous woman is a crown to her husband] 1 Cor. 11. 7. Not onely an excellent helper, but also a chief ornament in the eyes of others, chap. 31. 23.

V. 5. The thoughts of the righteous are right] Heb. judgement. That is, right as judgements ought to be.

the counsels of the wicked are deceit] Not onely their rash thoughts, but also their deliberate ones.

V. 6. The words of the wicked are to lie in wait for blood] Chap. 1. 11, 18.

the mouth of the upright shall deliver them] Those whose blood the wicked seek to spill, 1 Sam. 19. 4. or, themselves.

V. 7. The wicked are overthrown, and are not] Psal. 37. 37. chap. 11. 21.

V. 8. of a perverse heart] Heb. perverse of heart.

V. 10. A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast] Is mercifull even to the very beast that doth him service.

the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel] If they be cruell, when they pretend to shew mercy; what are they, when they come with a drawn sword to shed blood?

tender] Or, bowels.

V. 11. He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread] Chap. 28. 19.

he that followeth vain persons, is void of understanding] And so neglects his businesse, whereby he should live.

V. 12. The wicked desireth the net of evil men] He continually imagineth means how to do harm to others.

the net] Or, the fortresse.

V. 13. The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips] Heb. The snare of the wicked is in the transgression of lips, Chap. 18. 7. An evill mans tongue brings himself into trouble, and a good mans helps himself out, 1 Sam. 25.

V. 14. A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth] Chap. 13. 2.

and the recompence of a mans hands shall be rendred unto him] A good man shall be rewarded both for his good words and works.

V. 15. The way of a fool is right in his own eyes] Chap. 3. 7. His own device: for he thinketh himself wisest, and hearkneth to no mans counsell.

he that hearkneth unto counsel is wise] No man is naturally wise: every one therefore must get wisdom by hearkning to others, Job 11. 12.

V. 16. A fools wrath is presently known] Or, A fool is known in the day of his wrath. For then he vents his folly.

presently] Heb. in that day.

a prudent man covereth shame] Bridleth his affections, that he may not speak, or do any thing that may shame him: or, hideth the shame of another, by taking no notice of an injury.

V. 17. He that speaketh truth, sheweth forth righteousnesse] Chap. 14. 5.

a false witnesse] Heb. of lies.

V. 18. There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword] Psal. 57. 4. and 59. 7. It is not every man that doth so, but there are some so bad, that their tongues wound like swords.

V. 19. The lip of truth shall be established for ever] A true speaker can stand it out to the end; but a liar can shift but a while.

V. 20. Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil] Or, Deceit returns into the heart. That is, they that seek to deceive others, hurt themselves: but they that give good counsell, fare the better for it themselves.

V. 22. Lying lips are abomination to the Lord] Chap. 6. 17. Though God hate all manner of evill; yet lying is most hatefull to him, being a God of truth, Revel. 22. 15.

they that deal truly are his delight] That do as they speak, which liars do not.

V. 23. A prudent man concealeth knowledge] Chap. 13. 16. and 15. 2. He that is wise, reveals his knowledge, onely when he may do good with it: but fools by prating, shew their folly.

V. 24. The hand of the diligent shall bear rule] Chapter 10. 4.

the slothfull shall be under tribute] Or, deceitfull: For such men live by their wits, not by their hands.

V. 25. Heavinesse in the heart of man maketh it stoop] Chap. 15. 13. As a heavy burden weighs down the body.

a good word maketh it glad] A word of comfort from a friend.

word] Or, matter. chap. 15. 20.

V. 26. excellent] Or, abundant.

the way of the wicked seduceth them] They think their way more excellent; but they are deceived.

V. 27. The slothfull man roasteth not that which he took in hunting] A wicked man gets no good by his, for others get it away: but a good man hath good by his riches.

slothfull man] Heb. man of slackness, as chap. 10. 4. Mic. 6. 9.

CHAP. XIII.

Vers. 1. Instruction] Or, reproof.

V 2. A man shall eat good by the fruit of his mouth] Chap. 12. 14. He that useth his tongue aright, shall get good by it: he that doth otherwise, shall get hurt.

V. 3. He that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life] Chap. 21. 23. From rash and hasty speeches.

V. 4. The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing] He ever desireth, but taketh no pains to get any thing: and therefore must lose his longing.

V. 5. A righteous man hateth lying] A man is not righteous that abstains from lying, unless he do it out of the hatred of that sin.

lying] Heb. a word of a lie.

and cometh to shame] By his lying.

V. 16. Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge] Chap. 12. 23. and 15. 2.

layeth] Heb. spreadeth.

V. 17. A wicked messenger falleth into mischief] An unfaithfull messenger shall be punished, because he hath wounded his masters estate by neglect of his businesse: but a faithfull one, which hath healed it, shall be rewarded.

a faithfull ambassadour is health] Heb. an ambassadour of faithfulnesses: That is, a most faithfull one, chap. 25. 13.

V. 18. instruction] Or, rebuke.

but he that regardeth reproof, shall be honoured] Chap. 15. 5, 31. With riches, and dignity.

V. 19. The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul] Verse 12. God doth accomplish the desire of good men to their joy, Psal. 145. 19. but not of the wicked, because they cannot be drawn to leave their sins.

V. 20. He that walketh with wise men, shall be wise] And so preserved, whereas a companion of fools learning folly of them, shall perish. Feeder of fools - Heb. Dusk shall be destroyed] Heb. shall be broken.

V. 21. pursueth] Heb. eagerly pursueth.

V. 22. A good man leaveth an inheritance to his childrens children] He leaves it to his children, and they to theirs; whereas the wealth of wicked men many times comes not to their children, but to good men, that have no relation to them, Psalm 37. 26.

the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just] Job 27. 17.

laid] Heb. hidd n.

V. 23. Much food is in the tillage of the poor] Chap. 12. 11. If he follow his businesse with judgement, without which, rich men may want.

V. 24. He that spareth his rod, hateth his son] Chap. 23. 13. Doth as one that hates him: lets him be corrupted, and so undone.

he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes] Ere his sin grow to an head.

V. 25. The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul] Psal. 34. 10. and 37. 3. Hath food to fill his belly.

CHAP. XIIII.

Vers. 1. Every wise woman buildeth her house] Encreaseth the welfare of it, by looking well to her children and servants: but foolish women ruine the family. Pride then must not make a man despise the counsell of a prudent wife, nor affection force him to give way to a foolish.

V. 2. He that walketh in his uprightnesse, feareth the Lord] Mens courses shew, whether they fear God, or despise him.

but he that is perverse in his wayes, despiseth him] Job 12. 4.

V. 3. In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride] His proud tongue shall cause him to be punished, chap. 10. 8, 10.

V. 4. where no oxen are, the crib is clean] By the ox is meant labour, and by the crib, the barne: meaning, without labour, there is no food for cattell, much lesse for men.

V. 5. A faithfull witnesse will not lie] Exod. 20. 16. and 23. 1. chap. 6. 19. and 12. 17.

A faithfull] Heb. Of faithfulnesses.

V. 6. A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not] For the maintenance of his own ambition, as Simon Magus did, Acts 8. 18, 19. and not for Gods glory.

knowledge is easie unto him that understandeth] Chap. 8. 9.

V. 9. Fools make a mock at sin] Chap. 10. 23. They that know not the grievousnesse of sin, nor Gods judgements that follow it: or, it may be read. Sin mocks fools: It deceives them of Gods favour, which they expect, in vain; but righteous men, which are truely wise, have it among them.

V. 10. The heart knoweth his own bitternesse] Other men know not whether we joy, or grieve, on good ground; nor have no part in our inward joy or grief, till we reveal it.

his own bitternesse] Heb. the bitternesse of his soul.

V. 12. There is a way which seemeth right unto a man] Chap. 16. 25.

V. 13. and the end of that mirth is heavinesse] He sheweth, that the allurement unto sin, seemeth sweet; but the end thereof is destruction.

V. 14. The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own wayes] He that forsaketh God shall be punished, and made weary of his sins, wherein he delighted.

filled with his own wayes] Chap. 1. 31. and 12. 14.

a good man shall be satisfied from himself] Heb. from with himself. That is, by those graces, and comforts that God hath given him: or, from the goodnesse of his actions, though others discourage him.

V. 17. a man of wicked devices is hated] Men can bear with him that is rashly angry; but they hate him that deviseth mischief to others in cool blood: or, a man that conceals the mischief he contrives, is hated, 2 Sam. 13. 22.

V. 20. The poor is hated even of his own neighbour] Chap. 19. 7.

neighbour] Or, friend.

the rich hath many friends] Heb. many are the lovers of the rich.

V. 21. He that despiseth his neighbour, sinneth] He that will not give to the poor, shall be punished as a sinner, although he take nothing from them.

but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he] Psal. 112. 9.

V. 22. Do they not erre that devise evil?] They that seek to hurt others, go out of the way of safety themselves, and perish miserably.

mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good] Gods mercifull promise shall be made good to them.

V. 23. the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury] Talk without study or labour, makes no man rich.

V. 24. The crown of the wise is their riches] Riches honour wise men, that use them well; but make fools more contemptible.

V. 25. A true witnesse delivereth souls; but a deceitfull witnesse speaketh lies] Verse 5.

A true witnesse delivereth souls] Saveth men, by witnessing the truth; whereas false witnesses destroy themselves and others.

souls] Or, lives.

V. 26. and his children shall have a place of refuge] Gods children, or the children of him that fears God, Psal. 115. 13, 14.

V. 27. The fear of the Lord is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death] Chap. 13. 14.

V. 28. In the multitude of people is the kings honour] That is, the strength, as appears by the opposition: for a king without strength, hath neither honour nor safety.

V. 29. he that is hastie of spirit exalteth folly] Shews it to all men, as things set on high, are seen far.

hasty of spirit] Heb. short of spirit.

V. 30. A sound heart is the life of the flesh] A heart free from passions preserveth the health of the body.

envy the rottennesse of the bones] Psal. 112. 10.

V. 31. He

V. 31. He that oppresseth the poor, reproacheth his maker] Chap. 17. 5. Matth. 25. 40.

reproacheth his maker] His own maker, or the maker of the poor: for God made him, and in that state, not to be despised, but to be relieved.

but he that honoureth him, hath]. Or, but he honoureth him that hath.

V. 32. in] Or, for.

hath hope in his death] Job 13. 15. and 19. 26. Psal. 23. 4. 2 Cor. 1. 9.

V. 34. Righteousnesse exalteth a nation] A mean people grows great and honourable by justice; whereas a great nation is ruined by injustice, and suffering sin to be unpunished.

to any people] Heb. to nations.

V. 35. his wrath is against him that causeth shame] By doing the kings business foolishly; whereas he that doth it wisely, gets the king credit, Isai. 22. 18.

CHAP. XV.

Vers. 1. A Soft answer turneth away wrath] Chap. 25. 15.

V. 2. but the mouth of fools poureth out foolishnesse] Verse 28. Chap. 12. 23. and 13. 16.

poureth] Heb. belcheth, or bubleth.

V. 3. The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good] Job 34. 21. Chap. 5. 21. Jere. 16. 17. and 32. 19. Heb. 4. 13.

V. 4. A wholesome tongue] Heb. the healing of the tongue.

V. 5. A fool despiseth his fathers instruction] Chap. 10. 1.

instruction] Or, rebuke.

but he that regardeth reproof, is prudent] Chap. 13. 18.

V. 6. but in the revenues of the wicked is trouble] A wicked man may get much wealth, but he hath much care and trouble with it, because Gods blessing goes not with it, Psal. 127. 2. whereas a good mans treasure may be his strength, and without trouble, through Gods blessing.

V. 7. disperse knowledge]. Scatter it abroad in hope of increase, as husband-men do their seed, Psal. 112. 9.

doth not so] Or, is not right.

V. 8. The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord] Chap. 21. 27. Isai. 1. 11. and 66. 3. Jere. 6. 20. and 7. 22. Amos 5. 22. That thing is abominable before God, which the wicked think to be most excellent, and whereby they think to be most accepted: For they pray solemnly with sacrifice, God hates it: but he accepts the bare prayers of the godly, without sacrifice.

V. 9. that followeth after righteousnesse] That followeth eagerly after it, Chap. 21. 21. 1 Tim. 6. 11. Heb. 12. 14.

V. 10. Correction] Or, instruction.

Correction is grievous unto him] Or, A grievous correction shall befall him.

he that hateth reproof shall die] Chap. 5. 12, &c. and 10. 17.

V. 11. Hell and destruction are before the Lord] Job 26. 6. Psal. 139. 8. There is nothing so deep, or secret, that can be hid from the eyes of God: he knows the souls in hell, and the bodies in the grave; and much more mens thoughts here.

V. 12. one that reproveth him] Or, that one should reprove him.

V. 13. A merry heart maketh a cheerfull countenance] Chap. 17. 22.

but by sorrow of the heart, the spirit is broken] Chap. 12. 25.

the spirit is broken] So much that a mans grief appears in his face.

V. 14. the mouth of fools feedeth on foolishnesse] Their heart receives foolishnesse, as their mouth receives meat; for all things are nourished by their like.

V. 16. Better is little with the fear of the Lord, then great treasure, and trouble therewith] Psal. 37. 16. Chap. 16. 8. 1 Tim. 6. 6.

Better is little with the fear of the Lord] Which usually is without trouble; as on the contrary, great troubles attend the treasures of them that fear not God.

V. 17. Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, then a stalled ox, and hatred therewith] Chap. 17. 1.

a dinner of herbs] The word signifies, a travailers dinner, a short and sudden one without preparation.

V. 18. A wrathfull man stirreth up strife] Chap. 26. 21. and 29. 22.

V. 19. The way of the slothfull man is as an hedge of thorns] He ever findeth some let or stay, and dares not go forward.

hedge of thorns] Hos. 2. 6.

but the way of the righteous] Then a slothfull man is not righteous, nor a righteous man slothfull.

is made plain] Heb. is raised up as a causey.

V. 20. A wise son maketh a glad father] Chap. 10. 1.

a foolish man despiseth his mother] And so grieves her: as on the contrary, the father is made glad by honouring him.

V. 21. Folly is joy to him that is destitute of wisdom] Chap. 10. 23. As fools rejoycing in evil, live wickedly: so wisemen rejoycing in goodnesse, live uprightly.

destitute of wisdom] Heb. void of heart.

V. 22. Without counsell, purposes are disappointed: but in the multitude of counsellers they are established] Or, Break purposes without counsell: for in the multitude of counsellers thou shalt be established.

Without counsell, purposes are disappointed] Chap. 11. 14. Things rashly undertaken are blown away like chaff.

counsellers they are established] Chap 10. 18.

V. 23. by the answer of his mouth] Answer is put for speech, though no man speak before, as it is often in the old and new testament.

a word spoken in due season, how good is it?] Chap. 25. 11. If we will that our talk be comfortable, we must wait for a seasonable time.

in due season] Heb. in his season.

V. 25. The Lord will destroy the house of the proud] Chap. 12. 7. and 14. 11.

he will establish the border of the widow] Who hath no cause to be proud.

V. 26. The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the Lord] Chap. 6. 18. Wicked mens thoughts and words displease God; good mens please him.

pleasant words] Heb. words of pleasantnesse.

V. 27. He that is greedy of gain, troubleth his own house] Hinders the comfort of himself and his: whereas, he that hates bribes, so that he will not receive them offered, much lesse ask them, he and his shall live comfortably.

troubleth his own house] Chap. 11. 29.

V. 28. the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things] Rashly and abundantly, for lack of premeditation.

V. 29. The Lord is farre from the wicked] Psal. 34. 16. God is far off from wicked men, and will not hear their prayers: but he is nigh to good men, and hears them quickly: Therefore the former must not presume, nor the latter despair of the good successe of their prayers.

he heareth the prayer of the righteous] Psal. 145. 18.

V. 30. The light of the eyes rejoyceth the heart] As light delights the eyes; so good news, or a good name joyes the heart.

report] Heb. hearing. chap. 12. 25.

V. 31. The ear that heareth the reproof of life, abideth among the wise] Verse 5. That suffereth himself to be admonished by Gods word, that bringeth life, and so amendeth.

V. 32. instruction] Or, correction.

heareth] Or, obeyeth.

getteth understanding] Heb. possesseth an heart.

V. 33. The fear of the Lord is the instruction of wisdom] Job 28. 28.

CHAP. XVI.

Vers. 1. The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue is from the Lord] Chap. 19. 21. and 20. 24. Jere. 10. 23. He derideth the presumption of man, who dare attribute to himself any thing, and yet can neither prepare his heart to speak, nor speak what he hath prepared, without Gods assistance: or, though man have never so well prepared himself, yet without God, he cannot utter his conceptions: as verse 9.

preparations] Or, disposings.

in man, and] Or, are of man, but.

V. 2. All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes] Chap. 21. 2. He sheweth hereby, that man flattereth himself in his doings, calling that vertue, which God calleth vice, Psal. 36. 2. Isai. 5. 20.

the Lord weigheth the spirits] God weighs mens thoughts in an even balance, and findes them too light, and their actions also, Dan. 5. 27.

V. 3. Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established] Psal. 37. 5. and 55. 22. Matth. 6. 25. Luk. 12. 22. 1 Pet. 5. 7.

Commit] Heb. Roll.

Commit thy works unto the Lord.] Those things that are too hard for thee, trust God with them, as men use to lay their burdens on other mens shoulders, when they cannot bear them; and he will effect them according to thy intention.

V. 4. The Lord hath made all things for himself] For his own glory.

yea even the wicked for the day of evil] Job 21.30. He bringeth wicked men daily into the world, in whose condemnation he intends to glorifie his justice: or, to be executioners of his wrath, for the punishment of others.

V. 5. Every one that is proud in heart, is an abomination to the Lord] Chap.6.17. and 8.13.

unpunished] Heb. held innocent.

V.6. By mercy and truth iniquitie is purged, &c.] Or, Where mercy and truth is, iniquitie is purged; and where the fear of God shews it self, by departing from evil: that is, pietie is a sure token of remission of sins; and not sacrifices, without it.

V. 7. When a mans ways please the Lord] He that will enjoy the favour of men for good, must get God's first, Job 5.23.

V. 8. Better is a little with righteousnesse, &c.] Psal. 37. 16. Chap.15.16. A little well gotten, is better then a great deal ill gotten, psal.37.16.

V.9. A mans heart deviseth his way] Verse 1.

but the Lord directeth his steps] See Notes on v.1.

V.10. A divine sentence] Heb. divination.

A divine sentence is in the lips of the king] Of a godly and wise king: or rather, of Solomon himself, whose proverbs we ought therefore to attend unto, as to an unerring sentence of a judge on the bench.

V.11. A just weight and balance are the Lords] Levit.19.36. Chap.11.1.

all the weights] Heb. all the stones.

all the weights of the bag are his work] If they be true and just, they are Gods work, and he delighteth therein: but if they be false, they are the work of the devil, and serve to their condemnation that use them.

V.12. It is an abomination to kings to commit wickednesse] Wise kings hate injustice, knowing it will overthrow their thrones.

for] Or, but.

V. 14. The wrath of a king is as messengers of death] Chap. 20. 2. That is, he findeth out many means to execute his wrath.

a wise man will pacifie it] For there is no resisting it.

V.15. In the light of the kings countenance is life] The kings cheerfull countenance rejoyceth the subjects, like sun-shine; and enricheth them, like the later reign.

his favour is as a cloud of the later rain] Chap.19.12.

V.16. How much better is it to get wisedom, then gold] Chap. 8. 11.

V.18. Pride goeth before destruction] Chap.11.2. and 18.12. Mens estates are like earthen-ware; the higher they are lifted, the greater is their fall and breaking. Pride makes many break in our days, chap.17.19.

V.19. Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly] To be as lowly as men overcome in battell.

V.20. He that handleth a matter] Or, He that understandeth a matter.

He that handleth a matter wisely, shall finde good] Or, he that wisely understandeth the word; meaning, Gods word: else he means, That he that will bring his affairs to a good end, must have understanding in his businesse, and trust in God.

trusteth in the Lord, happie is he] Psal.2.12. and 34.8. and 125.1. Isa.30.18. Jer.17.7.

V.21. the sweetnesse of the lips encreaseth learning] Wisedom joyned with eloquence, doth much good.

V. 22. Understanding is a well-spring of life unto him that hath it] Chap.13.14.

him that hath it] Heb. the owners of it.

the instruction of fools is folly] Either that which the wicked teach others; or else, it is folly to teach wilfull fools.

V.23. teacheth] Heb. maketh wise.

and addeth learning to his lips] To himself, or others.

to] Or, by.

V.24. Pleasant words are as an honey-comb] Chap.12.25.

sweet to the soul] Pleasant and profitable.

craveth it of him] Heb. boweth unto him.

V.27. An ungodly man] Heb. A man of Belial, 2 Sam.20.1.

in his lips there is a burning fire] For he consumeth himself and others.

V.28. A froward man soweth strife] Chap.6.14, 19. and 15. 18. and 26.21. and 29.22.

soweth] Heb. sendeth forth.

a whisperer separateth chief friends] Heb. a guide: One that is of our intimate counsell, psal.55.13. Mic.7.5.

V.29. leadeth him into the way that is not good] Either to undo him, or to make him joyn with him in undoing others.

V. 30. He shutteth his eyes to devise froward things] With his whole endeavour he laboureth to bring his wickednesse to passe.

V.31. if it be found in the way of righteousnesse] Old men that fear God ought to be reverenced, Levit.19.32. Or, it is found: that is, God, for the most part, gives old age to righteous men, as a reward, psal.91.16.

V. 32. He that is slowe to anger, is better then the mightie] Though the world despise patient men, yet God prefers them before conquerours.

V.33. The lot is cast into the lap: but the whole disposing thereof is of the Lord] Men can but put the lots into the lap; afterwards God disposeth it as he will.

whole disposing] Or, every judgement (or, sentence.)

CHAP. XVII.

Vers.1. A Drie morsell, and quietnesse therewith, then a house full of sacrifices with strife] Chap.15.17.

then a house full of sacrifices with strife] For where as were many sacrifices, there were many portions given to the people, wherewith they feasted. Or, the word may signifie cattell slain to eat, not to sacrifice.

sacrifices] Or, good cheer.

V.2. A wise servant shall have rule over a son that causeth shame] Sometimes a wise and faithfull servant is by the father set over slothfull children, and hath part of the inheritance with them.

V.3. The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold] Psal. 26.2. Chap.27.21. Jer.17.10. Mal.3.3.

but the Lord trieth the hearts] Men can finde out other things, but not other mens thoughts.

V.4. a liar giveth ear to a naughtie tongue] No tongue so bad, but a liar will hearken to it.

naughtie tongue] Heb. of naughtinesses: that is, most naughtie.

V.5. Whoso mocketh the poor, reproacheth his Maker] Chap. 14. 31.

unpunished] Heb. held innocent.

V.6. Childrens children are the crown of old men] Psal.127.3. and 128.3.

V.7. Excellent speech] Heb. a lip of excellencie.

Excellent speech becometh not a fool] As eloquent speech shews a fool speaks not like himself: so a prince speaks much lesse like himself, if he speak falsly.

lying lips] Heb. a lip of lying.

V. 8. A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it] Chap.18.16. Heb. of the masters of it. Rich-men think they can do any thing with gifts. owners.

a precious stone] Heb. a stone of grace.

V.9. He that covereth a transgression, seeketh love] Chap.10.12. Concealing injuries done us, breeds peace; ripping them up, breeds discord among neerest friends.

seeketh] Or, procureth.

V.10. A reproof entreth more into a wise man, &c.] A wise man is more affected with, and mends sooner after a reproof, then a foolish person after many stripes.

A reproof entreth more into a wise man, then an hundred stripes into a fool] Or, a reproof aweth more a wise man, then to strike a fool an hundred times.

V. 11. therefore a cruell messenger shall be sent against him] An hangman or executioner.

V.12. Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man] It is better to meet a she-bear, that falls on every one she meets, as if he had stolen her whelps; then to meet a wicked man in a violent passion.

V. 13. rewardeth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house] Rom.12.17. 1 Thess.5.15. 1 Pet.3.9.

V. 14. The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water] He that raiseth strife, knows not how to stay it, no more then he that opens a breach to let out waters to drown a countrey: therefore begin not to contend at any time.

V. 15. He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, &c.] Exod.23.7. Chap.24.24. Isai.5.23.

even they both are abomination to the Lord] Men think it mercy to favour a wicked man in judgement; but God accounts it as bad as condemning an innocent.

V.16. Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to get wisedom] If a man have never so much opportunity, and means; yet he will not use them, unlesse he have an heart desirous to learn.

V.17. A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity] Chap.18.24.

he that rolleth a stone, it will return him] Up an hill, which fals down again on his own head.

V. 28. A lying tongue hateth those that are afflicted by it] Seeketh to do them more mischief, whom he hath hurt before.

and a flattering mouth worketh ruine] A flatterer seeks to undo men, as well as a false witnesse: but the one doth it secretly, and the other openly.

CHAP. XXVII.

Vers. 1. Boast not thy self of to morrow] James 4. 13, &c.

to morrow] Heb. to morrow-day.

thou knowest not what a day may bring forth] Every day is as it were childe of some thing. To morrow may bring forth that which may crosse thy businesse, or thy comfort: therefore presume not of either, if thou neglect the present occasion, Matth. 6. 34.

V. 3. heavy] Heb. heavinesse.

V. 4. Wrath is cruel, and anger is outragious] Heb. wrath is cruelty, and anger an overflowing.

but who is able to stand before envy?] For the envious are obstinate, and cannot be reconciled.

envy] Or, jealousie, as Chap. 6. 34.

V. 5. Open rebuke is better then secret love] He doth us more good that reveals his hatred to us by railing on us; then he that professeth he loveth us, and dare not reprove us.

V. 6. Faithfull are the wounds of a friend] Psal. 141. 5. The rebukes of a friend that pierce deep, are better then the fawning of an enemy.

deceitfull] Or, earnest, or frequent.

V. 7. The full soul loatheth an hony-comb] Want sometimes is better then plenty.

loatheth] Heb. treadeth under foot.

hidden] Or, sought for.

V. 13. He that covereth his sins, shall not prosper] Psal. 32. 5. 1 John 1. 9, 10.

and forsaketh them] It is not enough to confesse our sins, unlesse we also forsake them.

V. 14. Happy is the man that feareth alway] Which constantly standeth in aw of God, and is afraid to offend him at any time, Chap.23. 17.

but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief] Rom. 11. 20.

V. 15. so is a wicked ruler over the poor people] For he leaves nothing, but undoes them utterly.

V. 16. understanding] Heb. understandings: That is, void of all kinde of wisdom.

is also a great oppressour] And therefore shall soon be cut off: as appears by the contrary in the end of the verse.

great oppressour] Heb. great of oppressions: That is, a very great oppressour.

V. 17. A man that doth violence to the blood of any person, shall flee to the pit, let no man stay him] Gen.9. 6. Exod.21. 14.

A man that doth violence to the blood of any person] Heb. is oppressed with. For blood lies heavy on a murderer, and will bring him to an untimely end, in despight of all his friends.

doth violence to the blood] Or, is oppressed with the blood.

person] Heb. soul.

V. 8. Whoso walketh uprightly, shall be saved] Chap.10.25.

but he that is perverse in his wayes] See notes on verse 6.

shall fall at once] Heb. in one of them. He that useth to halt now on one side, and then on another, will be sure to fall on one side or other.

V. 19. He that tilleth his land, shall have plenty of bread] Chap.12. 11.

V. 20. A faithfull man] Heb. a man of faithfulnesses: That is, a very faithfull man.

A faithfull man shall abound with blessings] God will blesse them that are true in their contracts, and curse them that deal falsly, that they may be rich quickly.

but he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be innocent] Chap. 13. 11. and 23. 4. 1 Tim.6. 9.

innocent] Or, unpunished.

V. 21. To have respect of persons, is not good] Chap. 18. 5. and 24. 23.

for a piece of bread that man will transgresse] He that useth to take bribes, will easily be corrupted, and do unjustly for the smallest reward that is, Ezek.13. 19.

V. 22. He that hasteth to be rich, hath an evil eye] Or, he that hath an evil eye, hasteth to be rich, verse 20.

hath an evil eye] That is, a covetous eye, Chap.23. 6.

poverty] Or, reproach.

V. 23. He that rebuketh a man, afterwards shall finde more favour then he that flattereth with the tongue] Chap.27. 6.

He that rebuketh a man, afterwards shall finde more favour] It may be the party reproved will be angry at first, but when he hath considered how justly he was reproved, he will love the reprover, 1 Pet.2. 12. But flatterers please at first, till men perish by following their counsell, and then they curse them.

V. 24. a destroyer] Heb. a man destroying.

V. 25. He that is of a proud heart, stirreth up strife] Chap. 13. 10. He that trusts in his own strength, shall waste his goods at law: but he that trusts in God shall be rich.

V. 26. He that trusteth in his own heart, is a fool] And shall bring himself into many dangers, which he cannot get out of, for not considering wisely of his wayes.

V. 27. He that giveth unto the poor, shall not lack] Deut. 15. 8. Chap.22. 9.

but he that hideth his eyes] Isai. 58. 7.

shall have many a curse] Chap.11. 26.

V. 28. When the wicked rise, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase] Verse 12. Chap.29. 2.

CHAP. XXIX.

Vers. 1. HE that being often reproved] Heb. A man of reproofs.

V.2. When

27.19. As a man may see his face by looking in the water; so a man may see himself, and what he is, by looking into his Conscience.
Dyke, p. 161, 162. vide v. 21.

27.21. — Praise] i.e. so is Praise to a man. He that is praised, is not only much approved, but much proved. This fining-pot will indeed try what metal he is made of —
Caryl, Job, 30.1. p. 11.
As the fining Pot —] A man is to try his Praise that is given him; and if his Conscience tell him it is undeserved; he is to separat the dregs of Flattery from himself. Dyke of Good Conscience, p. 163.

Mr. Jer. Dyke—Suit for pardon. p. 153.

30.16—barren womb—] Arctatio, angustia vulvæ; sic appellat orificium matricis, quod non tam ad sterilas mulieres, cum nonnullis, quam in universum ad incontinentes mulieres refero, quarum libido non expletur viri semine vel coitu. Mercerus.

V. 2. When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoyce] Chap. 11. 10. and 28. 28. Eccles. 10. 5.

in authoritie] Or, increased.

V. 3. Whoso loveth wisdom, rejoyceth his father] Chap. 10. 1. and 15. 20. and 27. 11.

but he that keepeth company with harlots, spendeth his substance] Chap 5. 9. and 28. 7. Luke 15. 13. And so grieveth his father.

keepeth company with harlots] Heb. feeds harlots.

V. 4. he that receiveth gifts] Heb. a man of oblations.

V. 5. spreadeth a net for his feet] He that giveth ear to the flatterer, is in danger, as the bird is, for which the net is laid.

V. 6. In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare] To catch the righteous by their bad example: but the righteous avoid it, and rejoyce.

V. 7. The righteous considereth the cause of the poor] Job 29. 16.

V. 8. Scornfull men bring a citie into a snare] Ambitious persons, which scorn all but themselves, as Chap. 3. 34. do by seeking their own ends, bring mischief upon a state: which men of better temper, help to turn away.

bring a city into a snare] Or, set a city on fire.

V. 9. whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest] Whether the fool look angerly or merrily, he that contends with him, shall never be quiet.

V. 10. The bloodthirsty] Heb. men of blood.

but the just seek his soul] Or, and seek the soul of every just man.

the just seek his soul] Take care to preserve other mens lives, Psal. 142. 4.

V. 11. minde] Heb. spirit: or, wrath, Isai. 25. 4.

V. 12. all his servants are wicked] They will tell him lies daily to please him.

V. 13. The poor and the deceitfull man meet together] Chap. 22. 2. Heb. man of deceits: That is, the most deceitfull man.

the deceitfull man] Or, the usurer.

V. 14. The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever] Chap. 20. 28.

V. 15. The rod and reproof give wisdom] Verse 17.

a childe left to himself, bringeth his mother to shame] Chap. 10. 1. and 17. 21, 25.

V. 16. but the righteous shall see their fall] Psal. 37. 36. and 58. 10. and 91. 8.

V. 17. Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest] Chap. 13. 24. and 22. 15. and 23. 13, 14.

he shall give delight unto thy soul] Heb. delights, or dainties. That is, abundance of delight.

V. 18. the people perish] Heb. be naked. That is, lie open to all judgements without any shelter, Exod. 32. 25.

perish] Or, is made naked.

he that keepeth the law, happy is he] Want of preaching may damn men, but store of it cannot save them, unless they be obedient to it, 1 Sam. 3. 1.

V. 19. A servant will not be corrected by words] He that is of a servile, and surlie nature, will not amend without blows.

V. 20. Seest thou a man that is hastie in his words?] A man that is rash in word or deed.

in his words] Or, in his matters.

V. 21. shall have him become his son at the length] He will think much to do any servile work.

V. 22. An angry man stirreth up strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression] Chap. 15 18. and 26. 21.

V. 23. A mans pride shall bring him low] Job 22. 29. Chap. 15. 33. and 18. 12. Matth 23. 12. Luke 14. 11.

V. 24. he heareth cursing, and bewrayeth it not] Levit. 5. 1.

cursing] Or, an oath, Isai. 24. 18.

V. 25. The fear of man bringeth a snare] He that feareth man more then God, falleth into a snare (which he seeks to avoid) and is destroyed, Chap. 10. 24.

shall be safe] Heb. shall be set on high.

V. 26. Many seek the rulers favour, but every mans judgement cometh from the Lord] Chap. 19. 6.

the rulers favour] Heb. the face of a ruler.

every mans judgement cometh from the Lord] He needeth not to flatter the ruler, but rather pray to God, who can incline the judge to passe sentence as he please, chap. 21. 1.

CHAP. XXX.

Verse 1. THe words of Agur] Who was an excellent man in vertue and knowledge, in the time of Solomon. See notes on Chap. 4. 4. and 8. 1.

unto Ithiel and Ucal] Which were Agurs scholars, or friends.

V. 2. Surely I am more brutish then any man] It may be read thus. Surely I am too foolish to be a great man, nay, I have not the knowledge of an ordinary man in me. So the words are used, Psal. 49. 2. and 62. 9. It seems Agur had not his knowledge by humane instruction, but by divine inspiration, as Amos had, Amos 7. 14. Herein he declareth his great humilitie, who would not attribute any wisdom to himself, but all unto God, Psal. 73. 22.

V. 3. I neither learned wisdom] Or thus, I have not learned wisdom, but I have the knowledge of the holy ones: That is, I have not been taught by men, but by God, who taught the angels. They are called holy ones, Dan. 4. 13, 17. and 8. 17. Or, I have not attained to any great measure of true wisdom, or, of the knowledge of holy and heavenly things.

have] Heb. know.

holy] Or, holy things.

V. 4. Who hath ascended up into heaven, or descended?] John 3. 13.

Who hath ascended up into heaven] Who is every where, &c. None but God.

who hath gathered the winde in his fists?] Job 38. 4, &c. Psal. 104. 3, &c. Isai. 40. 12, &c.

V. 5. Every word of God is pure] Psal. 12. 6. and 18. 30. and 19. 8. and 119. 140.

pure] Heb. purified.

he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him] Psal. 18. 30. and 84. 11, 12.

V. 6. Adde thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar] Deut. 4. 2. and 12. 32. Revel. 22. 18, 19.

V. 7. Two things have I required of thee] O God.

deny me them not] Heb. withhold not from me.

deny me them not before I die] So long as I live.

V. 8. Remove farre from me vanitie and lies] Take care of my soul and body, so as to keep me from falling into any vain or deceitfull course, and to afford me a competent livelihood, fit for my estate and charge.

feed me with food convenient for me] Matth. 6. 11. My parr. For in well-ordered families, every servant hath his proportion daily, Chap. 31. 15.

convenient for me] Heb. of my allowance.

V. 9. Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the Lord?] Deut. 32. 15.

Lest I be full, and deny thee] Meaning, that they that put their trust in their riches, forget God; and that by too much wealth, men have occasion to do so.

deny thee] Heb. belie thee.

and take the name of my God in vain] By false oaths.

V. 10. Accuse not a servant unto] Heb. hurt not with thy tongue.

Accuse not a servant unto his master] For no fault, or for a light one. A servants good will is not to be contemned.

and thou be found guilty] Or, and thou be made desolate. That is, lest the fruit of his ill wishes fall upon thee.

V. 13. lofty are their eyes] Chap. 6. 17.

V. 14. There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw-teeth as knives, &c.] Job 29. 17. Psal. 52. 2. and 57. 4.

V. 15. The horse-leach hath two daughters] The leach hath two forks in her tongue, which here he calleth her two daughters, wherewith she sucketh the blood, and is never satiate: even so are the covetous extortioners insatiable.

It is enough] Heb. Wealth.

V. 17. the ravens] Such children shall come to an untimely end, and be denied buriall.

of the valley] Which haunt the valleys to seek for carrion.

the valley] Or, the brook.

V. 19. midst] Heb. heart.

V. 20. and wipeth her mouth] She hath her desire, and after counterfeiteth, as though she were an honest woman: as a licourish, and filching servant, eats stoln bread, and wipes his mouth after it, and appears as if he had not stoln it.

V. 22. For a servant when he reigneth, &c.] Cha. 19. 10. These commonly abuse the state whereunto they are called, and the comforts they receive.

V. 23. an handmaid that is heir to her mistresse] Which is married to her master, after the death of her mistresse.

V. 24. but they are exceeding wise] They contain matter of great instruction in them.

exceeding wise] Heb. wise, made wise.

V. 25. The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer] Chap. 6. 6, &c.

ants are a people] Or, ants a people.

V. 26. The conies are but a feeble folk] So Gods people, though feeble, have God as a powerfull rock to protect them, Psal. 18. 2. and 40. 17.

conies are but a feeble] Or, conies a feeble.

V. 27. The locusts have no king] How much more should those that have governours over them, live orderly under them.

have] Or, which have.

by bands] Heb. gathered together.

V. 28. The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings palaces] Chap. 22. 29.

taketh] Or, which taketh.

V. 31. grey-hound] Or, horse.

grey-hound] Heb. girt in the loyns.

against whom there is no rising up] Eccles. 8. 4. A king whose power is uncontrollable: or, a king that keeps his subjects in due order, so that there is no insurrection in the state.

V. 32. If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thy self] If thou have evill thoughts against thy king, give them over; for thou wilt not prevail, verse 31. Eccles. 8. 3. and 10. 20.

lay thine hand upon thy mouth] Job 21. 5. and 40. 4.

V. 33. So the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife] Provocation of wrath inevitably bringeth forth strife and mischief.

CHAP. XXXI.

Vers. 1. THe words of king Lemuel] That is, of Solomon, who was called Lemuel, that is, of God, because God had ordained him to be king over Israel, rather then any of his elder brethren, 1 King. 2. 15, 22.

the prophecie that his mother taught him] The doctrine which his mother Bathsheba taught him.

V. 2. What, my son?] She takes care what was most needfull to teach him.

the son of my womb?] By this often repetition of this word, son, she declareth her motherly affection.

the son of my vows?] Whom I made many vows to God for, before I had thee, as 1 Sam. 1. 11. Or, that thou mightest be king.

V. 3. Give not thy strength unto women] Solomon was forewarned to avoid wantonnesse by his mother here, and by his father, Chap. 5. 9. yet he fell into it. Wisdom and instruction fail of their fruit oftentimes.

nor thy wayes to that which destroyeth kings] Meaning, that women are the destruction of kings, if they haunt them, Chap. 7. 26.

V. 4. it is not for kings to drink wine] That is, the king must not give himself unto immoderate drinking, Eccles. 10. 16, 17. and so neglect his office, which is to execute judgement.

V. 5. Lest they drink, and forget the law] For wine doth comfort the heart, Psal. 104. 15.

pervert] Heb. alter.

of any of the afflicted] Heb. of all the sons of affliction.

V. 6. Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine to those that be of heavy hearts] Psal. 104. 15.

of heavy hearts] Heb. bitter of soul.

V. 8. Open thy mouth for the dumb] Defend their cause that are in great danger, and unable to help themselves, Chap. 24. 11.

such as are appointed to destruction] Heb. the sons of destruction.

V. 9. judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy] Levit. 19. 15. Deut. 1. 16.

V. 10. Who can finde a vertuous woman] Chap. 12. 4. This commendation of a good wife is set out elegantly in the Hebrew. Every verse to the end of the chapter begins with a severall Hebrew letter, according to the Alphabet: as divers choice Psalms do.

V. 11. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her] Commits with confidence the houshold affairs to her, as Potiphar did to Joseph, Gen. 39. 4, 6.

he shall have no need of spoil] He shall not need to get riches by indirect means, as souldiers do; for his wife will fill his house with goods, as the camp is full after the spoil of a citie: Or, spoils may be put here for all manner of provision. See the like, Psal. 111. 5.

V. 14. she bringeth her food from afar] She sells her cloth to the merchant for things needfull, verse 24.

V. 15. giveth meat to her household] As a lion riseth betimes to get a prey, that may serve him and his all the day: so doth she rise her self, and raise her maids betimes, to get food for her family, by labour.

meat] Or, prey, Psal. 111. 5.

a portion to her maidens] To appoint every one their stint of work, or, of meat.

V. 16. and buyeth it] She purchaseth it with the gains of her travell.

buyeth] Heb. taketh.

with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard] She not onely looks that her servants work, but works her self also, verse 27.

V. 17. She girdeth her loyns with strength] She useth vigilancie and diligence, in her labour, 2 King. 4. 29.

V. 18. She perceiveth] Heb. She tasteth.

She perceiveth] Or, When she perceiveth.

She perceiveth that her merchandise is good] As a man that tastes of some delicate meat, thinks he never can eat enough of it: so she finding profit come in, works the harder.

V. 19. She layeth her hands to the spindle] She not onely gets to maintain her family, but also to give to the poor, which she doth liberally, not with one hand alone, but with both, when need is.

and her hands] Or, then her hands.

V. 20. She stretcheth] Heb. she spreadeth.

V. 21. scarlet] Or, double garments.

V. 22. She maketh her self coverings of tapestry] For beds.

V. 23. Her husband is known] Noted, because of his wives good huswifery, or by the good cloaths she makes him.

in the gates] In the assemblies and places of judgement, Chap. 1. 21. Ruth 4. 1.

V. 24. and selleth it] She not onely provides cloth for her family, but also to sell, and for a great price.

V. 25. and she shall rejoyce in time to come] Or, and she laugheth at the time to come. That is, she is so well provided of all things necessary for her family, that she fears no want. See Job 5. 21, 22.

V. 26. She openeth her mouth with wisdom] She teacheth her children and servants, not onely the fear of God; but also how to labour, and get a living, and also how to be provident, that they may be bountifull to the poor in future times.

V. 28. Her children arise up] To do reverence to her, when she comes in, and they speak highly of her, as well living as dead.

her] Or, her saying, as Psal. 105. 15.

V. 29. Many daughters have done vertuously] This is the commendation her husband and children give her.

have done vertuously] Or, have gotten riches.

excellest them all] Heb. ascendest above them all.

V. 30. a woman that feareth the Lord] Before he spake of the apparell of her body; now he declareth the apparell of her minde, which is the fear of God; and that is her greatest ornament, 1 Pet. 3. 4, 5. whether joyned with beauty, or severed from it.

She shall be praised] Heb. shall praise her self. That is, shall give just cause to all men to praise her, verse 31.

V. 31. Give her of the fruit of her hands] Confesse her diligent labours, and commend her therefore.

let her own works praise her in the gates] Forasmuch as the most honourable are clad in the apparell that she made, Acts 9. 39. Or, let them speak in the publike assemblies of her curious works, to her great praise, when she is dead and gone. She shall have praise both in publike and private.

ANNOTATIONS

On the Book of ECCLESIASTES.

The ARGUMENT.

HEre the wiſeſt and the greateſt of all the Kings of Iſrael, takes on him the office of a Preacher. He gives us an experimentall Sermon of the vanitie of all Worldly comforts, profits and honours. He ſets his own example before us, who had attained to the higheſt degree of all theſe, Chap. 2. 9. And wanted not wiſdom to improve all theſe to the height, in the fulleſt uſe of them, Chap. 1. 16. Neither was he failing in ſeeking to content his ſpirit with all manner of varietie of worldly delights, Chap. 2. 1. yet he concludes, That they give no ſatisfaction to the ſoul; but rather matter of vexation. And then exhorts us to turn to God betimes, to fear him, and keep his Commandments, that we may ſtand with comfort before him at the day of judgement: To which it becomes us to ſay, Amen.

CHAP. I.

Verſ. 1. OF the Preacher] Solomon is here called a Preacher, or one that aſſembleth the people, becauſe he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to paſſe their life in this tranſitory world.

V. 2. Vanitie of vanities, ſaith the preacher, vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.] Pſal. 39. 5, 6. and 62. 9. and 144. 4. chap. 12. 8.

Vanitie] He condemneth the opinion of all men that ſet felicity in any thing, but in God alone; ſeeing that in this world all things are as vanitie, and nothing.

of vanities] That is, moſt vain, having no ſolidity of being, continuance of condition, true profit to us, nor means to bring us to happineſſe; but containing matter of unprofitable travell, and falſe deceit for us.

all is vanitie] All theſe creatures and courſes under the ſun, verſe 3.

V. 3. What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the ſun?] Chap. 2. 22. and 3. 9.

What] He had pronounced all vanity, verſe 2. Now he convinceth the readers by the teſtimony of their own conſciences: Tell ye what profit is in them, if ye can.

profit] What fruit remains to you of your labours? You may loſe all before ye die; if not, ye muſt leave all to the generation following, verſe 4. He doth not forbid us to labour, but to look for felicity from our labours.

which he taketh under the ſun] Here below. Alſo he ſhews the benefit of the light, for moſt works are done in the day.

V. 4. but the earth abideth for ever] Pſal. 104. 5. and 119. 90. The earth remaineth to the laſt day, & then it ſhall be changed.

V. 5. The ſun alſo ariſeth] It remains, and runs his courſe, when we are gone.

and haſteth to his place] Heb. panteth. Like one that runs himſelf out of breath, to come to his journies end. Mercer.

V. 6. The winde goeth] Or, It goeth.

The winde goeth toward the ſouth] Or, It goeth: that is, the ſun. For ſuch is the ſuns courſe.

V. 7. All the rivers run into the ſea, yet the ſea is not full] Job 38. 10. Pſal. 104. 8, 9.

thither they return again] So that as the ſea is not full, ſo the rivers are never empty.

return again] Heb. return to go.

V. 8. the eye is not ſatisfied with ſeeing] The eye may be wearied with looking on divers objects; but it ſtill deſires new ones, and the ear likewiſe novelties, Acts 17. 21.

V. 9. The thing that hath been, it is that which ſhall be] Chap. 3. 15.

it is that which ſhall be] There is no new invention to bring happineſſe. The kindes of things are the ſame, though the particulars differ. Shew any new thing if ye can. Some former age hath had the like, verſe 10. onely ye think things new, becauſe former things are forgotten, as yours will be to them that come after, verſe 11.

V. 11. that are to come, with thoſe] Or, that are, with thoſe men.

V. 12. I the preacher was king over Iſrael] He proveth, That if any could attain to felicity in this world, by labour and ſtudy, he ſhould have obtained it, becauſe he had gifts and aids thereunto, above all others.

V. 13. this ſore travel hath God given to the ſons of man] Man by nature hath a deſire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the puniſhment of ſin (to humble man, and to teach him to depend onely upon God) and breeds diſquiet and diſcontent.

to be exerciſed therewith] Or, to afflict them.

V. 14. and vexation of ſpirit] They not onely do not ſatisfie the minde, as verſe 2. but alſo torment it, becauſe it cannot comprehend them.

V. 15. That which is crooked cannot be made ſtraight] Chap. 7. 13. Man is not able by all his diligence to cauſe things to go otherwiſe then they do.

that which is wanting] Heb. defect.

that which is wanting, cannot be numbred] Found full in number.

V. 16. I am come to great eſtate, and have gotten more] Or, I have magnified and gotten: or, I have gotten greater and more.

more wiſdom then all they that have been before me in Jeruſalem] 1 Kings 4. 30. and 10. 7, 23.

had great experience] Heb. had ſeen much.

V. 17. And I gave my heart to know wiſdom, and to know madneſſe and folly] Chap. 2. 12. and 7. 25.

to know madneſſe and folly] Vain things which men of the world run moſt madly and fooliſhly after.

madneſſe] Heb. madneſſes: That is, all kindes of madneſſe.

V. 18. For in much wiſdom is much grief] Wiſdom cannot be obtained without great pain of body, and minde; for when a man hath attained to the higheſt, yet is his minde never fully content: therefore, in this world is no true felicity.

CHAP. II.

Verſ. 1. I will prove thee with mirth] Solomon maketh this diſcourſe with himſelf, purpoſing to try whether there were full contentment in eaſe and pleaſures.

V. 3. I ſought in mine heart to give my ſelf unto wine] Chap. 1. 17.

to give my ſelf unto wine] Heb. to draw my fleſh with wine.

yet acquainting mine heart with wiſdom] Albeit I gave my ſelf outwardly to pleaſures, yet I thought to keep wiſdom, and the fear of God in mine heart, and govern mine affairs by the ſame.

all the dayes of their life] Heb. the number of the dayes of their life.

V. 6. to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees] It ſeems his orchard was very large, more like a wood, then an orchard.

V. 7. I got me ſervants and maidens] Or, I bought. That is, ſome I bought for money, and ſome I had born of them in the houſe.

ſervants born in my houſe] Heb. ſons of my houſe.

V. 8. I gathered me alſo ſilver and gold, and the peculiar treaſure of kings and of the provinces] 1 Kin. 9. 28. and 10. 10, 14, 21, &c.

the peculiar treaſure of kings] The choiſe things, that each kingdom and province could afford.

muſicall inſtruments] Heb. muſicall inſtrument and inſtruments.

V. 9. alſo my wiſdom remained with me] I kept my ſelf upright ſtill, verſe 3.

V. 10. this was my portion of all my labour] All that I had of my labours, was a little pleaſure in eating and drinking: and this alſo was vanity, verſe 11.

V. 11. vanitie and vexation of ſpirit, and there was no profit under the ſun] Chap. 1. 3.

V. 12. And I turned my ſelf to behold wiſdom] I conſidered with my ſelf, whether it were better to follow wiſdom ſtill, or to turn aſide to what mine own affections and pleaſures might lead me to.

and madneſſe and folly] Chap. 1. 17. and 7. 25.

for what can the man do, that cometh after the king?] I deſpaired, that either I, or any man after me, ſhould finde felicity in outward things; for who can do more to attain to it, then I did; and yet I miſſed it.

even that which hath been already done] Or, in thoſe things which have been already done.

V. 13. that wiſdom excelleth folly] Heb. that there is an excellency in wiſdom more then in folly, &c.

V. 14. The wiſe mans eyes are in his head] Prov. 17. 24. Chap. 8. 1. He foreſeeth things which the fool cannot for lack of wiſdom.

and I my ſelf perceived alſo] Or, yet I perceived. I ſaw indeed worldly wiſdom might help a man in guiding his affairs; but yet they that have it, muſt die, and be forgotten, verſe 16. and leave their goods to another; yea, to one, he knows not whom, verſe 19. and this alſo is vanitie.

V. 15. happeneth even to me] Heb. happeneth to me, even to me.

why was I then more wiſe?] What good will my wiſdom do me? It cannot keep from death: or, why do I labour to get more wiſdom in things naturall, and politicall?

V. 16. For there is no remembrance of the wiſe more then of the fool for ever] In this world wiſe men are forgotten, when they are dead, as well as fools.

ſeeing that which now is, in the dayes to come ſhall all be forgotten] Or, ſeeing that which hath been before, the dayes are come that it is all forgotten. That is, ſeeing our ſucceſſours will forget us, as well as we have forgotten our predeceſſours.

V. 17. Therefore I hated life] Which others count ſo ſweet and pleaſant.

is] Or, was.

V. 18. taken] Heb. laboured.

becauſe I ſhould leave it unto the man that ſhall be after me] Pſal. 49. 10. Becauſe I cannot enjoy it all, nor alwayes; nor be ſure to leave it to one that will uſe it well, when I am gone.

V. 20. to deſpair of all the labour] Of attaining felicity by worldly labour, and ſo to give it over.

V. 21. and in equitie] That is, hath dealt juſtly, and not gotten riches by deceit.

yet to a man that hath not laboured therein] Among other griefs, this is not the leaſt, That another ſhall, without pains, enjoy that which we have laboured for; and ſo we are drudges for others, Job 14. 21. Pſal. 39. 6.

leave] Heb. give.

V. 22. For what hath man of all his labour] Chap. 1. 3. and 3. 9. When he dies.

V. 23. all his dayes are ſorrows, and his travel grief] Pſal. 90. 10. Job 14. 1.

V. 24. There is nothing better for a man, then that he ſhould eat and drink] Chap. 3. 12, 13, 22. and 5. 18. and 8. 15.

that he ſhould make his ſoul enjoy good in his labour] When man hath laboured all he can, he can get no more then food and refreſhing: yet he confeſſeth alſo, That this cometh of Gods bleſſing, as chap. 3. 13.

ſhould make his ſoul enjoy good] Or, delight his ſenſes.

V. 25. For who can eat] I ſpeak it by experience; for God gave me outward things to take pleaſure in, and a heart to take comfort of them.

V. 26. For God giveth to a man that is good in his ſight, wiſdom] For God uſeth to deal ſo with his ſervants, Pſal. 127. 2.

in his ſight] Heb. before him.

he may give to him that is good before God] Job 27. 17.

This alſo is vanitie and vexation of ſpirit] For a wicked man to labour for others.

CHAP. III.

Verſ. 1. TO every thing there is a ſeaſon] Appointed by God. He ſpeaketh of this diverſity of times, for two cauſes: Firſt to declare, That there is nothing in this world perpetuall: next, to teach us not to be grieved, if we have not all things at once, according to our deſires; neither enjoy them ſo long as we would wiſh.

a time to every purpoſe under the heaven] Things voluntary are determined, as well as things naturall.

V. 2. to be born] Heb. to bear.

V. 5. to refrain from] Heb. to be far from.

V. 6. get] Or, ſeek.

V. 9. What profit hath he that worketh, in that wherein he laboureth?] Chap. 1. 3.

V. 10. to be exerciſed in it] Chap. 1. 13.

V. 11. He hath made every thing beautifull in his time] Though there be profit to man in regard of felicity, to know naturall things, verſe 9. but much trouble, verſe 10. yet the beauty of them makes man deſire to know them; and God hath enclined their heart to look after them; but not given them the power fully to underſtand Gods works.

ſo that] Or, yet, ſo that.

no man can finde out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end] Chap. 8. 17.

V. 12. I know that there is no good in them] Therefore it is better for man to take his part of them, then curiouſly to ſearch into the nature of them.

to do good in his life] To rejoyce inwardly in them, and uſe them outwardly for his comfort.

V. 13. And alſo that every man ſhould eat] Or, And alſo every man that eateth, and drinketh, and enjoyeth. For every man doth not ſo, but he that doth, may thank God for it.

enjoy] Enjoy, Pſal. 34. 12.

it is the gift of God] Chap. 2. 24. We muſt therefore uſe Gods gifts with ſobriety, and in the fear of God; foraſmuch as he giveth not his gifts to the intent they ſhould be abuſed.

V. 14. it ſhall be for ever] Man ſhall never be able to let, or alter Gods work; but as he hath determined, ſo it ſhall come to paſſe.

V. 15. That which hath been, is now] Chap. 1. 9. Or, What is that which hath been already? Even that which is to be, hath been already, for God requireth that which is paſt. That is, God brings every yeer ſuch kinde of fruits, and things, as were the yeer before: and ſo alſo in every age.

that which is paſt] Heb. that which is driven away.

V. 17. for there is a time there, for every purpoſe] Verſe 1. Meaning with God, though man neglect his duty.

V. 18. that God might manifeſt them, and that they might ſee] Or, that they might clear God, and ſee, &c.

that God might manifeſt them] Rather, that God will manifeſt, &c. and, that they ſhall ſee. It will be ſo, for theſe wicked men that oppreſſe others, ſhall die like beaſts, verſe 19.

V. 19. For that which befalleth the ſons of men, &c.] Pſal. 49. 10. chap. 2. 16.

befalleth beaſts] The bodies of theſe corrupt Judges ſhall die like beaſts. This they forget, elſe would they not oppreſſe others.

V. 21. Who knoweth the ſpirit of man, &c.] Or, Who knoweth the breath of the ſons of man, that it goeth upward: and the breath of the beaſt, that it goeth downward to the earth: That is, they both breathe out the ſame way, and die.

of man] Heb. of the ſons of man.

goeth] Heb. is aſcending.

V. 22. Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, then that a man ſhould rejoyce in his own works] Chap. 2. 24. and 5. 18.

who ſhall bring him to ſee what ſhall be after him?] Who enjoyes his goods, and how he uſeth it? Therefore let him take his comfort of them himſelf, before he die.

CHAP. IIII.

Verſ. 1. SO I returned] He maketh here another diſcourſe with himſelf, concerning the tyranny of them that oppreſſe the poor.

oppreſſions that are done under the ſun] Chap. 5. 8, &c.

the tears of ſuch as were oppreſſed] Their hard uſage brought forth not onely ſighs, but tears alſo.

on the ſide of their oppreſſours there was power] Their adverſaries had power to hurt them, but none had pity to relieve them.

ſide] Heb. hand.

V. 2. Wherefore I praiſed the dead which are already dead, more then the living which are yet alive] Job 3. 17, &c.

V. 3. Yea, better is he then both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not ſeen the evil work that is done under the ſun] Job 3. 11, 16, 21.

better is he then both they, which hath not yet been] For he hath not felt that that the living do, and dead have felt.

V. 4. and every right work] Heb. all the righteſſe of work. The more a man thrives by honeſt labour, the more he is envied.

for this a man is envied of his neighbour] Heb. this is the envy of a man from his neighbour.

V. 5. The fool foldeth his hands together] Prov. 6. 10. and 24. 33.

and eateth his own fleſh] His idleneſſe even conſumes and eats him out.

V. 6. Better is an handfull with quietneſſe, &c.] Prov. 15. 16, 17 and 16. 8. He abuſeth a good ground. Seeing there is vexation in all labour, therefore he will rather ſtarve, then work.

V. 8. neither is his eye ſatisfied with riches] For he can but ſee it, he cannot uſe all his wealth; and yet he is vexed that he ſees no more, chap. 1. 8. Covetouſneſſe is the luſt of the eye, 1 Joh. 2. 16.

V. 9. Two are better then one] Foraſmuch, as when a man is alone, he can neither help himſelf nor others; he ſheweth, That it is better to live in mutuall ſociety, to the intent, that men may be helpfull mutually one to another, and that their goods may encreaſe: which is ſo illuſtrated by the inſtances following, as that they are to be underſtood with their due qualification.

V. 13. who will no more be admoniſhed] Heb. who knoweth not to be admoniſhed. That neither knows how to rule well, nor will not be adviſed by any counſell.

V. 14. out of priſon he cometh to reign] That is, from a poor and baſe eſtate: or, out of trouble and priſon, as Joſeph did, Gen. 41. 14.

3.21. Who knows—] Quasi dicat, inquit Ab. Ezra, Quotus quisque est hominum qui norit discrimen inter utrumque spiritum, haud dubie paucissimi, et vix unus de mille. Est enim hujusce rei cognitio alta admodum & ardua, nisi quis sapientia divina instructus sit. Quis est qui intelligat, & advertat animum, spiritum hominis eum esse qui sursum ascendat, et rationem sit in judicio Domino redditurus? Paucissimi sane sunt: nam si hoc ut par est homines considerarent non ita sese bestiarum more gererent, facta sua non curantes.

he that is born in his kingdom becometh poor] Meaning, that is born a king.

V.15. I considered all the living] Either in generall he means, that he had considered that the heirs, many times, fared never the better for their fathers labours; or else in particular, that many, being weary of the government of an old king, joyn with his son that must succeed him; and afterwards, finding as little content in him, wish for another. Thus it hath been in all ages, and will be still. Marcarus. Dutch.

CHAP. V.

Vers.1. Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God] With what affection thou comest to serve God, as men take heed of sliding in slippery ways, psal.39.1.

Keep] Or, Observe, or, Look to.

when] Or, as.

then to give the sacrifice of fools] 1 Sam. 15. 22. Psal. 50. 8. Prov.15.8. and 21.27. Meaning, of the wicked, which think to please God with outward worship, without faith or repentance.

for they consider not that they do evil] Because they know not how to worship God aright; or, think not well of what they go about.

V.2. Be not rash with thy mouth] Either in vowing, or in praying: meaning, that we should reverently and advisedly go about either, psal.2.11. Heb.12.28.

thing] Or, word.

for God is in heaven] An heavenly King: and subjects must be brief, and discreet in their petitions.

in heaven] Matth.6.9.

therefore let thy words be few] He heareth thee not for thy many words sake, or often repetitions, but considereth thy faith, and fervent minde. And also vow no more then thou mayest comfortably perform.

be few] Prov.10.19. Matth.6.7.

V. 3. For a dream cometh through the multitude of businesse] Speak little, because many words are a signe of folly, or like dreams.

V.4. When] Or, Assoon as.

When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it] Deut. 23. 21.

for he hath no pleasure in fools] Such as vow rashly, are accounted fools with God.

pay that which thou hast vowed] Psal.16. 13, 14. and 76.11. He speaketh of things vowed sutable to Gods word, and serving to his glory.

V.6. Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin] Cause not thy self to sin by vowing rashly, as they do which make a vow to live unmarried, and such like.

before the angel] That is, before Gods messenger or minister, when he shall examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance should be a just excuse, Job 33.23.

V.8. at the matter] Heb. at the will, or purpose.

for he that is higher then the highest, regardeth] Meaning, that God will redresse these things, and therefore we must depend upon him.

there be higher then they] Either he means the holy Trinitie, or the angels.

V. 9. the profit of the earth is for all] The revenues of the earth are better then riches, which will not feed us, v.10.

the king himself is served by the field] Kings and princes cannot maintain their estate, if there be no tillage. This commends husbandry.

V.11. When goods encrease, they are encreased that eat them] A man must spend his riches on many servants, and they must be fed by it as well as he: so that he gets onely the sight of his money more then they do, chap.4.8.

V.12. the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep] Yea, his care to keep his riches, or surfetting, hinders his sleep; when poor men sleep quietly: so that he is not the better, but the worse for his riches.

V. 13. riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt] Many men lose their lives for their riches, Prov.1.19. 1 King.21.

V.14. But] Or, Or.

But those riches perish by evil travel, &c.] Or, those riches gotten by evil travel perish, so that he hath nothing to leave his son.

V.15. As he came forth of his mothers womb, naked shall he return to go as he came] Job 1.21. Psal.49.17. 1 Tim 6.7.

V.16. what profit hath he that laboured for the winde?] Chap. 1.3. Meaning, in vain, and without profit; for he leaves all behinde him when he dies, Hos.12.1.

for the winde?] Hos.12.1.

V. 17. All his days also he eateth in darkenesse] He hath had much affliction and grief of minde, to get what he cannot keep: it had been better then that he had taken his part of them with comfort, v.18.

V. 18. it is good and comely for one to eat and drink] Chap.2. 24. and 3.12,13. Heb. there is a good which is comely, &c. all the days] Heb. the number of the days.

V.19. and hath given him power to eat thereof] Heb. and hath made him ruler of it. So that God may give a man riches, to whom he hath not given power over it: and covetous men are slaves to their wealth, at least, have no power over it.

V.20. For he shall not much remember] Or, though he give not much, yet he remembreth, &c.

For he shall not much remember the days of his life] He will take no great thought for the pains he hath taken in time past, because in his old days he comfortably eats the fruit thereof with ease.

CHAP. VI.

Vers.2. Yet God giveth him not power] He sheweth, that it is a judgement of God, when the rich man hath not a liberall heart to rule his riches.

to eat thereof] Not any part of it, but others eat it all up.

but a stranger eateth it] An enemy, while he lives, or one no way allied to him, when he is dead.

and it is an evil disease] It is not onely a fruitlesse vanity, but also a troublesome evil.

V.3. and his soul be not filled with good] If he can never have enough, chap.5.10.

and also that he have no buriall] As we see, oftentimes, that the covetous man falleth either into crimes that deserve death, or is murthered, or drowned, or hangeth himself; and so lacketh the honour of buriall, which is the last office of humanity: or, his wealth makes those whom it is left unto to neglect the decent performance of that office.

V.4. For he cometh in with vanity] Meaning, the untimely fruit, whose life did neither profit nor hurt any.

V.5. he hath not seen the sun] He hath not known the troubles of the world: or, if he have not had the comforts of this life, yet he hath been free from the troubles of it also.

V.6. though he live a thousand yeers twice told] Though the covetous man live long, yet seeing he sees no good, but much sorrow, and must go to the grave in the end, he is worse then one still-born.

V.7. appetite] Heb. soul.

V.8. what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?] Lesse then the rich? for he lives, and the rich doth no more: or, more then the poor man that is foolish.

V.9. Better is the sight of the eyes] To be content with that which God hath given, is better then to follow the wandring desires that never can be satisfied: for such a desire, v.7. is vanitie, &c.

then the wandring of the desire] Heb. then the walking soul.

V.10. with him that is mightier then he] Meaning God, who will make him to feel that he is mortall, psal.9.20.

V.11. Seeing there be many things, &c.] Or, When there are many things, they encrease vanitie: what is a man the better? That is, the more goods, the more vanitie: they do a man no good.

V.12. who knoweth what is good for man] There is no state wherein a man can live, to have perfect quietnesse in this life: for if he be not troubled at the present carriage of things, he will be disquieted with fear of worser times after.

all the days of his vain life] Heb. the number of the days of the life of his vanity.

a shadow] Psal.144.4.

CHAP. VII.

Vers. 1. A good name is better then precious ointment] Prov. 15.30. and 22. 1. Which is both pleasant and profitable.

the day of death, then the day of ones birth] Because a mans birth brings him into a miserable life, which death brings him out of.

V.2. It is better to go to the house of mourning] Where we may see the hand of God, and learn to examine our lives.

V.3. Sorrow] Or, anger.

V.5. It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, then for a man to hear the song of fools] Prov.13.18. and 15.31,32.

V.6. For as the crackling of thorns under a pot] Which crackle for a while, and profit nothing, psal.58.9.

crackling] Heb. sound.

V.7. oppression maketh a wise man mad] A man that is esteemed wise, when he seeth riches come in apace by oppression, is transported with fury to get more: or, over-much oppression makes even wise men to be as besides themselves.

and a gift destroyeth the heart] Deut.16.19. Spoken of Judges.

V.8. Better is the end of a thing] He taxeth their lightnesse, which enterprise a thing, and suddenly leave it off again: or, then a thing is better, when it is brought to issue by a man that hath patiently waited for the accomplishment of it, then when it is first imagined by him that glories in his conceit, as if he had done it, 1 Kings 20.11.

V.9. Be

V.9. Be not hastie in thy spirit to be angry] Prov. 14. 17. and 16. 32.

V. 10. thou doest not enquire wisely concerning this] Murmure not against God, when he sends adversitie for mans sins, for it is folly so to do. This is just the complaint of ignorant papists; Former times were better, therefore their religion was better. This complaint comes not from wisedom, Jerem.44. 17, 18.

wisely] Heb. out of wisedom.

V.11. Wisedom is good with an inheritance] An inheritance will do a man no good, unlesse he have wisedom to guide his affairs.

is good with an inheritance] Or, as good as an inheritance, yea better too.

V.11. defence] Heb. shadow, or for a shadow.

wisedom giveth life to them that have it] Wisedom will free a man from deadly dangers, when riches cannot.

V. 13. who can make that straight which he hath made crooked?] Chap.1.15.

V.14. but in the day of adversity consider,] Consider what was said, v.13, That thou canst not alter thy condition, though it please thee not.

set] Heb. made.

to the end that man should finde nothing after him] That man should not know what may befall him, whether he shall continue in the same state or no, and so may not be proud in weal, nor out of heart in wo.

after him] Or, after it.

V.16. Be not righteous overmuch] Censure not good men, because God suffers them to be afflicted, v.15. nor presume not to be wicked, v.17. because wicked men prosper, v.15. Keep both these instructions, so shalt thou shew that thou feareſt God indeed, by avoiding both extremes of censoriousnesse, and profanenesse, v.18. Psal.37. and 73. Job 21. Jer.12.1,2.

destroy thy self] Heb. be desolate.

V.17. before thy time?] Heb. not in thy time.

V.18. shall] Or, will.

V.19. Wisedom strengtheneth the wise] Prov.21.22. and 24.5. Chap.9.16.

V. 20. For there is not a just man upon earth] 1 Kings 8. 46. Prov.20.9. 1 John 1.8. Or, Surely: For this verse seems to have no relation to that which went before, nor to that which follows after.

V.21. take no heed] Heb. give not thine heart.

unto all words] Take not to heart every thing that men speak of thee, no, though thou shouldest overhear thy servant sometimes speak evil of thee, Prov.19.11.

V. 22. thou thy self likewise hast cursed others] Considering that thou thy self mayest have been faulty in the like kinde towards others, thy Masters. Cobbet 5. Comd p. 41.

V.23. I will be wise] I will understand all other things, as I do this.

V.24. That which is far off] Things far off, or deep in the ground, are hardly gotten; so is wisedom: or, some things are so far off, or so deep in the earth, that they cannot be attained to: no more can the knowledge of all things by man, Job 28.1,11.

V.25. I applied mine heart] Heb. I and my heart compassed.

even of foolishnesse and madnesse] Heb. madnesses: that is, all sort of, or the maddest pranks of wicked men.

V.26. And I finde more bitter then death, the woman whose heart is snares, &c.] Prov.22.14.

whoso pleaseth God] Heb. he that is good before God.

whoso pleaseth God, shall escape from her] It is a great favour of God, for a man to escape the subtill allurements of an harlot.

V.27. saith the preacher] Or, say I.

counting one by one, to finde out the account] Or, weighing one thing after another, to finde out the reason.

to finde out the account] That is, to come to a conclusion.

V. 28. one man among a thousand have I found] I have found out the depth of the policie of some one man among many, but never of a crafty woman, v.29. Or, I have seen one man among many seduced by harlots, repent; but never any of those seducing strumpets.

among all those] Or, with all these qualities.

V. 29. this onely have I found] Onely I know, that their wicked craft comes not by creation, but by their own manifold devices.

that God hath made man upright] Gen.1.27.

CHAP. VIII.

Verſ. 1. WHo knoweth the interpretation of a thing?] Who besides the wise man? that is, none else.

a mans wisedom maketh his face to shine] Prov.17.24. That is, doth get him favour and prosperity.

the boldnesse] Heb. the strength.

the boldnesse of his face shall be changed] Whereas before he was proud and arrogant, he shall become humble and meek: or, his strength shall be renewed and doubled, Isa.40.31.

changed] Or, doubled.

V.2. I counsel thee to keep the kings commandment] That thou obey the king, and keep the oath that thou hast made for the performance thereof.

commandment] Heb. mouth.

V.3. Be not hastie to go out of his sight] Go not away discontented, when he commands thee any thing thou likest not, neither stand in rebellion against him; for he will punish thee, and can do it.

V.4. who may say unto him, What doest thou?] Who dare say so, because of the kings power? or, who may, in regard of his authority? Prov.30.31.

V.5. shall feel] Heb. shall know.

a wise mans heart discerneth both time and judgement] That is, when it is time to obey the king, and how far.

V.6. therefore] Or, but.

therefore the misery of man is great upon him] Other men are miserable, because they know not this time and judgement, verse 7.

V.7. when it shall be] Or, how it shall be.

V. 8. There is no man that hath power over the spirit] The subject hath no power to save his own life, when the king gives order for his death, nor no crafty wicked tricks can help him; and therefore he must not rashly cast himself into danger, by disobeying authority.

over the spirit, to retain the spirit] Job 14.5.

discharge] Or, casting off weapons.

V.9. one man ruleth over another to his hurt] Tyrants and wicked rulers have, by their tyrannie and oppression, brought mischief upon themselves.

V. 10. who had come and gone from the place of the holy, and they were forgotten in the citie where they had so done] Or, and they who had come and gone from the place of the holy, were forgotten in the city where they had done right.

this is also vanitie] Their great pomp came to nothing, psal. 49.17. or, as well good men, that had served God diligently, as bad men, were forgotten of them, among whom they had lived well, which grieved me to behold.

V.11. Because sentence against an evil work is not executed] Where justice is delayed, there sin reigneth: or, impunity makes sinners the more obstinate.

V. 12. it shall be well with them that fear God] Psal. 37. 11, 18, 19. Isa.3.10,11.

which fear before him] Or, because they fear before him. So it answers to the end of the next verse.

V.14. happeneth according to the work of the wicked] Psal.73. 14. Eccles.7.15.

according to the work of the wicked] Which are punished, as though they were wicked.

V.15. Then I commended mirth, &c.] Chap.3.22.

V.16. for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes] Worldly men enjoy no rest, night nor day, from their worldly cares and distractions, psal.127.2.

sleep with his eyes] Chap.5.12.

CHAP. IX.

Verſ. 1. I Considered in my heart] Heb. I gave, or set to my heart.

by all that is before them] Man knoweth not by prosperity or adversity whom God doth favour or hate, for he sendeth them as well to the wicked as to the godly, chap.8.14.

V. 2. All things come alike to all] Psal. 73. 3, 12, 13. Mal. 3. 15.

V.3. among] Or, above.

there is one event unto all] In outward things, as riches and poverty, sickness and health, there is no difference between the godly and the wicked.

yea; also] Or, that also.

madnesse] Heb. madnesses: that is, all kinde of madnesse.

after that they go to the dead] They die like other men.

V.4. For to him that is joyned to all the living, there is hope] Or, Surely. See Notes on chap.7.20.

V.6. now] Heb. already.

for ever] Or, of the world.

V.7. eat thy bread with joy] Eat of the fruit of thy labours with comfort, chap.3.22.

for] Or, when.

now accepteth] Heb. hath already accepted.

V.8. Let thy garments be always white] Rejoyce constantly; as, pray without ceasing, 1 Thess.5.17. This excludes not humiliation in times of affliction.

ointment] Matth.6.17.

V.9. Live joyfully] Heb. see or enjoy life.

Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest] Hereby it appears, that Solomon gives counsell to take lawfull content in outward things; and not in the person of an Epicure, exhorting others to unlawfull pleasures; for then would he not have said,

7.10. Say not—] — Tu ergo tuo fungere Officio, fac quod in te est ——— Non quod non possimus temporum conditionem deplorare et hominum mores perditos: sed quod non nos eo nomine immodicè afflictare debeamus, ac propterea à nostro munere recedere, nostrum locum deserere, et Dominum accusare. ——— Præsenti rerum statu fruere, et contentus esto, quando ita Deus vult, qui cursum temporum moderatur & dirigit. Mercerus.

7.16. Righteous overmuch.] As he would not have over-stand strictly upon yr Right with others; so he would not have them speak much of yr own Righteousness: but rather, sometimes, take blame to themselves. As we are not to betray our innocency; so not give a shadow of any Godding in it.

Caryl, Job, 34.6. p. 524, 525.

Cap. 9.2. he that sweareth, as he that feareth an Oath.] Many who are not Swearers (Swearing is deboysery, and so inconsistent with Christity) who yet doe not fear an Oath. It is better to fear to doe Evil; than not to do evil.

Caryl, Job, 10.7. p. 483.

There is a two fold fearing an Oath. 1. A fearing to Swear, 2. A fearing when we Swear. The first respects rash Oaths, and false Oaths. Secondly, he sweareth in Truth & Righteousness; he feareth such an Oath i.e. takes it religiously, as knowing that it is an Appeal to God, who is the Searcher of hearts, and that it is a great part of divine Worship. He considers well what he Swears, and keeps himself close to what he hath Sworn.

Caryl, Job, 28.28. p. 382, 3.

Eccles. 11. 1. — Waters] Caryl, Job, 31. 17. p. 464.

said, Rejoyce with thy wife ; but, as elsewhere, Stolen waters are sweet, Prov.9.17. See Prov.5.18.

for that is thy portion in this life] Chap.2.24. and 3.13. and 5.18.

V.11. the race is not to the swift] Wisedom and strength cannot always procure worldly comforts: but sometimes they are so disposed by God, as we can give no reason of it: neither can they enable us to foresee or prevent evil, v.12.

V.12. snare] Luke 21.35.

snared in an evil time] Prov.29.6.

V.13. This wisedom have I seen also under the sun] As wisedom sometimes cannot produce good effects in outward things; so, at other times, it works above all humane apprehension and power.

V.15. there was found in it a poor wise man] An instance of wisedom, in a poor man, prevailing against power, yet not respected by those that received benefit by it.

V.16. Then said I, Wisedom is better then strength] Prov.21.22. Chap.7.19.

V.17. more then the cry of him that ruleth among fools] Wise men hearken more quietly to the counsell of a poor man that is understanding, then fools that clamour hearken to a king.

CHAP. X.

Vers.1. Dead flyes] Heb. Flyes of death.

Dead flyes cause the ointment of the apothecary to send forth a stinking savour] Heb. Dead flyes doth cause: that is, any one will do it: for it is opposed to a little folly.

V.2. A wise mans heart is at his right hand] He doth all things well, as a man doth with his right hand: but a fools works are aukward and lefthanded.

V.3. his wisedom] Heb. his heart.

and he saith to every one, that he is a fool] By his gate, words, gestures and actions he bewrayeth his folly.

V.4. If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee] If the prince be angry with thee, leave not thy office about him, nor subjection to him; but intreat his favour: this will take away his anger, and keep punishment from thee.

leave not thy place] Chap.8.3.

V.5. as an errour which proceedeth from the ruler] It is an evil thing for princes to prefer unworthy men.

from] Heb. from before.

V.6. in great dignity] Heb. in great heights.

the rich sit in lowe place] Rich in wisedom, as well as in wealth.

V.7. upon horses] Prov.30.22.

V.8. He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it] Psal.7.15. Prov.26.27. He sheweth, by divers similitudes, what hurt comes unto men by rash and indiscreet actions, v.8,9. and what little good, v.10.

V.11. Surely, the serpent will bite without enchantment] Or, when the serpent hath bit before charming, then the cunning charmer profiteth nothing.

the serpent will bite without enchantment] Another instance of things done rashly, without any profit.

a babler] Heb. the master of the tongue.

V.12. The words of a wise mans mouth are gracious] Prov.10.32. and 22.13.

gracious] Heb. grace.

V.13. the end of his talk is mischievous madnesse] He begins foolishly, but grows stark naught before he have done speaking.

his talk] Heb. his mouth.

V.14. A fool also is full of words] Prov.15.2.

full of words] Heb. multiplieth words.

a man] Or, but the man.

a man cannot tell what shall be] He brags what he will do, Jam.4.13, &c. but he knows not what will be the issue.

what shall be after him, who can tell him?] Chap.3.22. and 6.12.

V.15. he knoweth not how to go to the city] As a man that knows not the way, wearies himself before he can come to the city: so a fool tires himself, and can bring his businesse to no good passe, because he knows not how to effect it.

V.16. Wo to thee, O land, when thy king is a childe, &c.] Isai.3.3,4.

when thy king is a childe] Such as want wisedom are counted children, Heb.5.13.

thy princes eat in the morning] Are given to their lusts and pleasures.

V.17. when thy king is the son of nobles] Is born of good parentage, and vertuously brought up.

for drunkennesse] Prov.31.4.

V.18. By much slothfulnesse the building decayeth] By the slothfulnesse of both hands, when they will not mend the house, but hang down remisly, the house decays.

the building] Or, the roof.

the house droppeth thorow] Or, it drops into the house.

V.19. wine maketh merry] Psal.104.15.

maketh merry] Heb. maketh glad the life.

answereth] Or, makes to answer: that is, procures.

V.20. Curse not the king] Exod.22.28.

thought] Or, conscience.

curse not the rich in thy bed-chamber] Heb. in the chambers of thy bed: that is, in the most secret place.

for a bird of the air shall carry the voice] It shall be revealed by some unexpected means suddenly, either by Gods especiall providence, who hates ill thoughts against kings; or by the policie of princes, who have spies in all places.

CHAP. XI.

Vers.1. Bread] Or, bread-corn (or grain.)

upon the waters] Heb. upon the face of the waters, or beside, as Isa.32.10. That is, be liberall to the poor, and though it be as a thing ventured at sea, or cast into the water, yet it shall bring thee profit: or, be diligent in husbanding thy grounds, in sowing in those places which are most fertile.

thou shalt finde it after many days] As seed, though not presently, yet after some time, it will encrease. Worldly men think laying up the way to be rich; but God thinks laying out to be the way.

many days] Deut.15.10. Prov.19.17. Matth.10.42.

V.2. Give a portion to seven] To many, according to thy ability: or, have dealing with many, that, though thy trading with some fail, yet it may hold with others.

for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth] Because thou mayest lose all, and then canst do no good to others, but wilt need the help of others.

V.3. If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth] As the clouds that are full pour out rain to refresh the earth: so the rich, that have abundance, must distribute it liberally.

in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be] He exhorteth to be liberall while we live; for after death there is no power, chap.9.10. Gal.6.10. Or, which way soever the tree falls, it will be beneficiall to one or other.

V.4. He that observeth the winde, shall not sowe] He that feareth inconveniences, or future want, when other mens necessity requires relief, shall never do his duty, nor receive the reward of liberality.

V.5. even so thou knowest not the works of God who maketh all] God may take thee away secretly and suddenly, and then thou canst not give.

V.6. In the morning sowe thy seed] When thou beginnest to prosper, give, and so continue.

shall prosper] Heb. shall be right.

either this or that] Which shall please God most, and receive the greatest reward; for God doth recompense some good works in an especiall manner, Matth.10.41. Heb.13.2. Or, continue diligent in employment, though thou be not certain of a continuall successe.

V.8. But if a man live many yeers] Though life be pleasant in it self, yea, if a man have a long and cheerfull life here also, yet the remembrance of the shortnesse of it, in comparison of the time he must lie in the grave, will make worldly comforts seem vain to him, and his estate here far from true felicity.

let him] Or, if he.

for they shall be many. All] Or, that they shall be many. Then all.

V.9. Rejoyce, O young man, in thy youth] He derideth them that settle their delight on worldly pleasures, as though God would never call them to an account.

know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgement] For following thy pleasures, and so neglecting Gods service, chap.12.1.

V.10. Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart] Take heed of evil thoughts, which may bring grief upon thine heart, and of evil actions, which may bring pain upon thy body. Or, storm not against those that advise thee for thy good, but leave evil courses, which will be bitter in the end.

sorrow] Or, anger.

childhood and youth are vanitie] Soon gone, as the morning quickly comes to noon, and noon to night. So much the word childhood intimates, according to the derivation.

CHAP. XII.

Vers.1. Remember now thy Creatour, &c.] Prov.22.6. Heb. Creatours. It may be spoken in respect of the Trinitie, Isai.54.5.

while the evil days come not] The days of old age.

V.2. While the sun] While thy life is full of comfort, like a summer, and not full of troubles, like a dark winter full of storms. An elegant description of old age in generall: the particular discommodities of it follow.

V.3. In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble] The hands, hands, which keep the body, wherein the ſoul dwells.

the ſtrong men ſhall bow themſelves] The legs, which uphold the body.

the grinders ceaſe] The teeth, that chew or grinde the meat.

the grinders ceaſe, becauſe they are few] Or, the grinders fail, becauſe they grinde little.

thoſe that look out of the windows be darkened] The eyes, that look out of their holes.

V.4. the doors ſhall be ſhut] The two lips, that ſtand outward.

when the ſound of the grinding is lowe] When the ears cannot hear well.

he ſhall riſe up at the voice of the bird] When ſleep departs from us.

all the daughters of muſick ſhall be brought lowe] When the winde-pipe, and other inſtruments of ſinging, fail: or, when the ears take no pleaſure in muſick, 2 Sam. 19.35.

V.5. afraid of that which is high] To climb high, becauſe of their weakneſſe: or, they ſtoop down, as though they were afraid that ſomething ſhould fall upon them.

fears ſhall be in the way] They ſhall tremble as they go, as if they were afraid of ſtumbling or falling.

the almond-tree ſhall flouriſh] Their head ſhall be as white as the bloſſomes of an almond-tree.

the graſſhopper ſhall be a burden] They ſhall be able to bear nothing.

deſire ſhall fail] Appetite to meat, and drink, and marriage.

man goeth to his long home] To the grave, where he muſt lie long.

the mourners go about the ſtreets] Friends and kinred, and others that mourn for his death, Jer. 9.17.

V.6. Or ever the ſilver cord be looſed] The pith of the back-bone, which is white, like ſilver.

the golden bowl be broken] The little ſkin that covereth the brain, which is in colour like gold.

the pitcher be broken at the fountain] The veins, which draw blood from the liver.

the wheel broken at the ciſtern] The head, which draws the powers of life out of the heart; or, the lungs, which breathe in and out, as a wheel draws water up and down in a ciſtern.

V. 7. Then ſhall the duſt return to the earth] Gen. 3. 19. Death is the night, wherein we cannot work at all; and old age the evening, wherein we can do little: and therefore it is good to ſerve God in the morning of youth, or, if that be neglected, in the noon of manly yeers.

Then ſhall the duſt] Or, And the duſt.

the ſpirit ſhall return unto God] Returns to God, to be diſpoſed of in eternall weal or wo, in another world.

ſpirit ſhall return] Or, ſpirit return.

V.8. Vanity of vanities, ſaith the preacher, &c.] Chap. 1.2.

all is vanity] Seeing man hath ſo much trouble in his life, and yet muſt loſe it in the end alſo, he concludes, That all worldly comforts are vain, and cannot make a man happie.

V. 9. moreover, becauſe the preacher was wiſe] Or, the more wiſe the preacher was, &c.

he gave good heed] He learned of others, and ſtudied himſelf, to finde matter to teach the people.

ſet in order many proverbs] 1 Kings 4.32.

V.10. to finde out acceptable words] His words were pleaſing and profitable for the men of that age, and written down to inſtruct after-ages.

acceptable words] Heb. words of delight.

V.11. The words of the wiſe are as goads] To prick us forward to our dutie.

and as nails] To keep us within our compaſſe, as a nailed fence.

faſtened by the maſters of aſſemblies] Well applied by the miniſters, whom he calleth maſters.

which are given from one ſhepherd] Which is God; and therefore they muſt be heard as his word, Joh. 10.16.

V.12. And further, by theſe, my ſon, be admoniſhed] Or, And of other beſide theſe, my ſon, take heed.

and much ſtudie is a wearineſſe of the fleſh] It would weary me to write many books, and you to read them; therefore heed this book, and ſpecially mark the ſum of all: Forbear worldly vanities, and fear God, who will judge thee.

ſtudie] Or, reading.

V.13. Let us hear the concluſion of the whole matter] Or, the end of the matter, even all that hath been heard, is.

the concluſion of the whole matter] Teaching us how to get true happineſſe, which is not to be gotten by worldly comforts.

the whole duty of man] Or, the duty of all men.

V. 14. God ſhall bring every work into judgement] Rom. 2.16. and 14.10. 2 Cor. 5.10.

whether it be good, or whether it be evil] Good works kept ſecret by the doers, ſhall have their reward, and evil ones their puniſhment.

ANNOTATIONS

On the Book of CANTICLES.

The ARGUMENT.

THis was the moſt excellent of Solomons one thouſand and five Songs, mentioned, 1 Kings 4.32. and it alone remains upon record in ſacred Writ. Herein, under the type of Solomon and his Queen, is ſet out the mutuall affection of Chriſt and his Church: the viciſſitudes alſo of Chriſts manifeſting of himſelf to, or hiding his affection from his Church in this World: With her earneſt deſire to be fully joyned to him, by an everlaſting Marriage in heaven. Which are the ſpeeches of the Bridegroom, and Which of the Bride, Will appear in the Notes. This Song, then, cannot but be pleaſing to them Who believe in Chriſt here, and long to be joyned With him for ever hereafter: Which, Whoſo doth not, let him not read it; for he Will get no good by it.

CHAP. I.

Verſ. 1. He ſong of ſongs] A moſt excellent ſong.

V.2. Let him kiſſe me] This is ſpoken in the perſon of the Church, or of the faithfull ſoul, enflamed with the deſire of more inward familiarity with Chriſt, whom ſhe loveth, and which ſhe manifeſteth hereby.

with the kiſſes of his mouth] Let him refreſh me with his gracious promiſes.

for thy love is better then wine] Chap. 4.10. The tokens of thy love will make me more glad, then wine doth them that drink it, pſal. 104.15.

thy love] Heb. thy loves.

V.3. Becauſe of the ſavour] The feeling of thy great benefits, the comfort whereof ſpreads it ſelf, John 12.3.

thy Name is as ointment poured forth] The knowledge of thee.

do the virgins love thee] They that are pure in heart and converſation, Revel. 14.4.

V.4. Draw me] The faithfull confeſſe, that they cannot come to Chriſt except they be drawn.

we will run after thee] I and my maidens: the Church with her members.

Draw me, we will run after thee] Joh. 6.44.

into his chambers] Meaning, the ſecret joy, that is not known unto the world.

the upright love thee] Or, they love thee uprightly. Heb. men of uprightneſſes: that is, the moſt upright.

V.5. I am black] Either in regard of her own defects, or troubles from others.

O ye daughters of Jeruſalem] Termed virgins, v.3.

as the tents of Kedar] As the tents of the Arabians the ſons of Kedar, which were black without; but full of treaſure within: or, as Solomons curtains, that had precious ſtones and jewels within.

V.6. Look not upon me] Look not upon me with contempt, becauſe of my outward appearance.

the ſun hath looked upon me] God hath afflicted me, Matth. 13.6,21.

my mothers children were angry with me] Falſe brethren have wronged me, 2 Cor. 11.26. Gal. 2.4.

2. 5. Upon discovery of ye excellency, & sweetness of christ in ye Banq. House, the Soul is instantly overpowred, & cryes out to be made partaker of the fullness of it. She is sick of Love: not (as some suppose) fainting for want of a sense of Love, under ye apprehension of Wrath; but made sick & faint, even overcome with ye mighty actings of that divine Affection, after she had once tasted of ye sweetness of christ in ye Banq. H. Her desire deferred makes her heart sick. — Oh what hast thou done, blessed Jesus! — Let me have something from thee to support me, or I dye. Owen Com. 46, 47.

they made me the keeper of the vineyards] They put me to hard and base services, Matth. 20.12. 2 Kings 25.12. so that I was forced to neglect my own charge.

V.7. O thou whom my soul loveth] The Spouse being in trouble, or in danger of seduction, desireth to know where she may be safe under her husbands protection.

where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon] In time of trouble and danger, when the sun shines hottest, Matth.13.6,21.

as one that turneth aside] Or, as one that is vailed.

by the flocks of thy companions?] Meaning, false prophets, who made themselves shepherds like Christ, 2 Cor.11.13.Rev.2.2.

V.8. If thou know not] Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant to observe the steps of the faithfull, and go to his ministers to learn.

V.9. to a company of horses in, &c.] In regard of comelines.

V.10. with rowes of jewels] For thy spirituall beauty and excellency, there is no worldly treasure to be compared unto thee.

V.11. We will make thee borders of gold] I, and the Father, and the holy Ghost, will make thee yet more glorious.

V.12. my spikenard sendeth forth, &c.] When the Church enjoys Christ in his ordinances, she brings forth good works, pleasing to him, delightfull to her self, and profitable to others.

V.13. A bundle of myrrhe is my welbeloved unto me] As a sweet nosegay to comfort me.

he shall lie all night betwixt my brests] I desire to enjoy him perpetually, Isai.26.9.

V.14. as a cluster of camphire] A plant of sweet savour which grew sometimes among the vines; of which there was store at En-gedi, or, the best kinde grew there. Of the place, see Josh.15.62. 2 Chron.20.2. camphire] Or, cypres.

V.15. Behold, thou art fair, my love] Chap.4.1. and 5.12.

thou art fair] Christ accepts his Church, and commendeth her beauty, in respect of the graces he had given her, Eph.5.26,27.

my love] Or, my companion.

V.16. yea pleasant] She attributes more to Christ, then he did to her.

our bed is green] She allureth him to dwell with her, having prepared her heart as a comfortable lodging for him.

rafters] Or, galleries.

CHAP. II.

Vers. 1. I am the rose of Sharon] Christ is sweet and beautifull to his.

V.2. so is my love among the daughters] Thus Christ preferreth his Church above all other assemblies, as a lilie above thorns.

V.4. As the apple-tree among the trees] The Spouse testifieth her great affection toward her husband, but her strength to expresse it faileth her; and therefore she desireth comfort, and obtaineth it.

I sate down] Heb. I delighted and sate down, &c.

I sate down under his shadow] Christ gives shelter and pleasant fruit to his, and is as much better then others, as an apple-tree is better then an unfruitfull tree.

taste] Heb. palate.

V.4. to the banqueting-house] Into the Scriptures, or the society of Gods saints in the publike assembly.

banqueting-house] Heb. house of wine.

his banner over me was love] He drew me to the knowledge of him, by his love shewed to me. A metaphor from souldiers, who are called together to their own company by an ensigne, Isai.11.10,12.

over me] Or, toward me.

V.5. Stay me with flagons] Ye ministers, stay me with Gods promises, and the comforts of his word.

comfort me with apples] Heb. straw me with apples.

V.6. His left hand is under my head, &c.] Chap.8.3. Alluding to their feasts, when they lay on the ground; so that if any fainted, they put one hand under them to lift them up, and gave them some comfortable potion with the other.

his right hand doth embrace me] Onely Christs embraces can cure us in our trances. It seems he was now gone, and she thereupon falling into a trance, being by his ministers recovered, and taking rest, he suddenly coming in, and finding her asleep, forbids her attendants to awake or disturb her, v.7. But she hearing his voice, awakes of her self, v.8. So Christ soon comes to his Church in trouble, and she soon apprehends his coming, psal.63.8. and 73.23. Or it may be the Churches speech, forbidding her attendants to disturb her Spouse, when he is at rest with her.

His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me] Or, let his left hand be under my head, and his right hand embrace me.

V.7. I charge you] Heb. I adjure you.

I charge you, O ye daughters of, &c.] Chap.3.5. and 8.4.

by the roes] As ye love the creatures in which ye delight, and would not have them perish. he] Or, she.

V.8. he cometh] She speaketh like one not quite awake: she thinks she hears him a great way off.

leaping] Overcoming all difficulty great and small.

V.9. My beloved is like a roe, or a young hart] Verse 17.

shewing] Heb. flourishing.

V.10. My Beloved spake] By the inspiration of his Spirit.

and come away] Draw neerer toward me, and toward heaven.

V.11. the winter is past] The troubles of the world are over, and heavenly joys are neer.
